

Jayton Lions Club Making Plans For A Year of Progress

Here Odell Harrison, Jayton Lion Boss is discussing with fellow Lion, Jearold Stan- some of the things they planned for the Lions in the coming year. Meeting each second and fourth Thursday at the Jayton Club, the Lions number one project is eyesight conservation. They purchase glasses for any needy not able to buy them. Lion Bob Pierce is in charge of this department. One project undertaken by the Lions is the grassing of the Pony League Baseball field. They are working on it now.

The broom sale is the number one money raising project. Part of the dues each member pays goes to the Crippled Children in Kerrville. The club is now working on getting deeds to the land where Credit Lake is located. Lion Bearl Murdoch is working on this. With a lot of help from the County Road Department, and the Commissioners, Lions are planning on having a nice little park at Credit Lake. "Our facilities are limited," Harrison said, "But we are doing all we can to help our community."

Local Station Operator Gets Gates Award For Alertness

This Week In Jayton

You know, you can get in trouble for just about anything now days. But I have recently experienced something new. A couple of weeks ago is the first time I have ever written something nice about someone, and then get raised over the coals about it. How about that?---

The Food and Drug Administration is really getting into the act these days. The first of the week they lowered the boom on the mouth wash advertisers. No longer can they recommend their products for having any healing qualities--only a nice taste. Several of the companies said the products mentioned had already been taken off the market.

Also, a few days ago, the FDA took a swipe at the cereal industry. They don't contain all the vitamins, etc. that they are supposed to have, says the FDA. The cereal makers came back with a real gimmick. The claims made, are when used according to directions. Directions say to use cream or milk on the cereal. The milk provides much of the needed qualities. Yes, how about that, too?---

Well, we can rest with ease now. The football players and owners have come to an agreement, and now we

HE GOT HIM

He got him. Louis Smith, attendant at the local Phillips Station, L-P Gas recently caught the Gates Belt man.

Gates has a man that travels over the country. He pulls into a station with bad belts on his car, and asks for service. If the attendant tries to sell him a new belt, he has done the right thing.

This is a mystery service they use, of course, to promote the sale of belts. Louis has caught him more than once.

can enjoy our shows on the boob tube, without interruption. Can you imagine fall and winter without football in your den and living room?

The wife has really had her ear to the radio this week for news from Corpus Christi. Having spent 16 years there and weathered two hurricanes, she can feel for the people. And this one seems, by early reports to be the worst of all.

Maybe when the hurricane passes by, we will get some rain in West Texas, as a result.

And speaking of West Texas, that covers a lot of country. But the word plains is the one that is getting the usage.

We now have the South Plains, the West Plains, the North Plains, Central Plains and the Rolling Plains. Can

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Matters of Opinion

“This suit,” the friendly salesman told Fred, “will wear like iron.”

About a year later, Fred brought the suit back and asked for a refund. He complained that the fabric was beginning to show signs of deterioration. When the store turned him down, he went to court to demand damages for breach of contract.

Their salesman promised me that the suit would wear like iron,” he said. “That was a false statement.”

Nevertheless, the court rejected Fred's claim. The court said that Even a statement of opinion may be held binding, if the buyer has some special reason to put his trust in that opinion.

In one case a promoter of oil stocks, after winning the confidence of an unsophisticated farmer, sold him some shares in an obscure company. He did so after expressing an opinion of the stock's value that was enormously exaggerated.

But a court later nullified the sale. The judge said that, in view of the confidential relationship between the parties, the promoter must have known his statement of opinion would carry the weight of a statement of fact.

salesman's statement was merely an expression of opinion, not a binding commitment.

As a general rule, the law permits a seller of merchandise to do a good deal of boasting in matters of opinion. The reason, in the words of Judge Learned Hand:

“There are some kinds of talk which no sensible man takes seriously.”

But the law is stricter when it comes to matters of fact. Take this situation:

A home owner, selling his house assured the buyer that it was “in perfect condition.” But at the first rain, the buyer found out that the house was honeycombed with leaks. He also found out that the problem had existed for years, defying costly efforts to clear it up.

Here, a court upheld the buyer's claim for damages. The court said the seller's statement that the house was “in perfect condition” had been a deliberate misstatement of fact.

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (HJR30)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Subsections (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13), Section 1-a, Article V, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:
“(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.
“(6) A. Any Justice or Judge of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts, any County Judge, and any Judge of a County Court at Law, a Court of Domestic Relations, a Juvenile Court, or a Probate Court, or a Corporation or Municipal Court, and any Justice of the Peace, and any Judge or presiding officer of any special court created by the Legislature as provided in Section 1, Article V, of this Constitution, may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any person holding such office may be censured, in lieu of removal from office, under procedures provided for by the Legislature.
“B. Any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of this subsection who is eligible for retirement benefits under the laws of this state providing for judicial retirement may be involuntarily retired, and any person holding an office named in that paragraph who is not eligible for retirement benefits under such laws may be removed from office, for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

“(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.
“(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.
“(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary.”

“(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.
“(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.
“(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution.”

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: “The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances.”

Attend The Church of Your Choice

of heroes

It's pretty exhausting to have two big brothers that excel in everything!

Of course, there are advantages. Like the time a bully beat me up—my brothers followed me to school for two weeks. They wouldn't have fought him, but he didn't know that. Every night they worked out with me. Finally, I took him on and won.

My brothers are first-rate in everything—studies and athletics. There's nothing wishy-washy about them—if they don't think something's right they say so. When there was a “walk-out” at school, they squashed it, practically single-handed.

Because our parents have always taken us to church and taught us God's way, my brothers are strong-principled and good. I aim to be like them.

Your church is a training ground for integrity!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Girard Potshots

The Big News in Kent County last week was the parade for Christ Revival at the Foot Ball Field in town. Bill Crafton the angeliest told it like it is, special each night was excellent including Solos, Choir singing. The loud speaking system was perfect, the weather perfect, large crowds attended each night. Those who failed to attend missed out on "The Good News".

Baptist Ass'n., since two other counties have been added in this area to the present association. After much discussion and different names submitted the Committee decided on the name of "West Central Baptist Ass'n." which consists of the following counties: Stonewall, Kent, Jones and Fisher. Gallagher and Darden were on the Committee from the County of Kent. Each of the other counties were represented.

If you passed through Girard on a couple of days last week you would have thought the world was on fire. Local citizens including county employees and the new fire wagon burned everything that touched like a weed, and the grass fires could be seen for miles, anyway we are getting ready for the Fair in September and in doing so we are getting a lot of grasshoppers.

A revival at the Methodist Church begins in Jayton Sunday, Aug. 2nd. You have a special invitation.

Mrs. Ola Boone is having her house painted and we hear she folks are going to do the same thing before the Fair.

Well, it looks as if a little controversy has taken place between the Tri-County Shopper and the Ralls Postmaster and it seems as if the Jayton and Ralls editor is going along with the Ralls Postmaster, all of which gives folks something to talk about. "People have more fun than anybody."

Some of us town folks who have been after these grasshoppers have just about got 'em spanked; at least there are piles of dead hoppers--and when you poison about ever other day you can pretty well control 'em.

About two thirds of the crowds that have attended the revival in Jayton for the past week were youngsters under twenty--so you see all of the kids are not bad as some we read about and we think about the best kids we know of are in Texas.

Guest Editorial

Small county seat towns are suffering another blow to their dignity. Towns in the Lubbock area are having all their mail shipped to Lubbock to be postmarked and dispatched to the four corners of the earth.

Take Littlefield, for example. No longer will its name appear on the cancelled stamp. In its place will be the name of Lubbock.

We have been informed that towns in the Amarillo area are expected to do the same thing. All Tulia mail will bear an Amarillo postmark.

All this is said to be in the interest of economy.

Already the Tulia post office has had its payroll reduced with abolition of Saturday window service and an earlier dispatch of mail at night.

It's another case of the little guy being called upon to shoulder more than his share of the cost of "government economy" and "fighting inflation".

As towns like Tulia and Littlefield cut their local post office payrolls, and lose their identity so far as mail postmarks are concerned, we wonder how much Lubbock and Amarillo are cutting their post office payrolls.

Littlefield has already lost 7.7 per cent of its population since 1960. Sudan has lost 24.1 per cent. And Lamb County is down 20.4 per cent. All this is the result of the farm depression, the refusal of society to be just and fair with agriculture, giving the farmer his share of the economic dollar.

Yet, society would squeeze a little more out of the small-town economy and give it to the city.

Several years ago the telephone company took away the jobs of Tulia's 12 to 15 telephone operators and tied us into Plainview, Tullians were robbed even of their identity when they made a long distance call.

If a long distance call could not be completed, the operator in the distant city was asked to call Operator So - and - so in Plainview!

And this is the trend! The cities solicit funds in Tulia when they want to build a new hospital. Their argument is that the trend is toward concentration of medical care in the cities with the towns relegated to the status of first aid stations.

They take away our identity, any advertising we might get by sending Tulia's postmark to the four corners of the earth. They remove our name from the vocabulary of our own telephone operators.

But we aren't ignored altogether. We still have a function to perform....we continue to be those poor devils living within the trade territory of Amarillo and Lubbock who are supposed to provide something approaching half of their retail trade!

We are supposed to listen to Lubbock and Amarillo television and read the Lubbock and Amarillo newspapers...then go to Amarillo and Lubbock and spend those dollars we have sucked out of Swisher County's economy.

That apparently, is the role of the small town in our present day economy.

And we wonder why the small area towns are dying.

IT'S A FACT

4000 years ago the Egyptians found that candy made life sweeter. They had a well-established confectionery art, using honey, flavors, spices and herbs... the first corner candy store in history.

Greek and Roman physicians used the first sweet taste treatment in history. They induced their patients to down a bitter draught by smearing the rim of the cup with honey. Today millions of persons don't blink an eye--but they savor the taste--as they nurse minor throat irritations with a variety of Luden's cough drops. Flavored wild cherry, honeylicorice, menthol, honey-lemon and menthol-eucalyptus, they're all made by Luden's, Inc. of Reading Pa.

NEWS for OUTDOORSMEN
 by VERN SANFORD

Although Texas has about the finest outdoors playground to be found anywhere, there are times when a fellow wants to see what's on the other side of the mountain. Anyway, that's the way we felt last summer when L. A. Wilke, another outdoors writer, and I teamed up for a flying trip to the Jackson Hole country.

It indeed was a flying trip. We boarded a Frontier jet Monday noon in Dallas and by 6 p.m. deplaned at Jackson, Wyo. after having spent a couple hours visiting a fishing tackle plant in Denver. It would have required three days driving to get where we flew in only a matter of a few hours.

At Jackson, we were met by two great guides, Jim Marcel and Deke Hedrick of High Country Outfitters and made ready for a float trip on that famous Green River. We put in near Pinedale. Entire journey ordinarily requires three days, but we took only one day of a trip which customarily covers 126 miles. Water was beautiful and loaded with fish, especially fighting rainbows and hefty German trout.

We went down the fast moving river in inflatable rafts operated by these two excellent boatmen. Mind you, this is not a white-water trip. We found no rapids, but the velocity of the stream was such that we were constantly moving unless we beached at a turn to take pictures or just admire the scenery.

After a day of that, we boarded Frontier again and flew into Billings, Mont. This flight took a little more than an hour. Here we got one of those second-best rental cars and drove down to Lovell, Wyo., a distance of about 90 miles.

Next day, accompanied by a group of Lovell businessmen and park and game officials, we went to Bighorn Reservoir. This is a new impoundment on the Bighorn River, created by the Yellowstone Dam, located downstream in Montana. This river, flowing north, is one of the most unusual streams in America. We went for 46 miles between high canyon walls. Sometimes as we looked up we estimated the height as 2,000 feet.

Scenery was fantastic. High walls of weathered sandstone, towering upward on both sides, were estimated to be millions of years old. This is still Indian country and much of the land on both sides of the river is reservation, with no trespassing permitted. However, there were no places to get off. When you get on this reservoir and pass the half-way mark, you must continue.

For that 46 miles there was no gas pump. Our boat was equipped with three six-gallon tanks and we used most of the gas on the way down. We fished very little that first day, just sightseeing.

Although there is a recreational tract of nearly 70,000 acres set aside in the area, it is not developed as yet and everything is still very primitive. This summer there will be some additional facilities, however, perhaps including rental boats. Also the Indians are installing a marina near the dam and it should be ready before summer ends.

Next day we went fishing. Bighorn Reservoir has been stocked with several species of trout, walleye and perch. Although our fishing wasn't spectacular, our party did come up with a good string by any standards, including a four-pound walleye.

Information on this impoundment is available from the Chamber of Commerce at either Lovell, Wyo., or Hardin, Mont.

After driving back to Billings we took the Frontier jet to Bozeman, Mont., got a rental car and motored overland 30 miles to Livingston and Yellowstone River. There we were guests of Paul McAdams, who spends his winters in Texas and his summers on the banks of the Yellowstone River. He raises trout for guest ponds on western ranches and we got a sample of some of the finest rainbow fishing any person could ever want.

Although this is perhaps the favorite fly-fishing spot in the United States, we used spinning and spin casting tackle with best results. Small spinner lures were most tempting to the rainbows and brown trout.

After a day at McAdams' Jumping Rainbow Ranch we returned to Bozeman for the night, boarded the jet for home next morning and were back in Austin by mid-afternoon.

Now that's what I call a flying fishing trip.
