As It Looks From Here

By Rep. Omar Burleson
Member of Congress, Texas

Remember that part of a little limerick which goes something like this: "It's either too cold or it's either too hot; we are always wanting what is not." It was meant to suggest that some people constantly complain and are never happy with anything.

In this political year the weather might be about the most noncontroversial subject.

On the other hand there is always a good chance of finding argument, even about the weather.

Jokingly some people will say, "Send us a rain from Washington." Actually it is fortunate for the Country that the weather is a product of natural forces or sublime direction rather than the work of a committee of Congress.

If the Congress should engage in arguments over whether we should have dry weather, wet weather, partly cloudy or clear, some Member would opt for something else and maybe unintentionally bring a tornado or a hurricane in some part of the Country other than that which he represents.

There would be the difference in those parts of the Country favoring crops and that part favoring grazing or forestry, or that part which irrigates or nonirrigates. Then there would always be the danger of a filibuster in the Senate resulting in no weather at all.

There would always be the politician getting out a press release claiming credit for rain which had fallen on the just and unjust alike.

Doubtless the umbrella people would take a hand in lobbying for certain kinds of weather as well as other producers of products such as galoshes for wet snow.

Except for the experts about all most of us know about the weather is that actually Mark Twain was not the originator of "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." Some of us through the years have attributed this line to Mark Twain but now it seems to have been observed by Charles Warner who wrote in the Hartford, Connecticut Courant in 1890.

A new Radar Weather Station at the Municipal Midland-Odessa Airport was dedicated last week. As soon as funds can be secured, a major Weather Bureau station will be installed at Clark Field in instruments but old farmers, mountaineers and sailors have been pretty dependable for a long time. Only trouble is they are pretty hard to find these days. They study the sky for a moment or two, check the direction of the wind with a saliva-moistened finger, and make some pretty accurate predictions.

A skepticism developed within some of us during World War II when the predictions of military weather experts were seldom correct. Of course, this might be applied to about any other kind of prediction -- it's just more noticeable about the weather.

"Cap'n" Bill who has a fishing boat down on the Gulf, is a dependable weatherman, using a squinted eye, a wet forefinger or an aching joint as his only instruments. We asked him about the weather for the day and he said he was going fishing if he could get his daddie's engine started; that it had been raining a lot and everything was water-logged, including him.

He was asked why the weather all over the world had gone so berserk in the last several months. There have been floods in the New Braunfels area, West Virginia, South Dakota, and Hurricane Agnes flooding Virginia, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. (The flood at Snyder had not yet occurred.) Then there were floods in Japan, the Philippines, and it seems about every other place except the Sahara.

Cap'n Bill responded that the weather was not the only thing that's crazy. He says the whole dang world is and that it all started in 1957 when the Russians punctured the invisible sack around the earth with Sputnik. He says it's no wonder we have floods, tornadoes, landslides, earthquakes, hippies, zippies, crime, dope and all the other loony carrin's-on.

As for whether the weather will ever stop misbehaving, Cap'n Bill said, "Can't tell. Mother Nature don't like being fooled and she ain't one to forget anytime soon."

Most weather experts seem to have a sense of humor about their predictions although some no doubt take their prognostications most seriously. This is not to disparage these specialists and their

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America... and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend church school and church--MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yes sir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about it, we ought to do something! And we ought to start Sunday!

Moon Rock To Be On Display At The Fair

A fragment of moon rock collection on America's first moon landing mission will be on display during the 55th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here Sept. 25-30.

The sample, weighing 31 grams, was collected by former astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin, Jr. during extravehicular activity on the Apollo 11 flight.

The rock was secured from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration through the cooperation of U.S. Rep. George H. Mahon of Lubbock.

The sample is a fresh-appearing vesicular lava, similar in many respects to terrestrial basalts formed by extrusion of a hot gaseous magma onto the earth's surface.

The vesicles represent bubbles formed by the escaping gases within the magma, and they occupy about 15 percent of the sample by volume, according to NASA scientists.

The shininess of the vesicle walls is due to well-developed crystal faces of the constituent minerals (feldspar and pyroxene).

Mineralogy was said to be 50 percent pyroxene, 30 percent ilmenite and 20 percent plagioclase.

The moon rock will be on display daily throughout the fair run in the Agriculture Building. A guard will be posted with it during all periods of display. At 10 p. m. each night, it will be placed in a vault in keeping with NASA security requirements, fair officials explained.

Two other tree attractions -- an organ grinder and "The Sensational Leighs", performing in the giant space wheel -- also is being offered patrons this year.

In addition, Charley Pride returns to headline Fair Park Coliseum attractions, opening on stage Monday and Tuesday nights. He will share billing with The Pridemans, country and western singer Johnny Duncan, ventriloquist Alex Houston and Elmer and The North Door.

A gospel music show featuring The Blackwood Brothers Quartet, the Blackwood Singers plus J. D. Sumner and The Stamps Quartet is slated for Wednesday.

An all-star Mexican variety show starring Lola Beltran, Cucu Sanchez, Juan Puente and Greclia Flores, "Mexico's Miss Personality" and a mariachi band, will take over for a one-night stand.

Rounding out the week on Friday and Saturday will be Roy Clark, The Sound Generation and Tom T. Hall and The Story Tellers.

Pride show tickets are $5, $4, and $3. Gospel show tickets are priced at $3 and $2 and tickets for all other shows are $4.50, $3.50 and $2.50. Show times are 5:30 and 8:30 p. m. daily.

Tickets may be obtained at the coliseum box office from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday (telephone 762-8349), at Luskey's Western Wear, Sears' downtown store, or at TG&Y stores on Highway Drive and Broadway Road.

Unkel Zeke Sez

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Sometime it looks like the framework of America is coming unglued and they ain't nothing we can do to put it together agin. That was the feeling I got, Mister Editor, after listening to the fellers at the country store Saturday night. I am convinced that what this country needs is somebody to figger out what this country needs, cause we can't come up with the ansers the way we're going.

Per instant, Ed Doolittle reported where the federal government is studying how to pervide national health insurance that would cost ever family $1,000 a year. This plan would give the family the same benefits they can get now from private companies for $400 a year. Ed said a feller that can see the benefits in that probable can see why, after 200 years as a public service, the post office now is supposed to be a profit-making outfit.

There don't seem to be no solid ground anymore, went on Ed. He said laws that has been on the books in this country for 100 year sudden ain't fit to use. Ed said he was full agreed with the senator that said most of the rulings handed down by the courts in this country is "perfecting the wolf from Little Red Riding Hood." The idee of right and wrong ain't changing, declared Ed, but the courts is The rights of the criminals now is give more guarantees than the rights of the victims, was Ed's words.

Bug Hookum recalled the discussion the other week about airplanes hijacking, and he said it had been on his mind. He said he first figgered the remedy was to have everybody go naked on the planes, but, like Ed said, that would be taking away everybody's right to wear clothes. Bug said the best deal would be to have two hijackers on the same plane wanting to go to different places, then they could shoot one another.

Zeke Grubb's preacher stopped by the store, and he said he was agreed with Ed that what folks don't expect the Government to give em they try to gouge out of each other. He said he had been trying to git two Sunday school rooms built on the church, and he could see how brickmasons and plumbers is making $60,000 a year jest in overtime, like he saw in this magazine piece. The preacher said he ain't accusing nobody of shoddy work, but he said this feller in his church had a new house, and he was putting the cat in the basement at night and letting her out of the attic in the morning.

Personal, Mister Editor, I find it hard to find hope, but it's still there. I see where this college student took a shower for 100 hours to set a new record, so I know there's at least one clean youngun left. And this feller in Illinois that runs a railroad with 20 miles of track gives me hope. He says he ain't as long as the Santa Fe, but he's jest as wide.

Tuition for Public School?

Squeezed for funds, a board of education decided to impose a tuition fee on all high school students. In short order, indignant parents went to court to complain. They pointed out that the state constitution called for a system of "free" public education.

In reply, the board argued that it was simply using its discretion to ease a tight financial situation. But the court decided that tuition was indeed unconstitutional.

"The right of children to attend public school," said the court, "is not dependent on the discretion of anyone."

Lesser fees, too, have been rejected by the courts more often than not. In another case, a school board tried to charge pupils for their textbooks. The board's theory was that "free" education referred merely to the school building and the teachers -- not to "extras."

However, the court held this fee unconstitutional also, saying that books are an integral part of the educational process. The judge commented: "No education of any value is possible without school books." Nevertheless, another school board did succeed in collecting a textbook deposit from its students. This time, the plan had two features that made it more palatable: 1) the deposit was waived for any student who could not pay it; and 2) the deposit was refunded at the end of the semester, if the books were returned in reasonably good condition. A court decided that this kind of a fee was too minor a burden on the educational process to be objectionable. All it amounted to, said the court, was a practical method of encouraging students to take good care of their books. CONTROLLING HAY FEVER

Allergy specialists advise that there is something you can do about hay fever. In fact, they advise a number of measures that can be taken to avoid hay fever and its distressing symptoms. Some of them follow:
Wear glasses. Large motorcycle types are considered best.
Keep doors and windows closed, especially on windy, dry days when pollen flows freely.
Turn air conditioner on a few hours before spending time in a room. Be sure the unit has a good filter.
Keep from windows of automobiles closed to prevent pollen-saturated air from blowing in.
Stay indoors on days on which there are high pollen counts.
Avoid garden work and garden sprays. Do not allow fresh cut flowers in your home.
Stay away from insect, mothproofing, deodorizing and other household sprays as well as strong soaps, ammonia, waxing solutions and other substances with irritating odors.
Fresh fruits and spices make some victims feel worse. Discover which foods affect you, and eliminate them from your diet.
Consult a physician about medications to alleviate symptoms. The more common of these, sneezing, watery eyes, sneezing, and stuffed-up runny nose, can usually be relieved with an antihistamine-decongestant nasal spray such as NTZ.
Or, the physician may recommend a pill with a similar combination, or other therapies.
One out of 15 persons in the U.S. suffers from hay fever. Ragweed "hay fever" lasts from mid-August through September in many states, and "until the first frost" in others.

Quality Set Aside Provisions Strengthened For 1973 Wheat Program

Because payment deductions for less-than-average-quality set-aside land are being increased for the 1973 program, producers can be better assured of equitable application of set-aside program provisions in the 1973 wheat, feed grain, and cotton programs, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

For wheat and feed grain farms, when low quality acreage is offered for set-aside -- that is acreage not representative of land on which the farm's crops are grown -- the entire payment will be based on the productivity of the set-aside land.

For cotton, the reduction will be computed in the same manner as in 1972, except that the deduction rate will be 13 cents per pound instead of the 1972 rate of 6 cents.

The announcement was made as a result of a study of 1971-72 program operations which revealed that a few producers with farms having both poor-quality and quality cropland have offered at poor-quality for set-aside and accepted deductions from their farm payments. The deductions were not enough to offset the monetary advantage gained by producing crops on the quality acreage rather than setting it aside from production.

The great majority of participants in the set-aside programs have offered quality set-aside acreages in both 1971 and 1972, and the increased deduction rates for 1973 will affect relatively few producers.

In both 1971 and 1972, quality of set-aside has been emphasized, with a requirement that set-aside acreage be representative of cropland acreage on a participating farm. Deductions of set-aside payments are made in cases where set-aside land is not representative. County ASCS offices will make available set-aside inspection and measurement service to 1973 program participants. This service, which is offered at cost, can provide assurance to farmers that their set-aside acreage is acceptable for quality and quantity. The set-aside inspection service was first offered in 1972. It is available now to any farmer who wants an early determination and will continue as long as needed.

Set-aside land representative of cropland on which crops are normally produced is needed to assure achievement of effective production adjustment, according to officials of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service which administers set-aside programs.

Under the Agricultural Act of 1970, participating wheat, feed grain, and cotton producers set aside a percentage of their cropland, diverting it into conserving uses, and generally are free to produce as they choose on their remaining cropland. Under this program more decision-making has been returned to farmers. The program provides freedom to plant crops which are to their economic advantage. This has enabled them to make the most efficient use of their land, labor and machinery and has resulted in increased farm income.

The recently announced 1973 wheat program offers wheat farmers an even greater degree of flexibility in planning their 1973 cropping operations. They will have the added choice of voluntarily setting aside additional acreage for payment and agreeing to limit 1973 wheat acreage or of setting aside only the minimum acreage without restrictions on their wheat planting.
