PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT at the Knox City Park got a rest Monday afternoon as the only activity in the park was the accumulation of several inches of snow. (NEWS Photo)

O'Brien Happenings

By Audle Johnston

"Noel Prize Winner - Preparing for a large Christmas Eve family gathering, I had been giving out orders like a drill sergeant: "Pick up your things! Don't get your clothes dirty! Put away those toys." My four-year-old daughter had been underfoot, so I sent her to the next room to play with our wooden nativity set. As I scurried around setting the table I overheard her make-believe conversation in an all-too-familiar tone of voice: "I don't care who you are, get those camels out of my living room!" "

HERE AND THERE

G.D. and Bonnie Underwood visited for a while with Evelyn Underwood and they also visited C.H., Linda and Reed Underwood, while here.

Jerry and Lou Hodges of Graham spent some time with Jerry's mom, Clara Hanson and husband Troy over the holidays and enjoyed Christmas dinner with them.

Betty Poe and Leona Raby were in Lubbock last Wednesday for Betty to have an appointment with her doctor there.

Alton and LaUna Hester were in Panhandle for Christmas with their daughter, Brenda Robinson and husband and family.

Spending Christmas Day with Dwight Gothard was his son, Paul Dean of Blackwell and as usual they had that great steak prepared by Paul.

Over Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays visitors with Mut and Bertie Ivie were their grandson, Jason Ivie of Perryton, Pat, David, Jason, Buck, Jennifer and Josh Ivie of O'Brien and Nicki, Sherri, Jessica and Misti, a friend of Nicki's, of Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ivie of Angleton, a sister Sue Stevens and daughters Karen, Lou Ann and Meredith, Leigh Ann and Lauren of Metroplex area. Mut and Bertie returned Jason Ivie back home to Perryton last week.

Orval and Helen Manning had their Christmas tree with their son Royce and wife Peggy and son Brad, Monica and son in Abilene. Christmas Day they met with Kash and Agnes Powers and had Christmas dinner together.

Spending holidays with Johnny and Jo Lippard were Bonnie Jennifer Lippard of Moore, Oklahoma and Johnny's sister Hazel Taylor and Jerry and Earlene Gee of Austin. Johnny and Jo returned his sister Hazel to Brownwood last week.

Spending New Year's holiday with Ranzy and Adelle Herring were their grandson, Kevin Urbanczyk of Lubbock.

Visiting J.M. and Susan Emerson over the holidays were Justin and Jennifer Emerson of Weatherford, Oklahoma; and Jay and Ashton Emerson of Leonard.

Donnie, Cynthia, Donald, Micheal, John, Monique and Shannon Taylor of Ira spent New Year's weekend with Freddy, Tony Haley and Cassandra Ledesma.

"The Trouble With . . .

. . . a three-day weekend is that it turns Tuesday into Monday.

. . . bucket seats is that not everyone has the same size bucket.

. . . giving advice is that people want to repay you.

. . . wearing a name tag at a convention is that everybody knows exactly who you are when you fall asleep."

KC Native Named To Position Of Minnesota Power Vice-President

The Board of Directors of Minnesota Power has elected former Knox City, Texas, native and Tulia, Texas, resident James A. (Jim) Roberts as Vice President Corporate Relations. He is also the 1996 Chair of the Board.

Roberts, a 1968 graduate of Tulia High School, has worked with the diversified Duluth, Minnesota - based electric company since 1975. In his new position, effective January 1, 1996, Roberts will be responsible for the Company's governmental and public affairs, corporate communications and investor relations functions.

Roberts is also extensively involved in community affairs and currently serves as Chairman of the Duluth Area Chamber of Commerce. He is also a past president and board member of the Utilities State Government Organization. He is a past board member of the Minnesota Government Relations Council. At the Duluth Area Chamber of Commerce, he has served as the Vice Chair for the Government Affairs Division and the Economic Development Division. In 1993, he was named Volunteer of the Year of the Chamber. Roberts also has worked with the Boy Scouts of America and the United Way and is a past president of the Airport Authority. His name can also be found in the 1990 edition of Who's Who in the Midwest.

Currently, he serves on the board of the Minnesota State

JAMES A. ROBERTS

Chamber and is Chair-elect, and is a board member for both the Montana Coal Council and the Lighthouse for the Blind.

Jim feels that today's working environment makes it more difficult to devote time to community activities. The more competitive environment and the advancement of global technology and communications has made this happen. "As the world changes, it becomes more connected," he said. And to a certain degree, that makes us focus on our jobs more. It's more difficult today than it has been in the past to devote time to community activities, like the schools, churches and chambers. But the bottom line is that communities are only as good as the people who live and participate in them. Thankfully in the past we've been blessed with people who have taken the time to devote energy to the community. And I would like to continue to work toward that."

Roberts is a graduate of West Texas State University with a bachelor of science degree in government studies. He and his wife, Su, reside in Duluth. They have two children, Jill and Jaime.

Jim is the son of Wynelle Roberts and the late Alvin Roberts. He is also the grandson of the late Cornelious and Ozelle Stephens. He has three sisters, Comelia of Amarillo, Merri of Abilene and Sue of Tulia.

"On A Wizer Note "

By Paul Weiser
County Extension Agent - Ag

Stocker cattle are a huge part of the agriculture in Knox County. From 1993 through 1995, stocker cattle have ranged from a business worth anywhere from $6 million to $10 million in Knox County alone.

With this in mind, one must realize also how much can be lost due to sickness or death. Keeping stocker cattle alive and gaining weight is vital to avoid breaking the bank.

One day before Christmas, I had the opportunity to visit with Dr. Buddy Ariers, Extension Program Leader for veterinary medicine. We talked for several minutes about stocker health. The one topic that brought the most surprises was death loss from tetanus.

Tetanus is a clostridium - just like blackleg. However, the vaccines used to prevent blackleg do not help prevent tetanus.

To give a brief background, tetanus can only be a problem when there is no oxygen present. That is why when an animal or humans punctures themselves with a nail the first words are, "Have you had a tetanus shot recently?" The nail punctures the skin and infects that wound with the tetanus clostridium. When the nail is removed the skin closes and prevents oxygen from entering.

Once this occurs, the clostridium begins to reproduce. This causes the production of a poison that attacks the nervous system. The final results are loss of the use of legs or arms, lock-jaw, or the inability to breathe.

Many people know that tetanus is in the soil and is a huge problem with horses. Horses carry the tetanus clostridium in their intestines. This is then transferred to the soil through manure. While in the intestines, the clostridium is harmless. Why? There is too much oxygen present.

What does this have to do with stockers? Most stocker cattle, at one time or another come in direct contact with a horse or at least are in pasture where a horse has been. They step on a nail or receive a puncture wound while being worked and they now have it.

To make matters even more complicated, a non-sterile knife used for castration may spread the disease. If the wound remains open for sometime the chances of suffering from a tetanus problem go down. But if the wound heals over fast the probability of tetanus is upgraded.

Now let's throw another monkey wrench into the gear box. What about the use of rubber bands - so there is no open wounds when castrating? Dr. Faries recommends a tetanus anti-toxin (TAT) shot be given to every calf that is castrated with this method.

Tetanus may also be present in the intestines of a calf. From there it can travel through the bloodstream into any part of the body - that includes the testicles. When the rubber bands are placed on the scrotum the oxygen is cut off and the clostridium goes to work.

Please remember there is a TAT serum and a tetanus vaccine. The vaccine takes weeks to work whereas the TAT serum does not. The use of vaccine in this instance will not help out.

If you have had problems with tetanus in the past be sure to do these two things: 1) Always use a good disinfectant and be very sanitary while castrating and working cattle - a puncture wound is the best way to have tetanus problems, this includes giving a host; and 2) Give a TAT shot to calves to help avoid tetanus - especially if tetanus has been a problem and rubber bands are used for castrating.

This article is not meant to cause a panic by having every stocker owner running to their vet for TAT serum for a couple thousand head of cattle. However, it is meant to help all those cattle operators realize how important the use of sterile equipment is when working cattle - this goes for both stockers and cow / calf.

If there are any questions about tetanus please contact Paul Weiser in the Knox County Extension Office at 817-454-2651 or your local veterinarian.

BILL'S HINESight.....By High School Principal Bill Hines

You are the parent, and only you can decide how to carry out discipline in your own home. But, no matter what you do, the experts say the secret of success is to be firm, fair and consistent.

BE FIRM. You are the adult, and you are in charge. You have the maturity and the experience. Children don't. Only an adult can establish the limits of acceptable behavior in your household. With loving firmness and authority, you must establish the rules and firmly enforce them. Like my dad told me when I was a kid, "Obey the rules or I will cut off your corner of the dinner table." I never questioned this for I knew he meant exactly what he said and I loved to eat. In those days there were no snacks between meals.

BE FAIR. Children have a keen sense of fairness. They will accept nearly any rule you make if they understand that it is fair and that it is being applied fairly. If kids believe a rule is unfair, they will resent it and disobey it.

BE CONSISTENT. Children will test you to find the limits. That's natural. It's how they learn what you really believe and what the rules really are. Your actions always speak louder than your words.

You may say the rule is "No TV until homework is done." But, if children find they can sometimes talk you into letting them watch a program, they learn that the rule really is, "No TV -- unless you can talk me into it."

If you are consistent, children will learn the important lessons discipline can teach them. If you are not consistent, children will be confused and won't learn much of anything.

VERHALENS CELEBRATE

The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the M.L. Verhalens gathered a week before Christmas for their annual celebration. After carrying out their tradition of singing "Happy Birthday to Jesus" before a figure of the baby and lighted candles, the small children attending blew out the candles.

Food and more food was next on the agenda, then games where the fairer sex challenged the men with the winners to be announced at a later date.

Those arriving every hour on the hour, were Laval and Janice Verhalen and Rhonda Wilde of Stillwater, Oklahoma; Lisa Garriero and son Joshua, Lisa's friend Charlie Konenann and children Nathaniel and Nachel from Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, Melanie and Mike Mitchell from Newcastle, Kimberly Whitley from Round Rock, Melissa, Allen and Cara Vasquez from El Campo, Chad, Shawn, Miranda and Kaitlyn Whitley from Henrietta, Donna Maria, Darren, Rene, Dalton, Demi, Dennis, Damon, Donna Marie and Delanie Albus, all of Abilene; John and Ryan Noah of Lewisville; Holly Noah from Oxford, Mississippi; and her fiancée Ted Rutherford from Georgia; Ronnie Verhalen of Knox City and Kathaleen Verhalen from Arlington.

For those unable to attend, they were missed but the Verhalens reported to have a "full house".

IN REEDER HOME

Guests in the home of Maurine Reeder during Christmas included her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reeder III, Jace and Josh of Fort Worth, her daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Shaver III, Richard Shaver of Navasota, Mr. and Mrs. Casey Mathis of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Shaver, and Zachary Shaver of Rochester.

Police Dept. Issues Report For October, November

October 1995

The Knox City Police Department had another very busy month during October receiving a total of 285 calls and situations needing to be handled. This total included 16 actual criminal offenses, of which 15 were cleared or otherwise handled. Six charges were filed in regard to the above offenses, with one offense involving a juvenile as an offender. This case was referred to the Juvenile Probation Office for review and consideration for further investigation and / or prosecution.

Offenses reported include: Theft - 1, Criminal Mischief - 4, Assault (Domestic related) - 2, Unauthorized Use of a Motor Vehicle - 3, Criminal Trespass - 2, Illegal Dumping - 1, Public Intoxication - 1, Disorderly Conduct - 1, Assault - 1, Traffic Charges Filed - 8, Warnings Issued - 10, Accidents - 0.

The Knox City Police Department Reserve Officers contributed a total of 34 hours of duty time to the City of Knox City during the month of October 1995.

Other items reported to the Knox City Police Department during October are classified as incidents. These incidents either did not occur in the City of Knox City or for some other reason were not able to be considered as criminal offenses.

Incidents reported include: Criminal Mischief - 1, Welfare Concern - 1, Unauthorized Use of a Motor Vehicle - 1, Destroyed Property - 1, Harassment - 1, Dog Bite - 1, Fail to Comply with Brady Bill (Handgun Purchasing Law) - 1.

Although the incidents are either not considered as criminal offenses or were not reported as a criminal offense, they must be investigated to determine if they are to be referred to another agency or if a record is to be made for future reference. During the month of October, all incidents were settled to the satisfaction of this department.

On October 4, the Knox City Police Department had its regular meeting, during which a film was viewed on the importance of physical fitness. After the film, a discussion was held concerning being physically fit as to allow an officer the ability to perform his/her job properly.

Also on October 4, Officer Jerry Walker traveled to Wichita Falls to re-certify as an operator of the Intoxilyzer, (Breath test machine used for checking the Blood Alcohol Content of a suspected drunk driver.) Officer Walker did qualify for re-certification, which is good for one year.

On October 10, Officer William Curd gave a short course instruction to the Girl Scouts. The topic of the instruction was safety, after which Officer Curd passed out some coloring books and other helpful information.

On October 16, I met with the Knox County Commissioners Court at its meeting in Benjamin. Of interest to this department and this city was the consideration of a county wide Law Enforcement agency. I was present to voice my opposition to the idea if possible. I was asked to present my views, which consisted of less coverage for the City of Knox City by Law Officers, as well as less personal contact with the citizens of Knox City. As presented at the said meeting, it was thought that it may be financially beneficial for a city to go county wide, without the county for keeping an officer(s) in this area. I firmly believe that by going county wide on Law Enforcement would open the City of Knox City to more crime of various description, as was present in previous years. This department works well with the Knox County Sheriff's Office, as we do with the other law enforcement agencies in the county. If another locality wishes to turn their local law enforcement over to another agency, that is their choice, even though it will possibly mean less officers to do a job in this county where there is already not enough personnel.

On October 19, I attended a school in Abilene at the Civic Center. The topic of the school was Dealing With Domestic Violence, and was sponsored by the NOAH Project. The information presented will be very valuable in dealing with domestic problems as the state has set out some very precise guidelines for law enforcement agencies to follow. Also, the NOAH project has been very helpful in this area assisting various law enforcement agencies with victim placement, counseling, and general information that is necessary for the victim of family violence to consider.

This department is in the process of qualifying its officers with their weapons. The course used by the Knox City Police Department is challenging as well as practical as an officer must consider safety as well as accuracy when qualifying.

No major repairs have been performed on the patrol vehicles this month, although the 1990 Chevrolet required the replacement of both U-joints on the drive shaft.

During the month of October, several questions have been asked about the movement of golf carts on the public streets. After research conducted by Brian Williams of the Department of Public Safety and myself, it was decided to place the notice in The Knox County News addressing this situation. The reason for the notice is that several parents are allowing young and inexperienced drivers to operate the golf carts in an unsafe manner, that being not observing the traffic laws. This can be very deadly if it continues.

November 1995

The Knox City Police Department had another very busy month during November receiving a total of 259 calls and situations needing to be handled. This total included 16 actual criminal offenses, of which 15 were cleared or otherwise handled. Four charges were filed in regard to the above offenses, with four of the total offenses involving juveniles. The juvenile offenses were referred to the juvenile probation office for review and consideration of further prosecution. The remaining one uncleared offense is still under investigation.

Offenses reported include: Theft - 4, Criminal Mischief - 3, Assault - 1, False Report to a Peace Officer - 1, Harassment - 2, Delivery of Methamphetamine - 1, Unauthorized Use of Cable TV - 1, False Report - 1, Aggravated Sexual Assault - 1, Keeping Violent Dog (City Ordinance Violation) - 1, Traffic Charges Filed - 11, Warning Issued - 20, Accidents - 2.

The Knox City Police Department Reserve Officers contributed to a total of 48.5 hours of duty time to the City of Knox City during the month of November 1995.

Other items reported to the Knox City Police Department during November, are classified as incidents. These incidents either did not occur in the City of Knox City or for some other reason were not able to be considered as criminal offenses.

Incidents reported include: Disturbance (Domestic) - 1, Harassment - 1.

Although the incidents are either not considered as criminal offenses or were not reported as a criminal offense, they must be investigated to determine if they are to be referred to another agency or if a record is to be made for future reference. During the month of November, all incidents were settled to the satisfaction of this department.

On November 8, the Knox City Police Department held its regular monthly meeting. The topic of discussion was ways and means of maintaining control during a critical situation. A Police Officer must maintain control over his personal feelings and keep his job in mind as well as comfort victims of a crime in a professional manner. While doing this he must also control the critical situation as far as preventing further violence or possibly protecting the scene for investigation of a crime.

During the month of November, quick actions by some of our local business employees, led to the arrest of two individuals. The said individuals were reported to this department to have just left a business in Knox City and were seen heading west out of town. The two were proficient at writing bad checks and were very likely in the process of writing more of them in this area. A very good description of the vehicle, persons in the vehicle, and direction of travel greatly assisted this department in locating and interviewing the occupants of the said vehicle. During the interview, although a fictitious name was given by one of the occupants, it was determined that the passenger, who had warrants, with the driver, who backed up the passenger's story on the fictitious name, being arrested for False Report to a Peace Officer. The ability of a citizen to walk or call across the street and contact the local Law Enforcement is the "New" type of policing that the larger cities are attempting to bring back. They assign a name like "Community Policing" to this type of law enforcement. Apparently they don't realize that we have had this type of policing for several years, and just consider its doing our normal, every day job.
