FFA'ers Return From Convention

Seven local Future Farmers of America received their Lone Star Farmer Degrees during the 52nd Annual FFA Convention held at Houston's Astro Arena July 9 through 11 with approximately 6,000 in attendance.

Presented their Lone Star degrees, in which only two percent of FFA'ers in the state qualify were Kelley Boone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone; Ray Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Von Farmer; Jay Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rutherford; Greg Oliver, son of Mrs. Ross Oliver and the late Mr. Oliver; Kyle White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy White; Shelton Rhodes, son of Mrs. Florence Rhodes; and Gaylynn Burkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Burkham.

Attending from Knox City were Jay, Kelley, Gaylynn and Mr. and Mrs. Burkham. The three local students also served as voting delegates.

The Knox City-O'Brien FFA Chapter received a superior rating while Gaylynn placed third in the state in sheep proficiency which is the National Foundation Award.

The theme for the convention for 1980 was "Preparing for Progress". Delegates, representing the more than 60,000 FFA members from throughout the state, had the opportunity to exchange ideas and hear outstanding speakers during the three-day conclave. Keynote speaker for the convention on Wednesday, July 9, was the Honorable John Connally, former Governor of Texas.

Auxiliary To Organize Monday Night

A meeting will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Knox County Hospital to organize the new hospital auxiliary.

Vera Mills, past president of the auxiliary of the Stamford Memorial Hospital, will be here, along with three or four more auxiliary members, to explain the functions of the auxiliary, according to Melba Pharr, director of nurses.

The hospital's new administrator, Tom Haden, will also attend, Mrs. Pharr said.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend the important meeting. If readers have as many as two or three a week or can assist in anyway, they are asked to attend and learn how they can lend a helping hand to the hospital, Mrs. Pharr said. All duties are strictly on a voluntary basis and do not replace paid employees.

Voluntary services, public relations, and fund raising projects are the principal areas in which an auxiliary functions, Mrs. Pharr said.

The hospital auxiliary needs support from all the surrounding communities, and everyone is encouraged to be present Monday night at 7:30, Mrs. Pharr said.

Foursquare Services Set July 27-30

Foursquare Gospel Pastor Stuart Miller has announced that Old Fashioned Revival Services with Paula Kilpatrick will be held four days only from July 27 through 30 at the church. Two Sunday services have been set for 10:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. with the Monday through Wednesday services slated to begin at 7:00 p.m.

According to the Rev. Miller, since Sister Kilpatrick has held crusades throughout the country drawing thousands at a time into huge auditoriums. She recently spent an afternoon with Pat Robertson, the Charismatic Southern Baptist pastor, who now heads the Christian Broadcasting Network and the 700 Club.

Pastor Miller also noted that this would probably be the last opportunity for people to be in on Paula's Miracle Services for a long time and due to her heavy schedule, it may be quite sometime before she may return to Knox City, if ever.

Everyone is welcome to attend and prayer for the sick and those desiring to receive the Baptism in the Spirit according to Acts 2:4 will be offered.

The Angle Sisters, who have performed with the Grapevine Opry for the past three years, will entertain with several songs as well as providing back-up harmony for Chisai.

In addition to these performers, members of the award-winning opry band will entertain with both instrumental and vocal numbers.

Auxiliary members will also be in charge of the concession stand.

Fans will not only have the pleasure of enjoying a good, family variety show, but will know that their money is going to benefit the hospital auxiliary.

Remember curtain goes up at 8:00 o'clock Thursday night.

IT CAN RAIN and did for a few minutes in Knox City Sunday afternoon when a hard shower dumped .7 in town. However, the thundershower was limited to a small area, but did cool the hot, hot temperatures down for a few hours. The drainage ditch on the north end of Avenue B, pictured here, has recently been cleaned by city employees and everyone is hoping that it has a chance to fill up soon!

ADVICE ON HOW TO SUCCEED

Success doesn't always come from what you know. Often it comes from how effectively you can put your own and others' knowledge and resources to work.

Since buying a radio station in 1953, J. B. Fuqua has acquired 40 companies, building what is known today as Fuqua Industries, Inc., a $2 billion

Atlanta-based conglomerate composed of energy, transportation, recreation, service and farm businesses.

Six Specific Hints

1. Establish yourself financially so that you can

Durham, registered gifts.

Hostesses were Marie Cowart, Gayle White, Leona Burkham, Pat Elston, Jean Thomas, Dessie Egenbacher, Romain Stubbs, Adrian Jones, Peggy Jones, Carolyn Sloan, and Marie Darr.

"use other people's money to make your own."

2. Concentrate on high quality and high price—that's where the most profit is. Terminate unprofitable operations.

3. Hire intelligent people, even if they are "smarter than you."

4. Motivate employees by showing appreciation for their work. Morale flows from the top down.

5. Establish progressive training so that each employee in a responsible position has a successor—and a place to move up to.

6. Get involved in politics to better understand government.

J. B. Fuqua also stresses the importance of individuality: "Here in Atlanta, there are hundreds of monuments to individuals, but I've never seen a monument to a committee. When giving an executive responsibility, we also give him the authority to make the decisions."

SAFETY SENSE

Grooming Lawns

Grass clippings and dead leaves in fall and winter can leave your lawn looking less than immaculate unless you clean up with a lawn vacuum. When you use one, you should follow these safety rules from the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute:

1. Make sure you know how to use all the controls and attachments by first reading the owner's manual.
2. Always be sure to turn the power off before you clean the machine, or walk around in front of it to remove obstacles in its path.
3. Don't wear sandals or loose-fitting shoes. Dress for the occasion in sturdy boots that will keep you from falling or slipping.
4. Clear pets and children from the area to be vacuumed. This is no time for games.
5. Make sure you know how to stop the machine quickly in case of an emergency.

O'Brien Happenings

By CHARLENE BROTHERS

Well I'm finally going to do it, I'm going to quit writing the O'Brien News. August 1 will be the last time for me. Maybe someone else will take over the job. I said last fall I did not intend to spend another fall trying to buy and sell cotton and all of that and have something into the News office by Tuesday noon. The deadline is really Monday afternoon, but they have been so nice about waiting on me. I just decided for sure today Monday, that I was going to quit I can not remember just exactly how many years I have been doing this, all I can remember is that I was writing it during the O'Brien Homecoming in 1973, so that has been several years ago. Seems like I started about 1971, may have been before then. I really hate to quit before they get someone else, so maybe they can find someone to start the first week in August. I have enjoyed writing for the paper. There have been times that I was in hot water, I would write and then not read over what I had written and sometimes it did not sound to soft or whatever you want to call it. I do not think I would make a journalist, or maybe I need to write for a larger place. Anyway you will not have to read my comments much longer. I know I have almost worn out a typewriter trying to get something in each week.

How did you like the cooler weather yesterday (Sunday)? I nearly froze to death. My family said I must have been sick. I stayed wrapped up all evening with a sheet, so I may have been. Usually I freeze them out, because I am too hot. The rain or what little there was was nice. At least we know it can thunder and rain again. Maybe before too much longer we will get a good rain. The cotton still looks pretty fair, the cool nights have helped a lot, I think. As long as it can live up at night it will help. I guess it is about time for the insects to get started. A few have already sprayed for the boll worms. So far we have not had enough to spray for. That may not last much longer.

Remember that the tent revival will start at O'Brien

Greek Guest Visits Lewis Spinks Family

Dimitrios (Jim) Papatheometris from the Village of Elatia, state of Greece, visited in the home of the Lewis Spinks family of Benjamin, for ten days. He left on Monday, July 14, to attend the annual 4-H Congress in Lubbock. After completion of his Texas visit, he will stay with families in Connecticut. He will depart for his homeland on October 30, 1980.

He is visiting this country on behalf of the International 4-H Youth Exchange. The exchange with Greece is in cooperation with a rural youth program of the Ministry of Agriculture. Gerber Baby Foods Co. is paying the trip expense.

While Jim is in the United States, his parents will be one of the host families for an American boy who is in Greece under the sponsorship of the USA 4-H Club.

At 22 years of age, Jim is presently a senior at a Greek University. However, the term "senior" is not used by Greeks. Jim says he is between his third and fourth year as a University student.

His major is Agriculture Machinery with a minor in Economics. Academically, he ranks third out of 600 agriculture students. He learned the English language by books and records and speaks English very well. Mrs. Spinks was relieved at this and added, "There were still times when his dictionary was handy for both of us."

He was able to look over the campuses of two of the Universities in Abilene and was very impressed.

His family owns a 50 acre farm in Greece, which is considered large by Greek standards. Crops of cotton, tobacco and tomatoes are grown to sell to "industry". They raise sheep and pork for home use. Sheep milk is used in many homes. Jim's mother makes feta cheese from sheep milk and it is eaten daily in their household.

Mrs. Spinks purchased feta cheese while Jim was here to make him "feel at home" but found that after a taste of American cheese, he preferred it.

In Greece, Jim's family would be considered fairly "well to do". He observed the material things "average American" people possess and said, "Americans are very rich". In Greece the people own what they own literally - no credit. Their house, land, car, machinery, etc., are theirs. Therefore, he did not comprehend the credit system in this country at all and did not understand our "check writing".

Jim commented to Mrs. Spinks that America and Texas are very hot. She agreed with him without hesitation. In his country, the summer temperature is 80 to 90 degrees with no air conditioners because there is no need for them.

Color televisions, large cars, and microwave ovens took some "getting used to" for the young man. Gasoline is now selling for $4.00 per gallon there and diesel is $2.00 per gallon.

In Jim's home, wine is served daily with lunch, which is the main meal of the day, and with dinner too. Also before lunch, the men are served ouzo, a drink of 45 percent alcohol. His mother prepares all the meals for her family and also works on their farm. His mother would like to have silverware from America and his sister, seventeen, would like some American gin and clothes. Jim would like very much to have a hunting gun from this country.

An incident at the onset of Jim's arrival made a strong impression on him - one that was very obvious. Kristi Boone of Knox City, prepared a cake for him, decorating it with area cattle brands and wording a big "welcome" on it. Jim could not understand why a complete stranger would do such a thing for him. "No words can express his delight and thrill of this gift to him", explained Mrs. Spinks.

Fascinated by the size of the farm and machinery on Cactus Growers Farm, Jim was privileged, through the graciousness of Charles Durham and Terry Jobe, to satisfy his curiosity of the farm lifestyle. He also spent time with Charles Griffith on his farm and was introduced to still another aspect of farming.

Jim enjoyed eating beef steaks, as well as a number of other American foods but he did not like the "working cowboy" lifestyle of the ranch. He only liked the "rodeo cowboy" which he saw perform at the Stamford rodeo.

One request from Jim when he arrived was to take him to see a cinema. The day this trip was to be made Jim was so involved with the tractors he would not go.

Jim explained to Mr. and Mrs. Spinks that Greece and America are not political friends because of the American sale of firearms to Turkey, an unfriendly country to Greece. His disapproval of America was shown in the mention of the Iranian problem. He prefers Kennedy for the next president and did not like Carter. Even though he prided himself with his knowledge of American politics, he looked puzzled when asked about Reagan and said, "Who's he?"

"It was obvious in these political discussions," Mrs. Spinks said, "that he had many misconceptions about our politics but still he knew a great deal to have learned it all from books." Jim's religion is important to him, having roots from ancient Greece. They have ten gods of nature he explained. "In fact, if Jim could find a Greek speaking person, he would debate religion or politics any day of the week", stated Mrs. Spinks.

The Spinks family has enjoyed making a new friend. Mrs. Spinks said, "We would not take for the experience of having this young man as our guest and learning about his people and his country. We feel we have learned many things that a tourist could not learn. We know his parents must be very proud of such a fine son and are pleased that he accepted the challenge of coming to America."

Mrs. Abston attended O'Brien High School and lived in O'Brien until 1943 when she and her family moved to Amarillo. She was a photographer and was associated with Galaxy Studios in Hollywood, California, for many years before her retirement.

BENJAMIN FOLK REMODELING

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts have moved into their "new" home. This terminates a two year plus restoring process on the house they purchased that long ago. Though the Roberts say they still have work to do both inside and out, it is liveable and they're glad to be in it. For those who may not know this is the two story house across the street West of the Methodist Church. And with only a few minor changes, it has been restored close to its originality and is beautiful! The house formerly occupied by the Roberts, east of the school house is also getting a new look. The stucco is being replaced with siding and the Benny Grills will be moving into it. Thus leaving the home the Grills have been living in available for the

Living in these days when you have to struggle and fight against doubts as you try to grow a strong faith, you need daily help: this comes from the Words of Jesus and when you keep Him always in your mind. He understands you fully. He knows about the struggles of good and evil that is at war in your mind. The first thing, keep saying to yourself, "Jesus loves me". His Word says so. When the struggles get hard and everything goes wrong, remember and affirm that Jesus will see you through, for He loves you. Benjamin Residents Greet Pastor, Wife

Benjamin residents turned out Sunday evening for a reception honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Clyde McCollough in the Benjamin Memorial Center. The Rev. McCollough is pastor of the Benjamin Baptist Church whose members hosted the reception.

The McColloughs moved to Benjamin last month from San Angelo.

Both the Rev. and Mrs. McCollough are natives of Louisiana. He has held pastorates in Texas, Louisiana, and Missouri. The family returned from Europe in 1978 where he pastored an English language Baptist Church in Giessen, Germany. After returning to the states, the couple took refresher courses at Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

The new pastor and his wife, Mavis, are the parents of a married daughter, Elizabeth Harrell of San Angelo, and four grandchildren, Debra Windham, Renee and Marcus Constancio, and Bobby Harrell, all of San Angelo.

Weather Summary For June 1980

The average temperature for June was 85.8°F., 6.5° above the 14-year average of 79.3°. The high temperature for the month was 114° on the 28th. The low was 65° on the 8th and 9th. Total moisture received during the month was .95 inches, .68 inches below the 14-year average of 1.63 inches. The greatest one-time amount of .46 inches occurred on the 21st.
