

Lone Star manager Turner among 17 staffers honored

Wedge Turner, manager for Snyder's Lone Star Gas office since 1979, has been named the "Operating Employee of the Year" for the company's West Texas Division.

The award was one of 17 presented to company employees throughout Texas.

These staffers were recognized by each of Lone Star's senior executive officers after nominations were received from regional supervisors.

Turner was chosen by Jim Rankin of Abilene, vice president in charge of the West Texas Division, after being nominated by his immediate supervisor, M.R. Naylor of Sweetwater.

A profile and photograph of each of the 17 chosen were featured in a recent special edition of the company magazine "Blue Blaze."

The division Turner was chosen to represent encompasses a wide stretch of West Texas to include some 1,200 employees serving the areas of Wichita Falls, Abilene, San Angelo, Waco and Temple.

The 17 ultimately selected ranged from Lone Star plant workers to meter readers to management-level staffers.

Turner counts 28 years service with Lone Star, beginning with the company as a "helper" in his native city of San Angelo in 1960.

He worked his way through the ranks and was first named to a management post in 1970 at Hico. He served also as a Lone Star manager in San Saba and Colorado City before coming to Snyder nine years ago.

Clements will undergo tests

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements, hospitalized after suffering what aides described as a mild stroke that temporarily blurred his vision, was in good spirits today before undergoing a battery of tests, his staff said.

"He's in a very good mood, feeling excellent," said Reggie Bashur, the governor's press secretary. "He had breakfast and has read the morning papers."

The 71-year-old Clements had complained of illness before admitting himself into Seton Medical Center around 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The governor was checked every two hours through the night and woke up about 6 a.m., said hospital spokeswoman Pat Korbus.

Bashur said Clements read newspapers and had a 30-minute meeting with his chief of staff, George Bayoud, before the medical tests began. He is being treated by Dr. Jerry Tindel, a neurologist, and Dr. David Morris, a cardiologist. Bashur said.

Nomination tonight...

Duke awaits party's nod

ATLANTA (AP) — Michael Dukakis was poised tonight to accept the Democratic presidential nomination in a prime-time roll call of delegates energized by waves of ridicule directed at George Bush — and a certain, long-awaited endorsement from Dukakis' one remaining rival.

The suburbanite son of Greek immigrants was capping a 17-month quest for the nomination and the right to challenge Republican Bush in November.

Both Dukakis and Jesse Jackson, survivors from a field of seven, will have their names entered in nomination. Dukakis began the day with a commanding 2,763 delegates, compared to 1,161 for Jackson and had exercised his muscle by winning a brief and moderate platform.

Jackson, who captivated the convention with a forceful address Tuesday night, acknowledged the obvious this morning. Asked if he planned to endorse and work for the ticket, he said, "Oh, yes I am." He said his role "must be defined by Gov. Dukakis."

Dukakis toured the Omni convention hall and planned a relatively quiet day awaiting his nomination. He telephoned Jackson and told him his speech had been "terrific."

With Dukakis now knocking on the door, Jackson said his "mission" was to pave the way for a black to win the White House.

"My children and your children will get through those doors, and the White House is within reach," he told NBC's Bryant Gumbel, the "Today" show's black anchorman. "I am pushing back barriers and removing ceilings off of dreams every day. I see it as my obligation, in a real sense now my mission."

Dukakis will claim his prize with an acceptance speech Thursday night following the convention's ratification of his choice of a Southern moderate, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, as running mate.

Jackson had his night in the spotlight Tuesday, delivering a graceful swan song before a noisy and excited house. Citing dangerous overcrowding, police sealed all entrances to the Omni shortly before Jackson spoke, locking out about 1,000 delegates, guests and reporters.

Inside the hall, Jackson declared, "We meet tonight at a crossroads, a point of decision. Shall we expand, be inclusive, find unity and power, or suffer division and impotence?"

"The only time we win is when we come together," Jackson said, as his supporters waved a sea of red banners proclaiming, "Jesse."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and other speakers trained their sights on Vice President Bush, the certain nominee when the Republicans convene next month in New Orleans.

Kennedy derided Bush as the man who "keeps burying his head in his hands and hiding from the record of the Reagan-Bush mistakes."

Even before Jackson mounted the podium, the convention had rebuffed his calls for higher taxes on the wealthy and a pledge to reject the first use of nuclear weapons.

Budget 'on target'...

Chamber hears mid-year report

A mid-year budget update was offered to Snyder Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday, one characterized by Chamber Manager Bill Moss as essentially "on target" with initial budget projections.

Income from chamber dues, estimated at the start of the year at some $46,700, has now been downgraded to around $43,000, Moss noted.

He estimated from now until Dec. 31, an estimated $4,000 in dues will still be collected, ending the year with a 94 percent collection rate from initial predictions.

The number of chamber members is running close to early budget figures. The year was expected to end with 350 members, and some 340 are now counted, Moss noted.

As reported, chamber special projects are achieving the stated purpose of "breaking even" so far this year. Moss noted the chamber banquet, with all expense and income figures now complete, totaled out with a $29 deficit.

The ground-breaking event for the Snyder Texas Department of Corrections prison also was essentially a "washout" regarding expenses and income, he noted.

The budget is running short in the area of paper goods and postage, he said, with larger amounts to be budgeted next year.

A major purchase still ahead will be a new copy machine for the chamber office, Moss said.

The mid-year report was offered during the regular July See CHAMBER, page 9

'Tiger' sales not linked to local ISD

Snyder school officials are advising local merchants that an out-of-county firm selling football "Tiger Calendars" is not affiliated with the school district.

In fact, noted Superintendent Dalton Moseley, a school-related organization is planning to distribute and sell a football calendar at a later date, but the individuals currently contacting local merchants are not affiliated with that project.

He said he was first contacted Tuesday by a local merchant to determine if the school was aware of the telephone sales campaign.

The company in question is reportedly San Antonio-based, Moseley said, although efforts by him to contact them Tuesday

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Studies show that people with cheerful dispositions get sick less than complainers. In other words the surly bird gets the germ."

You may remember the state senator from Marshall who was reported to have abused his state telephone privileges. The Dallas Morning News reported that the senator had made more than $2,200 in unofficial telephone calls.

Most were said to be personal and political long-distance calls that were charged to the taxpayers. Soon after the news story appeared, the senator did some checking and determined that the calls were inadvertently billed to the state.

The senator then wrote a check to the secretary of the senate for $2,246 to reimburse the state.

After the reimbursement, a reporter from the same newspaper called the senator for a comment. The senator was not in, but the reporter left his number for the senator to call back.

The politician had learned his lesson. The senator returned the call, but not at state expense. He called the newspaper collect.

We humans have a way of getting ourselves in a jam.

Snyder's Dot Wolfe has a friend who lives in an apartment complex near Dallas. Sharing the upstairs apartment with her is a Doberman pinscher.

Downstairs is a family with a young son who kept a rabbit for a pet.

One evening recently, the friend let the Doberman outside for exercise and other necessities. Upon return to the door, the dog had the neighbor's rabbit in his mouth.

The woman took the dead animal, scolded her own pet and decided on a course of action. She cleaned the rabbit and used a blow dryer to make it fluffy again. Then she quietly sneaked downstairs and carefully placed the animal back into the cage.

The next morning, the neighbors were standing around scratching their heads. The neighbors explained the rabbit had died and they had buried it behind the fence. They wondered how the dead rabbit had gotten back in the cage.

Q. — Does the college pay for the head basketball coach's house?
A. — College officials say no.

Also, in reference to Monday's Ask Us regarding when the Snyder phone prefix changed from HI to 573, Janice Mitchell at the Scurry County Library checked back editions of the telephone book and reported that the prefix changed effective Jan. 21, 1968.

In Brief

Land sprayed

WHEELER, Texas (AP) — The first-ever spraying of private land by the Drug Enforcement Administration continued today as thousands of marijuana plants were destroyed with the herbicide paraquat.

State-certified herbicide applicators donned masks to manually spray 51,000 plants on 16 acres of land in this Panhandle county adjacent to Oklahoma.

Local

Entries needed

Members of the Scurry County Sheriffs Posse say all types of entries are welcome to participate in the Scurry County Rodeo Parade due Saturday at 4 p.m.

This may include decorated bicycles, old cars and marching troops of local scouts in addition to the traditional riding clubs and float entries.

If more than five floats are entered, prize money of $200 for first, $150 for second and $100 for third will be given away.

Dorothy Taylor is in charge of parade plans. For more information, call either 573-7285, 2816 or 8426.

Roping tonight

Wednesday at 6 p.m. will mark the annual stockholders roping for members of the Scurry County Rodeo Association.

It will be held at the association's outdoor arena on west 30th St. and will precede the start Thursday of the 53rd annual Scurry County Rodeo.

Little interest in Alaskan fires

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Wildfires in northern Alaska have burned an area the size of Rhode Island and then some, but most people are oblivious to the blazes as the 49th state weathers its worst fire season in 10 years.

In far-reaching Alaska, 1,300 square miles of burned acreage is like a postage stamp on a parcel. Here stories of firefighting drama are rare; the terrain is flatter and less rocky, and the days longer, than in other wildfire states.

"We don't have snakes, we don't have darkness," said Bill Robertson, an Alaska Fire Service spokesman. "We have crews that go down to the Lower 48 and are amazed."

Fifty wildfires, one of them burning since April 16, continued to burn today in Alaska's interior. The Alaska Fire Service manned about one-third and monitored the others.

A similar outbreak in the Lower 48 would have fire managers scrambling to protect prime recreation lands and valuable timber. In fact, firefighters were working today to contain a 14,000-acre fire in Wyoming and had contained all but two of 15 fires that burned more than 20,000 acres in Colorado.

In Alaska, the fires have been blistering spindly black spruce and other trees with little commercial value.

Crews have worked to keep the fires away from a few scattered cabins and to control those that sent bothersome smoke into Fairbanks and other areas, in some cases obscuring the mountains that draw thousands of summer tourists to the state. Officials also have been concerned about smoke impairing the safety of pilots in aviation-happy Alaska.

But altogether, fire managers have taken a low-key approach to suppression. In some areas, wildlife biologists are looking forward to the enhanced habitat they say moose, bears and other animals will gain because the burned areas yield new vegetation.

"Our research shows that most wildlife moves away from fire, so they aren't usually threatened by it," said Fred Deines, fire management officer for the Yukon Flats National Wildlife Refuge. "Ultimately, the refuge has better habitat to support the wildlife when the fire burns out."

VA begins claims review

The Veterans Administration has begun reviewing disability compensation claims of veterans exposed to radiation while on active duty under new authority recently conferred by Congress, E. H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service Officer, said.

The veteran must have been exposed on one of three active duty situations, participating in a test atmospheric detonation of a nuclear device, serving occupation duty in Hiroshima or Nagasaki, Japan, between Aug. 6, 1945 and July 1, 1946, or exposure while a prisoner of war in Japan.

Legislation signed by President Reagan May 20 authorized payments to veterans suffering from any of 13 types of cancer and their survivors. The law restricts compensation to those veterans whose disease became evident within 40 years of exposure except for leukemia which has a 30-year limit.

Vice officer said shot to death

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston Police vice officer was shot to death while issuing a citation to an adult bookstore operator, police said.

Homicide Sgt. Dale Atchete said officer Elston Howard, 26, was shot at least three times by a man who entered the Mr. Peepers store near downtown Houston late Tuesday. Howard had been with Houston Police for five years.

The assailant apparently entered the store to stage an armed robbery, Atchete said.

Atchete said Howard was dressed in civilian clothes, but was wearing a "raid jacket" that identified him as a police officer when a man walked into the store and started shooting.

Howard was standing behind a counter with the store's manager at the time, he said.

Howard was able to struggle with the man and both fell to the floor, police said. The assailant shot the officer one more time after they were on the floor, officers said.

The man fled out the door and drove away, Atchete said.

Many characters attending Demo Convention sessions

ATLANTA (AP) — It finally became obvious that there are too many journalists at this Democratic National Convention when a horde of reporters — this one included — began interviewing People With Boxes On Their Heads.

"We're just a bunch of guys standing around with boxes on their heads," said one of the three men with cardboard boxes on their heads, who identified himself as Guy With A Box On His Head.

He and his two fellow People With Boxes On Their Heads were just three of the ... well ... interesting folks hanging around the city's official demonstration zone — actually a two-acre blacktop parking lot — on Tuesday, during Day 2 of the convention.

When asked where the People With Boxes On Their Heads were based, the Guy With A Box On His Head replied, "Here."

When asked what he stood for, Guy replied, "Nothing."

And when asked why he had a box on his head, he replied, "That's the name of our organization, dammit!"

But they don't like to be called "Boxheads" because they consider it a racial slur, Guy said.

A cynic suspected he was actually a journalist who had been in the sun too long. He wore a distinctive chain and plastic pouch around his neck, used by journalists, delegates and staff to carry credentials for the convention. However, where his credential should have been was the plastic card from his hotel door: "PLEASE MAKE UP ROOM NOW."

Later into the demonstration zone came Pastor Edgar Mallett of the Prayer & Faith Church of The First Born in Chicago, acclaimed — at least on the sign he carried — as "The World's Greatest Demonstrator For 16

Mallett, 71, who campaigned for president in 1972 toting "the weight of the world" in a weighted sack over his shoulder, said he's running again "to save the country. God told me we're gonna lose it."

Mallett believes that for America and the world to be saved, we must have two presidents.

"If we have a president from Mars, still we must have two. That's my motto," he said.

Just outside the convention zone stood another minister, street preacher Dan Martino of Chattanooga, Tenn. Martino stood for hours in the hot sun at a corner near the convention center, wearing a grey suit and black wing tips and holding the sign that got him a lot of attention: "GOD IS A REPUBLICAN!"

"I'm here trying to help the Democrats to think," he said.

Religion, however, took a beating from former Connecticut state legislator Thomas Supina Jr. of Ashford, Conn., who stood on the sidewalk in front of the Omni Hotel, next door to the arena, distributing copies of a letter he has sent to U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop.

Your Birthday
July 21, 1988

Important interests will be advanced in the year ahead in rather unusual ways. Sources from which you least expect assistance will prove to be surprisingly helpful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You must be very careful today that you do not unthinkingly make demands on others you would not want made on you. If you slip and do so, it could create an unpleasant situation. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to restore the relationship. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Usually you are an open-minded person who tries to give others the benefit of the doubt, but today you may harbor preconceived resentments you'll not alter.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't let things of a purely materialistic nature have an effect upon the way you treat pals today. If they are placed above friendships, it could lead to regrets.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Knowledge acquired from past experience, coupled with your common sense, will tell you how to handle a delicate career matter today. Unfortunately, you might ignore them and do otherwise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're a far better problem solver today than you give yourself credit for. Face issues squarely, even the sticky ones.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you have something you disapprove of to say to a friend today, settle it face-to-face. Don't let word of your perturbation filter back through others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's best not to assign an important matter to a delegate today, because this person might not deal with it as effectively as you, owing to a lack of motivation and comprehension.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today, if you proceed along present lines at a pace you've already established, things should run smoothly. Trouble could come if you try to move too fast.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A firm and realistic stance will be required today in your commercial affairs. Try to steer clear of involvements that have too many risky elements.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is not a good day to introduce a critical issue if you and your mate have yet to resolve an old one. Use common sense regarding timing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll be more effective and productive early in the day than you will be later on, so try to schedule your priority activities at that time. When pressed, you won't perform well.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's best to keep relationships on a purely social basis today. Getting involved with a friend in a financial arrangement could result in problems.

More fun than a slam

May I kindly recommend once again to all my readers that they be a little careful about their overcalls when they are vulnerable and the opponents are not. The penalties for bidding indiscretions can be severe. South butted in with a minimum two-club overcall. East and West were playing negative doubles of low-level overcalls, so the double by West simply said: "Hey, partner, take another bid; I can support the other suits." But East liked his chances for taking a lot of tricks against two clubs doubled, so he passed. The carnage was immense.

West led his heart. East took the A-K, West discarding the eight of diamonds to show strength there, and East then led his singleton spade. West took the ace and gave East a ruff. East cashed the diamond ace and returned a diamond to West's jack. West played another spade for East to ruff. That was the first seven tricks to the defenders and the fun was not yet over. Back came a heart. South erred by ruffing with the seven. West over-ruffed with the 10 and led a spade, which East trumped with the club ace. Still another heart back allowed West to make one more trump trick. Down five for 1400 to East-West. Oh yes, East-West could have bid and made six diamonds for 920, but I think they were satisfied with their result.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

1st RepublicBank posts loss

DALLAS (AP) — Deteriorating values of real estate assets and foreclosed properties were blamed for a $758 million second quarter loss by First RepublicBank Corp., which is undergoing a federally-assisted bailout.

Albert V. Casey, chairman and chief executive officer of First RepublicBank, said Tuesday, "As forecast at the annual meeting of shareholders last month, the second-quarter losses were substantial."

At an annual shareholders meeting in June, Casey said that the beleaguered financial institution would lose a "substantial" amount in the second quarter.

First RepublicBank recorded a $1.5 billion loss during the first quarter, bringing the company's net loss for the six months ending June 30 to $2.26 billion. First RepublicBank's first quarter loss, the largest ever for a U.S. Bank after Citicorp's $2.5 billion loss in 1987, forced the company to launch an emergency federal recapitalization plan.

In May, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. infused $1 billion into the holding company, formed through the merger of Inter-

First Corp. and RepublicBank Corp. in May 1987.

The holding company attributes its loss to deteriorating values on real estate held as loan collateral and repossessed properties which it is unable to resell.

"The market is very, very soft," said Joe Bowles, First RepublicBank spokesman.

Nonperforming assets totaled $5.135 billion, up $671 million from the quarter ending March 31.

In a statement, Casey said that declining values of its real estate slowed slightly in the second quarter. "I clearly cannot report, however, that we have reached bottom at this point," he said.

'Cinderella' dates set

Theatre on the Brazos of Fisher County is preparing for its second production, "Cinderella," dramatized by Charlotte B. Chorpenning. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. on July 28 and 29 at the Rotan High School Auditorium.

"Cinderella" is under the direction of Floyd Garcia with Donna Hargrove playing Cinderella and Greg Rains cast as the prince.

Twenty children have been cast as Disney characters and small animals. They will open the performance with a salute to Walt Disney, entertain during intermission, and a few will be included during the play itself.

Tickets are on sale now and are priced as $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for senior citizens and $1 for children. They may be purchased at the Rotan Advance Office, the Better than Life Bookstore and Teague Grocery in Rotan. In Roby, tickets can be found at the county clerk's office. Tickets may also be purchased from the cast and at the door.

All-Stars defeat Anson, 6-5

ROTAN - Snyder's All-Stars withstood a torrid rally in the bottom of the fourth inning, then got sharp pitching from Craig Lang to outlast Anson in an area Little League Tournament here Tuesday night, 6-5.

The victory sends the All-Stars against Anson one more time as the two teams battle Thursday night for the Area II championship. Game time will be 7 p.m.

"It will be good to get a day off from playing and work out," noted manager George Page, who was planning a practice session for the team this afternoon. "It seems like we've been playing everyday and haven't been able to work out. It's not unusual to play a game and never have a ball hit to you. So I think it's important we get out there and field some balls, make some throws and get a little sharper."

The squad made four errors and several mental mistakes Tuesday and Page hopes some time on the practice field will help the normally more sure-handed All-Stars.

Snyder trailed 2-1 heading into the fourth inning Tuesday and started off slowly as Jeremy Alarcon bounced a ball back to short stop Chris Cromeens for a quick out. Next-up Valerio Torres also drilled a shot in the same area, but Cromeens was unable to handle it, giving Snyder a baserunner. Jim Pat Griffin then drew a walk and Lang followed with a two-run triple that put the All-Stars on top, 3-2.

Next-up Jared Graves doubled in Lang, and after a second out, Adrian Sneed doubled in Graves. Sneed came in with what would eventually be the winning run when Jason Pierce singled him home.

Anson challenged in the bottom of the stanza after Sneed, Snyder's starting pitcher, walked Jimmy Garcia. Samuel Dodgens then singled and Anson got a run when Garcia scored on an error. Dodgens advanced to third on the miscue, and came in on a single from Steven Ramos.

Anson's sudden success spelled the end for Sneed, and Lang was brought in to pitch. Lang responded by striking out Jason Little and David Deback. Anson wasn't quite through, though. Lewis Pena singled and Baladez walked to load the bases. Moments later Ramos made it a 6-5 ballgame, scoring on an error. Lang was able to get Chris Cromeens to pop up to Pierce, however, ending the inning.

Neither team scored again although the All-Stars threatened by loading the bases in the fifth inning.

Any thoughts of another Anson offensive comeback were thwarted by Lang, who struck out six of the final seven batters he faced, including the last five in a row.

Snyder put together seven hits in the game but only one in the first two innings as the All-Stars appeared tentative.

"I don't know if we were as prepared as we should have been," said Page. "The weather was threatening and I know some of the kids were a little worried about lightning and rain. How much that effected us early I don't know, but I think it bothered us some."

Of the seven hits, five were for extra bases, including the triple from Lang, and doubles from Sneed, Graves, Pierce, Brian Lickey and Jared Graves. Those from Pierce and Lickey came in the third inning and accounted for Snyder's first run.

Pierce also had a single in a two-for-four outing. Torres got the other single.

Cromeens went the distance for Anson and took the loss. He walked three and struck out four.

Offensively, Anson managed seven hits, led by Ramos' two singles. Sneed picked up the win in three innings. He gave up six hits, walked two and was charged with all five of Anson's runs. Lang gave up one hit, walked two and struck out eight over three innings, earning a save along the way.

"Craig did a great job," said Page. "He got that two-run triple that really helped, and came in in relief of Adrian and did a real fine job on the mound."

Page indicated that Randall Thomas would get the start against Anson on Thursday. Thomas was the winner in Monday's 10-0 no-hitter over Hamlin. Anson is expected to counter with hard-throwing Garcia.

NFL getting tougher on users of steroids

NEW YORK (AP) - The NFL is getting tougher on the use of steroids, which for more than a decade turned some marginal players into near-300-pounders. But Commissioner Pete Rozelle says the league won't crack down on steroid users the way it has on other drug abusers.

This season, for the first time, the league is making players who use steroids subject to discipline by Rozelle. The warning was contained in Rozelle's annual drug-use memo sent to all NFL training camps.

But the discipline was not specified in the 15-page document and league officials sought to play down the change.

"Last year, we tested the players for anabolic steroids for the first time; this year we are again testing," NFL spokesman Joe Browne said Tuesday. "The difference this year is that we have told the players that they could face possible disciplinary action. However, I am not suggesting suspensions for testing positive for anabolic steroids at this time."

Doctors and other critics of steroids have long warned of the adverse side effects, including the long-term possibility of cancer, sterility and various other maladies or diseases.

The NCAA began a testing program two years ago that resulted in several football players, including All-American linebacker Brian Bosworth of Oklahoma, being barred from bowl games. Bosworth, who said he took steroids only once, now plays for the Seattle Seahawks.

Rozelle's first mention of steroids was in his 1987 message on prohibited drugs, which also mentioned cocaine, marijuana and amphetamines.

"The league no longer merely condemns the misuses of these substances," he said in last year's memo. "They are prohibited in any quantity for any purpose."

That phrase also was contained in this year's message.

But Rozelle went farther this year, noting that detection of steroid use during a camp-opening drug test will subject the player to random testing for "reasonable cause," similar to that imposed on those who test positive for other substances.

If such a finding is made at training camp, Rozelle said, the player will be re-tested within four weeks. If that test turns up positive, he will then undergo a complete medical evaluation by the team physician and the NFL's drug advisor, Dr. Forrest Tennant.

"Each instance in which a second positive test for anabolic steroids is confirmed will be handled on a case-by-case basis," Rozelle wrote. "Involved players will be subject to appropriate discipline by the commissioner."

Mann returns to play in U.S. Women's Open

BALTIMORE (AP) - JoAnne Carner spotted Carol Mann in the press tent at the U.S. Women's Open.

"It's about time you came back out," Carner said after exchanging hellos.

Mann, who won 38 tournaments over a 22-year LPGA career, hasn't played in a tournament since 1981. She will end her self-imposed exile Thursday when she tees off in the opening round of the 43rd U.S. Women's Open at the Baltimore Country Club.

The 47-year-old Mann, tan and trim and full of smiles, is a different woman from the one who gave up tournament golf after playing in the 1981 Rail Charity Golf Classic at Springfield, Ill.

"I stopped because I lost my love for golf," Mann said Tuesday after a practice round. "I couldn't stand myself when I

Seniors need funds for trip

Snyder's Senior Teenage League baseball team is asking for donations to help fund the trip to Eastland for the Texas Senior Teenage League State Tournament.

The tournament begins Aug. 2. Anyone interested in sponsoring the team or helping with donations is urged to contact Mike Montgomery at 573-2958, Albert Lewis at 573-3813, or Levon Webb at 573-9752.

The team will also be participating in an invitational tournament beginning July 22 in Abilene.

The team fashioned an 11-1 record to win their league and earn the trip to state.

Astros 4, Expos 3

Houston defeated Montreal as Mike Scott pitched a six-hitter and struck out 11 in 8 2-3 innings, and Glenn Davis drove in two runs with a homer and a double.

The Astros took a 1-0 lead in the first on Terry Puhl's RBI single off Pascual Perez, 6-4, but Montreal tied it in the second on Nelson Santovenia's RBI double.

The Astros regained the lead in the fourth when Davis doubled, and he made it 3-1 in the sixth when he hit a bloop pitch by Perez into the left field seats for his 21st homer.

played golf. ... I was angry, bitter, ugly, out of control, irrational, frustrated, disgusted. You want a list?"

Mann's departure came after three years and 41 tournaments with nothing better than a ninth-place finish. Remember, this was a woman who only four years earlier had been elected to the LPGA Hall of Fame.

"I was resigned that I couldn't break out of it," Mann said. "... It's hard to continue on when that's how you feel."

So she quit, and Mann hasn't played in a tournament since. She has worked with the men's tour "in corporate hospitality ... 15-20 weeks a year," Mann said.

She also became the president of the Women's Sports Foundation, an educational body "which works to create more opportunities for girls and women in sports," Mann said. She calls this her "non-profit life."

Although she has avoided tournaments, Mann has never strayed far from the practice tee.

"I've always maintained a practice schedule, with only seeking information as a goal, being like a laboratory," she said.

SCENE FROM "TEXAS"—Calvin and Elsie (played by Dana Cherie Parham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Parham of Snyder) fall in love during the musical "Texas." The musical drama plays from mid-June to late August in Palo Duro Canyon. This is Parham's first season with the company. She is currently pursuing a career in acting in Los Angeles, Calif. She has appeared on the daytime soap opera "General Hospital" and has a role in the movie, "Earth Girls Are Easy," due out this summer. ("Texas" Photo)

Obituaries

Jacob Trulock

Graveside services for Jacob Leath Trulock, 2 years, and 11 months old, were held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at Hillside Memorial Gardens with the Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church, officiating.

He died Monday at a hospital in San Angelo.

He is survived by his parents, Carol Trulock of Snyder and Jeff Trulock of Dallas; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eiland of Snyder; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Trulock of Colorado City; his maternal grandmother, Nancy Eiland of Vernon; his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. C. V. Morgan of Olney; two aunts, Martha Martin of Snyder and Susan Smith of Houston; and three uncles, Jay Eiland of San Angelo and Johnny Trulock and Jimmy Trulock, both of Colorado City.

A sister, Mrs. Floy Perry, preceded him in death.

Chad Williams

BIG SPRING—Services for Chad Williams, 16, of the Vincent Community were to be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church. Burial was to follow at Trinity Memorial Park.

He died Sunday in a Big Spring hospital following a lengthy illness. He was born on Oct. 27, 1971 in Big Spring. He lived in the Vincent-Coahoma area all of his life. He was a junior at Borden High School and was active in band and drama, managed the boys basketball team and was a member of Beta achievers.

He is survived by his parents, Gaylon and Janine Williams of Big Spring and a brother, Bucky Vincent; his paternal grandparents, R. F. and Doris Williams of Atlanta, Tex., his maternal grandparents, James and Maidell Honea of Shelbyville, Tenn., his great-grandparents, Cleo Wilson of Atlanta, Tex., Clay and Edna Honea of Telehoma, Tenn., Marie Lambert of Yakima, Wash., Paul and Dorothy Lambert of Tacoma, Wash., and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his paternal grandmother, Irene Dello Layman on Jan. 5, 1970.

The family requests memorials to the Cystic Fibrosis Association, NE Texas Chapter, 2405 Cedar Springs, Dallas, Tex. 75201.

Shuttle may be taken off its launch pad

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Engineers are trying to fix a tiny gas leak in the space shuttle, but there's a 50-50 chance Discovery will have to be rolled back from the launch pad to a hangar for repairs, says Kennedy Space Center's director.

Taking Discovery off the pad would delay the first launch since the Challenger disaster, now scheduled for early September, by up to two months, Forrest S. McCartney told reporters Tuesday.

"We wish we had found it (the leak) earlier," McCartney said. "If we had found it when it was accessible, there would have been no problem. But it's in an inaccessible place, and we don't know what we're going to do about it."

"We've got people looking at the prudent and safe thing to do. Whatever course we take there will be no compromise in flight safety."

"The odds are 50-50 on a rollback," McCartney said.

meeting for the chamber. Directors attending included David Kattes, who presided, Bill Davies, Harley Bynum, Harry Krenk, Donna Gray, Elizabeth Potts, Barbara Williamson, Joe Coronado and Gary Landes. M.L. Duke, Herbie Figueroa and Billy Huddleston were absent.

Other chamber-related facts reported at the meeting include: —The annual back-to-school breakfast for Snyder teachers will be held at the Snyder High School cafeteria Aug. 25.

—The chamber-sponsored Trades Day, due July 30 around the downtown square, has a large list of "sellers," but is still in need of local bands to provide entertainment throughout the day.

—The fund raiser effort for the July 4th fireworks display raised near $5,200, a sufficient amount to go towards the purchase of fireworks next year.

—The White Buffalo Days celebration this year will be held Oct. 8 with events already planned to include an appearance by Boy Scout Indian dancers and Spanish folkloric dancers as well as the ABWA crafts show.

6 SHS students attend conference

AUSTIN—Several Snyder High School students and their sponsors attended the fourth annual Texans' War on Drugs/Texas Youth in Action Leadership Conference July 7-9. Those attending from Snyder were Becky Bynum, Cliff Chambers, Marcie Chrane, John Derouen, Melissa Hodges, Kevin Tate and sponsors Kellye Starnes and Janet Wesson.

Over 500 high school students from across Texas gathered at Southwestern University in Georgetown, near Austin.

Sponsored by the Texans' War on Drugs, the three-day conference highlighted the growing number of youth who are choosing a drug free lifestyle.

Texas Youth in Action, the youth arm of the Texans' War on Drugs, is one of the fastest growing drug prevention programs in the nation. Its goal is to train teens to do "no" to drugs and alcohol, as well as provide a network of support to reinforce young people's commitment to be drug free.

In 1879, physicist Albert Einstein was born in Ulm, Germany. J.C. Penney opened his first store in 1902. The store was in Kemmerer, Wyo.

Dear Abby

Assertiveness Would Help All Those Mother's Day Martyrs

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the mother whose feelings were hurt because her 41-year-old son did not remember her on her birthday or Mother's Day.

I know how she feels because I am in the very same situation. I once read a book about "irregular people," and the message was very helpful. I copied it, and when I feel hurt and neglected, I read it, and it makes me feel better. Here it is:

"Accept the fact that he cannot — nor will he ever — provide the love and interest that he should. It is not easy to insulate yourself this way, but it hurts less to expect nothing than to hope in vain. His handicap makes it impossible for him to perceive your feelings. He is unaware of the pain caused by his thoughtlessness. Accept him as a man with a permanent handicap, and shield yourself from the icepick of rejection."

ANOTHER HURT MOTHER

DEAR HURT: If you find the above message comforting when you feel hurt and neglected, by all means read it. However, "expect nothing, then you'll not be disappointed" sounds like a prophecy fulfilled. Nor would I shield myself from rejection by regarding a thoughtless man (or woman) as one with a "permanent handicap." Thoughtlessness need not be permanent.

How about adopting this more positive attitude? Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I think you need to hear from a woman who doesn't sit around and wait for her family to remember things that are important to her. I'm glad you urged her to speak up and "remind" a forgetful husband. I am astonished by people like "Forgotten on Mother's Day" who play the martyr, hoping their non-sentimental husbands will remember special days.

I'm sentimental! Birthdays are very important to me, so I start two weeks ahead of time talking about mine. No nagging, whining or "poor me" stuff. I just tell the truth: "My birthday is a big deal to me. I can't wait for my birthday to come. My birthday is only six days away; where shall we go to celebrate?"

This has always worked for me. Sneaky? Nerve? So what? It beats being forgotten and crying in my pillow. And who knows, maybe after three or four years of prompting, I won't have to do it anymore. Nobody but you knows what your needs are.

ME

DEAR ABBY: I have never written to you, but want to tell you how I handled being ignored on my first Mother's Day.

My husband also said to me: "You're not my mother!" (I was the mother of his adorable twin daughters, however.) The following Mother's Day, I bought for myself a lovely pair of diamond earrings "from the twins," using my husband's credit card.

I wrapped them prettily and set the package out with a card, and with great fanfare presented it to myself in front of the babies and Hubby. After I unwrapped it, I ran to the phone and called my mother and the rest of my relatives and friends to tell them of this wonderful "gift." I received for Mother's Day, adding with each call that I couldn't imagine how my husband was going to top this for next year!

When he realized that he had paid for this costly gift, he changed his tune, and since then he has not missed one Mother's Day, birthday or anniversary for the past 20 years. He correctly figured it was the cheaper way to go! Sign me ...

Nervous habit causes concern

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My granddaughter, 8, is constantly picking at and twitching her nose. I try to tease her out of it, telling her she's going to end up looking like Pinocchio if she keeps it up, but it does no good. What do you suggest?

DEAR READER: Does the child live with you? If not, leave the behavioral modification to her parents, who, with the help of a qualified pediatrician, will make the necessary adjustments.

Your granddaughter is probably smart enough to know that her habit is not going to make her nose grow — lying does that, I think! Therefore, she may have kept at her nose because (a) it gains a lot of attention from Grandmother, (b) she doesn't believe you, and (c) you're the only one making a fuss about it. You — as a grandmother — have the right to express your opinion about the child's behavior, but, for heaven's sake, don't harp.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My doctor advised me to go on a 1,000-calorie-a-day diet, but wasn't more specific. What should I eat?

DEAR READER: You have several options. First, ask your doctor to refer you to a dietician for specific advice. Hospital-based dietitians are knowledgeable professionals whose jobs include outpatient diet teaching. Second, many diet books are available in stores and libraries. These are helpful resources. Third, you might try substantially reducing your portions of food, eliminating sugar and alcohol, cutting down on fat and relying on fruit and vegetables to provide bulk.

Finally, consider joining a weight-reduction support group, such as Weight Watchers or the Diet Center. These groups often are useful in helping people to plan low-calorie, nutritious meals, as well as giving advice and support in achieving your weight goal.

I'm also sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a pretty, straight-A, 16-year-old daughter who is absolutely miserable. She apparently has inherited, from my side of the family, excessive hand and feet sweating. Her hands literally drip puddles on the floor. Would diliazem help?

DEAR READER: Hyperhidrosis, excessive palm and sole sweating, can be a difficult problem to manage. Beta-blockers (such as Inderal) and calcium-channel blockers (such as diliazem) may help. Ask your daughter's doctor about this.

Clouthier calls for referendum

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Former opposition presidential candidate Manuel Clouthier would like to run again for that office as soon as possible — maybe before the president-elect is even sworn in.

Clouthier, visiting Juarez Tuesday on a nationwide protest campaign, urged supporters in the border city to sign petitions calling for a new presidential election.

State planning to use direct mail aids

AUSTIN (AP) — Some 2.7 million Texas households will be receiving voter registration cards along with fast food and oil change coupons this summer under the latest campaign to sign up new voters.

The state and League of Women Voters announced the stepped-up registration effort Tuesday, saying a direct-mail advertising company had volunteered to deliver the cards along with regular mailings of consumer coupons.

Texas League president Diane Sheridan said the drive's goal was to sign up 1 million additional voters in time for the November elections.

"We don't know of any other attempt this large," Ms. Sheridan said. "It took an 18-wheeler truck to transport all the voter registration cards from the secretary of state's office to the plant where the envelopes were stuffed."

Secretary of State Jack Rains

predicted that with the latest registration effort and other drives, "We're going to have a record turnout this fall" at the polls.

The new campaign is being handled voluntarily by Val-Pak Metro Inc., which delivers consumer coupons by mail to households across Texas.

Regis O'Donnell, Val-Pak president, said the voter registration postcards would be included with mailings of advertising coupons to households in more than a dozen areas beginning next week. Such a service normally would cost about $85,000, he said.

The deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 8 general election is Oct. 9, officials said.

According to Rains, about 7.8 million Texans currently are registered. That equals about 64 percent of those eligible, below the national average of 68 percent, Rains said, adding that 1 million more voters still would leave Texas under the national average.

There are several reasons for the lower-than-average registration in the state, including a younger age of its population and the number of residents who are more mobile than average, Rains said.

Construction of the Panama Canal began in 1904.

Sitton part of excavation work

Marika Sitton, a 1984 graduate of Snyder High School and a senior at the University of Texas in Austin, is enrolled in a course in art history sponsored by Harvard University. The art student in one of approximately 300 students enrolled in the dig. Sitton is participating in the Leon Levy Expedition in Ashkelon, Israel in archeological excavations.

Ashkelon is located in Israel on the Mediterranean Coast, 30 miles south of Tel Aviv. The site is now one of Israel's foremost national parks, situated on the beach and within easy walking distance of the modern town of 60,000 inhabitants.

The dig is at the ancient Philistine seaport once visited by the biblical hero Samson. Canaanite and Philistine public and private buildings, Persian period warehouses, a huge and mysterious dog cemetery, a Roman and Byzantine bathhouse and streets provide a rich variety of excavation opportunities for this season. Excavations began along the side of what is thought to be the Philistine harbor.

The course ends July 28. Sitton will then join an International Student Exchange group in Athens, Greece to tour Europe for 10 days. She will then return to Austin to continue her art studies. She is the daughter of Buck and Patsy Sitton of Lubbock, former Snyder residents.
