

Snyder's Lewis repeats as team roping champ

It's almost a well-kept secret, the team roping finals at the AJRA National Finals Rodeo.

Held a day prior to the first "official" performance, the team roping understandably fails to attract as much attention as some other events. Local folks will be proud to know though, that one of their own stood out again.

Snyder's Leddy Lewis became the World Champion Team Roper in the age 13-15 division for the second straight year as the AJRA National Finals Rodeo opened unceremoniously Monday morning at Scurry County Coliseum. Rodeo action heats up quickly tonight with the first evening show scheduled for 8 o'clock. Tickets are $4 for general admission, $2 for children. Anyone wearing an AJRA cap will be admitted for $1 off.

Tonight's show will feature standard rodeo events - calf roping, barrel racing, steer wrestling and bull riding among them - plus an appearance by the famed Texas Tech Masked Rider, aboard Midnight Raider.

Shows will be held nightly at 8 p.m. through Saturday's televised performance. Special entertainment, including Ramon Bacero and his six specially trained horses, and Friday's crowning of Miss AJRA, are among the festivities during the week. Personalities include prominent announcers Bob Tallman and Charlie Throckmorton and clowns Rick Chatman, Leon Coffee and Tom Feller. Cindy Nix

Snyder ISD faculty has one vacancy

A host of personnel actions and an emergency approval for replacement of a boiler at Northeast Elementary were the results of a special four-hour meeting of the Snyder school board Monday.

Following the two-item agenda, the board conducted a lengthy workshop at which administrators covered almost all operational aspects of the school system. Also, the board reviewed several items on Thursday's regular school board agenda.

The personnel actions came following a 20-minute executive session. The board approved seven resignations, hired seven new instructors and approved one reassignment—that of math teacher George Adams who will move from junior high to high school.

The board accepted the resignations of Brenda Gainey, third grade at East; Lloyd Bohannon, science and coach at junior high; Martin Lechuga, science and coach at junior high; Jana Buchanan, math and coach at junior high; Sara Janicek, third grade at East; Sharrylon Vestal, high school English; and Melanie Osborn, Stanfield third grade.

Supt. Dalton Moseley reported that only one staff vacancy remains—a high school English position.

In addition to seven new teachers hired Monday, five substitutes were hired to begin the school year. The substitute positions can become permanent if enrollment warrants it.

Teachers hired Monday include Beth Bowen, high school English; Charlotte Clifton, junior high reading; Roland Herrera, high school biology and coach; Janice Mauldin, junior high math; Darlene Stokes, junior high math; Laurie Welch, high school business and coach; and Robert Wood, junior high life science and coach.

Substitutes hired include Jean Baugh, first grade at Northeast; Paula Bowden, Stanfield sixth grade; Edilyn Smith, Stanfield third grade; June Holcomb, East third grade; and Clovis Brown, East fifth grade.

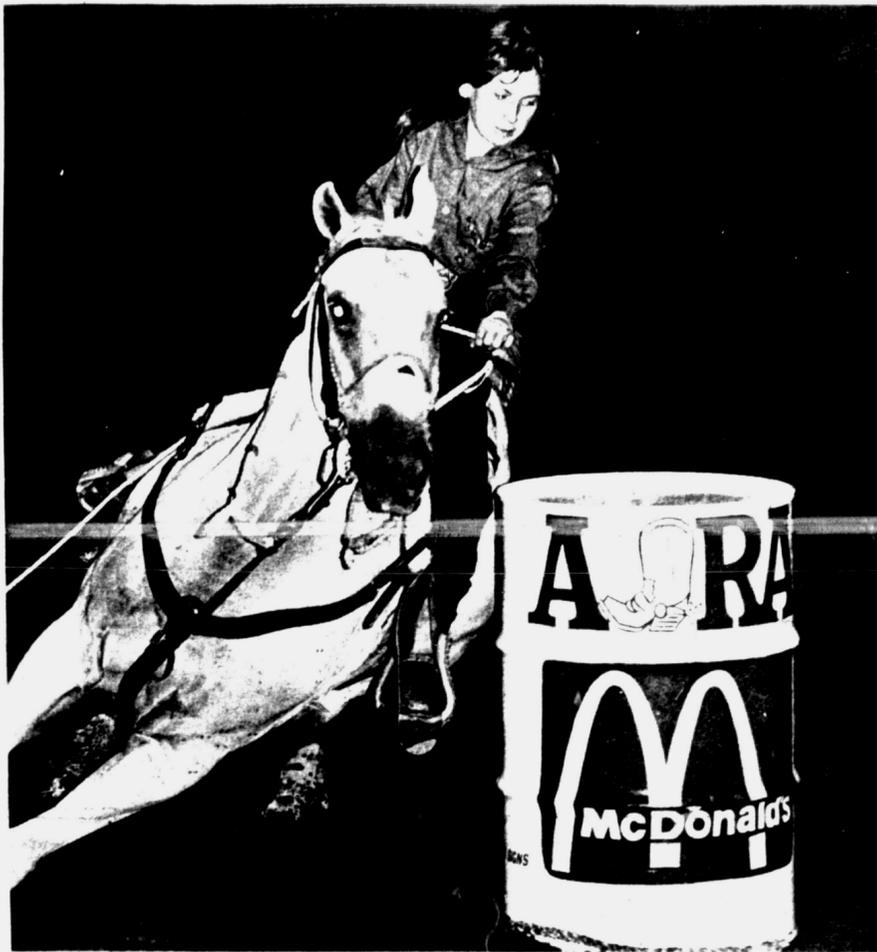

School Maintenance Director Lawton Taylor told the board that the 30-year-old boiler at Northeast had failed state inspection and must be replaced.

It was recommended that the $24,930 item be approved for emergency purchase so that it can be installed prior to cold weather.

In the workshop portion of the meeting, trustees heard a report on group health insurance from Don Crawford of Midland. Supt. Moseley said he had asked Crawford to review Snyder's health insurance program in view of rising costs and slow claims processing.

Crawford described Snyder's situation as common among

WTC sets tax rate

Western Texas College trustees Monday night set the 1989 tax rate, hired eight new faculty members and held a lengthy discussion of the school's policy on reporting withdrawals from classes on transcripts.

Because of a decrease in the overall valuation of the school's tax base, the property tax rate was increased from 15.88 cents to 17.64 cents per $100 in valuation.

The new hirings were approved following a brief presentation by WTC president Harry Krenek on the background of each person. (See related story page 9)

Trustee Roy Baze had proposed that withdrawals be shown on transcripts that are sent to prospective employers because a consistent pattern of withdrawals might indicate a lack of resolve.

School officials explained that students are allowed to withdraw from a course within eight weeks after the start of a semester and after that must accept a grade, whether it is "A" through "F," an "I" for incomplete, which counts as an F when a student transfers to another school, or a "P" for passing, which professors may use as an option for students who have made a strong effort but have not achieved a "C."

Dean of Student Services Duane Hood said he would not be adverse to showing withdrawals on transcripts, but the discussion ended with no action by the board.

Dr. Hood said P grades are used because 75 percent of WTC students enter college needing to improve their academic skills and the passing-grade option keeps many of them from ruining their records in the first or second semesters.

The trustees approved low bids of $8,464 from Craftsman Printing of Lubbock to print 20,000 college brochures and $8,398 from C.A.S.A. Computers of Lubbock for a new McIntosh computer system for the WTC administrative office.

Trustees joined the Snyder City Council and Scurry County Commissioners Court in passing a resolution in support of the Good Roads Amendment, a proposed constitutional amendment that will be voted on in November to prevent the state legislature from spending federal highway funds for purposes other than highway construction or maintenance.

WTC's agreement with the Diamond M Museum to provide administrative services to the downtown art museum was also renewed.

Trustees attending the meeting were Baze, Dr. Robert Hargrove, R.C. Patton, John Gayle and John Fagin. Absentee were Bill Wilson and Howard Sterling.

Fair housing bill passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fair housing bill, the first major expansion of civil rights laws in two decades, is heading to the White House for the signature of President Reagan, who has endorsed the measure.

The legislation gives federal officials new power to enforce fair housing laws and extends anti-discrimination protection to the disabled and families with children.

Hospital toured by TDC officials

Snyder hospital and economic development officials were optimistic Monday that the medical community would play a major role in providing medical care for inmates at the state prison under construction northeast of Snyder.

The optimism was the result of a visit Monday from a three-member medical team from the Texas Department of Corrections. The visit included a tour to the site, a tour of hospital facilities and a meeting with medical staff and hospital officials, directed by Cogdell Hospital Administrator Tom Hochwalt.

When Snyder officials submitted a proposal for location of a 1,000-bed facility in Snyder, the hospital offered use of a wing for TDC at discounted rates.

The TDC representatives Monday were the three top medical personnel with the Department of Corrections. They were Dr. Charles Alexander, deputy director for medical services; Jim Riley, assistant deputy director; and Dr. Glenn Johnson, chief of professional services.

Riley described the Snyder visit as a preliminary one since Snyder is the first of four 1,000-bed units due to come on line. Riley said the final arrangement is far from complete, but that Snyder is ahead of most communities in working toward an agreement.

Later this month, the TDC will issue a "request for proposal" for any health-care organization wanting to provide care for TDC inmates. Riley said because of the outstanding facilities available in Snyder, Cogdell hospital and its medical staff will likely play a major role.

The extent of involvement could depend solely on the medical community. In addition to providing hospital care, one possible situation would be for the hospital to provide a "turn-key" package for all medical care—to include staffing and operation of the clinic within the Snyder TDC facility. The TDC is also interested in contracting for ambulance service.

The tour concluded just before noon Tuesday with a luncheon attended by about 50 persons.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Going to college won't guarantee a job, but it'll give you four years to worry about getting one."

It would have been a perfect setup for a candid camera situation, and Snyder's Luann Burleson may have thought she was the intended victim.

It happened last week when Luann, a member of the Snyder school board and wife of Dr. Jim Burleson, did her solo flight as part of requirements for her private pilot's license.

Luann left Snyder on a sunny Wednesday morning. Everything went perfect, just like instructor Jimmy Thompson had assured her it would.

Over Slaton, she talked to the Lubbock air traffic control tower and advised them of her altitude and of her descent for a landing at the Lubbock airport.

She also identified herself as a student pilot making her first solo flight. The landing was textbook perfect—nothing to it.

After taxiing to the general aviation terminal, Luann was greeted by a FAA official who said he had been called by the tower about landing with the cloud ceiling too low.

The pilot explained that she could see land at all times, and the FAA man seemed satisfied on that partly-cloudy morning with the sun shining bright.

The FAA official, however, did ask to inspect both the plane's log book and her student manual. Thompson had signed the log, but had failed to sign the training manual.

It was about that time that the Snyder newspaper guy, at the airport to pick up business associates, happened onto Luann's dilemma.

Luann reluctantly explained that she was grounded until she could obtain Thompson's signature. She also reluctantly made a call to the Snyder airport where she had to tell airport employee Bob Stanfield, who would certainly blab back home, about her situation.

Stanfield got the message to Thompson who flew to Lubbock to rescue the stranded lady pilot.

We anticipated her parting words, "Don't you dare put this in the newspaper."

In Brief

Price of oil

NEW YORK (AP) — The announcement of an imminent cease-fire in the 8-year-old war between Iran and Iraq boosted oil futures prices.

On the New York Mercantile Exchange, the contract for September delivery of West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark grade of U.S. crude oil, advanced 61 cents Monday to close at $15.87 a barrel.

Prices of refined oil products traded on the exchange also soared. Wholesale heating oil for September delivery jumped 1.46 cents a gallon to finish at 44.50 cents, while wholesale unleaded gasoline for September rose 1.42 cents to 46.65 cents.

4 found dead

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP) — Four young adults whose bodies were found huddled in a tiny dental storage room died apparently from asphyxiation after the inhaled laughing gas, authorities said.

The bodies were found Monday near an open, empty tank of laughing gas, authorities said.

The bodies were taken to the State Medical Examiner's Office for autopsy, but Iron County Attorney Scott Burns said preliminary investigation showed they were asphyxiated after apparently inhaling the colorless anesthetic, nitrous oxide.

Video publishing increases as firms turn to video market

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As the TV generation comes of age, more companies are turning to video magazines, brochures, catalogues and annual reports to get their message across with sound, sight and action.

"It's very much a growing trend... We're in the television generation," said International Television Association spokesman Paul Kleyman.

The group's U.S. members, who operate corporate video efforts, have grown from 1,600 to 9,000 since 1978. Corporate video outlays reached $5.5 billion in 1987, up from $1.1 billion in 1980, according to a recent study, Kleyman said.

Using telegenic visuals, sharp graphics and background music, video publications are becoming the way to reach teens and adults who prefer the tube. Some of the slickly produced videos are televised companions of printed media. Others stand alone or supplement face-to-face meetings.

"Little by little younger employees are asking for more things on video," said Ron Hale of Southern California Gas Co., which began "Newsline," a TV show for staffers, in 1984. "The generation that has grown up on television expects to get their information quickly and on the tube."

Much like a company newspaper, the magazine-format show features segments on gaining customers, how to safely use torches when cutting gas lines, and how gas delivery to some customers was curtailed during a winter shortage.

Programs are produced four times yearly, for $20,000 to $25,000 each. The utility's 9,500 employees view them at 200 sites throughout the company. Some take videocassettes home to watch, Hale said.

Allstate Insurance produces its own videos to welcome new workers, show corporate policyholders how to reduce accidents, and help claims adjusters standardize estimates. This year some agents are visiting families with a new life insurance video they can play on home recorders.

"He'll pop the video in the VCR and it will show how the product can really benefit them," said Allstate assistant vice president Deborah Kamp. "It's an emotional product that we're selling. The use of emotions can help people understand the importance of the product to their family's livelihood."

Video publishing also is moving into stockholder meetings. Instead of speeches from top executives, some corporations show a company-produced video before taking questions from the floor, said George Hobgood, who prepares corporate annual reports.

"Three years ago I wasn't doing any video work," said Hobgood, who expects to produce five to six annual report videos this year. "People will watch a 10 or 12 minute video. You may or may not be able to get them to read the same thing on paper."

Since companies must file printed reports with government agencies, Hobgood doesn't see television replacing print. Cost and portability are other print advantages.

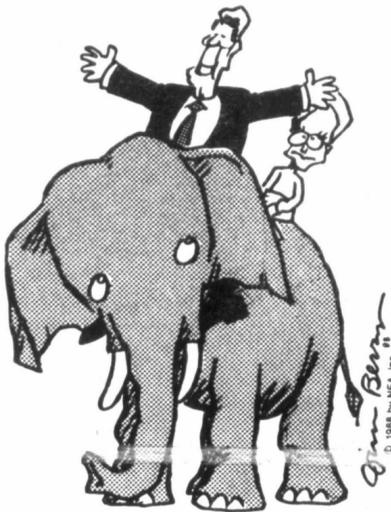

"I don't see them replacing print," said Jody Uttal-Gold, who has produced corporate videos for five years. Unlike print, she said, people "can't take the video home."

"There's still a lot of resistance," from some corporations, she said. "They don't want to spend that kind of money and they don't think people are going to view it."

Still, video uses are growing as a TV generation finds new applications for its favorite medium. Redlands, Calif., produced a video "windshield tour" of itself when officials presented a $7 million municipal bond issue to New York firms setting the city's credit rating last Spring.

"Normally it is done verbally and maybe with some flip charts or slides showing the city or project that's going to be financed," said John Fitzgerald of the firm organizing the bond issue.

Sense and Nonsense Are At The Core of Big Apple Name

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Every now and then someone asks, "Why is New York City called the Big Apple?" I asked my readers. Here's a sample of the responses:

DEAR ABBY: The Bible tells us that the apple was forbidden fruit. (Remember, the serpent in the Garden of Eden dared Adam to eat the apple?) Well, from that time on, the apple signified temptation. And since New York City is the most tempting city in the world, the traveling men named New York City the Big Apple.

My grandfather was a traveling salesman and told me this.

NORMAN IN NEWARK

DEAR ABBY: I once read a story written by a man who used to travel with a circus. He said that when they referred to the town they would be playing next, they called it the "apple." All entertainers hoped that one day they would play New York — the choice spot, the "big one," or "the big apple," and that is how New York City came to be known as the Big Apple.

CORNELL THOMPSON, HOUSTON

DEAR ABBY: I have researched the Big Apple appellation given to New York City. I offer the following: Sir Isaac Newton, who discovered the universe's gravitation force, was sitting under an apple tree in New York, when an apple fell from the tree and struck him in the head. He picked it up and said "Wow, that was a big apple!"

Due to his fame as a scientist, New York City was called the Big Apple.

THOMAS E. PENDERGAST

DEAR ABBY: "The Big Apple" was the name of a song which inspired a dance wherein a small group made a circle, held hands and danced to a lively beat. A gossip columnist named Walter Winchell made it popular in 1930. It took New York City by storm — that is why they call New York City the Big Apple.

A. NOLAN, ATLANTA

DEAR ABBY: New York City was named the Big Apple because during the Depression of 1929-1930, all the banks closed and many people were suddenly unemployed so they stood on the street corners and sold apples for a nickel apiece. There were so many apple stands in New York City, they called it the Big Apple.

MRS. LEONARD COOKSON, PARADISE VALLEY, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: As a former resident of New York, I believe it came to be known as the Big Apple because New York grows the most varied apples of any state in the union. For example: Delicious, Golden, MacIntosh, Baldwins, Rome Delicious, Spy Greivies, Jonathon, etc. Hence the name, the Big Apple.

N. WHITMAN, LAUDERDALE LAKES, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I saw a letter in your column from a reader asking why New York City is known the world over as the Big Apple.

Back in the 1920s and '30s, people in the entertainment world — particularly jazz musicians — talked about making it to the top of the tree. To "play" New York City was to make the big time, or the "big apple," which was a jazz term.

Today, New York City remains the No. 1 visitor destination in the world, thanks to both the New York City Convention and Visitors' Bureau's efforts and the state's own "I Love New York" statewide tourism campaign. Last year, we welcomed 17.8 million visitors to the Big Apple — over 3 million of them from overseas.

So, we welcome the world — and especially you and your readers. Come and enjoy all of New York state's beauty, history, culture and unlimited recreation, from Buffalo to the Big Apple!

Hamadi admits he was one of the TWA hijackers

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — Mohammed Ali Hamadi admitted in court today to being one of four men who hijacked a TWA jetliner to Beirut in 1985, but denied shooting to death a U.S. Navy diver during the ordeal.

"I took part in the hijacking," the Lebanese Shiite Moslem said, reading from a statement in the heavily guarded courtroom.

"If this act which I committed is against the law, then it is a result of illegal conduct on the part of Israel," Hamadi, speaking in Arabic, said through an interpreter.

Thirty-nine Americans were held captive for 17 days after TWA Flight 847 was hijacked on an Athens-to-Rome flight. During the ordeal, Navy diver Robert Stethem was killed and his body thrown onto a Beirut airport runway.

Hamadi, on trial for air piracy and murder, said he hijacked a U.S. aircraft "because the United States is the greatest ally and supporter of Israel."

The trial, which started in July, was to have adjourned after today until Sept. 6, when members of the crew of the TWA plane were to begin testifying.

Until today, the only testimony that Hamadi was involved in the hijacking came from two witnesses who testified that Hamadi's older brother Abbas had told them as much.

Hamadi told the court that one of the three alleged hijackers still at large, Hassan Iz-al-Din, was in charge of the hijacking and had shot Stethem.

"The pistol was in his (alleged hijacker Hassan Iz-al-Din's) hand," Hamadi said. "I didn't use it. Our orders were not to harm anyone, but I couldn't convince him not to shoot."

Taking no chances

By James Jacoby

Conservative readers will be rightly baffled by West's jump to two hearts. Let me quickly inform them that that bid was a weak jump-shift response in competition, showing a six-card suit and 3-6 high-card points. North then cue-bid three clubs to show a big hand for diamonds. East apparently forgot that his partner's bid was weak when he jumped to four hearts. North did quite well to bid five diamonds, since four hearts was going to make, and now West, caught up in what seemed to be a non-vulnerable sacrifice bid by North-South, doubled.

Was the heart king a strange choice for an opening lead? Although that lead is usually made from a K-Q or A-K combination, there was a pressing consideration here. It was not absolutely certain that East had strong clubs, and if the club holding was weak, it might be catastrophic for West to lead a club. Probably the jump to four hearts was made with the ace in that suit. If so, West could better judge how to continue the defense after holding the trick with the heart king.

When the heart king was led, East took no chances. He overtook the king with his ace and cashed his A-K of spades. Wouldn't West have led spades at the second trick anyway, after looking at the dummy? Sure, unless he pulled a wrong card. I need not comment on the disaster if West's opening lead had been his singleton club.

University Women's club holds planning session

The executive officers of University Women met at The Shack recently to plan the upcoming club year.

The meeting time for the group has been changed from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on the first Tuesday of each month. A few special meetings are planned on different days. Dinner will be served at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Monthly programs and special projects were planned. The club will offer $100 per semester at Western Texas College to a graduating girl for two years. Becky Berreca is the present scholarship recipient.

A $100 scholarship will also be given per semester at WTC to an older woman seeking to further her education.

Club members will also aid the "Snyder Neighbors Sharing" project.

To fund these goals, the club will raise money by selling homemade ice cream at the White Buffalo Days celebration.

The first formal meeting of the club will be a get-acquainted tea and book review by Brenda Cox at 7 p.m. Sept. 13 at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Those interested in attending the tea are urged to call anyone on the executive committee. Officers are Brenda Cox, president; Kay Hopper, first vice-president in charge of programs; Penny Huges, second vice-president in charge of membership; Martha Millhollon, secretary-treasurer; Peggy English, reporter; and Ruth McBeth, telephone chairman.

But rain turns 'em off again...

Lights on at Wrigley Field

CHICAGO (AP) - The bright lights of night baseball lit up Wrigley Field for the first time in 74 years, but the Chicago Cubs' neighbors felt their moment in history was too short.

"I feel like we saw the beginning of history being made, but we didn't get to see the end," lawyer Donald Kurash said Monday night, as a heavy rain postponed Wrigley's first night game, between the Cubs and the Philadelphia Phillies.

"It's a disappointment," Kurash said.

An evening of beer drinking and merry making under blue skies, white clouds and 99-degree heat turned cool, gloomy and sopping wet in the bottom of the fourth inning, with the Cubs leading the Phillies 3-1.

Two hours after 91-year-old

Cubs fan Harry Grossman threw the switch that turned on the towering Wrigley Field lights, the storm clouds took over. Thunder cracked, and the rain poured

... And poured ... And poured. "This is typical - it doesn't rain all summer long and then on the

Astros 10, Dodgers 0

Mike Scott pitched an eight-hit shutout, struck out six and walked one for his fourth shutout this year and sixth complete game.

"I've thrown better with worse results," Scott said. "It's important any time you beat the team ahead of you."

first night game, it has to rain," said Michael Baron, 27, an engineer.

Ironically, the first night game ever scheduled in major league baseball was rained out. The Phillies and Reds had to wait an extra day before playing under the lights at Cincinnati's Crosley Field on May 24, 1935.

The Astros got four runs in the first inning and six in the eighth.

Los Angeles starter Shawn Hillegas, 3-4, faced only four batters, walking two and giving up two run-scoring hits.

Elsewhere in the National League, it was Pittsburgh 1, NY Mets 0; San Francisco 5, Atlanta 2; and St. Louis 4, Montreal 2.

Tigers 3, Rangers 2

Frank Tanana improved to 4-0 against Texas this season and Jim Walewander scored the go-ahead run when reliever Ed Vande Berg balked in the seventh inning.

Tanana, 13-7, allowed five hits, walked three and struck out four before being relieved by Mike Henneman when Bob Brower walked to lead off the seventh. Jeff Russell, 8-5, had shut out the Tigers on three hits before Detroit rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh.

Elsewhere in the American League, it was Toronto 5, Kansas City 1; Minnesota 7, Cleveland 2; Seattle 4, California 3, and Oakland 9, Chicago 5.

Records fall at swim trials

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - U.S. Olympic swimmers signaled the world that the Americans are coming with four U.S. records on the first day of the Olympic trials.

"I'm ecstatic about the meet - we had four American records," Olympic swim coach Richard Quick said Monday night.

"The thing that excited me was in the women's 100-meter freestyle and the men's 200 freestyle - the depth of the field, particularly the top four (finishers), because it puts us in terrific relay position for the Olympic games," Quick said.

Angel Myers of Americus, Ga., became the first American woman to swim 100 meters in under 55 seconds as she was timed in 54.95, the fastest in the world since 1986.

Myers' time in the final was her second American record of the day. In the preliminaries, Myers was timed in 55.15, which was .15 faster than the previous mark by Dara Torres.

The world record, set in 1986, is 54.73 by East Germany's Kristin Otto, who was timed in 55.33 in last month's East German Olympic trials.

Torres, who finished third in the 100 in 55.74 and will swim on the 400 freestyle relay, said, "Many people didn't think we could beat them, but now we'll be able to give them a good fight."

Joining Myers on the Olympic team in the 100 freestyle will be Mitzi Kremer of Titusville, Fla., who was second in the finals in 55.40.

Myers, Kremer and Torres, of Beverly Hills, Calif., will be joined on the relay team by Mary Wayne of Mercer Island, Wash., fourth in 55.76.

That gives the United States a relay team with four members faster than the gold-medal time in the 1984 Olympics.

In other Olympic qualifying Monday night, Janet Evans of Placentia, Calif., also set an American record in qualifying for the 400 individual medley in 4 minutes 38.58 seconds, breaking the previous record of 4:39.24 by Tracy Caulkins in 1984.

Matt Biondi of Moraga, Calif., lowered his own American record in the preliminaries for the 200 freestyle, but he was edged in the final by Troy Dalbey of San Jose, Calif.

Mike Quigley, a neighborhood activist who led the fight against night games at Wrigley, saw irony, too, as he thought about how Cubs fans have endured seemingly endless disappointments, like the times their team blew potential championships in 1969 and 1984.

"It's somewhat symptomatic of the long-suffering Cubs fan," Quigley said as he stood under Wrigley's front overhang, watching it rain. "It's kind of like the fates are against them."

Thronged filled the Wrigleyville neighborhood early, many chugging cans of beer. An army of vendors hawked commemorative T-shirts for up to $15 apiece. And some neighborhood residents prepared for the worst, organizing safety patrols to watch for drunkenness and vandalism.

Homeowners like Shirley Habbe, 56, who has lived less than a block from Wrigley's main entrance for 20 years, weren't smiling.

"I never minded the day games because it's daylight and you can see what the people are doing, but I mind the night games," she said. "In the night ... it's going to be a mess ... There'll be a lot more drinking."

Indeed, as day darkened into night, parts of the Wrigleyville neighborhood began reassembling a Mardi Gras-style beer party.

About 250 people, many clutching beer cans, gathered behind the left-field wall to watch the lights being turned on and try to catch a home run ball.

The Chicago police were prepared with a force of 172 officers, including mounted patrols and canine units, but few problems materialized.

55 girls report for SHS v-ball

Coach Patty Grimm reported 55 girls attended first-day volleyball workouts for varsity, junior varsity and freshmen positions at Snyder High School on Monday.

"I thought everyone seemed to be in pretty good shape," said Grimm, who took over the program after Vicki Nelms resigned last season. "We're concentrating on conditioning and skills, and trying to determine varsity from junior varsity players," she added, noting, "We may make a determination today."

The teams will scrimmage in Lamesa on Monday, Aug. 15, and will open the 1988 season the following day, Aug. 16, by hosting Brownfield.

Once the varsity team is determined, players will workout using the following schedule: varsity and junior varsity from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m., varsity and junior varsity setters from 11 a.m. until noon, junior varsity players from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m., varsity players from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. and freshmen from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.

The varsity unit welcomes back four letterman, including all-district choices Melody Pickering and Sandra Morin.

Area coaches note start of football work sessions

IRA - Coach Don Jones was generally pleased with first-day workouts Monday. Twenty-five students are preparing for the 1988 Bulldog football season, about 14 of whom will be on the regular varsity unit.

The team welcomes back a wealth of returnees after losing only two players - including one starter - to graduation.

The team will workout at 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. each day. They stage their first scrimmage at home with Sands on Aug. 19, with a starting time still to be determined. Highland and Dawson will also scrimmage in Ira on the 19th, Jones noted.

HERMLEIGH - Coach Doug Cook has his work cut out for him with only nine players reporting.

The team plans to work out each day at 7 a.m. Evening workouts will likely be 5:30 p.m. Monday, 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and as early as 3:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

The squad, which does boast seven returning lettermen, will hold its first scrimmage on Aug. 19 at 6 p.m. in rule.

BORDEN COUNTY - Coach Joe Bond greeted 19 players for the Coyote one-a-days Monday but expects a crew of 20 to work with.

The team lost four seniors to graduation and will welcome back seven lettermen.

Workouts are held once daily, at 8:30 a.m., since students are spread all over the county.

Borden County will entertain Klondike for its first scrimmage, Aug. 19 at 6 p.m.

Learning process for Tigers

Snyder's Tigers are going through a learning process but the young men are catching on quickly and enthusiastically in the first week of football workouts, coaches indicated this morning.

"We were pleased. We got a lot accomplished," said Coach David Baugh of Monday's workouts. "I thought we got a lot done for the first day and we looked fairly good doing it."

Progress can be expected to be somewhat slow because the players are learning a new system.

"We're starting with our base defense, teaching them the techniques and keys," he said, "and we're putting in a few plays."

This morning's 9 a.m. workout will concentrate on "reviewing what we did Monday." Quarterbacks and receivers will workout at 3 p.m. and the full teams are due back on the field at 6 p.m. for another session.

The coach also noted a number of sore ankles, muscle pulls and minor pains.

"We're not in very good shape, really, and we're going to have some of that - hopefully it will be a minimum," he said.

The team will put on pads Friday.

Snyder ISD hires seven new staffers

Seven new staffers were hired Monday night and five will begin as substitute teachers with their jobs depending on the level of enrollment.

The seven teachers hired include:

Beth Bowen of Snyder who will teach high school English. She has a B.A. degree from Baylor University and has taught for two years at the Coahoma ISD.

Charlotte Clifton of Lubbock is a graduate of Snyder High School. She has a masters degree in reading from Lubbock Christian College and has taught four years in the Lubbock ISD Roland Herrera returns to Snyder after three years in Kerrville. He has a B.A. degree from New Mexico State University and will teach high school biology and coach. He previously was with the Snyder system for six years.

Janice Mauldin of Snyder has a B.S. degree from Texas Tech. She will teach junior high math. She taught one year at Hermleigh and three years at Morton.

third grade at East. She has nine years experience at Coleman, Kenley and East Texas Christian Academy.

Clovis Brown of Brady will teach fifth grade at East. He has a B.S. degree from McMurray and a masters degree from Sul Ross. He has 14 years experience at districts in Austin, El Paso, Midland and Brady.

Only one staff vacancy remains—that of high school English.

Your Birthday

August 10, 1988

Organizations or groups with which you are affiliated might be a source of exceptional benefits in the year ahead. Good things should transpire through the contacts you establish.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Over the next few days conditions should give you good reasons to raise your hopes and expectations. Be optimistic. Leo, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead my mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're capable of overcoming challenging situations today that could intimidate a weaker person. Forego fears of swimming against the current.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you have recently accomplished something of which you're proud and think friends should know about it, you won't be out of line if you toot your own horn.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Joint ventures hold greater promise than usual at this time. This is possible, provided you are tied in with the right associate and are aiming for realistic objectives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you have anything pending today that requires legal action, such as a contract or agreement, this is a good time to negotiate it to your satisfaction.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A major change is a strong possibility in this cycle that will prove advantageous for you where your earnings are concerned. Good work will be noted by your superiors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't despair if things haven't been running as smoothly as you like in the romance department. Cupid is now ready to remedy matters.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The way things end today are likely to be far more fortuitous than the way they'll begin. Instead of losing heart, think positively.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Advantages can be developed today through your social contacts. Don't be reluctant to make serious requests of those with whom you are engaged in lighthearted activities.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Financial returns could run substantially larger than usual today. If you've got something fruitful going for you, exploit it for all it's worth.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Personal interests can be advanced today in a manner that others will not view as being self-serving. In fact, the more enterprising you are, the more support you'll get.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your luck is likely to be focused in two specific areas today. One will affect your status, and the other your finances.

Laurie Welch of Mabank will teach high school business and coach. She was with the Mabank ISD for three years. She has a B.S. degree from Abilene Christian University.

Robert Wood of Mansfield is a first-year teacher with a B.A. degree from the University of Texas at Arlington.

Substitutes hired include:

Jean Baugh of Snyder for first grade at Northeast. She has a B.S. degree from Texas Tech and has 20 years experience in districts at Iowa Park, Andrews, Ralls, Levelland and Lubbock.

Paula Bowden of Snyder will teach sixth grade at Stanfield. She has a B.S. degree from Hardin-Simmons and has two years experience in Abilene and one year in the Ector ISD.

Edilyn Smith of Snyder will teach third grade at Stanfield. She is a beginning teacher with a B.S. degree from Angelo State University.

Tay-Sachs test is worthwhile

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm Jewish and would like to marry a woman of my own faith. However, I'm concerned about Tay-Sachs; there is some history of it in my family. What can you suggest?

DEAR READER: Tay-Sachs disease is an inherited neurological disorder that is most common in Jews of Eastern European extraction. It is marked by progressive paralysis and dementia. Its cause is a deficiency of the enzyme hexosaminidase, allowing a toxic buildup of certain fats in the brain.

The only treatment for this disease is prevention; that is, individuals with a family history of the disease must be identified and, unfortunately, must avoid marrying a partner with a similar family history. The genetic tendency to Tay-Sachs can be identified by a blood test. In my opinion, you and any intended partner should undergo genetic counseling.

You might look into Chevra Dor Yeshorim (Hebrew for "Association of an Upright Generation"). This is a Tay-Sachs screening center with branches in many cities. It was initiated by an Orthodox rabbi who lost four children to this disease. To date, more than 4,000 people have been tested through the program, which will be able to tell you whom you should not marry.

Although it may seem a bit unfair to have to use scientific methods in picking a spouse, the tragedy of having a neurologically impaired child who would probably die before age 6 makes the sacrifice worth the effort. Ask your rabbi and/or doctor to look into testing and counseling for you.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been receiving vitamin K shots weekly for almost a year. Without these shots, my prothrombin levels fall between 50 and 70. The hematologist speculates I have some liver damage, but doesn't know why. I am 30, do not smoke, drink or do drugs. I have mild asthma, take allergy shots and have mitral valve prolapse, cardiac arrhythmia and endometriosis, for which I take Inderal, Lanoxin, Theophylline and hormone shots.

DEAR READER: Vitamin K is a catalyst for the production of certain blood-clotting factors. It is used by the liver; hence, with liver diseases, vitamin K may not be suitably used and blood-coagulation abnormalities may appear.

I do not know the cause of your biochemical problem. The many medicines you are taking are usually not associated with liver malfunction or vitamin K deficiency. If your hematologist suspects that your liver is not behaving appropriately, you might be helped by a referral to a hepatologist (liver specialist) or a gastroenterologist, who should investigate your liver function and advise treatment. Your problem is an unusual one and, I suspect, will need the attention of specialists.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Peace seems to be near for Iran, Iraq

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — After a thousand years of Arab-Persian hostility and eight of war, peace is a precious but chimeric commodity for Iran and Iraq.

Yet after a year-long U.N. peace effort and two weeks of delicate, for a time deadlocked negotiations, a truce — if not a lasting peace — is at hand.

On Monday, Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar announced that the guns would fall silent on Aug. 20 and both sides would meet five days later in Geneva for face-to-face peace talks under U.N. auspices.

"I am persuaded that both nations deeply wanted peace and are committed to it," he said. And that opened the way.

It also opens the way for improved relations between the United States and Iran, a reduced U.S. naval presence in the Persian Gulf and a better atmosphere in which to seek release of foreign hostages held by pro-Iranian Shiite Moslem fundamentalists in Lebanon.

The occasion marks the first time in memory that a U.N. resolution has been a key to ending a conflict. Numerous resolutions pertaining to the Middle East and southern Africa have gone unheeded.

Resolution 598 — the year-old Persian Gulf peace plan — is coming to fruition.

The cease-fire announcement was the second major victory for Perez de Cuellar since April, when Pakistan and Afghanistan signed a U.N.-mediated pact providing for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan.

As in the case of Afghanistan, a U.N. plan and mechanism already was in place when the belligerents turned to New York.

Monday's proclamation also signifies a revival of the financially ailing United Nations after years of lying fallow and ineffectiveness. Among other tasks, it is now expected to play a peacekeeping role in southern Africa and Cambodia.

For Iran and Iraq, the cease-fire announcement is only the beginning of a long, problematic road. Both belligerents gave way at the bargaining table because of economic and political compulsions; their weariness of war, not their dedication to peace.

Both now claim political victory and say the other side gave way.

The two shattered nations have nothing to show for the conflict that has claimed up to 1 million lives. The battle lines today are much as they were in September 1980, when Iraq invaded Iran after a series of border skirmishes.

If anything, the bitterness is greater, and Iraq's massive and frequent use of internationally abhorred and outlawed poison gas has increased the enmity.

The cease-fire announcement is the culmination of U.N. peace efforts that began on July 20, 1987, when the Security Council adopted Resolution 598, demanding an immediate cease-fire and setting out a peace plan.

For a full year, Perez de Cuellar negotiated with both sides.

Last year, Iraq was losing the war and immediately accepted Resolution 598, which calls for a troop withdrawal, prisoner exchange, establishment of a tribunal to assess responsibility for the damage, formal peace talks and reconstruction.

Iran, which was winning, held out. It demanded that as a precondition for peace, Iraq must be branded the aggressor.

For a full year, Iran was branded the obstructor of peace for not embracing the resolution.

Now, a year later, the tables are turned.

After a series of battlefield setbacks, Iran abruptly announced on July 18 that it was embracing Resolution 598 and urged an immediate cease-fire.

Tehran dropped the precondition of branding Iraq the aggressor.

Iran's supreme leader, the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, said that making the choice for peace was "worse than swallowing poison."

The secretary-general declared he would send a cease-fire mission to both countries and summoned the foreign ministers of both nations for peace talks.

But Iraq, which was on the offensive, suddenly demanded direct talks with Iran as a precondition of a cease-fire.

Iran said direct talks could be held only after a cease-fire, troop withdrawal and prisoner exchange.

Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati of Iran and his Iraqi counterpart, Tariq Aziz, came to New York, but U.N.-mediated negotiations deadlocked over the issue of direct talks.

Iran appeared to be the peacemaker, while Iraq held back.

Perez de Cuellar then devised a formula under which a truce would be followed rapidly by direct talks on a comprehensive peace. Iran agreed immediately.

RECOVERED — Scurry County Deputy Kerry Fritz shows the seven pistols, two rifles and 12 boxes of ammunition that he recovered from the Saturday burglary of Sparkle City Pawn Shop. City and county officers went to the 14th St. and Ave. K residence where a 20-year-old man had been arrested in connection with the case and recovered the firearms last weekend. (SDN Staff Photo)

Eight faculty members hired

Eight new faculty members were approved for employment Monday night by the Western Texas College board of trustees.

Ty Brunson has been named an art instructor. He has a bachelor's and master's of fine arts degree from Louisiana Tech University. He held teaching assistantships at Louisiana Tech from 1983-86 and also operated his own studio.

Don Clay of Midland will join the staff as an academic recruiter and assistant in men's basketball. He will also work with the college's tutoring program. He has a B.S. degree from Texas Wesleyan College.

James Durham, formerly principal at Lorenzo Elementary and a part-time instructor in the WTC extension center in Crosbyton, has been named assistant professor of history. He received both his bachelor's and master's degree from Arkansas State University.

Sue Freemyer of Jayton was hired as a new biology instructor at WTC. She taught high school science two years and was a biology instructor at McLennan Community College from 1968-70. She received her B.S. degree from Kansas State Teachers College and her master's of science degree from Southwestern College in Winfield.

Billy K. Fry has been added to the faculty as political science instructor. He received his B.A. degree from McMurry College in 1980 and earned his master's degree from Midwestern State University. He has also studied at Texas Tech and Eastern New Mexico State University.

Child escapes serious injury

A six-year-old boy escaped serious injury in a car-pedacycle accident at 6:20 p.m. Monday in the 4400 Block of Ave. U.

Police said Patrick A. Ely of 2110 42nd St. was on a pedacycle that was hit by a 1980 Chevrolet two-door driven by Denna J. Sorrells of 1201 N. Ave. R.

The boy was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder EMS Ambulance Service and was treated and released.

Also Monday, a parked 1988 Chevrolet Caprice owned by Louise Scott of 505 30th St. was hit by a 1974 Ford pickup driven by Adam Ocanas of 905 27th St. at 9:58 a.m. in the 1900 Block of 24th St.

A 1979 Chevrolet beverage truck driven by Timothy T. Harris of Merkel was in collision with a 1972 International Suburban driven by Tony O. Warr of 3103 Cherry St. at 12:02 p.m. Monday in the 2500 Block of College Ave.

A parked 1978 Datsun four-door owned by Howard Vail of Lubbock was hit by a 1984 Chevrolet pickup driven by Robin Wardlaw of Del Rio at 3:41 p.m. Monday in the parking lot of a College Ave. restaurant.

Jan McCathern, a resident of Snyder and a faculty member at Borden County High School since 1983, will become instructor of speech and technical theatre. She was a part-time speech instructor at WTC from 1976-81. She has also previously taught in Colorado City, Perryton and White Settlement, and she was a teaching assistant at Texas Tech in 1981-82. She earned her B.S. degree from North Texas State University and the master's degree from Texas Tech.

William McGlothing of Albuquerque was hired as instructor in English and developmental studies. He has taught in the English department at the University of New Mexico since 1978. He is a graduate of Luther College in Decorah, Iowa and received his masters degree from the University of Oregon.

Bill Murchison, formerly assistant professor of photography at Odessa College, will become assistant professor of journalism at WTC.

He received his B.S. degree from Stephen F. Austin State University and his master's of science degree from Illinois Institute of Technology.

Church prepares for worshipers

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A Catholic church where parishioners have reported receiving messages from the Virgin Mary is mobilizing in preparation for a traditional feast day celebration that is expected to draw thousands.

In the reported messages, which three parishioners claim they receive during Monday night recitations of the rosary, have come predictions that 20,000 people will flock on Aug. 15 to St. John Neumann Church, where Mary will perform healings and miracles.

Almost 1,200 people attended Monday night's service, where the "messages" read aloud following the rosary service told worshipers to prepare for the Feast of the Assumption of Mary next Monday.

"Open your hearts to the many blessing that will be given during this next week," read Mike Slate, a retired Air Force officer who has reported receiving the messages since February.

"My son is sending many pilgrims who are searching for truth, searching for the light." Slate, along with Mary Constancio and Theresa Werner, kneel each Monday night at the altar, scribbling notes on yellow pads as worshipers recite the rosary.

Crowds at the service, which lasts for more than four hours, have grown from a handful into hundreds since February. For the past two weeks, the service has been shown on closed circuit television to viewers who sit in the church's courtyard, unable to fit in the 850-seat sanctuary.

Pickup theft is reported

Police are investigating the theft of a pickup truck Monday night from the parking lot of Trinity United Methodist Church at 5200 Trinity Blvd.

Clay Belcher told officers that his dark gray 1985 Dodge pickup was missing.

It had a white headache rack with a white tool box and an anvil in the back, Belcher said. The license number is 325-7DL.

Firearms taken in store burglary

Police are investigating a burglary that was reported Monday at Lloyd's Lock Shop at 1912 College Ave.

An officer said the burglar or burglars apparently entered the building through a side window and that several firearms were stolen.

Guy Allen of Allen Motors at 409 East Hwy. told police at 9:28 a.m. Monday that someone broke into a van on his car lot and stole a stereo.

Misdemeanor assault charge is filed

A 31-year-old man was arrested on a misdemeanor assault charge after a fight was reported at 1:29 a.m. Tuesday at a home in the 900 Block of 28th St.

A concession stand, manned by the First Baptist Youth Ministry, is open for each show and slack performance.

Lewis had already posted a hefty advantage in money winnings going into the Monday's event, but that didn't slow him down. He teamed with Cody Smith to finish second in both go-rounds, clocking in at 8.60 and 9.31 seconds. Their 17.91 on two-head placed second in the average.

Kirt Jones of Hobbs, N.M., finished runner-up to Lewis in the season standings. Jones also teamed with the season's third-place winner, Turtle Powell of Alpine, to win Monday's average in 16.85.

Lewis cashed in checks worth $1,968.87 for the year. Jones, as runner-up, accumulated $1,815.68.

Amherst's Kory Koontz won the age 16-19 team roping for 1988 with $3,435.20 in earnings.

Koontz also showed consistency here Monday, teaming with Billy Stephens to win the second go-round with the day's top time - a quick 6.57.

Jim Blaine Kenney of Carlsbad, N.M. and Jim Bob Crow of San Antonio won Monday's average with a 21.84 clocking on two-head. Jim Bob Mayes of Manor and Snyder's Barry Byrd were second with a 28.40. They won the first-go with a 8.81, but had trouble in the second round, posting a 19.59.

Racing slack got underway Monday evening, with Amarillo's Jane Templer posting a fine 19.94 to take the lead in the girl's 16-19 pole bending. Ralynn Key of Gail was second with a 20.65.

Ashley Looney of Del Rio leads the 13-15 division with a 20.85 while Monica Miller of Somerset took control of the 12-under group with a 21.01. A 20.78 was the best time clocked in the boy's 12-under event, run by Sweetwater's Boyd Brooks. Trent cowboy Chad Sipe was one-hundredth of a second off the pace at 20.79.

Monday's quickest clocking in the barrels was a 14.57 by Lisa Miller of Somerset in the girl's 13-15 age division. Gail's Kelly Jo Ogden holds down second in the division with a 14.74. Other early leaders are Robin Wardlaw of Del Rio with a 14.72 in the 16-19 division, Christi Collier of Marble Falls with a 14.83 in the girl's 12-under and Trevor Braziel of Del Rio with a 14.85 in the boy's 12-under division.

which represents about three months operating funds for the public entities. He warned that the board should investigate the stability of all insurance carriers, especially trust groups that are backed financially only by payment of premiums. Crawford said delayed payment of claims often is an effort to create a float of funds to remain solvent.

One solution would be to become self-insured, backed by stop-loss insurance. Snyder schools have been informed of a 12 to 16 percent increase in health insurance premiums, and health insurance is an item on Thursday's regular school board agenda.

Trustees also got a final look at the proposed $12 million budget for 1988-89. Business Manager Lee McNair noted that estimated local taxes would yield $7.7 million instead of the $8 million projected earlier, but that state revenues are expected to be about $500,000 more than earlier projected.

McNair said the proposed budget will deplete the fund balance by only $391,251 compared to $1.4 million last year. This will leave about $3.3 million in reserves at the end of 1988-89 district.

At Thursday night's meeting, the board will hold a budget hearing at 6:30 p.m. followed by adoption of the amended budget and approval of a tax rate.

McNair said 99 cents is the projected tax rate. He noted that the effective tax rate for the district is $1.08—that is the rate necessary to produce the same tax dollars as last year due to the decline in tax values.

Supt. Moseley also discussed with the board a proposal to change the date that a teacher may resign and be released from contract from Aug. 1 to July 1.

The superintendent cited problems associated with staffing on short notice.

Mosely said his approach would be to release personnel after the July 1 date if the district is successful in finding a replacement.

The board was advised of items currently being reviewed in a three-day principal's workshop which began Monday. The board also was given the district's teacher in-service schedule and were reminded of a breakfast Aug. 24—the first day of in-service. Also the chamber will host a breakfast for all teachers on Aug. 25.

In other reports, Karen Terry with the food service department, presented a five-year capital improvement plan. She noted that some equipment is more than 35 years old and she estimated that some $70,000 in items such as stoves and ovens would be needed over the next five years. These items can be purchased from cafeteria operating profits.

Taylor gave the board a report of all maintenance projects being completed this summer. The major ones include painting of buildings as well as new roofs at the high school auditorium and the junior high.

Keith Gentry, director of transportation, said school vehicles traveled 337,000 miles last year. There are 24 bus routes covering 1,351 miles a day and transporting 991 pupils. He said additional travel would be experienced this year because of the change to half-day kindergarten. Gentry said operating costs are 89 cents per mile, and that all districts in the state receive reimbursement of 88 cents per mile.
