All New Students Will Need Shots

All students entering Jayton schools whether in kindergarten, first grade or transferring from another town must furnish evidence of immunity against five diseases.
State law requires parents to furnish official evidence of current immunity against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, measles and rubella.
Official evidence is defined as personal immunization record which has been validated by signature or rubber stamp of a physical or public health clinic.
Beginning now the validated personal immunization record must show dates and kinds of immunizations received.
Current immunity for these illnesses is defined as follows:
Children in Kindergarten and grades 1-5:
Polio - At least three doses of oral vaccine, provided one or more doses have been received since the fourth birthday.
Diphtheria - Tetanus - Minimum of three doses with at least one dose having been received since the fourth birthday.

Measles-One dose of vaccine or history of red measles (10-day measles) illness.
Rubella - One dose of vaccine. Not required after 12 years of age.
Students in Grades 6 and above:
At the present time, the law requires reinforcement or "booster" doses of diphtheria-tetanus vaccine every ten years after the last dose completing the series; however, boosters are not required for polio, measles, and rubella.

Official evidence of current immunity can be provided by the student's physician or the local city - county health department. For their convenience, parents are urged to obtain these required official records from these sources before the opening of school this year.

Drive Made For Lifting Of Beef Price Ceilings

Denver (Aug. 2)--The national president of the Farmers Union, Tony Dechant, called upon the Nixon Administration to immediately lift the price freeze on beef here Thursday.
In a letter to President Nixon, Dechant said, "Each day you allow the ceiling to stay on will, in fact, bring greater hardship to the consumer as well as the producer. The ceiling means inevitable withholding by the producer and hoarding by the consumer."
Dechant noted that by singling out beef alone for the price freeze, the price of other meats such as lamb, pork, or chicken has been driven beyond the traditional price relationship with beef.
"There will be chaos by September 12," Dechant predicted. "Already packing houses are shutting down, workers are being laid off, and there are reports of black marketing as well as wholesalers 'beating the system' by shipping cattle to Canada for slaughter."
"The most important thing for the cattle producer is an orderly marketing plan of buying, feeding, and marketing of cattle," Dechant said.

Federal Land Banks Hike Interest Rates

E. H. Flournoy, Jr., Manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Spur, announced today that the billing rate of Federal Land Bank farm and ranch variable interest rate loans is being increased from 7% to 7-3/4% effective August 1. The rate on rural residence loans is being increased from 7 1/2 to 8 1/4%. The variable interest rate loan plan which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, lets the rate "float" over the variations in the money market.
"Continued high interest rates in the money market have made it necessary for the Bank to take this action. Interest rates have risen rapidly since early 1973 and the Bank has delayed action until this time in order to determine whether or not these rate increases were temporary," Flournoy stated.
The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term real estate loans on farm and ranch land and rural residences throughout Texas and now has more than 775 million dollars in volume of loans outstanding. The local association makes and services loans in Crosby, Dickens, Kent, Stonewall and a portion of King counties. Officers and directors of the association are R. H. Faris, Jr., President, M. L. Bilberry, Vice President, M. V. Jay, Donald Wooten, Coy Morris and Joe V. Jennings.

THIS WEEK IN JAYTON

Most people are getting pretty well fed up with the Watergate hearings.
Personally, I like to watch the hearings. But it would be much more interesting, if they would cut out so much of the repetitious questions. Each Senator, along with several staff lawyers, question the witnesses over, asking the same questions over and over, trying to get the witness to say what they want him to say. All the monotony of the cross examinations is what takes the interest out of it.
Also, the speech making by the Senators get rather boring. Much of the questions they ask, are not really to evoke an answer, but they are making speeches specifically sending messages to the president.

If the president listens to the questioning, he no doubt can get the messages meant for him. Probably his face would get rather flushed now and then.
People like the chairman for his knowledge, and aptitude to quote from the bible. But really, he is the most overbearing, of all the Senators, when it comes to trying to get from a witness a statement the witness does not want to make. And he never questions a witness that he doesn't make a speech to the president.
In my opinion, the Republican, Baker from Tennessee is about the

Farmers Union Claim The Farm Bill Has Been "Watered Down"

Haskell-Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco told a farm audience at Haskell Monday night, that in spite of all the work that Farmers Union has done to pass a good farm bill, the new farm program was so "watered down" by action of the Senate-House conference committee that Farmers Union opposed the conference report and called on members of the House to reject it.

"We hope that President Nixon will veto the new farm bill because it is inadequate in terms of price assurances to farmers and lacks the capability of providing an incentive to encourage farmers and ranchers to produce food and fiber supplies in abundance," Naman said.

Farmers Union was originally on record in support of the target concept in the new farm bill, but concessions to the Administration to avoid a veto have weakened the proposal to the point to where it lost Farmers Union's support and has been rejected by other farm groups that traditionally support federal farm programs.

Naman told those attending the county Farmers Union meeting which was held in the Community Room of a Haskell bank that Farmers Union opposed the program for three major reasons: "The target prices in the program are inadequate to assure farmers a fair return on their investment. The escalator clause which we considered the heart and soul of the new program has been eliminated for the first two years. The conference report includes a 'de-escalator clause' that was in the House version and insisted upon by Secretary Butz. This clause penalizes farmers for efficiency by setting up a device that will provide a loophole for the Administration to take away any increases in target prices that might be warranted as the cost of production goes up. This efficiency of yield adjustment factor is a phony scheme that is being used against farmers at the insistence of Secretary

Butz to assure that target prices will not go up even though farmers' costs go up," the statewide farm leader said. Naman said that the new farm bill compromises the farmers' position and will fail to serve the interests of either the producer or the consumer.

"The Administration sought to dismantle the farm programs with a 'phase-out' proposal. It has now achieved somewhat the same results in the form of a watered-down, ineffectual farm program. For this reason, I doubt if President Nixon will veto it," the farm organization leader said.

smoothest and fairest of the lot.

Senator Weicker of Conn. has a chip on his shoulder, because the committee to elect the president sent money into his state in 1968, to try to get him defeated.

For sure, some one, or more have done a good job lying to the committee. And some of the White House witnesses have the same as told the committee they would lie if necessary to protect the president.

About the most repulsive thing of the whole affair is the parade of witnesses who, promised not to be prosecuted by the witness, claimed to confess to irregularities committed by them. It is from these witnesses the committee has gained the most of its information.

After this week, people can go back to their regular programs.

But you haven't missed anything anyway. The regular programming would have been reruns of reruns.

I was reading yesterday a statement from a member of the Texas Legislature, who stated he favored the restoration of the death penalty. He said it was a shame for an officer in the line of duty to be killed by a criminal. To this I readily agree.

But there are other things even more shameful. An officer is trained in self protection, and he has a gun, and other items of equipment to help him defend his life and his person.

But how about the 12

Burleson Discusses The Crude Oil Problems

WASHINGTON, D. C.-- Congressman Omar Burleson along with nine U. S. Congressmen, including the Speaker and Minority Leader of the House of Representatives, met Wednesday with Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz and Cost of Living Council Director, Dr. John Dunlop, to express concerns over the effect Phase IV controls are having on domestic oil and gas exploration and production.

The House Members noted that foreign imports have increased to approximately one-third of domestic consumption and that price of foreign products has far surpassed that far domestic energy supplies.

Shultz and Dunlop were told that there continues to be a sharp decline in domestic exploration and production due to uncertain government policy, and lack of incentives to attract risk investment capital.

Rollback of crude oil prices to the May 15 level will, along with other factors, further discourage domestic production, and will force shutdown of many stripper and marginal producing wells, and dispersal of crews, according to the Congressman.

They said that this will further decrease domestic supplies and will make even higher prices probable because America will be at the mercy of increased foreign imports.

Shultz and Dunlop assured the House Members of the awareness of the problem by the Administration, and they pledged to study the numerous comments received from the industry and Members of Congress.

Shultz and Dunlop emphasized that the regulations were published in such way as to elicit comments. A further decision on crude oil prices will probably be made around August 15 after a thorough review of the comments.

The Congressmen said that the hardest hit segment of the industry is the independent producer who is responsible for 75 percent of domestic exploration and who relies to a large extent on outside investment capital, incentives, and a stable policy. Attending the meeting with Congressman Burleson were Speaker Albert (D-Okla.) and Minority Leader Ford (R-Mich.), Congressman George Mahon (D-Tex.), Garner Shriver (R-Okla.), Clem McSpadden (D-Okla.) and James Jones (D-Okla.).

year old boy, while under arrest, and hand cuffed, was shot in the head by a policeman? This is a far greater crime than an officer getting killed, in my opinion.

Unless the officer who was riding with the boy and his killer at the time of the unwanted killing, comes forth and testifies to the truth, and unless the courts and prosecutors really get with it on this case, the cause of justice is really going to suffer.

How low can an officer of the law get, to use the power of his position, and his gun, that was issued him for his own protection, to use his power and his gun to brow beat a small child, that was handcuffed, and then to kill him in cold blood. If there ever was a case that warranted the death penalty, this is it, in my judgement.

Color It Refreshing

Sparkling bright; lusciously rich. This picturesque dessert is easily made when you start with a package of Jell-O Golden Egg Custard Mix, which requires no baking and is so convenient. The bottom layer has a velvety texture and rich egg custard flavor; the top is a shimmering ring of orange flavor gelatin, attractively garnished with oranges and mint. A truly elegant dessert suitable for any festive occasion.

SPARKLING CHARLOTTE RUSSE DESSERT
1 pkg. (3 oz.) egg custard mix 2 cups boiling water
1-3/4 cups milk 1/2 cup cold water
1 pkg. (6 oz.) orange flavor gelatin 1-1/2 cups prepared whipped topping or whipped cream

Prepare custard mix as directed on package for custard, reducing milk to 1-3/4 cups. Chill 1 hour. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; remove 1 cup and stir into cold water. Pour into a 1-1/2 quart mold. Chill until set but not firm - about 1 hour. Chill remaining gelatin just until slightly thickened - about 1/2 hour. Then combine chilled custard and whipped topping. Blend in thickened gelatin. Spoon over set gelatin in mold. Chill until firm - about 4 hours. Unmold. Garnish prettily. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

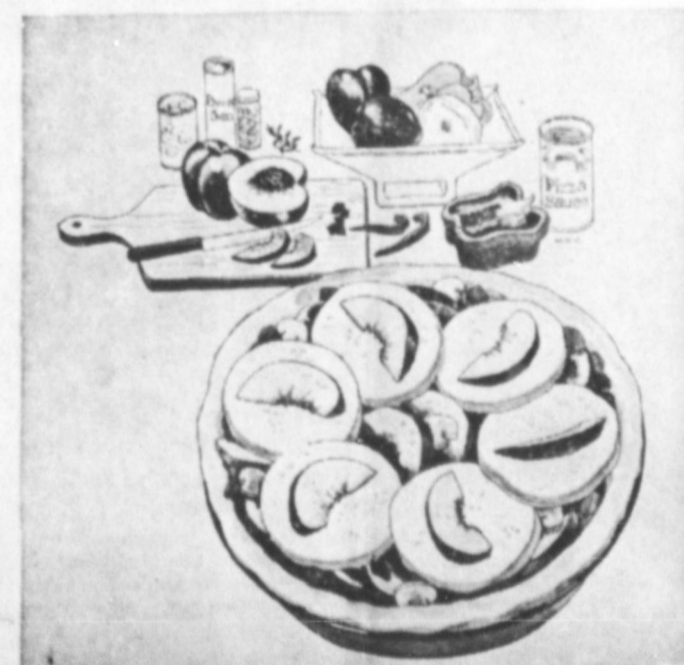

Offer Guests Pudding Choice

Puddings made with corn starch are so quick and easy that it's no hardship at all to prepare two different types for a dinner party and offer guests a choice. Shown here are Quick Raspberry Flummery and, in the parfait glasses, Fruit Cream. This is a pudding made with fruit juice, sweetened and flavored to taste and thickened with corn starch. The Raspberry Flummery, which blends the flavors of raspberries and currants is a popular European type dessert.

Quick Raspberry Flummery
1 package (10-ounces) frozen raspberries, thawed 1/4 cup sugar
1 jar (10-ounces) red currant jelly 1/2 cup corn starch
1/2 cup water 1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Press thawed raspberries through sieve to remove seeds. Mix together berry puree, jelly, 1/2 cup water and sugar in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until jelly is dissolved. With a spoon, blend corn starch and 1/2 cup water. Stir into berry mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice. Pour into 1 quart mold. Chill until firm. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Nectarine-Cheese Pizza

A most unusual recipe from California is "Nectarines Napoli", a fruit and cheese entree baked in a pastry shell. This pizza-type pie is attractive, delicious and easy to prepare. Simply layer sliced nectarines, mozzarella cheese and mushrooms in an unbaked pastry shell. Add diced green pepper and cover with spicy pizza sauce and Parmesan cheese. Serve piping hot accompanied by wedges of crisp iceberg lettuce with Italian dressing.

NECTARINES NAPOLI
3 or 4 fresh California nectarines 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) pizza sauce
1 package (8 oz.) mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced 1 tablespoon flour
Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom slices, drained 1/4 teaspoon rosemary, crumbled
1/2 cup diced green pepper 1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Thinly slice nectarines to measure 2 cups. Place all but 6 cheese slices in bottom of pastry shell. Reserve 6 nectarine slices; alternate rest with mushrooms and green pepper in pastry shell. Combine pizza sauce with flour, salt, rosemary and pepper, pour over. Place one nectarine slice on each remaining cheese slice and circle top of pie. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake at 425 degrees on low shelf 30 minutes, until crust is baked and sauce hot. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 6 servings.

One and two piece dresses are the features for fall fashion. Separate and the layered look is not seen as much in the new clothes as was evident this past season. Head coverings seem to be regaining popularity. Knitted or crocheted caps and hats are very good for adults as well as for youngsters.

Statement On Fees At Recreational Facilities

WASHINGTON, D. C.-- Congressman Omar Burluson calls attention to the fact that the President has just signed a bill clarifying the collection of user fees by the Army Corps of Engineers at lakes and reservoirs. Last February the Corps of Engineers announced its intention to charge fees at undeveloped projects within its control which had not previously been designated as fee areas. This would have included several lakes and recreation areas within the 17th Congressional District. As expected, public reaction was unfavorable. Burluson and 22 other Congressmen co-sponsored legislation designed to end the controversy and prohibit the collection of fees at these undeveloped areas. The new law, P. L. 93-81, establishes requirements at projects in order for fees to be collected. User fees may not be charged for access to our use of any campground which does not include the following: showers, flush restrooms, paved or dust-proofed access, visitor protection controls, picnic tables and fireplaces, designated tent or trailer spaces, refuse containers and sanitary disposal stations, and potable water. User fees will be permitted at highly developed facilities which require the continuous presence of personnel for maintenance and supervision.

Economy In Government Is Mostly Lip Service

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S REPORT By Bill Hobby
AUSTIN-- Economy in government is a subject which always has received a good deal of lip service and too little real attention. Tax dollars should be spent with the same care as dollars spent by private citizens and businesses. Toward this end, I, as chairman of the Legislative Budget Board, am implementing a new system of zero-base budgeting. This system was developed by Texas Instruments, Inc., and has greatly improved budgetary efficiency. Until now, state agencies merely asked for the same amount of money they got last year, plus any additional funds for new or expanding programs. Acceptance of their previous year's budget was virtually automatic with only the new programs coming under the scrutiny of the budget writers. Zero-base budgeting does away with this inefficient system. Instead, each state agency is required to review all of its programs. In effect, administrators must justify their entire budget, not just their requests for additional funds. In addition, zero-base budgeting requires administrators to assign priorities to various programs so that available funds may be applied where they are needed most. The zero-base budget program's most successful application to government has occurred in Georgia. During the first year the system was used there, Georgia taxpayers were saved $55 million through the elimination of duplication of efforts and unproductive activities of various agencies. As an effective management tool, zero-base budgeting holds great promise for Texas taxpayers as well. Of course, I cannot predict what savings we may be able to realize here in Texas. But with continuing demands for new and improved services, it is imperative that we apply the most modern budgetary techniques available. During the last session of the legislature, we were able to write a new - taxes budget only through the most stringent application of sound business principles. Texans were fortunate in paying less state taxes per capita than most Americans. This is an enviable distinction I hope we can maintain for decades to come. This will not be easy, however. The demands for and costs of state-supplied services increase each year. The budgetary process is where the demands for these services must be balanced against cries for economy. I believe the zero-base system will enhance greatly the efficiency of this process.

Fraud By Mail

To Eddie, the idea seemed like a sure thing. He mailed out phony invoices to a number of businessmen, billing them for ads they had never ordered, and waited for the money to roll in. Some money did. But so did two federal investigators, who haled Eddie into court on a charge of "using the mails to defraud." In short order he landed in jail, following the path of countless get-rich-quick artists who have run afoul of the United States Post Office. Under our legal system, most crimes are local. Robbery and riot, murder and mayhem ordinarily come under the jurisdiction of local governments.

But mail fraud is federal business, because the Constitution gives exclusive control of the postal system to the federal government. Of course, to constitute the crime, the fraudulent scheme must include some significant use of the mails. However, that need not be the central feature. Consider, for example, the case of a man who used his car to sell lots in a cemetery. All of his sales were made in person, not by mail. But he followed up with letters to his customers, partly to allay their suspicions and partly to discourage them from taking him into court. Such use of the mails, a court ruled afterward, was enough to support a federal charge against him for fraud. Still, there must really be fraud, not just deft salesmanship. In another case a woman was accused of mail fraud because she had been selling "lucky stones" through the mail. But at the trial, she pointed out that she had made no claim of magical virtues for her product--beyond the name itself. Dismissing the charge, the court said: "There is nothing immoral in the belief that amulets affect the wearer's fortune. If (the defendant) wishes to sell lucky stones for what they are, without lying about them, she is not acting fraudulently in so doing."

More than a FRIEND

Did you ever have a pal who was like a second shadow to you... a friend who was always there when you needed him... someone who laughed with you when you were happy, and comforted you when your turtle died or your puppy ran away? Our world is a big place, and people, even close friends, can't always stay together. One day you had to say "goodbye" and go your separate ways. Since then, you've found new friends. You've also found an emptiness, a need, which people alone could not satisfy. We need a goal at the end of life's path and unfailing strength and guidance along the way. Only God can fill this emptiness. Only God can be with you the entire length of your path. And when you reach the end? Only God can take you safely beyond. Come to church this Sunday. You don't have to walk alone.
