As It Looks From Here

By Rep. Omar Buelson
 Member of Congress, Texas

LAST YEAR OUR GOVERNOR published a map showing the countries of the world most heavily engaged in narcotic traffic.

The map indicated that various states in the Middle East and the Orient were the principal sources of illegal drugs but strangely enough Communist China was not mentioned. Over many, many years it has been no secret that mainland China was one of the greatest drug producers in the world. When officials of this Administration were questioned on the subject, they replied that Red China decided to stop pushing heroin back ten or twelve years ago. Supposedly it is not exporting any at this time.

This does not match up with extensive investigation by recognized experts who have carefully looked into the matter.

For the past year and a half or so, our Government has been making a big to-do about cracking down on drug traffic and has focused attention on those nations which have been reported to be the big suppliers. We have even subsidized Turkish farmers to take out of cultivation the poppy plant from which the raw drug is made. We supposedly have an elaborate setup with the French Government to clamp down on illicit narcotic plants in France which are a source of the finished drug for shipment to the United States.

There is little doubt that Turkey and Iran, with the cooperation of the drug refineries in France, have been a problem for us in trying to control drug traffic into this country but, the fact remains that according to what appear to be reliable accounts, Communist China is the largest supplier of hard addictive drugs in the world today.

In years past, the subject has been brought to the official notice of the United Nations by the American Government. Former U. S. Narcotic Commissioner, Harry Anslinger, has written extensively on Red China's "cultivation, manufacture, export, distribution and sale of opium, morphine and heroin" as a means of raising money and snaring recruits for revolutionary purposes. The writer, Stanton Evans, recently called attention to Mr. Anslinger's book entitled "The Murderers", published in 1961. In the book the author cites chapter and verse on narcotics smuggled into the U. S. in all sorts of ways from the China mainland.

The Communists use crews of merchant ships, passengers and crews of aircraft, as well as their own couriers and agents for smuggling narcotics into this country. Mr. Anslinger, recognized authority on this subject, says that over the years the Los Angeles area alone probably received more than 40 percent of the smuggled contraband from China's heroin and morphine plants.

Another authority, professor of the Hoover Institution, notes a disclosure of a high official in the Egyptian Government that Chou En-Lai related to the then Egyptian President Nasser that the "Communists planted the best kind of opium for the American soldiers in Vietnam."

This opinion and calculation is supported by District Attorney John Steinberg of Philadelphia, who conducted a thorough study of drug problems in Vietnam. Attorney Steinberg noted that heroin was sold in Vietnam at prices far lower than the market rate, indicating a more sinister purpose than just the profit motive. It was, of course, for the demoralization of our troops and in some places in South Vietnam and Cambodia it has had that effect. These findings indicate the scheme reportedly revealed by Chou En-Lai.

Another authoritative source,

Dr. Robert Baird, asserts that Peking is planning a major narcotic offensive against America proper. Dr. Baird alleges that our Nation is being misled that Turkey, Iran and other sources produce approximately 55 to 60 percent of the world's hard drugs. He says this is simply not the case insofar as the supply reaching the United States is concerned, and, contrarily, the source is Communist China.

Other researchers on the question have revealed in some detail their investigations into the narcotic traffic from Red China into Hong Kong and thence into the U. S. The experts are able to analyze the method of refining drugs and identify the source. They are positive in their conclusion that by far the greatest amount of hard drugs coming through Hong Kong and analyzed are obviously from Red China. They can even identify the particular area, down to the village-run farms in China in their identification.

Regardless of improve relations with Red China, if these are real facts, and they appear to be, we are face to face with a situation with Red China that simply staggers the imagination.

Since we are now on speaking terms with Peking, it would seem far better to demand a stop to the filthy drug traffic than to talk about cultural exchanges.

Fairly Free Private Enterprise

Curbside flower vendors became so numerous in a certain community that the regular florists began to complain about the competition. Finally, the city council passed a tough licensing law aimed at knocking the street vendors out of business.

But when the new law was tested in court, it was held null and void. The court said the city simply had no power to regulate a business as harmless as selling flowers.

Private enterprise, while not wholly free, still has considerable vitality. A city's "police power" does not include blanket authority over all kinds of business activities, just because they happen to be within the city limits.

On the other hand, a city may indeed impose restraints on a business that has a real potential for harm. Consider the case of a man who started a telephone answering service. According to a city ordinance, he and his employees were supposed to submit to photographing and fingerprinting. Challenging the ordinance, the man said it was unfair to "single us out."

But a court saw two ways in which a telephone answering service could be harmful:

- 1) by the misuse of confidential information about subscribers; and
- 2) by the encouragement of immoral activities.

Upholding the city's requirements, the court said: "There is a reasonable basis for distinguishing this type of business from others that are not regulated."

Another ordinance, covering private detectives, went still further. Under its terms, they had to put up a special bond and get a character clearance from the police department.

But again, a court decided there were enough possibilities for mischief in this line of work to justify the city in taking precautions. As one judge put it: "A statute to promote the public safety is valid, although it may interfere with individual freedom. Individual freedom must yield to the public good."

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle's daughter that lives in the city spent a few days with her folks recent, and Ed came to the store Saturday night with a little story she told. Ed passed it along to the fellers after filling in around the edges pretty good to suit hisself.

Ed's daughter and a married friend was downtown shopping a while back, and they had a baby in one of them little scooters. They had bought an article in a fancy store when it come time to tend to the baby. Not knowing just what to do with the old one after she got the clean one on, the mama put the article in another store bag and stored the dirty diaper in the bag with the fancy store name.

After they had done their shopping and was heading back to the parking lot, three boys run by, grabbed the fancy store bag and kept running. Ed's daughter said somewhere that day three little devils got a surprise they deserved.

The way justice is running, allowed Ed, it would be better if the wimmen kept quiet about the case of the stole diaper. If it could be showed they put the diaper in the bag with meditation and malice aforethought, said Ed, they probable could be hauled in court fer misleading miners or somepun. We've already reached the place where we put the blame fer stole cars on the victim that leaves keys in the switch, said Ed, so afore long we'll have the hole system turned around.

The fellers was agreed that victims that report crimes usual wind up with more trouble than the crooks. It were Josh Clodhopper that said if Cain was tried today fer slewing Abel, he'd come clean fer want of proper procedure, ipso facto, pluribus unum. Fer instant, the Officer that got the confession from Cain never onct told him of his rights, and the pore defendunt didn't even have a lawyer. Josh was of the mind that today the victim is presumed guilty until the defendunt is proved innocent.

Ed said that same kind of turned-around thinking goes over in matters where folks figger they are so right they are above the law. He said he has saw by the papers where they is a cause called ecotage. The word comes from ecology and sabotage, and it means to sabotage in the name of ecology. Fer instant, to keep water clean they will plug up sewer lines that dump in the water. They know this is damaging property, but they figger the cause is greater than the law. They say what's wrong is the "system" that makes their ecotage necessary.

Clem Webster said he had saw where somepun called the National Welfare Rights Organization wants "welfare not warfare," but they say they have declared war on them that has wealth and power but won't give it to em. I reckon that takes care of the old line about "them as has, gits."

Sincerely,
 Unkle Zeke

The night was dark and calm. All creatures were silent and leaves stood still as a lone man knelt in a garden called Gethsemane and prayed, "Not as I will, but as Thou wilt."

Around Him Jesus' disciples lay sleeping. Soon He knew would come betrayal, public condemnation and derision . . . and the long last march. And yet He prayed, "Thy will be done."

In the shadow of the Cross Jesus demonstrated perfect love and trust for God, His Father. In the hours ahead He would establish His Sonship for the atonement of all mankind.

And to today, in a world that needs this message of hope, let us commemorate that first Good Friday by acknowledging God as our Father, helping our churches to illustrate His way to the hungry, the sick, and the needy.

Easter Egg Tradition

The tradition of Easter eggs came to the United States from Europe. "In Ireland, the Lenten Fast is traditionally broken at dawn on Easter Day with a meal of eggs," said Mrs. Roberts Stanaland, Extension county home demonstration agent.

"In Italy, it's popular to pay calls to other homes on Easter Sunday. Everyone who enters the house is offered one blessed Easter egg. A host would be offended if this symbol of the Resurrection were refused."

In the 17th Century, it was customary for the people of the British Isles to write messages on eggs at Easter and send them to distant friends or relatives. For generations people in the Ukraine have covered eggs with intricate designs resembling stained glass windows. It may take several days of tinting to cover a single egg with these designs.

The agent explained that the White House Easter egg roll was started on the Capitol grounds in 1278, the egg roll was moved to the White House lawn and has become a tradition here.

"Eggs are a highly nutritious food," Mrs. Roberta Stanaland noted. "Noted only are hard-cooked eggs a part of the Easter tradition, but they provide an excellent way to serve eggs. In preparing your hard-cooked eggs for Easter decorating, and eating obtain best results by following a few suggestions. These will be especially helpful if you've had trouble peeling eggs in the past."

To prevent cracking shells when using eggs directly from the refrigerator, the agent suggested warming them a few minutes in warm water before placing in boiling water.

Next, lower the eggs into the boiling water carefully. Reduce the heat and hold eggs at a simmering temperature (185 degrees), for 18 minutes. Higher cooking temperatures or lower cooking time causes the white to lose its tender texture and become rubbery.

Remember to remove the eggs from the simmering water immediately and place under cold running water (60 degrees or less) until cool. This helps prevent the dark green color around the yolk.

Crackle the shell and peel from the large end. To crackle a shell, roll the egg between two hands or crackle the shell thoroughly all over the egg in some other way. It's often a good idea to place the egg in some other way. It's often a good idea to place the egg under running water to peel it.

This information was provided by Dr. David Mellor, Extension poultry marketing specialist.

Cockeyed Cake

A Favorite Recipe of Nancy (Mrs. Ben) Barnes

1 1/2 c. sifted flour
3 T. cocoa
1 t. soda
1 c. sugar
1/2 t. salt

5 T. cooking oil
1 T. vinegar
1 t. vanilla
1 c. cold water

Put your sifted flour back in the sifter, add to it the cocoa, soda, sugar, and salt and sift this right into a greased square cake pan, about 9" x 9" x 2". Now you make three grooves, or holes, in this dry mixture. Into one, pour the oil; into the next one, pour the vinegar; and into the next one, pour the vanilla. Now pour the cold water over it all. You'll feel like you're making mud pies now, but beat it with a spoon until it is nearly smooth and you cannot see the flour. Bake it at 350 degrees for half an hour.

Use chocolate covered mints as icing. Place in oven to melt mints. Hot cake will do part of the job.

Personally we have very little love for cats of any kind and this "critter" with his big yellow eyes and savage growl, did not strike our fancy in the least. He was a sure enough Wampus Cat in size and from what we saw of him would judge him to be full grown and amply able to take care of himself in a scrap with a good half dozen dogs. He was the largest cat ever exhibited in Jayton and in stocked with his breed we will be content to stay near home at night.

Green Thumb Tips
One of the newest stoop-savers in gardening is seed embedded in water-soluble tape. Seeds are accurately spaced according to kind.
The gardener need only open a trench in previously-prepared soil, lay the tape in the bottom, cover to the depth given in the directions on the package, and firm soil to tape.
Rain or artificial water will dissolve the tape, leaving seeds in place, ready to grow.
Gardeners who have trouble after eating cucumbers, should grow the kind named Burpless. Its low acid content allows anyone to indulge and yet be comfortable afterward.
In speaking of beans, why do people always say "green beans"?
There also are yellow beans (more commonly known as "wax" beans) and purple-podded beans which turn green when cooked.
A good "mixer" in any garden is baby's breath, with its delicate branching habit and tiny white blossoms.
It succeeds in any soil, in full sun, and matures so quickly that you'll need to sow seeds every 2 weeks in order to have flowers all summer.
Why not grow perennial flowers from seeds? If sown in spring the little plants will be ready to move into permanent locations well before frost.
A good many kinds will have a flower or two the first year.

Bill Duke was our tenant farmer that year and Byron Smith's hounds had treed this cat south of the barns down in the canyon. He roped him from the tree and found the dogs off him. Bill Duke and Guff tied his feet together over a long tree limb and brought him over their shoulders to the house. He was tethered to a post and they stretched the tether as far as it would go before they cut the bonds on his feet to let him go. You can bet no one ever got any closer than the end of his tether.

The girl was very rich and the young man was poor but honest. She liked him, but that was all, and he knew it. One night he had been a little more tender than usual.
"You are very rich," he ventured.
"Yes," she replied frankly. "I'm worth one million dollars."
"Will you marry me?" he asked.
"No."
"I thought you wouldn't."
"Then why did you ask me?"
"Oh, just to see how a man feels when he loses one million dollars."

After reaching their full growth, some mushrooms only live for just a few hours.

A Tiny Raindrop

A raindrop is a tiny thing. But small as it is, when it falls on bare soil, it moves a few particles of soil as it strikes. A lot of raindrops toss around a lot of soil particles. The pounding raindrops seal the pores in the soil. The water accumulates faster than it can enter the soil and run off, carrying with it soil particles that have been "bloughed by the raindrops. And moving water has force and cutting power.

That is what soil erosion is - the detachment and transportation of soil material. The process tears the soil apart in a hurry, after it took nature hundreds of years to put the soil together. Wind goes the same thing to bare soil - tears it apart and moves it. But neither wind nor water does any harm if soil is covered with dense growing vegetation and a litter or mulch, or dead leaves and stalks.

...comes in every year about this time...be likes to save where it's safe."

Thrilling Historic Ride

You can leave the world's oldest existing town in one of the very newest ways if you take a nine-minute gondola ride that's remembered as an exciting highlight of the trip by visitors to the Middle East.

Along the way, you get a magnificent view of Jounieh Bay, where history has it that the whale put Jonah ashore.

The town is Byblos in Lebanon. On the road from that ancient community to Beirut is the gondola station, where another gondola comes along every 30 seconds.

The memory of riding from there to the top of Mount Lebanon is said to last for more than 30 years.

Pythagoras first announced the belief that the world is round.
