Service school board selects four from Reese

Two picked for senior and two picked for intermediate schools

Four Reese officers are among the 706 officers who have been named by an Air Force selection board to attend intermediate and senior service schools in 1996.

The Reese senior service school selectees are Lt. Col Robert Herris, 54th Flying Training Squadron commander, and Lt. Col. Mark Richardson, 52nd FTS commander.

The intermediate school selectees are Capt. Jim Burlingame, 52nd FTS instructor pilot, and Maj. Joseph Lubic, 54th FTS instructor pilot.

Herris was selected to attend the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Ft. Lesley J. McNair, Washington D.C.

Richardson will participate in the National Defense Fellows and Rand Program at Ohio State University.

Burlingame and Lubic were selected to attend the Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

In addition to the four Reese selectees, Capt. Brian Burns, recently reassigned from the 52nd FTS to Randolph AFB, Texas, was selected to attend the Army Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

The board considered lieutenant colonel and lieutenant colonel selectees for senior service schools and majors and major selectees for intermediate service schools.

The senior service school board considered 520 officers and 221 were selected for a 43-percent select rate. Two chaplains were also selected for senior schools.

For the intermediate service schools, the board considered 1,183 officers and 485 were selected for a 41-percent select rate.

Four chaplains were also selected for intermediate schools.

The full list of those selected to attend the senior and intermediate service schools is posted on the Air Force Personnel Center's World Wide Web page. The address is <http://www.afpc.af.mil>.

It's your club system -- support it

by Capt. John Grammer
64th Services Squadron commander

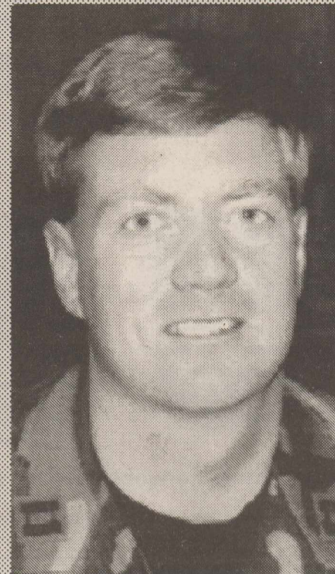

Some of the most common excuses we hear for not being a club member are: I don't drink, I live too far away, I don't have time for lunch, I don't dance, etc, etc and the list goes on and on.

Besides all the obvious benefits of being a member (free social hour snacks; reduced prices for lunch, dinner, brunch, and beverage prices during social hour; free check cashing; world-wide reciprocal privileges; barbershop, a super place to socialize and wind down with your friends), there is also a deferred interest FREE payment plan for purchases of $100 to $300 - 3 months $301 and over - 6 months.

Your Reese Collocated Club Card is honored for charges at the club and all the following Services activities:

- Bowling Center — bowling fees, proshop items, food and beverage
- Golf Course - green and cart fees, proshop items, driving range balls, food and beverage
- Veterinary Clinic — pet supplies, prescription drugs —
- Child Development Center — child care
- Fitness Center — beverages

You've probably noticed random club card checks being conducted in the clubs. This is not meant as harassment. We took a big gamble lowering dues with the intent of raising membership and participation, while keeping the freebies. When non-members are getting social hour snacks, reduced beverage prices, listening and enjoying live entertainment, you, the members are paying for them.

Grammer

and pool fees

- Youth Center — field trips, daily fees, food and beverage
- Auto Craft — stall fees, repairs, paint shop
- Arts and Crafts Center — framing, equipment rental, and plaques

But that's not all, in October 1995, monthly dues were restructured and lowered as follows:

- 01-03:$14.00 - lowered $ 4.00 per month
- 04-05:$16.00 - lowered $ 2.00 per month
- 06: $18.00 - stayed the same
- Civilians GS-7 and above

$16.00:- lowered $2.00 per month

- Retired Officers in radius
 - $10.00:- lowered $2.00 per month
 - Retired Officers out of radius
 - $3.00. lowered $2.00 per month
 - E1-E4:$ 3.00 - lowered $2.00 per month
 - E5-E6 $ 4.00 - lowered $2.00 per month
 - E7-E9:$ 5.00 - lowered $2.00 per month
 - Enlisted Retirees $3.00:- lowered $2.00 per month
 - Civilian GS-7 and below
 - $5.00, lowered $2.00 per month
- There still seems to be some confusion about the collocated concept approved in July 1994. All members, regardless of rank, may use the Reese Club for lunch, dinner, brunch and special functions. We have separate lounge facilities: the Reese Club "SMOKIN HOLE" is for officers, Ruby's Lounge and the FROG Pond are for enlisted members.

When the club sponsors entertainment in a certain club, it isn't a collocated event. Example: variety DJ at Ruby's is for our enlisted members, JOC Nite at the Reese Club is for officers.

You've probably noticed random club card checks being conducted in the clubs. This is not meant as harassment. We took a big gamble lowering dues with the intent of raising membership and participation, while keeping the freebies. When non-members are getting social hour snacks, reduced beverage prices, listening and enjoying live entertainment, you, the members are paying for them. Air Force Instructions state "you may not be a guest if you are eligible to be a member."

We always appreciate your business. The club staff is here for you. We appreciate your feedback, positive or negative, to make things better in your club. Please talk to the club manager, Chris McIntire or Len Bal, membership support flight Chief.

Our goal is your satisfaction.

Equal opportunity class shows strength in diversity

by Capt. Eric R. Bass
Chief, Social Actions

Social Actions is in the midst of conducting Equal Opportunity Awareness Classes for military and Department of Defense civilians at Reese.

Why are we doing this? The Secretary of the Air Force Sheila Widnall, and Chief of Staff Gen. Ronald Fogleman have directed this training for the total force. This class is geared toward a guided discussion allowing people to evaluate themselves when it comes to dealing with the differences among people.

Most, if not all of us have had some sort of E.O. and/or sexual harassment training in the past. This causes most people to be very reluctant to come to this class because they feel it is a waste of time. However, a lot of people who have come to class with this attitude have left very enlightened.

Here are a few of the many positive comments we have received so far on our course critiques:

"Master Sgt (Walter) Lilley did an outstanding job in leading this class and discussion. He had a tough audience and somehow dragged participation out of us. A good, down to earth teacher / speaker." "This course is very well needed".

"The instructor was great. He knew his material and I felt I learned a lot from this course."

"Great job by Sergeant Lilley presenting this course. I felt prior to this training I had 'heard it all'. However, there were some great discussions which provided some good points I had never thought about. The video from Prime Time was very good."

A unique aspect of these classes is that they are fairly diverse in rank, gender, ethnicity, race, age, and represent a good cross-section of the base. This allows people to learn from and feed off of each other in the classes.

Since different points of views are being discussed in the classes, it is almost impossible to leave the class without learning something about another group of people.

Scheduling efforts for the wing population are being handled by Social Actions and 64th Mission Support Squadron's military personnel flight. However, requests will also be accepted by coordinating through unit orderly rooms or Social Actions at 3901.

Classes are held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. We look forward to seeing those who haven't yet attended the class.

CMSAF Campanale discusses quality of life issues

by Tech. Sgt. Tim Geels
Tinker Public Affairs

TINKER AIR FORCE BASE, Okla. (AFNS) — Housing for Air Force members and allowances to take care of people's financial needs are major quality-of-life issues the Air Force is looking to improve, the chief master sergeant of the Air Force said.

CMSAF David J. Campanale discussed these issues during a visit to Tinker in January.

Earlier that day, he had separate breakfast meetings with base chiefs and first sergeants. According to Chief Master Sgt. John T. Shipman Jr., senior enlisted advisor for the 552nd Air Control Wing, Campanale's message was clear to both groups.

"Lead by example, be out there in front and show the troops what has to be done," Shipman said. "He said we've got to look out for the best interests of the troops, and training is the essence of that."

The chief master sergeant of the Air Force also addressed the TDY rate for Air Force members, saying the service has tried to create a system of tracking temporary duty rates by Air Force specialty code.

"We're making slow adjustments to the rate, and I think we'll be able to keep better track of who is going TDY," he said. "Then we can target those people we really need to help, and perhaps do some resource reallocation, qualify more people or crews, whatever the case may be."

Campanale said the Air Force has a goal of no more than 120 days TDY a year for its people, and that the Air Force was going to try and stick to it. He noted the Air Force had taken a number of initiatives which have kept most troops below that level.

Addressing the issue of converting officer slots to enlisted slots, Campanale said the conversions weren't intended to replace officers. Rather, the military is obligated to maintain an officer-to-enlisted ratio. As the military went through downsizing and redistribution of the force, he explained, it found it had too many officers on board. One of the ways the Air Force cut officer positions to get the proper ratio was to make some changes and let some of the enlisted do the jobs. The chief said the conversion seems to be working well.

The chief said issues of most concern to enlisted people can vary. "A few months ago," he said, "the big concern was High One issues," a proposal he helped to defeat which would have reduced some members' retirement pay. "A couple of years ago it was homosexuals in the military. There are some issues that dart on and off the scope, but some that remain consistent. Those issues today are the quality of military housing for our folks, and housing allowances to take care of our people's financial needs. We addressed those issues in the Quality of Life Commission.

"We won some issues for housing this year, which are part of the defense budget: 5.2 percent in your basic allowance for quarters and variable housing allowance rate protection," he said.

Campanale outlined the strategy leaders are using to keep quality of life a top priority.

"Different people, from the secretary of defense, secretary of the Air Force and the chief of staff on down, sat down and made a prioritized list of what we thought we should do, as a group," Campanale said. "So we published what we call a White Paper. In it, we address what we're doing in force modernization, readiness and people programs to include retirees, civilians and family members.

"We talk about housing, pay and allowances, commissary benefits, and the infrastructure that supports our people," he said. "With this, we are now able to stand together in a united front to get what is best for our people."

Holding on to top-quality, highly motivated people is simple, the chief said. "Give them challenges, provide discipline and make the job fun. Make it a rewarding experience, not just quantifiable in terms of financial compensation. Take care of their families and give them an opportunity to excel."

The Air Force's highest-ranking enlisted member said the future looks steady as far as the role of enlisted people is concerned.

"We have great confidence in our people that whatever we ask them to do, they will do. They've never disappointed us," the chief said.

64th Operations Group to host awards banquet

More than 30 individual awards to be presented

More than 30 individual awards will be presented during the annual 64th Operations Group Awards Banquet at the Reese Club Saturday.

The banquet begins at 6 p.m. with a social hour. Dinner is slated for a 7 p.m. start.

According to 64th OG officials, the awards include five major awards. These are the Civilian Mission Maker of the Year, Company Grade Support Officer of the Year, Company

Grade Officer of the Year, Flight Commander of the Year and Instructor Pilot of the Year.

Nominees for the awards are:

□ Civilian Mission Maker — Norma Hays, 52nd Flying Training Squadron; George Taber, 52nd FTS; Sara Olguin, 64th Operations Support Squadron; and Connie Curry, 64th OSS

□ Company Grade Support Officer — 2nd Lt. Francisco Gallei, 54th Flying Training Squadron; 2nd Lt. Frederick Mena, 64th OSS; and 2nd Lt. Leslie Himebrook, 52nd FTS.

□ Flight Commander — Capt. Lloyd Hubbard, 54th FTS; Capt. Richard Meyer, 54th FTS and Capt. Paul Burrell, 52nd FTS

□ Instructor Pilot — Capt. Andy Berry, 35th FTS; Capt. Eric Cain, 64th OSS, Capt. Douglas Hammen, 54th

FTS, Lt. (USN) Stefan Xaudaro, 35th FTS; and Capt. Brian Radliff, 54th FTS

In addition to these awards, the 64th OG will present several other individual awards. These include: 64th OG Senior NCO, NCO and Airman of the Year; T-37, T-38 and T-1A Simulator Instructors of the Year; Maintenance Supervisor of the Year; Senior Mechanic of the Year; Mechanic of the Year; Maintenance Support Person of the Year; Crew Chief of the Year; T-37, T-38 and T-1A Sortie Producers of the Year; Mission Support Producer of the Year; Component Repair Sortie Producer of the Year; and Friend of Maintenance.

Other awards are: Airfield Manager of the Year, Life Support Airman and NCO of the Year; Operations System Management Airman and NCO of the Year; Air Traffic Supervisor of the Year; Air Traffic Controller of the Year; Air Traffic Control Trainer of the Year; Weather Forecaster of the Year; and Weather Observer of the Year.

Tickets for the banquet are $11 for enlisted and civilians and $13 for officers.

NATO commander cites AF support of Sarajevo airbridge

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — U.S. Army Gen. George Joulwan, Supreme Allied Commander NATO and commander in chief, U.S. European Command recently sent a congratulatory message to Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Ronald R. Fogleman.

The letter was in reference to the long-term Air Force support for the Sarajevo airbridge.

The letter stated: "The Sarajevo airbridge recently concluded its three-and-one-half year humanitarian airlift operation in support of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees.

"Twenty-one nations participated in the airbridge, flying almost 13,000 sorties and delivering more than 160,000 metric tons of life-saving supplies to the people of this beleaguered city.

"The U.S. Air Force played a crucial role in this effort, flying over 4,500 sorties on C-130, C-141 and C-17 aircraft.

"But I know it also takes thousands of other men and women to build the pallets, fix the aircraft, schedule the missions and provide security for the aircraft and crews who flew into Sarajevo.

"Please pass my sincere thanks to the active-duty, Reserve and Air National Guard — who helped make this dangerous operation such a success.

"One team, one fight."

Close watch

Capt. Molly Tatarka, a weapons director with Headquarters, Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation Center, and Staff Sgt. Roger South, an air operations technician, monitor their consoles on the Joint STARS (Surveillance Target Attack Radar System) aircraft during a recent mission in support of Operation Joint Endeavor. Both are assigned to the 4500th Joint STARS Squadron, deployed to Rhein-Main Air Base, Germany, from Melbourne, Fla.

IRS notes tax benefits for military

Special tax benefits are available for members of the military, Internal Revenue Service officials said. But they can make filing federal taxes more difficult.

To make it easier to understand military pay, allowances and benefits and how they affect federal taxes, IRS offers two free brochures. IRS Publication 3, Tax Information for Military Personnel, and IRS Publication 945, Tax Information for Those Affected by Operation Desert Storm, explain in detail what's taxable and nontaxable income.

For copies of these publications, call tollfree (800) 829-3676 or write to: Internal Revenue Service, Forms Distribution Center, PO Box 85627, Richmond, VA 23285-5627.

IRS officials said taxable military pay generally includes:

- Active duty pay;
- Re-enlistment bonuses;
- Reserve training pay;
- Service academy pay;
- Special pay for hazardous or foreign duty;
- Pay received by retired service members serving as instructors in Junior ROTC programs;
- Lump-sum payments upon separation or release to inactive duty; and □ Military retirement pay based on length or service and age.

Items generally not taxable, said IRS officials, include:

- Basic quarters allowance;
- Basic allowance for subsistence;
- Department of Veterans Affairs benefits;
- Death allowances for burial services;
- Variable housing allowance;
- Uniform allowance;
- Forfeited pay, but not fines;
- Family separation pay; and
- Benefits under SGLI

Members of the 64th Civil Engineer Squadron's Operations Flight stand tall after capturing the Maj. Gen. Clifton D. Wright Award for AETC.

Reese civil engineers capture AETC awards

The 64th Civil Engineer Squadron has captured two Air Education and Training Command awards for excellence.

The 64th CES Operations Flight earned the Maj. Gen. Clifton D. Wright Award and Capt. Colleen Brust was recognized as the Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year.

The operations flight was cited for:

- Maintaining the best energy program in AETC. Reese reduced energy consumption by nearly three times the Air Force goal.

- Completing more than 92 percent of emergency and urgent service calls within two days.

- Establishing quality improvement "benchmarks" by comparing Lubbock International Airport and Texas Tech University facilities with Air Force standards and creating a computer program that allows individual shops to track and evaluate equipment repair/replacement costs.

- Use of customer feedback to improve overall service and to establish new programs such as the "crew chief" program to assist junior enlisted in developing planning and project managing skills.

- Extremely high pass rates for Career Development Course and readiness training and the successful deployment to El Salvador as part of the joint exercise Fuentes Caminos 95.

- Exceptional environmental and safety programs, including award of first ever AETC recycling contract.

Brust was recognized for her strong job performance, management ability and initiative.

Among the many programs she was cited for is her management of the Reese Environmental Restoration Program.

Outstanding manager

Col. Randy Gelwix, 64th Flying Training Wing commander, presents Capt. Colleen Brust, 64th Civil Engineer Squadron Environmental Flight chief, with the AETC Outstanding Civil Engineer Manager of the Year Award.

Equipment Rental reduces prices

Spring is just around the corner when a person's time turns toward camping, fishing or getting the family lawn and garden into shape.

Whether it's sleeping in a pop-up camper dreaming about the big one that got away, laying in a sleeping bag looking up at the stars, or conducting a "Honeydew" weekend tilling the garden for early vegetables, Equipment Rental has what is needed. It has reduced the rental fees 75 percent on items for rent.

Equipment Rental is located in the Arts and Crafts building (340). Stop by to check out the selection available for rent to support your spring and summer activities.

64th SPS conducts K-9 demonstration

Several members of the 64th Security Police Squadron conducted a Military Working Dog demonstration Sunday. They volunteered their off-duty time to conduct the demonstration for Pack 523, Tiger Cub Den 2.

The six and seven year old boys along with their parents had a unique opportunity to observe the narcotics and drug dog teams in action.

According to Brady Perry, husband of Maj. Jennifer Perry, 64th SPS commander, many of the parents expressed the demonstration was an exciting eye opener and never realized the security police were so involved.

The 64th SPS members who volunteered their time were Staff Sgt. Richard Bernal, kennel master; Staff Sgt. Michael Jordan, trainer; Senior Airman Terry Baucum, handler; Airman Patrick Ashford, handler; and the military working dogs Waldo and Mirco.

Medical record copying lags

The 64th Medical Group has been inundated with requests for copies of medical records. To date, the medical group has 478 requests pending. The medical records are being copied in the order they were

TriCare Update

by 1st Lt. Ward Hinger
Reese TriCare Director

TriCare Prime enrollees need to be aware of the following clarifications to the Point of Service (POS) Option.

This new information that follows is a change from the material originally given in your TriCare Prime Member Handbook.

As a TRICARE Prime enrollee, it is recommended that you coordinate all medical care through your Primary Care Manager (PCM). If a TriCare Prime enrollee obtains nonemergent services from a provider other than their PCM, without a referral from their PCM or a Health Care Finder, then they use the POS Option.

The contractor will hold the prime enrollee responsible for full payment of all services received under POS that are deemed as non-covered benefits. If the service is a covered benefit, you will first be responsible for meeting a $300 deductible per individual and a $600 deductible per family for each episode of care, plus 50% of the CHAMPUS maximum allowable.

received. People should expect delays in receiving copies. 64th MDG officials apologize for any inconvenience caused by the backlog.

Lawless to address breakfast

Dr. Robert Lawless, President of Texas Tech University, is scheduled as the guest speaker for the National Prayer Breakfast here Feb. 21.

The breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. at the Reese Club.

Reese Manor reservations change

People wanting to reserve Reese Manor must do so through the Lodging Office at the Reese Inn. For more information call 3155, ext. 400.

OWC hosts Couple's Dinner Theater

The Reese Officers Wives Club will host a Couple's Dinner Theater Feb. 9 at the Reese Club. The activities, which are open to all Reese Club members, begin at 6:30 p.m., with dinner set to start at 7 p.m. For reservations, call 3466 by Feb. 5.

Housing office moves

The housing office is now located in Building 552 next to the self-help store. The phone numbers remain the same, 3913 or 3601.

Career options workshop

Active duty military and spouses who are within 180 days of retirement or separation, or who have retired or separated since Oct. 1, 1990, may attend a free Civilian Career Options Workshop scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Feb 13-16.

Part of this workshop is a mandatory part of the military out processing.

The workshop, which will be held at the Reese Family Support Center, was specially developed for military members and their spouses separating or retiring from the military.

Resumes, veterans benefits and more will be cov-

Under the TriCare triple option, nonactive duty beneficiaries have two catastrophic caps.

The first cap is the TriCare Standard (CHAMPUS) Catastrophic Cap. This cap is $1,000 for active duty family members and $7,500 for retirees and their family members. POS cost-shares and deductibles are applied to this cap.

The second cap applies to Prime enrollees only and is $1,000 for active duty family members and $3000 for retirees and their family members. All funds expended by the beneficiary for the POS will not be credited toward the PRIME Catastrophic Cap. However, normal prime copayments for in and outpatient services and the annual prime enrollment fees do apply toward the cap.

For families that have some but not all members enrolled in TriCare Prime, the POS equation grows more complex. If you fall into this category, or do not fully understand the rules for POS, we encourage you to call or visit the Beneficiary Services Representative at the TRICARE Service Center (TSC). The TSC is located in the 64th Medical Group, building 1300, room 342, across the hall from Physical Therapy. Their administrative hours of are 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Please feel free to stop in or call 1-800-406-2832.

Teams gear up for playoffs

Thirteen teams began the intramural basketball season Nov. 24 with the elite eight set to battle for the championship.

The 64th Security Police Squadron (11-0) finished the regular season last week as the only undefeated team.

The 64th SPS, the top seed in the American League, kept its record unblemished as its game against the 52nd Flying Training Squadron (8-3), the second seed team in the AL, was cancelled Jan. 25.

The 52nd FTS played two games in the final week. It beat the 64th MDG-A (8-4), 56-39, Jan. 23. Craig Williams, 52nd FTS, and Warren Bengé, 64th MDG-A, both finished the game with 11 points. It also handed Navy (4-8) a 49-35 loss. Sonny McGowen had 13 points for Navy.

The 64th Communications Services Squadron (8-4), the third seed team in the AL, finished its season blowing out the 64th Medical Group-B (2-10), 73-35, Jan. 23. Ed Lara, 64th MDG-B, led all scorers with 21 points.

In the National League, the 64th Logistics Squadron (10-2) took honors as the top seed team by winning both of its games last week. It defeated the 54th FTS (6-6), AL wildcard team, 49-36, Jan. 23. Adrian Spain, 54th FTS, was the high scorer with 21 points.

On the following night, it beat intra-conference rival the 35th FTS (3-9), 62-37. Jim Dunlap and Scott Ledet both had 17 points in the victory. The 64th MDG-A is second seed team representing the NL.

Lockheed Martin Logistics Management (7-5) rounds out the playoff teams from the NL. It did not play last week.

The final team making the playoffs is the 64th Operations Support Squadron (8-4). It will represent the AL as the other wildcard team.

In the other game during last week, Navy sunk the 35th FTS, 43-37, Jan. 23. McGowen had 13 points in the victory.

Jayhawks roll over opposition in Industrial League bowling

The Industrial League is almost at the two-thirds mark in the bowling season on Thursday nights at Windmill Lane.

The Jayhawks extended its lead by winning all four games against the Crazy Bunch Jan. 25.

Robert Carnahan led the Jayhawks knocking over 614 pins for the high series. Teammates Joe Mingolla and Randall Tucker followed suit with 539 and 538 pins respectively. Buz Sawyer had 454 pins. Michelle Thomas wrapped up the team victory with 400 pins.

Carnahan also had the game high with 221 pins.

The victory kept the team in first place at 56-28 with 61,045. The Crazy Bunch dropped to 26-58 with 59,291 on the season.

There were four other games played Jan. 25.

No Fear and American Building Services split at two games apiece. Shawna Boyer bowled a 212 and 203 for No Fear. Terry Spear bowled a 213 and Tracy Jones bowled a 208 for Amer. Bldg. Svcs.

The Hoodlums won four games against the King Pins. Damian Zarate had the high game with 215 pins for the Hoodlums. Teammate Hugh Beam bowled a 204 in the first game.

Anthony Stone lead Who Cares to a four game victory against the Boners. He bowled the high game score of 208 in the second game.

In the final game of the night, Vic Perkins recorded the highest series with 635 pins in the Wings 3-1 victory against the Bowlinators. Perkins also had the top two-game highs with 226 and 228 pins. Teammates Rob Mitchell and Abe Chambers bowled a 226 and 206 respectively. Rocue Santellan had bowled a 211 in the second game for the Bowlinators.

Bowling Highlight

Mike Stevens bowled a 211 Saturday in YABA bowling in the Jr./Sr. Division.
