Tom Britt Memorial Park Christmas Displays

Create Christmas memories and fundraise for local park.

#Better Together

Create Christmas memories and fundraise for local park

The Wheeler Lions Club and Wheeler Sports board are joining forces to create a unique fundraiser for the Tom Britt Memorial Park this year during Christmas.

Efforts are underway to create excitement with all our local businesses, churches, organizations, schools, friends/family groups and anyone wanting to participate. We would like to start off by offering 20'x20' space throughout the park, we can increase the space as necessary. We will also work to provide electricity for each of the spaces. What we ask is that each group sign up no later than by Tuesday, November 30th, so that we will know if we have enough participation to move forward with this project. You can pick up a form at the Wheeler City Hall (under the water tower), email kristen@wheeler.texas.org, or text 806.367.0084.

There is NO COST to sign up! For our businesses, if you are able to provide signage OR if we already have a sign for you, we will also use that as a display to help promote. We will work with each space to make sure we have the proper promotion.

This will be a fundraiser for the Tom Britt Memorial Park, with hopes it will grow each year with new and exciting displays, while also creating funds that can be used for the park improvements and operations for the year.

If we have enough participation, we will look at kicking off the Celebration of Lights Display on Friday, December 3rd.

Merely Mustard

One of the principles I generally believe in is that it is better to do something imperfectly than to not do it at all. I have been discovering this to be true regarding getting back on when you fall off the horse or wagon, whichever mode of carriage you prefer to employ. There is a temptation, whenever there is a lapse in any kind of endeavor in which one is making progress toward their objective, to throw one's hands up and say, "Stuff it," or, "What does it matter?" and either continue to backslide, or just stop all motion altogether. It seems impossible in those moments to get back to the mile marker you had reached before the progress halted, and it probably is nearly impossible in that moment to get back to where you were. Your noted point of furthest progress and achievement stands as a monument to what you did at one time, and doubles as a source of mockery for the regressed state in which you find yourself. But none of that matters; what matters is to get going again.

An application of this principle which is easy enough to envision, or encountered commonly enough, can be found concerning exercise. I would venture that everyone who has ever formed any habit of exercise has experienced this falling away from the practice, for any number of reasons, both avoidable and unavoidable. The temptation is to despair and moan about the current failed state of being; the remedy is to get going again. A psychological obstacle that may be encountered when considering getting going again is that performance matching the pre-lapse level is unlikely. This is where the principle of doing something imperfectly is applied. In that state of frustration, forget your monument of achievement and resort to doing something halfway there. Lower the hurdle of expected performance, and just do something. Then the following time, you are that much closer when you start. I've found that often, progress represents itself in the form of a sine wave, with times of ascension, when things are progressing well, followed by lapses, times of descent and backsliding. Progress from a long-term perspective may look like a sine wave which is tilted upward, at some angle of incline. The key is to get going again as quickly as possible when encountering a valley, and hopefully each valley will be not be quite as low as the one that preceded it. But even if it is, start climbing again.

My sense is that this piece represents a ride down the slope of the valley; if so it mirrors my overall state of balance at the moment. But I shall write again next week, and will eventually find the incline again. It is always there, waiting to be discovered again, so long as the path is not abandoned.

(from Page 1) The sound of the cello and grand piano reminded me of when I did ballet. I wanted to dance, but I didn't. I just enjoyed every measure of the wonderful music. The bride, Cara, was elegant in her wedding gown. She looked like a beautiful princess walking down the lane to meet her handsome prince.

After the wedding we all went to the reception and dinner. There was a very little girl there. I did not know her at all. She saw me and came to me and gave me a big hug. I thought that was the sweetest thing. She must have guessed how much I love little ones. My favorite part of the evening was when Hadley and Cara had their first dance. Mom, Dad and I had to leave early because on Sunday we had a Marker Dedication at the ranch.

Dad cut the pasture very short so it would be safe to park on it. He made a big area. On Sunday he offered rides in his Ranger so people didn't have to walk very far. A very nice crowd came and I am thankful that Kristen (Moudy) brought chairs for people to have a place to sit. Not many remembered to bring their lawn chair.

Custer on the Sweetwater is an old time story about two girls from Kansas who were kidnapped by Indians and rescued by Custer on the Sweetwater Creek. For the dedication the Cavalry was there with an Indian Scout. They had a cannon, an army tent, and horses. The Boy Scouts from Wheeler presented the flag. I sang The Star Spangled Banner and the Boy Scouts led The Pledge of Allegiance. Ada Lester introduced the program. My mom, Rhonda Meriwether, told the story of the girls and the rescue. James Hubble read the words on the marker. Mayor Bob McCain and Ken Baxter unveiled the marker. After the program everyone went to the Wheeler Historical Museum for refreshments and music. The day was perfect.

We will miss you Aunt Melba. We love you. That's it!

served in Vietnam in 1968-1969.

Gayle was an unconditionally loving and devoted man who adored his family.

Gayle is survived by his wife, Kay Singleton of Artesia, New Mexico.

He is survived by 3 children with his wife of 34 years, Helen Singleton. Daughter Maralee Rush of Gainesville, Texas, and two sons Andy Singleton & wife Lisa Singleton of Pilot Point, Texas, Randy Singleton & wife Holly Singleton of Argyle, Texas. Gayle welcomed even more family when he married Kay Schafer. James Schafer & wife Patty Schafer of Artesia, New Mexico and Bryan Schafer of Grand Prairie Texas.

He truly shined as a grandpa. He attended every event, game, awards ceremony, recital, party etc he could, showing love and support to the kids in whatever activity they were involved in. He is survived by loving Grandchildren: Phillip Singleton, Katherine Singleton, Sarah Singleton, Noah Singleton, Kayley Cumro, Eli Wood, Garrett Wood, Jacquelyn Schafer, Mackenzie Schafer, Derek Schafer, Brandt Gentry, Phil Hollis, Kaitlyn Schafer, Kelsey Schafer & Kailey Schafer.

Gayle is also survived by his sister LaJo Crownover and husband Charles Crownover of Briscoe Texas, as well as lots of nieces, nephews, cousins and countless students and colleagues he impacted over his years as an educator. He was deeply loved & respected, and will be greatly missed.

Gayle Singleton led a life of service. Gayle was a Captain in the US Army and served in the Vietnam War in 1968-1969 where he flew helicopters. His mission was to fly low to flush out enemy troops for the machine gunners. He was awarded The Bronze Star Medal as a signal of his sacrifice, bravery and honor while serving his country.

He farmed & ranched, but he spent most of his life teaching. He was a superintendent at one time but his true passion was teaching science, especially chemistry. Many in the Wheeler County area will remember Gayle from his years at Kelton High School. Gayle had the ability to teach science so that even the most non-science person understands and even enjoys science. He always kept students on their toes with exciting experiments (sometimes TOO exciting for some) or even playing guitar for them. Gayle loved his students & colleagues and they loved him! He retired from Williams High School in Plano Texas as a beloved Chemistry teacher, mentor, friend.

Gayle played the guitar and sang mostly folk music. He would sing and play at any and all family gatherings, church or just visiting friends. He even sang at Andy & Lisa's wedding... He would joke about the name of his band when people would ask...He would tell them his band was "PARTS UNKNOWN". Anyone who knew him also knew of his love for golf!!! So fitting that the last thing that he was doing before going to the hospital for the final time was playing his beloved golf and had one of his best rounds. How many people get to do what they love right up to the end?

The family held an online memorial service on Sunday October 17th, 2021. A link to the recorded memorial can be found on Gayle Singleton's Facebook page.

In lieu of flowers, donations in Gayle's name should be sent to:

The Wheeler Third grade are watering their garden and enjoying the fruits of their labor tasting the recipes that Mrs. Hazard has been making for them!

Memphis and Wheeler cheerleaders wear blue in honor of the White Deer Community Friday evening.

Mrs. Weatherly's Science Class has been studying about sound energy. The students participated in an activity today that allowed them to become a human xylophone. They also made screaming balloons with hex nuts that allowed them to feel sound vibrations.

ISD in various positions for 39 years until her retirement in 2020. Colleen had moved to Wheeler in the 1970's from the small town of Channing. She loved to dance, sew and would make blankets for all her grandkids and great grandkids. Many knew her as Colleen, however, the name of "Big Bird", given to her by her grandchildren, might have been her favorite name to answer to. She was a Methodist and was a member of the Allison Methodist Church.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Benny and Millie Robertson; her husband "Hawk" Alls; a son, Ronny Alls; a daughter, Nancy Davis; a brother, Benny Robertson; and by a sister, Ruthie Nichols.

Survivors include her son, Lynn Ray Alls and wife, Madge, of Twitty; a brother Ralph Robertson and wife, Janice, of Amarillo; 2 sisters, Leona Holland of San Angelo and Sue Robertson of Colorado; a sister-in-law, Ginger Robertson; 6 grandchildren: Jeri Kay Carter, Neal Ray Davis, Nancy Long, Jordan Bryant, Payton Alls, Jessica

We attended the Noltensmeyer/Mitchell Wedding in Edmond Saturday evening. It was a very fancy affair, which was very well attended by Wheeler people.

Wishing Cara and Hadley many years of happiness. I enjoyed it, "Y'all".
