How Do You Like The New Look?

The publishers of the Jayton Chronicle last week announced that in the future the paper would be printed by the photo offset process, which would enable us to specialize on pictures.

This week you get a good example of the difference it will make in the appearance.

Our IBM electric type setting machines did not arrive in time to be used in this issue, so this issue is a combination of the linotype and the offset.

We would appreciate your response, as to how you like the paper with the new look.

RALPH BRANTNER, Deputy Sheriff, views a section of fence that was hastily tied back together after two men rammed it with a "borrowed" bulldozer. Ralph came along Sunday evening just in time to break up the fun the two men were having with the dozier. It belonged to the contractors building Texas Highway 70 South of Jayton. Felony charges have been filed against the pair, Brantner said.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,

I have been interested in the Jayton community and its school for years. But never have I had a more enjoyable visit or been more impressed with progress than I was last week at graduation.

First of all, the youngsters displayed gracious manners and dignity which won't be found in every community.

This bunch of seniors undoubtedly is one of the finest. Not once did I hear a gripe. No complaints. And no yelling.

You see, I did a little eaves dropping and I'm glad I did. The future of society is now brighter.

I was impressed with progress. Not just the facilities, which were far ahead of most schools in Texas and New Mexico, but the faculty and administration which also stored superior. Your superintendent and principal deserve a lot of praise. You have the very best.

May I thank you for inspiration which made me feel proud a week later to be part of the teaching profession just because it includes these.

Sincerely yours
STANLEY NOLEN

We Want The Pictures

The Jayton Chronicle would like to have pictures of any thing of interest about the Jayton Community and Kent County, what ever it may be. We want good pictures with sharp contrasts. We can use colored pictures, if the details are bright and sharp.

Bring them early. Our dead line is at 5 p. m. on Tuesday of each week.

Two Men Face Felony Charges Here After A Wild Spree With Dozer

Two Fisher County men are charged with felony theft as a result of a little incident that happened Sunday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Ralph and Arlyne Brantner were returning from a funeral at Rotan, when he saw a Caterpillar bulldozer with a rear mounted blade going down the right of way, scraping the pavement and paving up the shoulder of the road. A man was on the dozer and another man was in a pickup nearby. He slowed down to size up the strange situation. He did not recognize either of the men as belonging to the road crew. Also he noticed a section of the fence had apparently been overrun by the huge machine.

When the men noticed Brantner becoming interested, they both took off in the pickup at a fast rate of speed. Brantner got the license number, and went to a farm house and called the Fisher County Sheriff. Also he called Deputy Frank Chisum as Sheriff Stanley was at the Temple hospital with his mother-in-law.

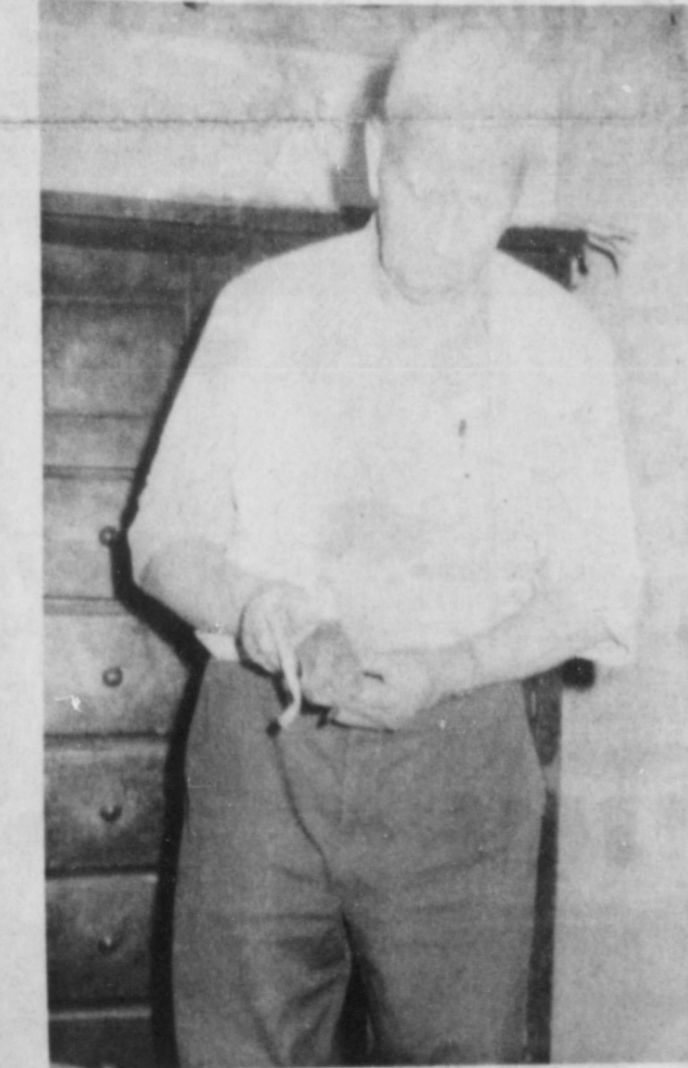

By the time Chisum arrived Fisher authorities called they had two suspects in jail at Rotan.

The dozier had been driven a distance of about a mile and a half, Brantner told the Chronicle.

After the incident was over Ralph told the group they had better go back and turn the machine off, which had been left running. Then there was a discussion as to whether it had been left with the engine running. "I knew it had" Brantner

When Is Man Free?

Men are less free than they imagine; ah, far less free. Men are free when they are in a living homeland, not when they are straying and breaking away. Men are free when they are obeying some deep inward voice of religious belief. Obeying from within. Men are free when they belong to a living, organic, believing community active in fulfilling some unfulfilled, perhaps unrealized purpose. Not when they are escaping to some wild west. The most unfree souls go west, and shout of freedom. Men are freest when they are most unconscious of freedom. The shout is a rattling of chains, always was. Men are not free when they are doing just what they like. The moment you can do what you like, there is nothing you care about doing.—D. H. LAWRENCE

Competition is keen. Through speaking contests they judge each other's performance and their own progress. Awards are provided by Union 76 Division, Union Oil Company of California, the program sponsor for 20 years.

Among the nation's youths speaking up for what they believe are three million 4-H'ers. They espouse the "head, heart, hands and health" philosophy of helping themselves and others grow in mind and spirit, and in skills as well. Thousands of members annually participate in the 4-H Public Speaking program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. It is designed not only to teach them how to speak, but also how to research and organize their material. Open to boys and girls from 9 to 19 years of age, the program helps develop the youngster's personality as well, 4-H leaders point out.

The 1969 awards consist of two $600 scholarships for the top boy and girl speaker in the nation, plus an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving.

Also, the two state finalists will each receive a $50 U.S. savings bond, and the highest ranking pair in the county will win the public speaking medal.

This generation of 4-H'ers are just as much at ease before a microphone or TV camera as they are talking to their fellow members. Those who have devoted several years to the art of public speaking say that the training has been a big help in school and community endeavors.

Their 4-H records show that many have become student leaders, and have held offices in school, 4-H Clubs and in other youth groups as well.

JAYTON CHRONICLE

COURT HOUSE CLOSES
All offices in the Courthouse will close Friday May 30 for Memorial day.

WOMAN'S CHANGING ROLE

Emerging Female Professionals Act Like Ladies, Think Like Men

Today that tarnished stereotype of woman's role in society being somewhere between the laundromat and the kitchen stove is beginning to get the boot it deserves.

The open ranks in business are rapidly being filled with eager young professional women or more mature, but no less zealous, housewives with grown children, who now want a "piece of the action."

Today, 23 million American women go to work everyday, with 55 per cent married and earning on the average of three-fifths as much as their husbands. Of these, one in 20 earns more than half of the family income either through necessity or just plain savvy, and if current trends continue, it will be one in ten within five years.

Suffragette's Lament

Not long ago a woman in business was regarded condescendingly adequate if she could decipher the complexity of a cross-index file, type a few letters and remember when occasion warranted the little anniversary gift for the boss's wife.

The nation's vast feminine resource (women outnumber men in the U. S. by nearly three million) has been largely relegated to secondary roles despite the fact that the nation's jobless rate continues to drop and an ever increasing need for talent exists.

Traditional male ego now versus basic necessity, and the two are on an irreversible collision course which may well see the last bastions of smug male superiority swept away. Women represent a tremendous untapped natural reservoir of talent, loyalty, dedication and ability to perform in many, if not all, fields privy to men. Most western countries long ago realized this fact, but it's been slow crossing the pond.

How do women react to this highly competitive "Go-Go" atmosphere?

"Extremely well," according to John Bates, Dallas district manager of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, which has launched an all-out effort to hire without regard to sex and promote strictly upon the basis of demonstrable ability.

Insurance Agent: Bonnie Hall In A Man's World

Hall And Clients: At Ease In The Kitchen Or Office

Million Dollar Sales Gal Off To See Some Prospects

"A case in point is that of Mrs. Bonnie Hall, 721 Oceanview, in Oak Cliff, who came in about a year ago for an interview with no prior sales experience but with the positive attitude she could succeed if given a chance. She got the chance, and has been demonstrating her natural sales aptitude ever since." Bonnie looks at her new career this way, "I was seeking a position a bit out of the ordinary, both in challenge and remuneration. Often in the past I'd day-dream about what it would be like to make my own money. My husband, Ray, has a reasonably comfortable income, so my decision wasn't out of necessity, but I too, wanted to make decisions, budget my own time and—most important—to escape from routine."

"I do not have a specialized educational background which would give me any kind of advantage, but I feel that common sense, coupled with a willingness to study and learn and perhaps a little woman's intuition serve me in good stead."

Fem Advantages
"For the same reason that some women prefer women doctors and lawyers, so too, do an expanding number of my women clients seek me out for two reasons—patience and easier communication. The latter is most important when I think of how often women say to me, 'you know I'd feel foolish asking a man the questions I can ask you.' Sometimes men take it for granted that we understand what are to them (men) the elementals of finance, budgets and planning for the future."

Bonnie states, "I have a vital product to present. If I can set my client at ease, the built in value will come across easily. In fact, I achieve ten times the satisfaction even if I don't make a sale when I'm able to demonstrate the value of life insurance to the unformed or skeptical."

When asked what is the future for women in the insurance marketing field, Bonnie was quick to reply—"Nowhere but up. Women should not fear to compete with men in any field. As far as I know, brains have no sex, but there are two big jobs that have to be done by women if they are to take a prominent place. First, they must develop more intellectual curiosity."

Is there any doled down definition for sure fire success?
Bonnie thinks it goes like this: "Learn to look like a woman, think like a man, act like a lady and work like a horse."

The formula must be paying off. This fall, Bonnie was chosen to attend with her male counterparts, the John Hancock's Regional Honor Club meeting in El Paso. According to Bates, "The conference annually honors the outstanding company sales leaders throughout the Southwest. Bonnie, in spite of her lack of tenure, proved she could hold her own with the best in the country. This has been a singularly rewarding experience for Hancock as well as for her. Since joining the agency, she has been a consistent performer, and if I have my way, I'll be hiring many more women agents." And just recently, she was chosen by the Dallas Sales and Marketing Institute before a gathering of some 1,000 to be one of the selected recipients of the Distinguished Salesman's Award.

Today with military obligations or graduate school facing male graduates, it is the girls who are being courted by FORTUNE'S 500 top businesses.

The new wave of Bonnie Hall and her like-minded feminine counterparts in the four corners of the business and professional world are advancing steadily toward realization of higher family income, greater personal freedom, and by their existence, creating still more jobs to perpetuate the cycle.

What Retirement Means

What does retirement mean to you? Fishing, playing dominoes, not working? Unless retired citizens accept the challenge to continue to add new learning experiences, everyone else will have very reason to feel that retired persons are really retired: mentally and physically. No matter what your age, this month, National Senior Citizen's Month, is a good time to think about what you are going to do as a senior citizen.

Learning banishes the feeling of uselessness and neglect. Doctors insist that learning is one of the most effective methods of postponing senility. Continuous mental stimulation through learning keeps the mind alert.

With creative hobbies and active play, retired citizens may avoid the "empty hours" problem. Turn leisure time into interesting, challenging experiences. Linger up your imagination to think up new ideas. Add new activities to your daily living.

Old age and youth are concepts, figments of the imagination. Achieving through continuous learning will retract youth for Texas Senior Citizens.

Several girls have shown an interest in the Bedroom Improvement Project. Leaders will be needed to work with these girls, too. Anyone interested in working with the girls on bedroom improvement will receive special training in Vernon along with other leaders in the district. The training, given by Mrs. Laura Russell, Housing Specialist, will be June 30.

These 4-H projects are very worthwhile projects and very interesting. To be of value, adults men and women, are needed to work with the 4-Hers in various projects.

The Kent County tour sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs has been re-scheduled for Thursday, May 29. We will leave the Courthouse at 9:30 a.m. Remember to bring your sack lunch and your camera.

The Sons of Herman Lodge of the Old Glory Community will sponsor a Square Dance Saturday night May 31 at 8:00.

The Hall is off Highway 380 near Old Glory.

Leon Ivy of Haskell and Ralph McMullen of Abilene will be the callers.

The "Cotton Picking Squares" of Sagerton will act as hosts. Visitors are welcome, a spokesman said.

MANY DRUNKS HAVE LICENSES TO DRIVE

Fewer than 4% of all drivers on the road are heavy drinkers.

Yet heavy drinkers are involved in nearly 50% of all traffic deaths.

The frightening truth is that drunks are the deadliest drivers ever let loose on the highways.

Knowing that, you might think our licensing officials would take extraordinary measures to hunt down this small gang of killers and get them off the road, saving 25,000 lives a year.

It's not happening. The way things are now, there's no effective way to take a drunk's license away before he kills somebody.

With 25,000 lives at stake, safety experts at the Continental Insurance Companies point out, there must be a better answer than that.

Maybe it's a thorough physical examination. A doctor must certify that every new driving-license applicant is not an alcoholic.

Maybe there's a better way, but certainly what Pennsylvania does is better than nothing.

And nothing is what all but a handful of states actually do.

This is one reason why safety groups ask that we write to our local legislators and urge that they drunken potential killers off the road.

IN ABILENE

CONSTRUCTION is coming along fine on the building of a section of Texas Highway 70 in southern Kent County. Here is a scene of the building of a new bridge across Butte Creek. Note the oil well and the windmill in the back ground. (Chronicle Photo).

THE SO RELLE LAKE south of Jayton is one of the finest fishing and boating lakes in the area. It is high with water now, and a number of people are reporting some good catches. So Rele has done a lot of work to get it in shape, with some help from the Soil Conservation Service which furnished the Chronicle this picture.

ROGENE'S FLOWERS

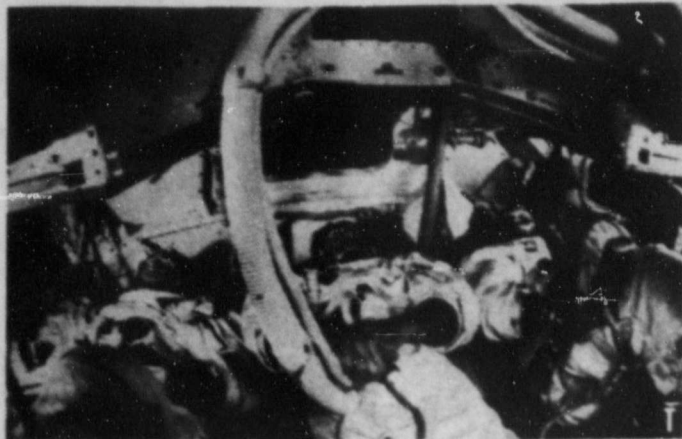

FIRST MOON LANDING IS EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Traveling at speeds up to 24,000 miles an hour, American astronauts are expected to travel 240,000 miles this year to reach a place where temperature ranges from 250 degrees above zero to 280 below, where there is no air and probably no water, and where scientists and lovers have longingly gazed for thousands of years.

The earthmen will stay on the moon about 21 hours, of which three hours will be spent outside their 16-ton LEM.

When leaving the moon to hook up again with the command module, the LEM passenger will have 80 pounds of moon material as baggage for delivery to scientists on earth. Some 33,000 workers of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and an additional 400,000 engineers, scientists and other employees at space industry companies are helping to make the landing a reality. So is every taxpayer, for the lunar program to which President Kennedy committed America eight years ago will have cost about $30 billion by the end of this year.

Imagine a 36-story building blasting itself off the ground and shooting into space, and you will imagine the size of the rocket, with 7 1/2 million pounds of thrust, that will lift our men to their rendezvous.

Prior to departure, the three astronauts will lie on their backs, knees raised, in air conditioned comfort. Actually, during the several weeks of preparation and countdown at Kennedy Space Center in Florida, the Apollo command module will receive air from a special cooling system designed and built by Airtemp Division, Chrysler Corporation.

An air handler will be located on the environmental support platform next to the mobile launcher. Two chillers will be located in a ground level control room. Interestingly, the Airtemp chillers are only slightly modified versions of those available commercially.

At least seven other manned moon landings are scheduled during the next two years, and it is expected that a powerful telescope will be carried to the moon for man's "best ever" look at the heavens.

When? It has been estimated that between the 20th and 25th of July this year, millions of us will hear:

"5...4...3...2...1...we have liftoff!"

But, on the appointed day, if even one of the astronauts has a bad cold, the whole launch is likely to be postponed in a triumph of viruses over men and machines.

FUN WITH FIGURES

If you traveled around the equator 10 times, you would have gone about the same distance as if you flew from the roof of your house to the moon.

It takes 170 letters to spell out: lopadotemachoselachogalekranioleipsanodrimhypotrimmatosilphiparameilitokatakechymenokichlepkossyphophattoperistalektryonoptekphallioikigklopeleiolagoisoiraiobaphetraganopterygon, which is a Greek word that describes a goulash of 14-day-old left-overs.

Some animals go faster than one might think. The tortoise can go half a mile an hour, and a charging African elephant has been clocked at more than 24 miles per hour!

Dun & Bradstreet has recently created a computerized data bank with up to 20 facts about each of 3 million businesses in the United States and Canada. New facts are collected and poured into this unique information warehouse at a rate of more than 5,000 each and every working day!

CARNIVAL OF FUN!
STRANGE WORDS LIKE "BAG MEN" (BALLOON VENDORS) AND "JUICE JOINTS" (LEMONADE STANDS) ARE ALL PART OF THE FUN AT A CARNIVAL. BUT ACTUALLY CARNIVALS GO WAY BACK. THOUSANDS OF YEARS TO ANCIENT GREECE AND ROME. THESE STREET SHOWS WERE ENTERTAINED BY THE FIRST CARNIVAL PERFORMERS... THE STROLLING PLAYERS!

THE FAVORITE OF THE CARNIVAL HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE CAROUSEL. BACK IN THE 17th CENTURY, WHEN THE NEWLY INVENTED CAROUSEL WAS FIRST USED IN PRIVATE CIRCLES, IT WAS CALLED A "WAKER" SET AWAY FROM THE MAIN CARNIVAL. BUT TODAY ALL THE PEOPLE ARE COMING TO THE CAROUSEL AND WAKERS ARE NOT EVEN HEARD OF.

TODAY WE KNOW THAT WE NEED A CARNIVAL TO GET A Bigger OUTLET FOR THE CAROUSEL. TO ATtract PEOPLE, WE NEED A NEW GAME. AND THAT'S WHY WE HAVE THE "WAKER" SET AWAY FROM THE MAIN CARNIVAL. IT'S NOT EVERYTHING BUT... IT'S A WAKER.

"I feel very safe and secure in our Maverick, little as it is. It really holds the road. My husband bought it for me as a shopping car, but every morning, he says, well I guess I'll take the Maverick to work today."

Mrs. Kenneth Miller, North Babylon, N.Y.

"I wanted a car and foreign cars are hard to fix. So my brother said Maverick was coming, and I waited. It's a great car to learn to drive with. You can park it and drive it so easily. I really love it."
Miss Susan Sara, Bronxville, New York

"We bought the Maverick as a second car when a tree fell on our import. Maverick handles better and feels solid and safe on the road. When I hit a bump in the other car it was like going over a mountain. Maverick really flattens them out and I'm getting 25 miles to the gallon."
Mr. Jack Orben, Computer Specialist, White Plains, New York

"Everybody keeps coming over to look at it. The other night three cars stopped. We thought we had company. Everyone in our neighborhood says for the price it's unbelievable. It looks like it cost much more."
Mrs. Robert J. Stalf, Deer Park, New York
