

Weatherman, County Officials Discuss Storm Precautions

"We do not anticipate any worse weather than usual," said Russell P. Mozeney, head of the Weather Bureau for the Corpus Christi area, during a conference with Aransas County officials, "but we are trying to prepare for any emergencies, and, because we are now able to forecast not only wind velocities and travel, as well as the predictable height of waves and tides, hurricanes in the future should cause less damage and loss of life."

County Judge John D. Wendell, with Sheriff A. C. Shivers and

Lieutenant Ray Bureson, of the 813th AC & W Squadron, concurred in this.

"If people will cooperate with us," Judge Wendell said, "we should have very little trouble in seeing that everyone reaches a place of safety in the event of a storm."

"No storm is predicted," Mozeney said, "and the plans laid today are only necessary in case of an emergency, when a great storm like the one that struck here in 1919, is in the offing. However, don't forget that most of the area east of Highway 35 is low ground, and that even some of the area to the west is also open to flooding at storm tides."

Sheriff Shivers pointed out that in case of a really bad storm, where tides reached from six to nine feet, that the best and most feasible route of evacuation would be out FM 881, to Taft and Sinton, rather than over Copano Causeway or through Aransas Pass, whose citizens would also begin trying to evacuate.

Asked how bad a storm should be before evacuation was considered, Mozeney stated that it should be at least of hurricane force, with winds of seventy-five miles an hour or better, but, he pointed out, the time to move was before the winds reached that velocity.

Tides ahead of a hurricane can raise to the point where only a little more would make it dangerous to remain in the region, he said, and sometimes winds are light or variable before a storm actually hits.

"In these days," he added, "we can detect a storm far enough offshore, and can predict the wave and tide height far enough in advance, that we can warn county authorities in plenty of time to take precaution."

Judge Wendell said that, in the event such warning should come, the Aransas County Emergency Corps had agreed to aid in warning outlying homes that may not be aware of the oncoming blow, and to help evacuate emergency cases.

All those present at the meeting emphasized that the ideal way to deal with any tropical disturbance that promised to become dangerous was for the people threatened to leave and stay at Sinton, Refugio, or other inland towns during the blow as, if it was severe, water and power would probably be off for two or three days, which would put a hardship on them if they stayed.

A six foot tide would be rough on Rockport, Mozeney said, and county officials agreed, pointing out that most of the town south of Rockport Hospital would be flooded to some extent, while the area around the Aransas County High School would also be in the danger zone. Safest place on the peninsula would be the Aransas County Airport.

LIBRARY BOOK MYSTERY SOLVED

A week ago, it was reported through these columns that the library had received a mysterious package of books from New York, containing many children's books badly needed by the library.

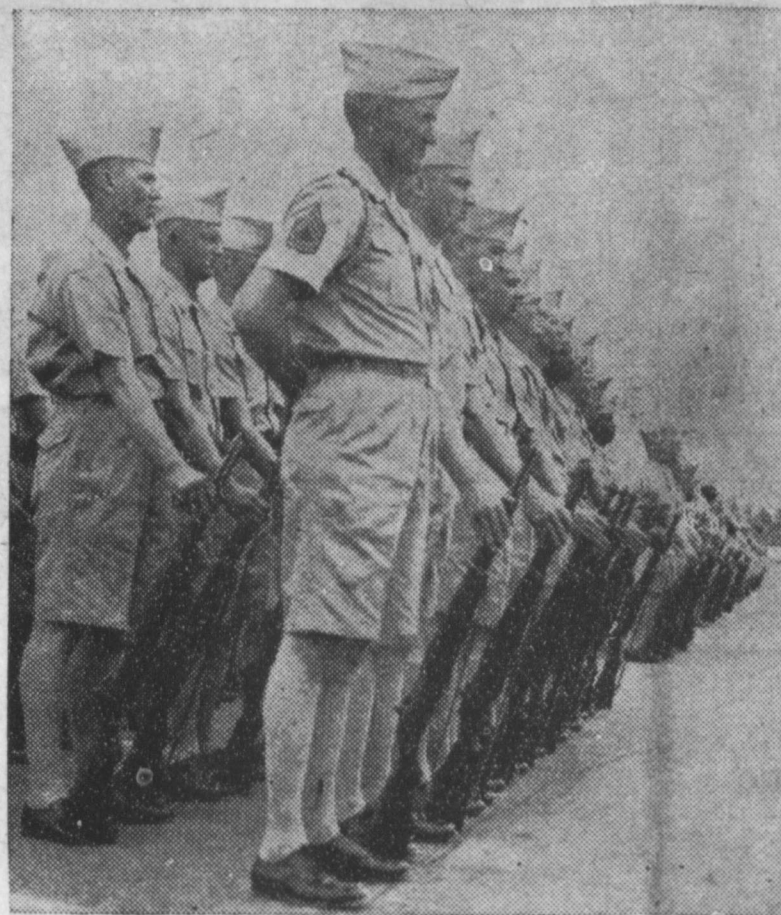

Included in the package were the "World We Live In", a deluxe Golden Book; "First Book of Mythology", on Greek and Roman mythology; "Cave of Riches", the story of the Dead Sea Scrolls; "Boy of the Pyramids", by Ruth Fosdick Jones; "Anderson's Fairy Tales"; "My Poetry Book"; "The Little Bookroom", by Eleanor Farjeon; and "The Story of Benjamin Franklin", by Enid Blyton.

The package came addressed to a member of the Library Board, Mrs. A. C. Glass, and the only clue to where it came from was an address tag, saying that it had been shipped by the Schwartz Book Store in New York.

Her curiosity aroused, Mrs. Glass wrote the book store, telling them of the library, and asking, if possible, to learn from whom the books came.

They answered and credited the gift to Mrs. F. H. Prescott, of Austinberg, Ohio. The Prescotts have a winter home here, in Little Bay Shores, and Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. Glass are friends.

A gift of $25 from the Lions Club has also been received, and Mrs. Everal West, county librarian, spent Tuesday afternoon in Corpus Christi, buying still more books for the library.

The abbreviated shirt and trousers were designed for hot climates here and overseas. The uniform was authorized for wear only last year and is coming into wider use this summer.

3 Thousand People View Drag Races With 118 Miles An Hour Top Time

With close to 3 thousand people watching, D. C. McNabb's slingshot dragster from Harlingen cleaned Jimmy Hatton's plow Sunday, and hung up a mark of close to 118 miles an hour to walk off with honors as top eliminator in the second drag race to be held at Rockport's county airport by the Corpus Christi Timing Association.

Other times hung up by competitors were less than they were on July Fourth, when roughly as large a crowd watched Gene Brown and his dragster set a course record of 137.40 to run off with top eliminator trophy on that day.

About 150 cars competed Sunday, ranging all the way from Hatton's and McNabb's dragster, to four-cylinder midget racers, and this time Fords, old-fashioned last month, held up their end somewhat better than previously.

There were cars from Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Robstown, half a dozen places in the Valley, Laredo, El Campo, Victoria, and Corpus Christi.

One Corpus Christi driver, Mrs. C. H. Mayo, held up her end with the rest of the boys in fine style, turning in some very creditable times, practicing for the day when she will have a dragster of her own to drive.

She and her husband have designs on a Chrysler-powered slingshot, which they hope to build in the near future.

City's Delinquent Taxes Lowest In History

According to Mrs. Mary Lake Segler, City Secretary, collections on current city taxes are 92.5%. Valuation in the city for 1956 resulted in $42,702.90 in taxes. Of this amount $39,543.00 has been collected.

Last fall, the city engaged Joe Caldwell, local attorney, as their tax attorney in an attempt to collect delinquent taxes in the amount of $11,296.65. Up to date the city has collected $6,603.93 of this amount, or 59% of the total delinquent taxes. In addition $2,430.70 in penalties and interest have been paid, making a total of $9,034.72 collected.

1956 delinquent taxes amount to $3,159.90, making a total of $7,852.62 in delinquent taxes.

FULTON BEACH HAS 231 BBLER.

C. G. Glasscock - Tidelands Oil Co. and Union Producing Co. No. 4 State Tract 4, North Fulton Beach Field will near the Aransas-Refugio County line, has been recompleted dually for 231.3 barrels of 46 gravity oil.

The upper tubing yielded 119 barrels of oil through 7-64-inch choke from 24-shot perforations at 6,814-20 feet. Tubing pressure was 625 pounds and gas-oil ratio was 1,125-1.

The lower tubing recorded a daily flow of 112.26 barrels of oil through 10-64-inch choke from 32-shot perforations at 6,922-30 feet in 5 1/4-inch casing at 6,958 feet, with total depth 7,005 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 890-1 and tubing pressure was 210 pounds.

Sacred Heart School Will Open Sept. 3

Sacred Heart Catholic School will open on Tuesday, September 3. All students who plan on attending must register before the opening date.

OUTBOARD MOTOR STOLEN AT FULTON

A 1956, 35 h. p. Johnson outboard motor was stolen over the weekend from the boat of A. M. Jameson, former employee of a San Antonio newspaper, well-known here because of his frequent fishing trips.

The motor was stolen from Jameson's boat, which was staked out offshore, and he told Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine that he would give $100 for the motor and the person that stole it.

County Judge Finds Two Guilty Monday

County Judge John D. Wendell found two defendants guilty in his court Monday morning.

Mrs. Sepha Weatherington Huff, charged with driving while intoxicated, was assessed a fine of $50 and costs, sentenced to the mandatory three days in jail, against which time already served was credited, and had her driver's license suspended for six months.

Mrs. Huff was arrested by Highway Patrolman J. D. West, of Corpus Christi, and Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine, of Rockport, on June 2, about eleven in the evening. Both men testified that the car she was driving narrowly missed them, forcing the patrol car to take to the shoulder to avoid a wreck, and that, as they turned and followed her, she also narrowly missed a big truck, which also had to take to the shoulder of the road to avoid an accident.

Mrs. Huff testified that she had had two or three drinks, but that she was subject to asthma, at which time she sometimes lost control of her actions to such a degree that she might appear intoxicated.

After hearing the evidence, Judge Wendell imposed the sentence mentioned above, and Mrs. Huff, through her attorney Ellis L. Clark, immediately filed notice of appeal, and the judge set her appeal bond at $500.

In the second case, State of Texas against Willie Dominguez, Willie was charged with causing a disturbance at his home on the night of June 24, and when officers arrived, with resisting their efforts to arrest him.

Sheriff Shivers, who with Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine, made the arrest, testified that Willie was armed with a knife and a pop bottle when the officers arrived, and as they advanced on him, Dominguez broke the bottle against a telephone pole, retaining the neck and the jagged slivers attached to it in one hand (continued on page 8)

Mishap On Causeway May Chill Home Front

Two men involved in an accident on Nueces Bay Causeway Tuesday faced the dilemma of telling their wives truthful, but highly improbable stories, or forgetting the whole thing.

It all began when Thurmond Edmonson of Mills Wharf at Rockport came to Corpus Christi to buy his wife a $230 refrigerator. "She told me not to buy it, but I went ahead anyway," he said.

Crossing the causeway, the load shifted and the spanking new refrigerator tumbled onto the pavement and into the path of a car driven by Buddy Felton of 4809 Landsdown.

Felton could not stop in time and hit the already damaged ice box. The crash damaged Felton's car to the tune of $100.

As traffic was tied up on both approaches to the bridge, the two men swallowed hard and tried to think up possible stories.

Edmonson had to tell his wife the refrigerator she didn't want in the first place was demolished.

And if that was bad, Felton had to tell his wife his car was wrecked when he hit a refrigerator in the middle of Nueces Bay Causeway. — Caller-Times.

Cases to be investigated by the grand jury are few and contain none of any major importance.

Grand jurors called include: C. D. Barber, E. N. Adams, Fred Bracht, Jr., W. F. Cloos, Raymond Duffee, Leonard Le Blanc; L. E. Casterlin; D. H. Smith, Curtis Harrist, Randolph G. Stivers, Clyde Townsend, Otis Rouquette, Jack McCready, Charles A. Roe, Jr., Ernest W. Jones, and T. J. Johnston.

ARANSAS WELL HAS 10 MILLION

Hunt Oil Co. No. 5 State Tract 72, Aransas County producer in the Fulton Beach Field in Copano Bay, has been recompleted on the tubing side for a daily open flow of 10.5 million cubic feet of gas daily plus one barrel of F9.6 gravity distillate to 55,000 cubic feet of gas.

Production was through perforations from 7,108-12 feet in 7-inch casing at 7,198 feet.

Rockport Triples In Population

Since Last Census Taken, Rockport Has Tripled In Size; Population of Aransas County Has Increased, In A Like Proportion To 12,000

Rockport has grown from a village of 2266, officially enumerated by the last census in 1950, to a city of 6500 people, only seven years later, if the figures of the Central Power and Light Company are correct, and there is little reason to doubt that they aren't.

Open House And Reception Planned At School Tonight

A joint open house and reception has been planned for this evening by the Aransas County School Board and the Aransas County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, to allow people of the community to inspect new schools in the community, and to present the teachers who will be in charge of classes for the coming school year.

The public is invited, and everyone is asked to meet in the auditorium of the high school at 7:30 p. m., at which time the faculty for the 1957-58 school year will be introduced.

Following the introduction of the faculty, everyone will board school buses and go for a tour of the school system, inspecting new elementary schools in Rockport and Fulton, and the new junior high school and gymnasium on the campus of the old high school.

After a tour of the new structures, everyone is cordially invited to the high school cafeteria to attend the reception for the teachers. Teachers who will form the staff for the coming year are as follows:

Fire Destroys Erickson Home

Fire, which broke out while she was at work in Helen's Drive In, gutted the home of Miss Helen Erickson, not far off Highway 35 on Sunday night about eleven p. m.

Miss Erickson said that she lost all her clothing and other personal possessions as well as her dog, which had been left in the house when she went to work earlier in the evening.

The house belonged to a Mr. Hellums, of Corpus Christi, and the rental of the place is handled by Mrs. Sipe.

The Rockport fire department was called, but as the fire had evidently been underway for some time, before the call was made, the fire truck arrived too late to save any of Miss Erickson's belongings.

No one had any idea how the blaze started.

Rockport To Have New Chiropractor

Rockport is to have a new chiropractor, Dr. C. W. Butterfield, who, with his wife and son George, moved here recently from Beeville.

Dr. Butterfield is a graduate of a four-year course at Lincoln Chiropractic College, Indianapolis, Indiana, and has been practicing since 1950.

He is a member of the Methodist Church, and the Masonic Lodge, a veteran of World War II, when he served in the Air Force for four and a half years. He is a member of the Civil Air Patrol, with a pilot's rating.

Dr. Butterfield's office is in the Schmidt building.

COURTHOUSE TO BE CLOSED ON MONDAY

The courthouse will be closed next Monday, Labor Day, according to County Clerk Mrs. Edith Herring. As a matter of fact, practically all businesses and offices in Rockport will be closed on that day.

At the same time, Aransas County, which had 4252 inhabitants in 1950, now has 11,767 people, with the extra 5267 resident scattered between Aransas Pass, Lamar, Fulton and Estes. The present estimate is based on the number of electric meters installed in the county, and using the Central Power and Light figure of 4.5 people to the meter.

There are 1444 meters in Rockport, with an estimated 6498 people utilizing them. In Lamar, Fulton, and Copano Village, there are 561 meters with about 2524 people, and in Estes and that portion of Aransas Pass that lies within Aransas County, there are approximately 610 meters, which would argue a population of 2745.

Using the same basis on which to figure the population increase, year by year, since the 1950 census, there were 1051 connections in 1949; in 1950 the county laid claim to 1108; the following year there were 1275; and in 1953 there were 1446 meters, which, for that year would point to a total of about 6507 for the whole county, a figure that now be applied to Rockport alone.

Auto Inspection Starts Sept. 1

The inspection period for Texas' four million automobiles and trucks has been set from September 1, 1957 until April 15, 1958. Under the state law all vehicles must be checked for mechanical defects.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety recommends that every owner have his cars and trucks inspected at the beginning of the period if possible. This will enable owners to obtain their stickers before the holidays and the last minute jam at inspection stations.

There are more than 4,200 licensed inspection stations in the state that will have the stickers on hand by the starting date.

Tarpon Practice Starts Sept. 3

Football practice for the Aransas County Junior High Tarpons will begin September 3 according to Coach Pat Smith. Smith says that uniforms will be issued at 2:45 at the new high school gymnasium. All boys interested in coming out are asked to report to the gym at that time.

The Tarpons will be participating in a new district this year, the Coastal Bend Junior High School District. Members of the new district are Portland-Gregory, Tuloso-Midway, Flour Pluff, Ingleside, Bishop, West Oso, and Aransas County.

The schedule for the following year is as follows, Aransas Pass Sept. 19; Here; Sept. 26, Ingleside, Here; October 3, Mathis there; Oct. 10, West Oso, there; Oct. 17, Bishop, here; Oct. 24, Portland-Gregory, there; Oct. 21, Flour Pluff, there; November 7, Tuloso-Midway, here.

Coach Smith urges all boys interested in coming out should get in quite a bit of running so as to be in good physical shape when work starts.

George Adolphus Losses Fingers

George Adolphus, in an accident aboard the Digger last week, lost three fingers and a part of his left hand, when he became entangled in a vinyl cable.

As it was some four or five hours after the accident before a doctor could attend to his injuries, he lost much blood.

He was taken to St. John Hospital, and at last report this week was doing as well as could be expected.

Two New Schools To Open in County

Aransas County schools will open the fall term with approximately $700,000 in new facilities to house the increasing enrollment.

The new plants include a junior high school and gymnasium at Rockport, an eight-room elementary addition at Rockport and a new elementary plant at Fulton.

The instructional area of the junior high school includes three four-classroom wings that include a library, home economics department and art department for both the junior and senior high schools. The building is designed to accommodate a normal enrollment of 500 students and is designed to permit the construction of additional wings.

The gymnasium is designed solely for physical education and sports games. It contains rollaway bleachers with a seating capacity of 1,100.

The new plant at Fulton is on a three-block site acquired by the school board for relocation of the school facilities. It contains eight regular classrooms, a multi-purpose room, lounge and administrative area. A new water system was constructed for the school at the new site.

Eight new classrooms were constructed at the elementary campus in the city limits of Rockport and an office for the school tax assessor collector.

City Council Meets Monday

The City Council held its regular meeting on Monday night, and discussed with John C. Klaeser and H. Schneeman, of the Highway Department, the proposed ordinance setting a speed limit on portions of Highway 35, where school children cross. It was suggested that section D of the ordinance be amended.

Charles Gregory, of the Pak-Mor Manufacturing Company, talked to the councilmen about purchase of a new garbage truck, but councilmen took no action on this.

The city tax rate was set at $1.50 for the coming year. $1.24 was allotted to the general fund; 24 cents to the street maintenance fund, and six cents to schoolhouse bond refunding.

More Than Hundred New Laws Now In Effect, Most of Them Costing John Q. Taxpayer More And More Money

Starting last Friday, August 23, more than one hundred new laws went into effect in Texas, most of them costing John Q. Taxpayer more and more money.

Stating with the first letter of the alphabet, auto licenses went up, as bills on subjects as wide apart as segregation and securities became law.

Parents will have to pay twice as much for their children's tuition if they go to any of 18 state-supported colleges or universities. They'll also be responsible for up to $300 damage caused by their wayward youngsters.

Teenagers themselves will be liable up to $100 for traffic law infractions and they will be tried in corporation courts instead of juvenile courts.

While the taxpayers dug deeper the state government also expanded as more than 100 bills became effective 90 days after the close of the session. A few bills were effective when Gov. Daniel signed them and the rest are money bills which begin September 1 — the start of the state's fiscal year.

A new state securities board was sworn in, thus separating for the first time this division from that of the secretary of state and State Board of Insurance.

Motorists will pay a 19 percent across-the-board increase for their licenses. However, most of this revenue will not be coming in until next spring when the new plates are offered. The money will go to pay for the state's 50 percent cost of buying right-of-way on state and U. S. highways. In the past, this cost has been the responsibility of local government.

Two segregation bills, which touched off two filibusters in the State Senate, also were among the 90-day bills. One allows school boards to assign pupils based on various factors and the other states that no school may integrate or segregate without a local option election. Although opponents of both laws have said there would be quick court tests of the laws, none apparently is in the offing now. Galveston and Port Arthur have said they would postpone integration as a result of the laws.

One of the 100-odd laws that has kept the State Agriculture Department busy all summer is the grading measure which will mean that buyers will know for the first time what kind of eggs they are getting for their money. Department officials have been explaining the law to form groups for several months. It said today it already had started the job of licensing about 36,000 producers, handlers and sellers of eggs. The law requires a license fee from retailers who sell more than one case of eggs a week.

GOOD SHEPHERD CLASS TO HOLD SALE

The Good Shepherd class of the First Methodist Church will hold a rummage sale Saturday, August 31st at Sorenson's Store, 8 a. m. until sold out.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clark Herring attended graduation exercises of their son Joe S. Herring at Texas A. & I. in Kingsville this past week, when he received his degree in Natural Gas and Petroleum Engineering. He accepted a position with the Sinclair Refining Company in Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McNabb and daughter, Deborah of Corpus Christi spent the weekend as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Close.

The children of M/Sgt. Billy Davis who live in Portland have been visiting with their father at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, their grandparents. M/Sgt. Davis is leaving the 5th of September for Munich, Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barber attended the Youth Rodeo in Robstown Saturday night.

ARANSAS PASS

KING SHIMP-O-REE, who rules over the annual Aransas Pass festival, has new robes this year which will be used in the coronation Friday night of James Wilder, representative of Tringali's of Aransas Pass. The Shrim-O-Ree this year runs from August 30 until Sept. 2. The new robes were designed to honor the succulent crustaceans in whose honor the festival is given.

Panthers Suspected In San Patricio County

Luther Kolb, of Sintou, suspects that his Shetlands and burros on pasture on the Frank Curlee farm west of Sintou are being bothered by a panther, and has been out hunting every night since cotton pickers left the Curlee field, swearing that they heard the voice of one of the beasts in the brush. Reyna Ybarra reported seeing the animal twice while plowing with a tractor. He said that he was within a hundred feet of the panther or lion, and described it as long, black or dark brown, with a long tail and big shiny eyes.

Dr. Clarence Cottam, director of the Welder Wildlife Refuge, and his wife saw one on the Refuge a year or so ago, not far from the one Kolb thinks he has, and if there's anybody in South Texas capable of identifying one of the cats, it's Dr. Cottam, with his years of experience in the wildlife field.

These panthers, or mountain lions, are the only big cats native to Texas — one of the most destructive predators, which kills deer, stock, javelinas, or, occasionally, people!

In former times, panthers were plentiful in Aransas County, where Rockport now stands; there were lions in east Texas; Captain Marcy saw them on the Brazos up in the northwestern part of the state; and there used to be one in the Zoo at Washington that came from near Memphis, Texas, in the Red River valley, just east of the Llano Estacado.

One rancher on the Chisos killed 55 in eight years; on the Farias, Lampacitas and Indio ranches they have long been a problem; in 1952, seven were trapped on the San Pedro Ranch, just south of Eagle Pass. These animals frequently cause tremendous damage to farmers and ranchers because of their voracious appetites. An adult will kill 50 or more deer yearly or, if these are not available, will eat javelinas, or, in settled country sheep, goats, calves, and colts, and Luther thinks that a burro or a Shetland would be just about the right size for one of these cats.

Cy Farley Says Nicaragua Lost Due To Storm

Cyrus Farley, of Aransas Pass, is one of the few men alive that remember attempts to salvage that mysterious vessel the Nicaragua, which has long been a landmark of the low Texas coast, having gone ashore on Padre Island, about 63 miles south of Port Aransas.

"When she first went ashore," Cy said, "the crew rowed up the coast of the island in a lifeboat which they left tied up to a wharf at Port Aransas for eight or nine months.

"I was in the Life Saving Service then," he continued, and because it was just that, and didn't try to salvage boats and men like the present day Coast Guard, we were sure surprised when Captain Edward White, who ran the station, got orders from Captain Phillips, district superintendent at Galveston, to go down Padre to the wreck and help the Senator Bailey get a line aboard the Nicaragua.

"This was a salvage operation and we weren't supposed to do it. But we left one man to man the station and took off in our twenty-four-foot lifeboat, six men and the captain, down the outside of Padre, in the Gulf, in February. We made it all right, although our engine quit us just after we got there.

"The next morning the Senator Bailey, the largest salvage tug in these parts, arrived from Galveston, and as our engine wasn't working, we rowed out through the surf to where she was, about a mile offshore, and the crew gave us a messenger line about a mile long, of inch and a quarter manila rope, which we carried ashore.

"The Nicaragua, which had been ashore about three years before we went down to start salvage, lay with her bow to the north and wasn't damaged at all, except for parts of her gear that had been carried off by wreckers from Port Aransas. The owners had sent a crew up to help with the operation and they had steam up that morning. We carried the manila line to one of her captains and it yanked the four-inch steel hawser ashore in short order.

"The tug lay offshore, with two anchors out ahead, and the hawser led to a huge towing winch on the stern of the Bailey, so that by use of the tugs propellers and the winch a steady strain could be kept on the hawser.

"After a couple of days the Nicaragua had moved offshore to the outer bar, where she was so near floating that she bounced up and down after every wave when, about two o'clock in the afternoon, the bit tore out and by dark the Nicaragua was back on the beach again.

"Next morning we brought the hawser in and got ready to do the thing all over again, when the captain of the Senator Bailey decided to inspect the work, and to see what the cable was tied to this time. He had a crew put over one of the tin lifeboats the Bailey carried and started in when a big wave flipped them on the bar. They bailed out, climbed in, and got ducked again before they made it.

"They ran the cable in through the hawser pipe and tied it to the stem.

"We'd been living in another wreck," Farley continued, "which was laying on the beach above the Nicaragua. We had an oil stove to cook on and two blankets, and at night we'd take turns, two men to a blanket, with the other two sitting up with the fire. After six days we were out of everything, so we decided to go home under sail. We ate a good breakfast on the Senator Bailey and took off about eleven o'clock. When we got up about opposite to Little Shell, a norther caught us, and though we had a self-bailing life boat it wasn't any time until we were full of water, and it took us three hours to make the beach.

"The Bailey, when the norther hit, turned everything loose and started up the island looking for us. About sundown we saw her, and launched the boat and she picked us up. After the storm died down, the Bailey went back and picked up her wire, and that was the last attempt made to salvage the Nicaragua.

"I never heard that she was anything but a fruiter running between Tampico and Port Arthur," he said, in reply to a question, "and according to all I've heard, she was running light when she struck. The currents are tricky in there... and she probably hit because the navigator didn't know the waters."

Asked whether he thought that the Nicaragua was ever a gun runner, Farley said that he didn't think so.

"There was another wreck on the beach about halfway between Port Aransas and the Nicaragua," he said, "that went ashore around 1914, a couple of years after the Nicaragua was wrecked. Otis Seagraves, the same one that was recently mixed up in that deal about the stolen oil maps, was salvaging her cargo, and rode back and forth down the beach on a motorcycle. At one time I reckon he had at least a dozen laying along the beach where they'd quit him, between Mustang and Padre. This wreck that he was working on was the Grampus, a snapper schooner out of Galveston, and she carried Mauser rifles and am-

Multi-Use Seen For Hunt Area

Austin. — The pattern for projected public hunting areas sponsored by Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas has been broadened to contemplate between-harvest use of the tracts for youth nature study, it was announced by Cecil Reid, SCOT's executive secretary.

Primary purpose of the undertaking, under which King Ranch offered original big game stocks for SCOT-created areas, was to channel surplus wildlife into ultimately providing field opportunities for thousands of Texas hunters.

With a special SCOT committee already named to work out details with King Ranch, and to pursue other phases, Reid said consideration will be given to recommendations that SCOT's Explorer Scout program be blended into the original plan.

Reid said the proposed areas would be rich in material for studies of botany, zoology, Indian relics and other subjects incidental to Scout routine.

"These areas would naturally be devoted to the wildlife harvest during the fall," said Reid. "But the remainder of the year, the buildings and other camp facilities would be available for nature study and general routine plus management, wildlife management and soil management.

"In encouraging SCOT affiliates to tie their youth work into the Boy Scout movement, we have found that one of the great needs is for a satisfactory place for the youngsters to make their extended field explorations.

"If we do succeed in setting up the original program and can accommodate some of the increasing Texas hunting hordes and then go beyond that and provide substantial facilities for the youngsters between harvest seasons, I believe we will have accomplished a great deal."

Mrs. Thelma Barber, who has been on her vacation the past two weeks, returned to the courthouse Monday morning. While she was gone, Miss Flossie Lown replaced her in County Judge John D. Wendell's office.

Three-Billion Dollar Impact On U. S. Economy Credited To Brewers

More than three billion dollars were distributed directly among American farmers, workers, business and government last year through operations of the brewing industry of this country, the 1957 Brewers Almanac discloses.

Wages and salaries of an estimated 82,000 brewing industry employees amounted to $460 million, including benefits. In producing 90,284,488 barrels in 1956, the brewing industry's employees were paid $455 million in wages and salaries, benefits included.

Purchases from farmers of more than five million pounds of barley, corn, rice, wheat and other agricultural products at a cost of $240 million compared with similar purchases costing $225 million in 1955.

U.S. consumption of malt beverages, measured by tax-paid withdrawals, maintained government as the number one stakeholder in the industry with federal, state, and local taxes collected aggregating more than one billion dollars.

The federal government collected $767,817,000 in 1956, the highest federal tax import in industry history and compared with a 1955 federal tax bill of $756,078,000 when consumption amounted to 84,977,274 barrels. State taxes amounted to $232,045,000 in 1956 compared with $216,128,000 in 1955. Local taxes brought the aggregate to more than a billion. Added to this were income taxes of brewers, wholesalers and retailers, and their employees, of more than $100 million, while social security and property taxes were an additional $100 million.

Manufacturers of beer containers had a $225 million customer in the brewing industry in 1956 compared with such container purchases of $300 million by the industry in 1955. Malt beverages are the largest single product for which the output of both the can and bottle manufacturing industries is used. The brewing industry is the third biggest customer of the bottle manufacturers in units purchased and second only to fruit and vegetable canners as a customer of the metal can manufacturing industry. All in all, contents of the almanac divulge, the fortunes of more than 100 industries are tied closely to the fluctuations of production and sales by the brewing industry.

The industry's heavy annual outlay for other goods and services, such as transportation, machinery, equipment, fuel, construction, advertising, merchandising and marketing represented another huge share of the stake. In 1956, these expenditures totaled nearly a billion dollars.

"Taxes," according to the almanac, "constitute the largest individual item in the price of beer to the consumer. The federal excise tax is $9 a barrel and state taxes average approximately $2.59 a barrel.

"It is a generally known fact that few other business enterprises face such an involved system of governmental controls, or are so heavily laden with taxes, licenses, permits, and regulations."

These observations were given added significance by the fact that per capita consumption in the U.S. dropped from 15.9 gallons in 1955 to 15.7 gallons in 1956. On the basis of latest available figures on foreign per capita consumption, the U.S. at a 15.7 gallon rate ranks tenth. Belgium tops the list at 57.0 gallons followed by Luxembourg at 29.1 and Australia at 28.6. Other countries reported were: New Zealand at 26.2, West Germany 19.8, Austria 17.1, Denmark 17.1, and Canada 16.0 gallons.

Almanac statistics also revealed that imports of beer and ale by the United States in 1956 increased 665,834 gallons over the previous year — 7,714,072 gallons versus 7,048,238 in 1955. Exports, on the other hand, were up only 72,784 gallons, from 2,094,168 gallons in 1955 to 2,166,952 last year.

John Ellis Harrison Passes Away At Home

Mrs. A. L. Bruhl received news Monday that her brother, John Ellis Harrison, 71, had died at his home in Tucson, Arizona, of a heart ailment. Mr. Harrison had been in poor health for some time and his death was not unexpected.

He was born in Franklin, Tenn., the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Harrison. His father was a well known minister and educator in the Methodist Church and was the first president of San Antonio Peamle College.

Harrison received his education at Harrison University Training School for Boys at Elkton, Ky., and Southwestern University at Georgetown.

At the close of World War II, he went into the real estate business in Tucson, where he had lived ever since. He was a member of the Methodist Church, the Masonic Lodge and prominent in civic affairs. His sister, Mrs. Bruhl, is his only survivor.

Funeral services will be conducted Sat. at 3:30 p. m. at the Porter-Loring Funeral Home in San Antonio with interment in Mission Burial Park. The Rev. A. Arnott Ward will officiate at the services.

New Fishing License Law Due Sept. 1

A new sports fishing license law which increases fishing license fees becomes effective Sept. 1.

The new law states, in effect, that it shall be unlawful for any person to fish in any waters of this state without first obtaining a fishing license.

The exception to this law are persons under 17 and over 65 years of age; any person, or member of such person's immediate family when fishing upon property he owns or upon which he resides; and persons fishing with trotline, throw line, or ordinary pole or line having no reel of other winding device when fishing in the county of his residence. No other fishing license shall be required of a person who holds a commercial license issued in this state, adds the specialist.

The new law differs from the old one in ways besides fee charge. Unlike the old law, the new one is not concerned with the type of bait to be used. Another difference is that the license fee is the same for Texans and out-of-state residents. The new law which requires salt anglers to be licensed and charges a lower fee to non-residents, paves the way for a reciprocal licensing program with some of our neighboring states.

MR. AND MRS. McDAY LIKE ROCKPORT

Mr. and Mrs. McDay, of Mexia, started out on a tour of the South Texas Gulf Coast, but when they reached Rockport, after having sampled various other resort spots in the area, they looked no farther, but settled down to spend the remainder of their time here.

Mr. McDay is principal of the elementary school in Mexia, and Mrs. McDay, besides being a teacher in the Mexia school system is also a niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rogers of Rockport.

They liked their stay here so well that they told Mrs. Rogers that next year they would not even start to hunt for a vacation spot but would just pack up and head out for here as matter of course.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Kinsel and family, Miss Mary Ann Barber and Connie Sue Campbell of Houston attended the Youth Rodeo in Robstown all day Saturday. Alton Jr. rode in the grand entry.

Cong. Young Introduces Bill To Conserve Wildlife

Congressman John Young, has recently introduced House Resolution 9353, a bill which will authorize the necessary appropriation for a study of the biology, propagation, catch, and abundance of species of fish and shrimp in certain bays of the Texas Gulf Coast, together with the need for fish passes from the gulf to these bays, and the effect of these projects on the marine life in the bays and upper Gulf of Mexico. The bill also provides for expansion of the Whooping Crane Refuge now located in our area. There is considerable National interest in the preservation of the Whooping Crane and other species of migratory water fowl, and to have been asked to introduce this legislation by National organizations such as the National Audubon Society and the Wildlife Management Institute, as well as the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The bill contemplates that studies will be made by the Department of the Interior in coordination with the Texas Game and Fish Commission, Corps of Army Engineers, and other interested Federal, State and local agencies. It is further felt that such studies should include a coordination of knowledge and work of the various agencies involved, with the ultimate objective of designing a project which would include participation by the Federal Government, the State of Texas, and local governmental agencies.

The studies contemplated by this legislation are of keen local interest because of the commercial and sport aspects of the problem; they are of direct interest to the State Game and Fish Commission because of the responsibilities it has relative to the conservation of fish and shrimp; and they are of National and International importance because of the depletion of shrimp supplies in the upper Gulf which threaten the whole Gulf Shrimp Industry, and has brought about international conflict with the Republic of Mexico over the quest for shrimp in the waters of Campeche Gulf. Young is working closely with the Department of the Interior

CLARA RODRIGUEZ TO ENTER BEAUTY CONTEST

Clara Rodriguez will be a contestant in the Jaycee-ette beauty contest, held in connection with the Coronation of King Shrimp-O-Ree in Aransas Pass on Friday night. She will represent Walker's Variety Store from Rockport. GAME COMMISSION OPEN SATURDAY

The offices of the Game Commission will be open Saturday for the sale of licenses, but will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

Mrs. Mary Alice Gray has received word from her sister, Mrs. Ella C. Staples who is seriously ill in the Memorial Hospital in Houston that she has improved some.

and the Texas Game and Fish Commission on this legislation, and has received assurances of cooperation from them, and is hopeful of the active support of these two very important agencies.

The bill has been referred to the Fish and Wildlife Subcommittee of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, of which he is a member, and he has been empowered by the Chairman of the Full Committee, Congressman Herbert Bonner and the Chairman of the Fish and Wildlife Subcommittee, Congressman Frank Boykin, to conduct local hearings on this bill during Congressional adjournment this Fall in the South Texas area, for the purpose of taking testimony and gathering evidence on the bill. Congressman Young will schedule hearings as soon as practicable after adjournment.

Although the general atmosphere seems reasonably favorable, Young warns against any undue optimism at this stage. The matter is a complex one and will require work, coordination and cooperation by all agencies and individuals concerned.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

Illustrating the almost impossible task of providing game for Texas hunters, Executive Secretary Howard Dodgen of the Game and Fish Commission points out that an acre of Texas water usually can be made to produce about 150 lb. of fish. But an acre of land will yield only a fraction that weight of game. — Upshur Vincent, Fort Worth (Tex.) Morning Star-Telegram.

The Church of Christ

What It Teaches

Having learned already from the Holy Scriptures that the Church of Christ is a Divinely established institution; since Christ built it, and purchased it with His own blood (Mt. 16:18; Acts 20:28); and moreover that the Bible is the only reliable and authoritative guide in all matters religious, let us proceed a step further in our study. Please let me repeat that what the Bible teaches, is what the Church of Christ teaches. We teach that Jesus is the Christ the Son of the living God; and this great truth, that is, His divinity, is the foundation upon which the Church was built. A belief of this great truth is not only fundamental in the Church of Christ; but must be confessed by every one who desires to become a disciple of Christ, a Christian. (Mat. 16:16; 10:32; Rom. 10:10; Acts 8:36-38.) Jesus was acknowledged as the Son of God by the Father at His baptism of John in the Jordan, and at Christ's Transfiguration on the Holy Mount. (Mat. 3:17; 17:5.) And Jesus said, "Except that ye believe that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. (Jno. 8:24.) Christ then is the very center of every thing in Christianity. He is the Son of God, and Our Saviour, King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, and is now at the right hand of the Father.

PORT ISABEL LIGHTHOUSE, in a small state park of the same name, beckons motor travelers as they approach the terminus of Texas Highway 100 in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The lighthouse was restored on its hundredth anniversary in 1952. It is open to visitors Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays between one o'clock and five o'clock. On Saturdays and Sundays it is open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. except for the keeper's dinner hour. It is closed on Mondays and Tuesdays.—Photo Courtesy Texas Highway Department.

Park of the Week

Port Isabel Lighthouse State Park

From a viewing platform at the top of Port Isabel Lighthouse glasses bring within view a considerable part of Padre Island, Laguna Madre and the southernmost coast of Texas. There can be seen also the site of the first battle of the War with Mexico at Palo Alto and of the last pitched battle between the Blue and Gray of the Civil War at Palmetta Hill.

A small park surrounds the old lighthouse which has been restored and is open to visitors from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. on Saturdays and Sundays and in the afternoons on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. It is closed on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Particular interest attaches to the lighthouse restoration because it conforms to the plans of structure as it was built in 1852. The original brick walls of the 72-foot tower are covered with new plaster surface. The walls are four feet thick at the bottom, tapering to the top. Inside there is the original iron winding stair with hollow center core. Broken steps and gaps in the stair railing have been replaced. There is minor deviation from original construction. The glass housing of the top has been heightened to afford more head room for visitors. A concrete platform has replaced a metal platform with slatted metal floor. This change makes it safe for more people to be on the platform and combats the sea-air erosion that in a century had eaten rods of three inch square dimension to pencil thickness.

Long known as the Beacon of the Rio Grande, the old lighthouse was once at the hub of activity. Vessels guided by the light unloaded cargoes that were carried by oxcart into far parts of South Texas and Northern Mexico. Adventurers hurrying to California in the Gold Rush went to the head of navigation on the Rio Grande to shorten their overland trip to the Pacific. General Zachary Taylor made Port Isabel the supply base for his campaign into Mexico and fought the first battle near the lighthouse site. The last pitched battle of Civil War also was fought nearby. Both sites are marked and can be visited. Confederates seized the reflectors of the lighthouse and buried them in the Civil War. Re-instated after the war, the lighthouse was operated until 1888. It then was closed and again re-instated in 1895 and again discontinued in 1905. It now appears on Coast Guard charts as a private aid to navigation. It is reached by turning off State Highway 83 onto State Highway 100 at Russelltown. There is also a road to it from Brownsville.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Thousands of school children will soon be trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule probably outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious. When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And, in no events should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of the center of the roadway.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

South Texas Has Uranium

Austin — A section of south-central Texas contains uranium minerals over a widespread area, geologists report in a bulletin prepared by the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey.

The area which the report concerns and in which a number of prospects for uranium are located, extends from the Live Oak-McMullen County line on the southwest to the Karnes-Gonzales County line on the northeast.

The publication, "A Preliminary Report on the Stratigraphy of the Uranium-Bearing Rocks of the Karnes County Area, South-Central Texas," describes in detail the rocks containing the uranium-bearing beds. The authors are D. H. Eargle, U. S. Geological Survey geologist, Austin, and John L. Snider, Pubco Petroleum Corporation geologist, Albuquerque, N. M.

Uranium has been found in commercial quantities in Karnes and Atascosa Counties, with the rich deposits located in the vicinity of Tortilla Hill in western Karnes County, the bulletin reports. Known deposits are mostly at depths less than 30 feet below the surface and occur mainly in sandstones that have a clay matrix and overlies beds of impervious clay.

Copies of the report, which are 50 cents each, may be obtained by writing Bureau of Economic Geology, University of Texas, Austin 12.

Hurricane Safety Precautions Issued Civil Defense and Disaster Relief

According to the State Civil Defense and Disaster Relief hurricanes are large revolving storms, accompanied by violent destructive winds, heavy rains, high waves and tides, and are of the most destructive manifestations of nature. Hurricanes, however, are one of the few natural disasters of which we can be warned well in advance, since they are followed from the beginning of their growth by weather reporting facilities of the U. S. Weather Bureau. Adequate preparations can be made prior to the storm's actual movement overland, and the following precautionary measures should be taken:

- For those not familiar with hurricanes, the following safety precautions may mean the difference between life and death.
1. Keep your radio or television on and listen for latest Weather Bureau alerts, warnings, and advisories. If power fails, use your car radio.
2. Pay no attention to rumors.
3. Get away from low-lying beaches or other locations which may be swept by high tides or storm waves. If passage to high ground is over a road likely to be under water, leave early. Don't run risk of being marooned.
4. Be alert for high water in areas where streams or rivers may flood after heavy rains.
5. If your house is out of danger from high tides and is well built, then it is probably the best place to weather the storm.
6. Board up windows or put storm shutters in place. When you board up, use good lumber securely fastened. Makeshift boarding may do more damage than none at all. Have strong bracing for outside doors.
7. Get in extra food, especially things which can be eaten without cooking or with very little preparation. Remember that electric power may be off and you may be without refrigeration.
8. If emergency cooking facilities are necessary, be sure they are in working order.
9. Sterilize the bathtub, jugs, bottles, cooking utensils, and fill with drinking water, as city water service may be interrupted.
10. Have flashlights and/or other emergency lights in working condition and keep them handy.
11. Be sure to have gasoline in your car. If electric power is off, filling stations may not be able to operate pumps for several days.
12. Check on everything that

T. E. L. Class Has Lawn Party Friday

The T. E. L. Class party of the First Baptist Church was held last Friday night. Mrs. E. B. Crawford, Sr., and Mrs. W. S. Sanders were hostesses. After singing the class song, the devotional was given by the Reverend Wilson Brumley; and this was followed by a prayer by Mrs. Brumley.

A long table loaded with old-fashioned southern style fried chicken, with all the accessories, was enjoyed by the 34 guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tucker have returned to their home in Louisville, Kentucky, after visiting here with Mrs. Holby, Mrs. Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Reid Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Simmons were in San Antonio to help celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Barner.

Garbage cans, garden tools, signs, porch furniture, awnings, and other objects became weapons of destruction in hurricane winds. Store them all inside if possible.

13. Be sure that a window or door can be opened on the lee side of the house — the site opposite the one facing the wind.

14. If the center or "eye" of the storm passes directly over, there will be a lull in the wind lasting from a few minutes to half an hour or more. Stay in a safe place. Make emergency repairs during the lull if necessary, but remember the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, frequently with even greater violence.

15. Be calm. Your ability to meet emergencies will inspire and help others.

Summer Visitors

Summer visitors continue to take advantage of the Rockport waterfront, praising the beach, the Navigation District dredged up this year, and registering in the book at the Gulf Breeze. Among those here the past week were:

Wrecks Occurring In Rockport Recently

A number of wrecks have been investigated in Rockport recently, by Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine.

Johnny Franklin Wright, driving a 1949 Plymouth, backed into a 1952 Chevrolet which Irene Sutherland Edler was driving south on Austin Street, doing $200 damage to his car, and a like amount to the other one.

Cleo May Townsend, driving west on Market Street, in a 1953 DeSoto, was struck at the corner of Market and Pearl by a 1954 Chevrolet, driven by Robert C. Lucas. About $500 damage was done to each car.

Gayle W. Hunt of Corpus Christi, driving north on 881 about five miles out of Rockport Monday morning, had a blowout on a rear wheel and flipped his car upside down in the ditch, doing considerable damage.

No one was hurt in any of the accidents.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. Evelyn Gardner had parked her 1954 Ford before the Rockport Hospital. Henry Garcia, turning from Market Street on to Austin, miscalculated his distance, with the result that the 1936 Plymouth he was driving crashed into the rear end of Mrs. Gardner's car, causing about $200 damage to her car, and $50 to his own.

Garcia was given a ticket by Deputy Sheriff Sherman Mundine, for operating a car without a driver's license.

In another accident investigated by Sheriff A. C. Shivers about midnight Monday, Martin Wilson McCauley, of Corpus Christi, going west on FM881, straightened out a curve. His car left the road on the west side, careomed off a Central Power and Light pole, tore down about three hundred feet of fence, whirled back across the highway again and into a fence on the east side of the road before stopping. McCauley, according to the accident report, had been drinking, and had disregarded the sign warning motorists of the curve. Approximate damage to his car was $500, and damage to the light company's pole and to the fences amounted to about $150.

Texas Traffic Accidents Deaths Set At 33 Over Labor Day Weekend

The Texas Department of Public Safety predicts that 33 persons will die in traffic accidents in Texas during the 72-hour period extending from 12:01 a. m. August 31 through 11:59 p. m. September 2.

Texas motorists are asked to take precautions during this critical period over the Labor Day weekend.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., department director, has alerted state forces to be prepared to cope with the increased highway travel. He said the department's enforcement program will be strengthened for the holiday weekend in an effort to remove dangerous drivers from the streets and highways.

The enforcement program will be closely coordinated with local law enforcement in all counties and cities in the state. The greatest help will come from the drivers themselves who observe traffic laws and safely operate their automobiles in accordance with traffic and other conditions they encounter.

The predicted number of deaths for the three day weekend is four greater than the 29 killed for the same period last year.

Rockport Has Nice Write Up in Houston Chronicle Rotogravure

Rockport had a nice write up in the Houston Chronicle Rotogravure Magazine this past Sunday, in an article entitled "Vacation in Your Own Back Yard."

Ostensibly devoted to a survey of the vacation possibilities of the Texas coast, the writer, Richard Magruder, used two color pictures of this region — one of the boats in Rockport Harbor, and another of some people fishing on the Copano Bay side of Live Oak Peninsula, where it meets Copano Cause
