This Week In Jayton

Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls sent out news release to papers in his district this week, expressing strong opposition to the immunization of horses now being conducted under the direction of a federal agency. Purcell says the vaccine being used is experimental, and no one knows whether it will really work, but in spite of this the government is using it, paying the cost of its application, and making it mandatory. "There will be serious repercussions from this," Purcell predicts.

Gov. Ben Barnes is reported to have remarked one day this week. Too bad his European trip fell through. This would have made a good wedding trip for him and his new bride. She is a former secretary to former Governor John Connally.

I have heard several remarks about the work of our former governor, who is now U.S. Secretary of the Treasury. In a recent TV showing, he made the statement that they were working on the matter of inflation and hoped to soon have it under control. One local wit remarked: "We will watch the cost of living index from month to month, and see how he is getting along."

A word from Sally Goodrich states she is now in Abilene, having moved there from Amarillo. However she failed to give us her local address in Abilene. She is one of our subscribers of the longest tenue. Thanks alot Mrs. Sallie. Hope your health gets better.

Warning Given About Cattle Poisoning

Prussic acid poisoning is common to cattle that are grazing wilted or stunted sorghum type grasses. Prussic acid poisoning was reported in Kent County last week. Several cases of prussic acid (hydrogen cyanide) poisoning in cattle grazing Johnson grass and sorghum hybrids may contain high levels of the deadly poison when under drouth stress followed by a summer rain shower.

Either the wilted or fast growing stage of the plant can be dangerous. Problems usually arise when hungry animals are suddenly placed in these pastures. Prussic acid is swift. Reagor said death can occur within five minutes after grazing affected plants, and almost always within 12 hours.

He urged stockmen to graze their cattle in such pastures only with great caution. Hungry cattle should never be turned in.

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Which soil is yours? Do you leave this amount of residue on your farm for protection from wind and water erosion?

Coarse textured soils fine sands, loamy fine sands, drilled planting 1750 lbs/ac, row planting 2500 lbs/ac.

Moderately coarse textured soils moderately fine textured soils high in lime fine sandy loam, loam, clay loam drilled planting 1250 lbs/ac, row planting 1750 lbs/ac.

Medium textured and moderate loam, loam, silt loam, clay loam, sandy clay loam, silty clay loam drilled planting 750 lbs/ac, row planting 1000 lbs/ac.

Crop residue management is one of the most important of all Soil and Water Conservation practices in use today. Its greatest value is perhaps in the Rolling Plains where rainfall is limited, where both wind and water erosions are problems, and where soil-improving crops are not a part of normal farming operations. However, the organic content of soils under any climate can be maintained or improved through the use of the crop residue practice. The organic litter in or on the surface of the soil serves as a protective coat to the soil against extreme temperature, and keeps the soil open for free movement of soil air and water.

Progress has been made in recent years in applying the practices; farm machinery has been improved, adapted, and even developed that will permit and encourage the widespread use of the practice. Likewise, the use and management of residue-producing crops has been geared to fit into a crop residue management style of conservation farming. Small grain and forage sorghum are good examples of residue producing crops.

It is recognized that the primary benefits from crop residue management come from the physical effects of organic materials on the land as influenced by climate. The organic content of the top five inches of the soil is greater where residues are left on the surface as compared to residues completely turned under. It is a well known fact that the mineral and plant food content of soil will be improved with the addition and maintenance of organic content in the soil.

Keeping Things Straight

Judge D.J. Young was interested in collecting all the county's history that he could obtain. He amassed quite a lot of real history but sometimes he was misinformed. I saw in an old Chronicle where some one stated that Harmony was formerly called Perkel.

There was never such a place in Kent County. Shortly after the turn of the century, a man named Perkel built a large house and put in a general store and post office on the old county road a mile or more north of where Harmony was built. Perkel discontinued the store and postoffice late in 1909 or early in 1910 and moved away. Harmony started some 20 years later. There was no connection between the places.

Some one told Dean that in 1912 Billy Sunday held a meeting at Claremont. At that time Billy Sunday held a meeting in Fort Worth. Several people from Jayton went to hear him. Fort Worth is some distance from Claremont.

Recently I looked at the roadside park three miles up

Green Thumb Tips

Have you checked your fertilizer, insecticide and fungicide packages lately to make certain they are still holding together and that their contents are safe?

While you do this, take inventory of your supplies so you will know what to order for the coming garden season.

Remember that some pesticides lose their effectiveness in a year's time, so must be discarded at the end of each season.

One such is rotenone, widely used to control insects on vegetables since it is not poisonous to humans. It should be bought anew each year.

For earliest snap beans try a new variety developed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Named Provider, it starts early to produce a heavy crop and this even under conditions that are less than ideal.

the highway, and I will say that it is the nicest road park that I have ever seen, also the best job of concrete work. I read the plaque telling of the wonders of former days, when many tourist and famous artists, were visitors there, and Zane Grey came for material for his books. I am amazed to think that I have been hanging around here for more than 60 years and never heard the wonderful news. The notice said that the canyon was named for a Mr. Putoff, an early settler of the area. I knew that farther down the canyon was a good watering place. I thought that early trail drivers put off watering until they reached the canyon, where there was plenty of good water. Well, this ancient history should raise the prestige of Jayton throughout the state, as many travelers will read it and spread the glad news wherever they go. Adolphus

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

a real VACATION

They had waited for this real vacation--this long trip--for years. But this time it was different, this time he wouldn't be going back to his job.

At first, retirement seemed frightening, like being shut off from the mainstream of life. He had seen too many men age beyond their years, after their career ended. He had no wish to be on the sidelines. He and his wife could have moved to a warmer climate and just have taken it easy. He didn't want that. So, before he left home, he had a long talk with his minister.

He found that there was plenty a man his age could do. Financially secure, he could afford to volunteer for a job. In fact, through the Church there was work he could do that would spread to the farthest corners of the world.

Right now, he is enjoying this vacation. He is savoring every moment of it. Because, when he gets home, he's going to lead a full and useful life. And that's the way he wants it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Asia is 16,900,000 square miles broad -- bigger than the combined areas of South America, North America, and Africa all put together! Europe is sometimes regarded as a minor appendage to the great continent -- and the whole land mass is then called Eurasia!

A planet's distance from the sun determines the length of its year. Mercury, closest to the sun, has a year only 88 days long. Venus, between Mercury and Earth, has a 224-day year. On the other side of Earth, Mars has a year that is nearly twice as long as ours. A year on Pluto, the most distant planet, takes 248 earth years!

The sun, earth, and all the planets are hurtling towards the constellation Hercules at a speed of 43,000 miles per hour. There is little danger of a collision!

DELICATE AND DAINTY

Feathery blooms in delicate colors result from sowing seeds of Sweet Sultan. Sweet sultans are close relatives of bachelor buttons but, oddly, are hardly seen in gardens. Yet, they're just as easy to grow, are pretty in the garden and super for cutting. Two to 4-foot-long stems of delicate, airy, fringed blossoms in white, purple, lavender and pink insure your loving them. Blooms are scented with a delicate fragrance that suits the flowers. Foliage is dainty too, toothed and finely cut. All in all, an annual to try. The only type of petunia that can be successfully sown in the ground where it is to bloom is the multiflora. These have smaller flowers than the grandiflora type but many more of them.

Poem Of The Week

By FLORA SMITH DEAN
THE DUGOUT HOME
Oh, lowly home of the prairie,
With your hard-packed floor of clay,
And earth walls hung with blankets,
And treasures, from far away;

With only the rudest of comforts,
But bits of beauty, too;
A lovely quilted coverlet,
A bowl of clearest blue;

Within your four rude walls,
Were all that a home need hold;
A courageous wife and babies,
Better than Ophir's gold!

Beneath your roof, a shelter,
Within your four walls, cheer,
And courage and homely comfort;
All that a man holds dear.

All of the comforts needful,
And all of the beauty, too,
First Home, of the rolling prairie,
Old Dugout, we honor you!

SAFETY ADVICE

Every time you drive in the rain, your vehicle is subject to a phenomenon called "hydroplaning," especially if most of the tread is worn off your tires. What happens is that the tires, at certain speeds, usually between 50 and 60 mph, will ride on a film of water rather than on the road surface. When this occurs, it can be dangerous because the driver has no control for steering or braking. The depth of the water has a lot to do with hydroplaning. But a car is more likely to "water ski" at speeds of between 30 and 40 mph if the water depths exceeds the tire tread depth, and particularly if the road surface is hard and smooth such as asphalt or ice. It is less likely to happen on heavily textured surfaces and if tires have deep treads. This allows water to squirt through rather than build up a wedge in front of each tire. How to avoid "water skiing" with your automobile? The Car Care Council suggests that motorists observe the following:
• Make sure tires are in good condition with plenty of tread.
• Reduce speed on wet highways.
• Watch for heavy crosswinds while driving on wet highways.
• Leave extra distance between yourself and the vehicle ahead when the highway is wet.

UNKLE ZEKE SEZ

Summer has really got to our little place. If I didn't know it from the heat and the bragging the fellers is doing about their gardens, I couldn't miss it at church. I got to looking around at the wimmen in church Sunday, and it was so funny til I stayed awake through the sermon. Some of the young gals wear them floppy hats that got enough material in em to make three of their dresses. And the older wimmen that I won't call heavy, but I will say they is more of em than some others, allus wear tiny hats that you can hardly find on their heads. But I'll say this fer the wimmen at our little church, they ain't none showed up yet in them overalls that in fashion now. Maybe its because the overalls is to hot fer summer, or maybe its like my old lady said. She told me them overalls zip up the back and they ain't no way wimmen can zip em by theirself. She said she could see wimmen would have a problem if they sudden needed a zipper helper during church. Another reason I know it's summer is that Ed Doolittle reported during the session at the country store Saturday night that he has got from his congressman the latest list of pamphlets put out by the Department of Agriculture. He said he hadn't got one in recent years, so he figgered this was part of the Nixon Administration's campaign to win the farm vote. But the timing is the same, Ed allowed, coming to late to do him any good with his garden. Ed said they was 1,000 or more on the list, and he said it was amazing to him that a Government that needed so much help from the citizens could be expert in so many things. Fer instant, Ed said, he was ordering a pamphlet called "The Housefly and How to Control It" to see if he had to form a study committee and call in the health people fer a survey afore he put up a screen door and got his old lady a new swatter. Zeke Grubb was full agreed with Ed that its a wonder how a Government that has so many problems of its own can find time to offer so much advice. Zeke said he had saw in his lifetime Government git control of roads, rent, prices, wages, crops, credit and everthing he could think of except the hereafter, and he said he wouldn't be surprised to see Congress or the Supreme Court git started on that. Actual, Mister Editor, I see by the papers where U. S. Senator Sam Ervin says these are times that tax our patience. I reckon if they can tax that, the hereafter is next.

Mrs. G. H. Brown has moved her home to Jayton from the ranch southwest of Girard, just across the street from the home they built here before moving to the country. We are very glad to have Mrs. Brown back in Jayton.

The mowers are really running in the back yards this Monday morning. Since the rains showers of last week the weeds always seem to get the most benefits.

Received a letter from Mrs. Sallie Goodrich of Amarillo. We always enjoy hearing from friends whom we have known so long. We always look forward to hear of visits at home-coming and any time she can drop by. Thank you for writing and letting us hear from you.

Saturday Morning the Benzie Smith's left early for Lawton, Okla., to visit his brother, John, who has been very ill. When we left we didn't know if he would still be here. But when we left Sunday afternoon he was still holding his own and the doctor gave us some hopes that he just might make it, yet.

We visited with Mrs. John Smith and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. E. L. Scott (Betty Pearl) also Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Woods of Arnette, Okla. They met us there. Mr. Scott is captain of the traffic division of the Lawton police department and they have their headaches like almost all the cities. The bussing of students is distasteful to the Black race as their children will be bussed across town. They were demonstrating against the idea both Saturday and Sunday evening. They will bus the white children across town where they have bussed the Black children from boy-when and where? Any way the children seem to be the ones that get the tiring ride. They have to leave home earlier to get to school, and always later in getting home.

To some of the very old timers, word has been received of the death of Roy Woods who lived here many years ago. He and his family moved to Alaska about 1940 where they have lived since. He is survived by his wife Annie, two sons and one daughter, several grandchildren all of Alaska, three bro-

The last two weeks when a front comes by sure does cool the weather down. We still could use a good rain. At this time it would do the most good. On our trip to Okla., over the weekend, we saw many pretty fields and some of the fields were standing in water. Most of the fields were reasonably clean for this time of the year. Could be the weed chemicals that are put down to kill the weeds.

A recent obituary that was put in a large news paper in another state, with the cost to the family of $1.20 a line, seems a bit high.
