Clifford Dyer Home Destroyed By Fire 12th.

The Jayton home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dyer was destroyed by fire last Thursday morning, about 1:45 o'clock.

The origin of the fire has not been determined.

By the time the alarm had been sounded, the roof had already caved in.

It appeared that the fire began on the south part of the house since it was the worse burned.

The firemen had no time to try to save any of the personal belongings.

The family was not at home at the time of the fire.

The Jayton Jaybirds are all set for the bi-district playoff game with Quitaque, to be held at Roosevelt gym on the night of Tuesday, Mar. 3, at 8 p.m.

In the meantime, they are trying to stay in condition and have a number of warm up games on schedule.

Friday night they go to Paducah, and Tuesday night Sands comes here. Watch for these two big games.

Mrs. Margaret Hall, Jayton's first grade teacher, enjoys sewing and reading in her spare time, and she is teaching for her eighteenth year because she "enjoys working with children, and teaching is a pleasant way to help earn a living."

Mrs. Hall, a 1940 High School graduate of Sulphur Bluff in East Texas, began college in 1941 at East Texas State, but later graduated in 1962 with a BS degree from McMurry.

Teaching grades one through eight, Margaret has taught seventeen years at Jayton. Previously, she taught one year at Peerless in East Texas.

School Principals Get Contract Renewals

At the regular meeting last Thursday night of the Jayton school board, principals Roy Dodds, and Bill McMeans were given new contracts, each with a small increase in pay.

The two principals, McMeans in elementary school and Dodds in High School were questioned about the teachers under their supervision, and how they were getting along, and the board received a pretty good idea if they would recommend them to be reemployed.

Supt. R. N. Pierce gave the board a detailed account of his recent visit to Plainview school to check on some of their vocational courses.

He especially recommended their class in automotive mechanics and one in cosmetology.

The board seemed also to be impressed with his report and instructed him to do further research into these matters.

An election was called to elect new trustees, or rather to have an election to determine who the people of the district want for trustee.

Pantry Patter

By Pat Nilson, CHDA

Strawberries are the only member of the berry family with a high vitamin C content. One cup of fresh strawberries has more ascorbic acid and fewer calories than one whole medium-sized orange and one-half a grape fruit. Other berries have slightly less than half the ascorbic acid level of citrus fruit.

The amount of vitamin C varies with the freshness of the fruit and the variety. It is highest when the berry's flavor is highest and when the berry is reasonably fresh and not bruised. Home preserving or freezing may destroy 1/6 to 1/2 of the vitamin C content. Strawberries in general have more intense flavor at room temperature than when chilled. Their flavor deteriorates if allowed to stand more than a half hour after preparing. Varieties above average in vitamin C content include Gatskill, Eden, Fairpeake, and Marshall; while Aberdeen is below average in vitamin C content.

YOU BE THE JUDGE
BY J. M. RANKIN

INCLUDE ME OUT

The heroes of today and the authors and doers of the times are those who can tell us what is wrong with the country, the world and even the universe. A decade ago spacemen were getting worried about the garbage collection building up in space, today the problem has descended. There hasn't been much ado about the population explosion in space, so we may relax and direct our attention and our efforts to amelioration of conditions here on earth.

It's here in the middle of a section where the population is six to the square mile— as against ten for the County of Crosby— and do relax in the quiet that belongs to a sparsely populated area in this world that has plenty of critics and few who even think they can do anything about our troubles. I'm one of the latter. I thought I was doing quite well, requiring only a modicum of tranquilizers—really I've never ingested but ONE Miltown—but a full page of double column enumerations of our troubles in Sunday's A-J by Saul Pett, AP Special Correspondent slammed me back into the depths of the lounge and I haven't felt so poorly since the last time Bryan was defeated for the Presidency.

In my callow youth I knew there was something wrong with the world but I never thought of instituting a rebellion or joining a march on Washington, but I can read history and it proves that every Republican Administration has been followed by a depression. So I must have been enjoying something like a masculine justification.

But let's give a little special attention to Saul Pett as he writes, "We have put enough smog in the air over Los Angeles to warn school children not to play too strenuously or breathe too deeply on the days of the amber cloud and enough toxics in the air over New York to make a day's walking and breathing equal to the intake of almost two packs of cigarettes. And between two coasts we have made eyes smart in mile-high Denver and not-so-high Phoenix and countless smaller places, one idyllic."

This erstwhile school teacher relaxed after the infamous edict of the Supreme in 1964, (not necessarily because of the express content of the decision, for desegregation had to come to USA some time, but it is infamous because of the interpretations some politicians have applied to it.

I thought there would certainly be no problem of desegregation on the South Plains Crosby County, for instance, had only a small population of Blacks and they could easily be integrated into the prevailing schools. And they have. Lubbock County was something different. The City had a system of community schools which we were sure would be respected and permitted to continue.

There were buildings, costly and beautiful, there was a community spirit in Dunbar High School that would be the envy of any all-white school, and there was an athletic program and history that was the envy of Class AAA in the inter-scholastic league.

But HEW declared war on Community Schools and ruled frequently that Lubbock School Board must come up with something good or closing of Dunbar and busing of the students all over the city would be forced. HEW and the Attorney General are both Republicans and so the GOP editor of Lubbock raises a little smoke as he can. Happily the Congress of the United States is presently engaged in passing laws to restrain HEW from demanding and the Attorney General from enforcing the destructive desegregation called for under present conditions.

I'd like a small consultation with Mr. Pett about the pronoun he uses throughout his dissertation; I dislike being bunched up with a few million people; he can say, "they" have done all these evil things like smoking up the atmosphere and smearing up the river and so on, but that putting ME into it annoys me. I burn considerable gasoline. I frequently have a fire in my fireplace; I burn some trash occasionally, but I'm not satisfied to be cataloged with all that smog. Let him say, "they did it," or "the American people did it." Include me out.

of the Scrapbook committee. Mrs. Virginia Williams, Spur, presented a very interesting program on the "Treatment of Our Flag." A quiz session serving as an orientation for new members was led by Mrs. Norma Taylor, Ralls. Concluding the meeting, Mrs. Ray Willey Graves, Paducah, led the group in singing the "Delta Kappa Gamma Song," the "Star Spangled Banner," and "America, the Beautiful."

Approximately 24 members were present representing ing Cottle, Crosby and Dickens Counties. Members from Ralls attending the meeting were Mrs. Norma Taylor, Mrs. Emma Beard, and Mrs. Margaret Ruttman.

Fandangle Set For June Show

The 1970 Fort Griffin Fandangle will be held 18-27 June, the Fort Griffin Fandangle Association board of directors announced.

The show, Albany's summer historical-musical production, was not staged last summer because of the death of Dr. Robert Nail, creator of the production.

Under Dr. Nail's direction, the show grew from a small production held on a football field to a Broadway-sized creation with its own outdoor theater in Albany.

It is the product of the citizens of Albany.

Board President Watt Matthews announced that James Ball and Ernest Sublett will write and direct the Fandangle this year.

Ball, a long-time associate of Dr. Nail, is the composer of many Fandangle songs.

Sublett, of Abilene, is a prize-winning director and was also associated with Dr. Nail.

Mrs. Carolyn Davenport and son, Bobby of Odessa have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Nadine Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sampson of Spur are moving to Clairmont this week.

DTA Selects Gaines As Executive VP

James M. Gaines, recently named executive vice president of the new Discover Texas Association, opened offices this month in Austin.

The DTA office is located in Rooms 311-313 at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Gaines, who took office 1 January, said he looked forward eagerly to his new duties.

"It is a tremendously challenging subject and opportunity," Gaines said of DTA plans to promote tourism in the state.

Attendance Jumps At Sea-Arama
Sea-Arama Marineworld at Galveston experienced a 30 per cent attendance increase during its 1969 fiscal year, officials have announced.

The attendance set a record for the multi-million-dollar marine attraction.

Ed Moore, executive vice president and general manager, said, "We feel that the major reason for this increase was the new shows added this year."

He referred to the killer whale show and a water ski comedy show.

Mrs. Vallie Wall, Leck and Les Browning went to Lubbock last Friday night to see the Globe Trotters play basketball.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rodgers moved Tuesday to Jayton to their new home near Roosevelt. Everyone is sorry to see them leave Jayton, but wish them much happiness in the new home.

DTA, chartered last year, the private sector, will attract more out of state visitors to Texas and to travel within the state by residents, Gaines explained.

In announcing Gaines' appointment, DTA President Mathias of Austin, said officers and board of the Texas Association feel leadership in promoting for the past decade of president of the Texas Council, as first chairman of Texas Tourist Development Agency, appointed by Governor Connally, and most recently the top executive officer of HemisFair '68, gives a flight chief executive demonstrated and outstanding accomplishments in the field.

Attend The Church of Your Choice

EVERY JOURNEY...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The caravan has travelled through the desert for many days... and the men are glad to see the tall date palms of the oasis in the distance. Here they will rest and refresh themselves beside the cool spring before continuing on their way.

Every journey is made easier if it is broken by intervals of restoration and renewal. Even life itself can be a weary road if it does not contain times and places where we can pause to gather new strength. Where can modern men and women regain the equilibrium and peace of mind that they need so badly?

Fortunately, we too have an oasis... the Christian Church. The teachings of Jesus offer deep wells of comfort for the spirit, and springs of joy to revitalize any life that lacks goal or purpose.

Adventures In Insight

Do you recall the poem "Judge Gently"? The unknown author asks us to reflect before we criticize.
 "Fray don't find fault with the man who limps
 And stumbles along the road
 Unless you have worn the shoes he wears,
 Or struggled beneath his load
 There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt,
 Though hidden away from view,
 Or the burden he bears placed on your back Might cause you to stumble too."

Faultfinding is a favorite occupation of many people. It may be yours. Do you have a pleasant and complimentary viewpoint of others? Do you speak of others as you would have others speak of you?
 The Scribes and Pharisees caught, condemned, and criticized a woman taken in the act of adultery. Jesus did not condone her sin, neither did he condemn her. Rather He reminded them all, "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her."
 "Don't be too harsh with the man that sins,
 Or pelt him with word or stone,
 Unless you are sure, yea double sure
 That you have no sin of your own."

HD Agent's REPORT

Knits are the big picture for Spring 1970 with a variety ranging from lighter-than-air polyester and open, meshy cotton and blends to sleek matte jersey and tony velours.

To sew these exciting fabrics into reasonably priced garments, use stretch threads that give with the knits. They are made of all polyester or polyester and cotton.

Give a professional finish to the hem with stretch lace hem binding which comes in many colors.

Check the sewing contour for ball point needles with a slightly rounded point and the roller pressure foot which prevents snagging or damage to the knits.

Wash machine washable knits, zipper, hem binding, and interfacing before sewing to prevent any shrinkage later.

Spring colors and styles for clothes emphasize natural linen, periwinkle, and individualism. The colors are clear and fresh with fabrics that are soft, flowing, and textured. Pattern companies report the new colors fall into varied classifications: Water colors are the soft tones with a lightness and whiteness and will be applied in groups of colors. Mauve/Pink, Coral/Melrose, and Turquoise will probably be the favorite water colors.

Subtly have a sophisticated quality. Exciting new hues are Marigold, Jade, Periwinkle, Peonies, and Coral. Neutral tones popular will be white and off-white with new looks in Skin and Buttercotch tones. Transparencies will still be popular with most popular shade being Navy, Beet, Spruce, Red Pepper, and Bark.

Fabrics are varied as are colors. Surface fabrics are influenced by subtle shine, natural textures, and dimensional weaves. They are fabrics with glaze finishes, yarn effects in bold patterns and plushy naps. Openness is created through sheers and novelty weaves known as volles, lenos, crochet looks, dimities, and burnouts. Soft fabrics that are moving and body conscious are the Lightweight Knits, Drapable Crochet, and Slinky Silk types.

Fabrics for the Natural style have looks with their own respective personalities. These are Denims, Canvas, Linens, Ray Silks, and Rurics.

Nutrients most often in short supply are calcium, Vitamin A, Vitamin C, and iron, according to a nationwide USDA survey. These are nutrients furnished by milk, fruits, and vegetables.

"I'm watching calories so I use a cream substitute," Overdoline Clark, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University warns that cream substitutes do not have fewer calories than authentic counter-parts. A current study of cream substitutes showed these new products to have more saturated fat content than cream.

Most Texas Land Needs Soil and Water Conservation Treatment

About two-thirds of our state's land still needs soil and water conservation treatment. Many critical conservation problems have been solved in Texas in the last 30 years, some 103 million acres of the State's 160 million acres of rural land still need conservation treatment. The figures came from county data prepared by state and federal agencies, then summarized by a state committee chaired by SCS.

"Much of this 103 million acres has had some conservation treatment, yet it still needs one or more conservation measures," Graham pointed out. "And most of this land needs treatment every year--especially cropland."

Graham said that in terms of acres, grassland improvement is still the state's biggest conservation problem. He cited these grassland needs: About 50,6 million acres need brush control followed by careful management, including periodic rest. Some 22,3 million acres of this land has deteriorated to the extent that reseedling is needed after the brush is controlled. Graham stressed, however, that when brush is controlled on grassland, wildlife needs should be considered carefully. He said strips or motts of brush should usually be left for wildlife food and cover.

Some 19 million acres of grazing lands need only improved grazing use. This is land that has been grazed too closely but still has a stand of desirable grasses; all it needs for improvement is better management.

About 13,2 million acres need both rest and better grazing use to let the base grasses improve in vigor and increase soil cover.

In addition to the 22,3 million acres of land that need seeding after brush control, there are some 4,3 million acres of other grassland that need seeding or sodding. There are also 1,1 million acres of cropland and 1,3 million acres of former cropland that need to be planted to permanent vegetation. This totals 29 million acres of land in Texas that need planting to grass or trees.

The inventory breaks the state's 55 million acres of cropland down into dry cropland, irrigated cropland, and other cropland, such as orchards and land formerly cropped. Some 22,3 million acres of cropland needs treatment.

The state has 25 million acres of dry cropland, 7 million acres of which need protection with cover crops or crop residues. Some 5 million acres need terraces, diversion, or waterways as well as cover from residues or growing crops.

Out of 5.3 million acres of irrigated land, 3.7 million acres need an improved irrigation system to prevent erosion or water loss.

The survey shows Texas has 22,7 million acres of forest land of which 9,2 million acres need conservation treatment for soil protection and to improve forest stands.

The study also shows that pressure for urban growth is steadily cutting into the state's rural lands. During the 1958-1967 decade, agricultural land in Texas dropped by some 780,000 acres, or an area bigger than an average Texas county. About 500,000 acres of this went to urban areas, some went to federal uses, and lesser amounts went under water in ponds and reservoirs.

Summaries of the state study are available from SCS offices, soil and water conservation districts, and from most other state and federal resource agencies. Local county reports are also being prepared by county inventory committees. The complete state inventory showing map land uses and conservation treatment needs by land capability classes for the state as well as each county will be published later this year, Graham said.

Information on Getting Tags

B. J. Stanley, Kent Co. Tax Assessor and Collector has passed on to the Jayton Chronicle a few facts about getting your car tags.

This year, motorists were mailed a three part computer-oriented registration form about January 1.

If a motorist wishes to get his tags by mail, he can mail in the filled out form, with an extra dollar for the postage.

If a motorist wishes to register in person, he should take the three part form to the county tax office, with the necessary amount of money.

If you mail your order, this must be done by March 1, and allow 30 days for mailing up to the April 1 deadline.

If you have lost or misplaced the 3 part computer form take your last year registration receipt, and use this to get your new registration certificate and tags, and then the State office will send you a new form next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Rich are visiting relatives in Oklahoma for a few days.

Twenty six Kent County Grandparents of the Grand Parents Club drove down to Aspermont last Thursday night for a big steak dinner at Frazier's restaurant--kinda' strutting because Valentine's is just around the corner. Might have been a little "smooching" on the way home. Anyway, a lot of dominoes after the meal, until the wee hours. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Mrs. Truman and Ed Koch and Tom Wilson. The next meeting will be at the Girard Community Center.

Jim Gregory, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rance Gregory suffered a broken foot a few days ago when a horse kicked him.

The HD Club of this community had a Valenfine party for their adopted daughters last Thursday afternoon, Feb. 12 at the Girard Community Center. Eighteen adults and three children were present. Delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table prepared by Mrs. Fred McGaha.

The local cotton gin still ginning and we thought it was all over several days ago.

Weed and brush fires are springing up around the old home town--since spring is in the air and "Candidate Matches" are plentiful.

Mrs. Tom Cooper of Spur visited last week and in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Darden.

M. and Mrs. Buck Thompson spent a part of last week end in Wichita Falls at the Stock Show. Their grand daughter, Donna Cannon of Spur was showing calves there.

A beautiful quilt that has been quilted by the Quilting Bee Ladies of the local HD Club is all ready to be given away. You may inquire from one of the club women about it.

It looks as if the Supreme Court is determined to "buss" the children of the south, even though a stupid court ruling that hasn't and will not help education.

Guess I will have to call on Pat Nilson, H D Agent to go over to the lumber yard in Jayton to make Bill Vencil's picture and get same on front page of the Chronicle as he was "fibbing" the scribe considerably about the front page picture of last week--since Pat will likely grow a garden this year she can perhaps use such a picture to scare the crows away.

Speaking of front page pictures; it seems that something should be done about the crowded Kent County Library. Some of the Office space in the basement of the courthouse that is rented to Government Agencies for a sum that doesn't even pay for the lights used could house the library--the government could pay rent elsewhere.

Willis Long and son from down Jayton way were seeing friends in Girard Saturday and attending to farming chores.

Folks in this neck of the woods are getting anxious for a good rain. Wheat and oats have begun to look a little sick.

Charlie Kimmel is getting the new Girard Fire truck ready for service and it's a real good looking fire truck, and home folks are mighty proud of it. The Lewis Williams house in Girard was moved to Spur last week--and the Alton Clark's will erect a three bedroom home on the location where the Williams house stood.

M. and Mrs. Pere Sherer left Thursday for L a Marque, to manage a Stuckey Store. They were employed last week via telephone. The coast town is located between Houston and Galveston. Sorry to lose these good friends from the community, where they have lived so long.

Mrs. Lamore Page has been visiting relatives in this community. At present she is in El Paso with an ill relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Goodall have moved to their remodeled home in Girard. They purchased the house several months ago from Mrs. Donnie Beavers, who now lives in California.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Peril at the Drive-In

Not all the trials and tribulations at a drive-in movie take place on the screen. Sometimes, misfortune also befalls a member of the audience. If a patron does suffer an accidental injury, may he hold the management legally liable?

To begin with, the management has a basic duty to maintain the premises in safe and orderly condition. Take this case:

A drive-in had a special "KID-DY ZONE" where children could amuse themselves while their elders were watching the movie. On a roadway running alongside this zone, debris of all kinds was allowed to accumulate. One evening, threw the tire of a passing car hurled a bottle cap into the play area, striking a child in the eye.

In a court test, the theater was held liable for the child's injury. The judge pointed out that similar incidents in the past had given the management plenty of warning that the littered roadway was a source of danger.

Furthermore, the management is supposed to enforce prudent rules of safety. In another case, a theater made no effort to keep its patrons from sitting outside their cars on warm evenings. Yet it provided no lighting for the aisles--and no attendants to guide the oncoming vehicles.

When a car struck a patron sitting near an aisle, the theater was held responsible. The court said the way the place was run, it was "a stage setting for tragedy."

Still, some mishaps are not fairly blamable on the management. Thus:

A patron heading for the snack bar tried to walk through the narrow space between a parked car and a listening post. Bumping into the connecting cord, he knocked the speaker box against a woman seated inside the car, inflicting an injury on her head.

The hapless woman never could locate the walker. So she decided to sue the theater instead, arguing that its arrangement of listening posts and connecting cords was a "dangerous condition."

However, the court held that the theater was no more at fault than she was. The judge said the management could reasonably assume that the average patron, knowing how a drive-in theater is set up, would have better sense than to walk into a cord.
