26-year-old Sherman County attorney calls DWIs most common crime

After a few months without any county attorney at all, Sherman County recently became the new home of 26-year-old prosecutor David G. Lewis, born and raised in Borger.

Lewis has not been elected to the post. He was appointed to it until he can establish residency in Sherman County. Lewis is planning to stay in Stratford "indefinitely."

Lewis received his bachelor of arts in political science from Texas Tech at Lubbock, and went on to get his law degree there. Before coming to Stratford, he practiced oil and gas law for a year in Wheeler.

"I was on the defense side—the creative side of the law—in Wheeler," Lewis said. "There's more to order than creativity, though. As prosecutor, I can adhere to the letter of the law."

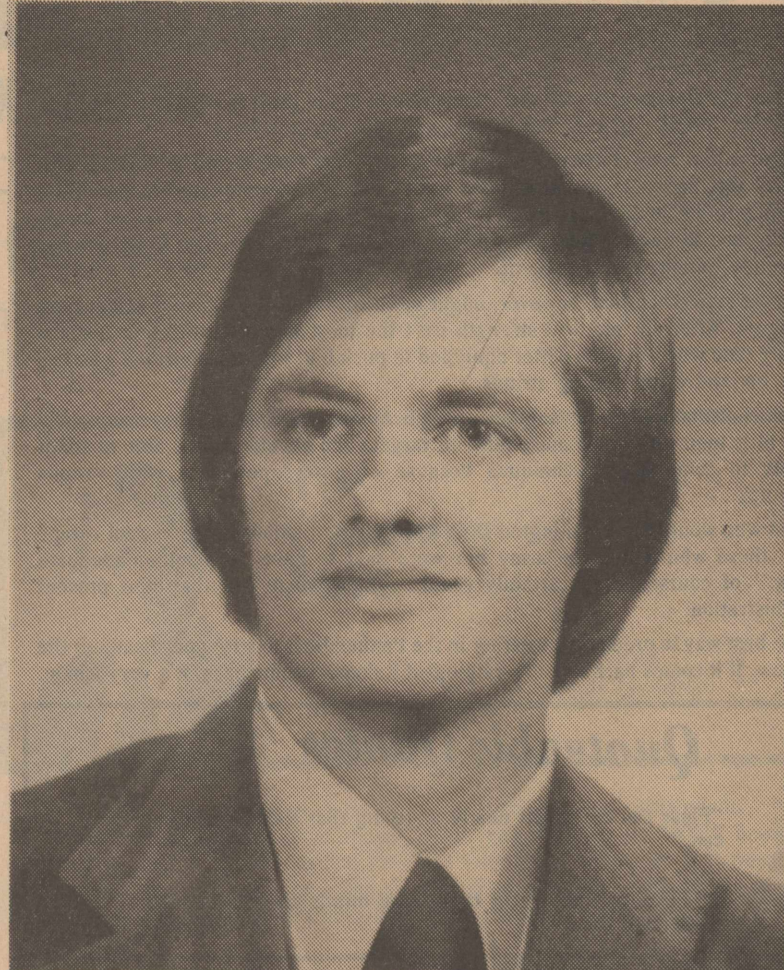

"There's also an amount of politics in prosecution," he said. "I'm a political animal, and I'd like to go into state government someday."

According to Lewis, the most common types of crime in Sherman County are driving while intoxicated and driving under the influence of drugs as well as possession of marijuana.

"The reason there are so many of these offenses in the county is the two busy highways—54 and 287, which intersect here," Lewis said. "Many of the DWI's are issued to out-of-staters."

According to Lewis, there wouldn't be any more DWI violations if the county was wet.

"Having a dry county does not deter driving under the influence," he said. "If people live in a dry county, and they intend to drink, they're just going to have to drive further, and probably end up drunk behind the wheel."

Lewis wants everyone to know that the Texas Department of Public Safety discourages drinking while driving.

"If a driver is intoxicated, he makes the road unsafe for everyone, since he can't react as fast to situations requiring split-second decisions," he said, "so keep your drinking and driving separate, and keep yourself—and others—out of trouble."

Fourth of July celebration features picnic, fireworks show

Area residents are urged to pack a picnic lunch and join their friends and neighbors for an evening of fellowship and fun on July 4th at 7 p.m. in the City Park. The annual event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and will feature fireworks at dark plus games for young and old. The Chamber will be providing free watermelon, Kool-Aid and iced tea for all those attending.

Games of competition will be held beginning at 8:30 p.m. with ribbons awarded to winners for first, second and third place. Competition will include a Sack Race for children under 6; a Three-legged Race for children, ages 7-9 and those 10 to 13. There will be a Tug-of-War for Junior High and one for the High School. A Stick Horse Race has been scheduled for 2 year olds; one for 3-4 year olds and for 5-6 year olds. Contestants must bring their own stick horse. There will be an Egg Toss for high school age as well as one for those over eighteen. Spoon and bean races will be held in two age divisions, 7- to 9 and 10-13 years of age. A Frisbee Contest is slated for high school age along with "The Biggest Toad" contest for any age. Toads may also be entered in competition for the "Long Jump" award. Contestants will have to bring their own toads.

There will be a booth selling home-made German Sausage and Tamales, sponsored by the Catholic Church. The proceeds from the booth will be used to assist with medical expenses for Oscar Cano. Oscar is a third grader at Stratford who underwent emergency surgery for removal of a kidney recently at St. Anthony's Hospital. Those who don't want to pack a picnic lunch are urged to come to the park and sample some of this delicious sausage and tamales. This is certainly a good cause, so come out and support this money-raising project and enjoy a fine meal.

The Fireworks Display will be set off by the Stratford Volunteer Fire Department beginning at dark near the City Park. If the weather is unfavorable the celebration will be held at the County Barn.

The Junior Cheerleading Clinic, Texhoma, that was scheduled for July 7-14, has been cancelled.

Jana Wiley leaving Saturday to compete in Miss Texas pageant in Fort Worth

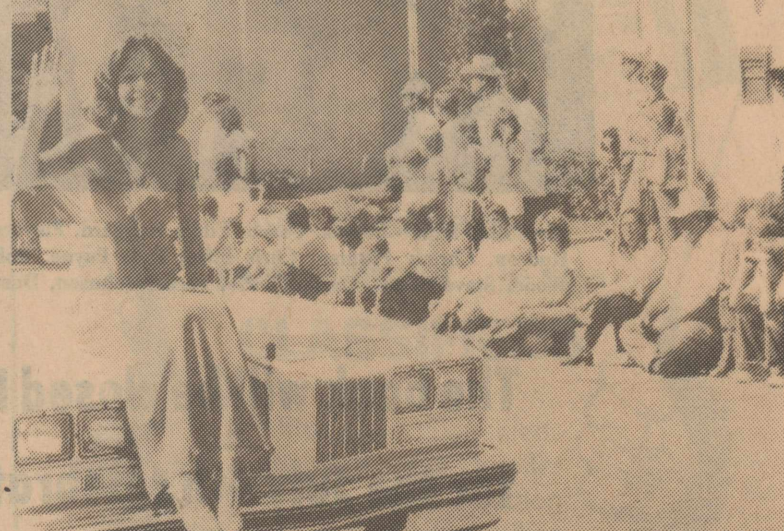

Jana Wiley, the current Miss Top O' Texas-Pampa, will be leaving Saturday, July 5, to compete in the Miss Texas Pageant in Fort Worth. The Miss Texas Pageant is a preliminary pageant to the Miss America contest which is held in Atlantic City. The week-long event will begin Sunday, July 6, as 69 girls from all over Texas arrive for registration at the Ramada Inn Central in Ft. Worth. After registration the contestants will attend an orientation hosted by the current Miss Texas, Lex Ann Haughey. Monday morning is just the beginning of a very busy and exciting week for the contestants will go to a press party and have short interviews with reporters at the pool of the Ramada Inn Central. Next on the agenda is a trip to Six-Flags where the parade of cities will be televised. Tuesday is a tiring day with rehearsals beginning at 8 a.m. and lasting until 11 p.m. The first portion of competition will begin on Wednesday, July 9. The girls will have their judges interview in the morning and that night at 8 Jana will have her swimsuit competition. Thursday morning rehearsals will begin at 8 a.m. and Jana competes in evening gown that night. Friday night she will have her final competition and that is talent. Talent counts 50 percent, so it is obviously the most important part of competition. Saturday morning the girls will have television rehearsals and starting at 8:30 p.m. the top ten contestants will be selected and those girls will once again compete in evening gown, swimsuit, and talent. The new Miss Texas will be awarded the official crown and trophy, one full year educational scholarship to North Texas State University, a Texas-size wardrobe, $1,000 Fashion Award courtesy Gillette-Kellogg-Campbell products, and a trip to Atlantic City to the 1980 Miss America Pageant. First runner-up receives $1,000 scholarship, second runner-up receives a $750 scholarship, third runner-up $600 scholarship, fourth runner-up $500 scholarship and five semi-finalists $300 scholarships. After the winners have been announced, all contestants will attend an Awards Breakfast and all with their family and friends. The pageant will be held in the Tarrant County Convention Center in Ft. Worth and will be televised July 13, on Channel 4.

The Star Editorial

One of the main reasons for the reinstatement of the draft is what the Pentagon terms the "inferior quality" of the present all-volunteer force.

It seems that army surveys over the past few years have begun to indicate that much of this nation's present soldiers have "lower-than-adequate I.Q.'s." This, according to the studies, has made it very close to impossible for the armed forces to train men to operate increasingly sophisticated equipment. The Congress has apparently bought that argument.

A more logical solution, however, might be the drafting of politicians rather than teenagers. After all, physical strength isn't the most important thing in modern warfare, and who would be better equipped to push buttons than someone who has spent his entire life pulling strings.

Politicians have other advantages as well. Among other things they are usually petty little men who would make difficult targets and should also be able to adapt quickly to camouflage techniques because of past experiences with various cover-ups.

And who would run Washington D.C. while all the politicians are in boot camp? Why, those who joined the army but were said to have "lower-than-adequate I.Q.'s," of course. They certainly couldn't do a worse job than the present administration.

The best way to predict the weather in the Panhandle is to stick your head out the window. If it comes back wet, it's raining--if it doesn't come back, it's very windy.

Chamber Chatter

by Pinky Plunk

Again this year, the Chamber of Commerce along with the City would like to encourage everyone to take a good look at their property and see if we can improve its appearance. Cut down your weeds, pick-up that trash, remove unsightly fences and clean up alleys where it is needed. If you have a vacant lot to mow, we have made arrangements to have it done, if it is cleared of all objects that might damage a tractor or mower. The City is trying to meet its obligations but is hampered by the lack of available labor. If anyone would like to work in this capacity, please call the City Hall. Would you be proud to have a picture printed in the Stratford Star of your property that has grown up in weeds? Let us try to make Stratford the most beautiful city in the Panhandle.

Speaking of beauty, what about the most beautiful lady in Texas? Jana Wiley will be representing Pampa in the Miss Texas Pageant in Fort Worth during the week of July 5-12. We are very proud to have Jana as a representative from our city. I believe this is the first contestant ever selected from Stratford to compete in the Miss Texas Pageant. What a great honor for her and for our city. We wish her the best in Fort Worth and look forward to seeing her on television on Cable KAMR-TV at 9 p.m. on Saturday, July 12. We should give her all the encouragement possible by sending flowers, cards and letters while she is representing our area. Money would help defray some of the expenses. Her address will be: Jana Wiley, Miss Pampa, Ramada Inn Central, 2000 Beach, Fort Worth, TX 76103. Please mail your good wishes by July 7th to insure that she receives them on time. I know that all of us are excited about Jana and will want to show her how much support that she has here.

Stratford has always been well represented in sports and band and other areas including Sharp Shooting. Last year James Spurlock won the Texas Trap Shooting Title and many other honors throughout the year and was second in the competition this year. Frank Vaughn has won honors in Pistol Shooting in Amarillo and Raton, N.M. along with James Crawford who has won many honors in State Indoor Expert Classes in marksmanship. So you see, Stratford has had many honors bestowed on us that we sometimes fail to fully recognize. I just wish the Chamber Manager could win something--maybe like The Readers' Digest Give-Away Contest.

Don't forget Jana--wouldn't it be great to have a highway sign saying "Stratford, Home of Miss Texas or Miss America"?

Don't forget the Collector's Show in August.

Society to Prevent Blindness:

"Don't Play With Fireworks"

As the Fourth of July draws near and doctors gear up to the grim yearly task of treating the thousands who will be injured by fireworks on Independence Day related festivities, the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness makes its annual appeal to all Texans: "Don't Play With Fireworks. They Are Not Toys."

"The message is directed particularly to parents," says Clymer L. Wright, Jr., Society president. "Most fireworks injuries occur to young people under the age of 20. Many of these are teenagers who think it's smart to make a game of fireworks. One accident reported to the Society last year involved two young men from Beaumont who had a 'rocket fight' that blinded one and seriously impaired the vision of the other. Another boy in Houston needed surgery to save his sight after a 'friend' shot a bottle rocket at home."

"Nor are these isolated instances," he added. "In 1979 an estimated 8,028 Americans were treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries from fireworks. Over 1,600 of these were eye injuries and tragically, that was nearly a 15 percent increase from the year before."

"This is not the whole picture either," he went on, "because there is no way to estimate how many other injuries were treated in doctors' offices, at home, or by direct hospital admission."

"Bottle rockets are consistently the main culprit," he noted. "They have blinded young people from Houston to El Paso. Sky rockets and roman candles, even something as seemingly harmless as a sparkler, have also caused their share of injuries and, ironically, most often at home where a child should be safest."

"The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness urges everyone to enjoy the beauty and excitement of fireworks at one of the many licensed public displays around the state," he said. "To do otherwise is to risk serious injury for fireworks are dangerous explosives and no amateur should play around with them."

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness is an affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness, the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in preventing blindness through community service programs, public and professional education and research.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Dear Citizens of Stratford

I don't have every fashion, nor all sizes, all colors, and shapes. I'm glad for you, the customer, to go shop elsewhere--compare and purchase--a freedom rightfully yours. I'm so very grateful for all of my customers. We strive to please (let us hear if we do not).

Gas is expensive, but it doesn't stop me from going, nor will it you. Just One Point. The one cent sales tax, added in all the cities and towns east, west, north and south, of here does not help Stratford, Texas, for improved streets, clean, mowed alleys, park beautification, and the many other maintenances always needed. Those other towns and cities are beautifying on your money. You say, "One cent! of what I spend won't do much!" Figure your bank statement each month and see how much you have spent out of town. I bet you'll be surprised. This is not a gripe, friends, not at all. It does not offend me when I hear folks comment "Oh, I got so and so at Amarillo. It was $10, $20 dollars cheaper." That's their money and their business. I just feel a little hurt for our town!

Canadian River rights claims to be heard

Adjudication of claims of water rights in the Canadian River Basin located within the State, will begin with hearings scheduled by the Texas Water Commission for Sept. 8 in Borger. The hearings will be held at City Hall, 113 E. 6th St., beginning at 9:30 a.m., and will continue until all claimants in the basin have had an opportunity to appear and present evidence in support of their claims.

A water right is the right under state law to impound, divert, or use State water which is water that occurs on the surface when confined to a streambed.

Dockets listing claimants and the time and place for each evidentiary hearing will be sent to each claimant of record. Claimants who do not appear and present evidence in support of their claims will, in all probability, lose any water right to which they may otherwise be entitled.

All persons claiming a water right of any kind in the Canadian River Basin to divert and use state water for other than domestic or livestock purposes are required to complete and file a sworn claim of water rights with the Department on or before Aug. 8. Persons who have not received forms for the filing of these claims and wish to do so may obtain forms and information by writing to the following: Permits Division, Texas Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, 78711.

The Canadian River Basin consists of the Canadian River and its tributaries located within the State of Texas and includes all or portions of Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Sherman, Moore, Potter, Randall, Hansford, Hutchinson, Carson, Ochiltree, Roberts, Gray, Lipscomb and Hemphill Counties.

A report has been published which documents all known users of surface water in the Canadian River Basin for purposes other than domestic and livestock. The report and its appendix of aerial photographic mosaics is available for inspection at TDWR offices in Austin and Amarillo or at the offices of county clerks in Moore, Hansford, Hutchinson and Lipscomb Counties. Copies of this investigation report and of the appendix may be purchased for a cost of $10 for the complete report without appendix and $50 for the complete appendix only. Individual sheets of the report are available for $5.30 and individual maps of the appendix may be purchased for $2.50.

Texas DPS to conduct Operation Motorcide over Fourth--predicts 47 will die

The Texas Department of Public Safety will conduct "Operation Motorcide" for the 1980, 4th of July. It will begin 6 p.m., July 3, and end midnight July 6, 1980.

The most tragic part of a National Holiday, such as the 4th of July, is the wasteful loss of human life upon our highways. The Department of Public Safety predicts 47 persons will die in fatal traffic accidents during this period in Texas.

The two most dangerous things the driver can do is speed and drink. Each driver should be aware of both the condition of the road and vehicle, as well as his personal condition before he gets behind the wheel. Drive as if your life depends on it--because it does!

Three Stratford men attending 14th Baptist World Congress

The 14th Baptist World Congress will meet in Toronto, Canada, July 8-13.

Morgan Boardman, Erwin DeBord, and Jeff Oakley are participating in the Texas Baptist All-State Choir and Band. Morgan and Erwin will sing in the choir and Jeff will play in the band. The Texas Band and Choir will include 474 young people.

There will be a 500-voice Canadian choir at all services, plus 45 visiting choirs.

All choirs will merge on Saturday evening, July 12, for a 3,000 voice Great Festival Choir. Cliff Barrows will direct the combined bands and choirs. Evangelist Billy Graham will be the speaker for the evening.

An attendance of about 12,000 persons from 80 nations are expected to attend.

Sherman County Fashion Revue scheduled at County Barn July 8

THE BIBLE

The book called "The Bible" is really a library of 66 books, written over a period of about 1600 years by some 40 writers. It is divided into the Old Testament, containing 39 books, and the New Testament, which has 27 books. Although written by men from all walks of life, and in two major languages, and about the world's most controversial subject, religion, it contains no contradictions.

Although the Bible is primarily a book of salvation, instructing man on how to live and walk with God, when it speaks in the realms of science, history, geography, archeology, etc., it always speaks the truth.

The writers of the Bible were instructed of God to write what they did. In the Old Testament alone expressions such as, "the word of the Lord came," "The Lord instructed," "I will put my words in your mouth," etc. appear some 2500 times. Likewise in the New Testament without exception expresses the same teaching. In fact there is not one contradiction in either the Old or the New Testament. Since men are fallible and make mistakes we must accept the Bible as inspired of God.

Study the Bible to be wise; believe it to be safe; practice it to be holy.

to marry

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. McMillion announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mellonee, to Ted York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will John York of Sonora, Texas.

The couple will exchange wedding vows on August 9 at the First United Methodist Church.

Mellonee is a 1980 graduate from Stratford high school and is employed at Cut Rate Grocery. Ted is a 1976 graduate of Fort Stockton high school and attended two years at Texas A&M. He is now employed at Sherman Implement.

Marine Capt. Michael Vontungeln, whose wife, Connie, is the daughter of Mrs. Huston Hanes of Keyes, Okla. has departed on a deployment to the Mediterranean.

He is an officer assigned to Headquarters, 32nd Marine Amphibious Unit (MAU) based at Camp Lejeune, N.C. While deployed, his unit is embarked aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Guadalcanal.

During the cruise, the 32nd MAU will be participating in training exercises with units of the U.S. 6th Fleet and those of allied nations. Port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

The 32nd MAU is the force-in-readiness for the 6th Fleet, on call to project combined air/ground forces ashore, if necessary.

A 1967 graduate of El Reno High School, El Reno, Okla., and a 1971 graduate of Panhandle State College, Goodwell, Okla., with a bachelor of science degree, Vontungeln joined the Marine Corps in May 1971.

Miss Emma M. Nutt broke the male monopoly on telephone company jobs when she was hired as an operator for the Telephone Dispatch Company in Boston on September 1, 1878.

Women's Clubs Federation reviews successful term

General Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Prospectus Study Club is a member, accomplished much in selected areas of emphasis during the recent 1978-80 administration. With "Unity in Diversity" as the theme, significant results were made.

As noted in an earlier Prospectus Study Club story, they were awarded a Citation of Achievement from GFWC and Sears, Roebuck for working to improve the Quality of Community Life.

With 10,415 clubs participating, this program resulted in the highest percentage of activities ever undertaken by the federated clubs—extending into every sized community in the nation.

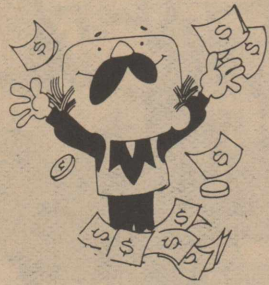

Some of the more significant projects initiated and completed by the volunteer women are: a shelter for battered women and their children which includes a 24-hour crisis telephone service; counseling program for the entire family and job training; housing for low income area senior citizens through local assistance by erecting an eight-unit living complex, including one apartment for the handicapped; promoting and helping to build a 12-bed Youth Emergency Shelter for abused, neglected or abandoned children and juvenile offenders.

Also a project involving an entire community to devote volunteer time to 20 retarded residents of a special home in the community who had not had visitors for a year or more, providing love, companionship and help in acquiring new skills; and, continuing development of a not-for profit hospital, owned and operated by a Federated Women's Club, consisting of a 183-bed facility involving the assistance of more than 700 adults and teens who volunteered 65,000 hours, performing 28 different services for the hospital during the past year alone.

These facts were extracted from 1980 reports by Mrs. A.M. Quint, President, General Federation of Women's Clubs.

CAR CARE

by Bill Elaine

Q. You are my last hope for finding out what's wrong with my brand new 1980 Ford Thunderbird. It's only two months old and it is already using oil... way too much. I've checked everything for leaks... the dealer has checked everything he can. Neither of us found an answer. Since you're my last hope, do you have any ideas?

A. Just one. Are you sure the car has the right dipstick? Occasionally, the wrong dipstick is put into the engine. This is the easiest thing to overlook when troubleshooting a new car. To be sure you have the right dipstick, hold it next to one from the same make and model and be sure the marks and length are the same.

Kerrick News

by Marylou McDaniel

Visiting with the J.C. Robinsons one day last week were her sister, Bertha Bales and sons, Jerry and Kenneth Wade of Guymon.

Saturday Charlotte and Joe Hoffman and son, Tucker, and the Robinsons were overnight guests of Bea Jester in the Coldwater Community. Sunday they went on to Clayton Lake, then saw Jack McBride at Clayton.

The Community Center auditorium was painted between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday--the ceiling, walls, woodwork! A big help were two scaffolds made of pipe that enabled ceiling painters, Randy Irlbeck, Jennifer Wells, Annette Hampton and Minnie Hampton to safely work. Ted Irlbeck was the builder. Other painting was done by Lynn Wells, Franny Taylor, Mabel Rogers, Vicki Thompson, Melvin Irlbeck and Marylou McDaniel.

They hope to paint the hall sometime next fall.

Those who couldn't help Monday may want to help clean and work on the floor sometime before the Reunion. HINT!

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Munden, who have been living in California for several years, have recently bought land near Maxwell, N.M. They were here over the weekend to see her mother, Mrs. Virgie Mathews, and to attend to business. They will soon be moving to New Mexico.

Relatives and friends of Blanche James and Gwen Tiano are envious of their coming trip to Europe and Africa. They will join Mildred Crabtree in Europe for the Passion Play and touring, then return to Nigeria with her for a visit.

Brent Schoonover broke his shoulder Saturday in a ranching accident and had surgery performed Monday in Amarillo.

Isn't it amazing how one can manage to drive to Denver during the hottest time of the year in an air-conditioned pickup! Fred and I took a load of household items to Brenda Taylor and daughter Patti McDaniel who were moving Saturday. Franny, Brenda's mother, had planned to go with us, but decided it might be a too hot, too fast trip for her. I always knew she was a smart woman!

Of course, if we hadn't planned to attend a gathering of amateur radio operator friends in Bergen Park, we wouldn't have gone anyway. The host "ham's" home was at 9,500 feet where the temperature was 70 degrees. Fifteen of the 30 present were hams who had talked over the air for 20 years, but this was the first time many had eyeballed each other. They arrived from Arizona, South Dakota, Texas and Colorado. One had recently returned from Liberia where the family had been for ten years. He got out during the recent coup.

As the hams gathered across the end of the upper level porch for a picture by you-know-who, there was a crack and the porch sagged! I think there was going to be a contractor for the 15-month-old home receiving a sharp phone call early Sunday morning! Those fellows did move fast!

The supper was catered by the same man who flew with the Denver Broncos to cook for them during the Super Bowl.

Looking forward to sleeping in Patti's new air-conditioned apartment, it had blown a fuse, so it was back to the fan!

Earlier Saturday morning we stopped in Golden to watch son Mike on location filming a second Mark Twain story. This time he had a "wife" and the action was filmed in a railroad museum using various old time railroad cars. The first movie is nearly finished, the producer-director said. Just adding the musical score now. We were invited to the cast party, but you can only be in one place at a time!

We loaded up a stove and refrigerator which Patti had no further need to bring back to Kerrick and got away from Denver after noon Sunday. At Colorado Springs, the refrigerator tried to turn over, so we had to get more rope. We had a chance to cool off some when we stopped to see a friend near Lake Isabel, then made the drive home in the cool of the night with Mother Nature's air-conditioning!

Visiting one day recently with the Bill Boren family were Mrs. Joe Boren and sons, Mitchell and Barrett. Judy and the boys were here with friends and relatives for about a week.

Heather Gallo selected as finalist in Miss UT pageant

Heather Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ducky Gallo, Dalhart, has been selected to be a finalist in the 1980 Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held at the Sheraton-Dallas Hotel in Dallas August 1-3. The pageant is the official state wide finals for the Miss United Teenager Pageant. She is being sponsored by the Citizens State Bank, Dalhart.

Contestants from all over the state will be competing for the title. All contestants are between the ages of 14-18 and must have at least a "B" average in school. They are requested to participate in the Volunteer Community Service Program of the Miss United Teenager Pageant. Through this program many youngsters are becoming involved in Community activities by contributing at least 8 hours of time to some worthwhile charity or civic work of their choice.

The winners of the State Finals of the Miss United Teenager Pageant will receive an all-expense paid trip to compete in the National Finals, a three phase pageant in Hollywood, California; Waikiki Beach, Hawaii and Washington, D.C.; where she will compete for $15,000 in cash scholarships, a new automobile for her reigning year, a trip to Europe, $5,000 appearance contract, $2,000 wardrobe and other awards.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic, civic achievements, beauty, poise, and personality. Each contestant will write and recite on stage a 100 word essay on the subject "My Country."

Heather is the granddaughter of Nettie Harding, Dalhart, and the late Wayne Harding.

CARD of THANKS

We want to thank each of you for your cards, flowers, visits and especially your prayers. It has meant so very much to us to have your support during Oscar's accident and recovery. A special thank you goes to the St. Joseph's Catholic Church and all they have done to help us through these past days.

We, in turn, pray for each of you and ask God's blessings on you.

Mr. and Mrs. Artemio Cano

CARD of THANKS

All the visits, cards, calls and beautiful flowers while I was in the hospital and since my return to Coldwater Manor have helped pass the long hours. I didn't have to break my leg to be reminded that Sherman County has the best people in the world.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Recollection is the only paradise here on earth of which we cannot be turned out.

HELPFUL HINTS CORNER: Substitute plain yogurt for sour cream in recipes and save about one-fifth of the calories. Both are made from acid-producing bacteria action, but the main difference is in terms of fat content. Yogurt has approximately two to three percent fat compared with about 18 percent for sour cream.

THE IMAGE MAKERS

Are you dressing for success or failure? Some experts claim that women dress for failure. True or not, women have played a subordinate role to men in the business world, and they have not been "educated" to dress for success. While much research studies how clothing communicates, little research focuses on career apparel for women.

One thing is certain: our clothing does communicate to those around us. We can remember that fact, and we can further benefit from years of other research that focused on clothing as an expression of self. Put it all together, and we become our own "image makers."

Clothing is a language that projects our talents, our needs, our personality, our dispositions and our destinations. It reveals how we feel and how we think we look. Clothing is the greatest single influence on the impressions we create--and we never have a second chance to make a first impression.

Some businesses feel clothing is so important in creating a favorable image they have strict dress codes--because reaction to appearance is automatic and involuntary. We cannot dress neutrally. Whatever we wear makes a statement--not necessarily positive or negative, but something about us.

Our clothing may say, "I feel good about myself. I am confident I can handle this job."

Or it may say, "I am not prepared to handle this job. I am unsure of myself."

When used correctly, clothing can improve our appearance and advance us professionally.

If a job involves working with clientele, the dress should "set the state," not restrict effective work with others.

When possible, research clientele to understand their clothing expectations.

Dress professionally, but try not to dress far above or below them.

CLOTHES TELL 'RANK'

Clothing establishes rank, role or position.

Uniforms are an obvious sign of rank or role which help others know how to respond. But dress need not be a uniform to indicate rank or level.

Even when the signs are subtle, dress can reveal an authority level.

The "business suit" helps a man establish his rank in the business world.

JACKET 'TOPS' ALL

Most experts agree the jacket has the greatest influence on this--and it's true for females, too.

For women, the skirted suit is the most effective dress in establishing credibility and authority, research says.

'FASHION' IN BUSINESS

Since the slightest error in dress can hinder professional progress, women must learn to sharpen and refine their clothing-language skills.

Fashion can have some influence in the business world, but we must learn to "play the game" of success.

Dressing in current fashions may not be on the road to success in some careers--however, dressing completely out-of-style or in a rut may say "I'm not aware of the world around me" and hamper your chances for job advancement.

What then? Be aware of fashion, but "go" conservative on the job. Save extreme looks for evening or weekends.

STARTING OUT

When authority is important for your job, establish your credentials first with conservative, authoritative dress. Then begin to vary color, lines and fabrics in your wardrobe.

Lack of variety gets boring--to you and those around you. And society expects women not to look the same every day.

Variety adds interest and underscores effectiveness in the career wardrobe.

PATHS TO SUCCESS

Clothing is a powerful communicator, but it can't assure job success or make the wearer something she's not, of course. Job performance determines success or failure. Clothing simply "accentuates" the positive or negative.

Clothing can pave the road--or put stumbling blocks in your path--to success.

Notice what others around you at work

Cattle Futures

By Kevin Cummings

The Demand Index--In my search for better tools for hedging I have become aware of the demand index. This tool is adept at predicting the end of a move for instance upward, and the beginning of a move in the opposite direction. It is the best tool I have found for calculating the tops and bottoms of price movement. The system is founded on the theory that volume peaks before the price move peaks. This gives the hedger in a profitable position the opportunity to make a calculated estimate of the top (or bottom). My in-office computer is adapted to this system among others for daily updates. I will be referring to it often.

Cattle--Dec. L C closed the week at 67.42 gaining 85 cents over the close on last Friday. The 7-13 day moving average is still long but will reverse on any weakness. The demand index has indicated that this market will be under pressure. Our first indication was on Tuesdays and Wednesday's price action. My cycle work indicates a short-term oversold situation and we should see a short rally in the near future. If this rally does not significantly change the demand index I would assume a temporary top has been made and would suggest hedging risks on this rally. The long term trend is still up at this point.

Feeder Cattle--The situation is basically the same in FC. Friday's close did produce a weekly reversal. The managed accounts took long profits on Friday. I would recommend hedges on rallies with no significant change of the demand index.

Hogs--LH on the other side of the coin still appear strong. They are slightly over bought but staged a strong rally this week. It appears that the hogs will take the lead in any resumption of the bull move. This has good spread possibilities.

Wheat--Wheat showed good strength this week in spite of harvest pressure. The results of the crop report could put pressure on this market. The 12-48 day moving average crossed to the upside on Wednesday. The demand index indicates a potential top and would therefore recommend reducing risk particularly on the short term. My spec. accounts have been long for two weeks and we will take profits on any weakness. The long term trend is still up.

Corn--Corn has been sluggish in relation to the other grains. The long term up trend is very close to being reversed. I recommend short hedging on rallies particularly for short term needs.

Soybeans--Soybeans, like hogs, should have a good rally left in the cards. If the demand index remains bearish I would recommend hedges on this rally. The long term trend is still up. (Recommendations cannot be guaranteed)

Those Are The Brakes

Go easy on those brakes and save twice. Careful braking will save you the cost of buying new linings prematurely, and will also save you gasoline.

Watch what's coming up as you drive, so you can anticipate the need to slow down or stop. This enables you to dissipate energy gradually by letting the car coast to nearly a full stop, instead of jamming on the brakes at the last moment.

In fact, if a full stop isn't required, slowing down early is a real energy saver: it takes 20% more gasoline to start from a dead stop than from, say, 4 to 5 m.p.h.

Do your Christmas shopping early to save time and money

Christmas is coming, so get ready, set, and go NOW -- and "do some Christmas things" this summer.

If you don't read on, you'll have only yourself to blame when Christmas catches you unprepared this year.

Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist, says spending some time and money on Christmas now will actually avoid most of the frantic, "short-money," rushy things about Christmas later.

Mrs. Chenoweth, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says early planning and action makes almost everything about Christmas easy.

Here are her suggestions:

MAKE A LIST

Make a list -- now -- of all the people you'll give gifts to. This list probably won't change much by Christmas.

Then start your shopping tasks -- now. Think how much easier it is to shop now rather than later in stores crowded with people who didn't plan ahead. Besides, by starting now, you can spread your purchases over several months instead of over-extending the budget at the end of the year.

There's also a better chance of finding sales and doing comparison shopping now. Another advantage to early planning is you might be able to give of yourself. For example, your own unique services or talents could be a gift -- if you plan early. You might give three months of Sunday breakfasts in bed or demonstrations in needlepoint to a neighbor who always wanted to learn, or homemade crafts or baked goodies.

THROW A PARTY

If you ALWAYS have a Christmas party, have one now instead. Most people will have more time to enjoy an "off-season" party, and you won't be nearly so rushed.

PLAN FAMILY PRIORITIES

Take time now -- as a family -- to plan your priorities for the holidays. Do you want time together as a family? Plan activities you can do together, such as make decorations, cook or visit friends.

MAKE TRAVEL RESERVATIONS

It might also pay to make your travel reservations now -- and pay for any tickets. You might avoid price increases later in the year and the frustrations of "no seats available."

FIX-IT FACTS

By Glen Nusz

Always prepare . . . a good saying for painters. Wash any spots, grease marks, etc., from walls to insure an even, professional-looking paint job. Spackling putty usually takes care of any wall imperfections. Sand and dust glossy surfaces to insure adhesion of new paint. When painting a room work from top to bottom, leaving doors and windows for last. Using brushes, do the edgework starting with edges of ceiling. Next, edge down the corners where the walls meet and around doors and windows. Brushes work best if you dip into paint only 1/4" to 1/2" and wipe lightly against inside of paint bucket to remove any excess paint. Next roll the ceiling, using an extension on roller for easy accessibility. Begin rolling in the corners to paint the walls and work out across one wall at a time. Do woodwork, windows and doors separately with appropriate paint.

Fall garden and landscape can be pretty

Your fall garden and home landscape can be as colorful as in spring and summer if you start planning now.

Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, identifies four popular plants for fall color. They are the chrysanthemum, candle tree, copper plant and Joseph's coat.

The chrysanthemum, or mum as it is commonly known, is considered queen of fall flowers, according to Welch. Mums require well-drained soil and enough water and fertilizer to produce popular, colorful blooms.

He recommends a high-phosphorus fertilizer, such as 5-15-10, at the rate of two pounds per 100 square feet. Complete transplanting mums in June or early July and keep terminal buds pinched back through July to promote side branching.

Showy, yellow flowers are characteristic of the candle tree. These plants are best used as backgrounds for wide flower beds and produce foliage four to six feet high, notes the horticulturist.

Candle trees prefer rich, moist soil and should be fertilized each month with a 5-15-10 fertilizer at the rate of two pounds per 100 square feet.

For bronze foliage which combines well with fall flowers, try the copper plant, suggests Welch. It normally grows 15 to 30 inches tall in moist, fertile soil. Fertilize copper plants with a 10-10-5 fertilizer at the rate of about two pounds per 100 square feet.

Joseph's coat (Alternanthera) is famous for its color of red, orange, green and yellow. The native of Brazil prefers moist, well-fertilized soil and is most commonly used as low, spreading border.

How to clean your clothes before seasonal storage

Always store clothing clean when making seasonal switches, advises Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Soil will weaken fibers over a period of time and will tend to attract insects, she explains.

Laundry washables and have non-washables dry cleaned, she continues.

Place hanging garments in garment or plastic bags.

Fold items to be boxed and pack with tissue in between to reduce wrinkles.

As a precaution, sprinkle moth crystals or use moth balls when storing woolsens.

Label all boxes for easy access, the specialist advises.

Keep sweaters and jackets handy for the first cool weather of fall.

Wash all accessories made of man-made materials such as shoes and handbags with sudsy sponge. Rinse and dry well.

Summer Sundaes: Tapping Tradition For Taste

"I scream. You scream. We all scream for ice cream."

So goes the childhood rhyme. Long a favorite throughout the country, ice cream today is as American as apple pie — or pure maple syrup. But history points to its global popularity and ancient origins.

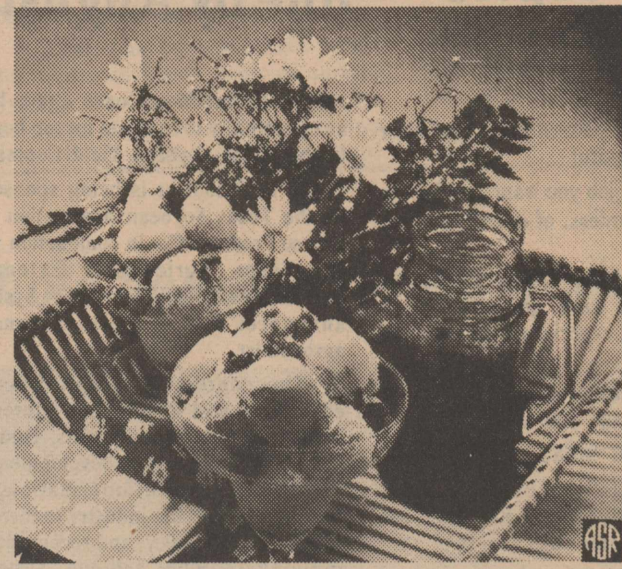

While water ices were long known in the Roman Empire, Marco Polo gets the credit for bringing a recipe for milk ice from the Far East.

In the 1700's ice cream hopped the Atlantic to America. Even so, it was still a rare delicacy when Dolly Madison first served it at the White House in 1809.

When did the national craze catch on? At the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904 — when the ice cream cone was introduced! Today we consume more than 815 million gallons of ice cream, or about 15 quarts per person annually.

Like ice cream, pure maple syrup is steeped in history. Legend says it was discovered by the Indians, who gashed the trees with their tomahawks and boiled the sap over open pots. Today, maple sap-gathering and syrup-making have changed little. Taps are metal; buckets are aluminum or plastic. And the boiling is done in large evaporation pans. In more modern operations, vacuum tubing systems collect the sap and pump it directly into the sugar shack. A unique North American luxury of nature, it takes from 30 to 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of pure maple syrup.

To insure that they are getting the real thing, the International Maple Syrup Institute encourages consumers to look for the distinctive symbol of pure maple syrup — half a maple leaf, bucket, spigot and drop of sap. The symbol assures consumers that the product is 100% pure maple syrup, with no preservatives or additives.

When paired with homemade ice cream, pure maple syrup makes a real all-American favorite.

So take out the ice cream freezer to try this gourmet delight. Or if you're rushed for time, try pouring pure maple syrup over your favorite brand of ice cream.

Then call in friends, neighbors and family to enjoy a taste treat that will leave everyone screaming for more.

Maple Ice Cream Sundaes

Ice Cream:

1 cup pure maple syrup

3 eggs

1/2 teaspoon salt

Ice (as required for ice cream freezer)

Salt (as required for ice cream freezer)

1 1/2 cups heavy cream

In a 3- or 4-quart saucepan bring maple syrup to a full rolling boil. Boil for about 5 minutes, to 232°F. Meanwhile, separate eggs. Whip whites with salt until they form stiff peaks. Beat egg yolks with 1/2 cup cream just to mix.

As soon as syrup reaches desired temperature, slowly pour about 1/3 of the hot syrup into egg whites while beating at high speed. Pour remaining hot maple syrup slowly into the egg yolk mixture, beating constantly.

Return egg yolk mixture to saucepan and cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, just until mixture begins to thicken. At once strain this custard mixture into a shallow pan. Chill.

Whip remaining 1 cup cream until it holds soft peaks. Then combine all together the whipped cream, egg white mixture, fold gently just to mix.

Pack ice cream freezer with ice and salt as directed by the manufacturer. Pour the cream mixture into the container and insert dasher or paddle. Cover and freeze as directed. Meanwhile, make the Sundae Nut Sauce.

Sundae Nut Sauce:

1/2 cup pure maple syrup

Pinch of salt

1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts or pecans

Bring maple syrup to a full rolling boil; boil 1 minute. Add nuts and salt; remove from heat. Cool without stirring. While still warm, spoon over maple ice cream.

Makes 6 to 8 servings, or about 1 quart ice cream and about 1 cup sauce.

are wearing. To get ahead, pattern your dress after the most successful.

Dress for the job you want, not for the job you have (unless, of course, the two are the same).

If your wardrobe seems inadequate for the job you want, gradually add to what you have, especially if on a limited budget.

Carefully select the items which project the image you want.

THE 'MESSAGE'

The "message" you convey to others should be business-like but also one you're comfortable with.

If you're pleased with yourself and your career image, you're more likely to please others.

As you dress for the day, think about your schedule--who will you see? what will you be doing?--and then decide on the image you want to communicate.

Before you go to work each day, look in a full-length mirror from head to toe. Try to see yourself as others see you. Communicate a positive, professional image, regardless of the kind of job you have.

Texas Soybean Contest entries due by August 15

Soybean producers once again have an opportunity to compete for top honors in the Texas Soybean Yield Contest.

The 1980 contest is being sponsored by the Texas Soybean Association and Elanco Products Co. in conjunction with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, announces R.J. Hodges, Extension agronomist.

"The contest is designed as an educational tool to stimulate interest in soybean production," notes Hodges. "Benefits include the development of worthwhile cultural information, co-operation within the industry to increase production efficiency, and recognition of individuals who achieve superior yields."

Interested producers should contact their county Extension agent for contest rules and entry forms, points out the agronomist. All entries must be in by Aug. 15.

Each entrant must grow at least 50 acres of soybeans and designate at least 5 acres to be harvested. There may be only one entry per entire farm operation. Measuring of the land, harvesting and weighing of the soybeans will be supervised by a three-man County Soybean Contest Committee.

According to Hodges, awards will be presented to the top three producers in the irrigated areas, Northeast Texas and Coastal Prairie. Then the state champion will be selected from among the nine area winners. Winners will receive appropriate plaques along with various amounts of Treflan or Surflan, depending on their placings. The state champion will receive a trip for two to Acapulco.

The agronomist also points out that entering the contest makes producers eligible for membership in the Texas 60 Bushel Soybean Club or the Texas 70 Bushel Soybean Club, should they reach either of these yields.

Out for a suntan? Exercise caution

With the kids out of school and working people taking vacations, a lot of winter-white skin is going to be seeing sun for the first time. And when it does, it could hurt.

Prevention is still the best medicine, said Eugene Zachary, D.O., of the general and family practice faculty of Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. "If you're out where the sun is strong--even though it's behind clouds--at least wear a sunscreen," he recommended. "It's different from tanning lotion because it filters out ultraviolet rays and gives more protection."

"If you want to tan, rotate your body frequently. Don't get completely red on one side and then turn over. And, for heaven's sake, don't fall asleep."

A vinegar and water solution is good for relieving the pain of sunburn once you get it, though, the Fort Worth physician said. A cloth dipped into a mixture of one-half to one cup of white vinegar and a quart of water will ease discomfort when placed directly on the sunburn.

As far as peeling goes, there is no prevention. "When you get a burn bad enough to destroy that outer layer of skin," Dr. Zachary warned, "it's going to come off. Sorry."

And while skin cancer is a genuine concern, he said, "I don't think people who are out in the sun the usual amount of time in the summer have much to worry about."

Pork, eggs among bargains

Heavy supplies of pork, broiler-fryers, turkey, eggs, milk, other dairy products and limes will be "best buy" items for the next few weeks, according to Dr. Carol Akkerman Sain, a consumer information specialist.

Dr. Sain says other plentiful items will be peanuts, potatoes, dry beans, raisins and dried prunes.

MEATS--Turkey may be the star budget item for a week or so due to those heavy supplies, and the "most bird for the money" is the larger size.

FRUITS--New-harvested fruits in abundant supply are sweet cherries, peaches, nectarines and plums. Shop around for fruit that is ripe--with economical prices.

From Mexico, expect to see bananas, pineapple, cantaloupes and watermelons.

Apples and oranges are in good supply, and they make excellent snacks or picnic fare, the specialist adds.

VEGETABLES--Top-quality economical vegetables include asparagus, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and spinach.

Also, squash, tomatoes, rutabagas, mushrooms and green onions.

Look for features on salad food soon--celery, cucumbers, iceberg lettuce and radishes.

Grains of gold, platinum and gem stones are often mixed with certain shore and river sands.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, the 1980 census will be used to obtain statistics that will help determine the proper distribution of federal tax monies.

How much of the federal tax your community gets back will depend in part by how completely and honestly Americans fill out their census questionnaires, being mailed to all households this year.

An example of how failure to cooperate with the census has robbed communities of tax dollars is cited by the National Alliance of Postal and Federal Employees: many preschoolers were missed in the 1960 and 1970 census counts. As a result, school districts serving these children failed to get necessary federal funds. Overcrowding and inadequate education resulted. It makes good tax sense to cooperate with the 1980 census.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

Many people who plan to move do so in the summer. If you're one of those who will be packing up and heading for new territory soon, be sure you select a reliable moving company to transport your belongings.

Because whether it's a cut-glass punch bowl or a well-used tricycle, your household goods probably would be hard to replace.

Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division warn that some "hot haulers," or illegal moving companies, are in operation and that dealing with them could result in some problems.

For one thing, many of the illegal movers cannot or do not offer proper insurance for your goods.

For another thing, consumers who unwittingly deal with a bootleg moving company could possibly be liable for prosecution under the Motor Carrier Act, enforced by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

There are three classes of moving companies:

(1) unregulated ones that can move goods from their base city to another; (2) companies licensed by the Texas Railroad Commission to move goods anywhere within the State; and (3) companies licensed by the Interstate Commerce Commission to move goods between states.

Spokesmen for the Railroad Commission say that many interstate movers have Texas representatives who are also licensed as intrastate movers themselves.

If you plan to move from Wichita Falls to El Paso, for example, you will need a company licensed by the Railroad Commission as an intrastate carrier. Picking a company from the telephone book, as many people do, is no guarantee that you'll get a properly licensed mover.

The best way is to check with the Railroad Commission to see if the movers you are interested in are listed as certified companies or as designated agents for such companies.

In order for a company to be certified, it must prove the need for increased service. Public hearings are held and, if the need is demonstrated, a permit can be granted by the Railroad Commission.

Specialized carriers holding certificates or permits for the transportation of household goods must adhere to certain requirements.

If a mover says offhandedly, "I'll move you to Dallas for $200," beware. He's not a licensed mover. If he were, he would have to take a look at your goods, give you a written estimate of the moving cost, weight his truck both before and after loading your goods, and check the weight against a fixed tariff rate to determine the actual cost.

He would also have to notify you if the cost exceeded the original estimate by 10 percent or $25, whichever is greater. And, in addition, he would have to inventory all of your belongings and give you a copy of the inventory.

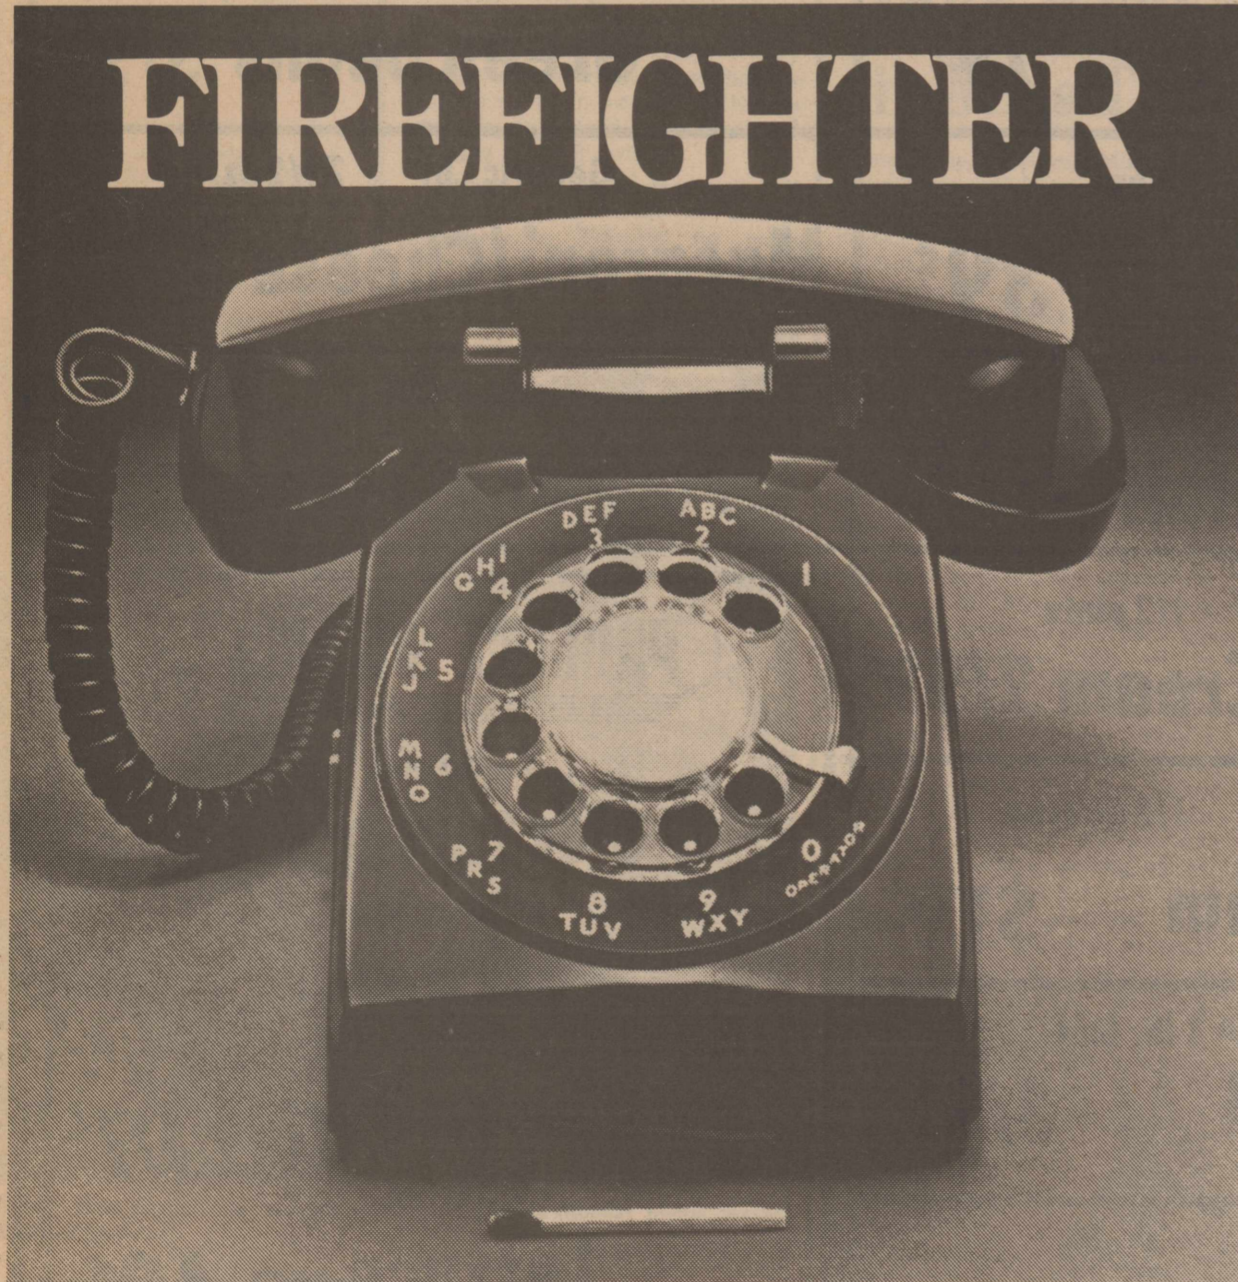

Certified intrastate moving companies must also be bonded, carry insurance, pay a licensing fee, and pay transportation taxes. Individuals employing such movers can also take out additional insurance on their goods, if desired.

If you want to lease a truck and move your own goods, be sure you choose a reputable company for that, too. There are statutes that prohibit the leasing of a truck by one individual to another for a move if requirements regarding such things as proper insurance have not been met.

Any questions about regulations involving a moving company can be answered by the Railroad Commission, the Department of Public Safety, or the Attorney General's Transportation Division. For assistance with other consumer problems, call our Consumer Protection Division, your district or county attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.
