Annual 4-H Club Stock Show Friday And Saturday

Plans are now complete for the unwinding of the 30th Annual Kent County Livestock Show to be held at the Clairemont 4-H Club Center Friday and Saturday.

Classes of market hogs will be judged. Following the swine judging, four classes of lambs will be placed.

On Saturday morning, three classes of beef steers will be judged. Two classes of Quarter horse fillies will be placed following the beef judging.

Livestock judge will be Jesse Holloway from Lubbock Christian College. E.W. Cade Jr. will place the horse entries.

Prizes will be given to the 4-H Club members from contributions being made to the Livestock Show Committee. Gus Fischer is finance chairman for the show.

The 4-H Club members and parents will maintain a concession stand on Friday and Saturday during the show. A barbeque will be served at noon on Saturday for $1.50 a plate.

The top 50% of each market class will sell at auction on Saturday afternoon. Animals that place in the lower 50% of each class will sell at floor price.

Information Given On Set-Aside Program

New emphasis placed on quality set-aside acres for producers who participate in the 1972 Wheat, Cotton and Feed Grain programs. Due to the results of audits in some states it has been determined that in 1971 some farmers set-aside from production acreage that was below normal production.

The set-aside is made from. Not only must the acreage be capable of growing the crop in question, it must also be as productive. No longer will the poorest land on the farm qualify as set-aside acres.

To reduce to a minimum the number of cases that will cause reduction in payments it is urged that producers designate their set-aside in blank rows of (at least 2 blanks will be required) the crop in question. A pattern of 2 rows of a crop and 2 blanks count 50% crop and 50% set-aside. Kent County producers are reminded that March 10 is the last day to sign up in the 1972 farm program.

Grady Harrison Funeral Coleman Monday

Harrison died about 9:30 p.m. Saturday in a local hospital. He was retired Coleman employee and had lived in Coleman since 1915.

Surviving besides his son is another son, Jim Bob Harrison of El Paso; four sisters, Mrs. Grace Coker, Mrs. D. D. Johnston, Mrs. Ora Marwick and Mrs. Addie Shirra, all of Tyler; and five grandchildren.

Jayton Freshmen Are Pledges At West Texas

Two students from Jayton are among the 90 pledges of the five national social fraternities at West Texas State University this spring semester.

LETTER TO EDITOR

It was my pleasure to visit the art display at the library. I was amazed. I had no idea there was so much talent in Jayton and adjoining communities.

I have visited art galleries including Los Angeles County Museum, Salt Lake City Museum, Detroit and Alpena Michigan and Ontario Canada Museum and I do not believe that I have ever seen a better art display than we have here in Jayton.

I cannot draw a mud fence hut. I believe that I can appreciate art. Adolphus Moreland.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Moreland: I do enjoy Mr. Moreland's pieces in the Jayton paper, and do hope he's able to write more about Double Mountain. I walked to school there last grade. I remember our teaching turning school out one day as a panther's screaming got closer and closer. We had real candles on the school Christmas tree too, but they were blown out quick. We later had to go to Luson's school, and always stopped at Uncle Sam's store for a "penny candy". Some Sundays a bunch of the neighbors would go on an all day picnic to Double Mountain. It was a long ride. Course we all went in wagons. After we moved to Jayton, I did go on those plum picking trips in the summer with us to Uncle Cal Cade's place on the river? I know we got a lot of plums to can.

It is time I hit the road for Canon City and the job. That's 16 miles one way. I'm really tired when I get home so seldom write to any one but do think of you and hope you are well. Sincerely, Top Davis Akred Mrs. Edna Akred 315 5GD Penrose, Colo. 81240

Easter Seal Fund Drive To Start Soon

The 1972 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Kent County on Monday February 28, according to Mr. Robert Hall, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county.

He said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about February 28. As Easter Seal Representative, Mr. Hall is the person to contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults. Last year over 22,000 handicapped people received help from the Texas Easter Seal Society. With the costs of providing expert professional care rising, more money than ever will be needed.

Young Farmers Hear Kent County Judge

Robert Gallagher, Kent County judge, presented the program at the Stonewall County Young Farmers meeting. The meeting was held Thursday in the vocational agriculture building. Judge Gallagher discussed the advantages and disadvantages of the newly proposed salt water dams to be built in Stonewall and Kent Counties.

Social Security Has Answers On Medicare

Some people may be confused by advertising which seems to suggest that some private health insurance plans have an official connection with Medicare, according to Don Austin Field Representative of the social security office in Abilene. "Some advertising may, at first glance, suggest that a private company has access to Medicare records," Austin said. "Some may use envelopes used to send out monthly social security checks. The names of some private health insurance companies may resemble a Government bureau."

The facts are, Austin said: "Medicare records are confidential by law. Private insurance companies do not have access to Medicare records. Even if the company is a Medicare carrier or intermediary, its authorized employees are restricted in their use of the Medicare records."

"People who have questions about private health insurance advertising that involves Medicare should get in touch with Don Austin who visits Aspermont regularly. See the current schedule at the Post Office."

Moffett Was Cotton Farmer

Senator George Moffett was probably as well known as a farmer as he was as a senator. In fact, Moffett, whose family had been farmers and stockmen since the days of the American Revolution, listed his occupation as "farmer."

Music Auditions Set At Western College

Music scholarship auditions will be held Friday and Saturday, March 17-18, in the Fine Arts Center Rehearsal Hall on the Western Texas College campus in Snyder. It has been announced by Dr. Marvin C. Genuchi, chairman of the Music Department.

Students interested in scholarships for piano, voice, or stage band instrumentation should contact Dr. Genuchi to receive a time for their audition during those days. Friday, March 17, auditions will be held from 2-5. See page 5 please

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q I sold my home last December at a $5,000 profit. Do I have to report this as income when I file my 1971 return?

A) Yes. You may include as an item of support medical insurance premiums you paid, as well as other expenditures you made for her medical and dental care. However, the benefits received from medical insurance policies are not included in support.

A) Not if, within one year before or after the sale you buy and occupy another residence that costs as much or more than the sales price of the old residence. Additional time is allowed if you construct the new residence or you were on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces. In such a case, the tax is postponed, not forgiven. Any gain not taxed in the year you sell your old residence is subtracted from the cost of the new residence giving you a lower basis to be used in the event of a later disposition. If you sell the new residence in a later year, and again replace it, under similar circumstances, any tax on the gain you realize may continue to be postponed.

Q) After four years of attending college full-time and working part-time to help pay for it, I graduated last year and took a full-time job. Can I use income averaging to reduce my tax?

Q) Are there any limits on how much you can deduct as a charitable contribution?

A) Yes. In general, contributions to most charities, such as churches, educational organizations, hospitals, etc., may be deducted up to 50 percent of your adjusted gross income. However, contributions to certain private non-operating foundations, veterans organizations, fraternal societies, and cemetery organizations are limited to 30 percent of adjusted gross income. The organization itself can tell you which of the two categories it falls into.

Q) I won a new car last year in a radio contest. Do I have to pay tax on this prize?

A) Yes. Prizes and awards you receive in goods or services must be included in income at their fair market value.

Q) I had two jobs last year and I think my employer withheld too much for Social Security. How can I get this back?

A) If you worked for two or more employers during 1971, and received more than $7,800 of wages subject to Social Security tax, you are entitled to claim the excess Social Security tax withheld as a credit against your income tax. Check your tax returns instructions for information on how to compute the credit.

Q) I sued to recover damages for injuries I incurred in an auto accident. I settled for $7,500 before we ever got to trial. Is the $7,500 tax-free?

A) Yes if it is compensation for personal injury or illness. Such compensation is not taxable, whether you receive it after trial or through settlement.

Q) I paid my daughter's medical insurance premiums last year. Do I include these premiums in the amount of support I furnished her when figuring out whether or not I can claim her as a dependent?

A) Yes. You can consider income averaging, a basic requirement is that you must have furnished 50 percent or more of your own support during each of the four years prior to 1971. IRS Publication 506, "Computing Your Tax Under the Income Averaging Method," explains all the details of income averaging. It's available free by dropping a postcard to your IRS district office.

Farmer's Tax Guide Now Available

The 1972 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" is now available from county agricultural agents or the Internal Revenue Service, Ellis Campbell, Jr., IRS District Director for North Texas, said today.

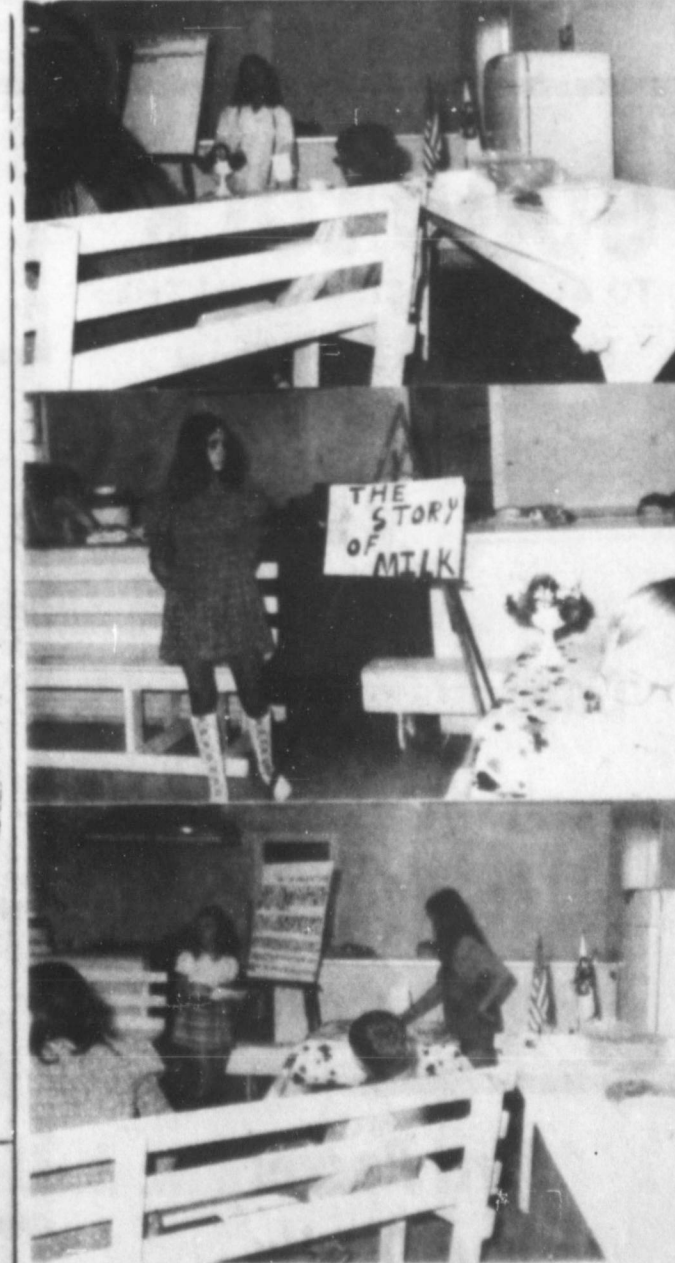

The booklet, IRS Publication 225, shows how farmers should fill out the 1040 tax return and which schedules should be attached. A listing of important Federal tax dates for farmers can also be found in the publication.

Written in non-technical language, the tax guide contains many examples of how farm transactions are handled for Federal income tax purposes. Although primarily written to help farmers prepare their 1971 tax return, the Guide is useful as a reference throughout the year.

Magic Carpet

Many of the season's most attractive carpets come with their own built-in cushioning as well as built-in economy.

Originally designed for outdoor areas such as pool or patio, "one-piece" carpeting soon found its way indoors. The kitchen, the family room and other areas where durable, inexpensive carpeting could be non-professionally installed became natural places.

(1) How to make a centerpiece, is the topic of a discussion given by La Rhonda Carrier. (2) Valorie Panter here is giving a demonstration on the story of milk. (3) Tammy Panter left and Julie Panter here are shown giving a demonstration on the ABC's of table setting. (4-H Club Photos)

TICKLE BOX by Ted Trogdon

Unkel Zeke Sez

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster reported to the fellers at the country store Saturday night where he had saw more farmers and ranchers was killed on the job last year than in any other working group. Living off the land, according to this piece Clem read, is the third most dangerous occupation they is.

Bug Hookum said he didn't know what the No. 1 and No. 2 jobs was, unless it was dodging cars and working as a lightning rod. Bug allowed the American Public Health Association that got up that study don't know the half of it. Farmers and ranchers that survive from one year to the next just barely make it. Bug said he and his old lady jest tend a garden, but that's more than enuff.

Per instant, Bug said, last summer he tried to git up by sun time, work by standard time, go fer the mail and watch television on daylight time and go to bed by God's time, and he had one heckuva time all around. And from what Bug said he reads in the farm journals about rotating and estimating crops and income, it ain't no wonder a farmer gits his mind on other matters and gits huct. He's like the workers that turn out "Monday cars" on assembly lines. The car companies say Monday cars are the lemons cause everybody has their mind on the weekend and can't do their job.

Actual, Mister Editor, you never know how to figger reports like Clem saw. I recollect this feller saying on television that ever person in the United States is worth $90,000. He went on to say that was counting what's in the ground, like coal and gas. Figgering that way, my little piece is worth $200,000 if it'll grow a $2,000 crop ever year for the next century. Some of the crackpot stuff makes you doubt the rest of it. I heard of this feller that was studying fleas. He taught the flea to do tricks, and he wrote down everthing. He pulled off two of the flea's legs and he'd still do tricks. When he pulled off all six legs and the flea wouldn't do nothing, the feller wrote that when you remove all a flea's legs he goes deaf.

General speaking, we got to doubt most of the stuff we read about. I saw this piece in a old magazine in the barber-shop where this preacher said he was in contact with the hermit, on the hot line I reckon. He told about conditions down below and they seemed to be pritty much like he sees 'as world, so I guess I was saying that what we're here after will have a heap to do with our hereafter. I don't doubt his message, Mister Editor, jest his means.

Personal, I figger living is gitting more and more hazardous to my health. I took a spell of the cold last week and my old lady said that after he's 60, a man ain't nothing but a maintenance problem anyhow. But I ain't wanting no early looks at the hereafter.

IT NEVER FAILS

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Nobody's Child"

Right now, roughly one American baby in 10 is being born out of wedlock. Together, these children form yet another "minority" group in our society—the illegitimates. Do they too have constitutional rights? Does the Constitution guarantee them equal treatment, just as it does to racial and religious minorities? The common law had a scornful name for anyone born to an unwed woman: filius nullius—"nobody's child." For centuries, such children labored under severe legal handicaps.

However, a recent decision by the United States Supreme Court has taken a giant step toward equalizing their status.

The case arose when five illegitimate children sought damages for the wrongful death of their mother in a hospital. Under state law, illegitimate children had no right to make this kind of a claim.

But the Court disregarded the state law and ruled that the children's claim must be allowed. The Court said it was unfair to penalize them for a characteristic over which they had no control. In its decision, the Court recalled the anguished protest of an illegitimate son in King Lear:

"Why bastard, wherefore bastards? Does this ruling mean that from now on, illegitimate children will have exactly the same rights as legitimate children?"

Not necessarily. In one case, the question was whether an illegitimate son had the right to be supported by his father. The court said yes, because to rule otherwise would be to "cast the burden upon the innocent child."

But in another case, the question was whether an illegitimate child was automatically entitled to the same inheritance rights as a legitimate child. This time, the answer was no. The court said that, just as inheritance laws could favor sons over grandsons or first cousins over second cousins, so they could favor legitimate children over illegitimate children.

Discrimination is lawful if it has some reasonable purpose, said the court, and discouraging illegitimacy is a reasonable purpose.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

We've all heard that a picture is worth a thousand words. But this photo tells the whole story of mankind. The barbed wire symbolizes this earth we live in—filled with war, hatred, greed. Transcending the ugliness of this world is the Cross, symbol of Christ's sacrifice for us, the promise of eternal life. But we don't have to wait till death for a better life. We can do something about that barbed wire. More understanding, and selfless—not selfish—action would do much to purge our world of ugliness. God's Church is the natural means of resolving discord. Human nature being what it is, heaven on earth is impossible. But improvement on earth is possible—necessary!

NEW SPORTS

Sporty slip-ons have demoralized the hardware touches. Traditional moccasins seem to stick primarily with classic styling, or perhaps add a tassel or knitie.

The thirtieth annual Kent County Livestock Show will be held at the 4-H Club Barn in Claremont, Feb. 25-26. Approximately 120 animals will be exhibited by the 4-H Club members.

Judging in the swine classes will begin on Friday afternoon, Feb. 25, at 6:00 p.m. One class of breeding animals and three classes of market animals will be judged. Approximately 50 hogs will be exhibited in the swine division.

Lamb judging will follow the hog judging. Four classes of market lambs will be placed: finewool, crossbred, Hampshire breed, and South down breed. Thirty seven lambs will compete in the sheep division.

On Saturday morning the beef steers will be placed, beginning at 9:00 a.m. Three classes of calves will be judged. Twenty five calves will be judged in three classes: lightweight, medium, and heavy weight.

Following the calf judging, two classes of Quarterhorse fillies will be placed. Five horses will be judged in the horse division.

Floor auction for the market animals will be just before lunch. The top 50 of each market class will sell in the premium auction after lunch.

A noon barbeque will be served for $1.50 a plate. Following the barbeque, awards will be presented and the premium auction will be held.

James Holloway of Lubbock Christian College will judge the show. Eddie Moody of L. C. C. will classify the lambs.

Contract Selling A Closer Look For Cotton

Some Texas producers have suffered severe losses as a result of cotton and grain sales contracts signed in 1971. This should not discourage the use of sales contracts, but it should encourage producers to take a closer look at the contracts they sign.

It is generally assumed that when a producer signs a contract at a given price level that

US Rapped On World Grain Activity

In both blunt and diplomatic language, the U.S. was urged to quit depressing world wheat and grain prices by spokesmen for the European Economic Community, Canada and Australia. Advice came during the recent convention of the National Association of Wheat Growers.

E. K. Turner, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, told the delegates that Canada & others have no wheat to sell until after July, "so when it boils down you have the market to yourselves for the rest of the year. Why... continue to put downward pressures on it?"

The Canadian suggested we heed wishes of producers, quit listening to traders, and take the lead in renegotiating the international Wheat Agreement with floor prices, as the Senate has directed.

L. V. Price, president of the Australian wheat growers Federation, told the meeting that failure to negotiate a floor price in the last world agreement was a "major disappointment." He warned that the relapse into "cut throat competition" threatens "worthwhile forms of production management" and, in turn, "the concept of the family farm."

Pierre Maive of the EEC trade office in the U.S. told wheat growers that "it is most important to be convinced of the limits" of an aggressive export policy founded on the lowest possible prices to win new markets. Using diplomatic language, he also observed that price cutting comes easier in a country where grain trade is in the saddle, out-weighing the voice of producers.

These pleas of wheat exporting nations will be quoted by Congressmen Neal Smith's performance on a certain day last month in the U.S. House of Representatives? Responding to arguments that proposed strategic grain reserve legislation would result in higher food prices, Smith urged a bunch of five-pound bags to the floor of the House. "I want to show you folks," Smith told his fellow lawmakers, "that this bill has nothing to do with consumer prices." Then he proceeded to reveal the contents and prices of packages which he had purchased in the Washington, D.C., area.

Cheaper Than Dirt

Lives there a farmer who could not have applauded Iowa Congressman Neal Smith's performance on a certain day last month in the U.S. House of Representatives?

Responding to arguments that proposed strategic grain reserve legislation would result in higher food prices, Smith urged a bunch of five-pound bags to the floor of the House. "I want to show you folks," Smith told his fellow lawmakers, "that this bill has nothing to do with consumer prices." Then he proceeded to reveal the contents and prices of packages which he had purchased in the Washington, D.C., area.

Included were:
5 lbs. cornmeal 59c
5 lbs. flour 59c
5 lbs. potting soil 69c
5 lbs. cat litter 79c
5 lbs. cow manure 79c
5 lbs. sheep manure 79c

"So you can see that corn and wheat are cheaper than dirt," Smith pointed out. "They are not just dirt cheap; they are cheaper than dirt!"

Shortly thereafter, the urban-dominated U.S. House passed the Smith-sponsored strategic grain reserve bill by a vote of 182 to 170.

p.m., and on Saturday, March 18, auditions will be held from 9-12 a.m.

"A student has a conflict on these dates," Dr. Genuchi commented. "We will do everything we can to find another time for an audition. We do need to hear from them, however, to know that they are interested."

Each audition will be based on technical facility, tone quality, and sight reading ability with all materials furnished to the auditionees.

Mexican Dinner

6 T. chili powder
1 can tomato soup
2 lge. onions, finely chopped
Shortening
2 lb. ground meat
1 t. salt
1 t. pepper
Garlic salt
1 can lge. tortilla or 2 1/2 doz.
1 1/3 lb. cheese, grated
2 tomatoes, chopped
1 to 2 cans ranch style beans
1 can sm. tortilla or 2 1/2 doz.

TOMATO SAUCE: Dissolve half of chili powder in hot water; add tomato soup and heat, but do not boil. Set aside.

MEAT SAUCE: Brown half of onions in small amount shortening; add meat and season with salt, pepper, remaining chili powder and garlic salt. Cook until meat is well done and set aside.

TACOS: Dip twelve large tortillas quickly into very hot grease, fold into u-shape and stuff with paper napkins to help hold shape. Bake at 300-350 degrees to crisp. When ready to serve, fill with small amount of meat sauce, onion,

Argyles, Ribs Footnotes to Newer Looks

For the man who wants to put his best foot forward, over-the-calf and mid-calf hose seem to have a new look. In keeping with fashion's return to the classics, today's male has his choice of argyles and plaids, ribs and knits - in colorful combinations. Trouser hang-ups - clinging, twisting, lint pick-up - appear to be problems of the past with the appearance of anti-static fibers. Marine blue, bright olive, coffee brown and whiskey could be the season's favorite colors.

Mexican Chowder

1 lb. ground beef
2 T. oil
1 envelope French's chili-o
4 c. cold water
1 1-lb. can tomatoes
1 1-lb. can red kidney beans and liquid
1 c. alphabet macaroni
1 1-lb. and niblet corn
1/2 lb. sliced process cheese
Brown beef in oil. Stir in chili-o. Add water, tomatoes and beans; bring to boil. Stir in macaroni and cook 10 minutes. Add corn and heat. Serve hot with cheese cut in the shape of Mexican hats. Yield: 8 servings.

ENCHALADAS: Dip twelve large tortillas in very hot grease; place 1 tablespoon tomato sauce, 1 1/2 tablespoons meat sauce, 1 tablespoon cheese and 1 teaspoon onion on each tortilla. Roll and place in pan. Add portion of tomato sauce and sprinkle with cheese and onion; heat in oven until cheese melts.

It's Nautical Fashion For A Young Miss

Ship ahoy! Girls are setting sail on a nautical course. Spring and see-worthy dresses, with navy-inspired collars and bows, take on matched mates to pull in tow. Matching coats, with contrast piping and even capes can join the crew for a full fleet of looks.

Mexican Cornbread

1/2 c. buttermilk
3 beaten eggs
1 c. yellow corn meal
1/2 t. salt
1-3 jalapenos peppers, finely chopped
1 No. 303 can cream-style corn
2 lge. onions, finely chopped
3 cloves garlic, chopped
1/2 t. soda
3/4 lb. sharp Cheddar cheese, grated
1 green pepper, cut in strips
1 can pimento, cut in strips

Combine buttermilk and eggs; add meal, salt, jalapenos peppers, corn, onion, garlic and soda. Pour one half of this mixture into greased, hot cast iron skillet. Add cheese; add remaining batter. Garnish with green pepper and pimento. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Note: 3 peppers make bread very hot.

Ladylike Hair-Do's Are Back

The lady-like look of the Colbert and Lamar era has returned in this season's hair styling. Whether it is super-short or long, hair is fitted to the head. Gleaming and dazzling with health and beauty, hair will be expertly shaped to naturally suit the personality of the wearer. The cut still remains the most important thing and, where body or curl is needed, the body perm will be put into play, reports Helene Curtis. The new short and curly head may sport a gardenia or two to set a romantic, nostalgic mood. Or, short and wavy locks can be worn alone, accented with a barrette, or snugly under a veiled cloche. The longer locks are brushed into clusters of curls at the shoulders. A silken sweep of parted hair, in either length, uses curls and tendrils to interpret the spring and summer headlines.

Being Well Tressed

ALL SET FOR RHINESTONES
Elaborate hair styles are part of the wave of the future. And, in the spirit of coiffure d'amour, they are sparkling like a glass of bubbling champagne. Now rhinestones have joined the glittering array of high fashion enhancers. It all started a year ago with Yves St. Laurent's rhinestone star. In the Paris collection this season, a constellation of stars, arrows and hearts appeared on lapels, berets and belts. Rhinestones also made a debut in hair. Now American stores are ordering them for festive special occasions. Using a variety of rhinestones to add glitter, Mr. Paris of the Saks Fifth Avenue Salon designed this evening coiff. The glowing haircolor is Miss Clairol Flaxen Blonde. Rhinestones, though they're not actually gems, make for a "gem dandy" hair setting.

Our Neglected Sleeping Giant

I know this sounds almost too good to be true, but this (agriculture) $10 million industry, will almost double the per capita income for everyone living in your county, up to par with the national average. Thousands of communities depending from hundreds of thousands of dollars trying to attract new industries, with only a fraction of the rewards this one will bring. You already have this industry; we call it The Sleeping Giant. This mighty industry, The Sleeping Giant called Agriculture, is that area outside your community that hasn't had a pay raise in the past 15 years. It's the largest industry in the United States, but it's sick and dying, because rural businessmen, civic leaders, clergy, educators, labor, have not realized and deserve to be called leaders. How can we call ourselves businessmen and at the same time sit idly by and watch the well run dry that provides our community with its wealth? We are all trying to attract new industry and yet let the largest industry in America liquidate itself. There is a $10 million sleeping giant in our back yard - Support It!

-From Minnesota Business and Industrial Promotion Agency.

Ed Cobbe returned Monday from a weekend visit with relatives in Dallas.

Jessie Grice and wife spent the week here with relatives. They returned to Jall, N.M., Thursday.

Mrs. John York is rebuilding and modernizing her home in Jayton this week.

The rock work on the addition to the First State bank building will probably be completed this week. This new building will be an attractive addition to our city.

Mrs. Claude Kelly is opening a new lunch room in the Chevrolet Motor addition this week.

Representative C. L. Harris and Mrs. Huls Spur druggist were Jayton visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Clay Beaver of Abilene, Texas, formerly of Girard and Jayton was seeing friends in this county, Wednesday.

John Arden Wilson went to Aspermont Wednesday to visit his brother in law, Harold Kenady.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mason had business in Abilene, Tuesday in the p.m.
