One more time,

And a very scary New Year to you too. That seems to be the consensus of opinion this year, but in fact, all New Years are kind of scary!

New Years always carry so much promise, and yet they carry so much fear too.

This year, with the world poised on the brink of so much fear and violence, 2002 seems remote, and frightening.

It's easy to get lost in predictions of violence, war, hatred and anger. It's easy to become mired in the mud of economic slow down, and even end-of-the-world-ism. It also doesn't do a lick of good.

Look back over 2001. There are terrible things, foremost among them, of course, the events of September 11th. But for every terrible event, weren't there good events? Look at the heroism, the dedication and the inspiring stories that have come from the wreckage. Look at the national unity, the patriotism and love of country, look at the return to more basic, truer values. Are these things not wonderful? Do we not all appreciate those we love a little more than we did at this time last year?

Yes, we've had to raise our heads up and realize that there are fanatics that hate everything American life symbolizes. We must face the facts that there will be further attacks upon our way of life. We probably should have faced these facts years ago.

But, we have benefited greatly from our "wake up call". As we set letters to Santa Claus this season, we were all struck by a simple, and wonderful fact. Kids didn't ask for nearly as much this year as they have in the past, and many of them wanted others to have something instead of themselves. Some just asked for world peace, or a safe holiday.

Look around you, give someone you care about a big hug, and look forward to the New Year, in spite of our qualms and fears.

It's the old syndrome of "is the glass half full or is it half empty". It's easy to look at the glass of American life and see it as half empty, but it isn't. It's more than half full, in fact, it's brimming over!

There was no paper last week!

For those of you who called wondering where your newspaper was the week of December 27th, we did not publish. This was in order to be able to take time off for the Christmas holiday.

We'll be glad to be back in the routine again, too!

TXUenergy pool is successful

Savings of more than $20 million per year are anticipated for the 97 districts that participated in TASB's initial electricity aggregation pool. TXU Energy Services (TXUES), the unregulated energy marketing arm of Dallas based Texas Utilities, Inc. will serve as the energy supplier. Pricing terms offered by TXUES will provide fixed electricity prices for periods of up to four years at significant discounts from the current regulated rates for energy paid by TASB member schools.

TASB Executive Director Jim Crow expressed deep satisfaction to the TASB Board, noting that the increased bargaining leverage of the pool had produced price offers substantially lower than hoped. The initial pool age participants an easy, cost-effective way to meet the bidding requirements that now apply to electricity and earned them a competitive rate for the deregulated portion of their electricity bill. Trustees also were updated on a second electricity pool of about 85 districts that will be awarded early next year.

Rivercrest ISD is among the 97 districts included in the savings.

Christmas baskets a success

The local volunteers were busy on December 20, 2001 before Christmas. Linda Eilers and Shirley Vickers express their appreciation to everyone who helped and or donated their time and money for the Christmas baskets.

Forty-five plus baskets were distributed throughout the area to those in need. David Rozell said,

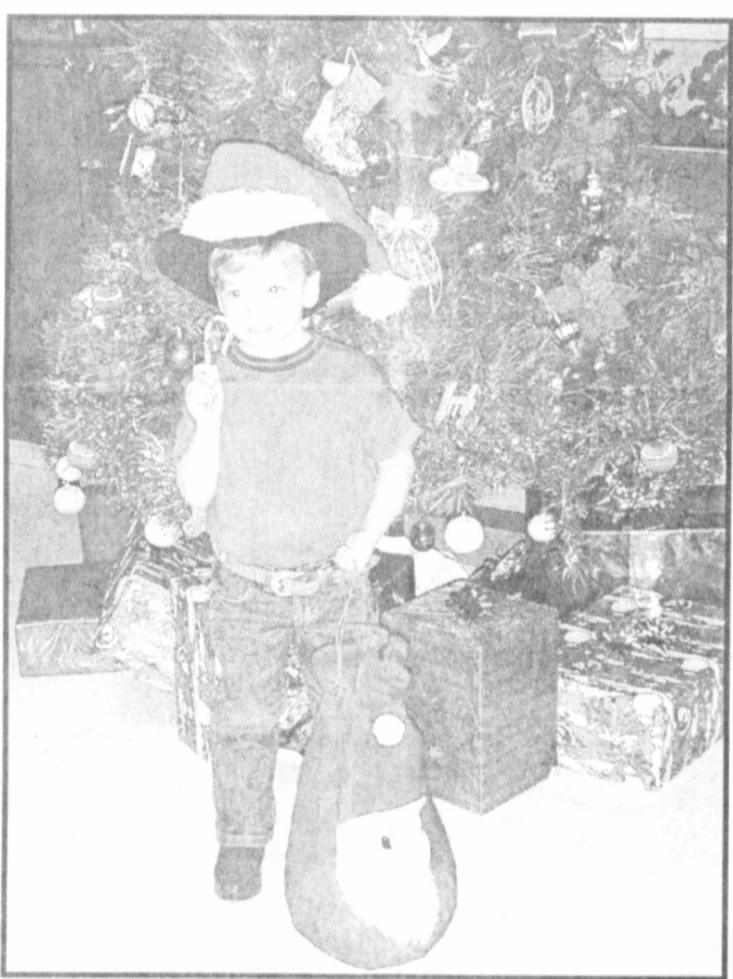

"It was wonderful to see people helping people. I was reminded of a time several years ago when a child walked through the toys and food we had brought and pointed as he said, 'Hey, Mom, look at our food!' Again, the volunteers thank you for your help in making the holidays a happy time for those in our area."

Bogata Lions Club meeting held December 20

The Bogata Lions Club met Thursday, December 20, 2001 for their annual Christmas party. A delicious pork and brisket meal was prepared and served by Lion Robert Rhoads with other Lion members bringing a covered dish. The wonderful meal and a gift exchange was enjoyed by all.

Phyllis and Rick Teer, Nancy and David Wilkerson all of Clarksville Lions Club were special guests at the meeting. Outgoing Clarksville President, Rick Teer, presented President Rozell with a check for $2,356.29 which represented the balance of the Clarksville treasury. Lion President Teer stated that their membership had fallen to an unacceptable level and they wanted the Bogata Lions to use the money for Lions Club causes. President Rozell expressed his regret for the situation the Clarksville Club has faced and accepted their check for the Bogata Club. The money will be put to good use and is truly appreciated. The meeting adjourned with wishes from all for a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

CROSSTIES were a stark contrast when they were dusted in snow Monday morning. Further flurries fell on Wednesday, Jan. 2nd.

Blood supply is critical

Stewart Regional Blood Center is making an emergency appeal to the public to donate blood. Due to the holiday season and extended vacations, collection is down and usage has increased. All eight blood types are listed in critical condition. All B negative units of blood have already been used. Seven of the other blood types have less than a dozen units of blood on the shelf.

Stewart Regional Blood Center will be forced to buy blood from other blood centers that can spare a few units.

Anyone who is 17 years old, weighs at least 110 pounds, and is in general good health is encouraged to help alleviate this ongoing problem. Please remember to eat prior to donation and bring a valid driver's license. All donors will receive a T-shirt with their donation.

If blood is not collected,

Country Cooking By Liz Irwin

Well, it is officially over for the year....Christmas, that is! I know, it was fast and furious for everyone.....right! Not enough time for shopping..not enough time for decorating and definitely, not enough time for cooking!

I really don't use a recipe, just things that we like, like potatoes, tomatoes, corn, carrots, etc. Nothing fancy and bake up a fresh pan of cornbread in an iron skillet and you have a meal fit for a king!

Anyway, since this week is the beginning of the new year, new diets, new year's resolutions and no more fudge until next Christmas(yea...right), try some of these stew recipes to warm you on these upcoming chilly days and see if any are to your liking! We hope the best for you and yours and we will see you in the kitchen!!!!!!

Ranchero Beef Stew-traditional beef stew with some diced chilis and cilantro thrown in!!!!!!

Irish Beef Stew-if any one knows how to prepare stews, they are the Irish!!!!

Chicken Stew with Tomatoes and White Beans-this can be frozen and reheats well!!!!!!

Green Chili Stew-this is fast becoming a standard item to cook with around this area with so many dishes needed green chilis!!!!!!

Smoked Ham Hock Hominy Stew-if you don't have ham hocks, use that ham bone left over from the holidays and prepare this great dish!!!!!!

Chipotle Beef Stew-a fiery dish served with hominy and tortillas for a quick warm-up!!!!!!

The Gift

When we moved to town in 1977 into our new home, M.L. told the grandkids what we really needed in the back yard was a gazebo to eat watermelon and have picnics in.

At the time he was still farming so he didn't have the time to build one and later didn't think he had the tools, extra money or know-how to do it-so the years passed, the grandkids got older, and no gazebo.

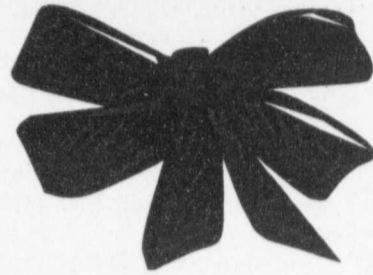

In 1998, David, our son, said "Mom, I know what I'm going to get Dad for Christmas. He's wanted a gazebo for such a long time, I'm getting him one."

So Friday before Christmas he drove all the way from Killeen pulling a flatbed trailer with a gazebo tied on it in the pouring rain. It took over six hours to get here. Needless to say, there was one happy Dad when he went outside and saw his gazebo with big bows and candy canes on it.

The grandkids are all grown except for one, but the great-grandkids will enjoy sitting in the gazebo with Granddaddy.

Each Week Look For Additional Christmas Memories that were entered into the December Contest

The entries were so good this year, we want everyone to have the opportunity to enjoy them

The Best Christmas Ever...

The year was 1995 and it all began in the summer. I was a single divorced mom with four kids and had been blessed to have a home paid for. My father, generous man he had always been, had found a big home a few years before for only $2,000, of course we had to move it to my land and spend more money to hook it all up and every time I got paid I was always buying something to make it a better home for the kids to live.

Well, if I didn't have bad luck, I'd have no luck at all, as they say. One night in June, I was on top of the world thinking what a good Christmas we would have. I was working for a roofing company and was out of town on a job when at about 3 a.m., a knock at my motel door awakened me and it was a policeman. I had to wait for almost 30 minutes when my sister finally arrived, only to give me the bad news, that my home in Louisiana had burned down.

All the way home I drove, expecting to find damage and thinking I would just add on. But when I arrived, there was nothing left.

I did a lot of crying when the kids weren't looking, but I never gave up on God or myself. So from June until December that year we were in and out of motels and staying some with my dad. I answered ads for work, and bought clothes, toys and food but the money only went so far, and I still had bills even though I was homeless.

Finally on Christmas Eve, I couldn't stop the tears anymore and as I was feeling really bad about what I couldn't do for the kids, a knock came at the door. One of the firefighters wives had told their church of our losses and those southern Baptist folks had gotten together and brought all the kids clothes and toys and they even brought us a turkey with all the trimmings.

Well, the tears really rolled then. I thanked them and we had a short visit. After they left, the phone rang and another church had collected household items for me, so I went to pick up those things.

In just a short time, we went from what could have been the worst Christmas to probably the best ever. By the time I got everything in the living room for the kids, the whole room was full of toys and stuff for their Christmas. The best news of all came later, my dad, the housemover, had gotten to bid on some homes in Minden, LA and we were getting a new home of our own.

I remember praying a lot between June and December of that year, it was also about teaching kids the power of prayer and believing what you prayed of would be done. God blessed us in so many ways and I still thank him for so many blessings.

Wendy Faulkner
candidate for District Clerk

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

Wendy Faulkner is seeking post of District Clerk

Wendy Faulkner is seeking the office of District Clerk of Red River County. Wendy has been a resident of Clarksville and Red River County since the age of seven and graduated from Clarksville High School in 1992 and has 32 Government hours of college credit. She is married to Travis Faulkner, who is also a lifelong resident of Clarksville. They have one son, Brady.

She began working for District Clerk Clara Gaddis in October, 1996. She left briefly to further her experience in the County by working for the County Attorney's Office. When asked to return to the Red River County District Clerk at the end of 2000, she realized that she missed her duties as Deputy District Clerk and returned January 1, 2001. Wendy is extremely familiar with all aspects of the Red River County office. Recently, the District Clerk's office acquired a new computer program that will advance the office to the 21st century. This program allows the office to file the new cases and older cases into a database which allows the deputies to pull up information on a case by the touch of a button. The clerk's office realizes it will take time and hard work to get all the older cases into the computer, but it can and will be done.

The office of District Clerk has many responsibilities such as collection of child support and the filing and documenting of all criminal and civil cases in Red River County. She knows all of the procedures and practices necessary to run the office in an efficient manner. If elected to the District Clerk's office, Wendy would like to keep the office open during the lunch hour because it will allow the community to do business or pick up child support checks during their own lunch hour.

Wendy comes with experience, knowledge and support of Red River County and appreciates your support.

Lady Rebels play 1st district game

by Coach Debbie Williams
We came out slow in our first district game, but in the second half we stepped up. Our players off the bench really came off with a spark and got the team playing with a little more aggression. We didn't shoot the ball well, but came out with a win! Our next two district games are to be with DeKalb and Chapel Hill. These are two tough teams in our district. We will have to come out strong, shoot well and play hard throughout the game.

Lady Rebels meet Lady Bears

by Coach Debbie Williams

The Lady Rebels met up with the Lady Bears of DeKalb for our second district game of the season. We knew they had the pressure defense and the players, but we prepared for these situations. We came out the first half and had a good performance. The third quarter we went flat. They made a run on us and we called time out and tried to adjust. We didn't see the floor well especially in the second half. They didn't apply as much defensive pressure in the third quarter and we did not take advantage of this, in fact, we only scored 5 points during the third quarter. The Lady Bears are a good team, and we played with them, but, as Coach Oats informed the ladies, "If you have a bad quarter, you will get beat". This happened to us and they beat us.

In the third quarter we were 2 for 11 from the field. This is hard to win with this shooting percent. We were 17 for 47 from the 2 point field goal area and 2 for 5 from the three point area. We need to shoot 40% form the two point range and 30% form the 3 point range to be there. We had 20 or more turnovers during the game and this is also a factor in our loss. We can play well, when all players are in position and working to win.

Lady Rebels play Lady Devils

by Coach Debbie Williams

On Thursday, December 20, 2001 the Lady Rebels met up with the # 9 ranked Chapel Hill Lady Devils and gave them a run for their money. We began the game with great defense and moved well as a team. They were not hitting well and we were playing "D", but we were not scoring well off of our "D" either. It was like we were really controlling the game in the first quarter, but we would look at the scoreboard and we did not take full advantage of the opportunity by putting points on our side of the board.

In the second quarter we continued to play well, but # 32, Bratton, their top player came alive and really started going baseline on our defense. At the end of the half, she had scored 17 of their 22 points.

The second half we adjusted our defense just for her and Britany Bull did a good job one on one on her. The rest of the team did a super job keeping the rest of the Chapel Hill Lady Devils from scoring also. Our defense was there and the total effort to win was also. Our offense was not. We are not getting the ball on our end to score enough times and when we do, we need to score or at least get a good shot. Every possession we should get a good shot and this seems to be a problem for us at this time. It was good to see the winning attitude from the ladies and they played to win the entire game and this is something you MUST have to be successful. Jessica Rose dislocated her pinky finger during the first half and had to leave the game. Her presence was missed by the team, but we hope to see her on the floor after the Christmas break. Nice effort Lady Rebels. Thanks for everyone coming out and supporting the Rivercrest basketball.

The next game for the Lady Rebels was Saturday, December 29, 2001 at Clarksville.

Action for the Lady Rebels will begin following the holidays with the Lady Mustangs at Chisum January 4, 2002. The Lady Rebels record thus far is 1 win, 2 losses in district play.

Jerry Moody is named Outstanding Young Farmer & Rancher

Jerry Moody of Mt. Pleasant was named winner of the Texas Farm Bureau's Outstanding Young Farmer & Rancher Award.

The prestigious award, presented by the state's largest farm organization, honors the young leaders of agriculture and recognizes the hard work and determination needed to succeed when starting out in the challenging business of agriculture.

Moody, 32, runs a hay, cattle and broiler operation in Titus County in Northeast Texas. He said, "When I got out of Texas A & M, I came back to Mt. Pleasant and had an opportunity to go into the poultry business. That is where I got my start into agriculture and then I grew my cattle operation".

Jerry and his wife, Deanna, have six broiler houses, where they run six flocks a year. That's a lot of broilers when you consider they have 135,000 chickens in each flock. They have a personal cow/calf operation and partner in another cattle operation. The Moody's have two children.

As winner, Moody receives the following prizes: title to a 2002 Dodge Ram 3/4 ton Quad Cab pickup with a Cummins diesel engine, courtesy of Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Company; 150 hours use of a Case tractor, courtesy of Case IH; a plaque and belt buckle, courtesy of Am-Pac; a $500 cash award, courtesy of Dodge Trucks and a $300 gift certificate to Grainger Industrial Supply, courtesy of Grainger. In addition, the Moodys will travel to Reno, Nevada in January to compete in the American Farm Bureau Federation Achievement Award competition.

Named as runner up in the contest were Ray Chisum of Jayton and Brian Jones of Edcouch.
