This Week in Jayton

What's this rumor about members of the legal and professional having been caught while breaking and entering a local residence?

Two local Aggies are getting just what most aggies get--attention. Bob Pierce and Mark Geeslin have had all the attention bestowed on them since Saturday night's ball game.

That's the thing about these kind of people--they care what you say about them--just so you are saying something about them. Well, that's probably the best anyone could think of anything about them.

The Jaybirds will be host to the Hawley team tonight. It is one that the birds are used to. And this is the kind that causes coaches to get a little nervous about their own boys.

Tech's Jake King was said to mumble last week at the influence of "fly-flags" in his game with Thomas State. However, this week, no one heard him saying anything against the flying flag. In fact it was just the opposite, a flag against AEM. It might set up the Tech team to mean the difference between victory and defeat.

The anxious, thrilling football days have come to Jayton again. Across the land a mother's heart is tense and nervous when that boy she loves is under the pile and she's nothing she can do but pray for him to get out. She sighs in relief and she's a thrill-surprised to see the can, but those hard knocks on that football field are making her boy a man.

It is reported that the Jayton County Commissioners have spent quite some time in several sessions discussing the reprecincting of the county, and they still have nothing done about it. Why?

If they are unable to do the job, they could appoint a committee of responsible citizens, and they could do it fairly and fairly within a reasonable time.

But, then, the first rule of politics is to do the things that will help you stay in office. And who would expect a politician to want to get rid of a friend, or to keep an enemy, or, as for that matter, want to move someone into his precinct that might pose as a future opponent?

There poses a serious problem. At any time now some one may announce an opponent against one of the commissioners and it would be a serious thing if, in redistricting it seemed best to move him over into another precinct.

Well, it's their problem to deal with and that's one of the things we are paying them to do.

Roy Dodds to State TSTA Convention

Roy Dodds of Jayton will be an official, voting delegate at the 91st annual state convention of the Texas State Teachers Association October 23-25 in San Antonio.

Jaybirds Lose Game to Rule to Tangle With Hawley

Rule's Bobcats scored in every quarter Friday night and rolled up a ground attack of 404 yards to whip the Jayton Jaybirds 33-0 in Rule.

The Bobcats scored with 5:10 left in the first period on a 22 yard pass and kicked the extra point to lead 7-0.

The ball changed hands six times and the quarter once before either team could get any action going.

The Court Has A Very Busy Day

The Commissioners Court held their regular meeting October 13th.

Concerning the payment of bills a motion was made by Elwood Byrd and seconded by W. C. Dibrell to pay all of the bills presented before the court on this date. The vote was unanimous.

Motions for advertisements for a pick-up and for a truck chassis were made. A motion was made by W. C. Dibrell and seconded by Elwood Byrd to advertise for a 1970 Pick-up, serial #FIOC-D541681. This motion was passed with a unanimous vote. Then a motion was made by Carlos Dickerson and seconded by Elwood Byrd to advertise for a fire truck for Girard. Again the voting was unanimously in favor of this motion.

Concerning fencing for a county road a motion was made by Carlos Dickerson to furnish 132 post and 8 spools of wire to fence the county

With 6:18 on the clock in the second period, Rule returned a Kim Nichols punt 53 yards for a 13-0 lead. The extra point was blocked by Jaybird David Parker and Rule carried the lead to the dressing room.

In the third quarter, Rule returned the kickoff back to the Rule 25 and scored in 12 plays and four first downs. The extra point failed and Rule led 19-0.

The Jaybirds took the following kickoff and drove to the Rule 22, going most of the way on a 27 yard aerial from Martin Garcia to Harold Judy. But with fourth and two from the Rule 22 the Jaybirds went for it and only made one. The ball went over on downs and on the next play, Rule went 79 yards for the score. The Bobcats made successful a two-point PAT and led 27-0. Rule scored again in the final stanza on a nine yard run. The run failed and left the scoreboard at 33-0, Rule.

In the rushing department Jayton had 78 yards to Rule's 404. Jayton had 5 first downs to the Cats 21. Jayton completed 5 of 10 passes for 59 yards and Rule had 2 of 7 for 26 yards. Both teams had two fumbles and Jayton had one pass intercepted.

Rye Makes A Good Cover Crop For Kent County Soil

Shown inspecting a cover crop of Rye on the Ollie Bural farm northwest of Girard is Joe M. Favor. The cost of establishing this cover is shared by payments furnished by the Agricultural Conservation Program. This program is administered by the Kent County ASCS through its elected farmer committeemen. Up to 30% of the cost is shared by payment to the farmer after the cover is established. Sandy type soils can be protected from wind erosion by the use of Rye. Rye provides a root system and top growth that protects the soil from blowing. Oats and other small grains are also used. This has become a popular practice among Kent County farmers in recent years. Seeding dates are 9-15 through 11-1. If a farmer expects to earn cost-shares he must first request approval of this practice for his farm before starting the practice. Grazing with proper management is allowed.

TIME TO ACT TO PREVENT WIND EROSION

The blowing season is just around the corner. You can be prepared by talking advantage of the practices offered through the Agricultural Conservation Program. They include: Listing or Chiseling at least 4" but less than 8"--50¢ an acre, Chiseling 8" but less than 12"--75¢ an acre, 12" or better--$1.35 an acre.

Also available until 11-1-69 is the establishing of vegetative cover by seeding Rye or Oats.

Know Your Faculty

By the High School Journalism Class

Gasping for words, thinking of what to say next with a heavy lump in his throat, shuffling his feet from one to another, and wringing his hands because of a nervous effect are a few of the symptoms that portray a beginner during his first speech in Speech Class. But with the guidance of an expert teacher, Mrs. Lillian Nichols, who teaches the English and Speech at J.H.S., a beginner can learn the techniques and gain the confidence he must have in himself to succeed as a public speaker.

Mrs. Lillian Nichols, who received her B. A. degree from Hardin Simmons University, says about the teaching profession, "I like to work with young people." Students enjoy working with her because they consider Mrs. Nichols to be a very cool person in that she always handles class situations in a calm manner.

Mrs. Nichols, who is also a graduate of Abilene High School, directs the U.I.L. plays, and she sponsors both the National Honor Society and the cheerleaders of J.H.S. In her spare time, she enjoys reading and sports.

Mrs. Nichols also helps her husband, Pike, operate the Kent County Nursing Home. They have two sons: Nick, an attorney in Houston and Kim, a Junior at J.H.S.

We are proud to welcome Mrs. Nichols back for her eighth year at J.H.S.

Notes From The County H D Agent

4-H clubs have started meeting again. The adult leaders decided to try a new approach to 4-H meetings this year. All clubs are organizing and meeting out of the school. Those already formed are the Clairemont Club, Girard Club, and Jayton 4th Grade girls. Others will organize during the month when Mark and I or the adult leaders can meet with them.

We have just completed a workshop teaching girls to be good, responsible babysitters. The Cleanliness Bureau believes mothers can contribute a lot to the success of a young babysitter. Girls who baby-sit like children and enjoy being away from home for a few hours. They are willing to do what is asked of them if their duties are clearly outlined.

Give the sitter as much advance notice as possible and have her come early. This allows you time to explain what you'd like her to do and gives her a chance to ask questions. Have a pretty guest towel out for her use. Tell her she can "freshen up" when she comes in and before she leaves. This tends to set the standard of cleanliness you have established for her and for your household.

Indicate which of the children's clothes and towels are to be dropped in the laundry hamper; which are to be hung up, put away and where.

If the dinner is to be served to the family, take her into the kitchen and explain the dinner routine. Show her where dishwashing supplies are stored and have a bottle of hand lotion handy. Now she knows that you expect her to cleanup and do the dishes. But play fair, don't have your luncheon dishes in the sink too. If you must, ask her to do them and tell her you'll pay extra for it.

Clear off a section of a shelf in your refrigerator for snacks. Most youngsters have voracious appetites and can't be expected to fast for more than 3 hours. Leave cookies, some fruit, a can or two of soft drinks, and the fixings for a sandwich. If you say, "You can have anything on this part of the shelf," more than likely she won't dig in to the cold chicken you were saving for the next day's lunch.

Show her where the telephone is and leave a pad and pencil handy. List the number where you can be reached. Mention the calls you are expecting and leave a message. Leave all emergency numbers by the phone.

Return at the hour you said you would. If you can't telephone her so that she can let her family know she has been delayed. One more hint, an important one... a few days later, call her mother to tell her how reliable and helpful her daughter is. It will make her stock go up at home and you may be put on her preferred list of customers.

'Catch Up' Not Their Game

The "diminishing" country school is alive and well in Jayton, Tex. Jayton, a small town located halfway between Abilene and Lubbock, has a million-dollar school with heated swimming pool, carpet and ultra-modern classroom equipment. The sign says that Jayton has a grand total population of 649.

Of course, oil supports the school. The school itself owns 5,000 acres of oil land which is leased for oil rentals.

R. N. PIERCE, superintendent, said that the capital is put into a permanent school fund, which now exceeds half a million dollars. "We invest the interest," he explained.

He said that the school, like others, sold their excess land during the Depression. "But our buyers defaulted on the payments and we got our land back," he said.

"We're a wealthy school, but most of our students are from lower or middle class families."

Teachers are paid $1,000 above the state schedule.

There are 23 students in the senior class, 317 students in the whole school from grades 1 to 12.

JAYTON HAS consolidated with Girard and the students like it. "We fit right in," Nancy Melton of Girard said. Dusty Smith of Girard was elected president of the junior class.

The first thing you notice is how quiet it is at the school, which is away from any main thoroughfares or traffic centers.

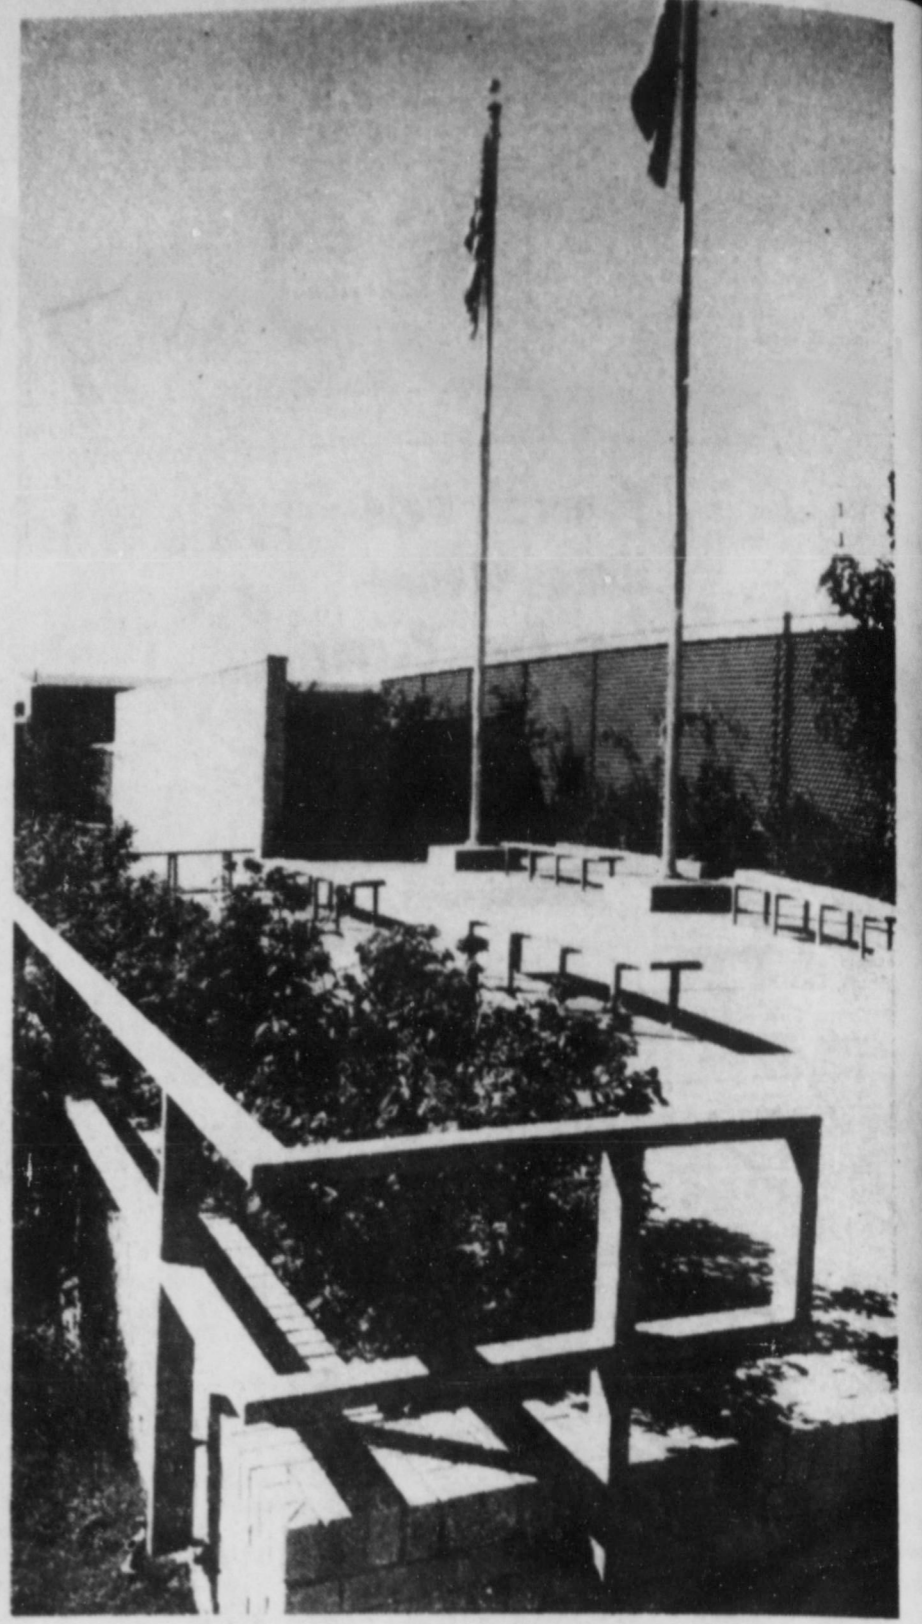

Then you notice that the students are neat and well-dressed. (On Fridays girls are allowed to wear pants.)

AFTER LUNCH the students gather in the school's patio courtyard which is filled with flowers, benches and piped-in music. "This is where all the lovers go," principal Roy Dodds said.

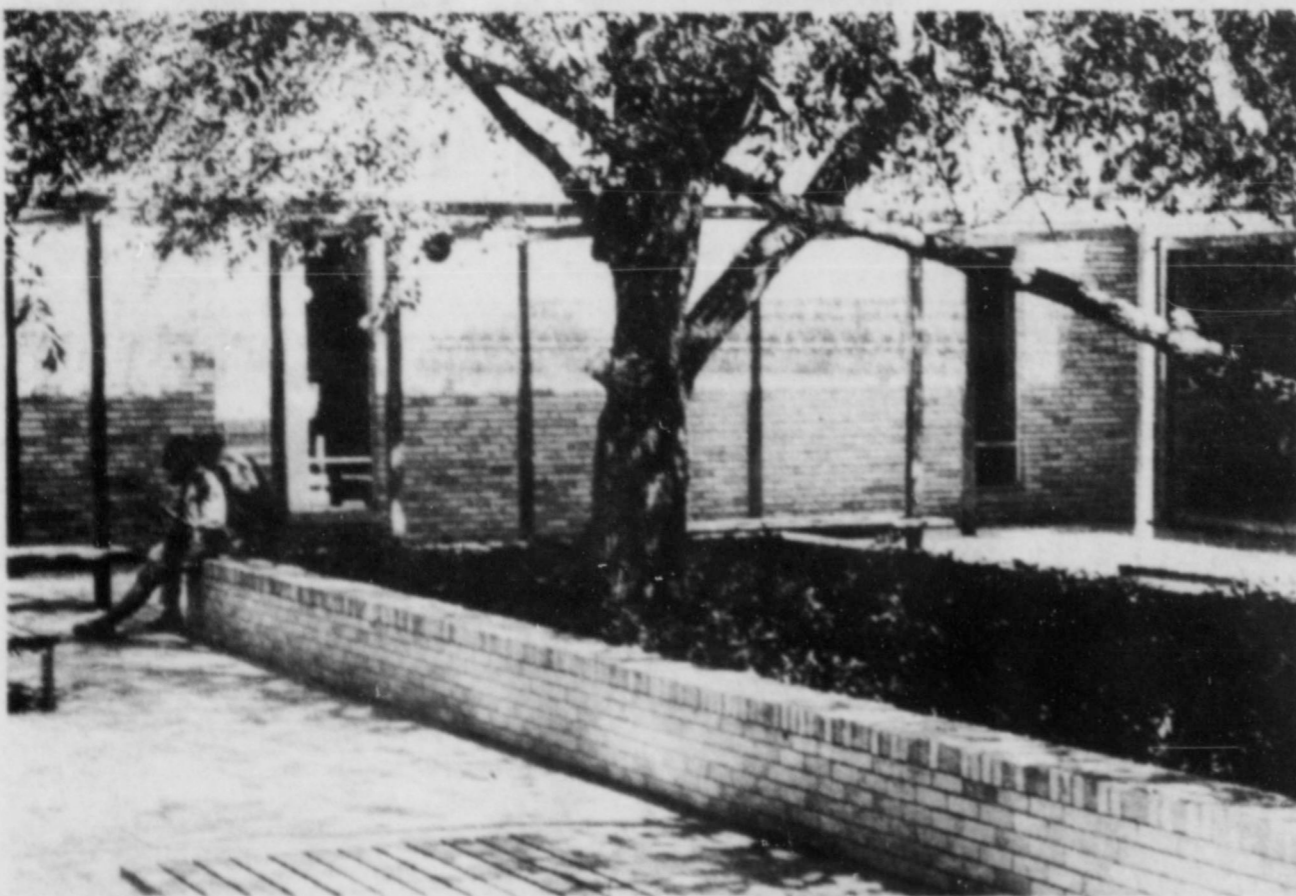

JAYTON-GIRARD SCHOOL — Trees and evergreen shrubs landscape the entrance to the million-dollar school in Jayton, which has consolidated with Girard. Total enrollment, from first grade through twelfth, is 317. There are 23 seniors. The school owns 5,000 acres of oil land which helps support the modern facilities.

ELEMENTARY ANGLE — The Jayton-Girard elementary school connects to the high school with a patio in front. Features include a children's library with listening lab and individual filmstrip machines.

OPEN COURTYARD — Students gather during free periods in the school's open courtyard. The school also has a heated swimming pool, play ground, and several practice fields for football, band and track.

LIBRARY LOUNGE — Students listen to stereo or even watch the World Series in the high school library in their free time. Windows face the school's center courtyard. "We don't set any iron-strict policies on coming and going," principal Roy Dodds stated.

DICTAPHONE AGE — Mike Rice, who transferred from Franklin Junior High in Abilene to Jayton, takes advantage of the dictaphone in typing class. A member of the National Honor Society, Mike says, "This school has so many advantages for the individual student—there's more freedom and teachers can spend more time with each person."

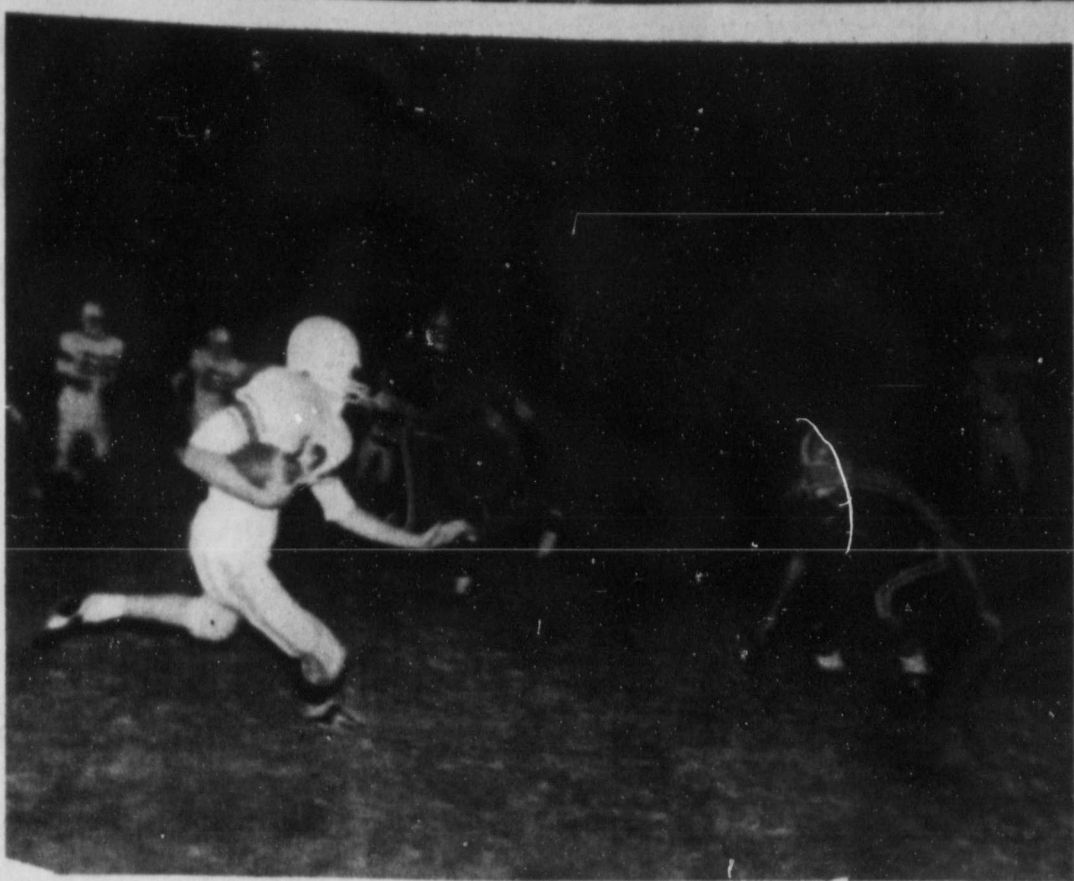

On Sunday, October 12th, the Abilene Reporter News carried a very timely feature about the local school system. Most of the pictures and articles on this page, and page 5, are from this fine feature. Thanks.

SPACIOUS GYM — Bill McMeans, elementary principal, talks informally with students in the gym. All gym suits and towels are provided by the school, and coaches do the laundry in a utility room.

Jaybird Freshman Tommy Parker is here shown getting ready to put the tackle on a fast moving Rule Bob-cat, and he did it. It was playing like this that enabled him to get the player of the week award.

Right to Picket

Picketing, it seems, has never been as popular as it is today. What is the law's attitude toward this widespread activity?

In the first place, the right to picket has a firm foundation in the freedom of speech guaranteed by the Constitution. Picketing is a form of expression, calling the attention of the public to some grievance or some program. In this aspect, picketing is just as privileged as any other manner of speaking.

Take this case, for example:

Residents of a certain block decided to picket a new tavern that had opened nearby. Their signs, bearing assorted slogans, expressed displeasure at having this kind of an establishment in their midst. In short order the tavern owner, fearful of the effect upon his trade, went to court for an injunction. However, the court decided the pickets were within their legal rights.

"The carrying of signs," said the court, "is a natural and appropriate means of conveying information on matters of public concern. . . . (The pickets) have simply chosen one means of expression rather than another."

But picketing does not consist of speech alone. It also involves action. And the speech aspect does not give any special immunity to the action aspect. Violence by pickets is just as unlawful as violence by anyone else. Pickets have no more right to block pedestrians than pedestrians have to block pickets.

Moreover, even in its speech aspect, picketing is subject to the same limitations as any other kind of communication. Words that are libellous, or statements that incite to riot, are just as unlawful carried on a picket sign as shouted from a soapbox.

In sum, then, the Constitution does guarantee the freedom to picket—but only within fair and reasonable guidelines.

"The constitutional guarantee of liberty implies public order," said the United States Supreme Court, "without which liberty itself would be lost."

It was the little boy's first visit to the planetarium, and he was most impressed with the ticket office that took reservations for a rocket trip to the moon. "I'd like a ticket to the moon," he told the clerk. "Sorry, young fellow," the clerk said with a twinkle, "but all trips to the moon have been cancelled for the next few days." "Why is that?" the boy asked. "Well, you see," the clerk answered, "right now the moon is full."

Attend The Church of Your Choice

Who keeps the roof on...
(when everyone is raising it?)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

With all the theological ferment these days there is more unrest in our churches than we have known in many years. Issues divide the congregations and sometimes the whole debate seems endless. It would be easier to stay home in bed on Sunday mornings.

But through it all, the houses of God stand, because regular churchgoers know that men are inconstant, that they are subject to numerous temptations and influences. They also know that God is omnipotent, is omniscient. His care is constant. His creative spirit continually sustains the earth, and His love is always sensitive to the plight of man.

It is not easy to be a Christian; it never was. Houses of God stand because there are those who are willing to be channels of God's care—who assume responsibility for church schools, missions, social justice, and—oh yes—that roof.

Remember Back in 1936 . . . Last week a Jayton firm advertised a line of New Spring dresses to sell at $1.00. The same dresses were advertised by a Spur firm to sell at $1.09, yet folks will tell you we can buy it in Spur for less.

Oranges sold in Jayton for 1 cent each, the same sold in Spur for 17 cents a dozen. Spuds in Jayton were 18 cents for 10 pounds, in Spur they were 19 cents.

W. K. Joiner has his new business in operation, having opened for business last Saturday. A nice run of customers visited the new Men's store all day long.

Jayton church organizations, the Baptist and the Methodists, are going to celebrate the Texas Centennial year by building new churches.

The two new churches are to be on the opposite corners of the same city block and very near the center of town--in fact, just one block northwest of the city square. Both buildings will have large basements for Sunday School Classes and will be finished with stucco or brick.

Thursday morning, September 17, at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. B. Earnest in Clairemont, Miss Kathryn Underwood and Mr. Bennie Carriker were united in marriage by Judge Earnest.

Friday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Jayton,

Mrs. Monroe Davis, the former Miss Pearl Fuller before her marriage September 12th, was honored with a bridal shower. Hostesses being Mrs. W. M. McLaury, Mrs. H. D. Black, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Jr., Mrs. M. V. Jay, Mrs. Benard Cox, Mrs. C. R. Kelley, Mrs. Oscar Hargus, and Miss Doris Mae Sewalt.

Traffic Accidents Taking Terrific Financial Toll

Traffic accidents took almost $69 million out of the public till during September, the Texas Safety Association noted today.

The total cost of traffic accidents on Texas streets and highways has soared past the half-billion dollar mark during the first nine months of the year, reaching $589 million when computed according to a National Safety Council formula.

Preliminary reports for September indicate an estimated $26 million lost from rural fatalities, injuries and property damage. Urban accident costs added another $43 million to the tab, safety officials estimate.

Noting a six per cent increase in fatalities in urban areas over the same period in 1968, the Safety Association emphasized the continuing need for the constant use of seatbelts as a driver's chances of survival in a crash are five times as great if he is not thrown from the car.

Friday night, November 6th at the High School Auditorium in Clairemont, there will be a box supper and, in addition, a Free Concert featuring the R. E. Beaver Quartette of Girard and the Warren Crooner Quartette of Spur.

WHAT'S IN A LINE . . . ?

A fishing line is a fishing line . . . so what's the big deal about line weight, line test and whether it's braided or monofilament?

Despite efforts by fishing line manufacturers, many anglers don't understand the importance of choosing the correct line to match their equipment.

Having the right line can make a lot of difference when it comes to catching fish, say the angling authorities at Mercury outboards. Not only does the correct line help your casting, but it plays a big part in how the lure is presented to the fish.

Fly fishermen probably have the most critical decisions to make. Rod length, its action and whether they are fishing dry or wet flies are all important considerations.

Borman And Campbell To Speak At Tech Event

Astronaut Frank Borman and Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell will head a distinguished panel of speakers who will be addressing the International Textile Symposium at Texas Tech University, October 30th and 31st.

naut and Commander of Apollo 8, the first manned Apollo flight to orbit the moon, has accepted an invitation to speak to the International Symposium on Thursday, October 30th, according to an announcement by Dr. John R. Bradford, Director of the Textile Research Center and Dean of the College of Engineering at Texas Tech.

Dean Bradford stated, "As an astronaut for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and as the newly appointed Field Director, Space Station Task Group, at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Colonel Borman is extremely busy and we are most pleased that his schedule will allow him to participate in this International Textile Symposium,

The success of the historic flight last Christmas, and the diplomatic assignments that have followed, have provided Colonel Borman with an excellent background for speaking to this international audience." Colonel Borman will address the luncheon meeting on 'Apollo and Space Stations.'

Colonel Borman will be introduced by Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the United States House of Representatives.

The Honorable J. Phil Campbell, Under Secretary of Agriculture, will address the world gathering on Friday, October 31st. Secretary Campbell, who takes great pride in his farm background, lived on his Georgia farm until moving to Washington to accept his current appointment. Secretary Campbell has a deep understanding of farm problems gained through many years experience.

Shown in this picture is R. N. Pierce who is in his seventh year as superintendent of schools. A great lot of the credit for the fine status of the school is due him for his tireless work.

Beside the planning he did for the new building program in 1965, he also has spent much time and effort in raising the academic standards of the system. Time and again, he has gone before the Board of Education with specific plans and programs that have been initiated, and all of this has added up to the present condition of the system.

No Strict Rules, 'Fair' Treatment Policy at School

DODDS SAID that there were really no discipline problems at the school.

"We don't set any iron strict rules," he said. "And we don't sit our foot down on anything—if the kids don't want to do something you can't make them," he said.

"We ask students to do things—we don't tell them."

He pointed out that the teachers are young—the average age is 24. "We don't hire teachers who are too set in their ways," he said.

The students have seven classes a day instead of six. There is no activity period — "We found out we don't really need it," Dodds explained.

THE INDUSTRIAL ARTS program, which replaces agriculture classes, offers auto mechanics, electrical trades and drafting.

There are 27 teachers in all, 15 on the high school level. Classes range in size from one to 25. The average high school class has about 10 students.

The school has hired nine more teachers than required for accreditation by the Texas Education Agency. The school is also accredited by the Southern Schools Assn. of Colleges, which is no small accomplishment for a class B school.

SEMESTERS ARE divided into two nine-week periods with three-week test intervals.

The school has won district literary and athletic meets the last 17 years, Dodds said. "We had 11 or 12 entered at the regional contest last year," he added.

The Jayton-Girard school has a cinder track and a football field with separate practice fields for the band and football. There is a playground with swings, slides and seesaws for elementary children. The swimming pool is used in the warm months.

"It's worth every cent of the taxpayer's money," Pierce said.

DODDS EXPLAINED that the school furnishes everything, including gym suits, for the students. He said students pay no registration or workbook fees.

He also commented that a remedial service was furnished by personnel of the WT Rehabilitation Center for students with speech defects.

What do the Jayton-Girard students think about their setup? "Our principal is fair about everything," La Juana Hamilton said.

"IF ANYTHING is hard for us," Tommy Stalaland said, "the teacher has time to explain it over and over until we understand."

Nancy Melton commented, "The teachers make even the hardest subjects seem simple."

What are the advantages of small schools over the large city schools?

Students from the Jayton-Girard School agreed that "the teachers really get to know and understand you."

La Juana Hamilton said "the teachers take a personal interest in you and they're extra nice."

"If you're going to be busy that night they don't load you up with extra homework," Brenda Wilson said.

TOMMY STALALAND added, "If you don't understand something the teacher keeps explaining until you catch on."

"Most of the teachers are Christian and they know our home situations," La Juana said.

"We have real good kids here," Harold Judy said. "The worst that ever happens is when we throw watermelons in the coaches' yards on Halloween."

"WE HAVE SEVEN periods a day," Kim Nichols said. "It's not hard because we're used to it."

"One of the advantages is that everybody knows everybody," Dusty Smith said.

"We're having a carwash Saturday to raise money for the junior and senior banquet," Sue Gallagher said. "And we're planning a Halloween carnival."

NANCY MELTON, Brenda and Dusty are from Girard.

"We fit right in," Nancy said. "This school seems like a mansion to us."

"The old Girard school is supposed to be a recreation center but it's all grown up in weeds," Dusty said.

Nancy is one of four students in the journalism class. "We ONLY ORGANIZATIONS are student council, National Honor Society and Future Homemakers. There are no agriculture classes or clubs.

Ninety per cent of the students go on to college, Pierce said. Last year 16 out of 18 went. "In four years, I believe we've had only two dropouts," Dodds said.

"We had a boy we thought might be a potential dropout,"

Pierce said. "But the coach has taken an interest in him and the boy's attitude has completely changed."

BAND BEGINS in elementary grades. "As soon as they're off the bottle we put a horn in their mouths," Dodds joked.

The elementary children play songs like "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star" in unison on miniature horns. Half the secondary school is in the marching band.

"The past three years we've won the sweepstakes at contest," Dodds said.

"The community goes all out for the school," Pierce said.

"Last year after the band won the sweepstakes the whole town was waiting for them when they returned. Someone thought there had been a wreck on the highway because of all the cars lined up," he said.

THE ELEMENTARY library is equipped with 8 mm filmstrip machines, miniature projectors with captioned films for individual children, earphones in the listening and reading lab, and even comic books.

Homemaking classes are in a separate building that has a bedroom, living room, classroom and ample kitchen space.

In the business department there are calculators, dictaphones and IBM machines. Typing classes begin in the eighth grade.

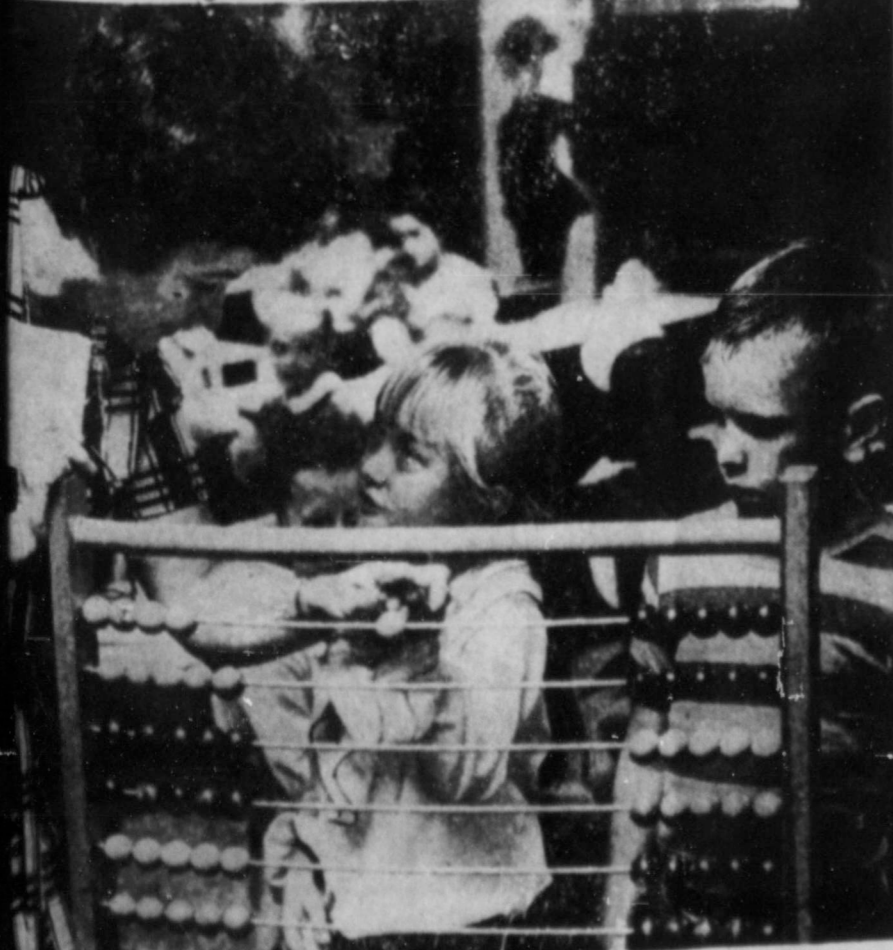

Other subjects at the school include shorthand, bookkeeping, related math, algebra, geometry, elementary analysis, trigonometry, physics, biology, chemistry, English, journalism, speech, Spanish, history, physical science.

HONOLULU WEATHER

HONOLULU (UPD) — The highest temperature ever recorded in Honolulu is 93 degrees, the lowest 52, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. Mean annual temperatures range between 72 and 76.

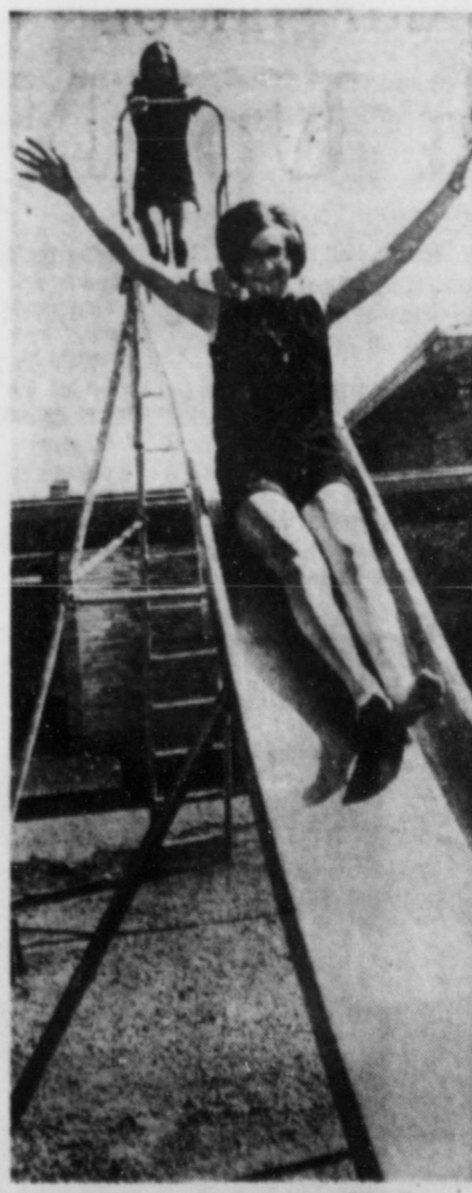

BAND STARTS EARLY — Fourth graders Brigette Hamilton, Lesa Pickens and Danella Sartain, from left, play "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" in unison reading from printed music.

LEARNING TO COUNT — Mrs. Floyd Hall helps first-graders Judy Seaton, center, and Bryan Parker learn their numbers. A small class and a teacher aide means extra time for Mrs. Hall to spend with individual students.

MARCHING BAND — Keith Bear den, upper left, former captain of Texas Tech's band, gives instructions over a loud speaker to the high school band which includes seventh and eighth graders.

GYM FUN — Sophomores Marilyn Bennett, above, and June Brewer show the standard black uniforms worn in gym class. All uniforms and equipment are provided by the school.

FILMSTRIP MACHINE — Leella Hall, third grader, watches a miniature motion picture in Africa in the modern elementary library at Jayton - Girard School.

CAPTIONED FILMS — Debra Smith, 8, reads film captions through a small projector. The booth's wall is lined with boxes of filmstrips.

Girard POT SHOTS

Funeral services were held Sunday in the Girard Baptist Church for Mr. L. C. Sherer, a resident of Kent County for the past 49 years. Mr. Sherer died last Friday in the Crosbyton hospital after undergoing surgery. He was 87. Officiating for the funeral service was Elder Glenn Williams of Muleshoe and Rev. Victor Crabtree, local pastor of the Baptist Church in Girard.

Mr. Sherer, a highly respected citizen of our community, is survived by two sons and two daughters: Pete Sherer of Girard, Ollie Sherer of Turnersville, Mrs. Ruth Spradling and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Girard.

Mr. Gram Page was rushed to the Stamford hospital last Sunday; his condition is reported as serious at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Hodges visited his brother in Colorado City one day last week. Mr. Hodges' brother is critically ill in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson will leave this week for Madisonville, Houston and other south Texas points on a two week vacation. They will visit with their two daughters and families, as well as other relatives in these cities.

Vandals who have broken out windows, pulled down lights and, in general, about wrecked the school buildings as well as breaking out all the windows in vacant farm houses should be caught and made to pay for same. If they are kids, their Paps should have to pay for the damage. If they are adults, then the law books should be thrown at them. There is no excuse for the deliberate destruction of public property.

Several citizens were talking last Sunday about how proud the citizens of this community were of the Home Ec Cottage and the other school buildings.

All agreed that they hoped the school board would employ a maintenance man to take care of the school property here as it is worth taking care of. A nine million dollar valuation of the Girard School District could surely be worth paying a maintenance man to keep the property in tip-top shape.

Several tax payers asked me to mention this need in this column and to ask for the school board's consideration. It will be appreciated by the citizens of this community.

Dinner and lunch was served for the Sherer family and relatives last Sunday in the Home Ec building, all of which was appreciated by the family.

The building is used most every week for social functions, clubs, etc. We are happy to have such a nice place in the community.

We could not name all of the out-of-town friends and relatives who attended the funeral services for Mr. Sherer last Sunday, but there were a lot of folks.

Boy, it was cold in the old home town last Sunday. A lot of folks had fires burning in their homes. So did we, felt good too.
