

Houndettes Fall In State Finals

By Coach Steve McIlhany
& Coach Dale Wainscott

The Houndettes traveled to Austin last Saturday and played in the state volleyball tournament. It was the first time for the Houndettes to play in a state tournament and the girls were thrilled to represent Knox City in Austin.

The Houndettes played Leon-Jewett in the first round. The Cougars won the first game by a score of 15-1 and jumped out in the second game by a score of 13-2. This was caused by the girls being nervous and they were slow to react which caused us to carry the ball on almost every bump pass we made. But when the score was 13-2 in the second game, the Houndettes settled down and played the way they have all year.

At one time, the girls were only down 14-12 and we were serving for more points but Leon broke serve and won 15-12. The girls just waited too long to settle down and play the way they can but their hustle and determination in their come back bid won the admiration of all fans and officials in the gym.

The girls can be proud of their season which ended with a 21-5 record, a bi-district win, a regional championship and a state semi-finalist game. I believe the girls really enjoyed their season and they appreciated the support of the fans which numbered about 50 at the state tournament.

The trip to Austin was a whirlwind tour which included the team and about 25 fans on a charter bus. We left Sweetwater after the football game about 11:30 p.m. and arrived in Austin at 5:00 a.m. The girls rested about two hours and then ate breakfast. We were at the gym by 9:00 a.m. to get a team picture made and start warming up. After the match we went to the State Capital and walked through it. We then went back to the motel and checked out. We went to eat at a large mall before starting home. We arrived home at 9:30 p.m. Saturday night.

Coach Wainscott and I would like to congratulate the girls for their hard work, this year.

We appreciate the two seniors Mary Albus and Kay Howell for their leadership this year. For the girls returning, we believe that the experience they received this year will only enhance the possibility of returning to Austin and a state championship. We also believe that our success in volleyball will carry over to basketball if the girls work as hard as they already have.

Fall In Bi-District Bid, 20-12

Greyhounds: 'Over And Out'

By DAVID COUNTS

The Knox City Greyhound football season came to a premature stop Friday night when they were outscored 20-12 by Klondike. They were outscored but not beaten.

The Greyhounds were outweighed in every position. Even with this, the Hounds controlled the game for three of the four quarters.

The Hounds received the opening kickoff. In the first quarter, the Hounds ran 16 plays to 10 for Klondike.

On the first play of the second quarter, the Hounds fumbled and the Cougars recovered. The Cougars scored four plays later on a 38 yard run. The extra point kick was good.

The momentum changed to Klondike for the next time they got the ball they scored again on a 62 yard run. The kick was good and the score was 0-14.

Aided by a 15 yard penalty, Klondike scored again on an eight yard run. Ricky Gonzales broke through to block the extra point attempt so the score was 0-20 with 2:29 left in the half.

The last two minutes of the first half was wild. The Hounds elected to try a fake punt on fourth down that did not work.

Jay Rutherford then recovered a Cougar fumble on their first play. Rutherford then threw an interception on his second play.

Ricky Gutierrez then recovered a Cougar fumble. On the last play of the half, Rutherford threw into the end zone and just off the fingertips of Adam White.

The disastrous second quarter came to a close with the Hounds behind 0-20.

The second half opened with Knox City kicking off to Klondike. The Greyhound defense regrouped at half-time and it became evident that they were ready to play.

On Klondike's third down play, Jay Rutherford tackled the runner for a four yard loss to force a punt.

Glen Hedgecoke made 12 yards on two carries. Rutherford passed 11 yards to Chuck Hutchinson for 11 yards. Rutherford kept for 14 yards to the Cougar one yard line. A motion penalty against the Hounds moved the ball back to the six but Ricky Gonzales scored on the first play. His try for the extra point was wide. Score 6-20.

After the kickoff, Andy Bardard made a crushing tackle to force a Cougar punt. The Hounds were unable to move. They punted back to the Cougars.

Rutherford Injured In Friday's Game

Freshman Steve Rutherford, who was injured in Friday night's bi-district game against Klondike in Sweetwater is reported to be doing "pretty good" following an injury to his left leg.

According to his mother, Mrs. J.B. Rutherford, reports were that he suffered a strained capsule and his knee is both swollen and sore.

NAMED OUTSTANDING OFFICER of the year for 1980 was local State Game Warden Vic Lowry who is pictured with the beautiful walnut and brass plaque presented him recently in Nashville Tennessee.

State Game Warden Outstanding Officer

Vic Lowry was chosen as the recipient of the Outstanding Officer of the Year Award for 1980, representing the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at the 34th annual convention of the Southeastern Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies which was held in Nashville, Tennessee, November 8-12.

Charles D. Travis, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife stated Lowry was chosen for his many years of outstanding service and dedication to his job. Travis said Lowry had the respect and admiration of the entire Department for his outstanding contributions to the people of Texas.

The Southeastern Association consists of seventeen members states with each state having its own officer of the year representing the Department.

Lowry and his wife, Norma, were in Nashville to attend the convention and for him to receive the award.

A native of Quanah, Vic went to work in the fall of 1954 for what was then known as the Game and Fish Commission, which later became The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. He did field training in the Hill Country area around Lampasas and then finished Game Warden School at Texas A&M in May 1955.

His first station was at Jayton where he worked Stonewall, Kent, and Garza Counties. Later, Haskell County was assigned to him.

Lowry and his family moved to Knox City in June 1963 when he was assigned Knox and King Counties, and then later he had Cottle County assigned to him. He still works these counties and occasionally is called to work other areas on special hunting seasons.

Vic and Norma are members of the First United Methodist Church.

They are the parents of a daughter, Vickie Josselot who lives in Haskell with her husband, Danny and their children, Cody and Ember.

Thrift Shop Sets New Winter Hours

Mrs. Jerry Smith, president-elect of the Knox County Hospital Auxiliary and member in charge of the Auxiliary's Thrift Shop, has reported that the shop will be closed on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, opening from 1:00 until 5:00 on those days. It will open all day on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The shop has always closed on Monday and will continue to do so, she said.

The proceeds from the shop go to benefit the Knox County Hospital and Mrs. Smith said the shop is especially in need of winter clothing, especially children's, used toys, and Christmas decorations. Anyone who would like to contribute any of these items is encouraged to do so.

Even as we join family and friends in the traditional holiday feast, we should remember that this day has been set aside for us to do officially the very thing we should be doing every day of our lives: thanking God for our blessings. We have so many, regardless of our own situation, that we cannot begin to count them all; not only the tangible things we can see all around us, but also the invisible blessings, such as the misfortunes we have been spared.

We at The Knox County News express our gratitude for our wonderful customers who make our endeavors possible.

We wish for you and yours a happy and blessed Thanksgiving.

I'll Do It Myself

We live in a very self sufficient society today and we have become very indifferent to the needs and cares of others. Most people today are entirely too busy to be bothered with others. As a result, we have become a very selfish society.

The most common expression heard is, "I don't want to get involved." The ironic part of it all is that we all have to depend on the other person for our needs. We depend on the farmer for our food products and the white collar workers for our nice home products, and the industrial workers for our nice cars, etc. We depend on the natural gas to keep us warm in the winter and our air conditioners to keep us cool in the summer.

We just EXPECT and ASSUME that we will always have these things in life, but as soon as we are threatened with the thought of having to do without, we begin to panic and get upset.

How do you think the God of Heaven looks at us when we feel we only need Him in times of trials and hard times? In essence, we say, "God, I don't need you today. Everything is going great. But please hang around. I just might need you tomorrow."

What a shame we treat the God of the universe like an object to be toyed with when in reality He is the greatest source of strength and comfort we can find in this troubled world. What is needed is time spent more with Him who cares for us and just, maybe, we will learn to care for others. Read John 3:16.

CEMETERY FUND BEGINS

It's time for the O'Brien Cemetery Fund to begin. That's something that needs everyone chipping in and paying their share for the upkeep. Those giving can leave their money at any of the businesses in O'Brien or mail to Mrs. Beatrice Ellis at Box 2564 in O'Brien.

Nance Rites Held Nov. 24 At Munday

Funeral services for Frank Nance, 80, of Munday were held Monday, November 24, in First Baptist Church in Munday with Bob Colin, Keith Davis and James Smith officiating.

Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Smith Funeral Home of Knox City.

Mr. Nance died Saturday, November 22, at 11:00 a.m. in Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene after a brief illness.

Born March 16, 1900, in Hill County, Texas, he had lived in Knox County since 1910. He married Alpha Mae Howard on December 18, 1920, in Knox City. He was a retired employee of the Texas Highway Department.

Survivors include his wife of the home; two sons, James Frank Nance Jr. of Turlock, California, and W.C. Nance of Houston; three daughters, Winnie Mae Hobert of Munday, Frances Smith of Odessa and Bobbie Jean Leach of Midland; and two sisters, Mrs. P.L. Paris of Grandfield, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Ellen Lusk of Merkel; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers.

THEN and NOW!

Large mail order catalogs were once the Christmas "wish books" of the average American family. Advertised as "the cheapest supply houses," such catalogs offered goods at bargain prices.

The whole family would sit down with the catalog to check off items they hoped Santa would bring. Then, they sent off as big an order as they could.

Throughout the following year, the same catalog provided easy price comparisons and a handy source of gifts for spouses, children and relatives. Making a "wish list" could provide several hours' entertainment.

For the average rural family, the catalog provided a bird's-eye view of the rest of the world—at least, for that year.

Now, and ever since the 1940s, there's been a resurgence in catalog shopping. Why? The catalog showroom makes shopping fun, yet saves customers money.

Significant time-saving is possible because customers can preshop by looking at the catalog. Once they arrive at the showroom, they know which item to buy.

Catalog showroom merchandisers such as Modern Merchandising, operating under the names Dolgin's, Great Western, Jafco, LaBelle's Leeds, Miller Sales and Rogers, predict such showrooms are the wave of the future. They relieve the shopper of having to search for an item, then having to wait to get served. Ordering from the catalog is done electronically in the showroom or at home via the telephone.

Most showrooms specialize in small appliances, jewelry, gifts and housewares, electronic and photographic equipment, audio and sporting goods and toys. This makes them several specialty stores in one, and many say an ideal place to Christmas shop.

Dear Billye Bess,

Greetings from Sunny

Southern California! We are having some strong Santa Ana winds but so far, no rain, and the recent strong California earthquake did not affect us here in Southern California.

We had our big Thanksgiving Dinner early as Billie O. and Jerry were here from Shafter, California, at this time, and couldn't be for Thanksgiving. They operate a funeral home in Shafter and can't take much time off.

Enclosed you will find my check for another year of The Knox County News.

Hope this finds you and all the family in good health and I'll say Season's Greetings, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Sincerely,
Laura and Walter Grzebeniowski

(Editor's Note: It's always nice to hear from your family. We appreciate your greeting and wish the same for you and yours.)

CHOOSING HOME APPLIANCES

HINTS TO HELP YOU PICK WHAT YOU NEED

Buying an appliance can boggle the mind. There are space-savers, time-savers, energy-savers, money-savers. Which one is right for you and your home?

Here are some things to think about before you buy:

ANALYZING THE ALTERNATIVES: Appliance "value" in the real sense goes beyond the number of dials on the control panel versus the number of digits on the price tag. The appliance that best fits the bill is the sum total of a frank, family-needs appraisal, and a long, hard look between the lines and beneath the luster.

POWER REQUIREMENTS: Decide whether you're better off with an electric or gas appliance. Check your home for adequate wiring. A gas appliance requires an available gas line.

OPERATING COST: Carefully compare the energy-cost estimates on the appliances you're considering. You may be surprised to see the energy-efficient model with the higher price tag emerge as a more economical long-range investment.

ENERGY-SAVING FEATURES: On a gas range, an "Automatic Pilotless Ignition" feature can save up to 30% of the energy of perpetually burning pilot lights. Energy-Saver features on refrigerator-freezers, freezers, washers and dishwashers are also well worth considering in an age of rising fuel costs.

CONVENIENCE FEATURES: Your time is a consideration worth factoring into an appliance buying decision. Nominal extra-cost features that cut down on unpopular chores and free you for better things are a good investment in yourself.

The array of feature-packed appliances available for today's home is enough to boggle the mind.

APPEARANCE AND DURABILITY: Check out whether the appliance's finish requires special care, is likely to yellow or fade, or is easily marred or scratched. Inspect for quality construction, safe, smooth edges, and sturdy shelves, drawers and doors.

INSTALLATION CONSIDERATIONS: Make sure you measure exactly the space intended for the new appliance. Leave additional space if it requires air circulation and push-in clearance in the event service is required. For appliances needing outside-venting, choose a spot close to an outside wall or window.

BRAND NAMES AND

WARRANTIES: Well-known brand-name appliances aren't well-known for nothing. The names you recognize today are the result of decades—sometimes generations—of consumer satisfaction. And their proven technology is most often backed by solid, professional service and warranty policies that guarantee you an appliance that lives up to its reputation and your expectations.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget all his benefits." (Psalms 103:2).

The practice of Thanksgiving is a great viewpoint changer. This scripture is full of wisdom, it tells you to start thanking the Lord for all the benefits He has given you, instead of mentally, and perhaps vocally, harping on what has been denied you. "Be content with what you have," for he said, "I will never fail you nor forsake you." The word contentment means to hold together. When you have faith in God, your mind will hold together so efficiently that you can recover from disappointment. Thus, you can be content, and out of such contentment great things can happen. Whatever your circumstances, you can be sure that God watches over you. Because He loves you and since God Himself is love, you are never out of His sight, nor His loving care and concern. Believe the scriptures and Thank God constantly for watching over you and protecting you. For every journey, thank Him for His protecting care. In every difficult situation, thank Him for seeing you through. He is always near.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

We wish you a day blessed with abundance. Let us pause to give thanks, as did our Pilgrim forefathers that first Thanksgiving.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS
The baby carriage was invented, historians say, in 1848 by Charles Burton. It became popular when Queen Victoria of England ordered one for her babies.

Mothers-to-be, new mothers and others can enjoy cold weather walks in style in a fully-lined button front cape of 100 percent polyester from Mothercare, retailing specialists for mothers-to-be, babies and children under seven.

Several studies have shown and many mothers agree, more babies are born at night than during the day.

Keep Tax Records To Support Claims

Taxpayers, especially those who itemize, should begin compiling receipts and other records to support claims on their Federal tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service advises. These records can be used to back up claims in case the return is examined and also assist taxpayers by reminding them of potentially overlooked deductions.

For easy reference, the records should be sorted into the categories which appear on Schedule A of Form 1040, the IRS says. When itemizing, taxpayers should bear in mind interest paid on loans and mortgages, as well as payments for medical insurance which are documented on various financial statements. These amounts are often deductible and frequently overlooked.

Medical expenses, union dues and charitable contributions are a few other commonly claimed deductions for which IRS examiners often request supporting evidence. Keeping cancelled checks, pay stubs, and bills can be helpful in supporting these claims. However, the IRS notes that taxpayers should not attach receipts or cancelled checks to their tax returns.

charge on this defensive series to force a punt and punt they did 49 yards with no return.

Starting on their own 11 yard line, the Hounds went to work. On third down, Ricky Gonzales threw a halfback pass back to Jay Rutherford for 33 yards.

Three plays later, Rutherford passed to Chuck Hutchinson for 14 yards and a first down at the Cougar 39 as the third quarter ended.

Rutherford passed to Ricky Gutierrez for five yards on third down. On fourth down, Rutherford passed 32 yards to Adam White to the four yard line. Rutherford ran for two yards. Tim Roberson, playing hurt, scored from two yards out. A pass for two points was incomplete. Score 12-20.

Time 10:32 left in the game.

Kelley Boone, playing with reckless abandon, led the Hound defense to force the Cougars to punt each time they got the ball.

The Hound offense, running out of time, threw up two interceptions in the closing minutes. Chuck Hutchinson recovered a Cougar fumble to help the Hound cause.

Backed up to their own 13 yard line with only 38 seconds, the Hounds ran off five plays but were unable to score before time ran out.

The 1980 Edition of the Knox City Greyhounds can be proud of their accomplishments. One of the most notable is the amount of playing time next year's players got during the course of the year. The graduating seniors have left a legacy that will carry over for years to come.

Heavy Snows Halt Area Cotton Harvest

Cotton harvesting came to a halt this week, according to B.B. Manly Jr., of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services office in Abilene. Heavy snows covered the entire area and cotton in all areas has been killed and will be ready for harvest when the fields dry out.

Around 17,000 samples were classed during the week, bringing the season total to 41,000.

Local prices show little change from last week. Grades below 42, staple 30 are not in strong demand and sell for 28 to 31 cents over CCC loan values. Grades 42 or higher, staple 31 and longer bring 35 to 37 cents above loan values and the demand is moderate. Mixed lots bring 70 to 79 cents per pound. Quality 5229 with premium mike brings around 67 cents per pound, while 4232 would bring around 80 cents per pound.

Cottonseed prices range from $110 to $120 per ton paid to producers.

The quality of cotton classed during the week ending November 20 shows some changes. Grade 42 was predominant at 41 percent, followed by Grade 43 at 21 percent. Grades 52 and 41 accounted for 14 and six percent each. Fiber length showed little change with staple 31 predominant at 34 percent, followed by staple 30 at 25 percent, and staple 32 at 22 percent. Around 10 percent were reduced in grade because of bark or grass content. Micronaire readings continue good with 93 percent within the 35 to 49 range and six percent above 49.

It was decided it would be best from an economic basis to close the Munday office until harvesting operations start again and Waters, Officer In Charge, returned to Abilene. It will re-open when harvesting resumes.

Bride-Elect Is Honored Sunday

A bridal shower honoring Manda Ray Barnett, bride-elect of Charlie Lieb, was held Sunday, November 23, in the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Calling hour was from three until four o'clock in the afternoon.

Aleene Waldrip greeted guests and presented them to the honoree and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Arche Lieb.

Jewell Lea registered guests from a table covered with a white cloth which held an arrangement of poinsettias.

Frances Kent and Peggy Grindstaff served refreshments of fruit punch, cookies, nuts and mints from a table covered with a red satin cloth with a crocheted overlay. The centerpiece was an arrangement of red silk poinsettias.

Hostesses were Elva Gonzales, LaVerne Thompson, Aleene Waldrip, Peggy McGaughey, Peggy Grindstaff, Frances Kent, Kitty Spencer, Jewell Lea, Patsy Orr, Wretha Fitzgerald, Lois Cyfert, Ruby Robinson, Sequoyah Reynolds, Mary Ann Boone, Mary Beth Smith, Jessie Teague and Lea Reeves.

All Friends and Relatives are invited to a Surprise Birthday Party honoring Mrs. Bertha Trimmer on her 85th Birthday Thursday, November 27, from three to five o'clock at the Knox City Community Center. No gifts, please.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS
By Kay Howell

Football season is over for one more year. This thought might bring tears to a few eyes by the memories of a winning season will overpower those tears. District Champions Senior year is a dream come true. The Senior guys showed much leadership throughout the entire season. This leadership, along with some courage and desire, brought the Greyhound team a long way. It is no wonder that the Greyhound team of 1980 came out CHAMPIONS. Congratulations to the Hounds—especially the veteran seniors—for their much deserved title.

The volleyball team had a long trip to Austin this past weekend to the state tournament. The defeat we encountered was disappointing but we were still pleased to have been able to participate in the tournament. The Seniors—Mary and Kay—would like to give special thanks to Coach McIlhane and Coach Wainscott for helping us make it so far and to the rest of the Houndette team for making our Senior year the best.

Windbreaks For Conservation

Some farmers and conservationists believe windbreaks are no longer needed to protect fields from wind erosion.

"Don't you believe it!" says Pete Elliston, Soil Conservationist serving the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District.

Tree windbreaks are a good long term investment on farms and ranches. They protect people, farmsteads, gardens, soil, crops, provide needed wildlife habitat and increase the natural beauty of the Rolling Plains.

"Many farmsteads are surprisingly unprotected from the forces of wind.

which regularly occur in Knox County," says Elliston. Windbreaks can reduce wind velocity by 50 percent or more.

"Any winds over 13 miles per hour at one foot above the ground can begin to pick up soil particles," Elliston said. Erosion rates in excess of 20 tons per acre per year have been recorded in many unsheltered fields. To reduce the rate to acceptable limits a well planned program including windbreaks is needed.

The Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District is making an effort to get farmers and ranchers to request assistance on developing plans for windbreak establishment.

"Once windbreaks are established they provide full protection to an area 10 times the height of the trees," Elliston said. "This means a 30-foot windbreak would have a sheltered area of 300 feet.

"Of course to be effective the windbreak must first be properly designed. It must fit individual needs of each landowner and properly placed to be effective.

"After planting the trees must receive special care. Adequate water, protection from wind and livestock, and weed control are necessary for establishment.

"Imagine your home in a setting where evergreens break the monotony of drab winter days and flowering shrubs add color the rest of the year. Best of all, your house and yard are protected from freezing, gusty winds, blowing soil and even drifting snow," Elliston said.

"Due to reduction of wind velocity your home will be more comfortable and pleasant. Home fuel for heating can be reduced 15 percent or more. And you will have less dust to clean up.

"Before you plant a windbreak, get advice from local specialists. Soil Conservation Service personnel can help you with your soil and water conservation plan which should include windbreaks. They can assist you in locating quality seedlings and planning an effective system."

Engineers Offer 122 Scholarships, Grants

The National Society of Professional Engineers is making available 122 grants and scholarships to aid high school seniors interested in pursuing engineering careers. Joe Emberger, local chairman of the nationwide scholarship program announced.

The head of the scholarship effort of NSPE's Abilene Chapter said students will be selected for the awards on the basis of academic standing, participation in extracurricular activities, evi-ce of leadership, character and self-reliance, comments of teachers and administrators, and financial need. NSPE scholarships are provided with the cooperation of 35 leading companies and educational institutions; recipients will receive awards of $1,000 to $4,000 with some full scholarships.

To be eligible for the awards, a student must be a high school senior ranking in the top quarter of his or her graduating class, plan to enroll in a college or university with an engineering curriculum approved by the Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology (the profession's accreditation body), and be a U.S. citizen or plan to become a naturalized citizen.

Students must submit scholarship application to the local chapter by December 1, 1980; national winners will be selected by March 13, 1981. For applications and more information on the NSPE scholarship program, contact scholarship chairman Joe Emberger at (915) 672-3251, Ext. 513 or a high school guidance counselor.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

One reason many physical fitness programs fail is that they're boring. Jogging and calisthenics are both beneficial, but because they're repetitive, many people lose interest after a while.

There's one sport that's considered anything but boring and can satisfy both those who like competitive and non-competitive sports. It's playing with a flying disc such as the Frisbee disc.

"Frisbee" is the brand name and registered trademark of the Wham-O Mfg. Co. It should not be used to describe other disc-shaped toys.

But a Frisbee disc is more than a toy. The sport of playing with a Frisbee disc has thousands tossing and catching for fun and in competition.

Though the activity provides good exercise, few think it is boring. It's always changing. A Frisbee disc can be thrown and caught in a variety of ways.

Almost limitless challenge is presented by different established techniques, and a few you can develop on your own.

Comptroller Files Corporation Tax Liens

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said he has filed 12,443 tax liens against corporations in Texas who are delinquent in paying franchise taxes.

The liens will prevent the corporations from selling assets until the delinquent taxes are paid and is one of the final legal steps necessary to revoke a company's corporate charter.

The delinquent companies represent a small percentage of more than 243,000 corporations doing business in Texas, he said.

Corporate franchise tax receipts during the state's last fiscal year totaled $340.8 million. The tax is levied at a rate of $4.25 on each $1,000 of stated capital, surplus and undivided profits of corporations doing business in Texas or $4.25 on each $1,000 of a company's real property.

Bullock said the corporations being filed on for back taxes have been notified of the delinquency and told that the company's right to do business in Texas has been forfeited.

No estimate of the tax owed the state has been made, Bullock said, because the delinquent companies have not filed returns from which to make an assessment.

Louisiana Man Indicted On Fraud

A Federal Grand Jury in New Orleans, Louisiana, has indicted a New Orleans man on three felony charges of defrauding social security programs, according to James Harper, manager of the Vernon Social Security Office.

Arthur L. Carter of New Orleans was charged with three counts of making false statements about his employment in order to continue to receive Social Security Disability Benefits.

Maximum punishment may range as high as a five year prison term and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Harper emphasized that this indictment is only a formal charge and does not constitute evidence of guilt. The defendant is entitled to a fair trial in which it will be the Government's burden to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Violations of the Social Security Act will be vigorously investigated and prosecuted, Harper added.

HAVE A NICE HOLIDAY!

THEN and NOW!

THEN: Holly Hobbie was a gifted young artist, married and with one child (now there are three) whose friends and family were blessed on birthdays and holidays by receiving greetings from her in the form of watercolors and drawings of delightful charm. One friend suggested she pack off a portfolio to a greeting card company just for fun.

This is Holly Hobbie, the character who has captured the hearts of the young and old all over the world.

NOW: Holly Hobbie still favors friends and family with her drawings, and yet her art has made her name a household word around the world. One of Holly's most familiar designs, the one that has become virtually an emblem of her work, is the Blue Girl, the standing figure of a serene, young girl in profile whose face is concealed by a fancifully large calico bonnet. Her blue bonnet and highlaced shoes, her patchwork apron and the bouquet of wild flowers in her hands, are evocative of a time whose simplicity and repose seem rare today.

This is Holly Hobbie, the artist who designed her, for greeting cards and a host of other similarly nostalgic items.

Holly's designs, a mainstay of American Greetings' card business, has been adapted to numerous products ranging from dolls and toys and garments for children to sheets and wallpaper and items for collectors of Americana. The Holly Hobbie look is especially appropriate for the holiday season when people seem inclined to recall something of the spirit of an appealing past.

Ginning Industry Sets Aside Standard

MEMPHIS (Special) — The fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans has ruled in favor of the cotton ginning industry in setting aside the OSHA cotton dust standard that had been applied to gins.

National Cotton Council President Herman Propst said the court's ruling is a victory for small businessmen faced with "impractical" demands of government regulations.

He congratulated the ginners' associations, who sought the standard's overturn, on "a very significant accomplishment."

He said the ruling will provide for a more equitable solution to the industry's most serious problem, and said he hoped it will result in a more reasonable approach to future rule-making.

"Cotton ginners are small businessmen who had thrust on them an unnecessary, unreasonable set of regulations by the federal government. The ruling in New Orleans in canceling the dust standard for gins is vindication of the American principle that there must be justice and common sense in any regulations handed down by government," Propst said.

The court said OSHA had not offered "substantial evidence" that its cotton ginning regulations are "reasonably necessary and appropriate." Cotton-related dust in some processing industries has been implicated in breathing ailments, but the ginners' associations bringing the suit against OSHA argued successfully that employees have never shown to develop such ailments as a result of working in gins.

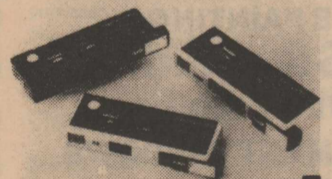

"Consequently, application of the gin standard would impose unnecessary costs with no possibility for offsetting benefits," Propst said.

The court sent the standard back to OSHA "for further consideration."

Holiday Hints

BEST YOU CAN BUY

Sometimes a photographer—professional or amateur—has to make snap judgements when taking a picture. This is especially true at Christmas time when special moments fly by—and a sure hand on the shutter makes the difference between treasured photos and lost opportunities.

These new 110-format pocket Autopak cameras have a variety of features and all are easy to operate.

One time not to make snap judgements is when deciding which camera to buy. You'll want one that's relatively easy to operate, one you can rely on to come through in an instant.

Minolta, for example, has introduced three pocket 110 cameras—the Autopak 460Tx, 450Ex and 430Ex models—that make it easy to make those snap judgements under all photographic conditions. Each camera has low-light exposure warning signals, illuminated distance scales plus a built-in electronic flash. They're available at photographic dealers coast to coast, with prices ranging from $82 to $117.

Holiday Tips On Mail Order Buying

1. Examine the offer carefully. If it sounds too good to be true, it often is. Beware of exaggerated claims on products or price. If the claims relate to your health or physical appearance, your family doctor may be a good source of advice as to the likely value of the product. Be particularly wary of claims by unknown sellers that they have achieved a "scientific discovery" that somehow eluded the big companies or established professionals. Read advertising claims for what they actually say rather than what you might hope they offer.
2. Do not rely solely on a picture of the item. Note the description, size, weight, color and contents. Be sure to completely describe the article or service you are purchasing in the order.
3. Give explicit instructions.
4. When ordering holiday gifts by mail be sure to do so well in advance to avoid heavy seasonal mail volume. If the company offers such a service, be sure to specify whether or not the gift should be sent directly to the

- recipient. Clearly indicate recipient's name and address and how the gift card should be signed.
5. Look for a company policy on returns. If the policy is not stated, ask for it.
6. If a substitute is acceptable, indicate it.
7. Be sure to enclose shipping, handling, or tax charges with the order.
8. Do not send cash with the order. Pay only by check, money order, or, if acceptable, credit card.
9. Keep a record of the order, including the name and address of the company with which you are dealing.
10. If there are any doubts about a company, check it before placing an order. You might be guided on a company's reliability by inquiries to the Better Business Bureau and Chamber of Commerce in the area of the company or you can consult your state or local consumer protection office. Because a product is advertised in a responsible newspaper or magazine, do not assume the claims have necessarily been verified by the publishers. In most cases, the publishers have no choice but to assume the advertiser is honest. Similarly, the fact that a product is offered for sale by mail does not mean the Postal Service has verified the advertiser's claims.

HOLIDAY FOOD SAFETY

The holidays can be a hectic time with food being prepared and served in larger-than-usual amounts and festive styles, and being prepared in a busy kitchen. Food safety is especially important during this season, so take the time to keep your family safe.

Here are some tips to keep food poisoning from ruining your holiday season.

When it's time to cook the bird, be sure you have allowed time in your busy schedule for proper thawing. Thaw the bird in the refrigerator if possible. When meats or poultry are thawed outside of the refrigerator, the outer surfaces of the meat are exposed too long at temperatures that allow germs to grow.

If the turkey is too large for the refrigerator, thaw it in a water-tight package under cold running water. Or, place the bird in a double brown paper bag to insulate it against too warm temperatures and uneven thawing.

To prevent germs from spreading while you're handling the raw meat, keep your hand and the kitchen utensils and cutting surfaces clean with soap and hot water. You should never use the same cutting board and utensils for cooked meat that you used when the meat was raw or you'll get the germs right back on your cooked foods.

The safest way to prepare stuffing for the bird is separate from it. Germs love the ingredients in stuffing and the warm, moist inside of a turkey is the perfect place for germs to grow. The thick meat on the turkey protects the germs from extreme heat or cold so they continue to grow to dangerous numbers. The stuffing also gets a lot of handling in its preparation, so it's easy for germs to get inside the turkey.

If you do stuff your turkey, follow these precautions. If you mix the stuffing in advance, store it in the refrigerator separate from the bird. Stuff the bird just before cooking and cook the interior of the stuffing to at least 165 degrees F. If there is any leftover stuffing, remove it from the bird and refrigerate in a separate container.

When everything is cooked and ready to serve, buffets are a festive and fun way to present your holiday fare. Remember, though, when foods are left for a long time on a buffet table, the chance of food poisoning increases. Keep buffet servings small and replenish as needed directly from the refrigerator or stove. Never leave food at room temperature for more than two hours.

Pay particular attention to dishes containing meat, poultry or eggs because these are just what germs love. Each year, many cases of food poisoning are reported from holiday dishes such as cold meat cuts, turkey stuffing, potato salad and other salads made with mayonnaise, cream pies and eggnog.

Unfortunately, it is not always possible to tell by taste, looks or odor if food is safe to eat. Meat, poultry and dairy products, left at room temperature, allow germs to grow to dangerous numbers. Even in large numbers, these germs seldom change the taste, odor or looks of food. Keep meat and poultry dishes cold - below 40 degrees F - or hot - above 140 degrees F - until serving time to assure you and your family and guests a safe holiday season.

Gift Ideas

This holiday season, you can give a gift that does two things for the price of one. A card and present combination that can bring happiness to your friends and relatives who seem to have everything and also to children around the world who seem to need everything.

A great gift is one that can make both the sender and the recipient feel great and do great things for others as well. The card is called "THE JOY OF CHRISTMAS." It shows two lovely, lively youngsters, enjoying a doll. In addition to a traditional Christmas message, it says "... as a special gift to you, a contribution has been made to World Vision to help bring joy to a needy child..."

GOURMET IN A HURRY

San Francisco Chicken and Rice takes its cue from a Chinese tradition that knows so well how to give inexpensive ingredients the flavor of an imperial feast.

You can serve delectable, economical yet gourmet meals and still spend time with your family in the evening. But it takes a little planning. Many of today's busy women find that keeping a file of quick, easy, meal-in-one dishes such as this recipe for San Francisco Chicken and Rice can help them. The ingredients are low in cost, yet have high appetite appeal and they will cook quickly. Use a wok or a fry pan for this recipe. It's ready to cook as soon as you've diced the chicken and sliced the vegetables. Life can be even easier if you have cooked rice in the refrigerator.

SAN FRANCISCO CHICKEN AND RICE

- 2 to 3 cups diced uncooked chicken*
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup sliced onions
- 1 cup diagonally sliced celery
- 1 can (5 to 6 ounces) sliced bamboo shoots, drained
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 3/4 cup chicken broth
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 cups cooked rice

Cook chicken in butter 5 minutes, stirring often. Add onions and celery and cook 5 minutes more. Add remaining ingredients and cook until liquid is absorbed. Serve with additional soy sauce, if desired. Makes 6 servings. *Use chicken pieces of your choice or the meaty pieces of a broiler fryer. Cook remaining pieces for broth, soups, dressings, etc.

EMCY THAT!

Today, mini-computers are found in thousands of different places—small businesses, homes, schools, plants and warehouses. But now that the computer is out of the sanitized computer room, particles of dust so small you can hardly see them can affect its performance.

Because thousands of bits of information are stored in one square inch of space in these computers, a tiny speck of dirt can create big problems. To combat this, a new cleaning diskette is being marketed by 3M. Called the Scotch Head Cleaning Diskette, it helps keep computer heads clean while minimizing downtime.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS

Clothing Care ALERT!

WHAT'S IN A STAIN?

Spots and overall soiling of clothing are facts of life. The moment you remove a new garment from the store tissues or cleaned clothing from the protective wrapping your drycleaner has placed it in, prepare for another round of soil attack.

Knowing the nature of soil and stain can help you preserve your clothing, giving it a longer life in your wardrobe.

Spots and soil are classified by drycleaners into four major groups—solvent-soluble, water-soluble, insoluble and special. The International Fabricare Institute (IFI), the world-wide association of drycleaners and launderers, suggests you be aware of the nature of spots and soil so you can identify them to your drycleaner or successfully remove the five percent that can be removed satisfactorily by home methods.

A drycleaning solution can best break down and remove solvent-soluble soil, such as salad oil, grease and some waxes. Attended to immediately, these spots are relatively easy to remove. But age sets oil stains. If you continue to wear a soiled garment, the soil will become imbedded in the yarns of the fabric, increasing the difficulty of removal.

Water-soluble spots, those made from salt, starches or sugar in solution in beverages and cocktails, can be flushed out easily with water and should be, advises the IFI, because they will stiffen and damage fabrics if left unattended.

More complicated soils are combinations of water and solvent-soluble elements. Soups, catsup, mustard and other food and beverage stains require professional care in removal. A fabricare specialist will use a combination of water, drycleaning solutions, mechanical and chemical means to remove such soil.

Insoluble soil most commonly accumulates throughout the fabric and comprises the bulk of soil that drycleaners remove. Dust particles, carbon, lint, sand and clay will not dissolve in water or solvent but can easily be removed by laundering or drycleaning.

Special spots—nail polish, paint, ink, adhesive, rust—require dissolving agents designed specifically for use with these soils. In many cases they can be removed when left to the expertise of a fabricare specialist.

IFI's spot advice is: The sooner the better. Stains and spots cause fabrics to wear faster. Also, the sooner you or your drycleaner take care of a spot or stain, the better your chances of removing it completely without damaging the fabric. The sooner you launder or dryclean clothing exposed to overall soiling, the better the fabrics will respond because the amount of soil and its penetration into the fibers is minimal.
