

This Week -- IN JAYTON

Beginning with next week's paper, we are changing the method of printing the Jayton Chronicle. No more will we use the old "letterpress" method, but it will be printed by the new photo offset process.

In our central plant in Ralls we are putting in three new IBM Electric typesetters and a new Varitype photo headliner machine to set the type for our papers. When the type is set and the pages are made up, then they will go to Floydada to the Blanco Offset Press Inc. to be printed on their big multi-color 12 page offset press.

This will enable us to get a much better printed paper, and we can specialize on pictures.

This is a more expensive process, and will require more advertising and better support, if we continue with this process.

To better utilize it, and to give the community a better paper we want a lot of pictures, anything of interest, about the school, churches, business, parties, features, or whatever it may be, bring us a good clear picture. Or call and make an appointment to have a picture made.

Watch for next week's paper. You may not recognize it. Also, beginning next week, our news deadline will be Tuesday at 5 p. m. This, we will have to observe in order to get the paper printed.

$200 Raised For Brush Control

Total funds obtained for brush control and range improvement by the Brush Control and Range Improvement Association have totaled over $200.00 thus far in Kent County.

County Chairman M. W. Davis of Clairmont said the association was formed last November by a group of landowners to raise funds to fight brush invasion of rangelands, one of Texas' major agricultural problems, and study methods of range improvement.

He said the plan is to solicit 1 cent per acre from each Texas landowner each year for five years.

Davis said the BCRIA is a non-profit organization not directly associated with any university company or agency. An 18-member board of directors, representing different areas of the state, is directing activities.

John Matthews of Abilene, state BCRIA chairman, said research by universities and the USDA have done much toward brush control, but "it is clear that greater financial support of research is needed if we are to solve the problem."

Contributions (income tax deductible) can be sent to M. W. Davis at Clairmont or mailed directly to BCRIA State Chairman Matthews, P. O. Box 176, Abilene, Texas 79604. Checks should be made payable to the Association.

Contributions by every landowner are needed in this campaign to win the brush fight.

Other Kent County committeemen are Zanny Roy Chisum, Billy McLaury, Buck Thompson, Jimmy Stewart, Arthur Seago, Bilby Wallace, and Haldean Cave.

Imagine a person on the street dressed in slim lines, neck length hair, bright colored shirt with long collar, printed scarf or wide tie, belted pants and boots. The person's sex at this point may be undetermined and unimportant.

Unisex, as the trend commonly is referred to, is of growing interest and concern to many. But those that gasp in wonder of "what the world is coming to" are missing the reason behind the change.

Only a generation ago women established her independence while man began requiring less physical strength. Today men and women are more likely to have had similar education and work experiences. Many recreational activities are the same, too, so both sexes have an appreciation for the same things.

Why then is it so surprising that fashions reflect similarity between men's and women's apparel, when one of the purposes of clothing is to fulfill needs?

Grandmother and grandfather had a reason for dividing their work worlds into male and female, and the division largely determined the difference in clothing. But today's environment is not the same. There are no longer the same reasons to adapt in

Pot Shots From Girard

When an old timer passes away it is a part of the Old West that passes also. Guff Lafoon was 92. The old timers will miss him.

Mrs. Tucker Sandlin, her sister, Mrs. Otis Craig of Snyder and Mrs. Bonnie Sherer of this city left last week end for Greenville for a few days visit with relatives in that city.

C. D. Ratliff who is under going treatment in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston for severe burns is reported as better.

Last Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hagar were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Putnam and three sons from Seminole and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hudson and Angie of Spur and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Flagar and children of Girard. Angie is spending the week with grand parents. Cecil's mother also visited in the Hagar home.

Yep, we heard the President Wednesday night read his speech over the national hook up to the nation. When a public figure reads his speech it isn't very impressive.

It was curtains for the Girard P.T.A. last Thursday night at the school house. All past presidents were honored with life time pins. The Girard P.T.A. was started here in 1943. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hunnicutt and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Turner were on hand and they attended the first and last P.T.A. meeting in Girard. Mrs. C. L. Evers, president presided. A salad supper was served in the lunch room after the program, a large crowd enjoyed it all.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brooks left last Friday for Midland for a few days visit with their daughter and family.

The Jayton Editor may have something with reference to his editorial in last weeks Chronicle pertaining to school business.

Funeral services were held Friday in Jayton for another old timer, Elbert Cox. Burial was in the Girard cemetery. Mr. Cox, a resident of Kent since 1910.

Let's you forget this Saturday is the big day at the local school with a big bar-be-cue and all the trimmings. Yes it is the last of school big feed and May 24th is the date.

The Girard community received more than four inches of rain through Saturday of last week, and more rain in sight.

It appears there will be a lot of empty houses in Girard when school closes for good May 23rd. Maybe a big auction sale in the near future. Everybody loves an auction.

Pete and Bonnie have a "For Sale" sign on their General Store it would be a good deal for a couple who would like to make a easy living. If I were twenty years younger even I would be interested.

From the Free State of Kent, thats it folks.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

WHAT'S YOUR SOLUTION

Dear Amy:
I will be everlastingly grateful and will be most appreciative if you or any of your readers can tell me how to get the price stickers off plastic cartons, glassware, boxes, clothes, etc., etc.

I have tried about everything. I can get the paper part off but not the sticky, gummy stuff. I have tried an eraser, salt, vinegar, baking soda, detergents, oil, ice cubes, etc., but to no avail. Store keepers say they don't know either.

There must be some way to get it off... but how? I sincerely hope you have the solution.

Mrs. M.

Let me say I am not jealous. I give to them myself but I have a family of my own to support. I want to know if there is a law that will make this man support his family? Also, can it be determined if he is mentally and physically able to work, because everytime someone finds an opening for him, he conveniently has a headache, sore arm, or a cold. He says he will go see about it tomorrow, but tomorrow never comes.

What can be done to get him to support his wife and children so they won't suffer for the want of food and clothes?

Contributor

Dear Mrs. M.:
Shopkeepers employ this manner of pricing their wares to deter "price switching", but I have found that stickers and gook come off readily on hard-surfaced objects by rubbing with a soapy pad of steel wool. However, lets throw it open to the readers for their helpful hints.

Dear Contributor:
There are laws to deal with men who refuse to support their families. But it's up to their families to exercise the law. If they haven't done anything about the situation up to now, they must be satisfied with things as they are. And people who offer their unsolicited advice are usually told to mind their own business.

Dear Amy:
I have been going with a boy for 1 1/2 years. My problem is that I have never met his parents. He comes to see me three times a week and on Sundays. I have been to visit his sister a few times, but he never mentions much about his parents or home life.

Do you think I should mention that I would like to meet his parents or wait till he decides to take me?

Judy

Dear Amy:
My fiance and I became engaged when he entered his freshman year at college. We had planned to marry after his graduation. But now after being engaged for so long, we want to be married as soon as possible.

If we do get married and he stays out a semester a year, he will be drafted into the army, and if this happens, he says he will refuse to marry until he gets out because he would have to leave his wife behind.

If he stays in college, he can't hold down a full-time job, since I'm still in school, I couldn't either.

I am 17 and he will soon be 21. Please, Amy, what should we do? The years ahead seem so very long knowing we might not be together.

Worried Lovers

Dear Judy:
A girl never "pushes" to meet a boy's parents. She waits until he or they extend the invitation. Bide your time. Perhaps the boy is not ready to "take you home" yet.

Dear Amy:
There is a family living in our community who have five children. The husband has been out of work for some time... long enough that his unemployment stopped months ago. This man will not work and has refused at least two good paying jobs. They live off of what little government aid they can get. The community and churches give them food and clothing but the children do not get the right care or enough food.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (HJR9)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section 49-d-1 to read as follows:
"Section 49-d-1. (a) In addition to Texas Water Development Bonds heretofore authorized to be issued by Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III of the Constitution, the Texas Water Development Board is hereby authorized to issue $3,500,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of additional bonds for the exclusive purpose of the acquisition, development and operation of such water resources and facilities for the State of Texas. Such contracts when executed may be secured by the general credit of the state, and if so secured shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as Texas Water Development Bonds. If facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's principal amount of Texas Water Development Bonds authorized herein and in said Sections 49-c and 49-d shall be reduced by the aggregate of principal payments committed under such contracts constituting general obligations of the state. The provisions hereof shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Texas

Water Development Board to execute contracts to issue bonds when the bonds are authorized by the general credit of the state.

"(f) Texas Water Development Bonds and such contracts shall be secured by the general credit of the state and shall be registered by the Attorney General of Texas, and the purchasers, and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas.

"(g) Should the Legislature enact enabling legislation for the amendment, such amendment shall not be void by reason of any anticipatory character of the amendment.

Sec. 2. The proposed constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in August, 1969, which election all ballots cast have printed on them the following:
"FOR the Constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue bonds for the acquisition, development and operation of such water resources and facilities for the State of Texas."
"AGAINST the Constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue bonds for the acquisition, development and operation of such water resources and facilities for the State of Texas."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election, and the same shall be published in the state newspaper and for the length of time required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

AGENT'S COLUMN

the same way.

So, while many may shake their heads and wonder what the neutralization of the sexes is going to come to, today's youth are busy adapting to their modern world. The task of the new generation is not so much learning how to be men and women through dress distinction as how to be human beings concerned with caring for one another.

Today men and women, boys and girls can dress almost identically and still be tastefully and socially acceptable and be in context with today's living.

Beauty of furniture often was sacrificed to practicality. But now there is a new stretch knit slipcover that provides beauty plus protection.

The knit fabric, 96 percent acrylic and two percent spandex fiber, offers stretch features that give ready-made slipcovers a custom-made look. This unique combination of spandex and acrylic fibers provides a new dimension in texture and fast.

You will find the new slipcovers hug the furniture and stay neat longer than those of traditional woven fabric. They can be machine washed, tumbled dried, and put right back on the furniture - no ironing necessary.

What will your girls be doing this summer? Why not encourage them to enroll in the 4-H Clothing Projects? They learn sewing techniques, care, grooming, and buying. Do you enjoy working and learning with these young people? Your help is needed as a clothing leader. Contact me if you would like to help.

Mark and I and 4-Hers will be at 4-H Camp May 26, 27, and 28, so I'll see you next Thursday.
