School Bells Ring In New 1995 School Reform Law

By Dave Thompson

With the opening of the 1995-1996 school year here in Knox City and across the state of Texas, a slate of new regulations governing schools, parents and students are now new state laws. Following a lot of hard work by state lawmakers during the last legislative session, the 1995 School Reform Law changes many areas of operation for local schools.

Parents have gained new clout in district affairs, including the right to seek a new teacher or school if they are dissatisfied or feel their children are not receiving proper education. In the past, parents have had to wait until the next school year or move to a private school to get a change for their children. Parents now have a right to transfer a child out of a low performing school or district using a "public performance grant" issued by the state.

Parents will also be able for the first time to review student achievement tests, numerous school records and the various curriculum materials used to educate their children.

While the new state laws have given parents more clout and the opportunity to get involved if they want to, there are also many changes that relate directly to the students. The biggest change towards students is the new "Zero Tolerance Policy" that allows teachers to boot violent or disruptive students out of school. Students who are removed from class by their teachers must be re-assigned to an alternative education program at the school or in the district. Other new laws include smoking banned on all campuses and all school events, a brief time for silent prayer or meditation is allowed, and sex education classes must focus on abstinence - with no condom handouts anywhere in Texas. Also, parents may choose for their children to skip the sex education instruction.

High school students will also find an easier no-pass, no-play rule. Failing students can now return to extracurricular activities after a three week suspension, instead of the old six week suspension rule. Also, students with one or more F's are no longer barred from practice or rehearsals.

Another major factor in the School Reform Law is allowing school districts to issue teaching permits to college graduates who are not certified to teach, but who have expertise in subjects taught in school. Senate Education Committee Chairman Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, co-author of the new education law, predicted a turnaround in schools if parents take advantage of their new rights and if the various other reforms are allowed to work. "I hope," he said, "that the parents and the citizens of Texas will come out of this year feeling good about the direction of our public schools."

Greyhound Booster Club Ready To Call It Quits

*Attention Parents: Your Help Is Needed
To Keep Organization In Operation*

Following a 1995 organizational meeting last week that saw only three persons in attendance, the Knox City Greyhound Booster Club could be forced to disband if more help is not received from parents. Feeling very discouraged at the lack of support this early in the school year, Club President Barbara Bamard said last week that this organization needs the help and support of every parent who has a child in the Knox City-O'Brien school system.

Working towards a goal of helping both the students and school district, the booster organization has a long established tradition of supporting our student athletes. Past purchases that benefit the various sports programs include the basketball and volleyball scoreboard in the gym, televisions and VCR's for coaches to use at games, a riding lawn mower for use at the football field, a spike machine for the volleyball team, the spirit bell that is towed to all football games and sounded for touchdowns, warm-up suits for the O'Brien track teams, jerseys and uniforms for the volleyball girls, travel shirts for the boys and girls teams. The organization has also helped to purchase weights for the new weight room, helped with the cost of the weight room and hosted last year's athletic banquet.

Made up of parents and other supporters within the communities of Knox City and O'Brien, the club meets on a regular basis to make plans for fund-raising projects and to discuss the various sports and what type of support each sport needs.

Traditionally the role of the club has been to support the athletes, and the role of the parents of student athletes has been to support their sons and daughters by participating in the club and its projects. Over the years, it seems that while the mission of the organization remains the same, many parents have begun to feel that they are "too busy" to help the organization. "Without the support of parents, there is no booster club," stated Bamard, who also went on to say, "there are some of the parents that do want to help, but they can not do the job by themselves. We need the help of every parent who has a son or daughter in athletics here in Knox City or in O'Brien."

The next meeting of the Athletic Booster Club has been set for this Thursday night, August 17, at 7:00 p.m. in the library of the high school on the Knox City campus. All persons interested in seeing the booster organization survive should make every effort to be at this meeting.

This month's payments include taxes collected by monthly filers on June, 1995 sales and reported to the Comptroller in July, and by quarterly filers for April, May, and June and reported to the Comptroller in July.

MR. AND MRS. CRIS LEE HACKER
... the former Melissa Denise Klohn

Melissa Klohn, Cris Lee Hacker Exchange July 22 Wedding Vows

Melissa Denise Klohn and Cris Lee Hacker exchanged wedding vows at a family wedding at two o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, July 22, 1995, in the First Baptist Church Chapel in Knox City. Rev. Bobby King, church pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dianna and Dale Klohn of Knox City, Betty Martin of Davis, Oklahoma, and Susie Klohn of Chickasha, Oklahoma, are the grandmothers of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Sherry and Clifford Hacker of Knox City. C.L. Hacker Sr. of Knox City and Loretta and Leroy Burns of Floydada are the bridegroom's grandparents.

Decorations included an archway with greenery, pink roses and pink bows, a unity candle and baskets of palm leaves. Pews were marked with pink bows.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Karen Hacker, aunt of the bridegroom, of Lakeside City. "When You Say Nothing At All" was played while the couple lit the unity candle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length printed bengaline gown with Venise lace and a bow at the waistline supporting a floor length train. The traditional wedding veil was made by the bride's mother. The bride's bouquet, made by her mother, was made of various shades of pink and white roses and iris. The bouquet was carried on top of a lace covered Bible belonging to the bridegroom's mother. The bride also wore a white and blue lace garter and a pearl necklace given to her by her paternal grandmother.

Dedra Hartley, sister of the bride, of Maysville, Oklahoma, was the bride's matron of honor. She wore a floor length pink satin gown with a ruffled neckline and carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

Michelle Bungarden, cousin of the bride, of Davis, Oklahoma; and Kayla Hacker, niece of the bridegroom, of Stamford served as flower girls. They wore pastel pink and green flowered dresses.

The bridegroom wore a light gray suit with pink pinstripes and a mauve shirt with a gray and mauve tie. He wore a white rose boutonniere.

Cliff Hacker, brother of the bridegroom, of Stamford, served as best man. He wore a navy suit with a light blue shirt.

Ring bearer was Joseph Hartley, nephew of the bride, of Maysville, Oklahoma.

Clint Hacker, brother of the bridegroom, served as usher.

Amanda Klohn, sister of the bride, registered the wedding guests at a table covered with white lace and with a centerpiece of pink roses.

A reception was held at the church fellowship hall. Hostesses were Erin Mongrain and Melissa Bamard of Knox City, Jennifer Pharr of Abilene, Brandi Hacker, sister-in-law of the bridegroom of Stamford, Audeen Irwin of Lubbock and Margie Young of Floydada, great-aunts of the bridegroom. The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth overlaid with a white lace cloth. A four tier cake with pink roses, made by the bridegroom's mother, pink punch, nuts and wedding bell mints adorned the bride's table.

The bridegroom's table was covered by a brown and beige lace cloth. The bridegroom's cake, made by the his mother, was a chocolate horseshoe with chocolate roses and leaves. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service.

The food table was covered with a pink cloth with trays of vegetables, wedding bell sandwiches, and watermelon carved by the bride's family and filled with fruit. The centerpiece was a watermelon standing on end with a bride and bridegroom carved out and a candle burning inside.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple is at home in Floydada. The bride will continue her schooling at Floydada High School. The bridegroom is employed by Producers, Inc. He is a 1994 graduate of Knox City High School and attended Vernon Regional Junior College.

Out of town guests were Lou and Gerald Klohn, Joe Hartley, Nicola Bungarden, Wanda and Al Lagaly, Mary and Richard Beets, Audeen and Sherman Irwin, Margie and Travis Young, Bill, Karen, Mark and Rebecca Hacker.

Unable to attend were the bridegroom's maternal grandparents and aunts and uncles. The bridegroom's grandfather suffered a mild stroke the morning of the wedding and was in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

O'Brien Happenings

By Audle Johnston

"Retort Card - In my early driving days, I had the bad habit of frequently running out of gas. Once, I was stranded at the mall and called my father for help. When he arrived, I was under the hood, poking around. "I think there's something preventing the gas from reaching the carburetor," I said. "Yeah," he shot back. "A five-dollar bill,"

Help Your Student... Make the GRADE!

Being in good physical shape helps your student achieve excellence in the classroom and on the playing field. Be sure that your student can see the blackboard, hear the teacher, and has enough energy to complete homework assignments. And, if your student is participating in sports (even if it's just kickball or jump rope on the playground), it's a good idea to get a pre-school checkup. How long has it been since your child had a general physical, hearing test, or eye exam?

You'll have a more successful athlete AND student if you take the time for a pre-school check up.

Benjamin News

By Gladene Green

School's here again! Teachers are up there today getting ready for another year and the kids get started tomorrow. Don't know how many of them (teachers, parents or students) are ready but don't guess that really matters - it's here anyway!!

Some encouraging news, about the ill of the community.

Zula Conner is in Lubbock with her son, Larry. Thought the change would do her some good and in talking with them on the phone, she is taking the visit fine. Should be back home, however, in a few more days.

Bud Clower has had a couple of pretty rough days but is feeling better today. Will go back to Houston in September and hopefully will be taken off some of his medication which could be a part of his nausea at times. In talking with Debbie today, she says all's going well and she's very encouraged about his progress. Just asked that we all continue to remember them in our prayers.

Belated expression of sympathy to Hazel Stockton. Hazel's sister passed away week before last in a Los Alamos, New Mexico, care home. Her funeral was in Albuquerque where she had made her home many years.

Also sympathy goes to John and Peggy Gillespie. Peggy's brother died last week in Arlington and his funeral was Sunday.

HERE 'N THERE

Daisy Roberts of Mesquite was a weekend guest in the home of her mom, Era Brown.

Erin Koepf spent the weekend in Waco with her sisters and with friends. Erin will be entering Hardin-Simmons in Abilene to begin her freshman year this fall.

Lou Ella Tolson and Delores Brown returned home last Thursday from a three week vacation in Colorado and New Mexico.

David Jones, Jessica and Kayla of Runaway Bay spent the weekend with Charles and Joy Jones.

Billy and Anna Mae Crenshaw of Savoy were Benjamin visitors a few days ago.

Phil and Rebekah Boone of Electra visited homefolks during the weekend. Phil will be coaching and teaching at Harrold this fall and Rebekah is employed in Wichita Falls in the field of computers.

Daniel and Rose Ellen Albus and Laurie Fisher and Alexandra of Lubbock were weekend guests of the Don Hertels and of Mrs. Nora Hertel in the Munday Nursing Center. According to family members, Mrs. Hertel is doing pretty well most of the time.

George and Corrine Parish of Franklin were here last week to visit and partially furnish their home they have bought here. They have recently purchased the Homer T. Melton home.

Judy and Tommy Robinson of Sherman were weekend guests of her parents, Lewis and Betty Lyles.

Leola Isbell was admitted to the Brazos Valley Care Home last Tuesday. According to her daughter, Louise Hertel, she seems to be adjusting pretty well to her new surroundings.

Reba Morrell of Humble is here for a few days visit with her mom, Odessa Cox and her sister, Linda.

Pam Duke, Nora Duke and Jessie Roberts were in Wichita Falls last Tuesday on business and to visit with Jessie's sisters, Bea Parks and Lucy Ming. They reported Bea and Lucy to be doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Raul Barrientez and Jimmy and Mr. and Mrs. Jr. Barrientez and children of Stamford spent the weekend with their daughter and sister, Mary and Sean Widmer in Carrollton.

REMINDER

Everyone, please get your recipes in for the cookbook to be ready by Homecoming '96. Send them to Louise Hertel here at Benjamin. I know everybody has a favorite (or favorites) so please take a few minutes to write them down and get them to her.

1995 Property Tax Rates in King County

This notice concerns 1995 property tax rates for King County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Working Hard In Hot Weather Is Dangerous

By Shirley Barretto M.D.

Working hard in hot humid weather can cause heat exhaustion or life-threatening heat stroke. Many people don't realize the danger of prolonged exposure to heat. Workers who spend a great deal of time in the sun, or in an overheated building need to be particularly cautious. Heat exhaustion can be caused by insufficient water intake, insufficient salt intake, and a deficiency in the production of sweat.

People working in hot conditions need to be very conscientious about taking in at least three ounces of water every hour. Eating a light diet, avoiding alcohol, and wearing loose, lightweight clothes is also helpful in preventing heat exhaustion.

Symptoms of heat exhaustion include fatigue, faintness, dizziness, nausea, headache, and sometimes cramps in the legs, arms, or stomach. The skin is usually pale and clammy. Those suffering from heat exhaustion should lie down in a cool place and drink a light salt solution, such as Gatorade or water with a little salt in it.

Heat stroke is a much more dangerous condition. If you suspect heat stroke, seek emergency care immediately by calling Knox County Emergency Medical Service at 911.

How can you tell if the person is suffering from heat exhaustion or heat stroke? Heat stroke is usually caused by prolonged exposure to the sun, and is usually preceded by heat exhaustion. When the person goes in to heat stroke, sweating diminishes, and the skin becomes hot, dry and flushed.

The body temperature rises dramatically. Heat stroke is a life-threatening condition. If the victim does not get treatment, he or she could lapse into a coma and die. If you're not sure if it is heat exhaustion or heat stroke, don't take a chance. Get help. While waiting for emergency help, the victim should be wrapped in a wet sheet, or sponged with water and fanned.

Heat exhaustion and heat stroke can be prevented with a little common sense.

When you must work or play in the heat, drink water frequently, avoid alcohol, wear appropriate clothing, and get out of the heat frequently.

Fort Worth Rites Are Held For Hugh Parchman

Dr. Hugh Walter (Parch) Parchman Jr., 64, a gynecologist, died Saturday in a Fort Worth hospital.

Memorial services were held Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Fort Worth.

Born May 20, 1931, in Dallas, he was reared in Paris, Texas, and was the only child of Dr. Hugh and Helen Ackerman Parchman.

As a child, he frequently tagged along with his father as he made house calls on back country roads. Those experiences encouraged his pursuit of a career as a doctor. In 1954, he graduated from Southern Methodist University. He completed his medical education at Baylor University College of Medicine in 1958. Dr. Parchman interned a year at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore. He served in the Army Medical Corps from 1957 until 1959.

In 1965, Dr. Parchman became certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. He was affiliated with several Fort Worth hospitals and in 1993, he received his 30-year outstanding service award from All Saints Hospital. He was a member of the Tarrant County Medical Association, the American Medical Association, the Central Association of Obstetrics and Gynecology, the International Society for Advancement of Humanistic Studies in Medicine and before his death, he was president of the Fort Worth Obstetrics and Gynecology Society.

Survivors include his wife of 24 years, Wynette Graham Parchman of Azle; two sons, Alan David Parchman of Fort Worth and Richard Alan Parchman of San Antonio; three daughters, Vicky Parchman Parker of Euless, Deidre Parchman Cameron and Kelly Michelle Parchman, both of Fort Worth; two daughters-in-law, Suzy Parchman and Michelle Parchman; two sons-in-law, Byron Cameron and Kevin Parker; seven grandchildren, Alyson Parchman, Jennifer Parchman, Spencer Parchman, Will Cameron and Kaitlyn Cameron, all of Fort Worth; and Madison Parchman and Graham Parchman, both of San Antonio.

Hospital's HomeCare Growth Is Phenomenal

The rapid growth of Knox County Hospital HomeCare since its inception three months ago has been phenomenal, Stephen Kuehler, administrator said. "Obviously, the people of the community needed this service," he said. "We continue to get new patients everyday, and the feedback we are getting is that the patients, the families and the physicians are pleased with the service."

The HomeCare service offered by the tax-supported Knox County Hospital District, is designated as a not-for-profit enterprise, Kuehler said. "Local use by private individuals and hospital district funds make this service possible, so it makes sense for residents to use our HomeCare service when they need this type of care," he said.

HomeCare is a service that brings health care professionals and technology into the home, Kuehler explained. All treatments are prescribed by the patient's physician. Nurses, aides, and therapists visit the patients as needed to provide the care the patient requires. Current staff for the Knox County Hospital HomeCare include Cynthia Slayton, RN; Diane Slayton, RN; Cambie Alexander, LVN; Sylvia Espinoza, Nurse Aide; Susie Alexander, Nurse Aide; and Kristen Perdue, office manager.

Individuals wishing to learn more about Knox County Hospital HomeCare may call 817-658-3013 or 800-687-3174.
