

Cornerstone Church Presents . . . BRING BACK THE DRAG!

In order to facilitate a social-distancing graduation for Wheeler High, Cornerstone Church, Happy State Bank, Ware Chevrolet, Wellington State Bank and Legends 98.9

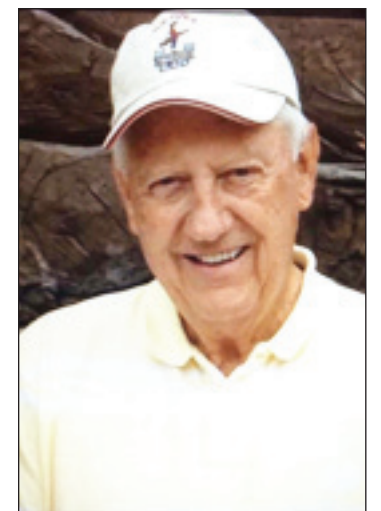

have secured a video wall and platform for Graduation 2020. And then to celebrate our 2020 Wheeler County Seniors and kick-off summer, we would like to invite all families to a special event sponsored by Cornerstone Church and area churches and businesses. BRING BACK THE DRAG will take place immediately following Wheeler High's Graduation Ceremony on the Courthouse Square on Friday evening, May 22. (Alternate weather date is Saturday, May 23.)

Here are the details: hop in your car and tune in to Legends 98.9. This station will play "Blast From the Past" music for all listeners. You can call in requests and dedicate a song to a graduate or that special someone, and your name might just get called as a winner for drawings that will take place every 15 minutes. Then begin to drag main like the "good ol' days" up and down Main Street for as long as you like, social distancing style all the way! There will be opportunities along the way such as:

- Tink's Snowcones - frozen treats
- Kyle Dawson's famous popcorn
- First Baptist Church - burgers and chips
- Wheeler Church of Christ - desserts
- First Methodist Church - desserts
- Catholic Church - canned drinks and cupcakes
- Momma Nanny's Food For the Soul (Leon Smith) - pulled pork sandwiches/nachos
- Drive-By Video Wall

Feel free to decorate your vehicle and if you live on Main Street, decorate your yard to bring this celebration to a higher level. So let's plan to break out of our houses for a couple hours that evening and have some fun BRINGING BACK THE DRAG!!!!

If there are any other churches or businesses that would like to be involved, call Cornerstone Church (Marianne Smith) at 806-216-2175.

USDA Announces Grants for Urban Agriculture and Innovative Production

WASHINGTON, May 8, 2020 –The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) today announced the availability of $3 million for grants through its new Office of Urban Agriculture and Innovative Production. The competitive grants will support the development of urban agriculture and innovative production projects through two categories, Planning Projects and Implementation Projects. USDA will accept applications on Grants.gov until midnight July 6, 2020.

"These grant opportunities underscore USDA's commitment to all segments of agriculture, including swiftly expanding areas of urban agriculture," Under Secretary for Farm Production and Conservation Bill Northey said. "Such projects have the potential to address important issues such as food access and education and to support innovative ways to increase local food production in urban environments."

"We are proud to be able to offer support through this cross-agency effort," said Under Secretary for Marketing and Regulatory Programs Greg Ibach. "In creating this grant opportunity, USDA will build upon its years of experience providing technical support, grant funding and research to help farmers and local and urban food businesses grow."

Planning Projects
USDA is making available $1 million for Planning Projects that initiate or expand efforts of farmers, gardeners, citizens, government officials, schools and other stakeholders in urban areas and suburbs. Projects may target areas of food access, education, business and start-up costs for new farmers and development of policies related to zoning and other needs of urban production.

USDA Offers Farm Loans for Farmers Facing Covid-19 Related Challenges

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, May 11, 2020 — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds producers that FSA offers farm ownership and farm operating loans to agricultural producers who may not find success obtaining loans from their traditional financial institutions because of COVID-19. Farmers who cannot obtain commercial credit from a bank can apply for FSA direct or guaranteed loans.

"Farming and ranching is a capital-intensive business and FSA is committed to helping producers maintain their agricultural operations during this time of crisis," said Gary Six, FSA State Executive Director in Texas. "FSA loans are designed to assist beginning and historically underserved farmers and ranchers, as well as those who have suffered financial setbacks from natural disasters or economic downturns. Producers may find that an FSA loan is the best option for them if they cannot qualify for a loan with their traditional financial institutions or other financial institutions because of COVID-19."

USDA offers a variety of loans to meet different production needs. Direct loans are made to applicants by FSA. Guaranteed loans are made by lending institutions who arrange for FSA to guarantee the loan. FSA can guarantee up to 95 percent of the

STORM REPORT

As Reported by . . .
Stormie Meriwether,
Tenth Grade Student

Dear Friends, Mothers Day is the special day to celebrate all the mothers. Some gave birth, some chose to adopt, and others treat special friends like they are their own children. My mom adopted me and I am happy because I know she truly loves me.

For Mothers Day my dad got my mom roses and I got her earrings and a heart necklace with "Mom" in the middle of it. Dad and I cooked her favorite breakfast. I scrambled the eggs with cheese, just like she likes it. We had a fun day with my mom.

School is over! This has been a very strange, but good year. The Corona Virus has taken over the world and it changed our school and our lives. I am very proud of the teachers and all the school people for making things happen throughout the year and especially when we could not go to school. You did a fantastic job! Graduation will be Merely (from Page 1) who, paradoxically, seem obsessed with food but only possess mouse-sized appetites – seriously, how can a meal be assessed by merely one bite? And if the meal is so good, how can you eat only one bite? Or are these pro chefs unable to match the appeal of the humble Lay's potato chip, if in fact Frito-Lay still wagers that you can't eat just one? eat the prepared meal, while the chef awaits praise or condemnation, or maybe it is more accurate to say criticism or scorn?

Dear reader, if you are still following along, I would like to apologize. I fear criticism or scorn may be in the cards for me after re-reading that last paragraph. In school I was taught that it takes at least two sentences to make a paragraph, and I violated that rule, and perhaps many others, in the preceding paragraph. The only hope of interpreting it correctly is in properly keeping up with the parenthesis used, which is not a simple feat, even for myself who wrote it. If there is any difficulty in following it, my suggestion would be to read it without the parenthesized text (skip over it), and you will get the thrust of the sentence without all of the meandering superfluities. A simpler method would be to skip over the paragraph altogether. It is more cumbersome to read than are the letters written by Paul that are found in the Bible; the preceding paragraph moves from one clause to the next, to the next, making what would be a massive run-on sentence were it not for the (possibly illicit) use of punctuation, namely, commas and parenthesis. Then again, some have said that Paul was merely an instrument and the word he wrote was that of God himself. If that is so, I take comfort in utilizing, however dimly, the divine writing style, though I disclaim any notion that this column contains God's speaking, unless perhaps there is an arrangement between God and the editor to that effect. Whatever the case, the well has run dry for me presently, and I am no longer able to comment on the cooking shows, or anything else, in this piece. However, I do trust and rely on my belief that the Times audience may be more magnanimous than the judges on the cooking shows. But, to prove that there is something to learn from everything and everyone, I should like to implement a take-home lesson from those shows - namely, if something is to be judged by a first bite, perhaps I should place more importance on delivering a good first sentence. The law of diminishing returns absolves me, to a degree, of the responsibility of ending well, and in fact predicts against it, and no doubt I have written enough here to yield proof of a substantial amount of diminishment.

loss of principal and interest on a loan. The FSA guarantee allows lenders to make agricultural credit available to producers who do not meet the lender's normal underwriting criteria.

The direct and guaranteed loan program offers two types of loans: farm ownership loans and farm operating loans.

Farm ownership loan funds may be used to purchase or enlarge a farm or ranch; purchase easements or rights of way needed in the farm's operation; build or improve buildings such as a dwelling or barn; promote soil and water conservation and development; and pay closing costs.

at the Courthouse Square. Go Seniors!

Ranch life is the best for the "Rona" isolation! I love having all my animals. My cows and calves are doing great. On Mothers Day I gave my cows and calves a new "Papa!"

He is a beautiful Charlais bull. He is gentle, easy to handle and very happy in my pasture.

We have a coon problem. He eats the cubes that we feed to our cows. He is very sneaky. At night he is like a little bandit. He climbs up into the feeder on the pickup and pulls it out. We set a trap and caught a small one. Now we are trying to block the shoot on the feeder. They are so sneaky they can get by almost anything.

Now I'm wondering if we are ever going to do anything fun anymore. Will we have Fourth of July in Wheeler?

Will we have our Big Family Vacation? I don't even know if we will go to Houston for my dad's appointments. If we do, we may take a camper and stay isolated. Some people may think that is crazy, but we can't take chances with the virus. People that have cancer have to be very careful. I will give up a lot of fun things to take care of my dad. That's it!

When we travel, especially with William driving, we are never just riding; there are generally comments being made requiring our attention.

We pulled into sonic and Jennifer said, "YOU DIDN'T NOTICE!" Our response was, "WHAT!"

Grants

USDA is making available $2 million for Implementation Projects that accelerate existing and emerging models of urban, indoor and other agricultural practices that serve multiple farmers. Projects will improve local food access and collaborate with partner organizations and may support infrastructure needs, emerging technologies, educational endeavors and urban farming policy implementation.

A webinar, which will be held on June 3, 2020, from 2 to 4 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, will provide an overview of the grants' purpose, project types, eligibility and basic requirements for submitting an application. Information on how to register for and participate in the webinar, or listen to the recording, will be posted at farmers.gov/urban.

The Office of Urban Agriculture and Innovative Production was established through the 2018 Farm Bill. It includes representatives from many USDA agencies, including Farm Service Agency and Agricultural Marketing Service, and is led by the Natural Resources Conservation Service. More information is available at farmers.gov/urban.

Additional resources that may be of interest to urban agriculture entities include AMS grants to improve domestic and international opportunities for U.S. growers and producers and FSA loans.

livestock, poultry, farm equipment, fertilizer, and other materials necessary to operate a farm. Operating loan funds can also be used for family living expenses; refinancing debts under certain conditions; paying salaries for hired farm laborers; installing or improving water systems for home, livestock or irrigation use; and other similar improvements.

Repayment terms for direct operating loans are scheduled from one to seven years. Financing for direct farm ownership loans cannot exceed 40 years. Interest rates for direct loans are set periodically according to the government's cost of borrowing. Guaranteed loan terms and interest rates are set by the lender.

For more information on FSA's farm loan programs, please contact your local FSA office or visit farmers.gov.

Thursday morning as we were leaving for OKC, I looked out the kitchen window, admiring my backyard without limbs on the ground. They were predicting severe storms Thursday evening. Again, thankfully, it went southeast of us; we received only a few sprinkles.

Sometime through the night Monday, Wheeler received 0.27" of rain; Mobeetie received 0.35.

The weekend of May 9, Jennifer proposed we get out of the house with a trip to the bank where she works and she wanted to stop at Sonic on the way. We had to go to the bank this one certain way.

Just prior to pulling into Sonic, we had passed a billboard with a full size picture of Jennifer's department at Quail Creek Bank in Oklahoma City. She is in the center.
