

Soviet officials cancel one session

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The Soviet Union today abruptly canceled one of President Reagan's meetings with General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev and questioned the composition of a religious group scheduled to meet with Reagan in Moscow. The session, called off because of what the Soviets cited as "internal function," was one of five that Reagan had scheduled over four days with his Gorbachev. Overall, the president still will spend six hours with the Soviet leader because the remaining sessions will be expanded, said White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater. "I regard it as routine," Fitzwater said, as Reagan spent the day in seclusion at a government guesthouse making preparations for his talks in Moscow. The summit encountered another glitch when word reached the presidential party taking a rest stop in Finland that the Soviets had questioned the participation of one of the religious groups due to meet with Reagan at a monastery on Monday. "The meeting itself is still on as far as I know," Fitzwater said. He said he did not know which religious group might be excluded. Reagan also plans to meet separately with a group of Jewish "refuseniks" who had been unable to obtain exit permits for Israel. Fitzwater said he was unable to verify a report that two of them had been intercepted by Soviet authorities on their way to Moscow from Leningrad. There were no appointments on his schedule as the 77-year-old president tried to adjust to the seven-hour time change and get over the 4,450-mile flight from Washington. Just before Air Force One landed, Reagan received a telephone call from Secretary of State George P. Shultz with the disappointing news that Noriega had rejected a deal for him to step down in exchange for almost certain dropping of drug-related charges against him in Florida. "I don't feel weakened," Reagan assured reporters after his post-midnight landing. But he seemed disappointed — and at a loss on what he might try next to force out Noriega. Shultz had stayed behind to supervise the negotiations held in Panama between Michael G. Kozak of the State Department and Noriega. Asked what he might do next, Reagan said, "That's going to take some studying and consultation." Evidently, any serious planning will have to take a back seat to the Moscow summit.

Q — Did Snyder ISD receive the state increment for teachers this past year?
A — The annual state increment for teacher pay referred to applies only to schools which pay what is classified as "state base" for salaries. Snyder currently pays above state base for every level of teaching experience and as a result no annual pay raise was mandated by the state.

In Brief

GNP expands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economy helped by the biggest improvement in trade in eight years, expanded at a robust annual rate of 3.9 percent in the first three months of the year, far better than previously thought, the government reported today. The Commerce Department said the gross national product, the broadest measure of economic health, performed far better from January through March than it had estimated a month ago. At that time, the department put GNP growth at 2.3 percent.

One arrested

PEARSALL, Texas (AP) — A teacher who resigned last week in connection with allegations he fondled third grade girls has been arrested at a San Antonio hospital where he went for treatment as a psychiatric patient, officials said. Wednesday's arrest on charges of indecency with a child came a day after an emergency meeting of the Pearsall school board attended by 75 citizens and parents, some of whom complained that their children were fondled by Don F. Thompson, 46. Thompson, who resigned May 17, was arrested at 6:45 a.m. Wednesday by San Antonio police serving two arrest warrants issued by Frio County officials. School officials also said Wednesday that an assistant principal, Ernie Medina, was suspended following Tuesday's school board meeting because of his handling of the controversy involving Thompson, a reading instructor.

End of classes approaching for 3 county schools

Scurry County's three public schools were to begin closing their doors for the summer holiday Thursday as classes dismiss at Hermleigh, where students were to be dismissed early with the final bell of the 1987-88 school year to ring at 2:30 p.m. Friday will be the last day of classes at both Ira and Snyder

Again, the last bell will ring early at both schools with classes to dismiss at 2:30 p.m. In Snyder, however, school teachers will return to the classroom on Saturday for the school year's final work day. Snyder elementary students will receive their report cards Friday.

Because tests are still underway, Snyder high school and junior high students will receive their grade reports next week. These will be mailed if arrangements have been made or the students may pick the reports up at the individual campus. Summer school for the Snyder system begins June 6.

Parents to sponsor 'safe' senior events

The traditional senior steak supper, planned and prepared by the senior parents, is due at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Towle Park Barn. It will mark the first of several events planned Thursday and into Saturday in honor of this year's graduating class. The activities are planned to give seniors a "safe alternative" for their graduation night.

In line with this, the parents have received some $3,200 in cash donations in addition to a range of prize items from local merchants to award to seniors attending the various events. Mary Trull, a senior parent who has headed planning for the Friday night "Operation Senior," said, "The Snyder merchants have been more than generous. We've been just overwhelmed."

After Friday's graduation, seniors and their dates will be invited to a dance in Room A of the Scurry County Coliseum. It will be from 10:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. At 1 p.m., a movie will be shown at the local cinema for seniors, then, from 2:30 until 6 a.m. Saturday, "Operation Senior" will begin at the Western Texas College gymnasium building. At each of these three events, prizes will be offered at both the beginning and end. The majority of prizes, to include a $500 cash prize donated by McDonald's of Snyder, will be given out during "Operation Senior" at WTC. Reet Chemical of Snyder has also donated $500 in cash towards the prizes to be given out Friday. See SENIOR, page 11.

Grads to combine at Hermleigh rite

Hermleigh seniors and eight graders will graduate Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the school. The Rev. Rex Reynolds, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Hermleigh, will give the commencement address. Other addresses will be given by the three honor students of each graduating class. High school honor students include Rodney Foster, valedictorian; Ben Smith, salutatorian, and ... highest ranking girl. Junior high honor grads are Rebecca Ramey, valedictorian, Renee Matthews, salutatorian, and Katrina Reynolds, historian. Rio Evans, minister of the Hermleigh Church of Christ will give both the invocation and benediction. Jimmy Hudgins, president of the school board, will hand out diplomas. RexAnne Reynolds will play the processional. High school ushers will be Jan Ruck and Joe Mireles. Junior high ushers will be Amy Anderson and Billy ... Senior sponsors are Edna Merrill and Doug Cook. Elaine Whit. See HERMLEIGH, page 11.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing, but unfortunately that's all most of us have." A high school in Michigan is serious about its products. The school is offering employers of its graduates a warranty. If the grad lacks the basic skills, the high school will offer free course work to bring the graduate up to par. Explained one school official, "Business is expected to stand behind their products, so why shouldn't schools?" One commencement day speaker said the day is filled with fun and games and that graduates should have no cares, but the speaker turned it by telling 'em the world was theirs.

Big league manager Whitey Herzog could make a unique commencement speaker with this sage advice: "A slick way to outfigure a person is to get him figuring you figure he's figuring you're figuring he'll figure you aren't really figuring what you want him to figure you figure. And if you can figure what that means, you probably have a bright future writing regulations for the IRS or some other federal agency." At graduation, we're reminded of a popular article that says everything you need to know is learned in kindergarten. That first year, students learn about sharing up one's own mess. The bottom line: "No matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together."

2 white officers sentenced to hang

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Two white policemen today were sentenced to hang for the murder of a black youth who was beaten and then shot during a police unit's drunken foray into a black township.

If the executions are carried out, it would be the first time in South Africa that white policemen were hanged for crimes committed while on duty in a black township.

Key testimony against Warant Officer Leon de Villiers, 37, and Constable David Goosen, 37, came from other members of their 10-man riot unit who were pressured by police investigators into abandoning a cover-up attempt.

Several officers testified that de Villiers, the unit leader, had ordered Goosen to "take out" 18-year-old Mlungisi Stuurman because the youth had been too badly beaten to be set free.

Stuurman was taken to a riverbank and shot in the back of the head on July 26, 1986, in the black section of Cradock, in eastern Cape Province.

The non-jury trial, which began in October, was held at the Supreme Court in Grahamstown, near Cradock.

Justice N.W. Zietsman, who presided over the trial, convicted the two men on Wednesday, saying de Villiers had led his men on a "beating expedition" in which residents were assaulted indiscriminately.

Today, Zietsman said he had rejected the mitigation arguments presented by defense lawyers. De Villiers' lawyer said his client was of below-average intelligence and was drunk at the time of the shooting.

Goosen had testified that he was suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder because of repeated exposure to violence in the black townships. He also said he had an unhappy childhood during which he often was taunted because of his dark complexion.

According to testimony during the trial, members of de Villiers' squad drank heavily, conducted a blood-oath ceremony swearing to secrecy, then entered the township at about 3 a.m., assaulting several blacks.

Following another bout of drinking at their base, the squad returned to the township after daybreak.

Stuurman, who was wearing a T-shirt bearing the slogan "Forward To People's Power," was chased and grabbed by officers when he tried to walk away from them, then was assaulted.

The officers said de Villiers ordered that Stuurman should be "taken out" because of the severity of his injuries.

The defendants contended that the shooting was an accident. De Villiers said he did not report the incident immediately because he was still under the influence of alcohol.

Tentative deal reached to kill completed nuclear plant

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A utility company today tentatively agreed to give up the $6.3 billion Shoreham nuclear power plant. Once the deal is finalized, it would be the first time a completed U.S. atomic plant was abandoned before it opened.

The agreement between the state and the Long Island Lighting Co. was announced by Gary Fryer, a spokesman for Gov. Mario Cuomo.

It would allow financially troubled LILCO to continue to operate as a privately owned utility. The state had been proceeding with a possible takeover of the entire company.

As part of the agreement, the state would buy Shoreham for $1 and LILCO would pay the more than $400 million to decontaminate and decommission the plant. New generating plants would then be built on Long Island to ensure that residents have a sufficient supply of electricity.

The agreement in principle was announced 95 minutes after Cuomo's midnight Wednesday deadline for an agreement. Earlier, Cuomo had threatened to call off negotiations if LILCO failed to agree to a deal and then resume a state lawsuit to keep Shoreham closed.

Utility spokesman James Lois confirmed the agreement but withheld detailed comment.

The entire agreement must be approved by the state Public Service Commission, and some parts of the agreement must be approved by the legislature.

Once completed, the deal will end years of attempts by environmentalists, local activists and others to close Shoreham, on Long Island's north shore.

"I think that utilities throughout the United States will be very mindful of what happened to the Long Island Lighting Company," said Irving Like of Bay Shore, a Shoreham opponent and a member of the Long Island Power Authority (LIPA), a board the state set up to examine a possible takeover of the utility.

The plant, completed in 1984, has never been opened because of the refusal of state and local officials to approve an emergency evacuation plan.

The officials had argued that Long Island, because of its geography, could not be safely evacuated during a nuclear accident and without such approval the federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission had refused to issue an operating license.

But state efforts to close Shoreham accelerated after the NRC in October eliminated the rule requiring state and local government participation in an evacuation plan.

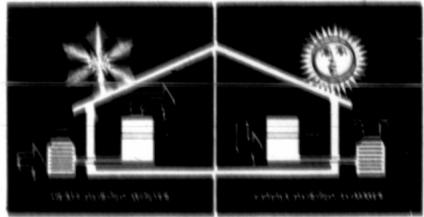

The settlement provides a prototype for opponents of other nuclear plants.

Stargazers study child safety

Stargazers Extension Homemakers met May 16 in the home of Mildred Rogers with Daisy Lewis, vice-president, presiding.

Members answered roll call with something special each one had been taught by her mother. The thought for the day was, "Happy is the home where words of love and encouragement are spoken."

The homemaker's hint was that pipe cleaners make quiet toys for children to play with in church.

A video, "Toxic Chemicals in the Home," was used as the program feature. Of special interest were the things toxic to young children since they live their first years on the floor. Everything at that level needs to be examined for safety.

Also stressed was the fact that children can open child-proof lids and that medications of all kinds should be kept out of their reach.

Adults should be label-readers. Vitamins with iron are toxic to young children if they take several at one time.

Members urge others to see this film which may be obtained by calling the County Extension Office at 573-5423.

Joyce McCoy, TEHA chairman, was a visitor at the session. She gave a report on two fund raisers which members voted to support if the Council approves the projects. She also reported on the district meeting and showed pictures taken there.

Lewis was hostess for the meeting with Rogers receiving the hostess gift.

The next meeting will be June 20 with the place to be announced.

"Well bid, partner!" We're all acquainted with this breed of player and are sometimes guilty of the same failing. Had the diamond king been with East, South would have been quick to shout, "How could you bid five hearts with only 17 high-card points?"

In fact, North did bid too much when he tried five hearts. He should not expect to miss a good slam by signing off in four spades. If South's hand also included the diamond king or the club ace, South would surely have bid again. North-South would have then reached a slam that was genuinely well-bid.

South typified a common breed of bridge player — the result player. Just watch his reaction to the result of the current deal. North's jump to four clubs over South's response was a splinter bid, showing a singleton club, four-card support for South's spades and substantial high-card values over opening-bid strength. With the ace of hearts and solidifying spade values, South happily cue-bid the side-ace. North bid five hearts, and South was justified in jumping to six spades. Nevertheless, when dummy came down, declarer was not overjoyed. He could see that the success of the slam would depend upon the location of the diamond king.

Clubs were led and continued. Declarer ruffed, played a spade to his king and immediately took the diamond finesse. When that held, he cashed the ace and queen of spades and took a second diamond finesse. Only then did he exclaim happily, Dallas blown out, 123-101...

Jordan named NBA Player of the Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Jordan, the only player in the history of the National Basketball Association to win the scoring title and defensive award in the same year, became the first Chicago Bull to be named the league's Most Valuable Player.

Jordan received 47 of a possible 80 first-place votes from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters for a total of 665 points. Boston Celtic Larry Bird, a three-time MVP, was second, receiving 16 first-place votes and 527 total points. Magic Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers, last year's MVP, also received 16 first-place votes and accumulated 508 total points to finish third. Charles Barkley of the Philadelphia 76ers received the remaining first-place vote.

"I can think of no better way to cap the season," said Jordan, who averaged 35.0 points per game to lead the league in scoring for the second consecutive season. "It was one of the best I set for myself at the beginning of the season."

Earlier this month, Jordan was named the league's Defensive Player of the Year, and becomes the first to win both the MVP and that award.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Earlier in his career, Byron Scott was regarded by some critics as the weak link in the Los Angeles Lakers' lineup.

But Scott, in his fifth NBA season, has improved continuously and quietly has become the Lakers' leading scorer. Wednesday night, Scott scored 30 points on 11-of-17 shooting to lead the Lakers to a 123-101 victory over Dallas and a 2-0 lead in the Western Conference finals.

The best-of-seven series now shifts to Dallas for games Friday and Sunday.

"My confidence level was high in the regular season and during the playoffs, it's skyrocketing. I felt so loose for this game," said Scott, who seemed plagued by self-doubt earlier in his career, particularly after he had some lackluster playoff games.

Scott's scoring is a problem Dallas coach John MacLeod would rather not have to deal with.

"He's another weapon for them," MacLeod said. "He's been having an All-Star season. He's been on fire, playing really well, since training camp."

"He's going to remember this year when he's old and retired. It's a banner year for him."

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the Lakers' 41-year-old center, had 19 points and seven rebounds in the victory over Dallas.

James Worthy added 16 points and Johnson had 15 points and 19 assists.

Mark Aguirre led Dallas with 28 points. Sam Perkins had 16 and Rolando Blackman had 14.

The Lakers led 59-48 at halftime and stayed comfortably ahead in the second half.

Riley, saying the Mavericks' Reunion Arena is a tough place for visiting teams, tried to put the series in perspective.

"It's academic and trivial to say, but all we've done is win two games. Two years ago we won the first two here and they won two back there and the series went six games."

"Our goal is to get one win (in Dallas), I don't care which game, and come back here and wrap it up in five games."

MacLeod said he was still confident that the Mavericks have a chance, adding, "We're going to have to react better to what they're doing defensively, and we're going to have to get back faster on defense ourselves."

The Laker players, meanwhile, said the Mavericks may be hard to beat at home.

"They are an explosive ball club and we've got to be ready," Worthy said. They will feel more motivated being at home with their crowd.

"We aren't thinking about a sweep," the Lakers' Johnson said. "We're just thinking about Friday night. We have to take care of business."

Thomas scores 35 as Pistons run past Celtics in the Garden, 104-96

BOSTON (AP) — There were 5½ years of failure, 5½ years in which the Detroit Pistons lost every one of their 21 games in Boston Garden.

But rarely, if ever, in those 21 games did Isiah Thomas get hot and score 35 points at the same time that the Celtics went cold and forgot the entire point of their offense.

Boston, at its best when it plays patiently and works the ball inside, hurried shots from the outside in the second half Wednesday night. Thomas hit shots from all over and led Detroit to a 104-96 victory in the opener of the NBA's Eastern Conference finals.

Having seized the homecourt advantage from the Celtics in the best-of-seven series, the Pistons can gain a huge edge by winning tonight's second game at the Garden. The third and fourth games are scheduled for their Pontiac Silverdome home on Saturday and Monday afternoons.

"In the playoffs, you don't really think about the (Celtics' home) winning streak," Detroit guard Vinnie Johnson said after the Pistons' first Garden victory since Dec. 19, 1982. "You just want to win the game. Now that the streak is over, it's great, but I'm more excited about winning the game."

"It's real frustrating starting the series like this," said Boston's Larry Bird, who had 20 points. "You want to win and get the first one under your belt."

The Celtics, who led the NBA with a 52.1 shooting percentage during the regular season, made only 41.8 percent of their shots for the game and 35.6 percent in the second half.

"On offense, we self-destruct sometimes," said Kevin McHale, who led Boston with 31 points on 13-for-17 shooting. "We had a stretch of about four times in a row in the fourth quarter where we didn't get a single good shot."

Snyder's Hatter signs with WTC Westerners

Three-time Snyder High School player of the year Wade Hatter has signed to play golf for Western Texas College next season.

"I'm excited we have a player from Snyder capable of playing college golf," said WTC Coach Dave Foster. "Wade has a lot of raw talent and he's very dedicated. He hasn't been playing golf that long (four years) and we're going to try to get him in a good, extensive summer program that will help his game. His best golf is probably a year away. The talent is there. He just has to get consistent and that comes with experience."

Hatter was a four-year letterman for Coach Mackey Greene's SHS Tigers. He was medalist at the San Angelo Lake View District 2-4A Tournament this past season and placed fourth at the Odessa Invitational. He was in line for all-district honors, but a low final round dropped him in the 2-4A standings.

"Wade has been one of the hardest workers I have ever had," said Greene.

Hatter will play in the Texas-Oklahoma Juniors in June. He tied for 17th in 1986 and 18th in 1987.

A student council representative in high school, Hatter was also a sound technician with the drama department. On the golf course, he was the team season medalist for the past three years.

Hatter is the fifth player signed by Foster, who expects to add a couple more to the 1988-89 WTC roster. He will return six from the 1987-88 season as well.

Boys who plan to attend the Tony Mauldin Basketball Camp at Western Texas College will get a $10 discount for registering before June 6, Mauldin has noted.

The camp, for residents or commuters, will be held June 13-17 at the college and is for boys in the sixth through the 12th grade. UIL rules prohibit campers with varsity experience from participating, however.

Fees are $180 for resident campers, who will reside in air-conditioned dorms and eat in the cafeteria, and $100 for commuters. A $50 deposit is required.

Campers will receive a basketball, camp T-shirt, certificates and a report card. Special awards and trophies will be given for contests and competition.

Among the coaches working with Mauldin will be Leslie Broadhurst from Morton, Severne Smith from Johnson City, Ralph Mason from Gilmer and Mike Gencarelli from Mt. Pleasant. All are highly successful high school coaches.

Teaching sessions will be divided into fundamentals of basketball. Rebounding and defensive techniques will also be stressed. Team games will also be played.

Local boxer advances to WT championships

Ruben Olivo, a member of the Snyder Boxing Club, has advanced to the 1988 Western Trails National Championships, to be held in Houston from June 1-5.

Olivo earned the right to advance when he defeated Chris Hernandez of Olton to take the 106-pound weight class in the West Texas Box-Off in Lubbock last Saturday.

By winning in Houston, Olivo could advance to the 1988 Olympic Trials, which will be held in Concord, Calif.

Olivo is a 1984 state A.B.F. champ. He was a national semifinalist in 1984, is the 1986 Regional Golden Gloves champion and was a finalist at the state Golden Gloves this year as well.

Olivo's coach, Johnny Claxton, is accepting donations to help with expenses on the trip to Houston, and, if necessary, on to Concord. Donations may be mailed to 2311 Beaumont locally. Claxton can be reached by telephone at (915) 573-0365.

Southern faces Texas in NCAA regional play

AUSTIN (AP) - Southern University hopes it can play the part of giant killer again, but knows it won't be an easy task facing Texas in the first round of the NCAA Central Regional Tournament.

The Jaguars, 28-19, have filled the role before, knocking second-ranked California-Fullerton out of regional action a year ago.

This time around, Southern Coach Roger Cadore is not sure what his team might accomplish when they take on the fourth-ranked Longhorns at 7 p.m. tonight.

"This is the type of situation where I can never figure out my team," he said. "I don't know what they're going to do."

Tyrone Washington, a 6-6 sophomore, leads the Southwest Athletic Conference Tournament champions on the mound, sporting a 7-1 mark but also a lofty 4.58 earned run average.

Third baseman Adell Davenport hit over .400 most of the year and holds steady at .401. He has also hit 15 home runs.

"This team has been a mystery to me," said Cadore. "We have good players but we have been up and down."

The Longhorns, 55-9, were their usual consistent selves in winning their 10th straight conference title and 19 out of the past 21.

SWC MVP Kirk Dressendorfer made the conference his own in his freshman year, posting a 14-2 record and an alarming 1.98 earned run average.

He is complimented by junior fireballer Eric Stone who was 15-1 before losing in his last two outings and was the top pitcher in the nation.

Earlier in the year Stone fanned 19 batters against Southwestern Louisiana to set a new school record.

Senior designated hitter Mike Patrick led Texas and the conference in hitting most of the season and comes into the tournament with a .395 average and 65 runs batted in.

Cal and Penn open the tournament today at 1 p.m.

The Bears were once ranked as high as fourth in the nation but a 7-14 midseason dip dropped them to 36-23 overall. They are the only other team in the Central Regional ranked in the top 20.

Junior leftfielder Todd Mayo leads Cal at the plate with a .351 average. John Kuehl represents the power for the Bears with 14 homers and 44 RBIs.

On the mound sophomore righthander Travis Willis heads the staff with an 8-7 mark and a 5.24 ERA.

Penn, 27-9, may be awestruck by the large crowds at Disch-Falk Field where the Longhorns regularly draw close to 8,000.

the 6-foot-10 McHale, but the Celtics rarely got the ball to him in the second half. He had 22 points with nine minutes left in the third quarter but took just four shots after that.

"We showed no patience on offense once we got the lead," Celtics' coach K.C. Jones said. "We were coming down quick and firing it up."

Boston led 70-64 with 3:21 left in the third quarter but didn't get another field goal in the period.

SAFE AT THIRD -- The Cubs' Jeremy Perkins slides in safely to third base as Ty Parks of the Braves waits on the throw during Little League action held this week at Logan Field. The Braves, first-half L.L. champs, won the game 11-1. (SDN Staff Photo)

The Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League champions played 16 games before a single fan showed up to watch them in action. The biggest crowd they played before was 150 and their average home attendance was 56.

Shortstop Joe DelliCarri carries a .402 batting average into the tournament and also leads Penn with five homers and 31 runs batted in. Sophomore left-hander Doug Smidt is the top moundsman with a 6-0 record and a minimal 2.09 ERA.

New Orleans and Michigan play the first game tomorrow.

Russell sparks Ranger win

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Jeff Russell would rather relieve than start, but the Texas Rangers right-hander won't be returning to the relative comforts of the bullpen anytime soon.

"I'll take a reluctant guy who gives me the innings he gives," Rangers manager Bobby Valentine said after Russell had pitched Texas to a 5-1 triumph over the Toronto Blue Jays.

"I hope he's reluctant 30 times. It's going to take a lot to get him out of the rotation."

Russell's hesitation to spend lengthy stretches at the mound stems from elbow surgery at the start of last season, which raised concerns that a starting spot could jeopardize his arm.

"Last year he couldn't see any long-term situation as a starter, Valentine said. "But now he's more settled and he's trying to make his mark."

Russell turned in his second straight effective start Wednesday night, allowing two hits over seven innings, and received support from Geno Petralli's 3-for-3 and three RBIs.

"I don't care what I do, as long as I contribute," said Russell, 26, in his fourth season with the Rangers. "I'm going out in the inning, trying to keep us in games. I thought I had pretty good stuff tonight."

Texas snapped a three-game losing streak as Russell, 3-0, retired 19 of 20 Toronto batters from the first through the seventh. Tony Fernandez interrupted the string with a third-inning single but Russell picked him off first.

Russell gave up a run in the eighth on Tony Fernandez's RBI single and when the Blue Jays loaded the bases with two outs, Dale Mohorcic came out of the bullpen to end the threat. Mohorcic pitched a scoreless ninth for his fourth save. "Russell was spectacular," Valentine said. "He had three pitches working and was throwing them all for strikes. When you see a guy throwing with the velocity of Roger Clemens and with the movement Russell has on his fastball, you've really got something."

The teams conclude their three-game series Thursday night with Dave Stieb (6-3) starting for Toronto against Paul Kilgus (6-3).

C-City residents concerned about police shooting event

COLORADO CITY, Texas (AP) - The shooting of a 27-year-old Colorado City man by a part-time police officer has sparked controversy among neighbors and civil rights advocates in this usually quiet West Texas town.

Scores of concerned citizens met with representatives of the U.S. Department of Justice and minority rights groups for nearly three hours Tuesday night to discuss remedies for alleged civil rights violations, the Big Spring Herald reported.

Part-time officer Billy Ray Williamson shot and killed Sammy Gomez May 13 when the officer arrived at Gomez's grandparents' home to arrest Gomez on aggravated sexual assault charges.

"Nothing I say — nothing anybody can say — is going to bring the victim back," said Richard Sambrano of the Justice Department's community relations office in Dallas. "But sometimes a tragedy like this can unite a community, keep the same thing from happening in the future."

Sambrano was in town to instruct Colorado City police and Mitchell County Sheriff's Department officers Wednesday in how to avoid using excessive force or committing civil rights violations of prisoners.

Colorado City Police Chief Bobby Sparks said a warrant had been issued for Gomez's arrest in connection with the aggravated sexual assault of a 19-year-old Colorado City woman. The woman was assaulted repeatedly between 11:30 p.m. May 11 and 4 a.m. May 12 in a car parked in the same block as the Gomez home.

Sparks said four officers were dispatched to arrest Gomez because the suspect had a prior conviction for assault on a police officer and was considered armed and dangerous. Police allege Gomez pulled a knife on two of the four officers and refused to stop advancing or to drop the knife. Williamson then shot Gomez.

Marcario Gomez, the dead man's father, told Sambrano that Williamson had threatened the younger Gomez for eight years. The dead man's aunt, Jessie Gomez, said she witnessed the shooting, but did not see her nephew pull a knife on the officers.

Williamson was not suspended from the police force following the incident and a grand jury fail-

Soviets adopt law

MOSCOW (AP) - The Soviet legislature today adopted a law giving more freedom to private business cooperatives after an unusual open debate on tax rates and bureaucratic rules.

The Supreme Soviet normally only approves laws put forward by the ruling Communist Party. A debate over provisions of a law may reflect a greater willingness and ability to speak out under leader Soviet Communist Party General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev's policy of openness.

The new law, a key element in Gorbachev's economic reform program, sets tax rates for cooperatives while giving them broader business opportunities. It also ensures that their property may not be seized.

After lively debate, the Supreme Soviet amended it to allow local authorities to confer preferential tax treatment because of high demand for certain products or services. Another change called for a new decree on taxes to allow variable rates, also based on the particular product or service.

ed to indict him for the shooting. "We're not here to condone what Sammy Gomez had done, or was accused of, or to say whether he was innocent or guilty," said Oscar Ortiz, president of the newly organized Colorado City chapter of the League of United Latin American Citizens.

"We're not here just because he was Hispanic," Ortiz said. "We're here because we feel his civil rights were violated." Sambrano said he had scheduled his training visit before the shooting because his office had received other civil rights complaints.

Sambrano said those complaints include a Filipino priest who was jailed for 11 hours without being allowed to make a phone call, and a young man who was handcuffed and allegedly maced while he was in jail.

Water process to begin here

Types of machines equipped with filtering devices other than charcoal, however, will pass the ammonia, causing a form of anemia in the kidney patient.

The only other potential side-effect involves tropical fish owners. The ammonia added to the water may affect such fish, although it is believed the amounts added here should be negligible.

Tropical fish owners who note higher PH factors in the aquarium water are advised to add a clay-like filtering agent.

Regarding the amount or ammonia and chlorine added to the city's drinking water, the city currently mixes chlorine to water at a ratio of 3 to 3 1/2 parts per million (ppm). That is, for every million gallons of water, up to 3 1/2 gallons of chlorine are added.

The ammonia process will add 1/2 gallon of ammonia to every million gallons of water treated at the plant. On a normal day, the plant treats from 3 to 4 million gallons of water.

Washing may help skin problems

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have beautiful skin on my face, but my buttocks are covered with pimples. How can I clear up this embarrassing situation?

DEAR READER: Complexion problems often appear on the buttocks without skin elsewhere on the body being affected. In part, this may be because the buttocks are almost always covered; therefore, increased sweating can contribute to skin blemishes in this area, as can prolonged sitting and non-absorbent underwear. Try washing your behind with bacterial soap, such as Dial or Betadine, twice a day. This will reduce the bacterial count on your skin, thereby making skin infections less likely. In addition, change to cotton undergarments. Finally, some people have discovered that regular washing with an abrasive soap, such as Lava, will gently remove the occlusive outer layer of dead skin, permitting the pores to breathe.

If these simple measures are ineffective, you may have to consider seeking professional attention from a skin specialist.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I don't make earwax and my ears are dry and scaly. Eardrops only help temporarily. Is there another solution?

DEAR READER: Everybody makes earwax (cerumen), but there is enormous variation in quality and quantity. If your ear canals are unusually dry, you may have a skin disorder, such as psoriasis or seborrhea, that is the cause of your ailment. See a doctor for diagnosis.

For more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on "Eczema and Psoriasis." Other readers who want a copy of this report should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to ask for the report by name.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter started to lose her eyebrows, eyelashes and hair on one side of her head. The doctor told her to use Cortaid every time she washed her hair. It is coming back on that side, but now the other side is getting thin. She goes to high school next year and we'd like to spare her the humiliation of being called "Baldy."

DEAR READER: Your daughter's hair loss is troubling. I do not know why she tends to lose hair on one side of her body. Rather than relying on cortisone cream, which can produce future skin problems, I think that your daughter deserves referral to a dermatologist. Ask her doctor to recommend one in your community.

Judge sentences child abuser to life on birth control plan

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A teen-ager who left her infant sons alone for three hot days was ordered to practice birth control for the rest of her child-bearing years by a judge who rebuked her as a "child having children."

Other terms of a lifetime probation given to Debra Ann Forster prohibit her from seeing the two boys as well as a daughter she later bore. She must also provide weekly reports to the probation office on her birth control use.

Ms. Forster, 18, pleaded guilty in April to two counts of felony child abuse for leaving her two sons alone in an apartment, without food or water, for three days last May. She could have received 30 years in prison.

The boys, William and Scott, respectively 18 months- and 6 months-old at the time, were hospitalized eight days for malnutrition, lesions caused by a rash and dehydration. Scott was close to death from dehydration when he was found, the police said. Both have since recovered.

Temperatures for the three-day period ranged from 100 during the day and 73 at night; the average was 87 degrees, the National Weather Service says.

The children were found by Ms. Forster's estranged husband, Bill, who called police. Authorities removed the children from the house and Ms. Forster was arrested hours later when she showed up at the Mesa Police Department.

Judge Lindsay Ellis Budzyn said the sentence was the only way she could make sure the woman would not hurt other children since society offers little or no support for potential abusers.

"We don't have a lot of help out there for people," the Maricopa County Superior Court judge said in an interview Wednesday, a day after issuing the sentence.

But Alice Bendheim, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney, called it "an excessive sentence," and doubted it would hold up under constitutional pressures.

"I'm sure Judge Budzyn thought it was a sentence that fit the crime but we have a system that doesn't allow such an intrusion into private life," said Ms. Bendheim, who is on the ACLU's national board.

As the judge pronounced the sentence she told Ms. Forster, "Your case represents the epitome of what's wrong with our society: a child having children."

"I know I did something wrong, and I have to pay for it," Ms. Forster replied. "I'm sorry."

On Wednesday, the judge characterized Ms. Forster as a young woman of average intelligence who is emotionally immature.

Ms. Forster gave birth to a daughter while in jail awaiting the child-abuse trial. According to court records, a family friend adopted the daughter, and the sons were being placed through an adoption agency.

Ms. Forster was released from custody Tuesday and will live in a treatment center.

State Bar asked to address issues

AUSTIN (AP) — A special committee studying policies of the State Bar of Texas was told to consider a prohibition on buying liquor for consumption or storage in the State Bar Building.

The recommendation came in a letter written by Justice Franklin Spears, the Texas Supreme Court liaison to the bar, to Tom Rugg of Beaumont, chairman of the Special Commission to Study State Bar Policies. The commission reports to the state bar's board of directors.

Spears said after considering the bar's proposed 1988-89 budget, the court adopted an order to continue the present level of expenditures for 30 days, until the bar has an opportunity to evaluate and implement committee recommendations.

"There is substantial sentiment on the Court that your commission and the Bar Board address certain issues that have been raised over the past several months, and I request that your committee do so," Spears wrote in the letter released Wednesday.

Other issues outlined by Spears included:

— The State Bar adopt and be subject to the personnel classifications and corresponding salary limitations as all other state agencies. No adjustments of pay should occur until this system is in place.

— No outside lobbyists be hired on a fee basis, and eliminate $100,000 for lobbyist in the budget.
