

Kent County Library Has A Serious Problem For Space

The Kent County Library is housed in a 16 x 24 foot room, originally planned as a Grand Jury room, is literally overflowing with books, having not enough shelving to hold more than half the books. There are about five thousand volumes in the library, and they are stacked on table tops, in chairs, in the floor, and on top of the shelves, almost to the ceiling. A rack of books is shorter than the shelf it is in, and books are turned endways to fill up the vacant space.

In the accompanying picture, you notice Librarian Bess Porter viewing the mounting piles of books.

Kent countians check out from 3000 to 4000 volumes each year she said. The last year or two, the number has decreased some.

When asked the reason for the decrease, she said, "Well,

I am not unhappy about it, but I think it is because the school has enlarged and increased its library, and the school students do not come here as much as they once did." The library has been opened here since 1960.

County to Pay $3.00 Bounty On Coyotes And Bobcats

The Kent County Commissioners Court in its Monday session, took a broad step and voted to pay a $3.00 per head bounty on coyote and bobcat scalps from animals killed in the county. The order, which passed by a full vote, was upon a motion made by Hamilton and seconded by Dibrell.

They voted to buy a new car, to be used by the Sheriff's Dept. from Hall Wild Chev. Co. on the low bid of $2,401.77 exchange or trade-in. Goodall's bid on a Ford Galaxie was $2,442.60. Dickerson made this motion and Byrd seconded it, which passed without opposition.

Also orders were passed to purchase on low bids, butane and propane from L-P Gas Service for .785 per gallon and diesel for .115 per gallon. To buy from Mobil Oil Corp. premium gasoline for .175 and regular gasoline for .14 per gallon. To purchase from West Texas Equipment Co. grader blades for $1.20 per foot.

Appointed on the county library board, terms to expire Jan. 1, '73 were Mrs. George Darden, Jarri Parker, Mrs. Hugh Turner and Russell Wright. Appointed to terms expiring next Jan. 1 were M. E. Eork, Don Jay, John H. Montgomery, Norman Hahn and John H. Mayer.

They passed an order, made by Dibrell and seconded by Byrd to pay the Kent County Nursing home $40.00 per month for the care of T. G. McCurry on a temporary basis.

Also they passed the routine order to pay the current bills.

Letter To Editor

Dear editor, I am sending the money to keep the home town paper the Jayton Chronicle coming to me. I am one of the oldest of your subscribers. I never miss a copy. The Jayton paper is a part of my life.

I spent most of my life at Jayton working. I enjoy the Girard News. I have known Matt and Maggie Darden for seventy years. Her father Levi Beadle was a good singer. He led singing when we all went to a little school house close to the cemetery. That was when we all went to Sunday School every Sunday. We did not have a preacher too often but when we did every one was there.

Grandma Beadle, Levi's mother, was our doctor, if anyone was sick, she always gave a helping hand. Everyone loved her.

That is just a memory of long time ago.

With love to all of my friends. I am now 89 years of age and lonely for you.

Texas Highway Commission Approves $460 Million 2-Year Program

AUSTIN--In action that will mean better highway facilities throughout Texas, the Texas Highway Commission today approved a $460-million, two-year Consolidated Highway Program. The program calls for construction or reconstruction of US- and State-numbered highways. In all, a total of 1,968.6 miles of non-Interstate highways will be built or reconstructed under the program.

Estimated cost of the construction work is $365 million. The program also covers the State's portion of the right of way costs on a 50-50 basis with local governments. In approving the program, the Commission earmarked funds for needed improvement on many routes of the State-maintained highway system. This will permit the orderly development of plans for construction.

This Week In Jayton

More and more the wide breach of opinion between public opinion, and the opinion of the members of the judiciary, toward the interpretation, and the application of the law, continues to get wider and wider.

This was brought out again, this week, when a Wichita Falls District Judge threw out of court an obscenity case filed against a WF movie operator.

It seems that the general public looks at issues as they apply to them in their lives. But the judges in the courts look at them with a jaundiced eye, in many instances, leaning over backward, so to speak, to protect the letter of the law, when many times John and Jane Doe have difficulty in seeing the meaning or the good in the letter of the law.

A good example of this in Texas, is the new infamous case where the Texas Supreme Court set free a convicted killer, who had stomped a person to death, because the indictment did not charge the killer with stomping the person to death "with his feet", the court said he was convicted illegally.

This is the kind of thinking, and the law interpretation by the judiciary that the general public abhors.

Perhaps there is some grave hidden danger to our American way of life that the members of the judiciary feel necessary to protect and defend in such decisions, but the general public does not have the legal foresight to see it.

These ideologies, held by the judges, are making it difficult, and in many instances impossible, to enforce decency, law and order in America, and on the South Plains, and in each community.

We need to find a middle ground somewhere, upon which we can operate.

It must be very discouraging and in many instances downright exasperating to officers and prosecutors to work their hearts out in the public good, ferreting out and picking up offenders, only to have their hands tied by rulings of the court, based upon minor technicalities in the laws, that defeat the public good, and actually, defeat the ideas intended by the great men who framed the Constitution in the first place.

Bob Bass over at Raiderland and his round ball crew now going full blast with some recent fine wins. Let's hope he can keep them going full steam, and get back up in the top standings.

As this is being written early Tuesday morning, it is just about time for the clock to strike eight, and for the football coaches to begin open season on high school stars. Many of the boys have already indicated their choices Tuesday was to have been the first day a school boy athlete could officially sign to play college ball. Start watching the A-J to see what boys Coach Carlen is signing. This will be the key to future fortunes out on Red Raider Hill.

Over at Tech, the students have something interesting to watch, the Catalyst underground paper of sorts has been banned from campus because of certain unwholesome reading in the paper. At the University Daily, the Tech Official publication, Editor Jimmy Snowden, and his editorial assistant, Donny Richards are breathing quite uneasily about the whole matter. They carry no brief for the Catalyst, and admit it, many times, is in poor taste, but they fear a dangerous president is being set by Tech Administrators. They argue "If they can ban the Catalyst without discussion and without even a hearing for the students involved, the next thing they may decide to do the university daily, or any other publication, the same way.

This, too, is a matter that could come under the discussion of the first paragraph of this column.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Driver and family were here visiting her parents the Woodrow Murdoch's over the weekend.

WHO STARTED DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME?

Benjamin Franklin originally proposed the idea in 1784 but Englishman John Willlet actually instituted the plan of putting clocks one hour ahead to "save daylight" in England in 1907.

Self-doubt is caused by the fact that every human activity involves some other person whose praise or blame seems unduly important. We set a goal of perfection before ourselves and groaningly conclude that it cannot be achieved.

But perfectionism is a dangerous state of mind in an imperfect world. The best way is to forget doubts and set about the task in hand. While the battle is being fought or the cake is baking in the oven, leave the outcome to the future where it belongs. If you are doing your best, you will not have time to worry about failure.

Easter Seal Sales Begin

The 1970 Easter Seal will open in Kent County Monday, Feb. 23, according to Bearl Murdoch, who is the Easter Seal Representative for the county.

Mr. Murdoch said the Seal Appeal letters will arrive at homes in the county about March 1.

As Easter Seal Representative, Murdoch is the contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. The services include physical and occupational therapy, and hearing programs, special information materials to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

BARBED WIRE and Babbling Brooks

Spring sun shines on babbling brooks—and barbed wire. A bird song lifts prettily on fragrant air—and a sniper shot splits the silence. New green burgeons through brown winter grasses—and red blood drenches jungle earth.

One's description of the season depends upon location. In some parts of the world there are happy people, enjoying the spring, looking forward to Easter services. Other faces of this globe find suffering people, anguished by the sunshine, hungry, afraid, lonely, dying.

Centuries ago on black Calvary hill, Jesus of Nazareth demonstrated perfect love. Down through the ages, His life and teachings have pointed the way for mankind to heal the ills of the world.

So, in this Lenten season let us offer ourselves—our time and talents—to the service of His Church, in its task of making His kingdom come upon earth.

Seals for a laugh

In Spanish, certainly one of the most lyrical of Romance languages, "mujer" means both wife and hand.

The speaker had just finished his lecture on hydrophobia to the First Aid class. He then asked them what they would do if they had rabies.

One fellow in the front row quickly responded, "I'd ask for a piece of paper and a pencil."

"To make out your will?" presumed the speaker.

"No," replied the man. "To make out a list of people I'd want to bite."

A lonely chick looking around the electric incubator of unhatched eggs: "Well, it looks like I'll be an only child. Mother's blown a fuse."

A seven-year-old girl had gone fishing with her father. After an hour or so her dad asked: "Are you having any luck?" She replied indignantly: "No, I don't think my worm is really trying."

New Yorker to a friend: "What a miserable day! I lost my job. I lost my wallet. My wife ran away with a salesman. The Yanks lost to the Senators."

Friend: "That's terrible."
Complainer: "It sure is. Imagine that Leading by three runs in the ninth inning—and they blow it."

The turn of the century was probably made by a woman driver.

Teacher: "What does it mean when a man supports two wives?"

Student: "It means that his son has got married."

After buying a $20,000 insurance policy before a plane trip, the traveler stepped on a nearby scale. Out came one of those fortune-telling cards. The cheery message read: "A recent investment may pay big dividends."

Critic to sculptor: "It's a fine statue, all right, but isn't that a rather odd position for the general to assume?"

"Maybe so," replied the sculptor, "but I was halfway finished when the committee ran out of money and decided they couldn't afford a horse for him."

Drivers who go fastest past a school are probably the same ones who took the longest to get through it.

The newlywed arrived home to find his wife crying her eyes out. "What's the trouble?" he asked. "Oh, I'm so disappointed," she sobbed. "I baked you a wonderful pie today, but the dog ate it." "There, there, that's nothing to cry about," comforted her husband. "He was an old dog anyway."

Some people are like blisters—they don't show up till the work is done.

On a night fishing trip in the Everglades, the fisherman sought reinsurance from his guide: "Isn't it true that alligators won't approach you if you carry a lantern?"

The guide nodded and replied: "Of course, a lot depends on how fast you carry it."

There were just as many careless drivers sixty years ago, but the horses had more sense.

Reporter: "To what do you attribute your success?"

Millionaire: "I'm just trying to make an honest living, and there isn't much competition."

A four-year-old boy got a severe sunburn, and his skin began to peel. One day, as he washed his face, his mother heard him mutter: "Only four and wearing out already."

When a young man who had just completed his training as a policeman was asked what he would do to break up a hostile crowd, he answered: "I'd take up a collection."

Wife to husband as the tailor measured his waist: "It's quite amazing when you realize that a Douglas fir with that much girth would be ninety feet tall."

A doctor sent a patient a bill with the notation: "This bill is one year old."

The patient sent the bill back with a little note of his own: "Happy Birthday!"

On their honeymoon, the groom told his bride: "Now that we're married, I hope you won't mind if I mention a few little defects that I've noticed about you."

"Not at all," cooed the young lady, "it was those little defects that kept me from getting a better husband."

"Could I help it if I got the giggles?"

Census Takers Are Needed

There is a need for workers in the U. S. Census drive to begin soon, a spokesman said here this week.

Census enumerators will be paid by what they do, ranging from $75 to $100 per week.

Anyone interested may write the Census Bureau, Petroleum Building, 726 Scott, Room 1001, Wichita Falls, Tex. 76301.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Userry and Jack had her sister Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caddell of Lubbock and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freeman of Aspermont to visit with them in their home, and at the new business Lee's Cafe here in Jayton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Condon and Joe Williams of Haskell were attending to business here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Stansland and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wilt and family of Miami last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Johnson and daughter attended the Ice Follies in Abilene Saturday. They said that they enjoyed them very much. The evening of entertainment was great, they said.

The Jayton HD Club Meets

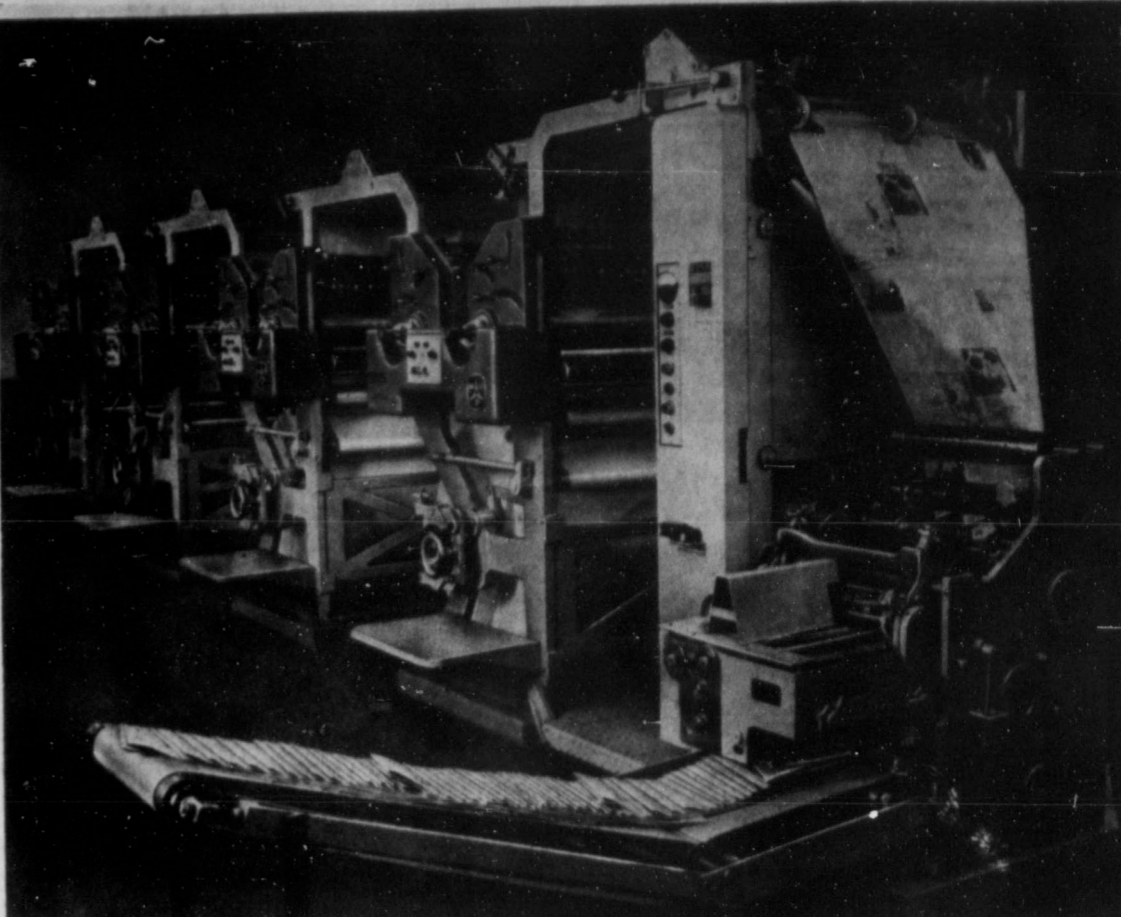

The Jayton Home Demonstration Club met on February the 5th at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Glenn Hammock.

The president Mrs. Hancock called the meeting to order and Mrs. K. P. Brantner gave the thought for the day "Peace."

The members answered roll call and there were three new members, Mrs. Fudge, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Hobart Lewis.

There were two visitors Miss Pat Nilson, and Mrs. W. L. Buckelew. Miss Nilson gave the program on "Harmony color."

The next club meeting will be a joint Meeting with the Girard club at the Girard community center Feb. 18 at 2:30 p. m.

Shown above is the Goss Community press that prints the Jayton Chronicle each week. This press has the capacity to print 12 pages at a time, and will print 11,000 copies an hour.

It uses the photographic process, rather than the conventional type press. The type for the paper is "set up" by an electric typewriter, pastup in page forms, and then photographed from the negative an aluminum plate is made, and from this aluminum plate the paper is printed.

The type setting and makeup work is done at Ralls, and then the printing done on this press in Floydada, costing around $75,000. This press also prints about 20 area papers, including Lockney, Slaton, Tahoka, Plainview, Matador, Spur, Lorenzo, Crosbyton, Ralls, Wayland College, and a number of other publications.

After the pages are laid out ready to print, it costs the Jayton Chronicle about $50 per week for the press-work--nice but expensive.

Vitamin C, also called ascorbic acid is the vitamin in lemons and limes that cured and prevented scurvy in British sailors. Leadership and nutrition has meant success or failure in explorations throughout history. Capt. James Cook was one of the early explorers to open the New World and conquer the Pacific Ocean, opening it to further explorations of Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and even Alaska.

In the 1770's, scurvy was the seaman's most constant formidable enemy. Voyages of several weeks duration brought scurvy and death to many sailors. Capt. Cook was able to sail and explore and map for 3 years without a single case of scurvy aboard his ship—a miracle in those times. A good diet and foods high in Vitamin C prevented the disease considered unavoidable on voyages. Scurvy is a disease that affects bones and blood vessels and eventually causes death when not treated. Capt. Cook was the first to sail for any extended length of time without a single case of scurvy. British sailors came to be known as "limies" after the regular administration of lemon (called lime) juice was prescribed in the British navy in 1795.

Vitamin C cannot be stored in the body and must be eaten every day. It is needed because it helps hold body cells together and strengthens walls of blood vessels, helps in healing of wounds and helps resist infection. Possible results of inadequate amount of vitamin C may be easy bruising, bleeding of gums, weakened blood vessels or slow healing of wounds. Severe deficiencies result in scurvy.

Foods high in vitamin C should be eaten every day. These include citrus fruits, strawberries, cabbage, collard greens, turnips, broccoli, green peppers and tomatoes.

Today's recipe uses broccoli. Frozen vegetables may be oven-cooked if you are using your oven at moderate temperature for other food. Partly defrost vegetables to separate the pieces. Spread the pieces in a greased pan with a cover. Add salt and other seasonings as desired, and cover the pan.

Cook until just tender. Approximate time for most green vegetables at 350 degrees is 45 minutes. Cooking time will vary, however with size of pieces and how much they were thawed before cooking.

RICE BROCCOLI CASSEROLE

Submitted by Mrs. Jane Parton

- 1/2 cup onions, chopped
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped
- 1 cup rice
- 1 package broccoli
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 small jar of Cheez-Whiz

Saute onions and celery. Cook rice and broccoli separately. Mix the vegetables, add the soups and cheez-whiz. Place rice in a casserole as a lining for dish. Pour vegetable mixture over it and sprinkle with paprika.

Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes before serving. (This may be prepared a day or two ahead of time).

ANGELIC ARTISTS ENJOY ACTIVE PLAY

Sugar and lots of spice—that's what little girls are made of. These gay charmers may look angelic now but there's mischief in their eyes. Pausing for a moment to admire their artistic talents gives them an opportunity to plan more energetic pursuits. Pre-schoolers love the excitement of being in a group with other children their age but, bless their hearts, they don't stick to the easel, or anything else, for very long. More important are activities such as jumping rope, tossing a ball and playing hide-and-seek. A champion hopscotcher, this pig-tailed miss sports a Babygro candy-pink A-line jumper with mock pockets. Her fair-haired schoolmate, not to be outdone, is prepared for plenty of action in a pair of navy blue bell bottoms and matching shirt. The outfits are of 100% nylon stretchwear that provides the give that active youngsters need. Babygro garments keep their shape and even repeated launderings do not dim their original brightness and color. Babygro garments by Kapart are made of stretchwear to accommodate the young growing body. Stretchwear is available in a number of colors and fabrics including terry, nylon-dacron, and cotton-dacron, all of which are machine washable.

THE PATTERN OF FASHION: SPRING '70

A short, snappy dress, a long, lavish scarf—put them together, and you get the great fashion look for the new season. So says McCall's Pattern Fashions magazine—and backs up its belief with a smashing costdress and scarf costume on the front cover. McCall's Pattern #2266.

But if you think that wraps up the fashion story for spring, you're way off base. There's a rich diversity of new styles to choose from, many of them patterned to fit your particular fashion needs. Take the pants costume—and there's no reason why you can't! "Luckily, today's pants are most flattering for the girl with a less-than-perfect figure," according to Pattern Fashions editor Mary McSorley. She covers the subject in style, with a fascinating feature on How To Choose Pants for your Figure.

Another show-and-tell fashion story in the new issue can teach you a trick or two about spring wardrobe planning. Start with one dashing ensemble, perhaps a fitted coat with its own skimmer. Then multiply the fashion potential with one, two or three more dresses designed to be compatible with the coat.

Since no woman can ever have enough little spring dresses, isn't it lucky that McCall's Patterns invented the Quickie? The Current Pattern Fashions magazine has a whole section devoted to Quickie Knits: easy little A-lines and T-dresses taking shape in the greatest new fabrics going.

Today's Quickie, assembled in a matter of hours from a few pattern pieces, may seem light-years away from the beribboned and bustled creations worn in the 1870's. Yet both were made from McCall's Patterns! To commemorate the centennial of the McCall Pattern Company founded in 1870, the Spring 1970 issue of Pattern Fashions includes a lively article by noted fashion writer James Laver on 100 Years of Fashion. Mr. Laver tells it like it was—and is—from mutton-leg sleeves to mini-skirts.

Peering ahead at what is still to be, the Centennial issue also features McCall's designer fashions: great new spring looks from great fashion names like Larry Aldrich and Geoffrey Beene.

To round out the picture, McCall's has a fashion profile of Evonne Severinsen, wife, mother, homemaker and business manager (for husband Doc, the orchestra leader on the Johnny Carson Show). Somehow, she also finds time to sew for herself and four daughters—you see her high-style handiwork in the new Pattern Fashions magazine, now on your newsstand.

Girard Potshots

Thanks to Mrs. Ollie Page for a years' subscription to the Jayton Chronicle.

A good many folks had this "scribbler" in the race for Kent County Justice of the Peace even though we had not told anyone of our intentions pertaining to same. Then on the last day to file for a place on the ballot we kinda' considered such a thing on the spur of the moment ---and then we happened to think that we did not have a political race in our 1970 budget and maybe had better save what 'chips' we would spend on a campaign for cowfeed. You can't ever tell how an election will go or who your daughter will marry. The mayor of Lubbock was elected in a "write-in" campaign while he was out of town.

Mrs. Doug McCaury of this city will be hostess for a baby shower honoring the new son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Smith in her home on February 17th 2 p.m. You are invited.

It is always nice to hear what folks think about this column. Thanks to the two nice ladies of Spur, who told the wife how much they enjoyed the Girard Pot Shots. We found out back in the 19-30's when writing a column for a couple of Fisher and Jones County papers that the readers liked a little "spice" added to the local news. In other words it's rather boring for a full column of Mr. and Mrs. So and So at Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Doe. Even though current comments may at times be controversial and you disagree, yet you have your cur-osity so aroused that you will read next weeks column. Anyway, we appreciate your comments whether it be good or bad. Thanks.

A local man has drawn off a baseball diamond and has the candidates for Commissioner, five in all, like he things they will run--at home base, first, second and third and center fielder. What he may not have thought about is: a "bad pitch" might change the ball game.
