Sweepstakes scam hits local residents

A familiar scam is back to torment local residents, according to Donley County Sheriff Butch Blackburn.

The scam has hit two residents this week and appears to be a letter from Publishers Clearing House, telling the residents they have won a sweepstakes. The letter includes a check, and "winners" are instructed to cash the check and send a certain amount back. The check turns out to be no good, but that is often only realized after the victim has written their own check or wired money to the scammer.

Blackburn reminds people to be on the lookout for this scam to remember that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

USDA okays use of local CRP acres

US Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) County Executive Director, Vance Killian, has announced that Donley County is authorized for emergency use of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) acres due to recent Texas Panhandle wildfires.

The deadline to submit a request for emergency use of CRP land is April 1, 2017. If approved, producers can utilize eligible CRP acres for 30 calendar days from the date of approval.

Emergency use of CRP acres is limited to livestock producers who lost pasture and fences due to wildfires. Eligible CRP land is limited to acres located within the approved county.

There will be no CRP annual rental payment reduction for 2017 emergency use authorizations.

Producers authorized for emergency use of CRP acreage may use the land for their own livestock or may grant another livestock producer use of their CRP acreage.

Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department members fight an accidental blaze at a Fifth Street residence last Wednesday. Quick action by a watchful citizen and local firemen likely saved this home from more extensive damage.

Fire threatens Clarendon home

Quick action by a passerby and volunteer firemen saved a Clarendon home last Wednesday, March 29.

Fire Marshal Jeremy Powell said individual called 911 at 3:55 p.m. after noticing smoke coming from a house owned by Darrell Thomas at 1516 W. Fifth. The Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene at 3:58 to find smoke and fire showing from the back of the house near the kitchen window.

An investigation later revealed that electricity and the residence had been turned off at the home since December because no one was living there, but the power was turned back on at about 3:42 p.m. Powell said the homeowner had sent someone to check the house before the power was connected, and that person had found all appliances to be disconnected except the stove.

Powell said two burners on the stove were on the "on" position and some flammable materials were on the stove following a moving and remodeling period.

The fire was ruled accidental but Powell suggests always having someone at a property when power is established because another local home was threatened by fire just a few years ago due to this exact same scenario.

Last week's fire damage was contained to the kitchen and dining area of the home, Powell said. The remainder of the home suffered moderate to heavy smoke damage.

Fifteen firemen and seven units responded from the CVFD. Clarendon EMS and the Donley County Sheriff's Office also responded to the blaze, and the sheriff's office assisted with the investigation of the fire.

Lon Adams and Bill Carson visit during the 100th anniversary celebration of Moffitt Hardware last Saturday in Hedley. Carson has owned the store for more than 25 years and was very pleased with the crowd that turned out for the store's anniversary. A head count was not available, but Carson's daughter said they bought 240 hot dogs to serve and had to buy more after those ran out. Hedley's Main Street was packed with cars during the entire celebration from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Events to raise abuse awareness

CASA of the High Plains is encouraging everyone to wear blue this Friday, April 7, as part of Community Wide Go Blue Day to support child abuse awareness.

The event coincides with CASA Day at the Clarendon Outpost where individuals can learn more about being a CASA volunteer and precedes the annual Chance Mark Jones Roar 'N Run 5K to raise child abuse awareness.

When a child enters the foster care system because his or her home is no longer safe, a judge may appoint a committed volunteer to help them. That volunteer is called a Court Appointed Special Advocate, or CASA.

CASA continues to provide valuable volunteer advocacy for every abused child in this area. CASA volunteers serve as the "eyes and ears" for the judge in child welfare cases. This includes researching each child's situation and making objective recommendations to help them reclaim their childhoods from abuse and neglect. CASA volunteers are frequently the only stable presence in these children's lives as they navigate the foster care system.

These volunteers bring three critical qualities to their work: they focus on one case at a time; they bring a unique perspective to the court case; and their sole objective is representing the best interests of the child.

A second CASA Day will be held in Pampa at the Plaza Restaurant on April 13, and then on April 15 Cinema4 in Pampa will be partnering with CASA and The Pampa Child Welfare Board to offer a free showing of the movie Boss Baby 10:30. Tickets will be available for the first 300 people.

On April 30, CASA asks everyone to participate in National Blue Sunday for churches to take a moment of prayer for children who are victims of child abuse.

Last year, according to Texas Child Protective Services, nearly 60,000 Texas children were abused or neglected. April is National Child Abuse Prevention Month, a time to acknowledge the importance of families and communities working together to prevent child abuse and neglect and to promote the social and emotional well-being of children and families.

Children of all backgrounds can be victims of abuse. It's a problem that spans all ages, races, ethnicities, and socioeconomic backgrounds. Children ages 4-7 and 12-15 are most likely to be physically abused, but very young children are the most vulnerable to serious injuries as a result of child abuse.

If you do find yourself frustrated and angry at your child, please try the following to avoid hurting them:

- Take a deep breath and count to 20 slowly.
- Put your child in a safe place and WALK AWAY. The crib is usually a good choice for children who have not yet learned to climb out. For older children, walk out of

Trade helps agriculture thrive today

Last week we celebrated National Ag Day – a time to highlight the critical role our farmers and ranchers play in our communities. Whether it's providing food to feed our families or fiber to clothe them, the Texans who work the land are integral to our daily lives. That's why we need to do all we can to build on the success of policies that have helped them thrive, like trade.

TEXAS TIMES by sen. john corry

There's no question that international trade agreements help Texas ag producers. By connecting them to more customers around the world, our cattle ranchers and cotton farmers can find more markets, support larger operations, and ultimately, contribute more to the economy. With ninety-five percent of the world's consumers outside America's borders, it makes sense that we have a lot to gain by shipping cattle, cotton, and grain to foreign markets.

The North American Free Trade Agreement – or NAFTA – serves as a key example of just how well trade serves American agriculture.

Before the 1994 agreement, multiple barriers to trade existed, keeping continental trade at a minimum. But now, with full implementation of the agreement in effect, goods flow freely creating the largest free trade area in the world.

Since the creation of NAFTA, American agricultural exports have grown rapidly. In fact, U.S. ag exports to Canada and Mexico have almost quadrupled, solidifying our country's place as the world's top exporter of agricultural and food products.

Texas – the top exporting state in the country – has particularly benefited from the agreement. Our proximity to Mexico has made them our top exporting partner. That's one of the reasons Select Milk Producers is investing in a new plant in Littlefield – one that will produce 400,000 pounds of powdered milk a day, much of it bound for Mexico. But as two of our top ag export markets, both Mexico and Canada buy a lot of Texas agricultural goods. Texas exports hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of goods like beef and veal, grain and cotton to Canada and Mexico each year. Simply put, Texas farmers and ranchers have gained more customers as a result of NAFTA.

Because of this significant trade, NAFTA serves as a driver of economic growth well beyond our farms and ranches, benefiting Americans throughout the country. Ag exports to Canada and Mexico support jobs in sectors far removed from the field like manufacturing, transportation and financial services. It's estimated that agricultural exports to our NAFTA partners contributes more than a half a million American jobs. The impact of North American agricultural trade is estimated to have added more than $100 billion dollars to the overall economy in 2016 alone.

Fortunately, Texans understand that agriculture – whether tilling the soil or driving cattle – isn't just about jobs and the economy. It's about preserving a way of life and a culture that Texans are known for. In the 21st century, keeping that tradition alive means making sure Texas agriculture has access to markets both at home and abroad. Deals like NAFTA ensure it.

There's no question that NAFTA can be improved – there's ample opportunity to help more people across the country who are negatively impacted by trade. But as conversations continue in Washington to make sure we get the most out of trade deals, I'll continue to work hand in glove with our farmers and ranchers to guarantee greater access to more markets. That's good for our ag community, good for Texas and good for the rest of the country, too.

Picture shows all the stinky proof

My friend John, whose profession requires his being on airplanes much of the time, is pretty much a "follow the rules" kind of guy. He addresses to flight attendants' directives to the letter. If you guess he keeps his seat belt securely fastened at all times – just like the pilots do up front – you are correct.

He acknowledges that many fellow flyers are way off course on travel etiquette, however, and just when he thinks he has seen all possible gross conduct, up pops another vignette that begs for inclusion on the list. The other day – flying at 35,000 feet with his tray table in the upright and locked position – he glanced across the aisle.

Curled up on the seat was a passenger whose tray table was in the downright and dirty position. Resting there were both feet, shoesless and sockless. He took a picture of said feet, sending it along to Facebook friends with this notation: "Flying at 35,000 feet where it smells like 35,000 feet.".....

Speaking of feet, my Uncle Mort – already planning his 105th birthday party come July 4 – says some of his friends in the thicket are mighty shy. "It's a long spell after making new acquaintances before they'll look 'em straight in the eye," he says. "These shy souls say little, mostly staring down at their feet.".....

There's hope for one of his neighbors, Mort believes. "The other day – after shaking hands with a new friend he met at the general store – he looked down at the other guy's feet.".....

My uncle warns that too much should not be made of this. This may be the closest he ever gets to being an extrovert.....

conversationally. In poetry, they are what the fog comes in on, according to Carl Sandburg.

In measurement, signs tell us how far away hazards are.

And some of us open our mouths only to change feet.....

In the "golden days" of radio, we listened intently to certain entertainers, who, week after week, made unchanging statements.

We were easily entertained, laughing every week at the Duke of Paducah's invariable segment ending Saturday nights on The Grand Ole Opry: "I'm goin' back to the wagon 'cause these shoes are killing me."

Another entertainer who always landed on his feet was the inimitable Red Skelton, both on radio and TV. His memorable closing words, unquestionably sincere, warmed hearts: "Goodnight, and may God bless!".....

Who can forget the duck feed joke? It conjures imagery of Dafny Duck, and thinking of the memorable cartoon figure's padded feet makes it funnier.

You know the account: A duck wanders into a feed store, inquiring about duck feed. "We have cattle feed, chicken feed, horse feed, sheep feed and goat feed," the guy says. "But, no duck feed."

This vignette plays out three consecutive days, and the clerk tries of the question....

"I've told you daily what kind of feed we have, and that we don't have duck feed," he snorts.

Fearing the fowl doesn't believe him, he adds that if the duck comes in with the same question on the morrow, he will "nail his little padded feet to the floor."

Undaunted, the duck wanders in the next day, this time asking, "Do you have any nails? Do you have any hammers?" The feed store guy shakes his head. "Got any duck feed?" the duck asks, hurriedly exiting the store.....

Feet certainly aren't forgotten in the Bible. Without numerous Scriptures referencing feet, it would be a much smaller book.

Our spirits are buoyed by Isaiah 52:7 (NIV). "How beautiful on the mountains is the feet of those who bring good news, who proclaim peace, who bring good tidings, who proclaim salvation, who say to Zion, 'Your God reigns!'"

Such tidings are desperately needed; the world's view of what is good grows dim.....

The sacred landfill of Sherman, Texas

A small, aging congregation attends Sherman's only synagogue, Temple Beth Emeth. When the president of the congregation, Andy Faber, went to prepare for Friday night services, he discovered the synagogue had been burglarized and vandalized. There was considerable damage to the sanctuary. The Torah scroll, which had originally been used in Poland prior to World War Two, was missing. The community, like the congregation, was devastated over what happened and offered any assistance necessary. Sherman police called in the FBI, Texas Rangers and Anti-Defamation League to investigate. Within a week after news of the burglary hit the media, two young men confessed to the crime. They said they had buried the Torah in the city's landfill, which covers several acres.

Finding the Torah was out of the question, since it was probably buried several feet and the ground was soggy from recent rains. In Jewish tradition, when books or scrolls are no longer used, they are buried. The sacred space where the items are buried is called a genizah. City and county officials gave their hearty approval to converting the landfill into a genizah.

Rabbi Brian Zimmerman was called in to conduct the ceremony.

"The Torah is our most sacred possession and its value emotionally and spiritually is priceless," he said. The crowd gathered at the landfill was small. Members of the congregation didn't want to notify the media about the event, since the solemn occasion was more of a religious service than a public event. Rabbi Zimmerman asked each person to share stories about how the scroll bore testament to the most important moments in their religious and spiritual lives. Each person told of how the Torah had been used at weddings, funerals, and ceremonies involving their children and grandchildren. After the stories, it was time for the memorial prayer.

When the group arrived at the landfill, Rabbi Zimmerman said there were hundreds and hundreds of blackbirds making loud screeching noises. "It was sometimes difficult to even hear the people telling their stories about the Torah. The sounds from the birds were just deafening. They were flying back and forth over the landfill. We started saying the Kaddish, which is a prayer asking God to bring life to us, used usually when we mourn loved ones who pass. All of a sudden in the middle of the prayer we noticed it was incredibly quiet. There was complete silence. All the birds were still and sitting on the landfill. There was no sound except for us. We finished our prayer and looked at each other, commenting on the fact that the birds were quiet. It was a powerful moment. It reminded me that there are things in this world that we can't understand. People say there are moments when you really feel connected to something higher. That would be number one in my years as a rabbi."

Because of all the help the community provided repairing the synagogue, it was rededicated less than three months after the burglary. A synagogue in Arkansas provided another Torah.

Attorney Lee Ann Reno was also present at the meeting for a board training session.

Health fairs are excellent ways to offer screenings for some health problems like diabetes and high blood pressure. Catching them early can help reduce the risks for costly complications. Both diabetes and high blood pressure can go undetected for up to ten years.

The fair is being sponsored by Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, Clarendon Family Medical Center, Donley Hospital District, Northwest Health Care System, Pilgrim Bank, Clarendon College, Donley County Memorial VFW Post #7782 Ladies Auxiliary and Mike's Pharmacy. Donations are still being accepted at the Donley County Extension Office to help with the expense and keeping it a free event for the attendees.

Storm preparedness, Tech support scams

Hi, gang. The crud has still got me. May be getting better.
Wow! The rain has been great, and everything will begin to grow. Then it will be back to mowing and weeding our yards. Two good articles this week. How to prepare for storm season and Tech support scams. Please share with your older friends.

"Storm Preparedness Storm Season Means Be Ready" from the Better Business Bureau.

It is storm season in the Panhandle, and preparing for a storm before it happens is not only important, it's smart. When you're ready for a disaster large or small you'll be equipped to do any clean up and likely avoid being taken advantage of. Make a list of companies you trust. Start at www.bbb.org. Look at their report, complaints and customer reviews. Consider their length of time in business and of course their rating (A+ - F). Knowing who you plan to call for home, yard and car repairs will help relieve stress and worry after a storm. If you're not prepared you may be anxious to choose the first company that knocks on your door after a storm. Making hasty decisions in a time of need, could result in higher costs; substandard work or having to do and pay for the same job twice.

"Knowing ahead of time who you can trust to repair your home helps keep your mind at ease," said Janna Kiehl, BBB CEO. "The best advice we can give is to be informed, educated, and ready."

BBB staff have a combined thirty years of experience dealing with storms and the companies that follow them. "We are here to help," said Kiehl, and she adds that spending money on a company that does not follow through or one that simply takes your money and runs hurts you, your neighbors and other companies.

Tips to Prepare for a Storm: Check with your insurance company now about what is covered, how to file a claim if necessary and any deductibles. Start with Trust. Start with BBB. Look up company reports at www.bbb.org/Amarillo. It's free, fast and informative. Know a company's business before giving them your money. On bbb.org/Amarillo look up industry lists of accredited businesses. Why use an accredited business? They have agreed to the BBB Standards for Trust which means they stand by their word, are located in the Texas panhandle, have a long term history here and if they receive a complaint, they have agreed to do all they can to resolve it. If a company has a low rating or unaddressed complaints, move on to a company that has a better rating or an accredited business. Studies show consumers prefer to do business with BBB accredited businesses.

Obtain bids from several companies. Review the bids, compare like services and remember the lowest bid is not always the best price. The company's ability to complete your job and the working relationship is also important. "There's a lot more to the overall business transaction than price alone," said Kiehl. "Comparing apples to apples and seeking a positive and professional relationship is crucial." Immediately after a storm, you will want to get things back to normal in a hurry and your yard may be down. Be patient and ask if temporary repairs can be made. Remember, it will take some time to get back to normal.

"Don't Fall Victim to Tech Support Scams" from Kristin Keckisen, AARP Fraud Watch Network.

Tech support scams have lurked online for years. They often come in the guise of a pop-up message on the target's computer screen, claiming viruses are attacking the device, along with a phone number to call for assistance. The operator then convinces the target to buy hundreds of dollars of tech support services he doesn't need. In a more recent twist, scammers cold call targets and claim to be from a major computer company, indicating that a virus or malware has infected the target's computer.

How it Works: The caller convinces the target that his computer is infected and asks for remote access to the device to fix the problem. The scammer's goal is to gain remote access to your device, and once in, claims to find multiple viruses or malware that he can fix for a fee. The scammer will ask for a form of payment, usually a credit card or wire transfer.

What You Should Know: The Federal Trade Commission reports that thousands of people have lost hundreds of dollars to this scam. Last fall, the FTC shut down a business operating as Global Connect for running this scam, but scammers are again using this company name to target victims. What You Should Do: If you get a tech support call out of the blue, hang up. Never give control of your computer to someone who calls you.

Report scams like this and let others know about it on our scam-tracking map. When it comes to fraud, vigilance is our number one weapon! You have the power to protect yourselves and your loved ones from scams.
Stay safe out there!

WHISTLE STOP LEGENDS

MUTT GRAHAM

B.L. "Mutt" Graham was born in Crowell but would come to make Clarendon his lifelong home.
During World War II, he began cooking in the US Navy; and after the war, he opened a café in Clarendon in 1947, which he and his wife, Nita, operated for the next 34 years.

In addition to feeding generations of Clarendon and Donley County residents, Mutt had a heart for serving others, and he served as a volunteer fireman for 60 years and was the Fire Chief for six years. Mutt also volunteered as an ambulance driver, and served as mayor for a time.
It was Mutt, along with Billy Jack Land and Maurice Hart, who organized the Clarendon Little League program in the 1950s, and he was a member of the VFW and the Masonic Lodge before he passed away in 2007.

The Whistle-Stop and the community salute the memory of Mutt Graham for his unforgettable smile, his cooking, his friendship, and his service to the people of Donley County. Thank you, Mutt!

Moffitt Hardware marks 100th year

Last Saturday, me and my family went to Hedley for the 100th birthday of Moffitt Hardware. It's one of the few businesses in Hedley. It's the only place in Hedley you can buy a Coke or a candy bar.

We had a lot of fun going there. The store looks small from the outside; but when you get in, there is a lot of stuff and antiques. There are old mailboxes, and sewing machines. In the back, there is a big cabinet with a lot of drawers that was really neat. It had all kinds of hardware in it.

In one part of the store there is a long line of cabinets that says "ariat rope." Cowboys used to buy rope out of the top of those, but now some of them have chain in them.

They served hot dogs and cake, and at the end they drew for some prizes like a cooler, a tailgate grill, small tool sets, and a big tool set.

I liked how everyone there was really nice, and in the future, I would like to go back and buy something.

CISD Board extends administration contacts

The Clarendon CISD Board of Trustees extended the contracts of several administrators when it met in regular session on February 16.

The board met in closed session for about half an hour before taking action on the contracts in open session.

The contracts of principals Larry Jeffers, John Taylor, and Mike Wood along with the contract of Athletic Director Gary Jack were extended to June 2019. The contracts of Counselor Jane Ashbrook and Special Programs Director Leslie Norrell were extended to June 2018.

Administrative reports were presented by the principals and athletic director as well as by Mrs. Ashbrook, Mrs. Norrell, and Superintendent Mike Norrell.

Trustees approved an Order of Election for the purpose of electing two board members on May 6, 2017. Bunny Owens was named election judge, and Faye Vargas will serve as Early Voting Clerk with LaVerne Pinion as deputy clerk.

The board voted in favor of a motion to notify the Commissioner of Education of the Board's intention to vote on adoption of the proposed innovation plan.

A proposal was accepted to refinish the Bronco Gym and Colt Gym floor. Allen Hardwood Floor will do the jobs for about $18,000.

Superintendent Mike Norrell said it has been ten years since the Bronco Gym floor was refinished.

Trustees also approved a proposal from Texas Kids First for Student Accident and Catastrophic Insurance as presented.

Butch Noble and Suzanne Taylor reported on the District Technology Plan to the board.

A motion was approved to purchase equipment as discussed under the E-Rate guidelines. Norrell said the project of about $80,000 will improve internet bandwidth and connectivity on the CISD campus and will mostly be paid for by the E-Rate federal program. The cost to CISD will be $15,520.

A bid on tax delinquent property from Michael and JoBeth Dietrich for two lots in Howardwick was accepted as presented.

How the wild flowers grow

The cover from this week's Howardwick Baptist Church bulletin showed a field of flowers with the caption from Luke 12:27, "Consider how the wild flowers grow."

Oh, my goodness! With the wonderful two inches of rain we received, the wild flowers will be a profusion of color because I see wild buttercups along the road. It is difficult to persuade bluebonnets to grow in the Panhandle, but Indian paint brush and Indian blanket will soon be blooming, what a nice time to take a little road trip.

Thank you, Jesus, for the rain and look forward to the wildflowers.

Easter is less than two weeks away and instead of baking something sweet, go by Lowe's on April 15 and pick up something nice from the Howardwick Ladies Auxiliary bake sale and support the Fire Department at the same time. We all know those ladies are good cooks. You won't be disappointed.

World War I

When World War I began in 1914, it was a war that mainly involved European countries and Russia. The U.S. was not involved, but did agree more with one side, called the Allies. Germany, part of the other side, the Central Powers, became angry with bank loans and ships bringing cargo to Britain (its enemy). Germany threatened to use its submarines to sink any ships going to Britain – even American ships. So the U.S., on April 6, 1917, declared war on Germany.

Read my clues about WWI to fill in the crossword puzzle:

How Did the War Begin? Why Did the U.S. Get Involved?

- during the first Christmas of the war (1914) some on both sides agreed to stop fighting; they sang songs, gave some small gifts of food – and some even took part in a football game

- German U-boats sank over 5,000 _____ all over the _____ and was so terrible, people felt that it must be the "War to End All Wars"
- at the end of WWI (1919), Germany, Austria and Turkey had to sign a _____ giving up their colonies (lands they had taken over)
- new _____ were drawn, some countries added land, some new countries were created too – the map of Europe changed largely to the one we see today

Broncos roll through Naz, Wellington

By Sandy Anderberg

The Clarendon Broncos are finding their rhythm as they defeat team after team on their District schedule.

The Broncos traveled to Nazareth and hosted Wellington last week. The Broncos breezed to a 16-5 win over Nazareth and blasted the Rockets 18-3.

Clay Koetting was on the mound for the Broncos against Nazareth and threw five strikeouts. For the four innings, he allowed six hits, four runs, and one walk. Kade Hunsaker pitched against the Rockets for three innings and had only one hit, no runs, one walk, and struck out four.

Reaping an early dominance in the Nazareth match, the Broncos stayed with their game plan taking the early lead in the first inning when Nick Shadle drove in two runs with a single.

A big third inning sealed the deal for the Broncos as they scored on a Swift error, and singles by Andy Davis and Josh Cobb. Davis was three for four from the plate on the day.

The Broncos racked up 10 hits with Davis and Cobb slugging numerous hits in the game. They also grabbed 10 stolen bases with Preston Elam nabbing two.

got things going early.

A huge second inning gave the Broncos nine runs that began with a single by Koetting and one by Chance Lockhart. Nathan Shadle and Koetting each slammed a double to help as well.

The Broncos had their bats going against the Rockets and finished the game with a total of 13 hits. Clarendon also ran the bases hard and racked up several stolen bases with Nathan Shadle leading the charge with two.

The Broncos will continue their district schedule with two home games in a row. They will host Valley on Friday, April 8, and Kress on Tuesday, April 11.

CHS Bronco Zane Sneathen bats during last week's game against Wellington. The Broncos blasted the Rockets 18-3. They will host Valley on Friday, April 8, and Kress on Tuesday, April 11.

Lady Broncos come up one run short against WTH

By Sandy Anderberg

Playing their best game of the year against a good team, the Lady Broncos were one out from getting the job done against West Texas High last week. But a missed fly ball allowed the Lady Comanches to get the go-ahead run to win the game 7-6.

According to head coach Gary Jack, the ladies played a great game. "This was probably our best overall game start to finish," he said. "Our hitting was good. Our offense and pitching were good also, and we made good plays on defense. We were hoping to pull it out but didn't."

The ladies had tied the game after WT held the early advantage. The game was tied at six with only one out remaining. Jack credited Emily Johnson with a great game at the plate as she posted two triples and one double. He also noted that Jensen Hatley, Brianna Butler, Allyson Hogan, and Briley Chadwick with success at the plate.

"Right now we should be sitting about third (in the district race)," Jack said. "We are right in the mix of things."

The Lady Broncos will continue their schedule at Fritch on Saturday, April 8, and Tuesday, April 11, at Follett. Both games will begin at 4:00 p.m.

Brady among 134 New DPS Troopers

AUSTIN – The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) Director Steven McCraw, Texas Public Safety Commission Chair Cynthia Leon, and members of the Public Safety Commission (PSC) were recently joined by Texas Rep. Tony Dale as the department commissioned 134 men and women as the state's newest Highway Patrol Troopers during the recruit graduation ceremony.

Brady

Among the new troopers is Kenneth Brady, who has been a resident of Clarendon since 1990 and is now assigned in Clarendon.

Brady is married to Christina Brady, and the couple has four children: Dominique Brady-Foster, Marissa Brady, John Brady, and Chris Brewer.

Rep. Tony Dale was the keynote speaker during the ceremony, which was held February 24 in Austin.

"The men and women here today have selflessly pledged their lives to protect the people of Texas by joining law enforcement—a noble profession that requires immense courage and sacrifice," said Rep. Dale. "The state is profoundly grateful for your dedication to becoming our newest Texas Highway Patrol Troopers."

The D-2016 class, which is the department's 158th training class and the largest since August 2000, includes 16 women, 16 former peace officers and 58 military veterans. The oldest graduate is 51-years-old and the youngest is 21-years-old. The new Troopers will report to duty stations across Texas in the coming weeks and spend the first six months in on-the-job training. "I know each of you has worked tremendously hard in order to get where you are today, and your perseverance and achievements have been nothing less than remarkable," said Chair Leon. "We are honored to welcome you to the DPS family, and I know you will make us all proud as you walk out these doors to begin your new career serving and protecting your communities."

The Troopers began the 24-week training academy in September of last year. Instruction covered more than 100 subjects, including counterterrorism, traffic and criminal law, arrest and control procedures, accident reconstruction, first aid and Spanish. They also received training in use of force, communication skills, firearms, driving, criminal interdiction, cultural diversity and physical fitness.

"These 134 men and women have risen to the challenge of DPS' months-long training to prove their proficiency and dedication, and the department is honored to add them to our law enforcement ranks," said Director McCraw. "From this day forward, you will serve on the front lines protecting our communities from the full gamut of public safety threats, and Texas will be a safer place because of your commitment to duty."

As part of the recruits' community service project, the class raised funds for several causes, including $6,866 for the Green Beret Foundation; and $1,150 for the Louisiana State Troopers Association (to assist Troopers affected by flooding in Louisiana). In addition, the class established the "158th Fund," which will provide future recruits with financial assistance for miscellaneous medical expenses. Members of the class also volunteered to be tested as potential donors for a national bone marrow registry.

DPS is currently accepting applications for recruit classes scheduled for 2018. The next application deadline is June 20 for the class beginning Jan. 7, 2018. To apply or for more information, visit www.joindps.com.

Plaque Psoriasis: New Treatment

A new medication was recently approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to treat moderate to severe plaque psoriasis. Siliq (brodalumab) is a synthetic antibody which has the ability block interleukin-17, a protein in the body that causes inflammation. Over four thousand people were treated during clinical trials. Significantly more people treated with Siliq had skin that was clear, or almost clear, of red patches and flaking than those treated with a placebo. The most commonly reported side effects of the drug were tiredness and joint pain.

Psoriasis is a skin condition in which excess skin cells form scaly, dry patches on the body. The patches, called plaques, can have a silver or reddish color and cause itching and discomfort. The cause of psoriasis is reported to be due to an immune system defect that causes skin cells to grow ten-times faster than normal cells.

NOTICE OF COMPLIANCE TARIFF FILING

Southwestern Electric Power Company (SWEPCO) filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) on March 24, 2017 its Petition requesting approval of its proposed Military Base Surcharge Tariff.

Section 36.354(a) of the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA), at Texas Utilities Code § 36.354, provides that each electric utility in an area where implementation of full customer choice has been delayed by the Commission in accordance with PURA Section 39.103 shall discount charges for electric service provided to a military base. Section 36.354(b) of PURA establishes the discount to be provided to military installations as a 20 percent reduction of the base commercial rate that the electric utility would otherwise charge the installation.

Section 36.354(c) of PURA provides that the electric utility may assess a surcharge to all its Texas retail customers to recover the difference in revenue between the revenues from the discounted rate for military bases and the base commercial rate. Tariff Sheet No. IV-16 provides the Military Base Adjustment Factor per billing kWh as reflected below:

MONTHLY FACTOR

Major Rate Classes	$/kWh

Commercial & Small Industrial	$0.0000401
Industrial / Large Lighting and Power	$0.0000171

Outdoor Lighting	$0.0000766

SWEPCO has requested that the tariff become effective with the first billing cycle of May 2017. The Petition has been assigned Tariff Control No. 46984. Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon this proceeding must notify the Commission within 21 days of SWEPCO's filing of the Petition.
