Dr. NORM GONZALES, M.A., Psy.D., is shown here as he talks with education and law enforcement officials last week in Knox City. Providing a valuable service to both education and law enforcement, Dr. Gonzales is a representative of the North Texas Council on Substance Abuse. During his twice monthly visits to our county, Dr. Gonzales will provide help free of charge on education, prevention, intervention and referral services on substance abuse. Shown in the photo (left to right) are Knox City-O'Brien CISD Superintendent Louis Baty, Knox City Police Chief Dean Homstad, Dr. Gonzales, School Counselor Betty Moore, Mid School Principal Eddie Bland, High School Principal Mack Lowe, and Elementary School Principal Maribeth Williams. 'TurningPoint' focuses on Knox County

Dr. Norm Gonzales from North Texas Council on Substance Abuse offers free help

Knox City was the setting last week as education and law enforcement officials gathered to hear the details on some new and interesting programs to be presented in Knox County by the North Texas Council on Substance Abuse. Representing the outreach program 'TurningPoint', Dr. Norm Gonzales of Wichita Falls hosted the informal meeting in order to furnish information about free services to be offered in Knox County in the near future.

TurningPoint, through Dr. Gonzales and other professionals, will be bringing presentations to Knox County on various mental health and substance abuse issues that include Stress Management for Adolescents and Adults, Self Esteem Issues, The Addictive Process, Alcoholism, and Positive Parenting.

Stressing substance abuse and how it has become a problem from the national level right down to the community level, Dr. Gonzales backed up his message with facts that should cause concern in all areas of society. In 1996, a full two thirds of the American population believes that drug abuse is worse today, and one half of the public has personal knowledge of an addicted person. To date, over $290 billion dollars has been spent ($20 billion annually) trying to keep drugs out of the United States, but in 1995, the availability and the purity of cocaine and heroin was at an all time high. To provide a growing population of drug users, the worldwide production of cocaine and opium has doubled since 1987.

With national law enforcement efforts to stop the drug flow failing, agencies like the North Texas Council on Substance Abuse are using programs such as TurningPoint and professionals like Dr. Gonzales to focus on the prevention of drug abuse through education, treatment, and community effort.

Well qualified to address these issues, Dr. Gonzales has a long list of impressive credentials from a distinguished career in both the military and civilian life. During 22 years of active duty with the See Turning Point, Page 4

Wes Hays is interim Cisco superintendent

Wes Hays, a former Knox City faculty member, has accepted the interim superintendent's position at Cisco.

Hays, former Rotan school superintendent, resigned his Rotan position at the end of November to retire.

The Cisco position came open due to the death of Ray Saunders, who was Cisco superintendent for the past 11 years.

Hays is assisting the Cisco school board with the search for a new superintendent as well as serving as superintendent in the interim. He expects to find a replacement by June or July.

Hays and his wife, Becky, moved to Knox City in 1969 where he began his teaching career with the local school system as band director.

KC Community Center receives facelift

INSPECTING NEWLY INSTALLED TRIM WORK at the Knox City Community Center, Sid Richardson of Richardson Construction Company is shown here late last week as he finished work on remodeling the center's kitchen, bathroom and hallway areas. A well used meeting spot, the community center was beginning to show signs of wear and tear from heavy use. City Manager Robert Patrick firmly believes that a meeting hall such as the Community Center can serve as a community focal point, so he ordered the remodeling project to upgrade the facility. Flint Richardson, Sid, and their father, Tommy, all of Richardson Construction Company in Knox City, received the bid and performed the remodeling job. (NEWS Photo)

Knox County News makes printing plant change, deadline times move from Tuesday to Monday

Effective with this issue of The Knox County News, we have switched from printing in Vernon to the printing press at the Abilene Reporter News in Abilene. This change was necessary due to the current economic climate in our area and having to cut corners and save money where we can. The printing rate schedule at the Abilene Reporter News will save us money and we have to take advantage of that to offset rapidly rising costs in all other areas of the newspaper business.

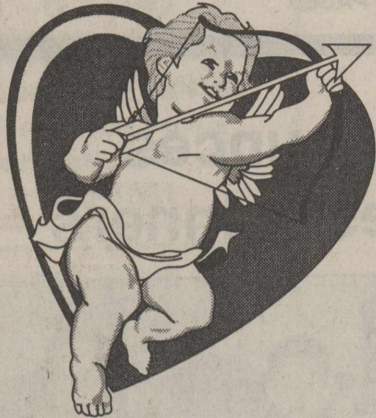

Because we will have to print a day earlier, our deadline for ads and news copy has been moved from noon on Tuesday to noon on Monday. Even though we are moving deadline and printing up one day, newspaper delivery times will not change. The paper will still be available locally on Wednesday.

Our thanks to Larry Crabtree and his staff in Vernon, we appreciate all you have done for us!

Care Home News By Donna Casillas

The 1996 BVCH Resident Christmas party was again a big success. But we could not have made it without the generous gifts and assistance from the First Baptist Church, First Methodist Church and Church of Christ of Knox City, the O'Brien Baptist Church and the Retired Teachers Association of Knox County.

Helping make Christmas merrier for our residents, Nancy McGreger's third and fourth grades from Benjamin came to sing for our residents; Jane Rowan and her 4-H Club sent cards and visited with residents for Christmas and Judy Perdue and the children of First Methodist Church came for singing and giving cards to the residents. The residents truly enjoyed all the festivities.

Assisting with helping pass out the goodies were Glenda Huff, Ervalene Beason and Ramona Helms. Anthony Logsdon played Santa Claus for us. You all made our holiday brighter.

O'Brien News

By Audie Johnston, O'Brien Correspondent

"There Are Two . . . things people worry about these days - - one is that things may never get back to normal, and the other, that they have already. . . basic groups of people - - the wishful thinkers who throw coins in fountains and the realists who fish them out. . . kinds of secrets - - those that are not worth keeping and those that are too good to keep. . . kinds of statistics - - the kind you look up and the kind you make up."

TurningPoint offers substance abuse services to Knox County

United States Air Force, Dr. Gonzales secured his Bachelors, Masters, and Doctoral degrees, the latter two in counseling and clinical psychology, respectively. Prior to his retirement from the Air Force in 1987, he completed his doctoral residency at Wilford-Hall USAF Medical Center in San Antonio and served as Clinical Psychologist in charge of the Mental Health Clinic, Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado for four years.

In addition to being an expert in the assessment and prediction of personality and human behavior, Dr. Gonzales has conducted extensive studies into the subjects of stress management, gang-related youth violence, and factors which predispose children toward substance abuse.

Offering his professional experience to present programs at all local school levels, Dr. Norm Gonzales has a keen interest in the well-being of children. He believes in managing stress for children as well as adults, and promotes self esteem in children. Positive parenting plays a major role in the development of children and 'Positive Parenting in the 90's' is the title of one of the many talks offered by Dr. Gonzales.

Feedback following the meeting last week seemed to be positive as both law enforcement personnel and local educators talked about ways they could incorporate the programs offered by Dr. Gonzales into their work with both adolescents and adults.

Dr. Gonzales utilizes a mobile office concept and will be in Knox City every other Tuesday, with his next visit scheduled for February 4.

TASS tests approaching, parents can help by encouraging children

By Mack Lowe
Principal,
Knox City
High School

This week marks a month that we have been back in school after the Holidays and activities picked up right where they left off before the break. Basketball is in full swing, preparations for academic competitions have begun and stock show season is beginning, so our students are going to be spread out in every direction for a while. Typical of all teenagers, the kids will get so busy with extracurricular activities that they are tempted to let their school-work slide. As parents of these students, that are involved with the Spring activities, we must be sure to monitor our children's academic progress.

The time for the infamous TAAS test is rapidly approaching and the we need your support in encouraging our students to do as well on the tests as they can. The tests are one area that has remained fairly constant over the last few years and I personally feel like they are a fair measurement of most students' progress. The results of the TAAS tests are the main area that the State uses to measure the effectiveness of the school district and students must pass the exit level test before they are allowed to graduate. This, unfortunately, puts a tremendous amount of pressure on the teachers and students to perform well and you, as parents, can help us by encouraging your children and stressing the importance of the tests.

The dates for the tests are Feb. 25th, 26th and 27th and the students will be tested in the areas of writing, mathematics and reading. I'm confident that our students, with your continued encouragement and support, will step-up and perform to the best of their ability and continue to show progress.

Letter to the Editor

Stacy Angle Thompson
The Knox County News
Knox City, TX 79529

Dear Stacy,

On January 8, 1997, the annual membership luncheon meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission was held at the Holiday Inn Centre in Odessa, Texas. What a pleasant surprise we had when we discovered the keynote speaker was to be the Knox County Judge David Neil Perdue!

From the beginning of Judge Perdue's speech, he fully informed the approximately two hundred persons present as to the location of Knox County together with the positive things that happen in and around his home county. Everyone was surprised that a small town (and county) boy could achieve some much and be capable of so eloquently sharing his experience and knowledge. Knox County people are accustomed to hearing and interacting with David; the citizens of Texas have now had that same opportunity.

We only had a short time to visit with David Neil following his presentation. He had driven to Odessa the previous night, and he had to leave soon after the meeting because the weather was terrible.

David's speech was excellent. He is indeed a goodwill ambassador for the citizens of Knox County. We just wanted to share this information with the folks back home. He certainly made us feel proud of our "roots".

Sincerely yours,
/s/ Harley and Mary Reeves

Proof of Social Security Number Now Needed For Drivers License

Beginning Feb. 3 anyone applying for a Texas driver license will be required to show proof of his or her Social Security number before the license will be issued. Those seeking to renew their driver license in person or requesting a duplicate license also will need proof of their SSN. The new requirement does not apply to individuals renewing by mail or applying for a DPS-issued ID card.

The DPS has been requesting the SSN on a voluntary basis since 1992. A provision in the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 405 (c)(2)(C)(i), allows a state to use the SSN for driver license identification purposes. Changes made to the Family Code, Sec. 231.302(c)(1), during the 74th Legislature require agencies issuing licenses to obtain the SSN to assist in locating persons delinquent in paying child support. The SSN will not appear on the driver license itself and will be made available only to DPS for identification purposes and to the Child Support Division of the State Attorney General's Office.

"In addition to assisting in the collection of delinquent child support, we think this new law will make it more difficult for an individual to fraudulently obtain a driver license," Col. Dudley M. Thomas, Director of the DPS, said. "This will help reduce crimes that depend on fake identification, such as hot check cases, and will also make it more difficult for minors to obtain licenses with fraudulent birth dates."

To meet the SSN requirement, an applicant may present a federal Social Security card, income tax documents, U.S. passport (if SSN is included), W-2 form, pay stub, government-issued health insurance card, pilot's license, Veteran's Administration benefits card or employer ID card that has the SSN on it. Metal Social Security cards or types sold at flea markets will not be accepted.

Federal law has required applicants for commercial driver licenses to show proof of SSNs since 1990. Currently, 23 other states require SSNs for all driver license applicants. In October 2000 federal immigration law will go into effect mandating that all states capture SSNs for all driver licenses and ID cards.

To apply for an SSN or to replace a lost Social Security card, call the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. or leave a message after those hours.
