

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Sandinista and Contra negotiators are heading back to the bargaining table to determine the areas where rebel fighters will gather during the cease-fire called for in the accord signed last week.

The talks, scheduled for today in the southern outpost of Sapoa, also may consider the issue of when the U.S.-supported Contras lay down their arms.

On Sunday, the leftist Sandinista government fulfilled the first part of the cease-fire accord by freeing 100 political prisoners under an amnesty program. Most of them are accused Contra rebels.

Afterward, Interior Minister Tomas Borge called the amnesty "possibly the beginning of the end of the (6-year-old) war," and he called for the Contras to release Nicaraguan peasants its troops had kidnapped.

After celebrating Palm Sunday Mass, Roman Catholic Cardinal Miguel Obando y Bravo called the prisoner release "very positive."

Q — Can I still register to vote for the May elections here?
A — Yes. The deadline to register is April 7 in order to vote for the city council, school board and college board races as well as the city bond election related to TDC utility lines.

Texaco is ready to close door on past troubles

HOUSTON (AP) — Texaco Inc., which is preparing to emerge from bankruptcy, will be a dramatically different company from the one that sought protection from creditors almost a year ago, the oil giant's president says.

Co. for $10.1 billion in January 1984. Houston's Pennzoil Co. sued Texaco for interfering in a proposed merger between Getty and Pennzoil and obtained an $11.1 billion judgment against Texaco in a 1985 state district court trial.

Tax penalty fees returned by court

Scurry County commissioners Monday morning granted a refund for penalties and interest charged to a Snyder company because of a clerical error in the tax billing phase.

Wilson said his company was mistakenly not billed for property taxes on two parcels of its land — a bill that was sent instead to a Houston firm with a similar name, Trans Tex Realtors, which also owns property here.

nothing about the mix-up until receiving a notice of the penalties and interest earlier this month.

The new Texaco will be more aggressive, more competitive, more efficient and more profitable, Kinnear said.

Local critical after mishap
A 25-year-old Snyder man remained in critical condition in the intensive care unit of St. Mary's of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock Monday morning after suffering head injuries in a one-vehicle accident reported early Saturday in Hale County.

Scurry speller ends in bee's fifth place

Twelve-year-old Kim Mitchell, Scurry County's entry in the 36th annual Regional Spelling Bee in Lubbock, finished fifth overall out of 12 contestants at the meet Saturday.

Wilson said his company was mistakenly not billed for property taxes on two parcels of its land — a bill that was sent instead to a Houston firm with a similar name, Trans Tex Realtors, which also owns property here.

Trial near sentencing

At noon Monday, aggravated kidnapping defendant Grady Davis was awaiting sentencing in the punishment phase of his trial that began in 132nd District Court last Monday morning.

Hermleigh advances to 3rd one-act event

Hermleigh's one-act play, "The Small World of Millie McGiver," advanced from district competition last Friday and will go on to the area contest at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene on April 9 — a Saturday.

Detached retina wasn't diagnosed

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our son is autistic. He was kicked in the face and was examined by an emergency-room doctor, who found no problem. Now, three weeks later, we find that he is blind in one eye because of a detached retina. Is this something that should have been visible in the emergency room?

DEAR READER: Although a detached retina is usually difficult to see using standard equipment in an emergency room, it can be diagnosed by an ophthalmologist, using special devices. Ordinarily, patients with detached retinas complain of visual difficulties; they speedily obtain satisfactory consultation from an eye specialist.

In your son's case, his autism apparently made him unable to explain his vision difficulty; therefore, the ER doctor missed the retinal problem. This is unfortunate but understandable. It's impossible for me to say whether the three-week wait made any appreciable difference in the final outcome.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 22, female and consider myself healthy and pretty well-adjusted, although I am a bit shy. I've developed what I call a bashful kidney at work. Try as I might, I can't urinate if someone else is in an adjoining stall. I guess the idea of having my co-workers hear embarrasses me. What would help me overcome this problem?

DEAR READER: This type of muscle spasm, a consequence of nerve messages stemming from embarrassment, can be difficult to overcome. It usually disappears with time — and with age — as we become less shy about body functioning.

I suggest that you visit a public restroom only when your bladder is full and you have a definite urge to void. In this circumstance, the natural tendency to eliminate will overcome your "bashful kidney." Other tricks include running water in the sink, concentrating on the job at hand, eliminating extraneous sounds next to you, and trying to relax. Admittedly, some of these tactics may be difficult to use in a public restroom. Above all, don't talk yourself into being unable to urinate; this will simply add to a cycle of stress and nervous spasm.

Because this is a problem common to young women and men, I'd welcome comments from readers who may have discovered their own solutions to this inconvenience.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report on ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE discusses symptoms, management and new studies of this tragic and irreversible disease. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Drug dogs raise some questions

LAS CRUCES (AP) — Three drug-sniffing dogs assigned to the U.S. Border Patrol's El Paso sector helped in the seizure of more than $1 million in drugs, chemicals and drug-business cash during January and February, authorities said.

"It's definitely added to our workload," said Freddie Ortega, agent in charge of the Las Cruces Drug Enforcement Administration office. "We're probably 100 to 150 percent over our caseload at this time last year, although you can't credit it all to the dogs."

But the recent assignment of the dogs to the sector that includes all of New Mexico and three west Texas counties has raised questions about the Border Patrol's power to search vehicles at its checkpoints.

The dogs, two Belgian Malinois and a Dutch shepherd, are based in Las Cruces and Alamogordo and in Sierra Blanca, Texas, although they may appear anywhere in the sector's 85,000 square miles.

Permanent checkpoints divert traffic from highways west of Las Cruces, south and west of Alamogordo and north of Truth or Consequences.

Congress gave the Border Patrol new authority to enforce drug laws as part of Operation Alliance, the federal effort to coordinate anti-drug forces.

But some criminal lawyers contend the Border Patrol is ignoring constitutional protections against improper search and seizure.

"If you're not a white guy in a tie with local license plates, you stand a good chance of being stopped, even momentarily, and being questioned," Las Cruces lawyer Michael Lilley said. "Many of us are having to justify our travels when we have a constitutional right to travel in this country.

"The drug-sniffing dogs are just the latest tool in the war on drugs or an assault on individual liberties, depending on how you look at it."

Officers are empowered under current law to conduct a thorough search of a vehicle if they have a warrant issued by a judge, an owner's consent to the search or probable cause to believe a crime is being committed in the officer's presence. A reasonable suspicion that a crime might be occurring is sufficient for a limited search.

Courts have ruled that the government's power to question people entering the country extends to highway checkpoints away from the border. The initial question normally is, "Of what country are you a citizen?"

District Attorney Douglas Driggers in Las Cruces said the federal checkpoints are like state drunken-driver roadblocks, which he said are legal if consistent procedures are followed.

He said drug-sniffing dogs are an important element in the process that makes a search legal.

"As long as those agents are following guidelines set up by Operation Alliance, I am in full support of their efforts," Driggers said. "I'm real pleased with the guidelines and am confident the Supreme Court will find them constitutional."

The dogs are trained by a government contractor, Global Academy of San Antonio, Texas, to respond to certain scents.

Agents continue to train the dogs in the field. Every six months a dog must be recertified and show it can maintain a level of 80-percent accuracy.

Lilley and Houston attorney Terry Collins have questioned the ability of dogs to find drugs.

Dear Abby

Vasectomy Was No Answer To This Family's Planning

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have a message for "Angry," who feels that her husband is selfish for refusing to have a vasectomy. I was in the same situation after our second child was born. We had a boy and a girl and agreed that our family was complete, so I asked my husband to have a vasectomy.

He agreed, but his heart wasn't in it. The arrangements were made, and I prepped him for the operation the night before. When we arrived at the hospital, the nurse gave us reading material and consent forms to sign. We read about the surgery procedure, discomforts to be expected, the possible complications, follow-up visits, etc.

Ten minutes later, the nurse came in and said, "Mr. Smith, are you ready?" When my husband replied "Yes," I noticed that his voice was pitched about two octaves higher than normal. At this point I realized that he was doing this just for me, so I said, "What do you say we go get some breakfast and forget this whole thing?"

That did it! He bolted for the door, and with a look of undying gratitude in his eyes, kept saying, "Thank you, thank you" over and over. He didn't even care when he was itching to death while his hair grew back!

Shortly after, I had a tubal ligation. There was no pain, no swelling, no loss of work, and best yet, no weekly sperm checks.

I would have advised "Angry" to have a tubal ligation, and leave the family jewels alone. A vasectomy is not for every man. Trust me.

BEEN THERE IN MICHIGAN

DEAR BEEN THERE: I think you are a living doll for standing by your man as you have, but I fear that your testimonial may have done for women's lib what Jimmy Bakker and Jimmy Swaggart have done for television ministries.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, 21, is pregnant by a boy she's been going with for five years (He's also 21). They both work and go to school, but don't have much money. My daughter has decided not to get married right now. She's keeping the baby.

My parents came over last night and went into a two-hour harangue, telling me I should force my daughter to get married right away! They said they were embarrassed about what their friends and neighbors would say. They told me that I was a lousy mother and had no morals. They also said if the boy's parents were decent people, they would force their son to marry the girl.

What do you think?
MOTHER IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR MOTHER: You don't say whether your daughter and the baby's father plan to marry eventually, but it's apparent that your daughter is in no rush to get married. Your parents have no right to call you a lousy mother and denigrate your morals. While I agree, it would make a prettier picture for friends and neighbors if your expectant daughter were married, you cannot "force" a 21-year-old to do anything.

DEAR ABBY: Our teen age daughter has been corresponding with a pen pal her age in England. We would like to invite the pen pal to come and visit us this summer.

My question: Would it be considered improper for us not to offer to pay her plane fare?

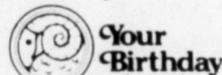

PENNSYLVANIA PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: No. An invitation to visit does not imply "paid transportation." Since these pen pals are teen-agers, I suggest that you either telephone or write to the girl's parents and make the invitation official.

"How to Write Letters for All Occasions" provides sample letters of congratulations, invitations, "thank-yous," condolences, regrets, acceptances, resumes and business letters — even how to write a love letter! It shows the proper way to address clergymen, government officials, dignitaries, widows and others. To order, send your name and address, clearly printed, plus check or money order for $2.99 ($3.99 in Canada) to: Abby's Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Postage and handling are included.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When mixing socially with influential people today, make your presence felt. The impressions you make now will be of value later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Some interesting changes are now stirring that will prove to be to your ultimate benefit. They'll be brought about by others, not through your efforts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It may be easier for you to get your mate to agree with your ideas today than it will be tomorrow. Corner him/her and make your presentation.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You should do rather well today in your commercial dealings if you negotiate from your strengths. Visualize yourself in the driver's seat and maintain that image.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone may try to discourage you today from attempting something that fizzes for him/her. This doesn't mean that it won't work out well for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Follow your own hunches today regarding the way you feel an important matter should be handled. Your insights appear to be on target.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Things should work out to your satisfaction today in your dealing with people who possess a practical outlook. Don't waste time with flighty individuals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your financial aspects look encouraging today. If you're presently involved in an arrangement that could make or save you money, give it top priority.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually it's unwise to attempt to handle several matters simultaneously, but today could be an exception. The more you have to do, the better you're likely to perform.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a possibility that someone who owes you a debt that you have written off might now want to make amends. This person might rectify the matter today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Two heads are often better than one. If you are presently mulling over an important decision, talk it over in detail today with your mate.

M&F Plastic Pipe has variety of sizes

M & F Plastic Pipe is your locally owned dealer for polyethylene pipe, sales and rental, with a wide range of sizes and pressure ratings.

Polyethylene pipe is now replacing steel pipe and PVC pipe in many areas. It is much more versatile than PVC and more economical than steel. It's flexibility makes it easier to handle, therefore saving you time and labor. The durability of this pipe has been proven under all kinds of weather conditions and it can be re-spooled and re-laid several times without damage to the pipe.

They have spooling trailers, reel trailers and a spooling truck to handle pipe up to three inches. Pipe that is four inches or larger comes in joints and must be laid by hand. It's "welded" together by using an electric iron that melts each end of the pipe and then it fuses when put together. This eliminates the worry about leaks from bad threads or not being tight enough such as in steel pipe or the hassle of cleaning and gluing as in PVC.

Poly pipe can be used for water lines in homes, stock tanks, water wells, water supply for drilling, transfer lines, gas lines or production flow lines.

They will lay new or used pipe, provide you with valves, fittings, ditching, etc. to suit your needs and will also repair your lines, relocate it or replace it if needed.

M & F Plastic Pipe is owned and operated by Ricky and Teresa Trammell. Please feel free to call them or Darby K. Scott, manager, for prices or information at 573-8612.

Fumes ignite on airplane

DETROIT (AP) — A Northwest Airlines jet was evacuated when fuel vapors briefly ignited, sparking what passengers thought was a fire and closing the airport for 20 minutes, authorities said. Four people were slightly injured.

Flight 288, originating in San Diego with 144 passengers and seven crew members aboard, landed safely at 8:20 p.m. Sunday at Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, about 20 miles west of Detroit.

As the Boeing 727 waited for clearance to taxi to its gate, residual fuel in the exhaust system of the auxiliary power unit sparked a "flash" on the plane's right wing, Northwest spokesman William Wren said.

It was immediately extinguished without damage to the plane, Wren said.

The flash was seen by a controller in the airport tower.

Confessed killer is given custody of his daughters

EAST DUBUQUE, Ill. (AP) — A judge's decision to reunite two girls with their father three years after they watched him strangle their mother has touched off a new custody fight and public outrage against the judge.

"I guess the bottom line is whether or not it's OK to kill your wife in front of your children," says Gene Tranel of Eldridge, Iowa, brother of the 26-year-old victim, Carol Lutgen.

Tranel, who took in his nieces, Tracy, 11, and Dana, 10, while James Lutgen served a 20-month prison term, is fighting to get them back.

But Lutgen's lawyer, William Schirger, says the case has been blown out of proportion in this small Mississippi River town.

"The kids are not in any danger. Jim loves the girls and they love him. They asked the judge to let them live with him," Schirger said.

Lutgen, 33, pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter for the Dec. 21, 1984, death of his wife at the family home in tiny Menominee, in the northwest corner of Illinois.

Two original murder counts against Lutgen were reduced after the court ruled his daughters were too young to testify as witnesses to their mother's death.

The Lutgens were on the verge of a breakup as the 1984 holiday season approached. "She didn't love Jim no more," recalled Lutgen's mother, Grace. "They were separating the day after Christmas. He was broken up about it."

The couple's fatal battle was fueled by Lutgen's belief that his wife was seeing another man, his mother said, although the fight was sparked by a disagreement over whether to take the girls shopping and skating.

As the girls looked on, verbal attack became physical confrontation.

"I picked the girls up afterward and they told me ... they had seen part of the fight," Mrs. Lutgen said. "They said they were pushing and grabbing each other around the neck."

Lutgen was released from prison in October 1986 and regained custody of his daughters last Dec. 29.

The Jo Daviess County judge who made the custody decision, Eric DeMar of Galena, has borne the brunt of the public outcry since Lutgen regained his daughters.

DeMar has been attacked by mail, over the telephone and in newspaper articles and editorials.

"A judge can't always make a popular decision and that certainly is the truth in this case," he said.

"The law and the facts in the case left me no choice," he added, noting that the U.S. Supreme Court has placed a high priority on parental rights in custody cases.

Lutgen, a cement finisher in the construction business, has not responded to requests for comment. But his mother says she believes there is no risk to the girls.

"I check on them several times a week. I'd never let anything happen to them. They love their Dad," she said.

Lutgen has continued to have family troubles. His mother said he and the girls moved out of her house to one of his two brothers' homes after an argument with her last month.

Meanwhile, Tranel has fought Lutgen's request for custody of the girls. He filed a wrongful death lawsuit against his former brother-in-law and is appealing DeMar's custody decision.

"It seems to me to be so basically, morally wrong for the children to go back to their parent in a case like this," said Tranel, who has visitation rights.

"Is that person a fit and proper parent?" Tranel asked. "How can you get your children back and go on like nothing happened?"

Stretching to game

By James Jacoby

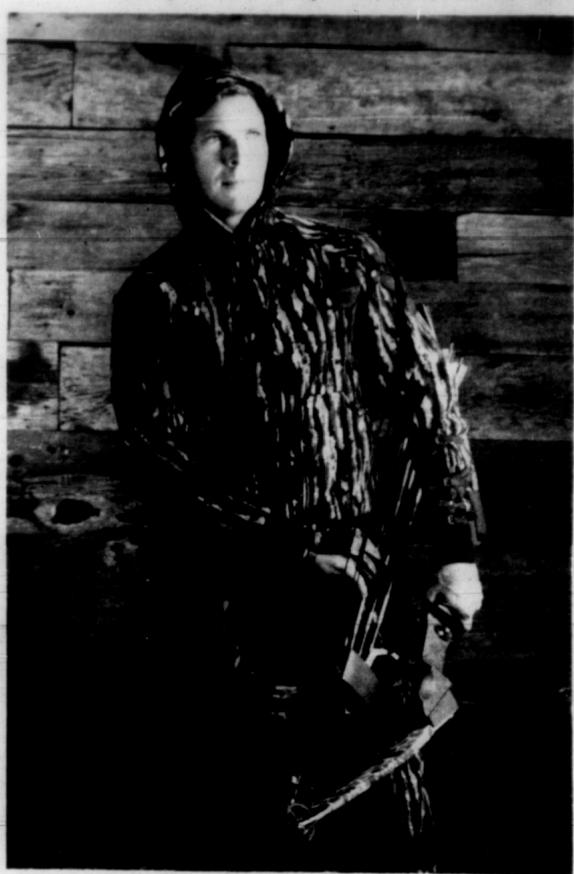

Team-of-four bridge is scored very much like rubber bridge in that decent bonuses exist for bidding and making games and slams. Overtricks count very little, but making the contract is crucial. This is particularly true when you have bid to a "thin" game.

Despite the six-card club suit, South opened one no-trump. He had honors in all suits outside of clubs, and his primary club suit would likely be a good source of tricks in no-trump. North had invitational game values, particularly if opener held four in either major, so he bid two clubs (the Stayman convention) to ask for a major. It was a slight overbid for South to go on to three no-trump with only 15 high-card points, but justified at team-of-four play because of the six-card club suit.

Although the diamond suit was the weak point in the North-South armor, West made the logical lead of his long heart suit. Declarer won the king and returned the jack. When West played low, South overtook the jack with dummy's queen. Although West now had three good hearts (the A-10-5) to cash if South's finesse against the king of clubs failed, that would still not set the contract. And playing dummy's queen on the heart jack put the lead in dummy so that South could take the club finesse without having to release the spade ace. Of course, since the club king was onside, declarer took 10 tricks, with only 23 high-card points in the combined hands.

Walls offers apparel for outdoorsmen

CLEBURNE—Walls Industries, the nation's leading manufacturer of hunting apparel, has joined with the leading hitech fleece fabric producer, Malden Mills Industries, to offer the ultimate in warm, durable, and extremely quiet fleece apparel for hunters.

Walls new fleece hooded jacket and pants feature a special out-fabric of Polartuff, the newest addition to Malden's Polar systems collection of durable fleeced fabrics, that provides unmatched quietness in the field. Geared for the outdoorsman, the fabric also offers maximum warmth with minimum weight, resilience to water, and won't pill, stiffen, or crack in extreme cold weather.

In addition to being super quiet, the fleece fabric offers excellent concealment thanks to Realtree camouflage, a new vertical cam pattern. Together, the fleece fabric and innovative camouflage make Walls' fleece apparel a superior choice for hunting, especially bowhunting.

Like all Walls rugged hunting apparel, the new fleece hooded jacket and pants have many built in conveniences to enhance a hunter's comfort. For extra warmth, the jacket has a bulky knit waistband and cuffs on easy fitting raglan sleeves, a protective hood, plus a non-reflective zip front. Ample pocket space is found in two large patch pockets.

Walls' fleece pants are full cut with an elastic back waistband and non-reflective front zip fly with a snap closure. For extra convenience, the pants feature two deep front pockets, an extra hip pocket, and a handy bow rest pocket.

Walls' fleece hooded jacket and pants are available in a wide variety of sizes, all machine washable.

Snyder boys at San Angelo...

Points few but effort good

SAN ANGELO -- Charles Guynes vaulted 12-feet to grab Snyder's only points in the San Angelo Relays here Friday and Saturday.

Guynes placed fifth to net 2 points for the young Tiger team. Coach Kevin Wiseman was not displeased with the Tigers, despite the low output.

"It looks like we didn't do anything, but really, we had a pretty good meet. Overall, I was pleased," he said. Snyder's young team couldn't handle what amounted to some of the area's top competition, but the coach saw some marked improvement. The Tiger 1600 relay team ran a 3:33 - some nine seconds better than it had up until Saturday.

"That would have won a medal in some of the meets we've been in," said Wiseman. "Everybody improved their individual split, so I was real pleased with their effort."

Running were Jason Presley, Craig Watkins, Paul Anderson and Shelby Bufkin, who made his first appearance since recovering from an early-season injury.

"Our milers did a little better. Luis Alaniz ran a 4:57 mile which was faster than some they took (to the finals). They just took the top six in each heat. Luis was seventh in his heat but his time was better than some of the guys who qualified from the other heat," noted the coach.

Big Spring won a shootout with Monahans for the Division II title at the relays. The Steers, led by Brian Mayfield, grabbed 101 points to Monahans' 91. Granbury was third with 61, followed by Canyon with 49. Sixteen teams were entered.

Mayfield won the high jump with a 6-8 effort and also the 300 intermediate hurdles with a 39.70 clocking.

Other highlights featuring area teams included Charles Thompson's 21.80 time which won the 200 meters for Monahans, and the 100 meters race. Thompson matched up with Lamesa's Gerry Woodberry in the sprint, and the Golden Tor senior captured the prize with a 10.60. Thompson ran a 10.66.

Snyder will gear up again this Saturday, April 2, to run in the Breckenridge Relays.

Juggled relays give effort but low score for Grimmitt's girls

LEVELLAND -- Some makeshift relay teams made for a hectic day at the Levelland Girl's Invitational Track Meet here Saturday, but Snyder coach Patty Grimmitt was pleased with the way her Lady Tigers performed.

"We were without Melody (Pickering) anyway and right before we got ready to run Michelle Pilgrim pulled up," said Coach Grimmitt.

Grimmitt recruited Becky Becerra, Robbie Braziel and Kelli Rodgers to fill gaps left in the relays. Snyder's times weren't as competitive as in recent weeks, but the effort was strong, noted the coach.

"Shannon (Warren) was really the only one running where she had been in the both the 400 and 800 relays," said Grimmitt. "I was real proud because we didn't have time at all to prepare. For last minute rearranging, I thought the girls stepped in did a good job."

Snyder was third in the 1600 relay with a 4:30 clocking. Its 1600 squad was sixth with a 2:00.10 and its 400 team was fourth with a 55.65.

The Lady Tigers managed 58 points to place fifth in the single-day meet, which was won by Hereford's 126.

Snyder's top point producers were Melissa Williams and Nichole Overman. Overman ran in the 400 and 1600 relays, and placed first in the 100 intermediate hurdles with a 16.5 clocking.

Williams ran on the 1600 relay, and was third in both the high jump and 300 meters. She cleared 4-10 in the jump, and ran a 2:42.73 in the distance race. She also placed sixth in the 400 meters.

Dana Fenton, another member of the relays, also helped the team with a fourth-place, 67.34 time in the 400 meters.

Coach Albert Lewis' Tigers resume their efforts to break into the District 2-4A baseball win column as they trek to Monahans for a 7 p.m. ballgame Tuesday.

The Tigers will play their next home game at 1 p.m. Saturday by hosting Big Spring.

Off to good start in spring...

Western wins WTSU Rodeo

CANYON -- Coach Bob Doty's Western Texas College team, which had struggled during the fall, started off the spring season with a whoop and a holler here Sunday, winning the West Texas State University NIRA Rodeo.

A couple of no-scores in the finals kept the Westerners from winning big. As it was, Doty's troops nipped Sul Ross State University 290 points to 280. Tarleton State took third with 155, followed by Howard College with 145.

Doty was pleased with the win, but wanted more. "We did good but not good enough Thursday, Friday and Saturday were chickens but Sunday was feathers," he laughed. "No, really I was pleased our men's team won. I was disappointed we didn't have 400 points when it was all over, though."

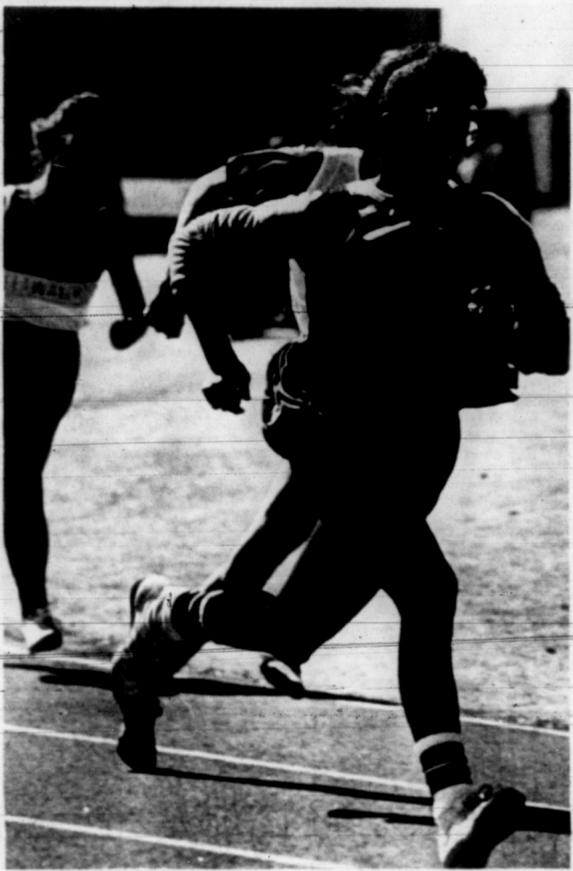

Tarleton won the women's division with 150 points. West Texas State had 130. Western Texas failed to point after qualifying only one team member to Sunday's finals.

Western Texas men were led by hometown cowboy Adam Brewster, whose 100-point effort put him second in the all-around competition to Todd Watkins of Sul Ross. Watkins scored 125 points for SRSU.

Brewster won the long-go in the bareback with a 73, then scored a 64 in the finals to finish fourth overall with a 137. He was also third in the average of the bull riding with a 144 after scoring a 71 in the finals.

Teammate Michael Gaffney picked up points in the bull riding with his top score of 82 in the long-go. Gaffney bucked off in the finals, however.

Western also picked up 105 points in the saddle bronc with Wesley Henderson, who won the average with a 142. Henderson, not eligible in the all-around because he only competed in one event, also won the long-go with a 72, and tied for first in the finals with Watkins and WTC's Jim Blain Kenney. All three had 70s.

WTC's other points came in the team roping, where Clyde Himes teamed with Barry Byrd for second place in the in the long-go with a 8.3 clocking. They timed a second-place 9.3 in the finals, and took second in the average with a 17.6. WTC received only half of the points awarded to the duo because Byrd was not a designated team member.

Himes reached the finals of the steer wrestling, but a no-time there left him out of the points.

"We had some opportunities that I wish we could have taken advantage of," said Doty. "I didn't expect Michael to buck off in the (finals of the) bull riding. He just got a real hard ride and he bucked off. It can happen anytime. I was hoping Adam would do a little better in the bareback, and it would have been nice if Clyde (Himes) had gotten some points in the steer wrestling. He got to his steer real quick but it got away from him."

Western put only one women's team member in the finals, Jessie Colburn. She entered the barrel race with a 14.63 time but

Tigers fifth in net tourney

Alfred Brice and Michael Rodriguez took third place in boys doubles at the final event of the Snyder Team Tennis Tournament here Saturday, helping the Tigers to a fifth place overall finish.

Brice and Rodriguez defeated Big Spring's Tuff Wennick and Binky Tubb 4-6, 7-5, 6-3 to capture third and add 18 points to Snyder's total. Lake View won with 114 points. Canyon was second with 113, Odessa High third with 107, Hereford fourth with 99 and Snyder fifth with 92.

Also competing were Big Spring with 83 points, Sweetwater with 71, Plainview with 60, Colorado City with 31 and Snyder junior varsity with 26.

Rodriguez and Brice had earlier lost in the semifinals to clocked a 15.27 to finish out of the points in the finals.

WTC student Melanie Graf also reached the finals in the barrels with a fourth-place 14.55. She was 14.57 in the finals, also fourth, and was fourth in the average with a 29.12.

Graf was not a member of the three-woman WTC team, and her points could not be added to the team total.

Graf was one of a number of WTC students who entered the competition but were not designated team members. Buddy Reed, for instance, took second in the long-go of the bull riding with a 79. He bucked off in the finals. Lance Luttrell was third in the long-go of the calf roping with a 9.8. He also placed third in the short-go with an 11.5 and was third in the average with a combined 21.3.

Shawn Goemmer was third in the long-go of the saddle bronc with a 67. He scored a 62 in the finals and tied for third in the average.

Steve Roberts also reached the finals of the saddle bronc with a

Lady linksters 4th at district tourney

Coach Penny Hughes' Lady Tigers got out of the starting block in District 2-4A competition here Saturday and placed fourth at Snyder Country Club.

The next 18-hole district match is scheduled for Friday in Monahans. A shotgun start is set for 9:30 a.m.

"We didn't play as well as we have in the past but we're not so far out of second that we can't make it up," said Coach Hughes, whose ladies shot a 439.

Andrews swept the tournament by winning first place with its A-team, which shot a runaway 386, and its B-team which turned in a 426. Big Spring was third with a 434, followed by Snyder A. Fort Stockton and Monahans shot 451s, Lamesa a 473 and Snyder B a 499.

Andrews was paced by medalist Jen Galloway, who carded a 91. Teammate Nikki Martin turned in a 94.

Individually for Snyder A, Michele Anderson led the pack with a 107. Jacy LaRoux shot 109, Jamie Leatherwood 110, Amy Armstrong 113 and Stacy Cline 125.

Players and their scores for Snyder B were Tracy Cotton, a 110, Denise Thompson 124, Wendy Miller 127 and Lesa Ward 138.

Snyder played without Kim Duncan, who has been the No. 3 girl on the A-team. "Hopefully, we'll get her recovered (muscle pull) soon and she'll be able to help us. I thought Michele (Anderson) played real well. Her scores were 58 and 49, and 49 is the best she's played over nine holes," said the coach.

Boys slide to fifth in loop golf circuit

BIG SPRING -- Snyder golf team dropped a notch or two in its quest for a District 2-4A championship here Saturday, but the Tigers are still in the hunt.

Snyder shot a 355 to place fifth in the 18-hole tournament, and slipped from third to fifth overall in the season standings.

Monahans won the single-day event with a solid 328. Big Spring was second with a 336, followed by Sweetwater with a 343 and Andrews with a 349.

Seventeen teams were entered. The shuffle left Big Spring atop the 2-4A leader board with a 641 over two tournaments. Andrews has a 658, Monahans a 661 and Sweetwater a 664. Snyder, at 666, is just eight strokes out of second place.

Snyder's Marc McQueen held on to third place in the season's medalist race with an 84 Saturday. Combined with a 73 the previous week, he has a 157 after two tournaments.

McQueen trails Jeff Rhodes of Big Spring, whose 67 and 82 tally a 149. Mike Torres of Sweetwater is second with a 155. Medalist honors Saturday were picked up by Brad Wells, whose 78 was the only score under 80 at Comanche Trails. Players continually fought blustery winds.

In addition to McQueen's 84, Wade Hatter carded an 88, Ken Meckley an 89, Mike Trull a 94 and Ron Baker a 101.

Snyder junior varsity was 16th in the tournament with a 418. Playing for the young Tiger team were Jay Parker, a 100; Kevin Holt, a 103; Shane Wade, a 106; and Terry Hildreth and Jason Polk, 109s.

McCumber cops Players crown

PONTE VERDA BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Mark McCumber took a four-shot victory Sunday in the Player's Championship.

He won it with a final total of 273, 15 under par and a record on the PGA Tour's home course, beating Calvin Peete's 1985 mark by one stroke.

Snyder's Garza on all-area team

Terry Garza, the 6-3 senior who has been named All-District 2-4A, All-South Plains and third-team TABC, received another honor Sunday.

The Tiger standout was named to the Abilene Reporter News All-Area Team.

Others on the squad are Brian Mayfield of Big Spring, Cody Crouch of Jim Ned, Jeff Wood of Wylie, Lynn Hays of Merkel and Chris Piel of Ballinger. Others are Mark Young of Haskell, Ernest Stewart of Coleman, Carter Edmondson of Roby, Matt Motley of Novice, Jeff Burton of Eula and John Morrow of Bronte.

Garza averaged more than 20 points and 6 rebounds a game for the Tigers, who fashioned a 24-9 season record.

Grass fires cause runs

Firemen answered four grass fire calls Saturday, the first at 8:08 a.m. to property five miles southeast of Snyder where a controlled burn of debris from the day before had flared back up again.

Firefighters were occupied at the property owned by David Sutton off Pleasant Hill Rd. for about 30 minutes, Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell said.

An 8:50 a.m. call was to the Diamond M Ranch 18 miles southwest of the city, where a Friday grass fire that charred an estimated section of land had ignited.

McDowell said, however, that the new blaze was in the middle of the burned area, took about an hour to quell and never presented a threat to burn new acreage.

The Friday estimate of the burned area by a fire department spokesman was 100 to 200 acres, but a later appraisal by ranch ownership increased the estimate to about a section.

A 3:23 p.m. call was to a fire in the ditch of state highway right-of-way eight miles west of Snyder off the Lamesa Hwy. The fire, which took about an hour to control had no known cause.

A 9:30 p.m. Saturday call to property owned by Rudy Minor 12 miles southwest of the city took firemen an hour and a half after they had some difficulty in finding the somewhat remote location, McDowell said, adding that the pasture blaze was apparently ignited by sparks from an overhead electrical power line.

Shamir criticizes Shultz's meeting

JERUSALEM (AP) — Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir today sharply criticized a meeting in Washington between Secretary of State George P. Shultz and two Arab-Americans linked to the PLO.

In another development, authorities reportedly arrested more Arabs overnight in the occupied territories to head off further violence.

Also today, PLO chief Yasser Arafat's chief spokesman was quoted as saying Shultz will have more meetings with PLO-affiliated officials, possibly with the secretary of state visits the Middle East beginning April 3.

On Sunday, soldiers shot and killed four more Palestinians in clashes in the West Bank, raising to 118 the number killed in 15 weeks of violent protests against Israel's occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, according to U.N. figures. One Israeli soldier has been killed.

Shamir today today told the Knesset, Israel's 120-member parliament: "We see as very grave the attempts of the Americans to initiate contacts with PLO members."

Shultz met in Washington on Saturday with Edward Said and Ibrahim Abu Lughod, both American citizens and members of the Palestine National Council, the parliament-in-exile of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"Members of the board of the Palestine National Council are PLO members in every aspect," Shamir said. "The council is the supreme body of terror organizations. It decides the policy of terror groups."

Shamir's speech came a day after ministers of the center-left Labor Party told a stormy Cabinet meeting on Shultz's upcoming visit that Israel must adopt a U.S. peace plan if it hopes to end violence in the occupied lands.

Shamir leads the right-wing Likud bloc.

Israel has always refused to negotiate with the PLO and Israeli officials contend the Shultz meeting violated a longstanding U.S. commitment not to deal with the PLO.

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger signed a pledge in 1975 that the United States would not talk to the PLO until the group recognized U.N. resolutions guaranteeing Israel's right to exist.

In comments published today in the Israeli Maariv newspaper, PLO spokesman Bassam Abu Sharif said the next meeting between Shultz and people linked to the PLO could take place in Jerusalem during Shultz's trip to the Middle East next week. Palestinians from the occupied territories refused to meet Shultz during his last trip in February under orders from Arafat.

But Abu Sharif said in a telephone interview to Israel that the PLO saw Shultz's meeting with Abu Lughod and Said as "an important step to the advancement of peace negotiations," Maariv reported.

During his visit to the Middle East, Shultz is expected to bring the text of a letter of invitation to a proposed international peace conference and ask Shamir for approval, an Israeli official today told The Associated Press on condition of anonymity. Shamir opposes such a peace conference.

The official said Shultz pledged to Shamir in the United States that he would not issue the letter of invitation without Israel's approval. But the official said Shultz could still change his position on that issue. Israeli soldiers detained seven Arab youths in Bethlehem as they emerged from Palm Sunday mass at the Church of the Nativity, the traditional site of Jesus' birth, said Palestinian witnesses and a detainee who was released today.

Drinking-related incidents include Towle Park arrests

A 19-year-old man was arrested for DWI and several other charges at 5:33 p.m. Saturday in Towle Park, and his 15-year-old male companion was taken into custody for being a minor in possession of alcohol and having alcohol in his possession in the park.

The 19-year-old was also jailed on charges of not having liability insurance or a driver's license, possessing alcohol in the park and possession of drug paraphernalia.

A 17-year-old female and 18-year-old male were arrested at 5:33 p.m. Saturday in Towle Park for public intoxication, being minors in possession of alcohol and having alcohol in their possession in the park.

A 19-year-old man was taken into custody for being a minor in possession of alcohol at 1:08 a.m. Sunday in the 1900 Block of 37th St., and a 17-year-old male was taken into custody for DWI at 2:13 a.m. Sunday in the 500 Block of 28th St.

An 18-year-old male was arrested for public intoxication and evading arrest at 4:50 a.m. Sunday in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room after police had answered a 3:34 a.m. fight call in the 2100 Block of 30th St.

Officers said two men fled on foot from the fight scene as they arrived and that the arrested man was returned to Cogdell for additional treatment for his injuries after being taken to jail.

A 38-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 9:29 p.m. Sunday in the 2400 Block of College Ave., and a 19-year-old male was arrested in the same incident on outstanding Department of Public Safety warrants from Sulphur Springs for not having liability insurance or a driver's license.

The DPS arrested a 28-year-old man for DWI at 9:18 p.m. Saturday on U.S. 84 just east of Snyder, a trooper said.

Famed heart surgeon files for bankruptcy

HOUSTON (AP) — Filing for personal bankruptcy once seemed like a last-ditch alternative for famed heart surgeon Dr. Denton Cooley as he looked at solutions for his financial troubles.

But the options dwindled, and Cooley finally decided to seek bankruptcy protection, a move he said has embarrassed him, the Houston Post reported in a copyright story Sunday.

The 67-year-old pioneer heart surgeon's career has been a success story. He was the first to implant an artificial heart and the first American to perform a heart transplant operation. He has performed close to 70,000 open heart surgeries, the Post said.

But defeat entered his life Jan. 4, when Cooley filed for personal bankruptcy.

"It was embarrassing," he told the Post. "There's sort of an indignity that goes with it."

"I think this is the first (professional) defeat that has come to me," he said.

"But I've always felt like I was a real competitor. I have participated in all sorts of sports and athletics in the past, and one of the things you learn on the playing field is how to take defeat as well as victory. Not that you enjoy defeat if you're a good competitor, but you learn to cope with it."

Cooley, founder of the Texas Heart Institute in Houston, said he's one of the few people to file a reorganization plan when he filed for federal bankruptcy protection. That unusual move will allow him to emerge from bankruptcy quickly, and he plans to come out of bankruptcy in April.

"I want to carry on with my life," he said.

Cooley, who is expected to take home between $8 million and $9 million this year from his medical practice alone, plans to pay off his debts within five years. He hopes to keep his River Oaks home, his ranch near Simonton, his two Galveston houses and his two Rolls-Royces.

But for now, he said he has been forced to borrow money to pay the household expenses.

Cooley said he wound up in the financial situation he is in by playing the game and losing.

"It's like a game. It's no longer the dollars; it's the score," he said. "You could call it greed. But you can also call it ambition. But it was like a game."

Except for projects in Chicago and San Francisco, the native Houstonian said all his business dealings have been in his hometown. And he once made millions from his investments.

But oil prices plunged and the state and local economies soured.

The oil, banking and real estate industries all suffered downturns.

Cooley found himself paying some $9 million a year in interest alone, and he said his creditors refused to take the land and buildings in lieu of his debt.

"The first time someone said bankruptcy, I said there was no way I would mention that to Dr. Cooley," said Gerald Maley, Cooley's financial manager.

"So we all got together with Dr. Cooley and threw out different possibilities, and I sort of mentioned it as a last alternative. He said it would be a last resort," he said.

Cooley said he has always "had a rather low opinion of people who finally had to admit failure and declare bankruptcy."

"I'd always thought that there was something slightly dishonest about it. But (then) the circumstances of Chapter 11 were explained to me, which seemed to be more or less suited to individuals of my type who had the opportunity or who had the ability to recoup their losses and to get a fresh start. I thought that this was really a program that was designed for me," he said.

The business deals and subsequent losses are just a sideline because Cooley's medical practice is his life and he has no plans to give it up.

"I think you'll hear of my retirement the same day you read my obituary," he added.

And there are worse things, he said. His daughter, Florence, one of his five girls, died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in 1985 at the age of 28.

"These financial reverses can't compare with something like that. Now that's true defeat. That's a real moment for sadness and regret," he said.

Forces call protest march

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — Opposition leaders stepped up their campaign to oust strongman Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega by calling on Panamanians to stage a protest march in the capital, despite a state of emergency.

The march, to be held this afternoon, comes at the start of the second week of a general strike that has shut down an estimated 90 percent of the nation's industry and commerce, further aggravating a critical cash shortage.

As the opposition planned the march Palm Sunday, Catholic church leaders said government authorities "fear this explosion of sentiments" and appealed to both sides to show restraint. The church leaders said in a statement they would send observers to today's march in Panama City to try to keep the peace.

Police and soldiers, under Noriega who heads the 15,000-member Defense Forces, have suppressed recent demonstrations with tear gas and shotguns.

Also Sunday, the Social Security Institute said it will pay its 55,000 retirees up to $150 of their semi-monthly pension benefits this week. They had threatened to join today's march if they didn't receive their payments.

In another development, Elliott Abrams, the assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, predicted in Washington on Sunday that many of the marchers will be "members of the families of the Defense Forces."

The government on Sunday expelled a reporter for the French news agency Agence France Press because his visa had been issued by a Panamanian consular official in Washington loyal to deposed President Eric Arturo Delvalle.

Leaders of the National Civic Crusade, the main opposition alliance, said they would defy any ban on the march that the government might issue under an 11-day-old state of emergency. The government had no immediate response.

The emergency suspended civil liberties and gave the state powers to reopen banks and stores closed by the cash crisis.

The decree permits the government to suspend a wide range of civil liberties, including freedom of speech and assembly and the right to private property. The emergency does not automatically suspend civil rights, but gives the government the right to do so by decree.

"Peaceful protest is a right written in the constitution," opposition leader Jose Faundes said Sunday. "It is above any decree, any law."

"We hope they realize they cannot repress the will of the people," said Aurelio Barria, a leader of the crusade, a coalition of more than 200 business, professional, labor and student groups.

Last week, the government was without money to pay the members of the Defense Forces and faces another $33 million payroll for its 130,000 civilian employees this week, raising the possibility of intensified protests.

Court hears hospital audit

Facts reported include that as of Dec. 31, the county-owned hospital had a balance of $6,023,091.

Hospital auxiliary president Wilma Dillard appeared with Jim Robbins and Osama Karaman of Chevron USA to urge county employees and city employees to participate in a contest to see which side can donate the most blood in an April 5 blood drive at Towle Park Barn.

The commissioners agreed to the challenge, as did City Manager John Gayle, who was also present.

Tony Wofford appeared to suggest a federal grant application through the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation for a public transportation system here — a matter that was tabled for the commissioner to seek more information.

The U.S. Army Air Corps was created in 1926.

El Paso student dies from injuries

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — An El Paso high school student died over the weekend of head injuries she suffered when she was hit by a stone hurled at a motorcade of a Mexican presidential candidate.

Maria Teresa Ramirez Aguilar, 15, died Sunday afternoon at the Centro Medico de Especialidades in Juarez.

Miss Ramirez was hospitalized last Sunday. She was riding in a relative's pickup that came under a hail of stones during a motorcade that followed opposition presidential candidate Manuel Clouthier from the airport to downtown Juarez.

Clouthier, the candidate of the National Action Party or PAN, was traversing a neighborhood controlled by the militant leftist Popular Defense committee, said Hector Ramirez, the girl's father.

Miss Ramirez had been living in El Paso with her brothers. Her father said the girl, one of nine children, is enrolled as a sophomore at Burges High School in El Paso last September.

Conditions deplorable despite subsidy

DALLAS (AP) — Government housing officials committed almost $10 million in federal funds to reopen an abandoned apartment complex whose residents now face problems such as backed-up sewage and rats, The Dallas Morning News reported in a copyright story.

The contract was authorized by the Dallas Housing Authority, approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development and endorsed by the city of Dallas, even though all three agencies had documentation in their files that would have disqualified the complex from participation in any federal housing program, the newspaper said in the report published Sunday.

The complex's location in a low-income, almost exclusively black neighborhood violated federal regulations. And the decision to subsidize Robin Square Apartments allowed Lomas & Nettleton Financial Corp. to turn a $600,000 defaulted apartment loan into a $2.3 million profit, The News said.

Previously, Lomas & Nettleton had received only a $75,000 offer for the complex near Fair Park, in one of Dallas' worst neighborhoods.

The decision, reached during a series of private meetings in 1980 and 1981, resulted in a $9.6 million contract, with lucrative tax benefits, for the apartments' eventual owner, Austin developer Alfred D. Hughes, who was appointed in 1985 to the Texas Board of Corrections.

Officials said the contract guaranteed rent payments over a 15-year period to cover the purchase of Robin Square, operating expenses and a $1 million renovation.

Problems facing many of the low-income black families assigned to the 156-unit complex, include faulty wiring, collapsing ceilings, poor heating and bad security, according to reports by local and federal housing inspectors.

Former housing officials said the facility was so substandard and the renovation proposal so inadequate the complex should have been bulldozed rather than reopened.

Last July, more than two dozen tenants filed suit in federal court in Dallas, asking for permission to move from the project, claiming unsafe and unsanitary living conditions.

Hughes said officials are daily correcting problems to keep the complex within standards.

"I provide probably 6,000 to 8,000 people with a real happy, good place to live," he said, referring to his subsidized projects across Texas.

J. Marvin Sexton, the Lomas & Nettleton vice president who successfully lobbied for subsidies said his company was motivated by the best interest of the company and the community.

But Dallas Housing Authority Executive Director Jack Herrington, who has headed the agency for nine years and said he was responsible for reopening Robin Square, said he made a mistake.

"I'm not proud of it," he said. "I'm satisfied that there probably wouldn't be anyone (today) that would agree to do Robin Square."

Texas recession shaking Bright empire

DALLAS (AP) — As Texas' economy has soured over the past year or two, so have the fortunes of H.R. "Bum" Bright, whose collection of assets — from the Dallas Cowboys to Bright Banc — have hit on hard times.

A Dallas millionaire with a passion for football, fishing and deal-making, the 67-year-old Bright's assets include oil and gas properties and prime real estate — including a 2,500-acre ranch in a Dallas suburb.

He is the largest single stockholder in First Republic Bank Corp., and his Bright Banc is the state's third-largest savings and loan institution with $4.8 billion in assets.

Despite the statewide real estate recession, Bright isn't ready to throw in the towel and points to lucrative ledger balances as proof he isn't about to become another celebrity casualty of the Texas downturn.

Throughout his life, he has emphasized to his children and employees — and anyone else that would listen — the importance of never giving up, of battling until a solution is reached, of never accepting failure or excuse.

The setback to his companies, "makes me want to fight," Bright said.

"We are coping with it. Every morning, you have to get up and figure out how to make a living that day. The only thing that will make you invincible is to get up each morning and face the world as the world exists that day, and find a way to cope with it, and deal with it and handle it," he said.

"And when you don't, that is when you start to die."

Last year, Forbes magazine estimated Bright's net worth at $600 million.

A substantial shareholder in First Republic Bank Corp., Bright could lose more than $20 million following the bank holding company's near collapse. First Republic Bank this month was rescued by federal regulators.

Bright also has dipped into his pocket to support Bright Banc, which has had a losing season with the Texas real estate recession. At the end of the third quarter, figures reported to federal regulators indicated that Bright Banc's regulatory capital had dipped to about $110 million, down from $167 million a year earlier.

That left the big S&L with a capital-to-assets ratio of 2.37 percent, below the 3 percent deemed safe by regulators.

And now, Bright Banc is poised to take another capital hit. This time, the S&L will be caught in a First Republic Bank aftershock because Bright's bank stock is part of the securities that are used as Bright Banc's capital.

"The area is an economic disaster so far as real estate is concerned," Bright told The Dallas Morning News. "It is difficult."

Alexander's can inspect for termites

You can't escape from termites. They're hard at work in every area of every state, and they may be busy devouring somebody's home right in your neighborhood — maybe even yours.

You can't afford to take chances with costly termites. Your home is your largest dollar investment. It can be protected efficiently and scientifically at a pittance of the cost compared to the damage termites can do.

Call Alexander's Pest Control for professional protection, just to be sure.

By the time termites are discovered, the cost of repairing damage done by the termites could result in thousands of dollars. Once termites gain entry to your home, they spread rapidly through joists and floors. Willy termites are careful not to break through the surface of the wood — so your first clue of termites may come when a piece of furniture sinks into soft wood. Replacing floors and supporting framework could amount to as much as 10 times their original cost.

After getting inside, the appetite of termites is insatiable. They often follow the wooden framework of the house to upper levels and floors, creating havoc as they do. Once inside the house termites keep on with their destructive job until either the house is destroyed or until treated.

Just because your house is made of brick or concrete doesn't mean that it's safe from termites. These insidious insects are crafty and cunning in gaining access and getting to the wooden construction inside.

Voracious termites will eat anything containing wood or cellulose. They frequently damage valuable papers, books, expensive rugs and items in storage. Besides feeding themselves, worker termites carry food back to the colony for the queen, king, secondary reproductives and soldier termites. With this large family to feed, the worker isn't the least concerned about the value of your property.

A concrete foundation doesn't stop termites. Termites must return to their nests every 12 to 24 hours for moisture, and to feed the non-workers. Termite tubes under your foundation are a sure sign of infestation.

Mature termites develop wings and on a warm, moist day emerge from the colony as a swarm. This usually happens in the spring and sometimes in the fall. After flying a short distance, the wings drop off and new colonies are formed. If you see swarming termites, you had better call us for an inspection.

Professional chemical treatment is the only way to be sure you're safe from termite damage and this treatment is far more economical than repairs. Using proven methods, we'll treat the soil around and under your house to create a chemical barrier that stops subterranean termites cold. We make sure every possible point of entry is blocked.

Prevention is cheaper than costly repairs. Call today for an inspection and estimate.

Alexander's Pest Control also does all other types of pest control.

Before shaving in the morning, men should give their beard at least half-an-hour to wake up. During sleep, facial muscles relax. They should be allowed to tone-up so that the beard bristles are pushed out.

CRAIG ALEXANDER at Alexander's Pest Control can help you prevent costly termite damage so give him a call at 573-7133.

Bureaucracy to be overhauled

BEIJING (AP) — The Chinese government today announced a major overhaul of its bureaucracy to streamline operations, eliminate 10,000 jobs and reduce its role in the direct management of the economy.

Song Ping, State Councillor and head of the Communist Party Organization Department, outlined proposals under which 14 ministries under the State Council will be abolished, one redefined and 10 new ones set up.

It will mean a net reduction of five State Council organs from the current 45, Song told a session of the National People's Congress, China's parliament. The 10,000 staffers dropped from the payroll will be transferred to other jobs.

The new bodies should be set up within three months after being approved during the current congressional session, but the process of making the State Council more efficient and reducing overlapping will take time, Song said.

"The functions of government offices and work methods cannot be changed all at once and a new work order cannot be established at once either," he said.

Song said the reorganization was transitional and will lay the groundwork for further restructuring of the State Council, equivalent to China's Cabinet.

The reorganization will address such problems as too rigid micro-management and insufficient macro-control, overlapping functions, overstaffing, low working efficiency and lack of clarity about duties, the state councillor said.

The reforms will reduce the staff directly under the State Council from 50,000 to 40,000, he said.
