JAYTON, KENT COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1934

NUMBER 22

For Governor

MAURY HUGHES

Maury Hughes, Candidate for Governor Visits Jayton Wed.

Maury Hughes of Dallas, candidate for Governor of Texas in the Democratic primaries, was in Jayton for a few days Wednesday noon. Mr. Hughes is the first of the several gubernatorial candidates to visit Jayton. He was here but his advance manager had made an appointment here for his visit was a surprise to the citizens, coming as it did at the end of the week and very few had the chance of making his personal acquaintance.

Mr. Hughes is one of the more prominent of the younger democrats in the State, being only 40 years old. He is well known as a public servant and a world traveler. He is in hearty accord with his views as published, with one exception. He says that if needed, he would appropriate another cent of the state gasoline tax for school fund.

He believes that none of the gasoline tax should be used for the building of roads only, and if amount collected is more than needed for that purpose, then the amount should be reduced.

He says for the support of schools should come from other sources than the tax on this commodity which is as necessary as coffee and should not be made the "tax" of the state.

As part of the present gas tax goes to the schools should go to counties for the purpose of building and maintaining county roads. The money to finance schools of the state should come, in part, from other sources. Our attention would be put on hair cream, toothpaste, lipstick and deodorant.

Mr. Hughes will more than likely receive a good vote in this territory, together with some of the other leading candidates. The run-off is where the will-be.

Senator Duggan Here For Short Time Wed.

Senator Arthur P. Duggan, candidate for Congressman for the 10th District, in company of Mr. Duggan of Plainview, enroute to Haslet County Wednesday afternoon, made a short stop in Jayton for a few minutes while here met several old-time friends.

It seems that every where he goes he meets someone who either knew him as a boy or knew his father, or who had met him at Stamford on the Plains, or while he was in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, or since he has been our Senator. The remarkable thing is that the folks who have known him longest are his most enthusiastic supporters, and those who met him for the first time are those of someone that has reminded him of his candidacy to them.

Senator Duggan is very optimistic over the outlook for his race, in fact he says that he will go into the runoff with a handsome lead over all of the other candidates, all of whom, he tells him, are splendid gentlemen.

Senator Duggan, and W. D. Jr., and were in Jayton Monday afternoon.

A Business Man For Congress

Feeling that I can be of service to the people of the Nineteenth Congressional District is the only reason why I am wanting to be your next Congressman. I want your confidence. It is unnecessary for me to say that I am just an average man, and I am coming to you as an average working man. I do not boast of any virtues, or of my ancestors. I am coming before you as a Democrat, standing for the same principles as those of Washington. I come before you seeking the support of the average man, not to seek glory or fame, but to offer my service in Washington on your behalf. I do not come to you representing any lodges, churches, or other organizations. These are all good. I believe in God and His church. But I come to you just as a plain man trying to take my place as a citizen in your Congressional District, asking you as individual voters for your support.

I am not asking favors of any particular organization. I have no powerful or political institution financing me. I must do that myself. I have no powerful syndicates to laud me. I say to you that I am running as a free born Democrat, free from all political bosses. I am paying my own campaign expenses out of my own pocket.

The right man for Congress should be above reproach. The man who is elected to Congress should be unquestionable as to his integrity, and the rights of every individual should be protected, keeping the welfare of the average man at heart, knowing his needs and having the backbone to stand in the face of lobbyists and hold up for the rights of the average man. I think of myself as one of you, striving for recognition. I want your support and pledge my support to the present Democratic platform and say that if I am elected to the United States Congress, I will still back that Administration just as long as that organization should be of service to the individuals of this District and the Nation.

I am here to say that so far as platforms are concerned the platform of every candidate would be to serve the people. I am promising no man anything as an individual. I have promised no jobs. I am promising the people of this district only fair representation and service. If it is left up to me to make appointments I shall make appointments to serve the best of the good of the people. If I am elected to the halls of Congress I will ever be mindful of the votes back home and in that way I will serve you, not because of votes, but because it will be my duty to serve you. After all is said and done, your Congressman is the "go-between" of the people and the departments of the government.

It is a new era in the history of the country. Ladies and gentlemen, the trouble at this time and has been the trouble since the close of the Civil War is that we have been lawed to death. I am opposed to the election of a lawyer to Congress. I want to convince you that a business man is the man for the job. The government is in business. It has its fingers in every business in the United States. Why not elect a business man? Up to now we have had nothing but lawyers in Congress.

I advocate the preservation of the new home ownership plan, protection of land owners and cattle owners. I would like to see these plans materialize, as then the burden could be shared by these organizations and the government alike.

I am now past 33 years of age. I have traveled the islands of the South Sea, in Central America in South America and the West Indies. I have some idea of the conditions of the people to whom we must look if we extend our foreign trade. Any representative in Congress should know of these conditions in order to be able to serve the people of the great United States correctly. I feel that I can better serve you after having visited these countries.

Again, I know the life of the farmer, the stockman and the small business man. The laws passed by the next Congress will mean much to these three classes of citizens. It will depend on what Congress does whether you get five cents for your cotton or ten cents, whether you sell cattle at three cents or six cents per pound, whether the small business is given an opportunity with the big corporation or not. Don't you think a man

Red Mud Youth Is Killed By Accidental Discharge of .30-30

Word was received in Jayton last Saturday of the tragic death of little William Nutt, whose parents reside in the Red Mud community. A bullet from a .30-30 severed the youth's jugular vein and he died before his parent reacted Spur with him.

According to a report that reached the Chronicle office, two little boys, William Nutt, age 7 and Harrell McClain, age 11, were playing cowboy in the yard of the McClain home. It was late in the afternoon and the men were busy about the chores, and the children's mothers were also busy out of the house at the time. One of the boys suggested that they play cowboy with real guns, and they went into the McClain home to get the gun that belonged to Mr. McClain. The gun was in the corner of the milk room, behind a number of objects that were in the room. It was stated that the little McClain boy reached over the obstructions and was pulling the gun out barrel first, with his companion staring immediately behind him. The gun was accidentally discharged and the bullet went through the child's jugular vein, struck a door knob, and a portion went on through the wall and lodged in a sugar can in the other room.

On hearing the shot, the parents of both children rushed into the house and found William with the blood flowing from the wound. They immediately set out for Spur with the child, but he died before reaching the sanitarium.

This sad and tragic occurrence was a shock to everyone and the Chronicle joins with other friends of both families in extending sympathy to them in their grief.

Muleshoe Editor Would Serve His State

We see in our West Texas exchange that Jess Mitchell, publisher of the Muleshoe Journal, is a candidate for the State Legislature from his district.

It is our belief that his district will be doing themselves proud by electing Mr. Mitchell to this important office. He is a man of outstanding ability, understands and knows the legislative needs of West Texas and will give, not only his district, but the state, a service that will be commendable and lasting.

The State is sorely in need of such men as Mr. Mitchell in the legislative branch of the government, and when one of his qualifications and ability offers his service, he should be enthusiastically accepted by the voting citizens of the state.

Misses Opal and Vida Cox who are teaching in the city schools at Pampa together with their brothers, Odie and Alton, and accompanied by Miss Rita Holmes of Pampa, arrived in Jayton this week.

W. F. Gilbert and family are the proud owners of a new Chevrolet.

from the ranks of these will better serve your interests than the man from a big corporation?

Wall Street is no longer the arbiter of business. The nation's financial capitol has moved from the banks of Wall Street to the banks of the Potomac. Wall Street is still a power, of course—but it's sway is passing. It is what goes on in Washington that will determine the up and down of business in the future, far more than any schemes of the "money changers" who used to sit in the seats of the mighty.

It is not the market that you need to watch today. It is the Capitol. It is not the froth of speech-making. It is the quiet planning that is going on behind the scenes. There is where history is being made. There is where the future success of your business, your farm markets and your investments is being determined. You can wait for the news reports of these plans, but it will be too late. You need a Congressman with a keen business acumen to attend to your affairs at the national capitol.

It is for your welfare and my welfare that the average man should come back into his own, and if an average man is elected to Congress, it will be more to the advantage of the average man. I assure you that if I am elected, I will serve my people to the very best of my ability.

FRED C. HAILE.

Jayton Nine Defeats Rotan Sunday, 7 to 3

The Jayton baseball team, backed by a large delegation of fans, and resplendent in their attractive new uniforms, went to Rotan Sunday and returned with the scalps of the Yellowhammers hanging from their belts.

In a good, fast game, the new Jayton club hammered out seven runs to the Rotan team's three and marked up their first game of the season as also their first win. Behind the airtight pitching of "Lefty" Coats, the Jayton boys came through with a total of seven hits, most of them for extra bases, to take the game in easy fashion. The outstanding feature of the game was the home run by Coats, who hit the ball so far that he was back at home plate before the ball was ever recovered.

The battery for Jayton was Coats and Brown; for Rotan, Sadler and Coats. Coats was credited with 11 strikeouts, Sadler with 3. Jayton got seven hits to Rotan four; and 2 errors to Rotan 3.

Bringing a greatly strengthened team and determined to even the standing, the Rotan boys will invade the Jayton diamond Sunday for a return game. Come out and give the boys your support.

The Jayton boys are playing Peacock this afternoon (Friday) at Peacock, and Manger Kelley states that the boys are going down there to win.

In the daily practice several promising young players are developing, and in a few more days a greatly strengthened club will be offering competition to any and all comers.

Ambitious To Serve

It is the ambition of the underdog to become the public weigher of the precinct No. 1, Clairemont, Texas. I want the office for the pay there is thirty cents, the satisfactory service.

My dear sir,

Following is the story reprinted from the clipping sent us by Mr. Hopson:

Victims of an "unloaded gun", one Oro Grande youth was dead last night and another seriously injured. Both, investigators said, were shot by a third member of the almost inseparable trio while they were playing in the latter's home.

The dead youth is Jack Montgomery Powell, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Powell. Powell is a watchman at the cement plant in Oro Grande. The injured youth is Mark Lester, 10, son of A. C. Lester, Santa Fe Station agent at Oro Grande. John Farris, 12, son of Ernest Farris, former manager of the Oro Grande Plant and now at Monolith, did the shooting, according to officers.

"White Woman" A Stirring Story of Wild Malcy

One woman among slinking, treacherous Malay natives, and ruthless, man-starved white men.

That's the spot in which Carole Lombard, motion picture actress, finds herself in "White Woman" the new Paramount picture, coming to the Palace Theater on Saturday for the Saturday, Saturday night and Sunday matinee showings this week.

The picture also features Charles Laughton, Charles Bickford, Kent Taylor and some of the screen's leading colored actors.

Thrown into "the last stop from hell" by cruel fate, Carole fights with her might to redeem Kent Taylor, young, handsome member of this legion of the Damned. This stirring romance furnishes the substance of this thrilling story.

Chapter ten of the Buck Jones serial and a good comedy will complete the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Scogin are driven a beautiful new Dodge De Luxe coupe purchased recently from the Over Auto Service.

The City is adding another gyp to its water system this week, connection the city mains with the old City Gin well.

After the recent Democratic primary in Alabama a candidate who ran poor third was considering having card of thanks to his few friends and supporters published. His young son suggested a cheaper plan: "Just send 'em a post card, daddy."

"Unloaded Gun" Kills Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Powell

Oro Grande, California, May 26, 1934.

L. F. Wade, Editor, Jayton Chronicle, Jayton, Texas.

My dear sir:

I enclose herewith a newspaper clipping, giving details of the accidental death of Jack Montgomery Powell, aged nine, who passed away Thursday afternoon a few minutes after being wounded by a revolver in the hands of a playmate. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Powell, feel that this will be the best means of informing their many old friends in and around Jayton of their sudden bereavement.

But enclosed account written hastily and from meager information, is a bit erroneous. It seems that the three boys went to the Farris home in the absence of the parents to play, and found the revolver, a 32-20 caliber, which was unloaded. After playing with it for a short time they found some cartridges and inserted just one in the cylinder. Evidently they continued to snap the hammer until the chamber containing the load finally spun into place. The Farris boy pulled the trigger and it went off, the bullet passing through the Powells abdomen and entering the stomach of young Lester, who might have jumped behind him for protection when the gun was pointed.

Jack lived but a few minutes afterwards and was never conscious. The other boy, his bowels punctured by four holes, is fighting what seems to be a losing battle for his life.

The tragedy seems to be more than the parents can stand. He was an exceptionally brilliant student in school and spent most of his time with his books, of which he had a small library of more than a hundred volumes. He was nine years old, he was a member of the fourth grade the his hobby was writing poetry in metric and blank verse, the brilliance and clearness of it showing a precocious mind far ahead of his years. We predicted a wonderful future for him.

We will appreciate your publishing an account from the enclosed, and take this means of thanking in advance the many friends who will feel for us in our sorrow.

Again let me express thanks from one who was,

his uncle,
William L. Hopson.

Following is the story reprinted from the clipping sent us by Mr. Hopson:

Victims of an "unloaded gun", one Oro Grande youth was dead last night and another seriously injured. Both, investigators said, were shot by a third member of the almost inseparable trio while they were playing in the latter's home.

The dead youth is Jack Montgomery Powell, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Powell. Powell is a watchman at the cement plant in Oro Grande. The injured youth is Mark Lester, 10, son of A. C. Lester, Santa Fe Station agent at Oro Grande. John Farris, 12, son of Ernest Farris, former manager of the Oro Grande Plant and now at Monolith, did the shooting, according to officers.

Coroner R. E. Williams, who reconstructed the tragedy after hearing statements of witnesses and members of the boys' families, said he was convinced that it was accidental.

The three, chums for several years, had taken a sack of weiners yesterday afternoon after school and had gone to bake them at the "Red Star Ranger" clubhouse, which the three youths had built a short distance from their homes.

Returning happily, they had stopped at the Farris home late in the afternoon. The Farris boy picked up the gun, apparently in an attempt to scare the others. Pointing it at them, he pulled the trigger. A blast tore its way through the Powell youth's stomach and on into the abdomen of the Lester boy, standing behind him. Young Powell crumpled to the floor, blood streaming from the wound, while his companions began to scream.

Mrs. Roxana Jones, teacher at the Oro Grande school where all three were pupils, heard their shouts in her home across the street. Quickly

Haile To Speak Here At 5 P. M. Saturday

Fred C. Haile of Spur, candidate for Congress from this district, was a business visitor at the Chronicle office Wednesday.

Mr. Haile is pushing his campaign these days and will be in Jayton this Saturday at 5 p. m. for the purpose of delivering an address to the voters of this county. He will probably speak in front of the First State Bank building.

We earnestly request that the people come out to hear him. This is one of the most important offices in the gift of the people and every candidate should be given a hearing and from the list should be selected the one that the majority believes best qualified to serve them in the national halls of Congress.

Texas Cowboy Reunion Expected to Draw Great Hosts

The most elaborate building program undertaken in any year since the Texas Cowboy Reunion was organized in 1930 is now in progress on the Reunion grounds one mile southwest of the city. Having weathered four depression years with a remarkable yearly increase in attendance, the Reunion is now a well-established institution. Attendance last year was estimated at 42,000.

The Texas Cowboy Reunion, Incorporated, the organization responsible for the financing of the annual meeting and improvement and maintenance of the grounds, has several projects under way. Among these is a new grandstand on the east side of the rodeo arena which will increase the seating capacity 25 per cent. The new stand provides a more comfortable type of seat than the old stand. This project is to cost $1,575, and will be completed before this year's celebration, to be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, July 2, 3, 4.

Another improvement is a large pavilion on the grounds to serve as a place for meetings and for dance at night. The pavilion is to be 48 by 60 feet. The roof will be built of height to allow for second floor to be built in the future. The present building will cost $1,500.

Improvements on corrals, chutes, and sheds at the rodeo arena will cost approximately $400. These additions will give greater convenience for John Selmon, arena director, and his crew, in handling the rodeo contests. Another $225 is being spent on stalls and pens to be leased to visitors for their horses.

Besides these improvements being made by the Reunion management, the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association a separate organization made up of pioneer cowboys, is erecting a permanent headquarters building and bunkhouse on the grounds. The first unit of this stone structure will be completed before the 1934 Reunion at the cost of $3,500. The building as designed will cost $6,000 when completed. The unit now being built is the central part of the structure consisting of a living room 30 by 50 feet and in front of this a broad concrete terrace, 36 by 50 feet. Wings of the building will added later.

R. B. Whittaker, who has been attending Baylor University at Waco, is at home for the summer.

Mr. Wilson Garrett is spending his vacation in the cool mountains of Colorado in the vicinity of Pueblo.

Jay-Mason Chevrolet Company unloaded another car of those new 1934 Chevies Tuesday.

He summoned aid, but the Powell boy was apparently already dead.

The elder Lester who was called rushed young Powell to Victorville. It was not until physicians had said that the youth was dead that young Lester's father discovered his son had been shot. The youth, although a great pal, had ridden into Victorville with the others, eager to see that his "pal" received aid, unmindful of his own wound.

The boy was then rushed to St. Bernadine's hospital, San Bernadino, where physicians operated to remove the bullet which had lodged in the muscles of the youth's back. They described his condition after the operation as 'satisfactory.'

of the family and the home demonstration agent.

The $9.85 was spent in providing Wallpaper, paint, clothes closet, hat stands, shoe rack, dresser, wash stand, bedside study table, book ends, rocking chair, straight chair, two chair cushions, window curtains, two pictures, two rag rugs, three yards of print, three bed sats, spring cover, mattress cover, mattress protector, one sheet, bedspread and all the oil stain for the floor.

My sister and I earned most of the money spent on improving the bedroom by milking cows for our brother. Mamie, my younger sister shares the room with me. She helped me in every way possible.

When our county home demonstration agent visited in my home to talk to my parents about me being bedroom demonstrator, I showed her the room, and I expected her to say that it would not be possible to do much to a room like that and I told her I did not see how "that" could ever be made to look like anything. She asked me whether or not I wanted to have a comfortable and attractive bedroom of my own. Of course I said yes. Then she asked me if I would be willing to work and plan the best that I knew how. I was. When she left that afternoon I had outlined a plan of how everything was to be done and when. Knowing how and what to do and doing it step by step made the work easy.

First a clothes closet was built, and it is one of the most useful and used things in the house. The walls were next papered. The wood work, which was a sick looking faded green was refinished with cream colored paint. The floor was given a hot oil stain. We surely like this inexpensive floor finish.

I had a good mattress, springs and bedstead to begin with. Three slats were added. The spring cover, mattress cover and pad were made.

Our study table was made from the "turtle top" of an old "T Model Ford" using slats for the legs.

The dresser was purchased from a second-hand store for the sum of $1. A new mirror had to be bought. It cost $1.19.

The bedside table was made from ends of apple boxes.

The rocking chair was brought in from our back yard and the straight chair came from the junk pile of one of our neighbors. Both chairs had to have both seats put in them, painted and new cushions for them.

The window curtains are cream colored and swiss. I made the curtains and of the gas line from an old car.

After getting all of the furniture together we were very busy removing old paint and painting it anew. Our color scheme was cream and green. All of the furniture is painted cream and the bed spread is green, and the curtains for the wash stand are of green print.

I really enjoyed improving this bedroom and I know that if I could make a decent bedroom out of the one I had that any girl in the county could do the same for, few, if any, could have any less to start on and do with than I did. There is no comparison in the money cost and the pleasure it is to you to have an attractive bedroom and know that you have been able to do something to make your home a more comfortable and a happier place in which to live. —Betty Hoyle.

COULDN'T DO IT BEFORE SAYING A THING IS IMPOSSIBLE

"My husband said there wasn't a thing which to build a clothes closet unless we bought everything, and I felt as though we couldn't afford to spend much in making a clothes closet even if we did need one so badly," said Mrs. Ben Smith, wardrobe demonstrator of the Purcell H. D. Club.

Mr. Smith reported this to the club members and the next club meeting day all of them came with saws, hammers and nails to help build the clothes closet.

When Mr. Smith came in for lunch he was astonished to see how well they were managing to build a clothes closet. He became so interested that he was more than willing to help complete the closet.

From one of the store in Jayton came large cardboard boxes. There were plenty of odds and ends of lumber on the place to make the frame. The outside was covered with building paper and likewise the inside. It is to be papered with white paper inside.

What did it cost to do this? Twenty-five or thirty cents for the door!

Mr. Smith said that he had received a letter from a woman who with her husband had been killed in Louisiana by officers and viewed their remains. She stated in her letter that they were a terrible sight to look upon as both were literally shot to pieces. The undertakers had to embalm the pieces and place them together, and that while they did a wonderful job, one could tell that the bodies were just pieced together. She stated that Clyde had a look on his face of abject terror mingled with surprise. Verily, he that liveth by the gun shall perish by the gun" and "the wages of sin is death." If there are any thinkers desperadoes in bloom around Jayton who are planning to follow in the footsteps of Texas' late badman, they should take to heart this terrible lesson and reform before it is too late.

Tuesday of this week was the hottest day of the year, so far. The thermometer stood above 100 in the shade in Jayton, and it seemed to us that it was ten degrees hotter in Spur.

CHOOSE THE TIRE CHAMPIONS BUY

Firestone

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race — the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires.

Race drivers know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. It provides greater adhesion between the plies of the tire, and between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with new car developments by building stronger, safer tires to meet the exacting demands. Drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength — Greater Safety — and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber.

Helpful Banking Service

It is the desire of the officers and directors of this bank to make it known over this entire territory as "the Bank of Helpful Service."

To do this we must have the sincere cooperation of the business, farming and livestock interests. To every responsible individual we extend a hearty invitation to come in and visit with us. You may differ with us on many subjects, but you will agree with us that neighborly cooperation is necessary to community advancement.

It's good business to do your banking with your home bank!

SELECTS SANDY SOIL FOR ROOT VEGETABLES

"We have a small plot of rather sandy soil near the house which I am using to grow the root vegetables, such as beets, carrots, turnips, radishes and onions because they grow better in ground that is soft," says Fay Lewis, garden demonstrator of the Red Mud 4-H Club.

This sandy soil is too poor to produce very well unless it is fertilized by using manure on it every fall, but by doing this we have been able to have an excellent garden. This fall I am going to use this garden spot for planting lettuce, mustard, turnips and radish," added Fay.

PURSLEY H. D. CLUB

How convenient and useful a sleeve board and tailor's cushion can be to each of us on ironing day was demonstrated by the County Home Demonstration Agent to the Pursley H. D. Club which met at the home of Mrs. J. M. Duran.

How to make the useful ironing board as well as how to improve the same was discussed at the meeting. Reporter.

PURSLEY H. D. CLUB

The Pursley H. D. Club women convened Mrs. Ben Smith's husband that it would take very little money to build a clothes closet when they met at her home May 29. Mrs. Smith is the wardrobe demonstrator of our club. At 2:30 p. m. we put the carpenter work aside and had the club program on magazines. Members were prepared to discuss the following topics:

A story that I have read this month, An Article I have read this month, How farm papers help us, and Household helps I have received from a magazine.—Reporter.

Government Behind Home Building Plans

The next major activity of government will be an attempt to stimulate heavy industries — which normally provide the bulk of employment, were hit hardest by depression, and have been the most lethargic in recovering from it. And the first step in doing that will be to unloose capital for home-building and repairing, through Federal guarantees of mortgages. Mr. Roosevelt has sent a special message to Congress to expedite such legislation.

Experts estimate that it is possible to unloose credit to the tune of $1,500,000,000 or more in this manner. That money would go to painters, carpenters, masons, plumbers, and contractors. It would buy cement, steel, lumber, roofing, electric fixtures. It would pass through a hundred great industries, creating jobs and opportunities as it went. It doesn't take much imagination to visualize the extent of its influence in pulling businesses of all kinds out of the doldrums. Here's thought for the party-owner to start considering now: If building is greatly accelerated are going to be involved in depression levels beyond the normal average — in fact, is one of the leading signs of this time. Those who can repair and build now have an opportunity that may never be repeated in their lifetimes.

Since the weather has been warm-political signs of candidates are now in the field, conducting active house-to-house, vote canvass. We predict that all will be out inside of two months.

Vennon D. Adcock, county attorney and candidate for re-election, called at the Chronicle office on business Wednesday afternoon.

Judge A. J. Hagins and wife are moving to the farm this week to be with the boys who are farming this year.

Hobart Lewis, formerly of Jayton, but now located at Roby, Texas, with the Roby Bank, was a Jayton visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. W. J. Wade is visiting her daughter Mrs. Ruth Berggren this week.

In an election last Saturday Clairemont approved the sale of 3.2 by a vote of 47 to 40. This is the first precinct in the county to approve the sale of the beverage.

Some real hot weather was experienced by the people in this section the first of this week and up until the time we go to press there is no indication of a let-up. Hot winds out of the South are scorching the crops and the grass lands are turning brown.

Less Matthews, who has one of the finest gardens in this country says that the credit belongs to himself, because it's not every man who can get his wife to keep the weeds hoed out and the garden plowed.

Pauline Hall is visiting in Abilene this week.
