Owen Benn Family Featured In Farm Bureau Publication

(Editor's Note: The following story and news pictures are from the July 26th issue of the Farm Bureau News and Views, edited by Martha and Bert Brewer.)

Work is spelled f-a-r-m-i-n-g and relaxation is spelled s-p-o-r-t-s for the Owen Benn family who live on the northern outskirts of Abernathy. Mr. and Mrs. Benn have two sons, Frederick, 19, a sophomore at Texas Technological College, and Gary, 17, a senior at Abernathy High School.

Born near Abernathy, Benn has lived and farmed in Hale County all his life. Presently his farming interests total a section and a half, and crops are primarily cotton, grain and wheat. Although he once raised cattle, Benn states that the only animals on the farm today are a big red Airedale named Dusty and a small white, part-Chihuahua. This year he is trying the Experimental Station's method of skip row planting, intermixing cotton and feed. And he's very pleased with the results he's getting.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Benn are graduates from Texas Tech. He received a degree in dairy manufacturing in the School of Agriculture. Mrs. Benn studied for the teaching profession. Following graduation she taught English and Spanish and coached girls' basketball first in Garza County and then at Hale Center. Later she taught a short time at Abernathy. Mrs. Benn is a native of Scurry County.

The Bennis, who first lived on their farm southeast of Hale Center, moved to their home outside Abernathy in 1948. "We've got the best location in the State of Texas," he asserts. The family are active members of the Abernathy Methodist Church. In 1964 they were named the Outstanding Farm Bureau Family in the Abernathy Community.

Athletically inclined, they are particularly fond of bowling, belonging to several leagues, including a couples' league. Mrs. Benn says she "is still trying to learn to like our boat, although Owen and the boys have been water skiing enthusiasts, 10 or 12 years now." Their favorite lake for boating excursions is Possum Kingdom. Vacations and outings are almost always family-oriented and enjoyed more for being together. They are avid football fans and try to make most of the Abernathy and Tech games, which included the Gator Bowl.

Mrs. Benn is most enthusiastic about bowling, bridge, knitting and yard work. She says she almost enjoys the hard work of canning that summer gardens evolve—her specialty is fancy preserves.

The boys are expanding their water sports this summer. Newest project is Scuba diving. In addition to boating, Frederick and Gary share other interests. They both drive tractors and work with their dad on the farm. Both have been members of the band. Both are honor students scholastically. And both are partial to mathematics and chemistry.

Frederick made the Dean's List his freshman year - an honor bestowed for outstanding scholastic achievement. During school he lives in one of Tech's new dorms.

Gary plays football for AHS and is a member of the National Honor Society. As a Future Farmer, he is raising five acres of cotton and has been delegate to the National Future Farmers' Convention.

A citizen interested in community improvements and farming advancements, Benn has served as director for almost all the co-ops at one time or another. He is a member of the Lions Club and the Oddfellows Lodge. A long-timer with Farm Bureau, he has served as secretary-treasurer, vice president and director.

Navy Test Available

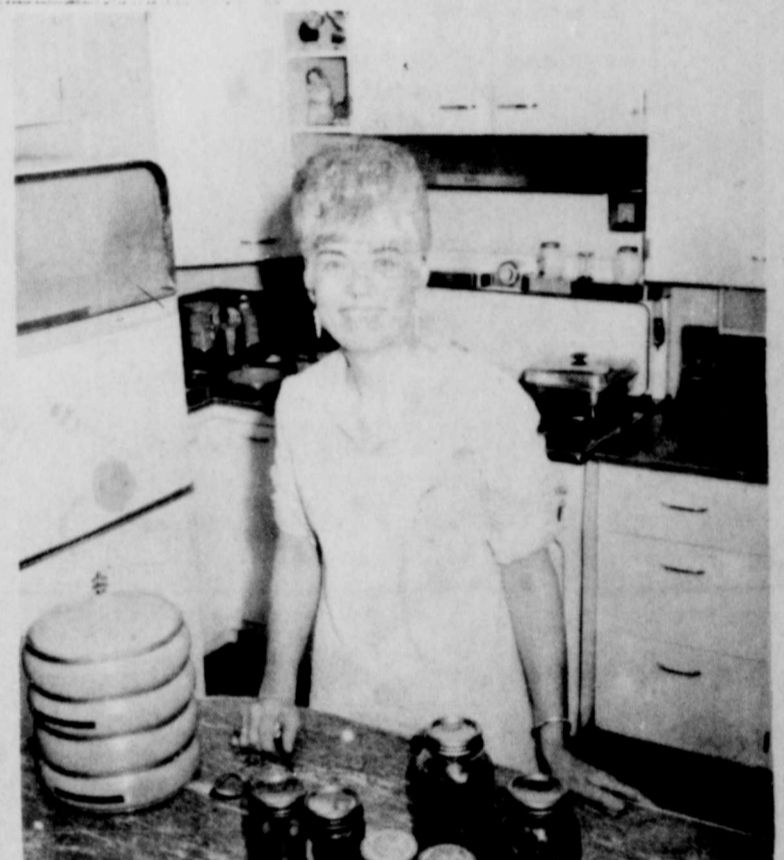

Applications for the Navy's twenty-first annual Regular NROTC qualification test are now available according to Mr. Charles Bowen (counselor) at the Abernathy High School. This nationwide examination will be given on 10 December 1966, and all eligible male high school seniors and graduates may apply.

On the basis of this test, personal interviews, medical examinations, and other factors, Mr. Bowen explained, over 1,700 young men will enter the Regular NROTC Program as midshipmen at NROTC units in 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation. Male citizens of the United States who will be at least 17 but not yet 21 on 30 June 1967, and who are now high school seniors or graduates, may be eligible to apply for the test. Those who attain qualifying scores will be interviewed and given medical examinations next January and February.

A successful candidate receives financial aid for four years of college. This includes tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms, and $50.00 per month subsistence allowance. After successfully completing baccalaureate degree requirements and naval training, graduates are commissioned as officers in the U.S. Navy or Marine Corps.

Regular NROTC midshipmen participate in three summer cruises with various naval units. These cruises help them learn more about the variety of interesting and challenging opportunities available to them as naval or marine corps officers.

Registrations for the test will close 18 November 1966. 1967 NROTC Bulletins containing eligibility requirements and qualifying test applications are available from Mr. Bowen or the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Lubbock.

Rehabilitation Office Planned At Plainview

A Vocational Rehabilitation Office of the Texas Education Agency will be established in Plainview this fall, Royce L. Vernon, a vocational counselor of Lubbock, reported to Hale County Commissioners.

Vernon said, barring some unforeseen development, the office would open in about two months and would be staffed by a counselor and a secretary. "This is quite an accomplishment. Usually these appointments go to cities with a population not less than 50,000-60,000," Vernon said. He told the commissioners the office would be established here principally through work done in Austin by County Judge C. L. Abernathy for a Plainview office and because there was a need for it here. A lease site will be selected later.

In a report of last year's operations in Hale County, Vernon said that in his nine and a half county district, his department paid $51,806 for area handicapped worker's rehabilitation. Of this amount, $21,802 was spent in Hale County, Vernon said.

In a co-operative contract signed in October, 1963, Hale County agreed to pay 35 per cent of some of the rehabilitation programs effective Hale County people. In 1965-66 fiscal year ending June 30, Hale County paid $826.58 for rehabilitation services specified as their part of the contracted services, Vernon said.

Vernon said his office handles about 200 active rehabilitation cases per year and said this will increase about 20 per cent when the office opens up here.

Other action taken by county commissioners included discussion of the out-of-city fire service contract presented to the court by Plainview city councilman.

The city-provided contract stated that the county would pay the city of Plainview $100 per unit for each vehicle dispatched to a fire occurring outside Plainview city limits within ten miles. For fires outside the ten mile limit an extra $10 per vehicle per mile would be assessed.

Meet Set In Plainview On Defoliation

Cotton harvesting is just around the corner. Many farmers are asking questions about defoliation, according to County Agent, Ollie Limer.

Limer stated that he has set up a meeting at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview on Friday, September 23 for this type of discussion. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Fred Elliott, Cotton Work Specialist and Beverly Reeves, Cotton Gin Specialist, both with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station, will discuss defoliation and harvesting for better grade and better staple.

Limer said that our cotton has a tendency to be generally short staple and of lower grade and this should be a meeting that should help some on harvesting for quality of cotton.

All farmers and businessmen interested are invited to come and participate in this meeting on Friday, September 23.

Limer stated that the meeting is to last 1 hour and 10 minutes. Farmers will have an opportunity to ask questions pertinent to their particular harvesting operation and defoliation and desiccant needs.

Tennessee Ernie, Young Americans Headline 1966 South Plains Fair

Lubbock's traditionally warm red carpet treatment is being arranged for "America's Number One Pea Picker"—Tennessee Ernie Ford—when he arrives here next month for the 49th annual renewal of the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

The widely-acclaimed television and recording star is scheduled to arrive in the Hub City for rehearsals on September 25. The fair, a kaleidoscope of fun and entertainment for the whole family, will be unreeled September 26-October 1.

"Ol Ern" and the Young American Singers will be featured twice daily at the exposition, one of the largest in the Southwest. The performances, all nearly two hours long, are scheduled "in-the-round" at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

And, while plans are being mapped to greet the entertainer, there is a steady bustle of activity on the fairgrounds as workmen are busy whipping grounds and facilities into shape for the opening, now less than two months away.

Getting primary attention is the repair of facilities damaged by a recent storm, which caused losses estimated at $6,000. This includes damage to footlights, windows, ticket booths, signs and a portion of the cattle barn.

But nearly $19,000 in capital improvements have been made since the 1965 event. Facilitating and construction projects include the addition of new wire hog pens that can accommodate 1,000 head, new swine and cattle wash racks and adjacent concrete service alleys. Several large trash receptacles have been purchased to enhance sanitary conditions. New trees beautify the landscape.

Also, fair offices have been moved to more convenient quarters in the old Texas Highway Department office complex located at 105 East Broadway.

The biggest single cost item was re-roofing Fair Park Coliseum, where Ford & Company will appear.

In 1965, improvements totaling $28,300 were added.

These projects are just a small part of the everyday activity at the fairgrounds, one of the primary reasons why the Lubbock event is highly-regarded in nationwide fair circles.

The only fair in Texas now still running when the Panhandle South Plains Fair first made its bow is the State Fair. The Lubbock show is ranked 46th in attendance among 4,000 fairs held annually in the United States.

Virtually all of the fairs with higher attendance, however, are state fairs running eight to 16 days compared to the traditional six-day run for Lubbock's. Attendance is expected to surpass 250,000 this year.

Officials of the non-profit fair association proudly point to the fact that more than $1 million in improvements have been made through the years. This includes structures, paving, utilities, etc., on an 80-acre tract leased from the county.

Operating strictly on a business basis, the fair is not subsidized, although many of the larger fairs receive either county or state tax funds.

And while it is not only drawing thousands of visitors to Lubbock, the fair also boosts the economy by playing the same role as a small industry.

Last year, more than $150,000 was pumped into the local business world from the fair's expenses, including local payroll, advertising, utilities, premiums, improvements, printing and other miscellaneous expenditures.

Approximately 220 persons, including police officers, ticket takers, gate men, day laborers, etc., were hired on a parttime basis to help stage the fair. All were local residents.

Several area service organizations also directly benefit. The Downtown Lions Club, Wolforth Lions Club, Rebekah Lodge No. 321, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary have permanent concession buildings. A fifth structure is being added by the Abilene Christian College Booster's Club.

These organizations made a total net profit of $15,000 in 1965. Most of the proceeds are used for worthy club projects in their communities.

Last year, all facilities were taxed to the limit with a near-record number of displays and exhibits. New attractions added for 1966 will make the fair one of the largest in its long history.

Ford should feel right at home in the Hub City of the South Plains. Not widely known is the fact that Ford is fast building himself into one of the West's leading ranchers. He has two cattle ranches in Eagleville in northern California, a 17,500-acre ranch where he grows 4,000 tons of hay and 3,000 head of cattle, and another 25,000-acre spread where, in addition to growing hay, he has in excess of 2,500 head of Hereford cattle.

The Ford Cattle Company is fulfilling a lifelong dream of the Tennessee entertainer and it has his constant supervision. His ranches are his pride and joy but his family always comes first.

Tickets for the Ford-Young American Singers' shows are priced at $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50. Children 12 years and under will be admitted to matinees only for one-half price. Tickets purchased prior to September 26 also will be accompanied by free admission passes to the fairgrounds.

Mail orders are now being accepted by the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock.

 City councilmen authorized Marshall Pharr, city manager, to sign the contract and present it to Hale County.
 It was pointed out that funds to pay for the fire service would come from precinct one funds.
AGAINST CONTRACT
 Marvin Churchwell, commissioner of precinct one, said he was against signing the contract and stated he felt the charge should be on a flat rate like other fire departments in the county receiving county pay. "If we start paying Plainview on a per run basis, we'd have to pay the others likewise," Churchwell said.
 He continued by saying that a flat rate would be the only way to have it. "This way we would know what we had to pay and could be ready for it."
 "It's time to do something about the fire service and I have tried for years to get them to come up with a proposal. Since this is the first contract they have come up with I sure hate to turn it down, but I just can't see this," Churchwell said making a hand motion toward the contract laying on the table.
REVISE DEFINITION
 Judge Abernethy reported that he would like to see the contract revised. "According to what I read, their definition of fire equipment means a 250 gallon tank truck or however many 250 gallon tank trucks they deemed necessary to take."
 He said a 250 gallon tank truck outside of the city limits where no water was available would be of little help. "About all they could do would be keep something else from catching fire," he said.
 Churchwell said he would be willing to pay Plainview as much as all other fire departments in the county combined and he made a motion to negotiate a fire protection contract with the city of Plainview for $3600 per year and to arrange a contract agreeable to both parties with revisions in the fire equipment definition clause.
 Judge Abernethy appointed Churchwell and Homer Roberson, commissioner of precinct two, county representatives to meet with city officials.
 Abernethy reported the county received $52,927.11 from the state to be used for county lateral road construction and improvement. Abernethy said this was an annual dividend from state gasoline taxes and would be divided among the county precincts.
 Commissioners present for the meeting were "Doc" Brown, commissioner of precinct four, Roberson and Churchwell.

Second Deadline Set For Medicare Signing

Some elderly people who missed the May 31 deadline for signing up for the doctor bill insurance part of medicare may still enroll if they get in touch with their social security office before October 1, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, said today.

Ball pointed out that persons 65 or over before March of this year who, because of physical or mental condition, misunderstanding, or misinformation, failed to sign up before the close of their first enrollment period on May 31, may under the law be able to enroll between now and the end of the month.

Their protection will begin the sixth month following their enrollment, Ball said. But if they delay beyond September 30, their next chance to sign up will not come until October 1, 1967, and their premiums will be slightly higher.

Persons 65 and over are au-tomatically eligible for hospital insurance under medicare, Ball noted. Those who are not social security beneficiaries need only give their social security office proof of their age.

But the voluntary medical insurance part of medicare—the part that pays toward physicians' and surgeons' bills and the cost of many other medical services in and out of the hospital—is voluntary and the older person who wants this protection must sign up during a specified enrollment period.

For those who reached 65 before March of this year, the initial enrollment period ended May 31, with a four month grace period—until October 1—for those who missed the May 31 deadline for "good cause."

People reaching 65 on March 1 or later must sign up in one of the three months just before the month of their 65th birthday if they want their protection to begin as soon as they reach 65. If they sign up in the month they become 65 or one of the following 3 months, their protection does not begin until one to three months afterward.

Those who delay past their first enrollment period will not get another chance until the next general enrollment period—the last three months of 1967 and subsequent odd-numbered years—with their coverage beginning the following July 1.

Of the 19.1 million people in the country who are 65 or over, Ball said 17.3 million—more than 9 out of 10—have enrolled for the voluntary doctor bill insurance to supplement their basic hospital insurance protection under medicare. About 1 million others notified the Social Security Administration that they did not want the additional protection. The remainder did not give notice either way.

Both those not heard from and those who originally turned down the chance to enroll should get in touch with the nearest social security office this month if they wish to sign up for the doctor bill insurance under medicare, he said. If the reasons for their failure to enroll by May 31 are found to have been due to circumstances beyond their control, they may still be able to sign up for their doctor bill insurance with their coverage beginning 6 months from now, instead of a wait of almost 2 years.

The social security office serving Hale and Floyd Counties is located at 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, except national holidays. The office remains open Thursdays until 9:00 p.m.

"The world's rapidly exploding population," he pointed out, "certainly with the increasingly certain invasion of these arid and semi-arid regions in man's struggle for survival and fulfillment, make study of this problem absolutely imperative."

President Murray, in requesting that the proposal be forwarded for approval to the Coordination Board, Texas College and University System, said he hoped it would "become automatic for people everywhere to think of Texas Tech anytime they think of aridity. If they have a problem related to arid or semi-arid regions, I hope they will come to us to solve it."

Lady, here's your problem.

It's the food you cook, not the fuel you use, that soils your kitchen. But a modern GAS range can keep mess to a minimum. Closed-door broiling eliminates smoke. The "burner-with-a-brain" and 1001 temperature controls guard against cook-top burning and boilovers. So don't take potluck. Go GAS for clean, cool cooking.

The flame GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE ... COSTS LESS, TOO!
