Hijackers free hostages; leave Algiers

Sixteen day ordeal finally comes to an end

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Shiite Moslem gunmen slipped out of a Kuwaiti jet at dawn today — reportedly with a promise of safe conduct — and their 31 hostages were freed, ending a 16-day hijacking ordeal.

The hijackers left Algiers for an unknown destination, according to sources in the Persian Gulf who spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity. The Kuwait News Agency said no deal was made with the hijackers except safe passage to Iran or Lebanon. The Algerian government, which served as mediator, and the hijackers, who the hostages said numbered about eight, said they reached a solution but did not say what it was.

The gunmen had killed two passengers since seizing the Kuwait Airways Boeing 747 on April 5. But Kuwait refused to bow to the hijacker's demand that 17 pro-Iranian terrorists imprisoned in Kuwait be released. Many Kuwaitis telephoned the Kuwaiti state radio and television to congratulate their government on its firm stance.

"Most of the 31 freed hostages were believed to be Kuwaiti, including three members of Kuwait's royal family. It was reported previously that about 35 hostages remained aboard the plane.

An official source in Kuwait, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Algerian Foreign Minister Taleb Ibrahim promised the hijackers safe passage when he met with them aboard the plane on Tuesday.

A 31-year-old businessman, Tadar El-Kebl, said he saw the hijackers going through the plane trying to wipe off their fingerprints shortly after 4 a.m.

"This was the first indication I had that our release was imminent," El-Kebl said.

Algerian officials said the hijackers were whisked out of the jumbo jet 20 minutes before the hostages were brought out at 6 a.m. (1 a.m. EDT).

The gunmen, whom the hostages said numbered eight, were taken in unmarked automobiles to an undisclosed location, the Algerian officials said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Floodlights that had bathed the blue-and-white jumbo jet nightly since it landed were turned off at 9 p.m. Tuesday, allegedly for a technical reason. They never came back on and the area around the jet was dark.

Studies will be honored

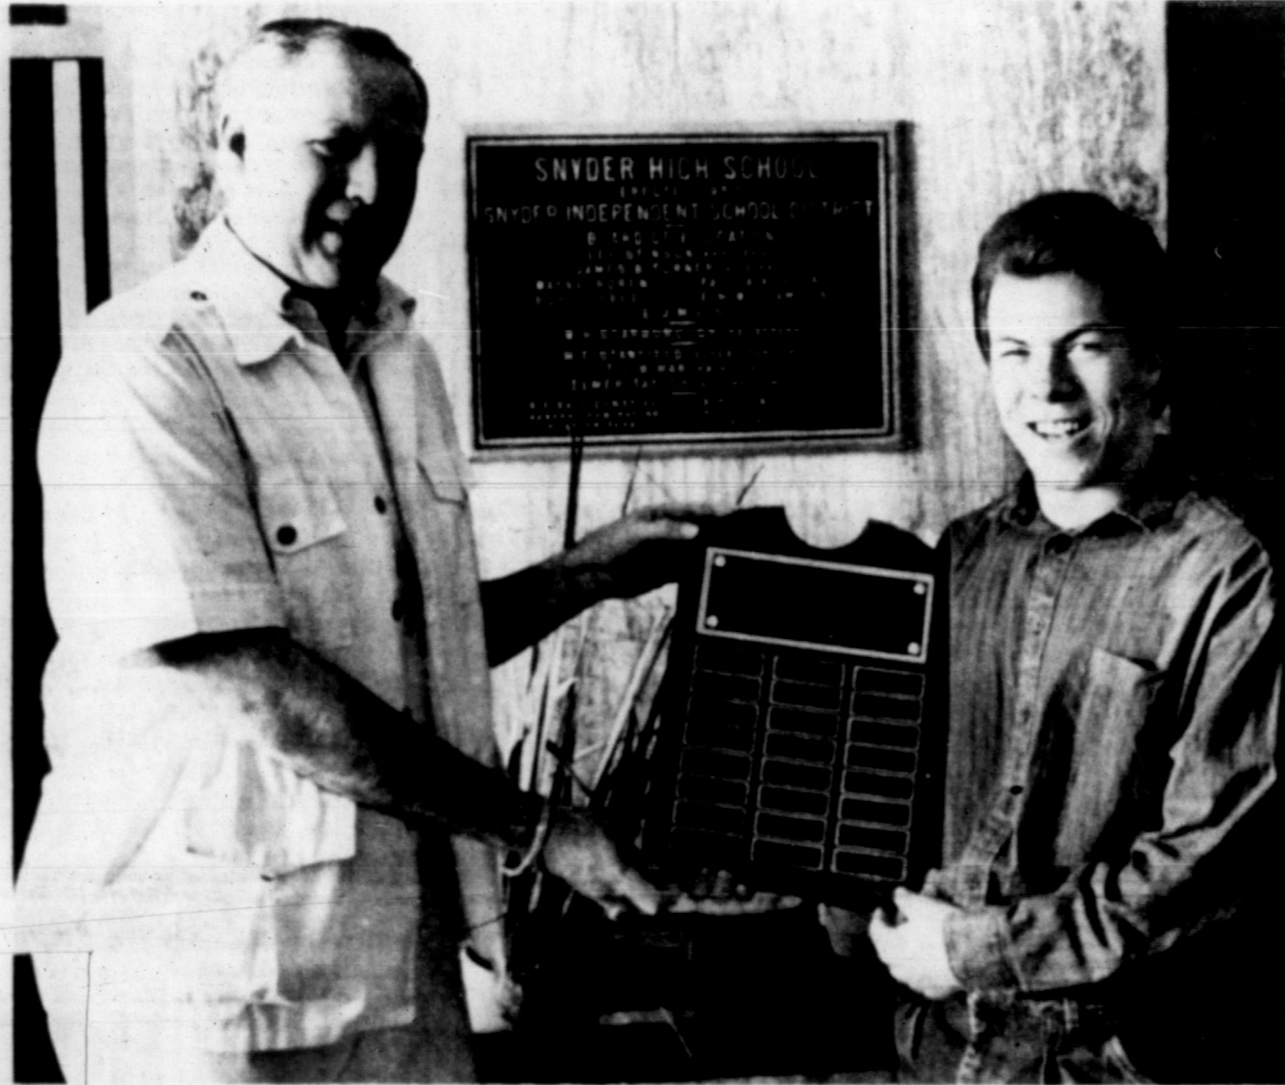

An award has been instigated here to recognize individual classroom achievement for a six-weeks period at Snyder High School by the Council for Educational Excellence, the organization formed to support academic endeavors in the Snyder public schools.

The first winner of the group's "Academic Achievement Award" is junior Robert Neblett. The student was nominated by his Spanish instructor, Dr. Albert Taylor.

A plaque is now on permanent display in the SHS trophy case which will include the names of winners inscribed on individual nameplates.

Neblett took the award with a college-style thesis on the past 100 years of Argentinian history.

Instructor Albert Taylor described it as "an excellent and fascinating study." Neblett traced the history of Argentina from its 19th century, in many ways frontier-like existence through the turbulent and colorful period in which Juan Peron and his wife, See SCHOLARSHIP, page 9

Sales tax showing 'positive'

The 1 percent sales tax return for Snyder continues to run ahead of last year with the latest report—totals which will be aided all year with the expanded sales tax base which went into effect in January.

Statewide, the returns were running an average of 6.5 percent higher for the year-to-date, while Snyder's was quoted at 8.9 percent.

In addition, the monthly return here was a 19 percent improvement over last year's figure. The latest monthly return equaled $57,840 compared to $46,742 last year.

For the year-to-date, Snyder has received more than $241,000 compared to $221,000 last year at this time. Exact figures are $241,083 and $221,367 respectively.

The latest report reflects sales made in February and reported to the state comptroller's office by March 21.

In addition to the city's return, the 1/2 cent sales tax return for Scurry County was reported also, a total which began being collected Jan. 1.

With the latest report, the county has received $44,737. The monthly return totaled $25,888.

A sampling of area cities' sales tax returns include:

—Lubbock: plus 11.2 percent with $4.4 million returned to date compared to $3.9 million last year.

—Abilene: plus 6.8 percent with $2.3 million returned to date compared to $2.2 million last year.

—San Angelo: minus 3.4 percent with $1,721,079 returned to date compared to $1,783,219 last year.

—Big Spring: minus 2 percent with $440,044 returned to date compared to $449,316 last year.

—Snyder: plus 8.9 percent with $241,083 returned to date compared to $221,367 last year.

—Sweetwater: plus 7.5 percent with $227,402 returned to date compared to $211,350 last year.

—Colorado City: plus 27.2 percent with $94,731 returned to date compared to $74,434 last year.

—Post: plus 10.3 percent with $46,953 returned to date compared to $42,551 last year.

Chamber to back bond issue group

Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday added their names to the list of those endorsing the newly formed group to support and promote the city bond issue referendum scheduled May 7.

Directors took the action at their regular April meeting. Local business and community leaders have formed the Snyder Committee for Economic Opportunity to promote the two revenue bond issues, each with a $1.3 million price tag.

The monies will go toward financing water and sewer utility lines to the Texas Department of Corrections prison facility.

Repayment of the bonds will be made from revenues generated from the sale of water and sewer services. The additional income from water sales to the TDC unit in addition to sewer service charges to it will in main part retire the debt.

City officials have said they project the bonds may be retired using current rate charges for city water and sewer services.

Under laws governing the sale of revenue bonds, tax money may not be used to retire the bonded indebtedness.

Chamber directors voted unanimously Tuesday to endorse the plan.

The vote followed a report from Roy McQueen, chairman of the Economic Development Committee here, who profiled Monday's ground-breaking ceremonies related to the prison site.

"I think we accomplished our goal, which was to make TDC feel good about Snyder," McQueen said. See CHAMBER, page 9

SHS artist places two in Stenholm's Top 10

Snyder High School senior Shea Fenton has placed two works in the Top 10 of art entries submitted from throughout the 17th Congressional District represented by U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm.

One of her creations, a colored pencil drawing, won second overall and will hang for the following year in Stenholm's area office in Abilene.

A Stamford high school student, Dale King, won the first place honor and his art will hang in a foyer of the nation's capitol for one year.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A little ignorance goes a long way—in the wrong direction."

In the spring, we always worry when visitors announce they're coming to Snyder. The unpredictable West Texas weather can undo the most carefully laid plans.

Recently, we had two folks in from Dallas and the TV forecasters called for wind gusts up to 30 mph. Translated, that means you can view Lamesa without leaving Scurry County.

The forecasters were correct. By noon, the sky was a typical March brown. Until mid-morning, the weather was picture-card perfect, but difficult to make one of the visitors believe.

One fellow had grown up in Pyote, just south of Odessa, so he understood West Texas and blowing dust. But his companion had never seen real estate move about—and we could sense his apprehension.

We observed several years ago that attitudes suffer on days the sand blows—but 10 to 15 days a year isn't all bad and we reminded the Dallas visitor about the ever-present smog cloud common to metropolitan areas.

A Texas Tech English professor has taken exception with scientific findings that dirty air causes violent behavior. Wrote the prof:

"This theory should have been kept top secret. All we need is another goofy reason to let crooks off the hook. The insanity plea is bad enough, but it can't hold a candle to the foul air defense."

The theory is that airborne toxins adversely affect some people's brains. So far, researchers have only been able to suggest that sandstorms generate too many negative ions and this overabundance tends to make people cranky.

The theory may have merit—but some folks don't need a dust storm to be difficult.

Local

Youth rodeo

A rodeo for AJRA and local contestants of junior rodeo age will be held Friday through Sunday in Scurry County Coliseum under sponsorship of Western Texas College Rodeo Booster Club.

Performance times will be 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Slack will be run after evening performances and at 9 a.m. on Saturday.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students. Concessions will be available.

To contest

Snyder High School's concert and symphonic bands will be in competition at Abilene Cooper High School Thursday for the annual concert and sight-reading events.

The SHS band won a first division in the fall at marching competition and now has an opportunity for another in a long line of sweepstakes contest wins.

The band missed one sweepstakes in 1983, but had won many years in a row previous and every year since.

Snyder will be competing during the afternoon Thursday.

Band rated

The Snyder Junior High School eighth grade band received a 1 rating in concert and a 2 rating in sight-reading last Saturday at competition conducted at Abilene Cooper High School.

The next competition for junior high bandmen will be May 14, when the seventh grade band participates in the local Snyder Band Festival.

Chamber meet

Donna Gray, chairman of the chamber's Business Development Committee, has announced a meeting of the committee for 10 a.m. Thursday in the chamber board room.

Beef 'options'

A beef cattle marketing clinic will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in Room A of the Scurry County Coliseum. The program will primarily cover options trading in marketing beef cattle.

Joe Lane Wood from the Amarillo Brokerage Company and Charlie Henderson from West Texas State Bank of Snyder will present the program.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Tuesday, 83 degrees; low, 39 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Wednesday, 53 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1988 to date, 2.63 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight, fair with a low near 60. Southwest wind 15 to 25 mph with lake wind advisories in effect this evening, decreasing to 10 to 20 mph by midnight.

Thursday, sunny and warm with a high in the lower 90s. Southwest wind 15 to 25 mph and gusty with lake wind advisories to be required.

Cleanup from tornado begins

MADISON, Fla. (AP) — Residents began rebuilding their lives and town today after Florida's worst tornado in two decades killed four people and left millions of dollars in damage. A college was ruined but its 2,000 students were spared.

"Thankfully, it happened when it did and not four or five hours later because the death toll would probably have been in the hundreds," said William H. McCoy, president of North Florida Community College.

The tornado struck at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday, tossing families out of bed while windows exploded and their homes collapsed on them. It left 18 people injured and a 12-mile-long, half-mile-wide path of destruction in which 17 homes were destroyed, authorities said.

Gov. Bob Martinez, after assessing the damage in a helicopter, declared a state of emergency, paving the way for state agencies to assist Madison County in cleanup efforts.

"I haven't seen one of these since one came through my hometown (Tampa) back in 1966 or 1967," the governor said. The tornado was Florida's worst since one crossed the state from Clearwater to Cape Kennedy in 1966, killing 11 and injuring 400 people.

Gordon Guthrie, director of the state's Division of Emergency Management, said his agency would complete a detailed damage assessment today, possibly leading to federal aid.

The tornado was one of four that struck Florida in stormy weather Tuesday, destroying several homes elsewhere and heavily damaging others. Twisters also struck Colorado, North Carolina and California, although no major damage was reported.

In Madison, only rubble was left in some neighborhoods and the mobile home of two of those killed vanished from its lot, leaving only foundation blocks, authorities said.

Twelve of the junior college's 14 major buildings were heavily damaged and at least three were destroyed, said McCoy.

Complexion woes plagued Jackson

NEW YORK (AP) — It wasn't screaming fans or the intrusive media that were the greatest threat to Michael Jackson. It was something more insidious, more heinous, more vicious.

Zits. "I became subconsciously scarred by this experience with my skin," he writes in his new autobiography "Moonwalk," which Doubleday is publishing this week.

"I got very shy and became embarrassed to meet people because my complexion was so bad. It really seemed that the more I looked in a mirror, the worse the pimples got. My appearance began to depress me. ... The effect on me was so bad that it messed up my whole personality."

The 29-year-old rock megastar was about 14 when the vicissitudes of adolescence assaulted him. He had been vigorously performing with his older brothers — Marlon, Tito, Jackie and Jermaine as the Jackson 5 — since he was 5.

"In those days, the biggest struggle was right there in my mirror. To a great degree, my identity as a person was tied to my identity as a celebrity."

In more recent years, what the reclusive performer has seen in the mirror bears little resemblance to the brown-skinned kid with the wide nose and airy afro.

In his autobiography, Jackson admits to having two nose jobs and a chin cleft made. However, he said he has not had his cheeks or eyes altered or a skin peel or dermabrasion to lighten his complexion.

Jackson wrote his book with an assist from Doubleday editor Shaye Areheart.

When Pap test shows dysplasia

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A year ago I had a class 2 Pap: cervical dysplasia. I had a colposcopy with biopsy, a D&C with laser ablation, and conization of the cervix. Three months later, the follow-up Pap showed the dysplasia was still present. Freezing the cervix is next. Why is it so difficult to eradicate? Will it or the surgeries affect fertility? I'm 30.

DEAR READER: A class 2 Pap smear, indicating "cervical dysplasia," means that the cells which are shed from the cervix (opening of the uterus) look peculiar under the microscope. These cellular peculiarities are not pronounced enough to enable the technician to conclude that cancerous changes are present, but the cells do not look normal.

In this circumstance, some gynecologists prefer simply to keep an eye on the situation by performing frequent Pap tests. Other doctors may choose a more aggressive approach, as in your case, consisting of burning and surgical removal of cervical tissue.

Sometimes early cancer can masquerade as a class 2 Pap; more often, cervical dysplasia reflects a low-grade infection of the cervix. In this instance, women will continue to have class 2 smears, despite surgery, until the infection is diagnosed and treated.

Freezing part of the cervix, to destroy the source of the dysplasia, is a logical next step. However, as I noted before, some doctors would opt to examine you at three-month intervals (to make sure you don't progress to a class 3) and wait to see if your natural healing ability will resolve the problem. I think that you need a second opinion before you commit to a course of action.

Cone biopsies and simple surgery on the cervix will not affect your fertility. However, extensive surgery or repeated procedures could result in a condition called "incompetent cervix," which may cause you to have difficulty carrying a pregnancy to term.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had an artery occlusion that left me with nerve damage and deafness in one ear. How can I get rid of the storm of high-pitched noise that penetrates my head every waking second?

DEAR READER: You are describing a common otological condition called tinnitus. This is extremely hard to treat. If your high-pitched ringing is due to an arterial blockage and nerve damage, it will be virtually impossible to treat because the damage has been done. I know this will sound like a cop-out, but if you will be patient, with time, your brain's hearing center will adapt to the tinnitus and you will no longer be bothered by it.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report on EAR DISORDERS. Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

SOME OF THE THINGS DISCUSSED HERE MIGHT SHOCK YOU.

- But not if you follow these tips for working around power lines.
- Keep ladders and trimming tools away from overhead wires.
 - Don't dig if you suspect there are underground wires—call us first!
 - Make sure you're clear of all wires when installing or removing a TV antenna.

Please remember, think about where your power lines are before you work around the house. They may be above or below ground. Find out the exact location, or you might become just another statistic. And that's the shocking truth.

DON'T LET A POWER LINE BE THE END OF THE LINE.

Our victory was in part due to his expert play of today's deal.
Nagy (South) used simple bidding. After North had supported clubs, he just bid the small slam. (Peter told me later that whenever he holds four aces, they multiply like rabbits in his imagination until he thinks he has six or eight.) Slam is very risky with spades splitting so badly; in fact, a trump lead would probably keep declarer from making 12 tricks. But unable to see all 52 cards, West made the reasonable lead of a heart — the unbid suit. That was all Nagy needed.
When East's king came up, he won the ace and led the nine right back. West took the queen and returned a heart to dummy's jack, Nagy pitching a spade. Nagy now played a spade to his ace, a club to dummy's jack, and another low spade, ruffing as East showed out. Another club to dummy let declarer ruff the last low spade, and he was able to ruff a diamond safely in dummy to draw the last trump. Notice the caution declarer exercised by discarding a spade on dummy's heart jack. Although it was unlikely that spades would split 5-1, he provided for the contingency. Of such stuff is winning bridge made. Thanks, Peter!

Taking precautions

Teenager returns home

DALLAS (AP) — A teenager checking out of a hospital, two years after she was paralyzed in a shooting accident, took with her three tickets to see singer Michael Jackson and farewells from a staff delighted at her recovery.

Irene Perez, 15, has seen her first teen-age years pass at Baylor University Medical Center after she was accidentally shot in the neck by a friend 21 months ago and left paralyzed from the waist down.

But on Tuesday, she was leaving the hospital to return to her mother's Oak Cliff home. On Monday, a crowd of well-wishers gathered for a surprise farewell party thrown by the hospital's staff.

The hospital visitors' room was crammed with people, food, streamers and balloons.
"I'm speechless," Irene said from her wheelchair.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There should be a noticeable improvement in your financial affairs starting today. This doesn't mean, however, that you can be careless or extravagant where money is concerned.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The best course of action for you to pursue at present is to get yourself into a position where you lead and are not led by others. Move up front.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be more effective today in fulfilling your ambitious aims if you keep a low profile. Pursue your objectives without making unnecessary waves.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Something upbeat is developing at this time that will fit advantageously into your present plans. There will be others involved.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Joint ventures continue to be the area where you are likely to reap your greatest gains. Try to expand on that which you presently have underway.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your judgment is quite good today. If you feel you have taken adequate time to think an important matter through, heed your own counsel.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't be victimized by conditions you feel are unproductive. Take positive measures today to make changes that will usher in improvements.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There is a big difference between a gamble and a calculated risk. Today, you may be required to do the latter in order to further your ambitions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Something unusual may occur today that will at first appear to be a disadvantage. However, by the time the dust settles, it will turn out to be rather beneficial.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Your mental faculties are exceptionally sharp today. It will be difficult for anyone to pull the wool over your eyes, yet there is a possibility that someone may try.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you have a bit of a cash surplus built up at this time, don't let it burn a hole in your purse. Tuck it away somewhere safe that's out of your reach.

Spot inspections to continue for weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal inspectors have examined almost all of Eastern Airlines' 267 jets and found most in compliance with safety rules, but say they will continue ramp inspections and look at many of the aircraft again.

The FAA last week said it wanted to conclude the review of Eastern and analyze its findings within 30 days.
Meanwhile, in a similar inspection at Continental Airlines, which like Eastern is owned by Texas Air Corp., FAA inspectors found one plane out of 15 examined that needed service.

Dukakis celebrates New York victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Dukakis, declaring "we can make it anywhere," after a resounding New York primary victory, was on a fast track today toward the Democratic presidential nomination and a fall showdown with Republican George Bush. Jesse Jackson finished a strong second, congratulated Dukakis and vowed to continue his fight for the nomination. But the third Democratic challenger, Sen. Al Gore Jr., was ready to fold his campaign to leave Dukakis and Jackson to duel head-to-head over the final six primary weeks.

Jackson. Dukakis ended up handily winning the ethnic white vote, both Jewish and Catholic. Jackson had more than 95 percent of the black vote and enjoyed a narrow, 411,903 to 405,486 victory over Dukakis in the precincts of New York City.

love New York. Friends, if we can make it here we can make it anywhere." Gore met first with Jackson, then Dukakis after midnight Tuesday. Jackson aides described the meeting as a "courtesy call."

James Ruvolo, chairman of the Democratic Party in Ohio, which holds its primary in two weeks, called New York "a big win" for Dukakis and said the party had finally broken away from what he called the "winner-a-week syndrome."

Dukakis won 51 percent of the New York vote, Jackson 37 percent and Gore 10 percent.

"The Democratic Party's going to be unified and we're going to stop George Bush this November," Gore said, sounding a music theme that must have been music to Dukakis' ears after two months of rough-and-tumble campaigning.

Gore was expected to halt his campaign on Thursday. He had staked everything in New York with an expensive television campaign and a sometimes barbed-tongued effort to pose himself as an alternative to Dukakis and Victory brought Dukakis 164 of New York's 255 delegates. He now has just over half the 2,081 national delegates he needs to clinch nomination. Jackson had 89 to bring his total to 834.

Vice President George Bush continued his roll toward the GOP nomination and declared Dukakis "a good bet" to be his Democratic opponent in the fall. He said he looked forward to the competition, and Dukakis gave him a taste of the battle to come during a Philadelphia appearance Tuesday evening.

"This fall George Bush is going to be judged by a legacy of ... pink slips for our workers, golden parachutes for high rollers, and greenmail for sharp operators on Wall Street," said the Massachusetts governor.

"I want to make that American dream come alive again, not only in Trump Towers, but in fancy apartments all over this country, not only in a few privileged neighborhoods."

Dukakis flew from Philadelphia to a New York victory rally within walking distance of Trump Tower, where he told cheering supporters, "I

Dear Abby

Prescription Drugs Require Informed Use, Proper Care

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Yesterday I published a letter from a reader who requested a rerun of information about the interaction of certain foods with prescription drugs. She was wisely concerned that she might be "eating some foods that would be harmful to her medication."

- Today I will deal with what you should tell your physician before he or she prescribes any medication:
- If you have ever had any allergic reactions or side effects to certain drugs in the past.
 - If you are taking any medication on a regular basis, such as contraceptives or insulin, or if you use a non-prescription drug on a regular basis.
 - If you are being treated for a different condition by another doctor.
 - If you are pregnant, or a heavy smoker, or a heavy drinker.
 - If you are on a special diet or are taking vitamins and mineral supplements.

Some tips to help you use prescription drugs safely and effectively:

- If a drug is not doing what it is supposed to do for you, check with your physician. You may need a different dosage or a different drug.
- If you have an unexpected symptom — rash, nausea, dizziness, headache — report it to your physician immediately.
- Don't stop taking your medicine just because you're feeling better. You may prevent the drug from doing its work completely.

4. Check drug labels for specific instructions or warnings, such as, "Do not take on an empty stomach" or, "Do not take with milk."

5. Check the label, or ask your pharmacist, for storing instructions. Some drugs should be refrigerated; others must be protected from light.

- Always keep medicines out of the reach of children.
- Never let another person use your medicine, and never take medicine prescribed for anyone else. (This includes birth control pills.)
- Never take medicine at night without turning on the light.
- Do not transfer medication from the original container to another. The original container is designed to protect the drug. Also the instructions for taking the medication are on the original container.

Readers, for further information about prescription drugs, send for the free booklet published by the Food and Drug Administration in cooperation with the National Council on Patient Information and Education. To obtain this booklet, write to: RX Drugs, Consumer Information Center, Department DA, Pueblo, Colo. 81009. No stamped, self-addressed envelope is necessary, but please allow 30 days for delivery. SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A scholar who pushed for release of the Robert Kennedy assassination files says the newly disclosed destruction of 2,410 evidence photographs is "deeply suspicious" and should be investigated.

Greg Stone, a University of Wisconsin political scientist who has devoted years to studying the assassination, said he was shocked that Tuesday's opening of the files also brought word of destroyed evidence.

"Far and away, the blinding central fact in this event is the unbelievable destruction of these photographs," said Stone. "That is an outrage and an insult to the American public. ... This performance (by the Los Angeles police) would be a disgrace in a routine auto accident."

"This is deeply suspicious," he added.

Stone's comments came after California Secretary of State March Fong Eu opened the long-secret files to the public and displayed significant items of evidence for reporters. She held aloft a boxed .22-caliber gun used by convicted assassin Sirhan Sirhan to kill the U.S. senator on June 5, 1968, after his victory in the California Democratic presidential primary.

Among the documents displayed was a certificate showing that 2,410 police photographs in the assassination case were burned on Aug. 21, 1968.

The state's chief archivist, John Burns, who cataloged the massive file for release, speculated that the destroyed photos could have been copies, but said the files contain no such statement.

Less surprising, said Stone, was confirmation that police also destroyed door jams and ceiling tiles from the kitchen of the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel where Kennedy was gunned down. Stone and other experts maintain those items might have shed light on how many bullets were fired and on a theory there was a second gunman.

"The Los Angeles Police Commission should investigate this," he said, referring to a civilian oversight board appointed by the mayor. "Mayor (Tom) Bradley should demand it."

Asked why he thought the material was destroyed, Stone said, "The most charitable interpretation is total ineptitude. ... But you can't rule out suspicious and sinister possibilities."

Stone once worked for Rep. Allard Lowenstein, D-N.Y., who raised questions about the case before he, too, was slain by a gunman in 1980.

William Booth, a Los Angeles Police Department spokesman, said he didn't know why the photographs and other materials were destroyed.

"It was 20 years ago and I certainly don't have any independent recollection," Booth said. "I don't know whether what was done here is routine or not because I don't know what was done here."

Sirhan, a Jordanian immigrant who scribbled in his diary, "RFK must die," is serving a life term at Soledad prison. Sirhan says he was the lone assassin but can't remember shooting Kennedy. He blames his amnesia on alcohol.

The material released on microfilm Tuesday details interviews with 4,000 witnesses, including dozens of eyewitnesses, and comprises 50,000 pages.

Eu also released a police composite videotape of the assassination scene. Kennedy is seen entering the kitchen surrounded by a large crowd. Screams are heard. The badly jostled camera then shows Kennedy lying in a pool of blood while other victims stagger about dazed and witnesses are seen weeping.

A large portion of the newly released police interviews focused on the allegation that a girl in a polka dot dress was seen with Sirhan at the hotel and ran away from the assassination scene shouting, "We shot him."

The report was never verified.

PUC approves Bell's plan on dial-a-porn

AUSTIN (AP) — An anti-pornography crusader says the Public Utility Commission missed a chance to end dial-a-porn by voting to let telephone companies decide what is inappropriate.

"Southwestern Bell will not act responsibly unless forced to by a commission or citizens' complaints," said Mark Weaver of Austin, executive director of the American Family Association of Texas, formerly known as Citizens Against Pornography.

The commission voted 2-1 Tuesday against a ban on dial-a-porn and other "976" pay call services. Instead, the commission backed Southwestern Bell's self-policing plan.

"You have my word that we are going to fix this problem," said Bill Free, a Southwestern Bell vice president.

Dial-a-porn is one of many services offered through the Dial 976 program. The recorded messages are provided by companies who, in turn, get their money from the phone companies, which do the billing and collection. Free said his company no longer wants to collect money for dial-a-porn and other controversial services.

Under the proposal, which faces PUC review, phone companies would set up a separate prefix, other than 976, for services such as dial-a-porn. The phone companies also would not provide a billing and collection service, and the calls could be limited to customers who say they want to be able to call them.

Weaver had an ally in PUC member Marta Greytok, who said, "The service is totally messed up. It is something that got out of hand." She called for a ban on all 976 services.

"We have never had 20,000 letters over any issue. We need to respond to the fact that the public is saying there is a better way," Ms. Greytok said, referring to the 23,000 letters received by the PUC.

Commissioners Dennis Thomas and Jo Campbell outvoted Ms. Greytok.

Free said his company's proposal is fair to all, and does not deny service to anyone.

"We are allowing anyone to use our telephone network. We simply are saying if you want to use it in a method contrary to our best image, we are not going to bill for you," he said.

"The test is whether or not it is contrary to what we perceive is our best corporate image," Free said. "Sexual would not be permitted, vulgar would not be permitted, and confusing or deceptive would not be permitted."

But Austin lawyer Jim Boyle, who represents a company that offers a variety of 976 services, said the complaints have been based on emotion, not fact.

"I think what you're seeing, particularly in a lot of the letters, is kind of the Jimmy Swaggart reaction," Boyle said.

COUNTY TREASURER'S REPORT

ORDER OF THE COMMISSIONERS COURT OF SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, APPROVING THE TREASURER'S REPORT FOR THE FIRST CALENDAR QUARTER, JANUARY 1, 1988 THROUGH MARCH 31, 1988, TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS MAY COME, BE IT KNOWN THAT:

THE COMMISSIONERS COURT OF SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, did duly convene in Quarterly Session at its meeting place in the Courthouse in the City of Snyder at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on Tuesday, April 19, 1988, and, the entire membership of said Court, viz., Bobby Goodwin, County Judge, presiding, and Duaine Davis, Tommy Pate, C.D.
