

This Week In Jayton

Things won't be the same around Jayton anymore with Lowrance not around.

Even tho' in bad health for many years, he always had a friendly smile for everyone and was always in a good humor.

We are going to miss his friendly visits.

Well, folks, you can tell everyone that summer is here at last. The 100 degree weather Monday, and almost to that mark Tuesday makes it official. The small crops should really grow with the sunshine beaming down upon them.

Not finding fault particularly with the U. S. Supreme Court in their actions, but they surely opened the door to a lot more trouble recently when they ruled that conscientious objectors to the draft could be excused for other matters of conscience beside religious scruples. Watch for the draft board troubles to be multiplied many fold.

A lot of discussion has been going on lately about who has the authority to order the U. S. flag lowered to half mast.

Recently in a demonstration at Texas Tech, President Murray told a group of students that only President Nixon could order the flag lowered. Later student leaders quoted him as saying he could have had it lowered, but didn't think it proper. When this quotation was made in the University Daily, he said he was misquoted.

It doesn't seem factual that a State Institution would have to get permission to lower the flag. Surely, the head of the institution would have that authority.

I do know that last Saturday the flag at the Dallas Morning News was flown at half mast in the memory of the death of my brother, who was an employee there. I doubt if it took anything more than a directive from the manager of the concern to get it done.

I notice where Ralph Yarborough supporters over the State are handing out news releases stressing the fact they are loyal Democrats and will support Lloyd Bentsen for U. S. Senator in the November election.

I also notice where the Harris poll recently issued a report that Senator Ted Kennedy's popularity has suffered a tremendous slump since the releasing of the records of his trial, etc. This did not cause his popularity to drop with me. I have never held him in very popular esteem.

SECOND PLACE WINNERS IN THE STATE 4-H Club Rifle Contest are Susan Wallace, Bert Wallace, Vena Lee Cravey, and Bill Wallace (Seated). They placed second in the 4-H Roundup at AGM last week. Coached by Mrs. Bilby Wallace and Gordon Cravey, the team scored 1054 with Bill Wallace as fourth high individual, and Bert Wallace fifth high in the State Contest.

Kent 4-H Club Group Wins Second At State

Eight Kent County 4-H Club members, two adult leaders and the County Extension Agents attended the annual State 4-H Club Round-Up on the Campus of Texas A & M last week. Outstanding 4-H Club members from all parts of Texas attended.

The 4-H Rifle Team from Kent County placed second in the state contest. Team members Bill Wallace, Bert Wallace, Susan Wallace, and Vena Lee Cravey scored 1054, with a possible 1200. Bill was fourth high point in the contest, shooting 362 out of a possible 400. Bert scored 358 for fifth high point. Mrs. Bilby Wallace and Gordon Cravey, adult leaders, coached the Rifle Team.

The Kent County 4-H Safety Team placed 13th in state-wide competition. Two teams from each of the 12 districts were eligible to participate. Tommy Johnson and Phillip Vardiman discussed Rules for Auto Safety in their demonstration.

The Field Crops Team placed 9th in state-wide competition. Tommy Stanaland and David Geeslin demonstrated the value of the Cotton Boll Weevil Control Program. Their illustrated talk described the results of six years work done in boll weevil control in Kent County.

The 4-H Club members and adult leaders toured the Manned Space Center in Houston following the 4-H state contest.

The State 4-H Club Round-up is an annual event. Finalists in 32 contests from 12 Extension Service districts compete for state honors.

Red Taylor Completes ROTC Flight Training

Tyler Mark (Red) Taylor, a 1965 graduate of Jayton High School, has completed his Army ROTC flight training at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene; and he has received his private pilot license for single-engine land airplanes. He will receive advanced training in either fixed wing or rotary wing aircraft after obtaining his B. S. Degree. He will enter the Army as a commissioned second lieutenant from the ROTC program. His present plans are to make this his career.

Mark was the second to complete the program and the first to obtain a private pilot's license.

The Elm Leaf Beetle Can Damage Shade Trees

The elm leaf beetle causes a lot of damage to shade trees. The larvae or worm stage of the beetle feeds on leaves of the elm trees. The elm leaf beetle can be controlled by use of sevin, chloradane, dieldrein, or toxaphene. Insecticides should be applied when worms are small. Another application is usually necessary during the summer when another generation hatch.

Elm leaf beetles also become a household pest. They cause damage by staining the curtains, rugs, and upholstery. Household sprays of chlorodane, diazinon, or lindane should be applied to baseboards, window frames, or door frames.

Patterson - Miller Wedding In Spur

In a double ring ceremony on May 30, at 7:30 p. m., Miss Doris Earline Patterson became the bride of Pfc. Charles Martin Miller, in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Tommy Ewing, pastor of the Jayton Methodist Church, officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Patterson, Mrs. R. B. Brownlee, Jayton and Mr. O. F. Miller, Athens are parents of the groom.

Candles were lighted by Misses Charlene Nicks and Ginger McCully, Miss Carla Glenn, accompanied by Miss Dewayna Bostic, sang "Whither Thou Goest", "The Twelfth of Never", and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white satin with A-line skirt, long tapered sleeves and lace trimming. Her veil of white tulle fell from a white satin cap trimmed with lace motifs. She carried a bouquet of white carnations encircling a white orchid featuring long white satin streamers. Mrs. Curtis Patterson, Dickens, sister-in-law of the bride was Matron of Honor. Miss Frankie Harrison, Lubbock and Miss Becky Brownlee, sister of the groom, Jayton were bridesmaids. Cynthia Patterson, niece of the bride was flower girl and Jamie Patterson, nephew of the bride was ring bearer. Attendants wore formal yellow slipper satin gowns with empire bodices covered in white lace and with long sheer lace sleeves. They wore yellow bows with matching yellow tulle in their hair.

Leon Patterson, Lubbock, brother of the bride was best man. Groomsman were Joe McAteer, Jayton, cousin of the groom and Earl Brownlee, Jayton, brother of the groom. Serving as ushers were Steve Owens, Jayton and Curtis Patterson, Dickens, brother of the bride.

A reception at the church immediately followed the wedding.

When the bridal couple left for a trip to Athens, the bride was wearing a navy and white double knit dress with many accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Spur High School while the groom is a graduate of Jayton High School. He also attended Athens Junior College. He is scheduled to leave for Viet Nam June 15.

Chisum - Gardner Wedding

Cecelia Chisum and Carey Gardner exchanged marriage vows Saturday, May 30 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of his parents.

Cecelia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chisum of Jayton. Carey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gardner of Aspermont.

Judge Gallagher of Jayton performed the ceremony. Linda Cheyne was Maid of Honor. Tommy Smith was Best Man. Rita and Sara, sisters of the Bridegroom, served at the reception. Pictures were taken by Jerald Stanley of Jayton.

The brides' colors were pink and white. The flowers used were white gladiolas and pink carnations.

The couple will make their home in Ft. Sill, Okla.

Funeral For Ot Lowrance Held In Jayton

Orvale C. Lowrance, 85, of Jayton, died at 2:30 a. m. last Wednesday in the Stone-wall Memorial Hospital in Aspermont.

Funeral was held on Thursday at 2 pm at the First United Methodist Church here, with Rev. Tommy Ewing, Pastor officiating.

Burial was in the Jayton Cemetery under the direction of Littlepage Funeral Home.

Mr. Lowrance was born June 26, 1884, in Coleman County and had been a resident of Kent County since 1907. He was a farmer, rancher and a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving is his wife, the former Bertha Hardin, who he married in 1906; one son, William Earl Lawrence preceded him in death in 1926.

Pallbearers were: Mark Geeslin, Elbert Walker, Grady Jones, Gordon Hamilton, Ray Smith, and E. M. (Bill) Jones.

Wedding Plans Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Arling Dalton Smith, 4826 Waycross Drive, Houston, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Arme, to Mr. Don Rinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rinker of Jayton.

The wedding will take place 8 P. M., August 1, 1970, Westbury United Methodist Church in Houston.

The bride-elect and bridegroom-elect attended Texas Technological University in Lubbock.

I wish to thank all my friends for the lovely cards and visits while I was sick in the Callan Hospital.

I am much better, but cannot leave the house.

I love all of you. Adolphus, Bertha and R. A. Moreland, Jr.

Why I Like 4-H Is Theme HD Meeting

The Girard H. D. Club met June 3 at 2 pm at the Community Center.

The president, Opal Swearingen, brought the meeting to order.

Nita Stevens read the minutes and gave roll call.

The program was brought by 3, 4-H girls, Sharon Edwards, Patty Edwards and Jan Kimmel. Patty brought her talk on "Why I like 4-H"; Sharon and Jan on "Feeding and Taking Care of Sheep." The County Agent, Mr. Mack Geeslin, sponsored the girls. They gave a real good program. All there enjoyed it. Thanks, girls for your part.

Refreshments were served to Opal Swearingen, Nita Stevens, Louis Simpson, Clara Darden, Opal Hodges, and the hostess, Lois Turner.

Our next meeting will be at the Community Center with Mrs. Robbie Wyatt as hostess.

School Board Buys New 60 Passenger Bus

The Jayton school board attended to a number of important matters at its meeting last Thursday night.

L. E. (Sleepy) Beowning offered his resignation as a member of the board. It was accepted, but no replacement was appointed. This will come up later.

Matters of school personnel were discussed. Rick Smith was employed as a band teacher. His father is the band director in Brownfield. He is married with two children.

No action was taken as to the vacancy for high school principal. The last time a representative of this paper discussed this with Supt. R.

N. Pierce, he said they were not sure whether they wanted to move someone in the system up to this position, or to throw it open to the public for applications.

They voted to buy on low bid a 60 passenger school bus with a trade-in of a 36 passenger '64 model bus. The trade-in cost would be $6000.

They voted to call for bids for suppliers of milk, gasoline, butane, and oil and greases.

Also, the budget was discussed, and amendments made where necessary. They are now in the process of preparing the budget for next year's operation.

Girard Potshots

Funeral services were held last Monday, June 8 in the Central Baptist Church in Aspermont for Mr. Bird J. Cochran who died on Sunday in the Stonewall Memorial Hospital in that city. He was 86, Mr. Cochran, a long time resident of Stonewall County and a cattle rancher is the same Mr. Cochran that many books were written about him many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hagins from down Hamlin way were seeing friends in Girard, Jayton and Spur communities on Monday of last week.

Most everybody like County Fairs; this year will be no exception when the Kent-Dickens Fair will be held in Girard. All you folks be thinking about what you are going to enter in the Fair; it's a lot of fun to win, even to place or show; in fact whether we win a ribbon or not we will have a part in making this the best County Fair, ever.

Farmers in this "neck of the woods" have been combining wheat and oats the past week, and we hear that as much as 40 bu. per acre has been harvested on some farms.

Mrs. George Darden and sister, Mrs. Sim Reeves visited friends and relatives in Fisher and Jones Counties last week.

Visiting in the Walter Brooks home are their grandchildren from Ft. Stockton.

The dog population in Girard is on the increase; it seems that folks who want to get rid of their dogs--well, they just bring 'em to Girard and dump them on the town site, yep, a vacant house next door has a bunch of new born pups under the floor. Guess, if they ever come out from under the house Ole' George will load 'em in a dog trailer and head for the double Mountain River.

planning a trip to see her daughter and family in New York, which is a "fur piece" and as she operates a beauty shop in her home about a half mile west of town she says she is going to "cut prices for the next week or two in order to get the cash together for the trip.

The new Girard fire truck and volunteer firemen prevented a wind blown fire from doing a lot of damage last Tuesday afternoon when Mr. Henry Stiles was burning trash and the wind blew burning papers all over the place setting fire to corrals, loading shutes, posts and yard furniture, at his home on highway 70 near town. The fire destroyed the loading shutes and did quite a lot of damage to the stock corrals. Mr. Stiles is grateful for all who had a part in preventing a huge fire.

Another fire Wednesday morning in the city limits when oat stubble, belonging to Jess Brooks got out of hand when the wind changed, the fire truck again had to be called out and several "Guys" and "Gals" in the neighborhood got high behind with wet sacks and garden hose.

Visiting from Lubbock in the George Darden home last Wednesday, were their daughter and husband, the Ben Cockrells.

Fourteen Grandparents of the Kent County Grand Parents Club were on hand for their regular meeting at the Community Center last Thursday night. A fried chicken dinner and the trimming and a lot of dominoes were enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Woodrow Hodges returning from an Eastern Star meeting in Spur last Thursday night around 10 p. m., hit a cow with her pick-up truck, near Glipin, killing the cow and doing a lot of damage to her truck. Cows on the highways at night, especially black cows are often hit before seen. Glad to report that Mrs. Hodges did not receive serious injuries.

Mrs. Carlos Dickerson and her mother, Mrs. Mollie Fuqua, left Saturday morning for Dublin; when word came that Uncle Jim Koonse was seriously ill in that city. Mr. Koonse is Mrs. Fuqua's brother.

PIONEER PASSES:

Funeral services were held last Thursday, June 11 for O. C. (Ott) Lowrance of Jayton in the First Methodist Church in that city. Mr. Lowrance died in the Stonewall Memorial Hospital on Monday after an extended illness. He was 85. He is survived by his wife of the home. Mr. Lowrance is a pioneer cowboy and cattleman of Kent County.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Carr left Saturday for Lovington, N. M., after a call that Mrs. Carr's father, Mr. Kelse Williams was seriously ill in a Lovington hospital.

A head-on collision at the "Y" in Jayton on Highway 70 last Friday afternoon, sent four men to the Aspermont hospital. Included in those who were injured was Jake Simmons of Girard. The two pick-up trucks involved were completely demolished. We were unable to get the names of all the people in the wreck, but from reports from the hospital, it seems that the four men, who were taken to the hospital by ambulance were seriously injured.

The George Darden's and Mrs. Sim Reeves visited the Darden's daughter and family, the Ban Cockrells in Lubbock last Sunday. Also visiting the Cockrells from Murfreesboro, Tenn., were another daughter and family, the Bill Pickron's. Until next week that's it, folks.

Policeman: "Madam, didn't you hear me whistle when you went through that red light?"
Lady driver: "Yes, but I never flirt when driving."

Football coach Glenn "Pop" Warner's favorite player was Jim Thorpe because the big Indian had such a great love for the game. One day, Warner was scolding Thorpe for failing to break up an opponent's pass. "You could have stopped that easily," he shouted. "Why didn't you?" "I didn't have the heart," Thorpe replied. "It looked so pretty."

Brother Of Editor Dies During Surgery

Funeral services for Alton M. Richards, 56, were held Monday at 3 p. m. in Rule. He was the twin brother of Afton Richards, editor of this newspaper.

Ill for only a short time, he was having throat surgery in a Dallas hospital Friday afternoon, and died on the operating table. Doctors told the family, that during the operation he suffered an apparent heart attack.

At the time of his death, he was a printer at the Dallas Morning News. He had published newspapers at Rule, Abilene and Anton, and at one time was an employee of the Plainview paper.

He is also survived by his wife of Garland, and four children; his mother, Mrs. Dora Richards of Ralls, another brother, Eddie, of Rockwall, and a sister, Mrs. Ima Dora Haile of Plainview.

At a signal, each was to begin tapping on the table if he saw a black dot on any forehead, and to stop tapping only if he could determine the color of the dot on his own forehead.
After a few moments one stopped. He correctly had determined his was black. How did he know!

a real VACATION

They had waited for this real vacation--this long trip--for years. But this time it was different, this time he wouldn't be going back to his job.

At first, retirement seemed frightening, like being shut off from the mainstream of life. He had seen too many men age beyond their years, after their career ended. He had no wish to be on the sidelines. He and his wife could have moved to a warmer climate and just have taken it easy. He didn't want that. So, before he left home, he had a long talk with his minister.

He found that there was plenty a man his age could do. Financially secure, he could afford to volunteer for a job. In fact, through the Church there was work he could do that would spread to the farthest corners of the world.

Right now, he is enjoying this vacation. He is savoring every moment of it. Because, when he gets home, he's going to lead a full and useful life. And that's the way he wants it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Comments from the Capital —

OF DISSIDENCE, DISORDER AND OTHER DISTURBING THINGS
by Vant Neff

Radicals say they want freedom of speech but they make every attempt to deny it to those who don't agree with them.

The loony left volunteered their services to Castro, supposedly to harvest the sugar cane crops. But the Cuban Commies were smarter than that. They used every spare moment to indoctrinate the young American rebels in the ways and means of seizing the nerve cells of a city and a country. While the gullible young Americans cut cane—the Commies, as usual, made hay!

Now it is clear for all the world to see: Cambodia's former ruler appealed to both Red China and Russia for support in re-establishing his own leadership and ousting his successor. We all knew that unpredictable Prince "Snooky" had turned pro-Communist. But what people failed to appreciate were the constant efforts of the Communists to take over one country after another. Throughout Europe, Central America, South America and the Far East, including the Philippines, people in democracies have been the dupes of the Commies. President Marcos of the Philippines has bluntly stated that sooner or later, his island country will become a battleground between Communism and democracy. Unfortunately, those who freely fight for Communism are blinded to the fact that the Communists themselves live in abject slavery in their own countries. The adage that "lovers of freedom must hang together, or hang separately," was never more cogent than now.

Isn't it somewhat naive of us to express surprise at the disturbances and demonstrations on our university campuses? The entire emotional climate of our country has made violence quite acceptable as a bargaining gambit. Look at the examples set by the individuals who instigate and perpetrate one strike after another in every area of business, from government employees, including sacrosanct postal service men, to teachers, and from transportation workers to hospital employees, simply to gain their particular demands of the moment. (Did you realize that last year, our country suffered 5600 crippling strikes, involving two-and-a-half million workers who actually lost a total of forty-four-and-a-half million work hours and correspondingly vast sums of wages?). With this shocking pattern of behavior set before them, is it logical to be surprised that the youthful segment of our American population harbors the unrealistic illusion that all that is required to win their point is to confront "The Establishment" with violence, turbulence and dissent?

Gentle sarcasm: Next time you hear of a fiendish murder, don't judge the criminals too harshly. Remember, the poor dears may have had an underprivileged grandmother. And by today's loose and lax permissiveness, that's a lifetime excuse for all kinds of brutish behavior.

Japanese textiles are cutting into American clothing sales. The American workers resent it. Disgruntled union men have thrown up picket lines around retail stores, clamoring, shouting and badgering people into boycotting places that sell foreign-made apparel. To curtail imports would be senseless. Many nations produce textiles, and no country can remain an island in this age of world-wide industrialization. Brisk international trade benefits everyone. But just ask yourself which shirt you would buy—an American-made one at $6, or a comparable import at $3. The price difference is created by constant demands for massive wage hikes on the part of our American workers. (The textile people just asked for another 25% boost!) Aren't they concerned that if they price us out of the market, everyone suffers? Wake up, America, before it's too late!

Bombers don't care who their bombs kill. Witness the explosions in Greenwhich Village and the fact that Molotov cocktails in quantity were seized in Buffalo. Many of those involved in bomb-making are addicted to pot, heroin, LSD or some other drug. Shouldn't convicted bombers be put away as criminally insane?

Now the secret is out: 5 out of 6 of the Chicago leaders of MOBE

—the group that incites anti-war protests—are card-carrying Commies. Not back in 1917, in Russia. Nor in 1938, in Germany. Today, here and now. At the core of many of these movements for disarmament and pacification, there is the well-financed Commie plot for world domination. Yet so many well-intentioned, loyal Americans have been duped by it. Can't we take a lesson from the past, and deal sternly and severely with those who covertly seek to undermine America?

Irony: Free the Panthers, so that they may continue the bombings and killings to which they have publicly sworn themselves.

How's this for brass! On the same day that leftist-influenced Peru seized one of our American tuna vessels in the Atlantic, the Peruvians asked the United States for more planes and helicopters. It wasn't the first time that they have gone beyond the legal 120-mile limit into international waters after one of our ships. Why do they do it? Simply to stir up more trouble? Shouldn't our government look long and carefully into the matter of handing our supplies and arms to nations that are openly hostile toward us and our interests?

The news discloses that three reputed Mafia figures were indicted on bribery and kick-back charges involving a Teamsters' Union Pension Fund. This is one more flagrant example of criminal action in the handling of workers' money. I submit for consideration that the giant unions with multi-millions of dollars are outmoded. Isn't the possible answer unions in which members actually have control, instead of vesting unchecked power in the hands of out-of-touch tyrants? That might bring the unions back to their original purpose: to benefit the working members.

Plea to Israel: Please stand still and be killed. You've done it for centuries. Why be anti-Arab?

Remember — there's always someone who opposes something — for some reason — even if it's for the sake of publicity.

GOLDEN GRAHAMS

If you're looking for an inexpensive, nutritious, flavorful cracker that can be used in many ways — select Graham crackers. There are two types made from nutritious graham flour: NABISCO Graham Crackers sweetened with rich molasses and Sugar HONEY MAID Graham Crackers sweetened with pure honey. Both are packaged in 1 pound boxes with freshness-preserving inner wraps.

For a quick after-school or mid-evening snack, pipe graham crackers with SNACK MATE Pasteurized Process Cheese Spread Cheddar or spread with creamy peanut butter. Sprinkle with DROMEDARY Chopped Dates or nuts. These are delicious accompaniments for salads too!

Sweet dips make an unusual dessert or snack. Combine an 8 ounce package softened cream cheese, 1/4 cup frozen lemonade concentrate thawed, 1/2 cup flaked coconut, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 well drained (8 3/4-ounce) can pineapple tidbits. Chill and serve with graham crackers or sugar honey graham cracker fingers. Makes about 2 1/4 cups dip.

Kids of all ages go for ice cream sandwiches. Slice brick ice cream or sherbet and cut into squares to fit between graham crackers.

Layer sliced fresh fruit and whipped cream with graham crackers. Top with a dab of cream and a sprig of mint, if desired.

Graham crackers may be purchased in crumbs or prepare your own by placing the crackers in a sturdy plastic bag and rolling with a rolling pin. Combine 1 cup NABISCO Graham Cracker Crumbs, 1/4 cup flaked coconut, 1/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans, 1 1/2 tablespoons granulated sugar and 1/4 teaspoon each ground cinnamon and ground mace. Add 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine. Toss with cut up fruit; sprinkle in a layer over baked custards or puddings; layer with ice cream to make parfaits.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Right To Attend Funeral

Within hours after her husband died, Grace received a long distance telephone call from his brother.

"Please hold off the funeral until I get there," he said. But Grace made him no promises. In fact, the funeral was already over by the time the brother arrived. Shocked and angered, he filed a damage suit against Grace, demanding compensation for the mental anguish she had inflicted upon him.

However, the court turned down the brother's claim. Whatever his moral rights may be, said the court, he had no legal right to be present at the burial.

Generally speaking, the final "say" about a funeral belongs to the surviving spouse—or, in the death of a child, to the surviving parents. This includes not only choosing the place of burial, but also fixing the time for the proceedings.

Further, it includes even the method of burial. In one case, a farmer buried his infant son in a crude wooden box which he had put together himself. Indignant relatives and neighbors had him arrested on a charge of failing to provide a decent burial. However, a court found no basis for the charge.

"What would be regarded as entirely proper by one might be regarded as altogether unsuitable by another," said the judge. "No rule can well be formulated."

It may be a different story, however, when someone takes on an affirmative obligation to handle the funeral in a particular manner. This is the kind of obligation an undertaker owes toward his customer. Thus:

An undertaker went ahead with a burial before the family of the deceased had arrived at the cemetery. When the family later hailed him into court, he pointed out that they had arrived after the appointed time. Nevertheless, he also conceded that the burial was not supposed to take place except in their presence.

Under these circumstances, the court ordered the undertaker to pay damages. The judge said: "(He) was guilty of a callous assault upon the sensibilities and feelings of the bereaved."

YOU DON'T NEED TO USE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING! IF YOU THINK SO, THEN

PREACHERS — Should preach only one sermon or so a year. We are all against sin anyway, so why harp on it?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS — Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

TEACHERS — No need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY POLICE — Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there and if you believe in consistent profitable advertising, then you will . . .

LETTERS to EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

Freedom is a lovely word and it has a glorious meaning either from sin suffering, fear or death. I am reminded of three men who lived in the world and brought Freedom to millions, three great emancipators.

Sometime ago in a great industrial city I saw an old sailing ship tied up in the harbor at a naval station. I was told that this old vessel was used in the African slave trade. As I looked upon that old weather worn, storm tossed deck and mildewed sails I cannot explain the emotions that I experienced. It seemed that I could almost hear the lash of the slave driver and the rattle of the captive's chains.

And I thought of a man, who in the days of his young manhood journeyed down the Mississippi to New Orleans where he saw human beings sold on the block like dumb driven cattle. He said, "If I ever have the opportunity to hit this, I'll hit it, and I'll hit it hard." Years later while in the midst of four years of bloody carnage with the stroke of a pen, Abraham Lincoln emancipated more than two million slaves.

I then, thought of another man, who gave up a life of a comparative ease in England, and buried himself in the wilds of darkest Africa. There, he spent his life ministering to the temperal and spiritual needs of savages and through his ministry, thousands were emancipated from the bondage of superstition and witchcraft and were converted to Christianity. When his earthly course was run, those natives said the heart that loved Africa shall remain in Africa. That heart was buried in the land of the Belgian Congo and the body of David Livingstone was carried to London where it now reposes among the crowned heads of England in West Minister Abbey.

Then, I thought of another; The greatest emancipator of them all. The only begotten Son of the living God, who gave up his seat in the shining courts of Heaven, came to earth and emancipated millions from eternal death.

When the curtains of evening are lowered and we behold the myriads of shining stars that adorn the Heavenly firmaments we are reminded of the divine nature of our great creator and the magnitude of His power.

As we look about us and see innocent childhood, care free youth, young men and women with great hopes and lofty ideals as they pass thru the portals of maturity, we are made to wonder what will our world be tomorrow. We believe that God is still supreme and that His promises are inviolate. He tells us that His word will never fail or pass away in spite of all opposition that it will endure forever.

ADOLPHUS MORELAND
from The Bible
For in Him we live and move and have our being. — (Acts 17:28).

We need not dwell on the difficulties of the world. Instead, abide in the presence of God. The solution to every problem is in Him. Let God's light shine through so His blessings become visible and flow out into the world.

PLACE FOR A FLOWER BOX

Any place you can imagine, and some you can't, is a place for a flower box. Consider this one atop 2 electric light meters! It's filled with geraniums and variegated vinca.

And, at Mission San Juan Bautista in California, a window box bridges the gap between 2 tree trunks! Geraniums again, but other possibilities would be Cascade petunias, lobelias, dwarf marigolds or zinnias in sun; begonias, impatiens or coleus for use where there is semi-shade.

For a culinary "grand slam" — the easy way — try this! The country folk of eastern France originated a savory baked custard-cheese tart, known as Quiche Lorraine. Although it began as a simple peasant dish, a little imagination turns it into glamorous party fare. Quiche Lorraine ranks as something spectacular in itself. This alternative features crabmeat smoothly blended into the custard and Swiss cheese. Dots of scallions and dill weed complete the supreme temptation, when Crabmeat Lorraine bakes in a tender, flaky pastry shell. Difficult? This special pie requires just minutes — and takes an hour to prepare from mixing bowl to table. Served hot from the oven, this Quiche makes an excellent lunch or supper dish. Or serve it in tiny wedges as a hot hors d'oeuvre. Nutritionally speaking, Crabmeat Lorraine scores high, too. The filling is rich in protein and the pastry shell, prepared from enriched flour, contains these essential nutrients: thiamine, niacin and riboflavin — three B-vitamins, plus the mineral, iron. All are needed for daily maintenance of good health.

CRABMEAT LORRAINE PIE
One 8 or 9-inch pie

- 1 1/2 cups enriched flour*
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3 to 6 tablespoons cold water
- 1 can (7 1/2 oz.) crabmeat, drained and flaked
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
- Custard Filling
- Dill weed

Stir together flour and salt. Cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Sprinkle with water, a little at a time, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Press into ball. Roll out on lightly floured surface to circle 1/4-inch thick and fit loosely into pan. Trim pastry and flute edge. Line bottom of pastry shell with crabmeat. Cover with cheese. Pour Custard Filling over cheese; sprinkle with dill weed. Bake in preheated 400° oven 35 to 45 minutes, or until done. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

- Custard Filling:
- 3 eggs, beaten
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup sliced scallions
 - Blend ingredients.
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - Dash white pepper

*Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

THE RAINCOAT

TODAY RAINCOATS ARE FASHION COATS IN THEIR OWN RIGHT. BUT IN EARLIER TIMES FASHION WAS OFTEN SACRIFICED FOR FUNCTION.

IN 1870 HEAVY WOOLEN GARMENTS KEPT OUT THE RAIN BUT WORE OUT THE WEARER WHO HAD TO DRAG THEM AROUND.

FIVE YEARS LATER, A DEVELOPMENT FAR AHEAD OF ITS TIME OCCURRED — WATERPROOF CAPES THAT LOOKED LIKE SILK COULD BE ROLLED AND CARRIED IN A COAT POCKET.

TODAY... WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR CHILDREN'S APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL: THE SYMBOL OF DECENTY, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

IN 1947 THE TRENCHCOAT, ADAPTED FROM THE MILITARY, WAS THE FASHIONABLE WAY TO WARD OFF THE RAIN.
