Snakes and fireworks

Ahhh, the joys of the American way of life.

It has become something of a tradition at our house to have a family get-together every fourth of July and a fireworks display.

We line up on the deck or the front porch, and the kids set off lots and lots of fireworks.

This year we decided on the deck, and the "guys" put a big piece of plywood out by the pond as a level surface to launch their missiles from.

After a hot dog supper, we wait until dusk while the over-eager youngsters set off noisy fireworks.

Did you know that they make a "water bomb" that you throw into the water? It sinks, then there is a big "crump" noise and lots of bubbles rise to the top.

Anyway, it got pretty dark and the big and little guys were setting off pretty cascades, bottle rockets, firecrackers and more.

Suddenly, Elliott, my great-nephew, lets out a yell and announces there is a snake in the edge of the pool. Apparently, the flashlight had attracted him.

Now, you have to use your imagination for the next few scenes.

Here are three grown men and three little boys, and a snake.

The snake is apparently semi-blinded by the light, because he doesn't flee before one of them turns their Roman candle downward and blasts him!

Well, that set off one heck of a fireworks attack. I don't think the snake ever had a chance, and one kid ran for the "water bombs" (good thinking), and the rest of the gang began firing every piece of fireworks in the arsenal at this hapless reptile. (identified as a poisonous snake, by the way).

There the rest of us sat, watching as our lovely fireworks display was aimed into the water! It was funny, but also rather surreal, the men's and boy's faces lit by the glow of various rockets and bombs, the snake writhing in the few inches of water he was unlucky enough to have inhabited.

Finally, they blew the snake to his final reward and we resumed our aerial display.....but not before they moved some of their stuff a lot further away from that pond! Those of us up on the deck spent a lot of energy laughing at those brave rocketeers.

It was a July Fourth to remember, and I guarantee, the kids got a bigger kick out of aiming for that snake than they did any other part of it!

September 11th results in higher price for newspapers

The Blossom Times, Bogata News, Deport Times, and Talco Times will have a rate increase in subscription prices beginning August 1st, 2002.

Like many other things in the current economy, September 11th has actually been responsible for this price increase.

Because of the anthrax problem, the United States Post Office has had to increase the periodical mailing rates twice since January, 2002. First class postage has gone up once. In addition, the post office has done some zone changes. This has resulted in the price for papers mailing to out-of-county to go even higher in many cases. While the Post Office undoubtedly cannot help their price increases, neither can these newspapers. In addition numerous businesses have passed on substantial increases to their customers.

Newsprint has gone higher, as have utilities, salaries and other costs necessary to publish these newspapers.

The price in county will still be $1.92 a MONTH, in county, and barely above that for out of county.

The new price will be $23 in county and $26 out of county. In county is anywhere in Lamar, Red River or Titus Counties.

Be aware that Thunder Prairie offers this rate even though a paper mailed from Deport to Clarksville has to pay an out of county rate!

The December paper sale will be held once again, making the rates only $21 and $24.

Publisher Nanalee Nichols says "we hate to charge our subscribers any more money, but if we are to continue to put out quality, comprehensive local newspapers we must do this".

Thunder Prairie wins TPA statewide contest

Thunder Prairie Publishing was awarded a Fourth Place in Column Writing at the Texas Press Association's Better Newspaper contest held in Corpus Christi recently. They also received many favorable critiques from the judges who evaluated the entries into the statewide contest, Division 10.

The fourth place columns entered were "Oldie Locks and the Three Bears" of which the judges say "Well told, good pacing. It would have been better to rework the format to fit the bear, but we are sure readers enjoyed it".

About the "At Our Best" column the judges said "This is a good example of how you can write in a different tone. You can cover a sorrowful story and still bring out the hope without drenching it in sap. (Many writers leave behind a sticky mess). The top is a bit difficult to work through, you need to be more direct in setting the scene".

About the feature stories submitted by Jack Ballard and Nanalee Nichols they commented that the "Flashes" story was very interesting and the "Limo business going places" story was an well developed and interesting idea.

Under the advertising entries the judges rated the work good as a whole. They used words such as "well done, nice ad, and nice graphics".

Under photography the judges rated the entries as average or good, commenting that the "bad hair day" photo was a good picture that was obviously difficult to take". The "Special delivery" picture from a medical training session was commented in as needing "more baby" less background, but good".

All in all the papers were very well rated in this Texas-wide contest sponsored by Texas Press Association and publisher Nanalee Nichols said "we're always thrilled with winning anything on a statewide level, and this year was no exception".

Baseball pics are here!

Anyone that has not received their pictures may pick them up at the Bogata ball field on Thursday between 7-8p.m.

If for some reason you cannot make it, please call Kathie Thompson 632-4591 and we will make other arrangements.

Do you remember sitting on top of that old crank-style ice cream freezer just waiting for that final crank when the lid came off and you got the first lick off of the paddle inside. Or were you the "cranker", having to turn and turn that "blasted thing" until your arm felt like it was going to fall off? You just knew it was ready when that handle got too hard to turn, but they would yell, "just a little more!" Now, in these modern times of the electric ice cream freezers, don't you just miss that?.....NOT! Well, maybe just a little.....you don't it just doesn't taste the same.....now be honest.....does it?

Well, you know where I am going don't you! A reader called last week for some ice cream recipes and along with the basic one listed, I found some that maybe a little

"off the wall" or maybe not.....it just depends where your taste buds want to roam! So here we go and we will see you in the kitchen!

CONDENSED MILK BASE ICE CREAM-uses sweetened condensed milk!

COOK-BASED ICE CREAM-this one is cooked before freezing!

PEANUT BUTTER ICE CREAM-for all of you peanut butter aficionados!

ROCKY ROAD ICE CREAM-you are gonna' love this one!

WORLD FAMOUS PHILADELPHIA VANILLA-use your imagination for this one and add whatever your taste buds will allow!

Condensed Milk Base Ice Cream

2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk
2/3 cup milk

Fulbright reunion held in Missouri

The national reunion of the Fulbright Family Association was held in Laclede County, Lebanon, MO on June 28-29-30.

The descendants of the immigrants, Johann Wilhelm Volprecht Fulbright and Andrea Fulbright meet annually at a designated site where the family once lived and in many cases, where remnants of the family currently reside.

Those members attending and representing this area were Buck and Betty Ramsey of Bogata and Jacqueline Ramsey Amacker of Dallas. Their great-great-grandparents, Judge David and Permelia Smathers Fulbright, for whom the town of Fulbright was named, migrated from North Carolina to Laclede County, MO and to their final home in Red River County, Texas. They were greeted warmly by those who had attended the reunion at the Hampton Inn in Paris in June, 2001, hosted by Rex and Christine Miller Wilson. Attendance at the Lebanon reunion included members from many states, the most distant being Spokane, Washington.

The hospitality room at the Hampton Inn, where the reunion was held, had a wealth of information displayed about the family, including photographs, news articles, copies of wills, deeds, abstracts, etc. Betty Ramsey contributed a folder of photographs, news items and other data of the Fulbright, Texas area which was gratefully received as an addition to the archives. Of special interest were old and new photographs of the house that Judge David Fulbright built and which is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Neil Rozell.

The driving tour consisted of visits to several cemeteries where members of the family are buried, the old Turner School and the historical home of John Fulbright, built in 1840 and now occupied by a family in the dairy and plant nursery business.

Preliminary plans for the 2003 reunion are to be held at Lake Junaluska in Haywood County, North Carolina. It is reported that the locale is very beautiful and a wonderful place to have a reunion.

Card of Thanks

I would like at this time to pay a very worthy tribute to the Wood Funeral Home and their very caring and loving members! Even though my heart was heavy laden with the loss of our loved one so dear, I felt such a peace of mind and relief knowing they were caring for him, his way. You make it so easy.

My parents and I had the foresight several years ago to take the time to purchase plots, headstones and make service arrangements. Let me tell you, this is the only way to go. Some people like myself may not have anyone to prepare for my leaving my earthly home. You should not have to deal with arrangements at this time. Your heart will be burdened heavily, to begin with. That was one of our wisest decisions. It could be considered a liking to a shower before the birth of a baby.

My words of "Thanks" and deepest respect are truly not enough. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

Love,
Nancy Gresham, daughter of Gordon Alsbrook

Card of Thanks

When we live our lives for others, aiding them in time of need, in the things we say and do, we live the love of Jesus. Saying "thank You" seems so small for so many blessings of prayers, calls, cards, visits, flowers and other acts of kindness. We have truly been blessed at our time of grief and sorrow. It is such a blessing to live in this community. Friends and family members that live in the BIG cities or across the state of Texas are in total awe of the outpouring of love and comfort that is shown at a time of sickness or a lost loved one.

We could not have made it without each and every one of you! Also, at this time, I have to give a very personal tribute to our pastor, Bro. C.G. Renfro is a remarkable person. He always knows what to say and do, to give you the encouragement to make the right decision. Even with his own personal problems and health, he has always been there. He is a very dear and close friend. Words are not enough.

Nanie Bell Ham

Nanie Bell Ham observes 90th birthday

June 20 was a very special day for Nanie Bell Tuck Ham, it was the day she observed her 90th birthday.

Many cards, letters, telephone calls and gifts were received from her family and her many friends. Six of her seven children visited her on that day or the following weekend. Special guests were a sister, Martha Smith from Gladewater and her sister-in-law, Ellen Lee Tuck of Bogata.

Nanie was born and reared in Red River County, moved to the Deport area with her husband and children around 1941. She has lived in the area since then. She hopes to live the rest of her life in the home and community she dearly loves.

Many changes have taken place since the time of her birth in 1912, but she remembers the old days and old ways, many of them with fondness.

Her days are spent doing the things she has always done. She enjoys visiting others at Deport Nursing Home, working in her yard and garden, reading and keeping in touch with friends through letters, telephone calls and visits.

She says she is hardly ever lonely.

Walking for improved health

LaTonya Bell has recently formed a group of people who need to walk for health reasons such as heart, weight and more. The various people, men and women, young and old meet at the Rivercrest track every day at 8:00 p.m. to get in their milage, 1, 2, 3 4 and more miles.

The group has turned into a fun time and the walking, which is so boring by yourself, is finished before you know it. Parents who need to walk are bringing their babies in strollers, older children who can take the walk or play with other children while mom and dad walk and making each evening a family fun time.

LaTonya and the group or (the herd) as Rick Holeman calls them invite everyone from Talco, Bogata and surrounding area to come take a walk and enjoy conversation in the process. You will improve your health both physically and mentally. Again the time is 8:00 p.m. daily.

Case returns from deployment

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Ryan H. Case, son of Emmie and Bruce Case of Talco, recently returned from a six month deployment to the Western Pacific and Arabian Gulf while assigned to the aircraft carrier USS John C. Stennis, homeported in San Diego.

Case was one of more than 10,000 Pacific Fleet Sailors and Marines aboard the ships of the USS John C. Stennis Carrier Battle Group and USS Bonhomme Richard Amphibious Ready Group who participated in Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Anaconda.

During the deployment, Case's ship traveled more than 62,000 miles, launched more than 9,600 aircraft and dropped 275,000 pounds of ordnance.

Case is a 2000 graduate of Rivercrest High School and joined the Navy in June 2000.

Summer Watering requires care

We have reached the time of year when rainfall is often a welcome relief to hot, dry weather, Texas weather. Many homeowners will be providing water for their lawns and gardens during drier periods from now until fall. "How often should I water?" and "How much should I apply?" are important questions. Since water is both essential for healthy plant growth and often is too costly to apply to plants in quantity during the summer, it is important to get the water to the plants roots and keep it there.

Consider these suggestions when you are applying water to shade and fruit trees.

1. Never water strictly by the calendar. We don't drink water every "ten minutes" or "every hour" so why should plants be watered "every two days" or "once a week"? Instead, learn to recognize dry plants and soil and use these as your tip-off for watering. Too many factors determine how fast a soil dries for us to put watering on a regular basis. We need to conserve water, not waste it when it is not needed.

2. When the plants are dry, water thoroughly. Water lawns so that the soil will be wet several inches down to encourage deep rooting and drought tolerance. One of the worst mistakes people make on their lawn is to try to "sprinkle" them each day using their thumb and the end of a watering hose. Most gardeners just don't have the patience to stand in one spot long enough for deep water penetration. Water trees by taking the sprinkler off the end of the hose and let the water run slowly for hours, being sure that runoff does not occur.

3. Most plants should be watered in the morning. Watering during the day results in some water loss by evaporation and can result in burned leaves where sunlight hits the water droplets on new foliage. Evening watering increases the risk disease invasion, as most diseases develop most rapidly in cool, moist conditions.

4. While watering your lawn, try to keep water off trees and shrubs as much as possible. This is especially important for such plants as crape myrtle and roses, which are troubled by leaf disease which spread rapidly on wet surfaces.

5. Symptoms for plants which have been kept too wet are about the same as for those kept too dry. Roots in waterlogged soils die and do not take up the water, so plants wilt and turn yellow. Try not to water a drowning plant. Do not waste water.

6. Organic matter, such as peat moss and rotted manure, can reduce water loss by run off when they are worked into the soil. To keep moisture in the soil, use mulch, such as redwood bark, pine needles or gravel. In addition to reducing evaporation, mulches also keep the soil cooler and make weed pulling much easier.

7. Be especially careful to keep newly planted trees and shrubs well watered. Their developing root systems are sensitive to under and over watering.

8. Always soak inorganic fertilizers into the soil immediately after applying. These materials are excellent sources of plant foods, but they are salts and can pull water out of plant tissues, resulting in burn unless they are watered into the soil.
