Shootin' Straight

By Dave Thompson

CHOOSE WISELY
Once again it is the time of the year when a lot of us will hear from some who have remained silent for a long time. At least since the last election anyway. It is the time of year when the sun really shines, the weather starts to warm up, flowers start to bloom, birds start to sing loudly and politicians start making promises all over again.

From the presidential election to those at our local level, many office holders seeking re-election and many who are seeking an office are being heard from as the primaries to the elections grow near.

As citizens of a city, a county, state and nation as great as the one we claim as our own, it is up to each and every one of us to choose the future office holders wisely. Too many mistakes have been made in the past as the "smooth talkers" verbalized their way into an office and provided nothing but empty, broken promises after gaining their respective position or office.

It is up to each of us to look behind the words, to look behind the promises and study closely the issues and the person who is running. From time to time, we have all experienced a feeling that the selection of politicians on a national level is far beyond us and really out of our hands. When feeling like that, just remember that each and every vote counts. This is especially true on a local level. The election of those who hold offices in our town and our county is left up to each of us, the voters who reside in the towns and the counties. After all, it is you and I who will be affected by the actions of politicians and office holders on our local levels.

Here on a local level we have the opportunity to study those running for office on a first hand basis. Many who currently hold offices have not been heard from since they last ran. This needs to be taken into account. Are they coming around now just because it is election time once again? What happened to their responsibility to us while they held the office?

A very few of those who were successful in the last election actually seem to have been doing the job that they were elected to: that of representing the people on a full time basis. When you study the candidates and find one who has actually been representing you as he or she stated that they would, you might seriously consider returning them to the office they hold. After all, a proven record is a lot better than the promises of one who is seeking and making more promises. On the other hand, if you study a candidate or current office holder's record and discover that they haven't accomplished much or even been heard from or heard about very often, you might seriously consider replacing them with someone who is more willing to actually SERVE the people.

Public officials and those seeking the different offices up for re-election need to be strongly reminded by the voters that they are there to SERVE THE PUBLIC, not the other way around.

Several races have developed in the area and that information appears elsewhere in this week's edition of the newspaper. Each and everyone of us as voters, have a responsibility to study those who are seeking election or re-election. Study the person and look into their background. Are they

Thanks Paid To Hospital

The Emergency Response System last Thursday expressed appreciation to the Knox County Hospital for operating as the system's base station.

As the base station for the program, the hospital receives the emergency calls from more than 50 clients in a seven-county area.

The Emergency Response System, which began on August 31, 1982, is now an established support program for the frail, socially isolated elderly people in Knox, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Throckmorton, Jones, and Shackelford counties.

Electronic equipment consisting of a home unit and a portable help button are linked to the telephone in a home and are able to summon emergency assistance.

Home units are available for a small monthly fee for those who meet eligibility requirements. Any person interested in obtaining a home unit should contact the ERS co-ordinator at 658-3535 on weekday mornings or the Senior Citizens Center in their county.

Vernon Votes To Sell WTU System

ABILENE -- Citizens of Vernon voted Saturday to sell their Municipal Electric System to West Texas Utilities Co.

The transaction, scheduled for completion this spring pending approval of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, will add about 2,500 customers to the WTU system, which already serves about half the city.

Rising fuel costs, needed power plant and distribution improvements, and rising maintenance and operation costs were cited by the City Commission as reasons for the proposed sale.

Any alternatives to selling the system would have required rate increases and possible tax increases, city officials stated. The sale to WTU will bring lower electric rates in Vernon, because rates there are set by the city and are higher than standard rates WTU charges in other towns.

In its proposal, WTU agreed to pay the city $2.69 million, subject to adjustments for changes in inventory or property conveyed.

Vernon will be the third municipal electric system purchased by WTU in recent years from cities whose power plants were outmoded. Others were at Winters and Baird.

Bisbee. Longtime Tax Assessor-Collector John A. Smith declined to run for re-election.

Incumbent Sheriff Morris E. Nix of Munday faces Van Green of Benjamin in the race for Knox County Sheriff.

In other county races running unopposed are incumbent Billy Gene Johnston, Precinct One commissioner; incumbent Philip Homer, Precinct 3 commissioner; Bobby D. Burnett, county attorney; Don Griffith, Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace; and Leroy Davis, constable, Precinct 2.

In the race for District Attorney, 50th Judicial District, incumbent W.H. (Bill) Healy will face James M. Morris.

Tom Schrandt, who was appointed last June to the office of District Judge, 50th Judicial District, is seeking election to his office and is opposed by David W. Hajek.

Filing for the Democratic Primary on May 5 in county, district, state, and federal offices began January 5. Any primary run-offs will be held June 2.

Of top-notch political interest is the race for the U.S. Senate seat of Sen. John Tower, R-Texas. Front-runners in the Democratic race are former congressman Bob Krueger of New Braunfels, state Sen. Lloyd Doggett of Austin, and U.S. Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock. Republicans for the Senate race include U.S. Reps. Phil Gramm of College Station and Ron Paul of Lake Jackson and Houston oilman Rob Mosbacher, who were joined prior to the filing deadline by Hank Grover, former state senator of Houston.

In the U.S. House, 13th District, Congressman Jack Hightower of Vernon is seeking re-election and is opposed by Republican Beau Boulter, Amarillo attorney. Congressman Charles Stenholm in District 17 is seeking re-election and is opposed by Democrat Noel Cowling, Dublin farmer.

State Senator Ray Farabee is unopposed in his bid for re-election in District 30 as is State Representative, 78th District, Steve Carriker.

Congressman Charles Stenholm in District 17 is seeking re-election and is opposed by Democrat Noel Cowling, Dublin farmer.

Lone Star Offers Help To Needy

Lone Star Gas Company has announced that it will once again offer help to the needy with assistance in the obtaining of utilities.

Project HAP'N, the heating fuel assistance program for needy individuals is in operation once again this year. Assistance may be obtained for heating fuel of any type, such as gas, electricity, butane, wood, etc.

The program will be in operation until April 30, 1984, unless all available funds are expended prior to that date. Persons interested in obtaining assistance may contact the County Treasurer's Office in the Knox County Courthouse at Benjamin.

Mangis Seeks Office Of Tax Collector

Oscar Mangis has authorized The Knox County News to announce his candidacy for the office of Knox County Tax Assessor-Collector. Mangis, who is presently employed by the Knox County Appraisal District as Chief Appraiser, is certified as a Registered Professional Appraiser and a Certified Texas Assessor. Prior to his employment by the Appraisal District, he was employed by the Knox City O'Brien CISD as tax assessor-collector for seven years.

Mangis stated that the Appraisal District, for the tax year 1984, will be responsible (by contract) for the collection of taxes for all taxing units in the county including the county's taxes. According to Mangis, that would leave the County Assessor-Collector responsible for automobile registration and voter registration and title transfers. Mangis stated that in his opinion combining the duties of the Chief Appraiser and the County Tax Assessor-Collector could be a significant savings to the taxpayers. Both of these positions are funded by ad valorem taxes. For this reason, Mangis reached his decision to file as a candidate for Knox County Tax Assessor-Collector.

STREAMS IN DESERT PLACES

By OZELLE STEPHENS

Dearly beloved friends, don't always believe every thing you hear just because someone says it is a message from God: test it first to see if it really is. For there are many false teachers around, and the way to find out if their message is from the Holy Spirit is to ask: Does it really agree with Jesus Christ, God's Son actually became man with a human body? If so, then the message is from God. If not, the message is not from God, but from one who is against Christ, like the "Antichrist" you have heard about who is going to come, and his attitude of enmity against Christ is already abroad in the world. (1 John 4:1-3).

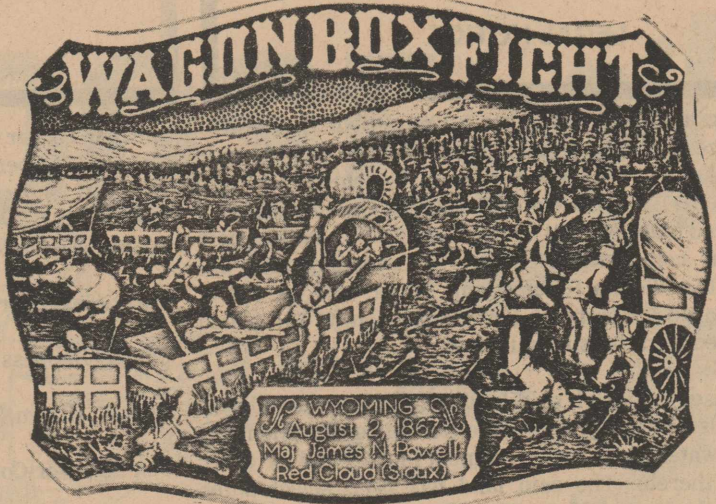

It takes the Pure Love of God in your heart for you to really know the Truth, to have wisdom and understanding how to love your enemies and your neighbor as yourself. No one can have this kind of love until you are born again and have Jesus Christ living in you. "This is Jesus Christ commandment, That you love one another, as I have loved you." (John 15:12).

Interest Grows In Belt Buckle Contest

By Jackie Young, EMS Director

As you know, last week we started a contest to arrive at one design for a belt buckle to celebrate Knox City's 80th birthday. The sample buckle pictured above will give you an idea of the buckles designed from other contests.

I have received many comments about the contest, the main one being: "I can't draw." We are not judging on your artistry, just your design. Just make a square on paper and write in your items if you can't draw. Make sure your entry is legible and write your name, address and phone number on the back of the paper that you send in. Remember, your entry must not be larger than 11x14.

These buckles will be hand-crafted using the "Lost Wax Method" of creating the mold. This type of crafting allows for much greater detail. The Leather Shop in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, are the artisans for the actual buckle.

The buckles will be cast in bronze or silver with gold overlay or in sterling silver. The sterling silver buckles will be sold by social order only.

If you wish to examine some buckles made by the Leather Shop to give you some ideas and to see the great detail and design, come by The Book & Skein at 809 Main in Knox City.

Knox City, according to my studies, is 80 years old this year. We who live here should be proud of our city. In these difficult times, community togetherness and spirit need to thrive. This contest and sale of buckles is an effort to create effort in Knox City and its history. The proceeds from the sale will go towards a new ambulance, which our community needs.

Remember, the deadline is February 22, 1984. The entries must be in our possession no later than that. Mail your entry to Knox City EMS, P.O. Box 446, Knox City, Texas, 79529. School age children and all ages above that are eligible and those who are Knox City residents or former Knox City residents are eligible.

Houndettes Have Busy Week Of Basketball

By Coach Wainscott

Another busy week for basketball for the Houndettes. First of all, they played Paint Creek at Paint Creek. Paint Creek has always played as well at Paint Creek and the Houndettes had to go prepared for a battle. This was accomplished and the Houndettes won 54-42. Then they moved on to Friday and played Rule at Knox City. This proved to be exciting also. The Houndettes pulled out and had a nice lead but Rule slowly worked their way back to make it a closer game. The Houndettes did win 57-49.

This week, they play at Rochester Tuesday and Weinert at Knox City Friday which will have to be a good game for both the girls and boys. The next week will round up the district with Old Glory at Old Glory, hopefully being district runner-up. So they can continue on. The other team to watch in the bi-district will probably be Lueders-Avoca if both Lueders-Avoca and Knox City continue to win.

BUILDING YOUR RETIREMENT IS AS SIMPLE AS A.B.C.

OPEN A TAX-DEFERRED, MONEY-MAKING INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT TODAY AT COMMODORE SAVINGS.

Retirement used to be a taxing situation. But not any longer. Because now, you can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Commodore Savings — the simple-to-understand retirement account that will save you money today so you can enjoy better tomorrows.

Just add up the benefits for yourself:

- All contributions are tax-deferred and 100 percent deductible. You pay no taxes on the money you invest in your IRA or on the interest it earns until you begin taking distribution as early as age 59½.

- Save as little or as much as you want each month. Up to $2,000 a year if you are single and employed. Up to $2,250 a year for a couple where one spouse is employed and the other is not. And up to $4,000 a year for a working couple. Save as little as $10 a month. Even skip a whole year's contributions if you prefer.
- Pay much less tax on your retirement income. By retirement age, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so the taxes you'll pay on your IRA retirement income could be much less than you pay now.
- Almost everyone can qualify. If you are under age 70½ and are earning an income, you qualify for a Commodore IRA, even if you are already participating in another retirement program.

Best of all, the money you put into your IRA earns a guaranteed high compound interest rate. Save $2,000 a year for just 20 years, and your IRA investment could amount to well over $100,000!

Seven different retirement plans are available, including Regular IRA, Spousal IRA, Employer IRA, Rollover IRA, Payroll Deduction IRA, IRA/SEPP and Keogh Plan. Find out which plan is right for you. FIRE DEPARTMENT NEWS

By KEN LAWSON

A new rescue tool was demonstrated to firemen last Monday night at the Lewis Body Shop parking lot.

Another old car was furnished by Tony Rocha for the demonstration. This tool was very impressive due to the working time and the cost. It will power open as well as close the jaws along with having the cutter jaw built in the tool. Some of the other tools we have had demonstrated had a separate cutter tool that had to be bought for total capabilities.

Firemen have set a goal of 8500.00 for the tool and related items needed to make it a complete rescue tool ready to go anywhere at anytime. Some of the members expressed the opinion that if donations were accepted in the form of memorials that this goal could be reached. Many donations have already been received designated for the rescue tool and a separate fund has been established for this. Anyone wishing to donate can contact any of the firemen.

We would like to thank Lewis Body Shop for the use of their lot and to Tony for the car to work on.

qualified for the job? The qualifications to look for are on both a professional and personal basis. Do they have experience that will help them to serve us to the best of their ability?

When you see the candidates, make it a point to come right out and ask them questions, then study their answers closely. For example: if a current office holder seeking re-election has not accomplished much during the last term of office and states that no changes are planned if their re-election bid is successful, that should tell you all you need to know right there.

In short, it is up to each and every one of us to insure the best possible person filling each position that is on the ballots. In studying the different levels of government that directly affect each of us, it is very evident that some changes are very necessary. It is also just as evident that some very hard workers need to be returned to the positions that they have earned not just with votes in the past, but by a lot of hard work on our behalf since the last election. Banishment or reward, it is OUR choice. When you hear someone saying that we should exercise our right to vote, carry it one step further and exercise your right to INVESTIGATE, then vote.

More Shootin' Straight next week.....

Soaring Biplane Adventure Is Announced By Six Flags

Arlington, Texas -- The days of those daring young men in their flying machines are about to be reborn at Six Flags Over Texas.

The Arlington theme park will be the site of a huge, new ride which will send fun-seekers soaring nearly 100 feet into the sky aboard a dozen six-passenger biplanes.

The ride, to be known as the Great Six Flags Air Racer, is scheduled to open in early May. The most prominent feature of the ride will be a tubular steel tower which reaches 135 feet, or nearly 14 stories, into the air.

Stretching out from the tower, like the spokes of a wheel, are massive steel arms from which the biplanes will be suspended on steel cables.

After passengers are seated in the biplanes and secured by lap bars, the spokes, attached to a movable ring, will begin to rotate, rising off the ground and picking up speed as the ring climbs the tower.

The biplanes will tilt upward as the ride begins and will level out at a point about 90 feet above the ground. The cables, four of which will secure each biplane, will begin to lengthen.

The aircraft will be traveling in an 80-foot circle near the takeoff point, and will be traveling at 36 miles an hour in a 150-foot circle by the time they reach their highest point.

At full speed, each biplane will be banked 56 degrees, and riders will feel a force of 1.8 G's.

The biplanes will level off at the peak of the ride, then tilt their noses downward for the descent. Cables controlling the aircraft will shorten as the descent begins.

Near the base of the ride, the spokes will slow to a halt and the biplanes will be gently lowered to the unloading position.

Six Flags' General Manager Ray Williams said, "The Great Six Flags Air Racer will be a ride that the whole family can enjoy. It will be a very convincing simulation of a ride in the open cockpit of a barnstormer's biplane."

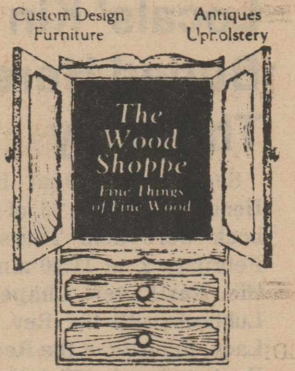

He continued, "It's an exciting ride that will provide plenty of thrills in a very safe environment."

Williams said the Air Racer will be equipped with safety systems controlled by two computers, one of which will monitor the actions of the other and serve as a backup system.

The Great Six Flags Air Racer will occupy the former site of the park's Caddo Indian War Canoe ride. An island has been built in the center of the canoe lake to accommodate the Air Racer.

Williams said the foundation for the ride has already been poured, using more than 1,000 tons of concrete. The ride structure will contain more than 180 tons of steel.

The Great Six Flags Air Racer is being built in Switzerland. It will undergo extensive testing prior to its May opening. Six Flags Over Texas begins its 1984 season on March 10.

Everything You Always Wanted To Know About Radioactive Waste Disposal ★

★ but nobody bothered to tell, until now.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In recent issues of the News, information has been passed on to readers about efforts to locate a radioactive waste disposal site in this area. A lot of questions have been raised as citizen awareness and concern over this issue grows. In response to the questions, Rob Harrison has agreed to furnish information in six articles to be published in The Knox County News. The following is the fourth of the series.)

In November, the 'Authority' presented the dump site plans to the residents of Baylor County and had a very impressive slide presentation about the issue. If one had a soda water and popcorn, he might really have enjoyed the show. But if you listened there were several things that didn't add up to suit some of the audience. Several times during the presentation, they sneered and laughed at the moderator. One person asked after the meeting if the 'authorities' thought they were talking to first graders.

The complex will be situated on a large parcel of land, somewhere between 300 and 400 acres. The number varies according to whom you talk and at what time of day it is. The actual dump will be on 50 acres surrounded by the remaining acreage to serve as a buffer zone. There are several out buildings for storage of equipment and an administration building. The complex will be surrounded by a chain link fence eight feet high. There is only one gate into the complex by which vehicles can enter and visitors have to go through a security check. (That may be the job to have, I doubt that people will be knocking down the door to get in to see.) They stated that a wash rack was on the complex to wash the trucks before they went back on the highway. They quickly pointed out this was not a decontamination facility. This comment brought about the loudest laugh and jeer of the evening. (Truck contamination will be discussed in future articles.) And of course there were more details than could possibly be listed here.

The 'Authority' has gone to great lengths to try to fool mother nature. As research was being done, I couldn't help but think about Murphy's Law, "If anything can go wrong, it will", but Sullivan's Law really shook me up, which says "Murphy's Law is far too optimistic". Clearly the scientific community has exceeded its capabilities with nuclear related matter and the resulting by products.

Anyway the 'Authority' has all these elaborate plans to safeguard their project, i.e. ground water, rainfall runoff, etc. Here are some facts that punch holes in their plans pertaining to water problems at the dump site. A term they used a lot in the siting criteria was 'engineered barriers' and as far as can be determined, they have never really explained what this is, that will prevent water from acting like water.

Originally six commercial dump sites were operating in the United States. Because of water infiltration into the burial trenches and erosion, three of these dumps have been closed. The closed sites are located at Sheffield, Ill., Maxey Flats, Ky., and West Valley, N.Y. (I have wondered how far that is from Love Canal, but haven't looked yet). The three dumps that are open are at Barnwell, S.C., Beatty, Nev., and Hanford, Wash. State and federal agencies claim water infiltration into the trenches has been a result of water percolating down through the trench covers. These trench covers are clay caps on the top. The 'Authroity' has stated a cover of clay 15 feet thick will protect the contents from water infiltration. Apparently no one has bothered to tell these 'Authorities' that when moist clay dries out, cracks develop and then at the next rain, water will fall or run into these cracks before water saturates the clay and it closes up. Clearly water will and has gotten into these trenches. At Sheffield, Ill., the burial ground is etched by eroded fissures and gullies some of up to three feet deep. At West Valley, N.Y. the banks of local streams are eroding back into the burial grounds. Eventually the contents of the burial grounds will be exposed by the process. At Maxey Flats, KY., surface erosion has been such a major problem that the entire site is now being covered by a giant plastic membrane in an attempt to retard the erosion. In any area of high precipitation, water infiltration will be a chronic problem. But the 'Authority' seems to turn a deaf ear at the springtime gully washers in Knox County and surrounding areas that occur annually and those occasionally in the fall.

In the past the thought was more clay on the trenches. At West Valley, this remedial action has not been effective. A few years after the cover was increased from four to eight feet of clay on top, water again infiltrated the trenches. In one instance, more than 126,000 gallons of water had accumulated in the trenches, with the 'improved' covers. Thus far, 3,000,000 gallons of water have entered the trenches at West Valley. Sixteen to thirty-two foot high covers have been considered but not yet used. The effectiveness of plastic covers at Maxey Flats will not be known for several years.

Along with plastic covers, concrete covers have been considered but the perennial slumping and sinking of waste inside the trenches like wood, cardboard, and rusting steel containers will cause problems. The Nuclear Regulatory Commission and utilities claim that neat stacking will solve the problem. But this theory ignores the limited lifetime of steel drums, 10 to 15 years, compared to the 300 year or more lifetime of waste inside the trenches. The industry might could use plastic containers instead of steel drums which in a non-corrosive dry environment 'might' last longer. But such containers are considerably more expensive and not yet in use.

Another important fact that must be considered is that water enters a trench not only through the cover but the side walls as well, if a permeable strata intersects the side wall. This permeable strata can be tiny layers of water bearing formations such as sand. Even these tiny layers can allow large quantities of water to enter the trenches over a period of time.

Next article will discuss the clay dump ground, and about the chemical properties of clay and radiation. Don't worry, it won't be technical as it may sound. But some interesting facts will be brought out.

Letter To The Editor

P.O. Box 338
Chillicothe, Texas

Dear Editor,

Neal (Lanny) Logan, assistant principal of McKenzie Junior High, Lubbock, Texas, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Logan of Knox City, was instrumental in saving the lives of three Lubbock citizens Thursday morning, February 2, one of the coaches of McKenzie Junior High failed to report for work and had not called to say he would be absent. After several attempts at trying to contact the coach by phone, Mr. Logan went to the residence to check on them. He found their cars at home and the house locked. He tried to get an answer at front and back doors, and after 15 minutes he finally saw Mrs. Stamps leaning against the wall. He began beating harder and calling her to open the door. After much effort she made it to the door and managed to get the front door open, then collapsed in Mr. Logan's arms. He got her outside and rushed back in the house to find Mr. Stamps and the nine month old daughter. He called the Emergency Medical Service, the police, and fire department. They were rushed to the hospital for treatment of carbon monoxide gas poisoning. Mr. Stamps is listed in guarded condition on Thursday evening and Mrs. Stamps and daughter are in good condition.

Since Neal (Lanny) Logan is from Knox City, I thought you might be interested in this news item.

Sincerely,
George Gatewood

Conservation Essay Winners Are Named

Winners of the 1984 Conservation Essay Contest were named by board members of the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District at their regular meeting Friday in Knox City. The Conservation Essay Contest is sponsored each year by the District to educate future agricultural producers in the conservation of agricultural resources.

The top three winners that will compete in the State Contest are Becky Underwood, Knox City High School, grand champion; Wilda Smith, Munday High School, champion; and Tammy Tischler, Benjamin High School, reserve champion. These three winners will receive a trophy, a cash award, and a ticket to the Conservation Awards Banquet in May. In addition, the winning essays will be forwarded to the Area V State Contest in Stephenville this spring.

Members of the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District congratulate the winners and thank all students who participated.

The following is Becky's winning Essay.

LEGACY OF MANKIND
Soil conservation is one of the most essential projects our nation has undertaken in this century. Preservation of the soil, one of our most valuable natural resources, is crucial to production of food and means of shelter for future generations.

Man survives by the rotation of a delicately balanced food cycle. This entire cycle is based chiefly on growth and reproduction of plant life, which is consumed by man and animals that man consumes, that cannot survive without minerals and other supplements the soil provides. Logically, it follows that not only plants, but man himself, is affected directly and indirectly by unnecessary erosion and/or sapping of the soil's rich nutrients.

One might wonder why soil conservation is still considered a top priority, in light of progressive scientific discoveries. Could food not be grown by hydroponics, use of supplemented water and no soil, to fill the demands of the world? Perhaps, with long-term, expensive expansion. But, how could one possibly construct laboratories or plant centers large enough to germinate and nurture entire forests to supply enough lumber for shelter, paper, turpentine, rubber, and countless other products derived from soil-nourished trees? Such a task would be impossible.

Soil conservationists spend their lives in a day-to-day battle against erosion by wind and rain, and loss of precious minerals by excessive use and abuse of the soil. Education and participation of Americans is necessary, for the conservationist cannot preserve the soil himself—he can only work with the hope that he will be able to depend on the cooperation of the people to insure that his struggle is worthwhile.

It is up to the American people to pass on its natural resources intact. One must remember, the soil and all it produces are a legacy to countless generations to come; a gift money cannot buy. Only time and effort can help retain this most precious possession, the soil—and the survival of mankind.

Mayonnaise Safe In Sandwiches

By L. Jane Locknane
County Extension Agent-
Home Economics

Each morning thousands of mayonnaise-loving people trudge off to school and work carrying their brown bag lunches—and sandwiches with no mayonnaise. Why? Because one of the commonest misconceptions about food safety is the idea that mayonnaise is dangerous.

Many people are convinced that mayonnaise increases the chance of food poisoning, and should not be used where refrigeration is inadequate or nonexistent. In fact, experiments and studies show that mayonnaise helps prevent the growth of harmful bacteria.

In the United States mayonnaise is a standardized food whose composition is specified by the government. Vegetable oil comprises 65% of the finished product and the remaining 35% consists of vinegar, lemon and/or lime juice, and egg yolk or whole eggs. In addition, manufacturers are allowed to add salt, spices, flavor enhancers and preservatives.

The result of the mixture is a rather acidic substance which is a hostile environment in which harmful bacteria cannot grow.

This should not be interpreted to mean that a spoonful of mayonnaise in a sandwich will provide total and absolute protection against any kind of abuse.

So just because you take your lunch in a brown bag doesn't mean you have to "hold the mayo" on your sandwich.
