

Along The Waterfront

Fishing is getting better, without doubt. Curly Floyd says that he hung nine that weighed 2 1/4 pounds each last Sunday, and yesterday anglers were catching them from his pier.

C. L. Thomas fished a party Saturday that brought in 49 trout, and Sunday he had Mrs. Herman of San Antonio. She caught 76.

Monday and Tuesday, Fred Christilles had a group of bankers, D. W. Woolley, Charles Balingier, W. E. Robinson and E. U. Sherman, from Kansas City, Mo., George Gregory, Oklahoma City and Murray Coppock and Lyle Hague, of Cherokee, Okla. Monday they caught 58 and Tuesday 34 fish were brought in.

Wednesday he fished Wesley Nelious and Johnny O'Hara of Houston, and reported 136 trout. He and Bill Crist also had parties last Friday.

Mills' Wharf had more fishermen than they've had in some time, and nearly everyone was catching fish. Dr. Herschel Daily, of Houston, fished with Harry Friday and Saturday. The first day they caught 41 trout and 1 gafftop, the second day they snagged 45 trout. Friday Chester Grubbs and party fished with Eddie Edmonson and hung 35 trout; C. F. Paul fished with Herb, and brought in 26 specks. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Bert Markward, of San Antonio, went out with Herb and strung 36 trout.

Lee Bilbart, Houston, fished Saturday and Sunday with Eddie Edmonson, and caught 37 trout the first day, 51 the second.

M. Kroll, of San Antonio, also fished Saturday and Sunday, with Harry Lee. Kroll got 16 Saturday, 31 the following day. Sunday, Al Smith, of San Antonio, fished with Herb, and strung 14 trout; Bill Teparay, San Antonio, fished with Harry, and caught 102 specks.

Wednesday Ray Sesel and party, Houston, fished with Harry and caught 165 trout. Marvin Tyler, of Eagle Lake, fished with Herb and strung 115.

Hu Johnson, on the Mary Lou, fished Mrs. Browning and party, of Palm Village Wednesday, and came in with 156 nice specks. This is one of the biggest catches reported in some time.

Floyd Smith took Mrs. Smith, the Rev. A. Arnett Ward, and his sister, Miss Pat Ward, fishing Wednesday, also with somewhat startling results. To begin with, the Rev. Ward, who gained some fame last year as a member of the Perch Club, did not fall overboard, and actually caught some fish.

However, the most unusual happening on the trip concerned Mrs. Smith, who is not much of a fisherman. For the first time in many years of residence on the coast, Floyd reports that she caught an edible fish. Moreover, he says that because of beginner's luck she (continued on page 8)

Junior Play Scheduled For April 26 and 27

The Junior Play will be presented Thursday and Friday, 26 and 27, at the High School auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Hugo Bromley, a young man out of a job, and Jeff Hall, his associate in many not-too-successful ventures, answer the advertisement displayed: "Ghose Wanted: Full-time, healthful work, haunting lovely island home. Apply Ramshead Rock." Forthwith they became acquainted with Ginger and Gale Stormingay, the attractive granddaughters of Granny Kate, owner of the strange old house on Ramshead Rock. The ad was Ginger's idea. She wanted to cure Granny of a predilection for voodooism and for the companionship of Professor de Vallan and his strange assistant, Madam Zolga.

A plan to cure Granny was made, but backfired. The mysterious disappearance of Bradshaw, the sheriff, complicates matters to no end. Hatcher, the Stormingay's houseman, is no help either, for he wants to leave the island, but Troddy, maid and cook for Stormingay's locks him up.

Thus, makes for a delightful comedy mystery, which will be enjoyed by all who attend.

The cast includes: Hugo — Charles Waggoner — Abner West; Jeff — Roy DeForest; Troddy — Beverly Matern; Ginger — Ann Schoonover; Gale — Wilma Stephens; Hatcher — Donnie Fields; Professor — Mitchel Ammons; Madam Zolga — Marie Holland; Azalea — Mary Falcon; Nora Vane Joyce Ann Griggs; and Bradshaw — Wayne Shults — Eddie Morrison. Director of the play is Mrs. Florence Horton. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

City To Canvass Property Owners On Highway 35 Business Route To See If Curb And Gutter Costs Will Be Met

At the regular meeting of the city council, members decided to canvass property owners along Highway 35 business route, to see whether they are willing to meet construction costs of a curbed and guttered street, reaching from the intersection south of town, where the business route and the highway meet, to the intersection at the north end of Austin St.

A check will be made of every owner, asking two questions:

1. If you want a curbed and guttered street, are you willing to bear the cost of that portion which will be in front of your property?
2. If not, will you donate ten feet of property, next to the street, in order that a regular highway may be constructed, without the curb and gutter?

The routes, as now projected, includes nearly two and a half miles, and includes Austin Street.

Stephen Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weber, of Fulton, has entered the State Sanitarium for Tuberculosis in San Antonio, but needs some help that only his home town folks can give.

He needs blood, eight pints of it, as one of the conditions of his admittance to the hospital.

Arrangements have been made where the blood can be donated, in Corpus Christi, instead of San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Weber are hopeful that friends here will contribute. Those wishing to do so should get in touch with her for further details.

Courthouse Demolition Started Tuesday

Demolition of Aransas County's 65-year-old courthouse started last Tuesday morning, when a crew of the Wright Lumber and Wrecking Company, Dallas, moved in. Ira Tawater, foreman in charge of the job, said it would probably take about three weeks to complete.

First the building will be stripped of windows, doors, lumber and other useable materials, then the walls will be pulled down by a cable and bulldozer, and, as the final step, the debris will be loaded with a dragline and hauled away.

All salvaged materials, Tawater said, are for sale on the grounds, and those wishing any of them should get in touch with him at the site.

Rockport Real Estate Keeps Booming Along

City Council Asked to Okay Six New Subdivisions For Area, Comprising Approximately 500 Acres

Real estate in the area keeps booming right along, and at the City Council's regular meeting, Tuesday night, members were asked to put their okay on six new subdivisions, with a seventh coming up in the near future. Altogether, these represent a total of about 1,500 acres and 7,500 lots.

R. J. Fleming is developing part of the Clobertants property on Sparks' Colony Road, having subdivided seven acres for a total of 36 lots. In the same area, Perry Jones is developing another three acres, representing fourteen lots.

No further information is available at this time.

April 30 Last Day For Rendition Of Property Values

April 30 is the last day that property owners may render the values on their property, warns School Tax Assessor-Collector Mrs. Kathryn McLester.

She urges everyone to make their rendition as soon as possible. The date not only applies to school renditions, but also holds for county and city taxes.

SETH STEELE DESIGNING BEEVILLE STORE

Seth Steele has the contract to design a $100,000 store building in Beeville, it was learned this week.

Just across Market Street from the Hill tract, Curtis Harritt and Lynwood Eller have subdivided 20 acres of their holdings in 100 lots, and the Vance Dusek property, out towards Rattlesnake Point, is being broken up and sold in lots.

In the southern part of town, Joe Civiletti and H. E. Menger, of San Antonio, have purchased Outlots 21 and 22 from various local interests, and are subdividing the two tracts into 36 lots, which will be handled as one unit. Another subdivision in the same neighborhood is being handled by Joe and Randolph Stivers, of San Antonio. They have formed the Stivers Company and have broken up the south half of Outlot 12, where the present Green Oaks Trailer Park is situated, in 11 lots, on which they intend to build homes in the $10,000 to $12,000 class.

By far the largest subdivision for which approval was asked is that planned by J. C. May, owner of the old Fulton Mansion. He and his associates have purchased approximately 200 acres from W. L. Prigden, of what was known as the old Gibbs Addition, between Rockport and Fulton, on Highway 35. May says that this property will be broken up into approximately 1,000 lots.

In general, the demand is for two types of lots, according to James A. Jarboe, County Surveyor. "Many Texans," he said, "want small tracts of land near water, at a price from $250 to $400 a lot. Others, with more money, are buying well-located, wooded lots from $3,000 to $4,000 at present. These are bought by well-to-do retired people, wanting homes in the area close to the bay."

Jarboe pointed out that some index of the area's popularity could be derived from the fact that between 6,000 and 7,000 people used Goose Island State Park on Easter Sunday.

In that area, demand is much the same as in the Rockport-Fulton region, and only recently a large tourist court has been built on the shores of St. Charles Bay.

Biggest real estate development of all, not yet subdivided, is the 1,200 or so acres owned by Asby Minor James on Lamar Peninsula, just across the causeway from Liveoak Peninsula. While this tract is as yet inactive, waiting determination of suits brought against certain oil companies, these should be settled in the near future. James is planning on splitting this property into several classes of lots within the next six months, and at that time expects to put about 6,000 lots on the market.

"KEEP IN STEP"

To many millions of Americans the words "Keep In Step" brings back memories of time spent in the service. Those who were unable to keep step with the rest were put back into special groups and the ones who took advantage of the opportunities presented were moved forward.

The same words "Keep In Step" may well apply to Rockport. The entire coastal area is rapidly expanding. Practically all cities in this area have made civic improvements which are and will continue to pay off. It is true Rockport has made extensive water and sewage improvements which were badly needed and should take care of some expected growth. But what about our civic pride? What has been done to improve the main thoroughfare in Rockport? Highway engineers have expressed themselves as being anxious to give Rockport the same kind of approaches and pavement that other cities in the area have. However, some of the work and some money must be spent by local people. Curbing and guttering in addition to drainage must be obtained before the State Highway Department can do anything. Much discussion has taken place concerning this vitally needed improvement, but nothing concrete has been done.

At Monday's City Council meeting the council decided to take some definite action and see what could be obtained. It was decided that a poll would be taken from property owners along the proposed route to determine if they were in favor of paying for the curbing and guttering that is necessary. In the next few days workers will contact every property owner concerned and get their reaction. As a result of this poll the council will be in a position to see what can be done.

Highway officials have expressed the opinion that if everything went well, that if the property owners want the improvement and can comply with the necessary requirements that such a project could possibly be completed by the fall of 1957.

So, it appears that the time has come for Rockport to "Keep In Step" or fall back. When those taking the poll call on you, give the proposition serious consideration and express your opinion so that the city council may be in a position to determine what action can be taken to keep Rockport in step with other coastal cities.

FINDERS KEEPERS?

"Finders keepers, losers weepers." Is this old rhyme true or false? Lawyers say it is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes rather difficult to define the rights of a finder in court.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts—and finders—for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely mislaid.

In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily—through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstance. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later—even though he fails to do so. Such property is "mislaid."

Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is not legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

On the other hand, a package left on the seat of a bus is "mislaid" rather than lost. In one southern state, a pocketbook left in a barbershop by a customer was held to have been "left," not "lost." The barber was arrested and convicted of larceny when he spent the money that was in it.

Under the law the finder of either lost or mislaid property should make a "reasonable effort" to find the real owner.

When articles are left on a train or bus, in a public hotel room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owner's return would be the proprietor or other person in charge.

Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to the custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place it is found is private or semi-private, or a place used by the general public.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

SWEET HATS—These dainty confections for spring are just that. Modeled by Louisa von Korles, the chapeaux are fashioned of candy. They were worn during a spring showing at a San Francisco candy store. More conventional garments were brought in to be worn with the sweet creations.

fought many great fighters over the world including Jack Johnson, whom he met in 1909.

His adventures cover many military assignments, including a tour with the British Guard in the Boer War, a Lieutenant in Mesopotamia with the Irish Fusiliers, a Captain in World War I and a venturesome job as provost marshal in Bagdad.

As a big game hunter, McLaglen operated in East Africa where his name is legend. The brawny McLaglen, was also at one time a silver prospector in Cobalt. All of these assignments of course fitted him for his acting career which first began in vaudeville and culminated in making a great number of British movies, the chief of them.

More than forty American movie productions have been spanned by McLaglen in his many years of top stardom, with "What Price Glory" perhaps proving his acting capabilities to establish his stature in the American film world. His Academy Award pictures included "The Informer" and "The Quiet Man." The latest picture in which he will appear is the highly publicized "Around the World in 80 Days," made by Michael Todd, which will be released in September of this year.

Although McLaglen is a man of tremendous physical power, he is known by his friends and intimates to be a soft spoken, gentle person. He is a student of politics, economics and world history; loves to cook, both indoors and outdoors, and his favorite hobby is giving movie parties for children at which time he operates his own projector and delights the children with animal pictures.

Being a lover of the sea and having sailed around the world several times, McLaglen was delighted with the invitation to attend the Buccaneer Days celebrations in Corpus Christi. He is an active member of the Balboa, Calif. Yacht Club and serves as a member of the Board of Governors of the Club. His spare time is usually taken up with deep sea fishing, boat gadgeting and quiet games of scrabble with Mrs. McLaglen at their shore home in Balboa.

Time For Boy Scouts To Renew Insurance

It's time for all Boy Scouts wishing to attend summer camp, to renew their insurance, says Scoutmaster Bill Gray, and he requests all of them to get their dollar in to him by next Thursday.

Troop 49 will attend the competition and camp at Knolle Farm on May 5 and 6, and Gray expects to take about 25 boys with him.

Talking of dollars, those Scouts that want to register for summer camp better get another buck in the hands of the scoutmaster for the registration fee.

Rockport Men Arrested For Market Hunting

Two Rockport men were arrested last Friday, and charged with illegal sale of wild game in connection with a widespread Federal crackdown on the illegal practice of hunting for market.

Robert Bell, Sr., and his son, Robert Bell, Jr., were arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshals Wiley Ainsworth and Hilton Schorre.

They were taken before U. S. Commissioner Alston Terry, who set their bonds at $1,000 each. Both posted bond.

Seamen Elect Officers

The Rockport Seamen, local semi-pro club, met Wednesday night at the home of Manuel Flores to select a manager and a team captain.

Frank Covarrubias was chosen as team manager, and Alonso Solis as his assistant. Team captains are Lauriano Falcon, Jr., and Valentine Flores. Two bat boys were chosen this year, instead of one, as they had in the 1955 season.

PERCH CLUB HAS NEW MEMBER

The Perch Club has a new member, Dan Royal, of Malakoff, Texas. He fell off Curly Floyd's pier Wednesday and came up under one of the skiffs tied alongside, bumping his head severely.

His only remark was that Curly ought to upholster the bottoms of his skiffs.

GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. Katherine McLester and Mrs. J. B. Jackson attended the Camp Planning Committee meeting last Friday in Sinton. The camp budget was approved and final camp plans completed. This committee will hold its next regular meeting on the third Friday in May at the Girl Scout office in Sinton.

In last week's column it was reported that Brownie Barbara Owens sold 6 cases of nuts. The name should have been Becky Rouquette.

Brownie Troop 16 from Corpus Christi visited Rockport, Fulton and Goose Island Saturday.

The girls with their leader, Mrs. Clayton Walsh, who will be remembered as the first Executive Director of the Whooping Crane Council, arrived in Rockport Saturday morning at Al's Woodworking Shop where they met a number of local girls who joined the group for the tour.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holland showed the group about the shop, explained the uses of the various equipment and gave each girl a souvenir.

The group drove to the Big Tree on Goose Island where they cooked hamburgers and had a picnic lunch and hiked to the beach. The group drove through the park and to Mills' Wharf from where they went to the Camp Copano site and hiked over the grounds. From the campsite the group went down Fulton Beach and visited the harbor and fish houses. Back in Rockport, local girls took pride in showing the Little House to the visitors.

Local girls participating were Sue Johnson, Virginia Holland and Caroline Clark from Troop 18, Nan Jackson and Tamara Gamahl from Troop 32, and Frances LeBlanc from Troop 26. The group from Corpus included Mr. and Mrs. Walsh and son, Joe, Mr. W. B. Pryor and the following girls: Virginia Hopper, Patty Walsh, Christi Pryor, Sheryl Goode, Edith Jones, Patricia Gates, Jennie Du-

Pont and Sandra Harris. (Reporter, Frances Le Blanc)

Girl Scout Troop No. 5 met on Friday April 20 at the Little House for a special gardening session. After cleaning and preparing flower beds the group then planted zinnias and larkspur.

The group also elected officers to serve through the month of May. Mary Ann Barber was elected president; Carolyn Washington, vice president; Sue Eller, treasurer and Phyllis Meador, secretary.

The meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and the group then went to Mary's Malt where Mrs. G. R. Rowe was hostess to the following girls: Pamela Landgraf, Betty Stryker, Mary Ann Barber, Carol Kinsel, Dorothy Rowe, Eric Sue Eller, Ronnie Lassiter, Sherrilyn Garrett, Effie Lown, Carolyn Washington, Sherry Lee McElwee, Linda Mae Johnson, Phyllis Meador, Linda Jo Dowdy and the leader, Mrs. Walter Stryker. (Reporter, Pamela Landgraf)

Mrs. Katherine McLester and Mrs. Harold Dick met with Brownie Troop 36 at the Fulton Lion's Club building on April 19 for its regular meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mary Johnson, after which dues were collected and roll called.

Several games were played before the group spent the work period on its sewing project. It was decided at this meeting to buy an American Flag for the troop.

The meeting closed with the following girls in a Friendship Circle: Sue Hackett, Becky Rouquette, Barbara Owens, Sandra Shipman, Mary Johnson, Tina McElwee, Phyllis Cox, Rosie Wolfram, Pat Weber and Niki Dick. (Reporter, Becky Rouquette)

Mrs. Charles Garrett and Miss Billie Lang met with Brownie Troop 32 at the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, April 17 when they discussed preparation and requirements for attending summer camp.

The group reviewed the outdoor work which has been learned in the past three years as Brownies. It was decided that the next meeting would be held at the Little House so that the group might continue this review in actual praction and thus be more efficient campers. Plans were made to study laying trails, care of the jackknife, waterproofing matches, building fires and planning cook-

Continuing its preparation for flying-up, the troop played a game of Girl Scout Laws before being served refreshments by Tamara Camehl and Sandy Arrington. Present were Tamara Camehl, Darleen Evans, Nan Jackson, Julia Fox, Tari Wilson, Judy Deason, Sandy Arrington, Janis Garrett, Suzanne Keith, Betsy Fields, Betsy Sparks, Carla Lee, Jean Miller, Diana Wagner, Kaaren Goodsell and one guest, Mrs. J. P. Keith. (Reporter, Nan Jackson) is also beginning more outdoor work. At its regular meeting on April 16, the troop under the leadership of Mrs. F. L. McCord held a cookout.

With summer nearing and camp not far away, Brownie Troop 43

Chairman Lynn Campbell called the meeting to order and Florence Casterline collected dues. A discussion was held on "Fun Out-of-Doors" which included the importance of cooperation, skills, care of food, striking camp, clean up, and fires being completely out. The discussion ended with each Brownie repeating "Where Brownies have been no one can find, for never a trace do we leave behind."

With the emphasis on foil cookery, each Scout learned to fold foil so juices remained with food to be cooked. While the food was cooking the girls cleaned the table, arranged a centerpiece of wild flowers with rocks and cleaned up. When the food was ready, the fire was put out, a grace sung and the food served.

Present were Cecelia Phillips, Karen Large, Susan Hulett, Darlene Mace, Carla Utley, Darla Utley, Florence Casterline, Sallie McCord and Lynn Campbell.

12,023 TEXANS ENTER ARMED FORCES 1ST QUARTER

Austin.—A total of 12,023 people entered the armed forces from Texas during the first quarter of 1956, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, said recently.

During the same period, a total of 12,993 Texans received their discharges from the uniformed services, or were transferred to the reserves from active duty.

Of the 12,023 Texans entering the various services, 10,541 went in by enlistment, appointment, or other voluntary means. The remaining 1,482 were drafted through the state's 137 draft boards.

"Actually, many of the men who went in through the draft boards were volunteers," Colonel Schwartz said. "But all are counted as draftees, as they volunteer for induction."

Men between the ages of 17 and 26 can volunteer for induction through draft boards. Seventeen-year-olds must have the consent of their parents or guardians. Texas draft boards sent 2,932 men for pre-induction examinations during the first quarter of 1956. Of this number, 1,891 were found acceptable, 1,041 unacceptable, a rejection rate of about 35 percent.

Colonel Schwartz said there were an estimated 138,000 Texans in uniform at the end of March, compared to 139,000 at the beginning of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morrison of Houston were guests during the weekend in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrison.

FAMILY RECORDS SHOULD BE KEPT IN A SAFE PLACE

Most folks can avoid delay in the receipt of their first social security check through careful advance planning, says H. M. Cleveland, District Manager of the Social Security Administration in Corpus Christi.

"Some family records are usually required," he says "when a person applies for his retirement insurance in his older years or when the members of a family claim the survivor payments after a worker's death.

"The social security number, the marriage certificate, birth certificates of the children, other proof of age for older persons, and military discharge certificates, are the papers which are most frequently required," according to Cleveland.

"If such records are put away in a safe place known to each member of a family, the required proofs would be readily available when an application is filed, and the first checks could be mailed when due with the least possible delay," he continued.

An older person who does not have a public record of his birth, should not get a delayed birth certificate in support of a claim for social security insurance. Cleveland explained that for this purpose, evidence other than a delayed birth certificate is preferable. Almost any record (the older the better) which shows the age or date of birth, can be considered for use as proof of age.

He said that a record such as a Family Bible, baptismal or confirmation certificate from a church, lodge record, life insurance policy, immigration or naturalization certificate, is usually available and accepted as evidence of age.

"The family should keep the records and submit them only when requested to do so at the time an application for retirement or family insurance payments is filed," Cleveland concluded.

47 PER CENT OF TEXANS VOLUNTEER FOR INDUCTION

AUSTIN, Texas—During March, 47 per cent of the men going into the Army and Navy through Texas draft boards volunteered for induction, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Thursday.

Of the 746 inducted, 350 volunteered, and the remaining 396 were drafted in order of age, the oldest first.

The number who volunteered for induction in March increased, percentage-wise, over a three-month preceding period. During December, January, and February, 35 per cent of those inducted through the draft boards were volunteers.

Nearly a third of the men inducted in March were 23 years old. More of the inductees were in their 23rd year during both periods than any other age group.

Texas Employers Are Letting Tax Deadline Creep Up On Them

Several thousand Texas employers are apparently letting a new tax deadline of April 30 creep up unheeded, the Texas Employment Commission warned today.

After that date the employers of four or more people in twenty weeks during the last half of 1955 face possible penalties if they have not filed wage returns with the TEC and paid unemployment taxes for January, February and March.

Those who had four or more people employed for as many as twenty weeks last year became subject to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Program this year. Previously, only employers of eight or more had been affected.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingle Turner of Woodsboro visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Brundrett.

Sheriff's Sale Of Delinquent Tax Property Set for May 1

All of the property listed below will be sold at Sheriff's sale at the Courthouse in Rockport, Texas on May 1, beginning at 10:00 a.m. The Sheriff or his agent will sell the property to the highest bidder for cash upon oral bids under the rules governing auction sales generally. The bid must start at the amount of the opening bid set out opposite each tract, and no bid of less than this figure can be accepted by the officer conducting the sale. This property is being sold for taxes, and all sales are made subject to the right of the former owner to redeem within two years from the date the purchasers deed is filed for record. Purchasers will receive the ordinary type of Sheriff's deed which is without warranty, express or implied. It will also be necessary that the bidders satisfy themselves concerning the location of the property on the ground prior to the sale as the amount of property being offered will make it impossible to give this information as the sale progresses. Maps and plats of these subdivisions are on file in the office of the County Clerk at Rockport, and all papers in the suits on which these sales are based on file in the office of the District Clerk.

Seamen Play Practice Game

The Rockport Seamen played a practice game against the Fulton Lions this past Sunday. The Seamen were on the long end of the 7-6 score.

Neither of the team's starting pitchers was on deck, so Daniel Garcia, who ordinarily plays in the infield was called upon to do the pitching. He turned in a nice game, and struck out a number of Lions, even though it was the first time he had ever pitched.

The game produced several double plays, and a number of changes in the Seamen's lineup. The Lions played a good game.

The Seamen do not have a game for this weekend, but are hoping to schedule one for that following.

Fur, Feathers & Fins

By JACK BAUGHMAN

The yellowfin tuna that have been discovered in the Gulf of Mexico in the last two years are beginning to find their way to market. Boats from Florida have been catching some, but the largest lot to be produced so far for market had its origin in Venezuela. This proves that the Oregon's explorations, significant as they may be, have only scratched the edge of the Gulf tuna grounds and that the whole story will not be known until the Caribbean is also searched for concentrations of these and other giant fish.

The Venezuelan fish were caught by the Japanese long-liner, Bozo Maru, said to be commissioned by the Japanese ministry of Agriculture and Forests, and supervised by Dr. G. Shinsuke Itoh. The vessel, which has been operating off the Venezuelan of La Blanquilla for several months, is reported to be owned by a Venezuelan citizen.

Such enterprise on the part of the Japanese is not unusual. Way back before World War II a couple of their boats had explored the Gulf of Mexico rather extensively, in connection with a fisheries program inaugurated by the Mexican government, and had made extensive charts of fishing and shrimp grounds, unknown to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, or, for that matter, any government agency.

There is little room for surprise, then, in the fact that in all probability Japanese will have established a tuna fishery in the Gulf and Caribbean while fishermen living around that body of water are still making up their minds whether they want to fish for the yellowfins.

While no admirer of the Japanese, it is only fair to point out that their dominance in Pacific and Indian Ocean fisheries was due to the fact that they would explore and exploit the fisheries of those areas.

Dr. Shinsuke is reported to have stated that the Venezuelan tuna are equalled only by those of the North African coast. Fish of 90 pounds apiece are common and those of 100 to 130 pounds each are not rare. He expects a catch of 400 tons a month for the Bozo Maru.

Interestingly enough, fresh tuna has been offered on the Caracas market, but has found few buyers, as people in that region are familiar only with canned tuna.

While men and women are neither fur, feather, nor fin, they are biological entities, so I suppose they can be admitted to this column which is supposed to deal with natural history and the outdoors. Maybe we can sneak people in under the natural history label.

At any rate, we aren't so smart, nor are incubator babies raised only in America.

As a matter of fact, the Eskimos in Baffin Land long ago learned to put premature or weakly babies in the skin of a large sea bird, tied up in hammock style over the flame of a big seal oil lamp. The babies are left in this "incubator" until they are strong, and are fed with oil and milk.

The Thongas of South Africa use a different method. They wrap their premature babies in leaves and put them inside a pot which is exposed to the full rays of the burning sun.

It's always interesting to find out how much truth there is in a complaint about overfishing.

The past twenty years have witnessed a slow and steady decline in the commercial catches of salmon along the Canadian East Coast. Research has been able to establish no relation between the size of catches and the numbers of spawners reaching the rivers. Mere restricting of the catch, says the Sports Fishing Institute, will hardly bring about an increase in the number of salmon. Other means must be found.

The average weight of the Atlantic bonito is four pounds, but it occasionally reaches thirty inches in length and twenty pounds in weight. They are fish of the deep sea rarely approaching shore, and range throughout the Atlantic Ocean, on both American and European coasts. These bonito swim in deep, compact schools, and surface only when feeding. They feed almost entirely on smaller fishes — menhaden, herring, alewives, and similar species. Ordinarily bonito are hooked while fishing offshore for larger game. Spoons, feather and nylon jigs, and deep-running plugs all produce fish, but probably the most effective of all is a strip cut from the belly of another bonito. The Atlantic bonito strikes hard, and its first run is long, swift, and difficult to stop. However, one of the most sporting methods of catching them is by baitcasting, with light tackle, once a school has been located.

Texas is first again, although whether we should be proud of it is a question that you'll have to answer for yourself. The Lone Star State leads all others in the Union when it comes to the incidence of rabies. During 1954, out of 7,282 cases reported throughout the nation, Texas had 1,081, and 799 of these were in dogs.

Last year, though all the figures aren't in, there were apparently as many rabies cases in Texas as ever, if not more, and state health officials discovered that the disease was being spread by bats.

This year, we're off to a good start, and if nothing happens, will probably report more rabies cases than for any year in our immediate past.

Rabies, or hydrophobia, can kill people, even today. Sooner or later, some mad dog, or fox, or coon, or cat, is going to bite a Texan that has lost his rabbit foot, and when that happens, Texas will be short one citizen.

Emergency measures are already being used to control rabies in three counties—Kinney, Sclercher, and Presidio—out in West Texas, where the disease has reached the proportions of an epidemie. Maddened foxes have even invaded towns in the area. One woman was bitten at Brackettville where health authorities said foxes were attacking domestic animals. Five persons at Marfa were being given Pasteur anti-rabies treatment shots after a calf belonging to a 4-H club member had died of (Continued on page 7)

Dr. A. B. Rich, Director of the State Health Department's Division of Veterinary Health says that the disease is being transmitted to livestock, and has instituted a four point control program. These are:

1. All dogs are being vaccinated.
2. All stray dogs, without vaccination tags, are being picked up.
3. The fox population is being reduced as rapidly as possible by trapping and poisoning.
4. A campaign is being carried on to educate the public in the danger of the disease, which can attack cattle, horses, sheep, pigs, goats, foxes, skunks, coons, squirrels, coyotes, muskrats, bobcats, wolves, bats, and various other wild animals, as well as people.

It is fatal to humans that contract it, although the Pasteur antibodies shots are remarkably effective in preventing rabies if given in time.

However, these shots are not always effective, and when they're not, the person dies.

This can happen in Rockport as well as in West Texas.

If you had asked any resident in the three counties mentioned if he or she was afraid of rabies, before the epidemic started, nineteen chances out of twenty they would have scoffed.

They're not scoffing today. They don't know where the disease came from, but they do know they've got it, and a lot of folks are scared to death.

The same thing can happen in Rockport. If it does, no one will know where it came from, but there's one sure thing about it, the large population of stray dogs and cats in town will help spread the epidemic rapidly.

Thousands of new boaters will be fitting out for the first time this spring. New to the sport of boating, they will be anxious to learn the right way and the safe way of conducting themselves on the nation's waterways.

The Outboard Boating Club of America, 307 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, in a sport shirt pocket-sized folder, entitled "Use Common Sense Afloat" points out eight basic safety rules and is free for the asking.

The rules are a common sense approach to safety. They say:

KNOW YOUR BOAT. Every boat has its limitations. Learn what you can expect from yours.

DON'T OVERLOAD. Seats don't indicate capacity. Two or three adults may be all the load that's safe under many conditions.

BALANCE YOUR LOAD. Distribute weight evenly in the boat—from side to side and bow to stern.

KEEP LOW. Step in the center when boarding the boat or changing seats.

WATCH THE WEATHER. Head for shore before a storm breaks. If caught out, seat the passengers on the floor.

HEAD INTO THE WAVES. If waves are high, head your boat at an angle towards the waves at slow speed.

USE THE RIGHT MOTOR. Too much power can damage your boat—may even swamp it. Look for OBC recommended horsepower plate.

AVOID SHARP TURNS. Fast, sharp turns are hard on equipment—and sometimes on people. Take it easy.

The booklet also warns boaters to slow down when near other boats or swimmers and to always carry a life preserver or buoyant cushion for each passenger.

Shrimpers of this area could well follow the pattern being set throughout the Mid-west, where the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is conducting an active campaign to develop markets for presently underutilized fish as food for pets and commercially-reared fur animals. This work is being done as part of the Salton-Kennedy program of developing new markets for fishery products.

The campaign, which is centered on the shores of Lake Erie, already has shown excellent progress. Animal food associations as well as some pet food canneries are investigating the possibilities of a pet food business, utilizing carp, sheepshead, smelt, and similar species. The fresh markets for these fish are limited and what could be a valuable resource is not being used. In addition, the expanded growth of these fish is having an adverse effect upon the growth of more popular food fishes, Secretary McKay added.

The Secretary pointed out that the animal food industry has been growing rapidly on the east, west, and Gulf seaboard. Last year the total output of this product was estimated to be worth $19 million as compared with $4 million in 1947. The number of cases of canned pet food increased from less than one million in 1947 to more than four million in 1954.

As a result of gradually declining supplies of horse meat which has been the basic fur animal food, fur ranchers are investigating the possibilities of developing under-utilized fish as a substitute.

The use of rough fish in the Midwest for animal food will not only help fill a growing demand on the fur animal ranches but will go far toward making midwestern waters more productive for the valuable fisheries resources, according to the Service.

In recent years net fishermen in Lake Erie and other midwestern waters have reported that as much as 90 percent of their daily catches would be composed of fish having only a marginal market. This meant a lot of wasted time and effort, but with the possibility of a new outlet opening in the pet food and fur animal field these rough fish can be made to "pay their way" in fishing operations.

Perhaps the same thing could be done with the rough fish resulting from shrimping operations.

A Welsh firm of chemical manufacturers is developing the production of a shark-repellent crystal for supply to aircraft and shipping companies and for export to various parts of the world. One airline has already fitted out their rescue dinghies with supplies of the repellent.

Some time ago the firm, B.C.B. Ltd., of Bute St., Cardiff, Wales, received an order for several hundred canisters of shark repellent. At that time, they had no such product, nor, as far as they could discover, had any other manufacturer in Britain.

So they developed a compound themselves, after correspondence with people in Australia and elsewhere who had worked on the problem. The ingredients include water-soluble dye, acetates and other chemicals. The dye, a light dry powder, is particularly difficult to work with; it has to be handled very carefully, and the finished product has to be sealed in water-tight metal containers.

It is well known that sharks are attracted by the smell of blood in water; in this case the reverse process applies. In the formula, the firm has copied as far as possible the natural defense mechanism of the octopus and the squid. To protect themselves, they squirt out a black inky acid cloud which acts as a smoke screen and assists their escape. In like manner, a bag of these special crystals, when trailed by someone in the sea or in a dinghy, puts up a protective cloud which blinds the shark and its pilot fish.

The First Methodist Church of Gulfport, Miss., has incorporated water skiing into the recreational program of the youth organization of the church with considerable success. The church has found that not only does skiing give the youngsters a healthy source of enjoyment, but the building of their own ski ramp fitted well into the handicraft program. Movies taken each year of the youngsters on skis are spliced into a film and used to explain the club activities to various local groups.

belly—and frequently having a broad yellowish band along the midline which fades soon after death. The average weight of these little beauties is around six or seven pounds, but they may reach thirty or forty. Long pectorals, extending almost to the back of the first dorsal account for one of their names. They feed on crabs, shrimp and fish—swimming in small, compact schools—and in waters where there are reefs with plenty of food, fish may be found in or near the same place, time after time. Tuna from the same school look like they were poured from the same mold. They have much the same habits as the bonitoes, take the same baits, and make the same sort of fight.

Other names for little tuna are false albacore, albacore, and bonito. This pelagic inhabitant of the warm seas ranges from New Jersey south at least to the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean Sea, and has also been reported in the Mediterranean and Pacific. These stream-lined speedsters of the sea are occasionally found in great schools off the coast of Texas. Like all of the big mackerels, they prefer blue water, where they feed on schools of small fish, often surrounding them and forcing them into a compact mass, through which the little tunas slash like living swords. In the Pacific this species furnishes the basis for a commercial fishery; in the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico they are sought mostly by sportsmen. Deep-swimming and hard-hitting, they are favorites wherever found. Baits include nylon and feather jigs, strip bait, and spoons. Little tuna sometimes attain a weight of twenty pounds.

As might be expected, the growth rate of oysters varies in different localities, essentially due to physical and biological differences in the environment. In Long Island Sound, New York, four or five years are required for an oyster to reach its most valuable size, whereas in certain areas of Apalachicola Bay, Florida, a useable size is attained in a year and a half. The above statements apply to averages and to commercial harvesting. Individual growth is often times much more rapid. It has been shown that oysters may grow four inches in 31 weeks in Apalachicola Bay and one case is recorded in North Bay, Panama City, Fla., where six inch oysters were produced in 18 months.

Skippy Gilmore Celebrates Birthday

Skippy Gilmore was honored Tuesday afternoon, April 24th, with a party celebrating his second birthday, by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hays Atwood. Davy Crockett decorations were the theme carried out. The lace covered table had as its centerpiece a coonskin hat filled with coral and fusia hibiscus. Davy Crockett napkins and plates further carried out the theme. The long white cake, encircled with white maline was decorated with pink roses and inscribed with the lettering "Happy Birthday, Skippy". The cake held two pink candles. Bouquets of yellow and lavender chrysanthemums were decorations for the living room along with multi-colored balloons hanging from the ceiling. Refreshments of birthday cake, punch, ice cream and nut cups filled with candy and bubble gum were served.

Helping Skippy to celebrate his birthday were Barbara Joyce Marsh, Lanny and Warren Glyn Landrum, Sherrie and Freddie Ratliff, Jeanne and David Prophet, Kathy, Jay and John James, Debra, Mike and Pat McLead, Mark and Russell Johnson, Sandra and Elaine Hughes, Roseann Elliot, Kathy and Karen Hayden, Kenneth LeBlanc, Susan Picton, Jerry Picton, Davy Gilmore and Debbie and Johnny Kaye of Aransas Pass.

Also present were Mesdames Harold Picton, Dick Picton, Bob Landrum, Jimmy Hayden, Dudley Prophet, Norman McLead, Sam James, Bill Hughes, Joe Marshall and Mrs. John E. Kaye of Aransas Pass.

Skippy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmore.

weighed 9,500 pounds. The remaining eleven sets were made in the central and southwestern Gulf of Mexico and caught 9,500 pounds of yellowfin at the rate of 1.5 fish per hundred hooks. In addition to the yellowfins, the Oregon caught 10 bluefin tuna averaging 339 pounds each, 1 skipjack, 10 white marlin, three blue marlin, 1 broadbill swordfish, and 63 sharks. Eighty of the yellowfins, 1 bluefin, 4 white marlin, and the three blue marlin were tagged and released.

According to Francis Captiva, party chief, most of the sets had to be made in moderately heavy seas, which limited the amount of line that could be put out. However, they all caught fish, except one set made at the northern edge of the Sigsbee Deep.

Besides those fish taken on the lines, large schools of blackfin and one small school of 60-70 pound yellowfin tuna were observed during the cruise.

Mrs. Ethel M. Cox of Kansas City, Mo., is here for an extended visit with her sister and family, Mrs. J. H. Mills.

SUN POWER

Probably all of can remember flashing messages with a mirror on a bright, sunny day. Or maybe you burned holes in dry leaves.

Well, we were all using "sun power." A simple form of it, yes. But it was still power from the greatest source of energy man has ever known—the sun.

For years, we've been reading about how men have been trying to capture and put to work the sun's energy. And telephone scientists, just in the past few months, have come up with the first workable device to do the job. It's called the Bell Solar Battery.

Believe it or not, the heart of the Bell Solar Battery is common, ordinary sand. From this sand, silicon disks are made which can convert sunlight into electrical power.

How will the Bell Solar Battery affect your telephone service? Really, we don't know yet. But right now, an experimental installation of solar batteries is supplying power on rural telephones in another part of the country. This experiment may give us some answers.

Regardless of the future of the Bell Solar Battery, it is already proof of one thing. Telephone scientists will go to any lengths to find ways of improving your service.

This time they've even brought the sun into the act.

THE MILES FLASH BY

When you pick up the receiver of your telephone to make a Long Distance call, you're turning hours or days into seconds.

That's because a Long Distance call puts you in touch almost instantly with friends or relatives in a distant city.

As well as being the best way to keep in touch any time, a Long Distance call is also a happy thought for a special occasion—such as a birthday, anniversary, wedding, or just a family get-together. You can talk as long as you like because Long Distance rates are low, especially if you call station-to-station. Remember, also, to call by number. Your calls will go through twice as fast.

WELCOME MAT IS OUT

From time to time, individuals or groups stop in at the telephone company to learn how we do things—and to see what's behind their telephone service.

If you'd like to do the same with friends or a business or social group, just call me. I'll be happy to plan a visit for you.

Two Wrecks Occur In City During Week

Two wrecks have occurred within the city during the past week. On Friday, Andrew Comacho was driving south on Highway 35 in a 1949 Pontiac. At the Triangle, Leonard Halton, also driving south on the business route in a 1950 Ford, failed to halt for the stop sign, and crashed into Comacho's car, according to investigators, damaging it to the extent of $150. Halton's car suffered $250 damages.

The wreck was investigated by the Sheriff's department, and Halton was given a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

Monday evening, R. W. Stewart was driving east on Highway 35 and at the intersection at Church Street attempted a left turn and skidded into W. L. Mical's truck, parked in front of his service station. Stewart was driving a 1948 Chevrolet pickup, damaged to the tune of about $150, and Mike's 1949 GMC pickup was damaged about $100, according to members of the Sheriff's department who investigated the wreck.

caught more than he did.

Frazier Cantrell took Harold Foyt and Joe Harden of Temple fishing Wednesday, and they came in with 56 trout that weighed close to 50 lbs. dressed. Six of them, Frazier said, ran about three pounds apiece.

Earlier in the week he took Mrs. Cantrell's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bundren, also of Temple, out, and they came in with a twenty gallon garbage can full of gafftops.

Last weekend saw a party of some fifty or sixty Singer Sewing Machine anglers here from all over the state. Some of them caught fish, but the weather was poor, so catches were light.

Rattlesnake Point came in with its usual good report. Last Thursday, R. L. Lee, of Fulton, caught 18 trout that weighed 25 pounds. Bill Bardwell, Rockport, caught 12 specks that weighed in at 23 pounds, and Saturday Jack Helms of Corpus Christi caught four trout that averaged 2 1/2 pounds each.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bice, Luling, caught 50 specks; E. J. McCord and son, of Kingsbury, strung 37 trout and 15 gafftops, while J. V. Geren, Corpus Christi, brought in 8 specks that weighed 20 pounds.

Monday, Homer Faber, Rockport, checked in with one 5-pound flounder and eight trout that averaged two pounds each.

Tuesday, Bill Bardwell, Rockport, fished again with R. L. Lee, of Fulton. Fishing in Peach and Italian Bends they caught a string of trout that dressed out at 77 pounds. Fred Procknow and I. A. Gordon, San Antonio, fished Tuesday and Wednesday, catching 9 trout that weighed 18 pounds.

Wednesday, Clyde Trusty, of Corpus Christi, snagged 14 specks that averaged a little better than two pounds apiece.
