

Two more primary wins for Dukakis

BY DONALD M. ROTHBERG
AP Political Writer

Michael Dukakis, harvesting another pair of landslide primary victories, sounded ever more confident of his claim to the Democratic presidential nomination while Republican George Bush looked ahead to the fall and cautioned his supporters, "We've got a long way to go."

Jesse Jackson scored an expected victory Tuesday in the District of Columbia, but found himself slipping another 120 delegates behind Dukakis, who won handily in Ohio and Indiana.

His latest victories moved Dukakis to fewer than 600 delegates from the 2,081 he needed to clinch the nomination. He also moved more than 600 ahead of his only rival.

But Jackson gave no sign he was ready to end what he called a struggle "for the direction of our party and the soul of our nation."

"All the way to California and New Jersey!" he said, referring to the two biggest states holding primaries on June 7.

Jackson was seeking support today among House Democrats and then holding strategy sessions with aides before flying off to Nebraska, which holds its primary next Tuesday, as does West Virginia.

Democratic Party leaders tempered their euphoria over the latest signal that their nomination marathon was over with concern that Jackson's recent attacks on Dukakis could provide campaign ammunition for the Republicans in the fall.

"I would hope he wouldn't say anything that could be used against Mike in the general election," said Gov. Bill Clinton of Arkansas.

Judy Carnahan, chairman of the Oregon Democratic Party, said Jackson's recent attacks were "very disappointing. What he's managing to do is diminish his own stature."

Lynn Cutler, vice chair of the Democratic National Committee, said she wasn't concerned about Jackson's rhetoric.

"I don't any of it is stuff we're going to see coming back at us out of George Bush's mouth," she said.

When Dukakis was asked if he thought Jackson should tone down his attacks, the Massachusetts governor replied, "He's got to make that judgment. I'm going to try to keep this as positive as I can."

In recent days, Jackson has repeatedly pressed Dukakis to provide more details of his plans for improving education and day care and reducing the federal budget deficit.

Riding high after a streak of primary victories that included Connecticut, Wisconsin, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio, Dukakis said Tuesday night he thought it was "going to be difficult" for Jackson to deny him the nomination.

Bush celebrated his lock on the nomination at a hotel within walking distance of the White House and urged his supporters not to let up.

"I don't feel any finality to what has happened now at all," he told a cheering crowd.

Q — There was a news story Monday which indicated the sale of TDC bonds had been held up. Will this affect construction of the prison here?

A — No. The state bonds to construct the 1,000-man unit here have already been sold. Reports from TDC indicate also that the postponement of the other bond sale is expected to be short-lived.

At city, college...

Two entities set absentee records

High voter interest is being indicated here for Saturday's elections in Scurry County, which will include a revenue bond issue at the city related to utility lines for the state prison as well as expiring posts on the city, school and college boards.

Record absentee votes were set at the city and the college as the balloting closed Tuesday. Regarding the city vote, the revenue bond issue is credited with stirring the most voter interest.

City residents will decide for or against two revenue bonds of $1.3 million each. These are to be used for the construction of water and sewer lines to the prison site some 5 miles northeast of the city.

Absentee voting was high also for the Snyder ISD board vote here, although the absentee total is thought to be only near the record—which was set last spring as the district ushered in its new single member district concept for board membership.

Regarding numbers, the city recorded 314 absentee votes. Last year, in an amount which was thought to be a record, 174 absentee votes were counted.

At Western Texas College, election officials note the highest count ever recorded there for UIL literary meet...

State qualifiers due final contest

University Interscholastic League literary competition will be winnowed down to the final few this weekend as contests are held on the University of Texas campus in Austin.

Snyder High School has nine students eligible to compete in the individual events, six of these guaranteed a chance for a statewide honor.

These include Kirsten Miller in poetry interpretation; Anne Osborn in typing; Sylvia Alaniz in shorthand; Ashley Miller in prose reading; Robert Neblett in ready writing and Jay Burns in persuasive speaking.

The first three winners from regional contests qualified to advance to state and the fourth and fifth place winners were named as alternates.

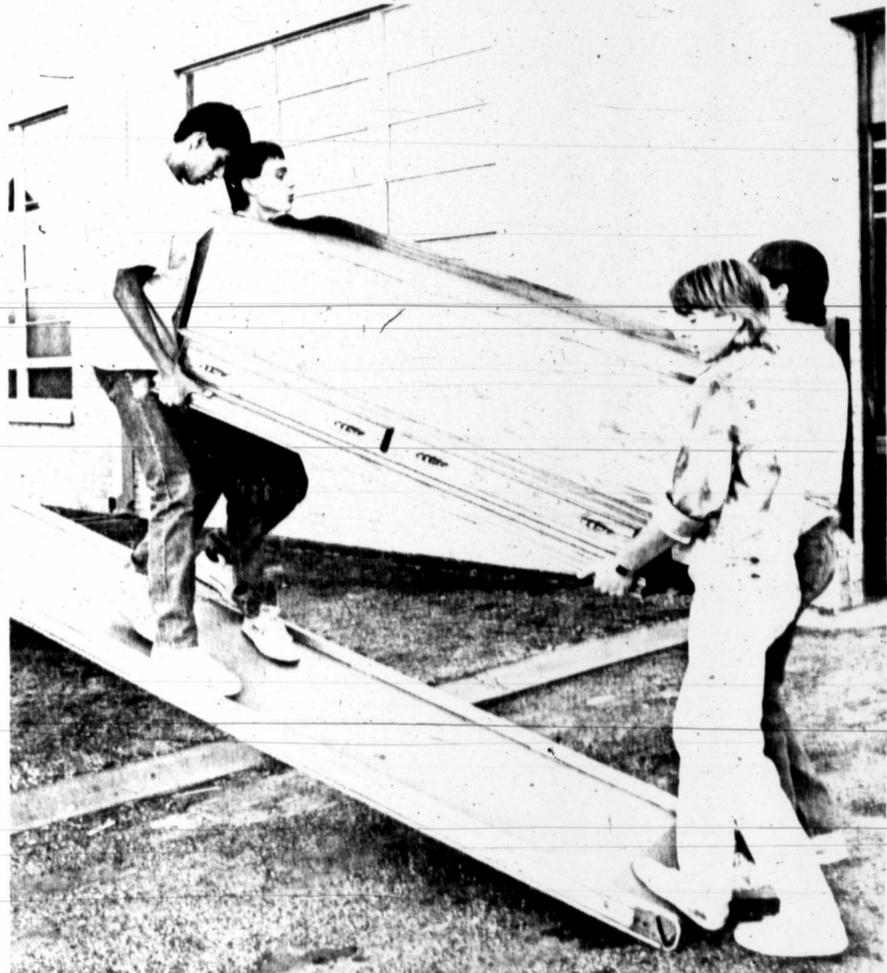

From SHS, three other students qualified as second alternates, Holly Joplin in typing; Corey McDaniel in poetry interpretation; and Judson Morrison in persuasive speaking.

The list of Snyder students now qualified for state has been steadily winnowed down since UIL literary competition began March 25-26 with the district meet. At that event, held in Big Spring, Snyder originally entered some 53 students.

From district, Snyder had 16 qualify for regional. This included two students winning first; six students winning second place ribbons; six placing third in their contest area; and two named as alternates.

These competed at the regional contest in Brownwood April 22-23. From this meet, the nine were chosen who will advance to this weekend's state meet.

At regional, Snyder had one first place winner; three second place finishes; two third place wins; and three named as second alternates.

IA students ready for state

Snyder High School industrial arts students Wednesday morning were loading their projects for transportation to Waco for the weekend statewide contest.

IA instructors said it may be the largest group of qualifiers ever for the local program, noting that an extra rental truck had to be secured to transport all of the projects.

The students qualified at a regional competition held April 23 in Abilene.

Local students qualified in four events: woodworking, metals, electronics and drafting.

Those now eligible to advance to state include:

—Metals: Jason Cooper, Kevin Tate, Clint Haywood, Tracy Clemmons, Daniel McVey; Danny Thomason, Bobby Grimes, Danny Hicks, Todd Owens and Lowell Halkowitz.

—Electronics: Sam McCleaf, Lowell Halkowitz, Chris Kelly, Dan Morley and Francois Pointeau.

Producers won't use cotton funds in 1988

Members of the Scurry County Producers Association Tuesday opted to leave some $95,445 collected since the fall of 1985 in an interest-bearing account with an eye to the future of using this money for a fall diapause program to combat boll weevil infestations in Scurry County cotton.

The money has been raised by assessing county produced here "at the gin." This assessment has been levied for three fall cotton crops since it was approved by a vote of affected producers in the spring of 1985.

At Tuesday's meeting, the group considered a proposal to authorize an early season overwintered weevil insecticide program.

This option was rejected in favor of continuing to allow the money to earn interest, however.

In another action to combat weevil infestations, the group recently set May 20 as the uniform delayed planting date for Scurry County cotton.

It is projected that cotton planted beyond this date will enter its "bloom" phase too late to benefit the emerging cycle of boll weevils.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Those who complain about the way the ball bounces are often the same folks who habitually drop it."

It has literally been a burning issue in towns which have considered a smoking ordinance. Some private industry has adopted rules of their own.

For example, many hotels and motels now offer non-smoking rooms. We had always wondered how the clean air rules were enforced inside the privacy of a room.

One motel in New Mexico is serious about keeping those designated rooms free of smoke. If you happen to check into a certain chain motel in Las Cruces, management requires a signed agreement before renting one of the smoke-free rooms.

The renter pledges not to smoke in the room nor allow anybody else to smoke. If the no-smoking rule is violated, the renter agrees to pay a $250 cleaning fee to be assessed at checkout.

We'd hate to be the desk clerk trying to settle up the bill with a violator.

Businesses have to be more innovative these days if they hope to survive.

We heard about a price war that had evolved in a rural West Texas community not far from here. The town had only two grocery stores and the two stores were directly across the street from each other.

During the course of the price war, one merchant advertised bread for 25 cents a loaf. His competitor countered with the same loaf of bread for 20 cents.

And so it went until one finally advertised a loaf of bread for one cent.

Determined not to be outdone, he spent most of the night trying to figure out a way to outdo his rival—short of giving the bread away.

At sunrise, he had made his decision and hung a large sign in his store window. It read: "Buy your groceries here and we'll give you a penny to buy your bread across the street."

Gramm says bold measures needed

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Bold measures, including testing of students suspected of using drugs, are required if America is to cure its growing drug problem, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm said.

The Texas Republican said he considers drug use the world's No. 1 problem.

"If I were an administrator, I would reserve the right to test someone who I thought was on drugs and was disrupting schools," he said. "And as a parent, I would support that."

Speaking of about 110 students at San Antonio Northside, Gramm proposed stricter punishment for drug pushers, including a mandatory 10-year sentence for someone convicted of selling drugs to a minor.

Gramm also called for random testing for workers "in a position where they affect the safety of others," such as air-traffic controllers, pilots and train engineers.

"You do not have a right to privacy to commit felonies," he said.

He also would like to see harsher treatment for users, he said, and would consider extending to convicted drug users the successful drug seizure law — under which authorities have the power to confiscate cars, planes and warehouses related to drug production and trafficking.

"We can't just solve the problem by reducing supply," he said. "We have to cut off the demand for drugs."

That, he said, is where the students can play a major part in the battle against drug use by serving as role models.

Heard explains why he lost election

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — San Antonio lawyer Oliver Heard says it was a one-sided turnout in Dallas — not his presence at an Austin nude modeling studio when it was raided — that thwarted his bid for the presidency of the Texas State Bar.

Heard lost to Dallas lawyer Darrell Jordan 14,170 votes to 10,266 votes in unofficial returns, the State Bar of Texas said.

Heard said that in recent presidency elections, strong contenders from Dallas have lost to lawyers from Houston or Austin and he believes Dallas lawyers were ready to choose one of their own.

Jordan will become president-elect June 11, when Jim Sales of Houston assumes the presidency.

"Why can't I have as much fun with MY money as Malcolm Forbes has with HIS?"

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

These values aren't valuable

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had a blood test recently. All values were within normal ranges except for CO2 and chloride, both of which were quite high. Could you explain to me what these values mean?

DEAR READER: The amount of carbon dioxide (CO2) dissolved in the blood can be measured, as can chloride (a portion of the salt molecule). CO2 in arterial blood gives a useful number that helps physicians diagnose and treat respiratory ailments and problems with the body's acid-base buffering system. In my experience, the routine calculation of CO2 in venous blood — when performed as part of a screening procedure — is without value. Similarly, in healthy adults, the venous chloride is useless, providing that the sodium level is normal.

Many of my patients seem to have high CO2 and chloride levels in random blood samples. If everything else is normal, I simply ignore these values because they don't tell me anything and appear not to be related to health. In my opinion, the routine screening of CO2 and chloride in the blood of well adults is a waste of time and money.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My resting pulse rate is 90. I do aerobics five times a week, frequently play tennis and swim, have two children, a part-time business, am happily married and have 110/70 blood pressure. Is my pulse rate anything to worry about?

DEAR READER: Although most normal adults have resting pulses between 60 and 80, an occasional person may run as high as 90. This may be a normal value for you. Nonetheless, I think that you should be checked by a physician because you might have a low-grade anemia or a hidden thyroid condition, the first sign of which could be a tendency to fast pulse. These conditions, and others like them may produce few, if any, symptoms early on, a slight pulse increase could be the first warning signal.

I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Letter, EATING RIGHT FOR A HEALTHY HEART. Other readers who want a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 35-year-old woman, 5 feet 7 and 105 pounds. I'm an ovo-lacto vegetarian. Recently, I've noticed that I am bruising very easily. My legs look like I've been dropped out of an airplane. What could be causing this?

DEAR READER: You could have a vitamin deficiency, such as a lack of vitamin C and K, both of which are necessary for proper blood clotting and healthy blood vessels. Or you might have developed a coagulation abnormality, such as a low platelet count, that is unrelated to your dietary preference. See a doctor to determine why you bruise so easily. This situation is not normal. In fact, it may be dangerous because the bruising may be invisibly affecting your internal organs. You need an examination and blood tests — pronto.

Drug suspects arrested by police

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — An 82-year-old widow whose home was invaded by drug dealers while she was hospitalized says she will clean it up as soon as she's better.

Two men were jailed on drug-possession charges and a third was out on bail Tuesday after police raided the home of Merzella Norris, who is in a nursing care facility while recovering from pneumonia.

"Yes, I'm sorry about it. But just as soon as I get home, I'm going to straighten it out, whatever it is," Mrs. Norris said.

Police raided the house Friday on a tip that drug dealers had moved into Mrs. Norris' house without her consent and set up a cocaine distribution point. They confiscated cocaine and empty capsules in the raid.

as many tricks in no trump as he could in a diamond contract, he would have a better score than all those other pairs who played the mundane diamond contract.

The lead of the heart deuce (fourth best) was a good one, since that meant neither defender held five hearts. East took the A-K and continued the suit. On the fourth heart, declarer threw a club from dummy and a spade from his hand. As he hoped, West led a low club. East's jack was taken by declarer's king, and now the queen of diamonds drew the king from West. Declarer took all of his diamond tricks, throwing a small spade from dummy, and was now at the crossroads. Who had the ace of spades? Since East had already shown the A-K of hearts and the jack of clubs, it was quite unlikely that he would also have the spade ace (surely he would have opened the bidding). So South played up to the king of spades and made eight tricks for 120.

This play was fine at the tournament. At social bridge, you should probably take your sure seven tricks. After all, it's always possible that East overlooked an ace and so neglected to open the bidding.

Destruction of bird nests probed

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — A feathered frenzy of nest-building swallows has created an airborne hazard on campus, say University of Texas-Permian Basin officials, who have ordered the nests destroyed.

But U.S. Fish and Wildlife of-Workers at UTPB began tearing down hundreds of swallows' nests built recently by the migratory birds beneath overhanging cement structures on the campus' main building.

"If you were to walk outside there, I'd advise an umbrella," said UTPB student P.J. Housden.

Amnesty marathon nears finish line

By The Associated Press

Thousands of illegal aliens hoping to take advantage of their last chance for U.S. citizenship camped outside immigration offices around the country early today as the yearlong amnesty program approached its midnight deadline.

All 107 offices of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service will remain open until midnight to handle applications from those seeking legal residency status.

"I expect to be here forever, for the rest of my life," said a weary Stanley Davis, chief legalization officer for the INS office in Tucson, Ariz.

In Houston, vendors sold tacos and sandwiches to those in line Tuesday in Albuquerque, N.M., immigration officials hired a Mexican band to entertain the 400 people queued up.

"I think we burned out two photocopiers in the past two days," said Patrice Parilli, director of the legalization program at Catholic Charities in San Francisco, where more than 25,000 aliens from 200 countries have applied for amnesty in the past year.

As of Sunday, 1.33 million amnesty applications have been filed nationwide, and 464,000 people are seeking legal status under a separate program for seasonal agricultural workers, the INS said. The deadline for that program is Nov. 30.

Applicants who file by the deadline also may request up to 60 days for submitting other documents necessary to prove they have lived in the United States continuously since before Jan. 1, 1982.

More than 13,000 illegal aliens have applied for amnesty in Oklahoma, said A.J. Irwin, the INS chief legalization officer in Oklahoma City. About 1,000 people have applied in the last week, and about 50 were waiting outside the doors when the office opened Tuesday.

"We just can't handle it," Irwin said. "We were doing an average of 20 people a day, and now we're doing about 200 a day."

"I asked them (the aliens), 'Why did you wait, why did you wait,' and a lot are saying they were afraid to come in," he said. "Now after a year, they're seeing that it's not a trick."

Jose Luis Navarro, 40, was among the skeptics.

"I thought I would go to the immigration office to apply and they would be there waiting to catch us," Navarro said.

"I didn't have sufficient papers, and I wasn't certain about the program like I am now," said Carlos Ortiz, 37, who came to the United States from Chihuahua, Mexico. "And I didn't have the money."

In Hialeah, Fla., Marcos Castellon, 40, said he had been afraid to apply.

"I was afraid they would deport me," Castellon said. "But now everyone believes in the law, and they accept it in good faith."

In Phoenix, Ariz., chief legalization officer Eugene Botts said he found a block-long line upon opening Tuesday, and 900 people were processed during the day.

Mavericks defeat Houston...

Lakers sweep San Antonio

by The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers' 15th consecutive victory in a first-round NBA playoff game proved to be as difficult as it was expected.

"I want to take my hat off to San Antonio," Coach Pat Riley said Tuesday night after the Lakers completed their fifth consecutive first-round sweep with a 109-107 victory over the Spurs.

The game wasn't decided until there were only four seconds left, when Johnny Dawkins missed a layup that would have tied the score.

Magic Johnson had 25 points and 11 assists and Mychal Thompson scored 23 points for Los Angeles, which will meet the Portland-Utah winner in the second round.

"They make you work for everything and that makes you play that much better," Johnson said.

In other playoff games, Dallas defeated Houston 93-92, Cleveland tripped Chicago 110-102 and Denver beat Seattle 125-114. The Mavericks, Bulls and Nuggets lead those series 2-1.

In tonight's games, it's Boston at New York, Detroit at Washington, Atlanta at Milwaukee and Portland at Utah. The Celtics and Hawks have 2-0 advantages in their series, while the Pistons lead 2-1 and the Trail Blazers and Jazz are tied 1-1.

Walter Berry came off the bench to lead the Spurs with 27 points, while Frank Brickowski added 22.

Mavericks 93, Rockets 92
Dallas broke a five-game road losing streak in the playoffs, winning at Houston despite 35 points and 12 rebounds by Akeem Olatunji.

Roy Tarpley scored six of his 17 points in the final minutes for the Mavericks, including the go-ahead basket with 3:45 to play.

Trailing 93-92, Houston got a chance to win when Rodney McCray stole the ball from Rolando Blackman with 12 seconds left. But Olajuwon missed the basket and Detlef Schrempf slapped the ball back toward midcourt as the game ended.

The Mavericks, trailing 77-73 to start the fourth quarter, tied the score four times in the period and took the lead for good, 86-84, with 3:45 to go on a tip-in by Tarpley.

LGA notes April winners; plans Friday couples event

Snyder Country Club LGA announced April playday winners at its monthly luncheon and business meeting this week.

Members were reminded of the Friday night Swingers couples tournament. Entry fee is $5 for the 5:30 p.m. event. Players should notify the pro shop by 4:30 p.m. if they intend to enter.

McElroy resigns

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Associate Athletic Director Lee McElroy said he is resigning effective June 15 to pursue other job opportunities.

McElroy, who announced his resignation Tuesday, said he is considering entering private business with his brother Reggie, an offensive lineman for the New York Jets.

McElroy, a member of the athletic department since 1981, was instrumental in hiring several UH coaches, including head football coach Jack Pardee. He designed the school's drug testing and academic support programs, and saw the athletic department battle declining attendance and financial problems.

Washington Redskin punter Steve Cox has this description of a blocked punt: "You hear two thumps, one right after the other."

Host final game Saturday...

Tigers top Tors here, 6-3

Coach Albert Lewis' Snyder Tigers got timely hitting and good defense when they needed it enroute to a 6-3 victory over Lamesa here Tuesday night.

The win was Snyder's second in a row, and puts the Tigers at 12-1 for the season and 9-7 in District 2-4A play. Regular season action ends Saturday when Lewis' bunch hosts San Angelo Lake View at 1 p.m.

In other 2-4A games played Tuesday, Pecos won its seventh straight game, 3-0 over Monahans, while Andrews stopped Big Spring 9-5 and Lake View ousted Fort Stockton 5-3. Friday, Monahans is at Andrews in a showdown between the two district leaders while Fort Stockton is at Lamesa. Pecos, which can also contend for a playoff spot, challenges Big Spring on Saturday. Monahans and Andrews are 11-2 in district play. Pecos is 10-3.

Lamesa provided the first run in Tuesday's game here when Johnny Ellis tagged Snyder starter Bart Morton for a two-out home run in the opening inning. Morton walked the next three batters to load the bags, but fanned Casey Myers to get out of the jam.

Snyder was able to keep the Lamar University-bound catcher under control the rest of the way, and that was a key to the win, according to Coach Lewis.

"Bart gave up that home run to Ellis but he got him out the next two times in crucial situations and Lee (Fletcher) popped him up in the seventh," noted the coach. "When you can hold Ellis to a one-for-four game, that's pretty good. He's a heck of a hitter."

Snyder tied the game in the bottom of the second inning. Willie Garcia drew a one-out walk off of Lamesa's Willie Butler and scored on a single from David Echols.

Lamesa came back in the third when Wes Shook singled and Robert Caballero followed with a two-out, RBI double that staked the Tors to a 2-1 advantage.

The Tigers also ignited in the third inning, though Randy Morris led off with a double and scored on a single from Brad Gartman to tie the game again, 2-2. Van Echols then tripled, scoring Gartman for the go-ahead run. What amounted to the winning run came in moments later when designated hitter Scott Lanier singled and Echols scored.

Snyder added one more run when a high fly ball hit by Wayne Ware popped out of the left fielder's glove, allowing Martinez to score.

Lamesa got its final run in the fourth. Armando Jimenez did the honors when he singled home Tim Demerson, who had tripled aboard.

Morton exited after four innings with a 5-3 lead. The sophomore right hander gave up seven hits, unofficially, and struck out five batters. He was relieved by Fletcher, who opened the fifth inning by striking out the side. Fletcher allowed a double to Ronnie Garcia in the sixth, but some alert play - centering around catcher Tracy Odom - ended the threat.

David Taylor followed Ronnie

Garcia with a sharply hit ball to third baseman Bert Otto. Otto was able to glove the ball and gun it to Odom, who held on despite a collision with Ronnie Garcia.

Moments later, Odom caught Taylor trying to steal second, and made the throw to Echols in time to get him out.

"Tracy is really improving now," beamed Lewis after the game. "I think our catching has improved 100 percent this season and our pitching has improved 100 percent."

Snyder's final run came in the sixth when Kevin Dollins' pinch-hit single drove in Otto, who had reached on a single and advanced on a sacrifice bunt from Wayne Ware.

The loss was Lamesa's 14th in 19 games this season and leaves the Tors at 2-11 in district play.

Pari-mutuel wagering issue heats up in Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — The issue of local-option pari-mutuel wagering has gotten hotter than an illegal tip sheet, and residents say the outcome is likely to be a photo finish.

Unusually high absentee voting totals indicate heavy interest in the issue, although for approximately 40,000 Lubbock County voters who don't live in this West Texas city of 190,000, the racing question is the only item on the ballot.

Students now issued test results

Snyder High School ninth grade students were given their TEAMS and CTBS test results Monday. Students were given a copy of their test results and a report to the parents which states the student's strengths and weaknesses and if they mastered each test.

Tenth grade students were given a copy of their Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS) achievement test results.

On Friday, seventh grade students will receive their TEAMS results. Each student will receive the report to the parent as well as the individual test result.

All elementary teachers will be scheduling conferences with parents beginning May 10 to discuss the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills Achievement Test.

In grades three and five, the teachers will also discuss the TEAMS results and give parents a copy of their child's reports.

and all registered voters in the county—which comprises the college district—may vote in the college ballot.

For the school and city, however, persons who reside within a specific single member district will cast ballots for specific candidates.

absentee voting was 40. As of Tuesday, 108 had been registered at WTC.

For the Snyder school board races, 160 absentee votes were recorded Tuesday afternoon. The record for an absentee count recorded by the school district last spring was 214.

While each Snyder-based entity operated its own absentee voting location, the polling spot for all elections will be combined Saturday at city hall. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

On the three ballots involving elected boards, there are two contested races at WTC, with three candidates seeking place 5 and two seeking place 6; two contested races for the school board, with two candidates seeking place 3 and three candidates seeking place 5; and two contested races for the city council, with two candidates each seeking place 1 and place 3.

Pari-mutuel proponents promise horseracing will be a boon to the city's economy, while opponents, including a number of ministers and community leaders, say legalized gambling will corrupt residents' morals.

As the battle lines have been drawn, a number of ministers have urged their congregations to vote against pari-mutuel, and racing supporters have raised $31,000 to aid their effort.

The local newspaper hesitantly endorsed the measure, while Superintendent of Schools E.C. Leslie, MT McMinn and County

Tuesday has four accidents

Four accidents were reported in Snyder Tuesday, all listed as minor.

A 1980 Ford four-door driven by Jesse Tate of Rt. 3, Snyder, was in collision with a 1980 Oldsmobile two-door driven by Jennifer Goodwin of Rt. 1, Snyder, at 10:06 a.m. Tuesday in the 3000 Block of College Ave.

A 1983 Mercury two-door driven by Deborah Suzanne Olsen of 5400 College, No. 102, was in collision with a fence owned by Linda Banks of 2704 Ave. W, causing an estimated $24 in damage, at 2:44 p.m. Tuesday in local-option elections Saturday.

Those two probably will be the last two counties in Texas to decide whether to allow pari-mutuel wagering in their areas, said Ricky Knox, executive director of the Texas Horse Racing Association.

2 burglaries investigated

Police and sheriff's officers are investigating two burglaries that were reported Tuesday, one of a paint and body shop in Snyder and one of a shed with welding equipment in it at Hermleigh.

Police said a break-in at Andy's Paint & Body Shop at 2106 Ave. R was discovered at 8:11 a.m. Tuesday and that mechanic's tools were stolen.

Jim Bridges of Hermleigh reported that a Forney 220-amp welder, a Sears cutting torch and a Craftsman oxygen regulator were among the items taken in the Hermleigh incident.

The sheriff's office is also investigating the theft of a shop-made trailer from Mesa Pipeline Co. at Ira, a deputy said.

Judge Rod Shaw all came out against pari-mutuel wagering.

Meese letter probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal ethics officials want to know why Attorney General Edwin Meese's letter to lawyers and businessmen to pay more than $3,000 apiece to a profit-making organization to attend a conference.

The Office of Government Ethics on Tuesday launched an investigation into Meese's April 26 letter, the head of the ethics office, Frank Q. Nebeker, said Tuesday night.

"We're attempting to ascertain what the facts are," he said.

Meese's letter — written on the attorney general's official stationery and emblazoned with the Justice Department seal — was sent to about 30,000 people whose names were "provided by everyone from the American Bar Association, the advisory committees on both sides, to the American Chamber of Commerce in Japan," said Norm Swanson, chairman of the Citizen Ambassador Program, the profit-making group that is a cosponsor of the meeting along with a Japanese federation.

A presidential order on ethics forbids federal officials from engaging in any conduct that might present the appearance of favoritism, conflict of interest or loss of objectivity in governmental decision making. The appearance of such a problem is enough to trigger an investigation, whether or not actual conflicts are known to exist.

In addition, it is a crime to use the Justice Department seal for non-authorized purposes.

Meese will be heading a U.S. delegation to the Aug. 29-Sept. 1 legal and economic conference in Japan called "The U.S.-Japan Bilateral Session: A New Era in Legal and Economic Relations."

Justice Department spokesman Terry Eastland said the department was unaware that a profit-making organization was involved, but he contended Meese's involvement might still be justified.

Despite furor, First Lady won't give up interest in astrology

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disclosures that President Reagan and his wife consult astrologers have opened them to taunts from Congress and criticism from scientists, but the first lady isn't about to drop her longtime interest in stargazing, an aide says.

"She doesn't think that there's anything wrong with it. It doesn't control policy and it doesn't control their lives," Elaine Crispin, the first lady's press secretary, said Tuesday.

For the Reagans, it was the latest bit of gossip about their private lives to emerge from a recent spate of kiss-and-tell books. Former chief of staff Donald Regan, forced from his job last year after clashing repeatedly with the first lady over the president's schedule, has reportedly written that Mrs. Reagan consulted astrologers to help arrange the president's activities.

The president's reaction to the uproar was quick.

"No policy or decision in my mind has ever been influenced by astrology," the president said Tuesday.

Reagan did not deny consulting astrologers, who make forecasts based on the belief that the heavenly bodies form patterns that can reveal a person's character or future.

Asked if astrology played a part in shaping his schedule, Reagan quipped, "You know I'm still looking for the fellas that tell me every day what I'm going to be doing."

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater, after acknowledging the first couple's interest in astrology, said he believes his own horoscope "when it says I am destined to meet a beautiful woman and fall madly in love and get rich."

"It's all so silly," Mrs. Crispin said of the barrage of queries that inundated her desk.

Bags are left on beach

BOCA CHICA BEACH, Texas (AP) — County workers had to stage a cleanup of the Great Texas Beach Trash-Off after some of the garbage that had been stashed in bags on the beach stayed there for more than a week and then started washing away.

Pilot John Davis said he saw some of the white, plastic sacks of garbage floating in the ocean when he flew over the Boca Chica area near the mouth of the Rio Grande a week after the April 23 statewide volunteer cleanup.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

May 5, 1988

It's important in the year ahead that you don't bite off more than you can chew. If you can accomplish a specific goal, its returns should be more than ample.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something with which you may have to contend today can be properly resolved if you trade on past knowledge gained from personal experience. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Speak up today if you hope to regain what another owes you. The person with whom you're dealing isn't likely to introduce it as a topic of conversation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your mate's pace may not be as speedy as yours today. However, let him/her move at the rate he/she feels is manageable. Tempo isn't related to results.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're not likely to be handed anything on a silver platter today. What you do receive, however, will be directly proportionate to the efforts you expend.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's time for you to step in and start reorganizing a social involvement. It looks like others aren't making a good job of it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Handling sticky, domestic situations requires a feather-light touch on your part today. If you're too stern or heavy-handed, it could fuel the flames.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Try not to view life too negatively today. If you look for the bright spots, you'll be more effective in dealing with others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's to your benefit to be both firm and fair where business is concerned today. Don't ask for more than you deserve, but don't accept less.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) When confronted by challenging developments today, stiffen your back and dig in. All that is required for success is additional fortitude and determination.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you require back-up where your career is concerned today, go to people who have stood behind you in the past. They should be able to provide the support you require.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) An old project should not suffer because of your enthusiasm for a new one. The results will be favorable if you give both equal attention.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Tenacity and resourcefulness are your two greatest assets today. Your chances for achieving worthy objectives are excellent if you apply your talents.

Snyder school candidates

Terry Martin

School Candidate
Place 3

Biographical data: Terry J. Martin, 43, of 2502 33rd Street is a Unit Chemical and Corrosion Technologist and has lived in the county for the past 16 years.

Q — State any specific goal you would like to see accomplished.

A — I have two specific goals, the first being to continue in the positive direction already established by the Snyder Independent School District of improved educational curriculum at all levels, with emphasis on the secondary level. Our educational system must be aggressive and responsive to meet the ever increasing academic demands of our society, in order to offer our children their due opportunities. My second specific goal is improved communication between parents, students, administrators and board primarily to promote a better and clearer understanding of our school system's issues, needs and problems.

Q — What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today?

A — School finances are certainly a pressing problem, due primarily to our declining tax base, the potential reduction of student population which results in the loss of state monies and governmental mandates.

Q — Outline the solution to this need.

A — In order to address this problem, it is necessary to properly prioritize financial needs, such as student programs and realistic competitive salary structures. These solutions will require the ability to correctly and equitably identify the priority needs, followed by rational, decisive action which is proper and representative for the majority, even though at times it may not be popular with all.

Q — Define briefly the role of a school trustee.

A — A school trustee has the defined responsibility to uphold the educational standards, as required to promote the best interest of the school district as a whole.

Ruben Martinez

School Candidate
Place 3

Biographical data: Ruben C. Martinez, 38, of 403 35th St. is the president of Balco Oilfield Services and has lived in the county for the past 29 years. He is a member of Lighthouse Assembly of God Church. He was an "at large" candidate for the school board last year.

Q — State any specific goal you would like to see accomplished.

A — I would like to see the power of unity prevail in our school system and Snyder as a whole during these economically tough times while working towards the highest quality education possible.

Q — What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today?

A — The support of the general public is needed in trying to make the best decisions affecting the budget and our students.

Q — Outline the solution to this need.

A — A continued effort in informing our community on progress within the school system, and working towards arousing interest or participation within the district.

Q — Define briefly the role of a school trustee.

A — To uphold the state policy and ethical standards along with reviewing current local guidelines, and always consider the educational welfare of all children in the district.

Dear Abby

Ostomy Association Gives Members Courage, Support

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: In a recent letter dealing with people who have a hearing problem but refuse to wear a hearing aid, you wrote: "A physical impairment of any kind is nothing to be ashamed of." That message should be communicated to the hundreds of thousands of people who are not members of the United Ostomy Association where they can get support and information about the problems they face. There are persons — of all ages — who have a "stoma" (artificial opening) to eliminate the waste products of the body. The surgical procedure is called "colostomy" or "ileostomy."

There are an estimated 1 1/2 million "ostomates" in the United States, but only 50,000 are members of the United Ostomy Association. Why? Because most people who have had that kind of surgery are too embarrassed to discuss it.

Abby, meeting with others who share a common problem can give encouragement and support. Bearing it alone isolates, and makes for self pity.

B.W. HOLMES,
ESCONDIDO, CALIF.

DEAR B.W.: Right on! I have friends of all ages who are members of this wonderful organization. I recommend it highly. Those interested may write to the United Ostomy Association, 86 Executive Park, Suite 120, Irvine, Calif. 92714. This is a non-profit organization, so please send a self-addressed, stamped (25 cents) envelope.

DEAR ABBY: A short time ago you suggested that people take old, unused clothing to the Goodwill after cleaning out their closets. May I make another suggestion? If the clothing is really old, you might consider calling your local community theater group. Old, donated clothing forms the basis of its costume department.

According to Mary Alden, volunteer costumer for the Lakeshore

Theater in White Bear Lake, Minn., the types of things they really need are formal wear, men's suits, uniforms, boots and hats. Also costume jewelry, and accessories such as parasols, fans, leather bags, lace and other types of trim, and any old apparel in good condition that dates back 40 years or more.

Those lonely people who write to you might also consider their community theaters when donating their talents. There are hundreds of jobs that need to be done other than acting, and never enough hands at most theaters to do them. Any retired carpenters? Painters? Artists?

Most people associated with the theater are relaxed, friendly, congenial and great fun.

MARGARET FOX,
WHITE BEAR LAKE, MINN.

DEAR MARGARET: What a great idea. There's no business like show business. (Unless it's monkey business.)

DEAR ABBY: You have had several letters recently from people who are fed up with receiving overdue notices and nasty letters from service companies. You say that most billings these days are handled by computers, which are sorely lacking in common sense.

My trash collecting service uses computer billing, and what its computer lacks in common sense, it makes up in a sense of humor. After I missed one payment, my second bill read: "Hello, I am a computer. Your account is past due. If you don't pay soon, I will tell a human."

That kind of message will get better results than one that puts me on the defensive.

ALL FOR HUMOR
IN BOULDER

Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. All correspondence is confidential.

Lesa Oudt

School Candidate
Place 5

Biographical data: Lesa Bowden Oudt, 41, of Clairemont Route is a homemaker and has lived in the county for 21 years, not consecutively. She is affiliated with the Scurry County Museum, Daughters of the American Revolution, Council for Educational Excellence and the Ladies Golf Association. Prior board experience, received while living in New Orleans, includes serving on the Audubon Zoo Committee, Trinity Episcopal School Expansion, Delgado Museum Exhibit Committee and the New Orleans Tourist Commission.

Q — State any specific goal you would like to see accomplished.

A — To listen to the opinions of the residents of my district on various issues and help relay to the board and administration. I think the board should be a bridge between the community and the administration. Also, our system should stress the value of education to students of all abilities and should attempt to fulfill their needs.

Q — What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today?

A — To maintain the high quality of our school system in both academic and vocational areas, as the county's oil base is declining.

Q — Define the solution to this need.

A — I know of no easy solution to this problem. The budget should be reviewed to see that every dollar spent is used in the most beneficial manner to meet the educational needs of our children.

Q — Define briefly the role of a school trustee.

A — To set the goals and policies for the school system present and future needs, giving diligent thought and study to each decision.

Jerry House

School Candidate
Place 5

Biographical data: Jerry House, 44, of Clairemont road is a self employed farmer and has lived in the county for 42 1/2 years. His community service has included as a deacon and Sunday School superintendent at Bethel Baptist Church, a director for the Snyder Jaycees, Farm Bureau and Scurry County Livestock Show. He has also been a board member and president of the Scurry County Producers Association and chairman of the Scurry County Council on Alcoholism. Q — State any specific goals you would like to see accomplished.

A — One of the main goals of any school board is to insure the quality of education our children receive. Starting with the superintendent down to the teacher's aide making sure we have the best qualified leaders and teachers available.

Q — What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today?

A — The most pressing problem facing the school board today is being able to afford the quality of school system that we are accustomed to having. Decreasing oil values are putting a heavier burden on property owners in a time that they can least afford it.

Q — Outline the solution to this need.

A — The solution to this problem will not be simple, having three children still in Snyder public schools, I am determined to maintain the highest possible standards in our schools. Maybe one way of easing this problem is looking for additional ways of bringing in new revenues.

Q — Briefly outline the role of a school trustee.

A — There are several statewide standards and duties a school trustee must learn and carry out. In 1988, all elected trustees must have a minimum of 20 hours of training in statewide standards on duties of a school board member. Through this training we will learn the specific duties and rules governing the school board. The main role of a school trustee is to be a bridge between the district that they represent and the administration and faculty of the school district.

Q — What do you consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today?

A — I consider the most pressing problem facing the school board today to be the challenge of trying to maintain a budget that is reasonable, considering the state of the economy.

Q — Outline the solution to this need.

A — I do not have a solution to this need, but through hard work I feel we must maintain our high level of education in spite of our sagging economy.

Q — Define briefly the role of a school trustee.

A — The role of a school trustee is varied. One of the most important roles is the need to work for the educational welfare of all children (regardless of ability, race, creed, sex or social standing.) Another role is the necessity of working with the other trustees in setting goals and establishing policies for our school system. It is also important to help build public support and understanding of the public education. (Be a "go between".)
