Oregon Makes Good Shrimp Catches, Sees More Tuna

The Oregon returned to Pascagoula Sept. 24 completing the second leg of a 5-week deep-water shrimp trawling trip in the north-eastern Gulf of Mexico. The basic objectives of this cruise were to obtain additional exploratory coverage of the 100 to 300 fathom arc in the offshore between Cape San Blas and Tampa Bay, and to make preliminary trawling coverage of the red shrimp depth range along the Louisiana coast west of the Mississippi Delta.

Sixteen drags using a 40-foot trawl were made in 125 to 250 fathoms along the Florida coast between 87° west longitude and 28° north latitude. Catches of red shrimp throughout this area were small (1 to 14 pounds per 2-hour tow). No indications of commercial concentrations were located south of 29°30' N. and 87°08' W. (210 fathoms west of Cape San Blas). From this position west to 88°05' W. good catches were made in depths of 200 to 285 fathoms. Using an 80-foot balloon net, 150 to 295 pounds of red shrimp were caught per 3-hour drag, averaging 225 pounds per drag.

Fifteen drags with the 40-foot trawl were made along the Louisiana coast in depths of 100 to 300 fathoms west of Southwest Pass. Catches ranged from 6 to 13 pounds per drag in the 150 to 300 fathom range. Very poor trawling bottom was found throughout this area. Two rigs including nets and doors were lost due to bogging. Three other drags resulted in severe tear ups.

Two drags were made off Southwest Pass in depths of 55 to 65 fathoms to obtain silver porgies (Stenotomus caprinus) for future trials as tuna long-line bait. Two hundred and fifty pounds of 8-10 count porgies were frozen. Ten pounds of very large (3-5 heads-on count) brown-grooved shrimp were also taken in each catch.

Large numbers of schooled blackfin tuna and skipjack were observed throughout the areas worked. Night-light collecting yielded several hundred juvenile skipjacks.

Parent-Teacher Meeting Postponed

The Aransas County Council meeting of parents and teachers originally scheduled for Oct. 10 has been postponed until Oct. 17, from 9:30 to 11:00 a. m., by consent of the officers of the council, the president having to be out of town on that day.

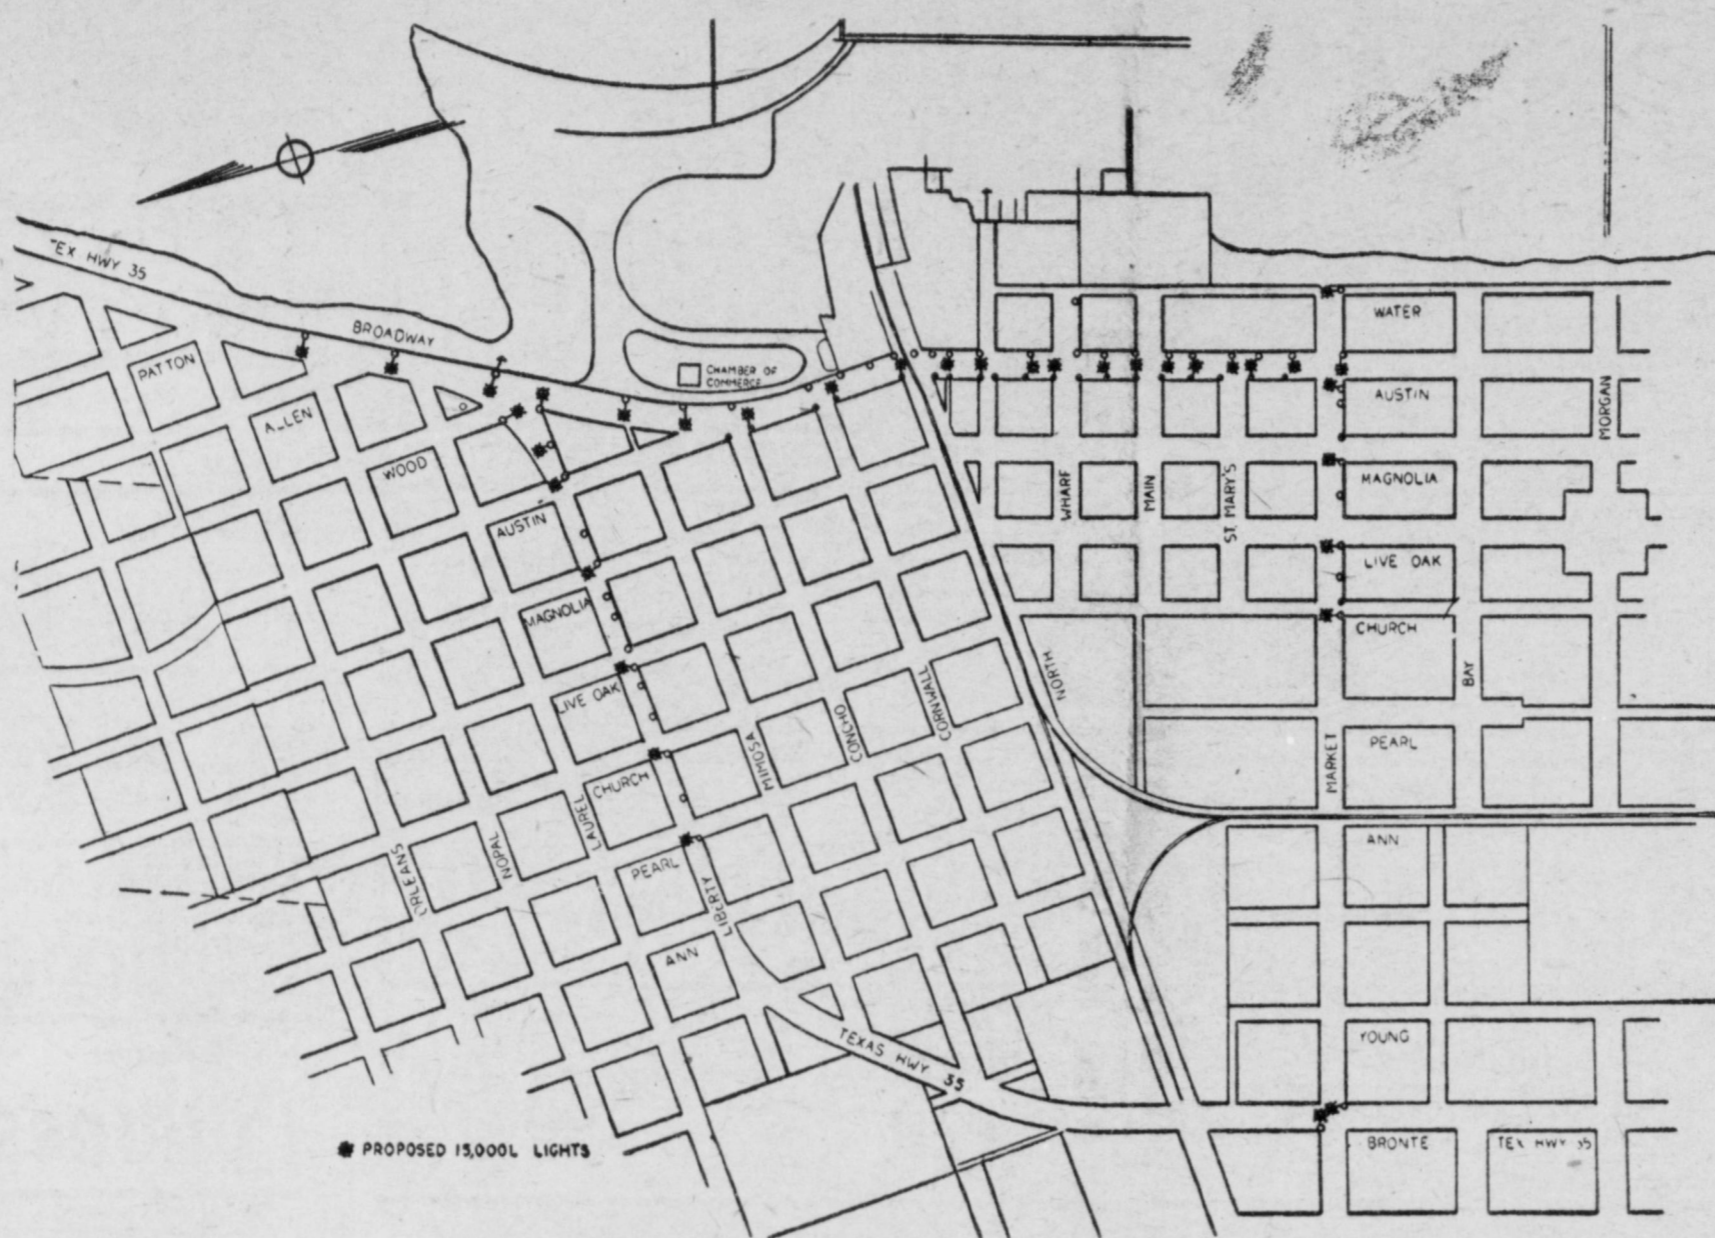

All officers and chairmen of standing committees are asked to be present on the 17th as well as any members of the three Parent-Teacher organizations in the county that wish to attend, according to Pat H. Greene, school superintendent.

The council's program this year is emphasizing closer understanding between parents and schools in the interests of the children.

WRECK FRIDAY

Lupe Martinez, driving south on Highway 35 last Friday, brushed the front of a Loyd W. Richardson truck and lost control of his car, turning over (285 feet from the point of impact) on the lot just north of the Chamber of Commerce building. Driver of the truck was E. P. Gonzales, Ingleside.

Rockport's Great White Way Now Accomplished Fact With Installation of Forty Mercury Vapor Type Lights On Streets and Harbor

Rockport's Great White Way, approved by the City Council and Navigation Board last July, was an accomplished fact Tuesday night, when the new mercury vapor street lights were turned on for the first time in downtown Rockport. Those at Fulton Harbor are not yet ready.

Twenty of the new lights were installed along Austin Street, five on Market, five on Highway 35, and ten at Fulton.

BAPTIST CHURCH BARBECUE STARTS FUND RAISING

A chicken barbecue for the entire church membership of the First Baptist Church was the "kick-off" for a fund raising campaign for a new educational building to cost $30,000. The barbecue was held on the church lawn at 6 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 4.

Approximately 100 members and friends of the church were present for the occasion. The barbecue was prepared by the Brotherhood of the church. Bill Clark, president of this Baptist men's organization, was in charge of preparations. He was assisted by Mrs. D. R. Simmons, retiring president of the Woman's Missionary Union of the church, who arranged for all the trimmings.

After the delightful meal was served, the group gathered in the church auditorium for a period of hymn singing. Then the plan for financing the new church building was presented by the pastor, W. D. Broadway. Members were asked to make an initial gift by Jan. 1, 1956. The total amount pledged and given was $6,970. The church already had $3,250 in a building fund. The finance committee has challenged the church to go from the present $10,220 to $18,000 by completion date. It is hoped that the new building will be completed by late spring.

It was announced at the meeting that Adam A. Bliss, of Dallas, who specializes in Baptist church buildings, will serve as architect for this project.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet Well Attended to Hear Petry's Speech

The Chamber of Commerce banquet, held in the Womans Club building on Tuesday night, was well attended to hear H. C. Petry, prominent Carrizo Springs attorney speak.

Petry was introduced by Joe Caldwell, local attorney, who presided in the absence of Tom Roper, president of the chamber who has been ill for two weeks of a heart attack.

Petry, past president of Lions International and a member of the Texas Highway Commission, reviewed briefly the status of the commission's work in this area, and promised to help further further projects in the area, if at all possible. He was accompanied by Tom Foster, District Highway Engineer in this area, and Mrs. Foster.

After Petry's speech, entertainment of a high order was furnished by the Cabanis Field Mutilators, a group of pantomimists, with the genial Arthur Bracht acting as master of ceremonies. The excellent dinner was served by the Order of the Eastern Star.

Methodist Church Participates in Chime Demonstration

Electronic chimes were installed in the Methodist Church this week for demonstration purposes. Rev. Dana Green, pastor of the church, announced to that congregation Sunday morning that if sufficient interest were shown in the chimes, a chimes secretary would be appointed to tabulate the interest. If the results showed adequate interest, then a decision regarding their permanent installation would be made.

Reverend Green emphasized that no solicitation would be made with regard to the chimes. In the meantime, the chimes will play daily at 12:05 and at 6:30 p. m. and again at 9 a. m. Sunday morning.

United Fund Plans To Be Laid Oct. 12

Officers and directors of the United Fund will meet at 8 p. m. Oct. 12 at the Chamber of Commerce building to appoint a fund drive chairman and possibly set the date for the fund raising campaign.

Emory Spencer, James Sorenson Jr., and Mrs. J. B. Jackson are serving as a committee to nominate the fund drive chairman.

A budget of $6,600 has been approved by the directors for the 1955-56 year. This includes allotments to eight cooperating organizations and reserves of $600 administration and operation and $600 for contingencies.

Officers of the United Fund are: Dick Picton, president; Emory Spencer, vice president; James Sorenson, Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Juergens, secretary.

Rockport One of 85 Undelected High School Teams

As the Texas high school football season rumbles ahead into October, only 85 teams are still untied or undefeated, and the Rockport eleven is one of them.

Thirty-three of these teams are in Class A, and next Friday night is going to bring about the fall of a number of these.

Those still having unblemished records are: Springlake, Ralls, Albany, Ozona, Merkel, Chillicothe, Iowa Park, Lewisville, Glen Rose, Clifton, Duncanville, Quitman, Mason, White Oak, Lindale, Cushing, Kountze, Teague, Fairfield, Thorndale, Granger, Weimar, Deer Park, Missouri City, Santa Fe, Bloomington, Industrial, Bandera, Pearsall, Three Rivers, George West, Los Fresnos, and Rockport.

Missouri City and Santa Fe get together in the only game matching undefeated, untied teams this week.

Rockport now holds the only undefeated record, but Hebronville still holds the balance of power in the championship race.

Rated No. 1 from the start of the season, the Hebronville Longhorns have knocked off the No. 2 and No. 3 contenders in the past two weeks.

Last Friday Hebronville conquered previously unbeaten Bishop 27-0, and ran its conference record to 2-0. This Friday the Longhorns can further tighten their grip on the title if they beat Sundeen, the No. 4 pre-season choice, in a game at Hebronville.

Other district action Friday sends Rockport to Bishop, Premont to Woodsboro, and Benavides to Ingleside.

The powerful Badgers boast of having one of the best backfields in the district. After rolling over their first three opponents which included a 66-6 district win over Flour Bluff, the Hebronville Longhorns put the "whommy" on them last week running over the Badgers by a score of 27-0.

This game is an important one as both teams need this one to stay in the running for district honors. Once again the Pirate's will be going against a team that will outweigh them in every department. Despite their four straight wins, the Pirates will be slight underdogs for this affair, but if they play with the determination and hustle they have shown in their previous games, it will be no great surprise if they knock the Bishop team over this week.

The Pirate's have certainly captured the hearts of all football fans in this area and have made fans out of people who were not already football enthusiasts. When a bunch of boys that average only about 150 odd pounds block and tackle as they have thus far this season, they are hard to handle, as we are sure that Bishop will find out. Win or lose, the Pirates will give the fans of this area a fine game of football.

Martin Pena is the only starter that is doubtful. He has been a bulwark on defense all year and will definitely be missed if he is unable to play because of a foot injury.

Sea Cow Seen In Sea Off Rockport By Rob Roy Rice

The first sea cow (or manatee) seen off the Texas coast in 15 years was reported this week by Rob Roy Rice, who saw the mammal while fishing off Mud Island, in Aransas Bay.

Rice, who, in his younger days, had been in Central American waters where the mammals are more plentiful, said that he could hardly believe his eyes when the beast reared its homely head from the water in front of his boat.

Congressman Bell Rockport Visitor, Talks to Business Men, Officials

Congressman John J. Bell was a Rockport visitor Tuesday and Wednesday. He was accompanied by his secretary, Joe Malec. While here, Bell conferred with various businessmen and officials on problems of the area, and was a guest of the Lions Club on Tuesday.

On Wednesday, he was a guest of Joe Caldwell, local attorney, at Rotary Club, where he made the talk for the day. Bell spoke for some time on the future of this area, its needs, and problems. He discussed the Intracoastal Canal cut-off, the possibility of obtaining some reimbursement for the work done on Fulton Harbor, and pledged his assistance in these matters.

ACWS Pirates Beat Ingleside 29-0

For the fourth week in a row, Coach Melvin Borchert's battling Pirates pushed a heavier football eleven all over the field to rack up their fourth victory of the season last Friday night at Pirate Stadium. They won over the Ingleside Mustangs 29-0.

Quarterback Eddie Morrison and Halfback Tommy Bradshaw were the big guns as each reeled off sizeable gains. On the second play from scrimmage, Morrison went off tackle on the option play, cut back and behind good blocking went 60 yards to score. In the second quarter, Bradshaw took a lateral from Morrison and went for the Pirate's second touchdown on a play that covered 35 yards. Bradshaw converted the extra point and the local boys led at half time 13-0.

In the third quarter, Bradshaw went up the middle on a quick opener and plowed his way for 35 (Continued on Page 8)

4,525 TEXANS ENTER ARMED FORCES IN AUGUST

Austin, Texas. — A total of 4,525 Texans were reported to state Selective Service as entering the armed forces during August, 3,560 being separated during the same period.

Of the 4,525 individuals entering the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard, 3,932 went in by enlistment or other voluntary means, the remaining 593 being drafted. All drafted men went into the army.

"Most of the drafted men actually were volunteers," Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said. "A majority of the men now going into the Army through the draft boards volunteer for induction."

The Air Force led in the number of reported enlistments, but also headed the list of men separated.

Selective Service local boards sent only 138 men for mental-physical examinations in August. A total of 78 was found acceptable by the Army, the remaining 60 being declared unacceptable for service.

During August, Texas draft boards registered 6,745 males, nearly all of them 18 years of age.

"Prospects now are that these 18-year-olds registering today will not be called upon to serve until they are 21 or older," General Wakefield said.

"Our state quotas for many months have authorized us to induct only men 21 years of age or older. Of course, we can induct volunteers or delinquents at younger ages."

A new law in New Hampshire provides that anyone throwing trash into public fishing waters, or along the shores loses his hunting and fishing license for a year, and is subject to a fine of not more than $50. Could be we need something like this in Texas.

Pirate Band Puts On Nice Half Time Program

The Pirate band put on a nice half-time program Friday night, as did that of the Ingleside Panthers. Unfortunately both performances were marred by a faulty announcing system, which made it impossible for the evolutions to be explained. The Pirates took the field in one straight line and from there swung into marching formation, doing a halt freeze at mid-field. They then went on to the other end of the gridiron, during a counter march there and halting. Averaging just over four yards for each time he has carried the ball, Camehl hasn't had a chance to exhibit his broken field ability in a game yet. Due to see more action this year, the Rockport freshman will probably be one of A&I's top backs next year, after he has had a year of college seasoning.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Shades of Tom Sawyer!

Hack Willis had just stopped the tractor so's he could cool off at the pump, when a young insurance salesman came up the drive. Hack was tired of plowing, and needed insurance on his new barn. But he also needed to get that winter rye in fast. The salesman, an eager kid, noticed hesitation. "I come from a farm," he said. "Why don't you look at these booklets—get all the dope—and I'll take that plow a couple of rounds for you."

Young fellow laid off a pretty straight furrow, too. It was almost dark before Hack—sitting in the shade—was able to decide just what kind of policy to get. From where I sit, to be a good salesman—or a good citizen—it always helps to "put yourself in the other man's place." He may have a different sort of job with different problems... he may prefer to close a deal over, say, a friendly glass of beer while you might prefer something else. But both of you can co-operate if you make it a "policy" to try.

RATTLER ANGLE ALERTS HUNTERS

Austin, Texas. — Dove hunters have reported so many narrow escapes from rattlesnakes that the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission cautioned city folks unfamiliar with the outdoors against "walking without watching." "There probably are no more rattlers but just more hunters," observed the executive secretary. "Anyway, it won't hurt for the folks to be more observing about snakes as well as everything else. Thus they will protect themselves and get more generally from their fall contact with nature."

A Texarkana hunter got some sport from a hassle with two rattlers. He lined up their heads and got both with one shot.

Quail at Thirty Bucks Apiece Seem Just A Little Expensive

Quail at thirty bucks apiece seem just a little expensive, yet that's what average hatchery raised birds have cost at the end of the hunting season.

The odds on birds released are 1 to 200! For every hundred bucks quail hunters and other sportsmen lay on the line to support hatcheries for bobwhite they can expect to get only four bits in return, according to recent figures released by the Louisiana Department of Conservation. This, says Pelican State biologist, explains why our neighbor has gone out of the business of raising quail.

The biologists arrived at these odds quite simply. From 1949 to 1952, inclusive, Louisiana released 144,029 pen raised quail. All of them were banded, yet in July, 1955, only 855 of these had been returned, or slightly less than half of one percent!

The cost of releasing the birds was $2 each, so for every band returned, $400 of sportsmen's money had been spent. Similar results were obtained by other states that have taken the trouble to keep accurate records of their quail rearing costs.

In 1937, Pennsylvania released 8,804 birds and got 74 band returns — 0.84%. Oklahoma, from 1942 to 1946, released 57,062 and received only 1.26% in return. An Atlantic coast state that turned loose 13,500 got back 1.12%.

Louisiana biologists were quick to point out that not all bands recovered were turned in. However, they said, even if twice or three times as many had been reported, it still wouldn't make a great deal of difference. At three times the actual figure, only 1 1/2 birds per hundred would be accounted for.

Many that were turned in came from birds that had been killed by predators or other natural causes, contributing nothing whatever to the hunters' fun, but still costing two bucks apiece.

Rapid and progressive loss of released birds was quickly apparent when a study was made of hatchery quail that had been stocked in various areas.

Thirty days after they were liberated, 35 birds out of every hundred had perished. In sixty days a bird a day had died. In three months, eighty out of every hundred were dead. After four months, only 12 were alive; at the end of five months there were six birds left. In seven months 93.3 birds were lost.

The biologists making the study said: It seems clear that restocking of areas with pen-raised quail is of very little value because the birds do not survive in sufficient numbers to increase the population, nor is there any indication that they breed readily after release.

"There are many factors which seem to play a part in the death of released quail," they continued, "but the significant point is that less from hunters and authenticated predation accounts for only a very small part of the total."

Evidently starvation, inability to adjust to the wild environment, and a general inability of the range — without improvements — to support more than the existing population, are the primary causes for a lack of success.

In other words, if the range was fit for quail, they'd be there; if it wasn't, it didn't do any good to stock. 105,178 quail were planted during the summers of 1949-50-51, but out of these, only 30,660 were alive when the hunting season opened. Not taking into account the hunter kill, but using only naturral, proved mortality on 6,749 of these hatchery raised birds were alive at the end of the season.

Using round figures, the Louisiana biologists came up with some interesting conclusions.

Originally the 105,000 cost $210,000, but by the time the hunting season rolled around the cost for each pen raised quail available to the hunter had risen to about $7 each. Not counting shooting loss, each pen raised bird available to the shooter was worth $30 to the state.

HABITAT GAIN BOOSTS QUAIL IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas. — Texas hunters this fall should be able to notice gains in the quail population because of favorable weather and general habitat improvement, reports the director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission. He said the primary cause of the popular game bird's comeback has been increased rainfall and consequent benefits to cover and food. However, the director noted that public interest in habitat improvement has been a factor which should become more pronounced from now on. "We are going to have some pretty good quail shooting in places this fall," said the director. "Field men report substantial increases in many areas. One of the favored places in the Panhandle."

First Shrimp Boat On The Great Lakes

The first shrimp boat ever to enter the Great Lakes is the spanking new "Miss Powerama" shown coming to shore at Chicago after completing a 2600-mile voyage from Florida fishing waters. The craft, powered by a 289-horsepower Detroit Diesel engine and fully equipped with shrimping nets and gear, was brought to the Windy City to serve as an exhibit in General Motors giant exposition of power during September. After her stay in Chicago the craft will return to the Gulf to take up a lifetime career of supplying shrimp to American tables.

Nation Wide Survey Of Sportsmen To Be Made

A nationwide study of the time and money that American sportsmen spend annually on hunting and fishing will begin shortly after January 1, according to the Wildlife Management Institute. Never before has a study been taken on such a broad scale to determine the number of persons above 12 years of age who hunt or fish on a recreational basis, the days of participation, and the money they spend directly on these sports. Supervising the project and publishing the final report will be the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Federal wildlife agency is spearheading the study at the request of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners, a group representing all the 48 state fish and game departments. Wildlife administrators have long felt a need for accurate information on the economic contribution of hunting and fishing to the national economy. This will enable them and other related groups to plan more effectively their programs for the recreational use of fish and game resources.

A number of states previously have conducted studies of this type within their borders. The information could not be projected to arrive at a national expenditure, however, because the methods used varied so greatly. The new study will overcome this problem, but those states wishing supplementary information for their own use will be able to arrange for the work with Crossley, S-D Survey, Inc., of New York City, the fact-finding organization that has contracted for the job. The cost of the survey will be paid for out of money available to the Fish and Wildlife Service for administering the Federal Aid in Wildlife and Fish Restoration Acts. Under the terms of these acts the funds are obtained from a Federal excise tax on sporting arms, ammunition, and fishing equipment. The report of the study group is scheduled to be transmitted to the Fish and Wildlife Service by June 15, 1956. The results will be published soon after by the service and will be made available to all interested groups.

Among those from Rockport attending the Blue Bonnet Association meeting in Kingsville Sept. 24 were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Mullan, Mrs. Neva Sorenson, Mrs. Letha Bell, Mrs. J. O. Suttles, Mrs. Floria Wellman, Mrs. Lillian Gray, Mrs. Lucille Earp, Mrs. Viola Ferguson, Miss Katie Lee Clarke, Miss Ruth Lipscomb, Mrs. J. F. Cloberdants, and Mrs. Raulerson.

NOVEMBER DRAFT CALL DOUBLES THAT OF OCTOBER

Austin, Texas. — The November draft call for Texas, received at state Selective Service headquarters late Monday, is almost double that of the October quota.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, staff Selective Service director, predicted earlier the November quota would be about double the average call for the past few months.

General Wakefield made his estimate following announcement of the United States Navy that it would ask for 10,000 draftees in November.

The November draft call for the state is 1,006 men compared to 534 asked for in October. The 1,006 quota is approximately 5 per cent of a national quota of 20,000 men, half for the Navy and half for the Army.

The November call is the largest monthly quota received for Texas during 1955 with the exception of January, when the Army asked for 1,249 men. Monthly calls from February through October have ranged from 432 to 597.

With the exception of delinquents and volunteers, the November call will be filled with men 21 years old or older on November 1.

1954-55 SHRIMP CATCH UP 12 MILLION POUNDS OVER PRECEDING YEAR

Receipts of commercially produced fish and shellfish at Texas ports during August 1955, totaled 23.3 million pounds, compared with 21.9 million pounds during the same month of the previous year, according to Texas Landings, Aug. 1955 (C.F.S. No. 1209), recently issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in cooperation with the Texas Game and Fish Commission. The increase was due to increased landings of menhaden — 14.9 million pounds in August 1955 compared with 9.9 million pounds in August 1954. Shrimp receipts decreased from 11.7 million pounds to 8.1 million pounds during the same period.

During the fiscal year ending August 31, 1955, 136.6 million pounds of fish and shellfish were landed in Texas, compared with 138.2 million pounds caught during the preceding fiscal year. The menhaden catch decreased from 67.2 million pounds to 53.3 million pounds during that period, while shrimp landings increased from 67.8 million pounds to 79.1 million pounds.
