Since the Uniform Housing Bill was adopted in 1978, the City of Abernathy has been able to demolish 30 substandard buildings within the city limits, making Abernathy a better place to live.

The City adopted a uniform housing code in 1978 and the program was started shortly after. The code concerns the demolition and clearance of substandard buildings and houses.

Of the 30 substandard structures which have been demolished in the past five years, 20 were residential and 10 commercial.

It has been the city manager's job to inspect old and deteriorated structures to determine if they are substandard. City Manager Rod Ellis stated that he inspects possible substandard buildings, which he observes or hears about through complaints by other locals.

Ellis then goes to the structure and fills out an inspector's report to see if the structure meets criteria outlined under the uniform housing code. If the city manager finds the structure to be substandard, he then "red tags" the structure and it is demolished, unless the property owner decides to make the necessary improvements to keep the building up to City standards. Ellis stated that when a building is "red tagged", the City must be able to prove that the structure is indeed substandard.

Ellis stated that a building is not classified substandard if it is occupied, regardless of the condition it is in. In Abernathy, the structure has to be abandoned.

A structure can be classified as substandard if it falls under any of the following categories: (1) a public nuisance - has been damaged or is unattractive; (2) a fire hazard - conditions are favorable for a fire, electrical hazards; (3) detracts from surrounding neighborhood - not maintained sufficiently, thus lowering nearby property values; (4) safety hazard - conditions favorable for injuries; (5) potential breeding place for insects and rodents; (6) lot not maintained - build-up of trash, junk, high weeds and brush, poor drainage; or (7) structural hazard - faulty foundation, no or little weather protection, holes in roof, broken windows, etc.

"Basically, we are looking to demolish structures in which their overall condition is unsafe, unhealthy or presents a definite problem to the community," Ellis said.

If a structure is "red tagged", the owner has three options: (1) property owner can appeal the City's recommendation to demolish the structure to the Housing Standards Commission (City Council); (2) owner can repair or improve the property to City standards; (3) owner can demolish structure himself.

"We have been demolishing 4 to 5 structures per year. The number we demolish is usually dependent on how much the City budgets for this purpose each year. We have made Avenue D a major priority as well as the other highly traveled areas of town in order to improve Abernathy's overall appearance," Ellis stated.

"As more substandard structures are demolished in Abernathy, the overall appearance of our community is improving, making Abernathy a more pleasant place to live," Ellis ended.

AFTER....after the substandard house was demolished and removed, a clean mowed lot is the result, thus improving the appearance of Abernathy to viewers from I-27. (Review Photo)

Senior Citizens May Receive $16,000 More

The Abernathy Senior Citizens Center may receive an additional $16,000 through the South Plains Association of Governments Aging Department.

Approximately $190,000 will be available to provide Title 111b supportive services, which include transportation, senior center operations, outreach, in-home services, and adult day care.

The SPAG Aging Committee recently recommended that Abernathy receive $16,000. Abernathy will get this amount, unless SPAG does not receive the full $190,000, which is thought will be available.

If the Senior Citizens are granted the $16,000, it has been mandated by SPAG that this money be used for operational purposes, such as hiring a director for the center. It will also be used to pay for other operational costs, such as insurance and utilities.

City Manager Rod Ellis, who applied for these funds, stated that there should be no problem with Abernathy getting the full $16,000, unless SPAG does not get its full appropriation of $190,000.

Abernathy I.S.D. Budget Compared State-Wide

Texasans increased spending on local public schools by $900 million last year, as trustees in 1,071 school districts adopted school budgets totaling $8.5 billion. That provided more than $300 in additional funds for each of the 2,678,000 students in the state, according to the Texas Research League.

State foundation school aid was upped by $345 million, but local property taxpayers were tagged for an additional $425 million to pay for the increase. The remainder was funded by increases in special state and federal aid programs and by higher local fees and other revenue.

The figures come from the latest issue of "Bench Marks for 1982-83 of the congregation who was a rather poor cook. The pie was inedible, so the minister's wife reluctantly threw it into the garbage.

The preacher was faced with the problem of thanking the lady, while at the same time being truthful. After much thought, he sent the following note:

"Dear Mrs. Jones: Thank you for being so kind and thoughtful. I can assure you that pies like yours never last long at our house!

School District Budgets in Texas", an annual publication of the League. The Texas Research League is a private, nonprofit, Austin-based, educational corporation engaged in governmental research.

School budgets adopted for 1982-83 called for spending $2,610.23 per student for current operations. The Abernathy ISD's budget provided for $4,394.52 per student based on the 890 students in average daily attendance in 1981-82.

Locally, the Abernathy ISD's tax levy was increased by 8.6 percent for 1982-83 as compared to a 14.8 percent increase for the average school district in Texas.

The average salary for classroom teachers paid by Abernathy ISD in 1981-82 was $18,762, which was 32 percent above the minimum salary prescribed by the state. The average among all school districts in Texas was $17,537 per classroom teacher, or 20.6 percent over the minimum. The legislature further increased the state minimum schedule by $88-$196 a month for 1982-83.

There was an average of one teacher for 9.5 students in Abernathy ISD compared to a statewide pupil-teacher ratio of 1 to 16.4. The pupil-teacher ratio is not the same thing as the average class size because teachers and students are not necessarily in class the same number of hours each day.

The report noted that the share of the total school payroll paid to classroom teachers has dropped from 73.4 percent of the total in 1969-70 to 60.4 cents of each payroll dollar last year as many more non-teaching personnel have been hired. Locally, classroom teachers were paid 62.1 percent of the school payroll in 1981-82.

The average school property tax rate in 1981-82 was $0.531 per $100 of market value (selling price) so that the school tax on a property selling for $100,000 was $531 in the average school district. Locally, the rate on market value in Abernathy ISD was $458 or $458 on a property selling for $100,000.

If the property were a homestead or owned by a senior citizen, the school tax would be less because of various exemptions. Open-space land if qualifying would be valued on productivity value rather than market value and would be taxed less.

The report noted that the 68th Legislature increased appropriations for public schools by almost a billion dollars ($962 million) for the next biennium. However, only an additional $192 million increase (5.4 percent) in foundation aid to local school districts will be available for 1983-84 school budgets that school trustees are now working on.

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

IT RAINED ON PRESS DAY last week and we did not get to report how much rain we got. According to our local weather man Lowery Deering, we received 1.48 inches in Abernathy.

This is real strange considering that Lubbock is only 17 miles away and didn't even get a sprinkle that day. And County Line, only 10 miles away, received a mere 1/2 inch at the most.

Mother Nature will always be unpredictable, as even the best meteorologists can't tell a farmer which fields are going to get rain or hail and which fields are not.

I don't think I will ever go into the farming business...too big a gamble. Might consider it if crops were portable and could be hauled to where it was raining, or hauled away from a hail storm.

THESE WERE CONTRIBUTED by a local reader:

I'm old, but not afraid to die. Though honestly I confess, I'd hate to leave this good old world in such an awful mess!
-Bert Crampton

Do you remember when: Paper fans were popular And doctors made house calls And all the cars had running boards And telephones cranked on walls? Hose were made of cotton, wool, or silk;

Ice cream cones cost a nickel And you reached into a barrel For a cracker or a pickle? Bread came without a wrapper And love was quite discreet

The only dry, boxed cereal Was good old shredded wheat? I'll bet you recall those good ole days And for your mem'ries you're a glutton.

But when you've done a hard day's work You sit right down and push a button!

OUR APOLOGIES to Brenda Neve and Ellen Gereau for calling their new business "The Hairblenders" last week, rather than The Hairbenders in their ad.

TOLD YOU SO LAW: No matter what happens, there's always somebody who knew it would.

PEGGY'S LAW: A child never throws up in the bathroom.

SANDS OF TIME: If you really look like your driver's license photo, you're not well enough to drive.

DUFFERS: Really bad golfers never had to play with old golf balls.

SECURITY: A lot of people who complain about their boss being stupid would be out of a job if he was any smarter.

LADDER: The less important you are on the company's organizational chart, the more you'll be missed if you don't show up for work.

Did you ever have a backwards day? Perhaps you set the alarm for the wrong hour, got up on the wrong side of the bed, burned the breakfast, had a flat tire, got to work late, the boss informed you that you did not get the raise, read the market reports and found that your investments had lost over night, and then your day started getting bad. If you have had this type of day, you probably looked forward to its end.

I'm afraid that many people live their lives that way - just looking forward to some future event. I believe that we miss a lot if we live only for the future. Granted, we must plan for the future and we need something to look forward to, but life is best lived in the present day. "This is the day that the Lord hath made, let us rejoice and be glad therein." If we could learn to live each day, love each day and walk with God each day, then each day would be a special, wonderful and productive day.

IS THIS SOMEONE YOU KNOW?

She is 84 years old and has lived in her home for the past 50 years. She raised two handsome sons and cared for a loving husband. Her husband died 5 years ago and her two sons left to start families of their own. One son visits at Christmas and writes occasionally; the other hasn't been to visit in 3 years.

These days Mary seldom goes out because she is afraid! She stays in and watches TV alone.

Everybody knows that cooking for yourself is no fun. Mary was once the best chili cook in the neighborhood and won many awards. Now she lives on peanut butter and an occasional can of soup.

We at ARA Living Centers have met many Marys over the years. The feeling of despair that comes from living alone is not new. We've created special rooms for special people like Mary, who need:

- the warmth of companionship.
- a sense of security,
- nutritious meals, plus
- someone to rely on in emergencies.

There is no place like home but we offer those things that make life worth living. If there is a Mary in your life, why don't you call today for more information.

Cotton Sought To Pay Off PIK

The Agriculture Department will offer to buy cotton from the past three harvests to help meet obligations to producers in this year's payment-in-kind program.

Agriculture Secretary John R. Block said Tuesday the offer will be for cotton from the 1980, 1981 and 1982 harvests. Cotton acquired will then be given to PIK participants to help meet the government's obligation under the program.

Under PIK, producers who reduced 1983 plantings will get free surplus cotton from the government. However, the department's Commodity Credit Corp. did not have enough on hand or under loan to meet all commitments.

Thus, Block opted to require participating cotton farmers to "plant for PIK" this year -- meaning that they would turn over at least part of their 1983 harvest to the government for use as PIK compensation.

Under that plan, farmers would have been paid the basic federal support rate of 55 cents a pound for the commandeered cotton and then be given the cotton back as their PIK entitlement.

However, legislation passed by Congress effectively voided the plant-for-PIK plan and directed USDA to buy cotton from farmers at a premium of up to 20 percent.

Block said farmers who have cotton under price support loans may submit offers to sell their cotton to the government on August 8-24 at county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service where the loans were obtained.

"The previously announced requirement that some producers obtain loans on their 1983-crop cotton production has been suspended," Block said.

"However," he said, "if a sufficient quantity of cotton is not acquired under this cotton purchase program to satisfy PIK obligations, producers may be required to obtain a loan on their 1983 crop production for PIK purposes."

The change in procedures will mean a delay in getting PIK benefits to some cotton farmers because the agency "cannot determine how much cotton will be available until after the bids have been evaluated," Block said.

Plains Pest Management Report

Corn

Southwestern corn borer (SWCB) egg laying continued this week, with many freshly laid and red line eggs being found. First and second instar larvae have been found in some fields feeding behind leaf collars and under ear husk. A few 3rd instar larvae have been observed behind leaf collars. SWCB moth collections in light traps continue to be high. Fields checked on Aug. 9 for 1st generation SWCB emergence indicated an average of 92.5 percent emerged, with a range of 89.5 to 97 percent. This means that our original prediction of 90 percent emergence by Aug. 5 was relatively accurate, being only 3 to 4 days earlier than what actually occurred. Based on this emergence pattern, I expect egg laying to be decreasing by Aug. 5th.

Spider mites remain light in most fields. A few fields have had populations increasing rapidly with webbing and damage on lower leaves. Spider mites should be watched up until the dent stage is reached.

Fall armyworms have been observed in several corn fields. They feed on ears and behind leaf collars. The larger fall armyworms feed around the node areas, making the plant weak at this point. Sometimes a strong wind will cause the plants to break over at the point of feeding. We do not have an economic threshold for this pest.

Cotton

Growth has been excellent with many fields reaching peak bloom. Cotton bollworm egg and larval counts have been low, with 1,000 per acre being the most found. Beet armyworms are being reported in a few fields, with minimal damage.

Sorghum

Most fields now range from boot to heading. As sorghum blooms, it should be scouted for sorghum midge. The economic threshold for sorghum midge is when 25 to 30 percent of the heads begin to flower and midge average one per head.

Sunflowers

As fields bloom scout them for the presence of the sunflower moth. It is 3/8 to 1/2 inch long, cigar shaped and whitish in color. Control can be achieved with methyl parathion, parathion, endosulfan, Supracide, Lorsban, and bacillus thuringiensis (Dipel). Dipel has been recently labeled for sunflower moth control and would be useful in sunflower seed production, where honey bees are needed for pollination.

Liner Says "Now Is The Time To Control Grubs"

Each year between June and September, Texas livestock producers can effectively control costly grubs by applying livestock insecticides, says Ollie Liner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Grub control can be achieved with a variety of systemic treatments which includes sprays, dips, pour-ons, spot-ons and feed mixes. However, insecticide impregnated ear tags being used for biting fly control do not control cattle grubs.

During late fall and winter, grubs appear on the backs of livestock. It's too late to begin control measures then since most of the damage has already been done.

In addition to controlling cattle grubs, an insecticide used now will also provide contact control of horn flies for two to three weeks. Liner says this makes the overall cost of treatment favorable.

Insecticides suggested for grub control include coumaphos (CO-Ral), phosmet (Prolate), trichlorfon (Neguvon), famphur (warbex) and fenthion (Tiguvon). Read and follow directions on the insecticide label before treatment. Cattle that are sick or under stress should not be treated, cautions the agent. Dosage is determined by the body weight of the animal.

The cattle grub is the larval stage of the heel fly. The adult fly has no mouth parts, so it causes no pain to the cattle. However, it frightens cattle, making them difficult to manage.

Animals often seek relief by standing in shade or shallow water.

The life cycle begins when the heel fly lays its eggs on an animal. The eggs, glued to hairs, hatch within a few days, and larvae (worms) enter the skin at hair follicles. The immature stages then migrate through the animal's body for six to eight months and reappear in the animal's back in the fall and winter, forming knot-like marbles or cysts.

Cattle grub losses are displayed in the variety of ways, says Liner. Besides damaging meat and hides by their feeding activity, they lower beef cattle gains and reduce milk production throughout the year. Profit losses are estimated to cost Texas cattle producers $8-10 million each year.

Hunter Safety Course Aug. 22-26

A Hunter Safety Course for adults, over age 18, is planned for August 22, 23, 25 and 26. The course will begin each night at 7 p.m. and will be held at the County Extension Office, Courthouse Square, 6th and Ash Streets in Plainview, according to Tom Conerly, County Extension Agent.

Conerly, a certified Hunter Safety instructor with the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife, will teach the course.

The course will be limited to 12 participants. Each participant must complete all eight hours of the training and must pass a written test in order to receive their Hunter Safety cards.

Anyone interested in taking the course should call Tom Conerly (806-293-8481, ext. 267) before August 18. If there is a large number of

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, August 12, 1983

USDA in the August 5 Federal Register called for comments on provisions of the 1984 upland cotton program. Comment will be assured of consideration if received by October 4.

In its quest for a program that will achieve a forever elusive balance between supply and demand, and do so within the bounds of political reality, the Department asks for recommendations on the 1984 loan level, target price, acreage provisions and lesser details. A complete copy of the FR notice is available from the office of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., P. O. Box 3640, Lubbock TX 79452.

Under current law USDA has little latitude in setting the base loan rate or the target price, PCG officials note. However in connection with the latter, they point out that the Administration is campaigning for new legislation that would freeze the target price for 1984 and 1985 at the 1983 level of 76 cents per pound. Present law requires that the target price be raised to 81 cents in 1984 and to 86 cents in 1985.

The Food and Agriculture Act of 1981 requires that the base cotton loan rate through 1985 be set by a rigid "spot market calculation," or at the statutory minimum of 55 cents per pound. The final loan rate must be announced by November 1 of this year.

The spot market method, based on 85 percent of average U. S. market quotations for the past five years, excluding the highest and lowest, according to PCG figures most likely will result in a loan below the legal minimum. And both USDA and PCG say the Northern Europe calculation probably will not affect the final determination. So, without new legislation, PCG is expecting the new 1984 loan to be at 55 cents, the same as in 1983.

Questions on acreage provisions of the 1984 program revolve around whether there should be an acreage reduction program and if so the particulars thereof, including whether a payment in kind program should be included.

USDA gives estimates of 1984-85 cotton supply and offtake that suggest a need for limiting cotton acreage in 1984, but leaves itself an out by adding that further weather and market developments may have an effect on the final decision.

Other acreage control options open to the Department include a "voluntary" acreage diversion program, which would require compliance to retain eligibility for program benefits, and cash land diversion payments.

Comment on the 1984 program provisions should be sent to Dr. Howard Williams, Director, Analysis Division, ASCS, P. O. Box 2415, Washington DC 20013.

LOAN PROGRAM EXPANSION URGED: Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, Texas, cotton producer and chairman of the National Cotton Council's Special Agricultural Credit Task Force, recently urged expansion of the Small Business Administration's agribusiness loan program.

In a letter to the SBA, Cline said such expansion is essential if the credit needs of agriculture, including cotton, are to be adequately met.

COTTON UNDER LOAN INCREASES: Upland cotton under Commodity Credit Corporation loan for 1982-83 decreased by a net 46,232 running bales during the week ended July 20, according to the National Cotton Council. The season's totals include 5,054,932 entered and 2,676,374 repaid, leaving 2,378,558 bales outstanding.

NCC BOARD WILL MEET: The National Cotton Council Board of Directors will meet September 8-9 at the Holiday Inn Civic Center, Lubbock, Texas.

TRIP CONTINUES.....

April 23 - We had a good night's sleep and another sumptuous breakfast. Our rooms at this hotel, I understand, are $120.75, including breakfast for one night. Our devotions today were from Luke 5, regarding Jesus and the apostles on the Sea of Galilee, where we are now leaving.

Passed Nazareth. This is where Jesus grew up. It has very rocky terrain, so I asked the guide if they had sewers, since septic tanks would be out of the question. He said there is a sewer system everywhere. The Mayor of Nazareth is a communist. There is a Baptist church and school here. Nazareth, of course, is where Mary was told by an angel that she would have a child.

We were at Megiddo at 9:30. This is where Solomon had built the house of the Lord. Solomon had peace with his neighbors because he married the daughters. We passed the hill where David killed Goliath.

There are 800,000,000 flowers exported everywhere from Israel. There are 350 Kibbutz villages all over Israel, where 140,000 people are supplied all of their needs, but they work for nothing. Mostly it is farming, but there are other industries too. The word Kibbutz means togetherness. Golda Meir, as well as others in the government, lived in a Kibbutz.

We had lunch in Jericho, which is the oldest city in the world dominated by the Mount of Temptation, where Jesus fasted for 40 days and nights. Jericho is 950 feet below sea level. We walked up a hill and we could see excavations where city after city had been dug up.

Our Arab lunch was a disaster, as far as we were concerned. We were served outside and we fed ours to the many cats roaming around.

According to the Hebrew calendar, it depicts 1984 as the year of destruction. It couldn't be Armageddon, since the rapture has to precede that by seven years.

We then drove over the Judean desert on our way to Jerusalem. It was hot here.

There are 3 crops harvested a year. We saw tomatoes being picked, which were 2 to 3 months earlier than ours.

We arrived in Jerusalem at 2:30 and were surprised at how mountainous it was. We passed a Jewish cemetery on the Mount of Lives, which is supposed to be the oldest in the world. Instead of going to our hotel, we were taken on the Bethlehem to a jewelry store. One of our girls spent $2,000 on a diamond necklace and earrings. We waited and waited on her to come out to the bus, but when we found out later that the tour guide gets a percentage of everything bought, we understood why she wasn't rushed.

We were all tired and wanted to get to the hotel, but we still made one more stop to the church of the Nativity. We finally arrived at the Jerusalem Hilton (a very beautiful, round high-rise of 420 rooms), where we had a late dinner again and then went to bed.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health

Although the nationwide trend in syphilis cases has leveled off, Texas continued to show an increase in the disease during 1982.

Last year Texas had the largest number of primary and secondary syphilis cases in history while leading the nation in these categories. The total for the first six months of 1983 is two percent greater than for the comparable period last year.

The Lone Star State ended 1982 with 6,338 cases of primary and secondary syphilis, a 19 percent increase over 1981 and 66 percent greater than the 1980 figure, reports the Texas Department of Health (TDH). Texas reported 5,329 cases of primary and secondary syphilis in 1981 and 3,828 cases in 1980.

For all types of syphilis — primary, secondary, latent, and other stages — 11,182 cases were reported in 1982. This represents a 21 percent rise over 1981 and a 58 percent increase from the 1980 figures.

For the first six months of 1983, 5,842 cases of syphilis (all stages) have been reported to the TDH, a 12 percent increase when compared to the same time frame in 1982.

Joe Pair, Director of the Infectious Disease Control Division of TDH, said that part of the increase during the past two years can be attributed to better case reporting through local and regional health departments, by private physicians, and through epidemiologic techniques by trained VD investigators.

Pair said that the largest number of infectious cases last year were reported in the 20 to 34 year old age group. Black males had the highest incidence of the disease in this age group. Infectious syphilis victims ranged from 10 to 65 years of age.

"A GLANCE AT THE PAST"

By Helen Wade

FROM THE ABERNATHY WEEKLY REVIEW DATED MARCH 26, 1959:

Welcome home to Lenoy Stallings, who spent the last two years in the Army. His last station was at Huntsville, Alabama. He has received his discharge from the service, and has returned to his teller position in Abernathy First State Bank. Lenoy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stallings. A vicious wind and dust storm raked the South Plains Friday, with gusts up to 70 miles per hour. Considerable damage was reported in the area, with small buildings being blown down and roofs ripped off of porches, and window glasses broken.

The Tri-City Drag Race Association will begin the season's racing activities by conducting its first race of the season on April 5 on the Drag Strip at Abernathy's Municipal Airport. Trophies will be awarded the winners. Races will be held the first Sunday in each month through July. The public is invited to attend the races, and the usual admission prices of $1 for adults will be charged.

The Antelope cindermen made a good showing in the John Tarleton Relays at Stephenville this past weekend. The trackmen of Coach Earl Carter scored six points in their division, which was composed of 28 teams. Gerald Watson was the high point-maker for the Antelopes. Watson placed third in the 120-yd. high hurdles and third in the 180-yd. low hurdles. Charles Pope placed fourth in the 220-yd. dash, and the 440-yd. relay team, composed of Jimmy Dye, Charles Pope, Jimmy Nelson and Johnnie Adams, won a fourth place rating. Abernathy Home Demonstration Club met in the club room March 20 with Mrs. J. B. Herring as hostess. Mrs. Fred Crenshaw gave the council report. The program was given by Miss Betty Wisdom and Miss Sara Bruce, both members of the 4-H Club, assisted by their leader, Mrs. Ted Wisdom. The girls made and served delicious chocolate candy. Guests and members attending this meeting were Mrs. Frank Lovelace, Betty Wisdom, Sara Bruce, Mrs. Ted Wisdom, and Mmes. Thomas Conner, M. M. Bell, E. M. Davis, T. A. Brewster, A. N. Johnson, Fred Crenshaw, G. D. Clapp, R. L. Hall, Melvin Johnson, Millard Hancock and Miss Carol Herring. The next meeting of the club will be an all-day drapery workshop to be held April 3 in the club room beginning at 9:30 a.m. Mildred Cox, county HD agent will be in charge of this program.

The senior play cast was selected last Thursday night. The play, "One Mad Night" will be presented on April 21. The cast includes Jimmy Nelson, James Blalock, Horton Struve, Fred Evans, Scott Mooneyham, Don Jones, Carroll Dean Powell, Beverly Suttle, Wanza Howard, Gwen Sanders, Billie Houston, Vaughn Allen, Suzan Benn, Priscilla and Paula Apperson. Linda Roberts will be in charge of the stage crew. Mr. James Doggett, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Hardin and Miss Dodie Stokes, will direct the play. Everyone is welcome to attend. The Interscholastic League District 2-AA One Act Play Contest was held in Olton Tuesday night, March 24. AHS's entry in "AN INVENTORY IS BETTER than memory should you have a loss due to theft or damage from fire or flood," says Beverly Rhoades, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Without an up-to-date inventory, it's difficult to remember items, much less prove you owned them. To prepare an inventory, list major items in each room with the serial numbers, purchase price, present value and date of purchase, suggest Rhoades. Photograph each wall of each room with closet or cabinet doors open and label belongings for a more complete inventory. Store your inventory and pictures in a safe place away from home and up-date as needed. Should a loss occur, the inventory will assist you in settling insurance claims and verifying losses for income tax deductions, says the specialist.

Allsup's Stores Join The Fight Against Muscular Dystrophy

Through Labor Day, September 5th, Allsup's Convenience Store will display Muscular Dystrophy collection canisters in all stores in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. This fund-raising activity, along with many others, will help find causes and cures for 40 crippling neuromuscular disorders that affect an estimated one million Americans of all ages. The programs of the Muscular Dystrophy Association are funded almost entirely by private contributions and corporations. And the research is working! MDA recently announced the first breakthrough in the treatment of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) -- also known as Lou Gehrig's disease. While the drug -- TRH -- is classified as experimental, it is the first treatment that has ever resulted in significant improvement in ALS patients, and it represents a glimmer of hope for people with this terrible disease. Allsup's is proud to be a part of such worthwhile research. Again this year, Allsup's invites area youngsters to participate in the annual "Door Bell Brigade for MDA." Kids are encouraged to pick up collection kits at their local Allsup's store on August 27th and 28th. After collecting donations for MDA and "Jerry's Kids", return the collections to the store and each youngster will receive a free fountain drink of their choice. It's Allsup's way of saying thank you to all the kids who care about helping "Jerry's Kids." From Jack Crow, Director of Public Relations for Allsup's, "Thanks to all of our friends and customers for your generosity in helping to fight neuromuscular diseases. Your nickels and dimes add up to millions for research and treatment, so look for the MDA coin collection canisters and give to 'Jerry's Kids.' Your change can be the key to the cure."

With the opening of the 1983-84 hunting season fast approaching, more than 100 pages of current hunting information are available in the National Rifle Association's new "Hunter's Planning Guide and Directory."

Previously sold as the "NRA Hunting Annual", this new, expanded publication features the latest hunting information on a state-by-state basis. It has a wealth of information including game surveys, where to hunt, how to find local outfitters and taxidermists, and explanations of firearm and game regulations. Several detailed articles written by experts such as Olympic Gold Medalist Gary Anderson, on Basic Rifle marksmanship, Equipment Selection, Unguided Hunts, Shooting Preserves, Hunting Trophy, and Game Dressing are also included.

The National Rifle Association, a leader in hunter safety and education for more than 100 years, produces this publication as one of its many services to hunters and sportsmen nationwide. The publication costs $4.00. Further information on the new guide is available from the NRA's Hunter Services Division, 1600 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. GETTING NITROGEN FROM LEGUMES--Legumes planted on set-aside acres can provide nitrogen for next year's crop if managed properly, notes a soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. It's best to allow legumes to mature and then to incorporate them into the soil when the land is being prepared for next year's crops. More of the nitrogen in the plants will be preserved this way, because decomposition will be slower than if plants are plowed under while green and succulent.
