CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery roared to life on the launch pad today as NASA ignited its main engines in a crucial 22-second test leading up to the first U.S. manned space mission since the Challenger disaster 2½ years ago.

The firing, delayed five times in two weeks by leaks and other mechanical problems, checked modifications to the engines and other systems. It was critical to certifying the shuttle for the first post-Challenger launching.

"It was a very smooth countdown; the team and the hardware all worked successfully," Forrest S. McCartney, director of the Kennedy Space Center, told the team. "It's been a long night, but it sure ended right."

Launch director Bob Sieck thanked his crew "for making our toughest test look easy. You should be pleased because it was an excellent performance and you should look forward to the launch count with confidence."

Launch control center commentator Hugh Harris said it appeared all three engines fired for the required length of time.

Officials hoped to have a preliminary report on test results within hours.

The space agency said that if the firing was successful and there were no other problems, Discovery could be launched in late September. But because much work remains, most officials believe the liftoff will slip into October.

At the end of today's near-flawless countdown, the three main liquid fuel engines at the base of the delta-winged spaceship flashed to life. The launch pedestal was engulfed in a huge cloud of steam as the fiery exhaust collided with protective water pouring over the foundation of the structure.

As the engines, fed by liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen, generated thrust equal to the energy output of 23 Hoover Dams, a loud thunderclap rolled across the Kennedy Space Center.

The 85-ton spaceship strained against eight 3-foot-long hardened steel bolts holding it down on the pad. On an actual launch, two solid fuel booster rockets would ignite and explosive charges would sever the bolts to free the shuttle.

Tiedown entries compete

Two youngsters battling for all-around honors didn't do anything to cloud those dreams as the AJRA National Finals Rodeo opened to a good crowd Tuesday night.

Blair Burk of Duncan, Okla., and Shawn McMullan of Iraan were among Tuesday's standout performers.

The rodeo continues nightly through Friday with shows beginning at 8 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum. Saturday's televised show will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at $4 for adults and $2 for children. Box seats are $6. Senior citizens will get 50 cents off the price of a ticket tonight.

Concession stands, featuring burgers for a buck, are manned by the Baptist Youth Ministry.

Tuesday's show opened in traditional AJRA fashion with Bob Tallman greeting the crowd and Cindy Nix singing the National Anthem.

Burk, who leads the boy's 13-15 all-around, tiedown calf roping and optional roping standings, showed his talent to an appreciative crowd Tuesday. After flashing a quick 2.49 in the breakaway during morning slack, Burke returned to star in the tiedown and ribbon roping with times of 10.72 and 6.10 respectively.

Snyder's Leddy Lewis, who won the team roping World Championship in the 13-15 age group and is second to Burk in the all-around, timed a 14.35 Tuesday for fourth in the calf roping. Philip Morris of Elgin clocked a 12.52 and J.W. Hampton of Stephenville turned in a 13.26 in morning slack.

McMullan, all-around and calf roping leader in the boy's 16-19 division, excited the fans with his 10.63 Tuesday evening. The time was good enough for second place behind Giddings' Marty Linder, who clocked a 10.05 in slack. Linder also took the lead in the ribbon roping with a 5.96. He is the season standings leader in that event.

Roughstock riders had a tough time Tuesday. Tommy Yeater of San Antonio posted the only score

Absentee balloting generates 210 votes

Absentee balloting for Saturday's special election to fill Ray Farabee's 30th Senatorial seat ended here Tuesday with a count of 210 votes, a total enhanced greatly by the addition of temporary branch polling locations at rural parts of the county.

Tuesday's figure could go somewhat higher, noted county clerk's office personnel, since 10 more absentee ballots were mailed but as yet not returned.

On Saturday, voters in the 30 counties which comprise the 30th Senatorial District will decide between Steve Carriker, 38, (R-Roby) and Bobby Albert, 35, (R-Wichita Falls).

Approximately half the Scurry County absentee was counted during the first week, when the branch polling spots were rotated between the Hermligh, Fluvanna, Ira, Dunn and Northeast Community Centers.

Come Saturday, the polls will be open in four locations, one for each commissioner's precinct. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The locations will be:

—For Pct. 1 (the northeast quadrant of the county comprised of voting boxes 14, 15 and 16) the Scurry County Health Unit with election judge Janelda Davis.

—For Pct. 2 (the northwest quadrant of the county comprised of voting boxes 5, 6, 17 and 18) the Scurry County Library with election judge Jerry House.

—For Pct. 3 (the southwest quadrant of the county comprised of voting boxes 7, 8, 9 and 19) the Towle Park Barn with election judge Clarence Payne.

—For Pct. 4 (the southeast quadrant of the county comprised of voting boxes 10, 11, 12 and 13) the Scurry County Senior Citizens Center with election judge Rosemary Jones.

AD review adjusts roll some $400,000

The three-member review board for the Scurry County Appraisal District was back in session briefly Tuesday to consider three protests related to equipment values with a total adjustment of $400,200 ultimately granted.

One of these protests, filed by Y-Z Industries, was a holdover item from the review board's first session July 11. The board postponed any action pending more information regarding the value of equipment related to this industry.

The board also considered an error in assessment related to personal property-equipment for National Oil Well and a value protest for equipment filed by Morin and Son Construction.

Board members include Harold Lachik, Walter Stirl and Ross Blanchard

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some candidates promise not to let us down. We're looking for somebody who will let us up."

For some reason, we guessed that those swim suits shown each year in Sports Illustrated were really items worn only by professional models who pose for swimsuit ads.

But a recent trip exposed the bare truth—women really do wear such swim suits. In Austin, where nude bathing is confined to one area of the lake, it's hard to distinguish between the haves and the have-nots.

The swimming suit industry is in a state of emergency. It may be out of business, not because their suits are shrinking each year, but because women list buying swimwear as their most stressful activity.

Shopping for a swimsuit is hated by women—even women with so-called perfect figures. Countering such anxieties has become a challenge for the fashion industry.

After years of introducing skimpier styles, manufacturers have been trying to expand the $800 million swimsuit market through clever engineering aimed at hiding more skin and providing more support.

Stores are designing new fitting rooms with more privacy. They are installing pink light bulbs instead of harsh fluorescent to avoid making the skin look grotesque. Added is soft music to soothe the buyer's frayed nerves.

Retailers also train clerks about camouflage techniques such as skirted suits, diagonal stripes and ruffled necklines.

It remains an uphill battle as women overwhelmingly brand swimwear as the garment they least like to buy. The dilemma seems to be confined to America where most women claim their bodies don't measure up to society's lean expectations.

Added to the stress is the fact that purchased swimwear is non-returnable, and nobody wants to take their husband or boyfriend to shop for swim suits.

There are a few solutions. One could vacation only in cold climates. Another possibility is to never get out of the water.

But perhaps the best idea is to tolerate that favorite swimsuit one more season — you know, the one with the hole in the knee.

Q — Has the newspaper printed the list of supplies needed by elementary school students yet?

A — No. The list will be included in stories printed this Sunday in the SDN's annual "Back to School" edition.

In Brief

Takes oath

AUSTIN (AP) — William B. Cassin of Houston, the newest member of the Public Utility Commission, said he is determined to be impartial in making decisions about telephone and electric rates.

"What I may have as a personal agenda or personal attitude takes second place to what the Legislature has laid down as our standard," Cassin said after being sworn in Tuesday.

Cassin, appointed last month by Gov. Bill Clements, said the governor told him only to follow the law.

Heat wave

DALLAS (AP) — Police awaited autopsy results on an elderly couple found in their apartment without air conditioning in a deadly heat wave that has set record high temperatures.

The 78-year-old man and 75-year-old woman were not identified pending notification of their relatives, said Dallas Police Sgt. Jerry King.

The temperature reached 103 degrees at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport on Tuesday.

Son in debt

HOUSTON (AP) — One of Democratic vice presidential candidate Lloyd Bentsen's sons and his estranged wife are $12.6 million in debt, according to court records filed in the couple's divorce case.

Lan C. Bentsen on Tuesday asked a judge to seal the case file involving his divorce from his wife, Lynne. The Houston Post reported today. State District Judge John Montgomery granted the request, but said he will consider motions from anyone who wants to see the file.

In making the request, Lan Bentsen said it had "nothing" to do with his father being chosen as the running mate to Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis.

Errors probably can't be fixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten years of errors in federal records could cut the Social Security checks of 40 million recent retirees by $50 a month, a union says, and government auditors say there's little chance of fixing the mistakes.

Although a new agreement between two government agencies goes a long way toward preventing similar errors in the future, "early reconciliation results for past (error) backlogs are not encouraging," said Joseph F. Delfico, senior associate director of the General Accounting Office.

Kenneth L. Blaylock, president of the American Federation of Government Employees, which represents 60,000 employees of the Social Security Administration, said the discrepancies could affect the pensions of one-third of all recent retirees.

Testifying Tuesday before two House Ways and Means subcommittees, Blaylock said a recently announced plan by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service to correct the records "is a cruel hoax and a charade." He said the two agencies are unwilling to commit the money and manpower needed to fix the problem.

At issue are the worker earnings reports that employers file with SSA; these reports determine how big a Social Security pension workers eventually receive. Employers must report once a year to SSA but four times a year to IRS. For a number of reasons, those reports do not always match. Between 1978 and 1984, GAO estimates, employers reported $58.8 billion less to SSA than to IRS. That means the IRS collected and turned over to the Social Security trust funds more than $7.7 billion in taxes that are not credited to any worker's account.

That is only about 0.5 percent of all wages that SSA recorded during those years, but the discrepancy is enough to affect the pensions of 10 million retirees by about $17 a month, GAO estimated. Blaylock said the figures could reach 40 million and $50 a month unless the government makes a better effort to clear up past-year errors.

GAO surveyed what SSA had done to correct 3.5 million employer reports that make up the 1978-83 backlog and found that as of June 10, "most of the differences in employer reports to the two agencies have not been resolved and likely will not be."

"Most employers SSA contacted either have not responded, are no longer in business or no longer have the necessary records," GAO's Delfico told the subcommittees.

Another 2.1 million employer reports for 1984 through 1986 are being checked as well.

Pennzoil posts quarterly profit

HOUSTON (AP) — Pennzoil Co. recorded second quarter earnings of $1.4 billion partly because of a cash settlement from its historic court battle with Texaco Inc., but the company suffered an operating loss due mainly to one-time charges.

The second quarter 1988 figures included a $1.7 billion after-tax gain from its $3 billion settlement with Texaco. The companies negotiated the settlement after Houston-based Pennzoil won an $11.1 billion court judgment in a 1985 state court trial that decided Texaco had interfered with Pennzoil's plan to buy Getty Oil Co.

Pennzoil's profit for the three months ending June 30, amounts to $34.68 per share, compared with a profit of $7.8 million, or 9 cents per share, in the second quarter of 1987.

Revenue during the quarter, excluding the one-time settlement, rose to $548 million from $443 million.

Results for the second quarter also included after-tax non-cash charges of $100 million, including a $242 million charge for the impairment and abandonment of some domestic and foreign oil and gas properties, a $72 million charge for the writedown of a Shreveport, La., refinery, and $28 million in charges related to employee benefits and miscellaneous items.

One-time gains included a $38.7 million gain from the sale of Pennzoil interests in its Dutch North Sea oil and gas properties, the company said.

Pennzoil posted a loss from operations of $266.8 million during the quarter. Income before the extraordinary gain and charges for the second quarter was $36 million, compared with $17.8 million for the same period last year.

Hibbs retires from Texaco

William R. (Bill) Hibbs, electrical supervisor for the Colorado City area of the Wichita Falls district of Texaco Pipeline Inc., has retired effective July 1, announces David R. Seaton, district manager.

Hibbs, age 62, joined the company in Wichita Falls as an electrical technician. He was promoted to supervisor at the Colorado City State on July 1, 1969. Hibbs and his wife, Joyce, were honored at a retirement dinner Monday night at the Golden Corral, attended by over 50 fellow workers, family and friends.

They reside at 4515 Galveston in Snyder.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Military Wife Sounds Alarm Over Manhunting Pen Pals

DEAR ABBY: My husband is stationed in Korea and he wrote to tell me that the GIs there are having a ball with all the Operation Dear Abby mail. He says it's great for their morale. The guys go nuts when the mail comes in and a lot of them spend hours writing letters. He says all of a sudden, the most popular book in the barracks is the dictionary!

I would like to know if they give the mail only to men who don't get any mail at all, or do all the GIs — including the married ones — get a crack at the mail? My husband doesn't need to get mail from a strange woman — he gets enough mail from me.

Have you ever thought that maybe a married GI could get one of those letters and become pen pals with a single chick? You could bust up a marriage, Abby, letting young girls send pictures of themselves in bathing suits to some of those lonesome guys over there. The girls who write just assume only single men will write back.

Think about it, Abby. How are we wives at home going to protect ourselves from stuff like that?

CONCERNED IN CLEVELAND

DEAR CONCERNED: If any marriages have gone on the rocks because a married GI went ape over a picture of a girl in a bathing suit, I am not aware of it. I would hope that a married man would not pursue a romantic-type correspondence with a single woman, just as I would hope that no stateside married woman would encourage a romantic pen pal relationship with a single serviceman who's far from home and lonely.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of the millions of Californians who buy lottery tickets. If and when I win, I do not want anyone except my husband and the IRS to know about it. Could the lottery association keep this information confidential if I requested it?

The lives of lottery winners change the minute the word gets out that they have won. They are besieged by con artists, promoters and people trying to sell them something. Even their friends and relatives treat them differently.

I know it's possible for people to give money to charity anonymously, so if you can be an anonymous donor, why can't you be an anonymous receiver?

Please let me know at once. I should be so lucky to find myself in a position to use your advice.

LA JOLLA GRANDMOTHER

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: According to Bob Taylor, public affairs director for the California State Lottery, it is absolutely mandatory to announce the names of the winners. (If they were to say, "We have a winner, but we can't disclose the name," the uproar would be heard in New Jersey!) However, their addresses and telephone numbers may be withheld at the request of the winners.

DEAR ABBY: I like to read my horoscope, but do not feel compelled by the suggestions. However, I am finding that the majority of my horoscopes all say the same thing: "Be careful while driving today!" "Take extra care when you are on the highway!" "Don't take any risks while in motion!"

Abby, is it true that all Pisces are incredible klutzes, and, therefore, accident-prone? Can you shed any light on this? Or is it possible that the astrologer who writes for my newspaper is just down on all Pisces?

OFFENDED PISCES

DEAR OFFENDED: An astrologer can't go wrong advising anyone who drives to drive with great care today. The same can be said of an Aries, Cancer, Gemini, Sagittarius, Aquarius, etc.

Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Last Temptation' tempts criticism from reviewers

UNIVERSAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — "The Last Temptation of Christ," a film that is enraging segments of the Christian community for its reinterpretation of the Bible, is drawing mixed reviews as art on the secular front.

Included in the film is some nudity, Mary Magdalene plying her trade as a prostitute, and the scene that has most outraged its antagonists, in which the crucified Jesus hallucinates he marries her and has sex with her.

Film critics who viewed the R-rated movie in a Universal Studios screening room Tuesday, including Michael Medved of "Sneak Previews," Charles Champlin of the Los Angeles Times and Bob Thomas of The Associated Press, said they were unimpressed overall.

"It's the height of irony that this level of controversy could be generated by a movie this awful," said Medved.

"An intellectual exercise of the 'What if?' variety," Thomas said. "At times moving, often overwrought, and at least 40 minutes too long."

Daily Variety raved about the film.

"A film of challenging ideas, and not salacious provocations," the industry paper's review said.

And Time magazine's Richard Corliss wrote in this week's edition, "Those willing to accompany (director Martin) Scorsese on his dangerous ride through the Gospels may believe he has created his masterpiece."

Scorsese, who also directed "Taxi Driver" and "Raging Bull," defended the film Tuesday night on ABC-TV's "Nightline."

Regarding the sex scenes, he said, "It was important to show him go through all the steps of an ordinary life, to be married, to make love with his wife for the purposes of having children."

He denied any blasphemous intent.

"I'm a Catholic, raised Catholic," he said. "We have a right to explore God in our way."

As the critics watched, 150 protesters, none of whom had seen the film, rallied on another part of the studio lot to castigate Universal and its parent company, MCA Inc.

At the climax of the protest orchestrated by the Rev. R.L. Hymers Jr., a Baptist preacher, a mock crucifixion depicted a bloodied Jesus screaming as a man portraying MCA Chairman Lew Wasserman nailed him to a 10-foot cross.

Wasserman, encountered later, would not acknowledge a reporter's questions.

Friends and customers support ousted banker

DALLAS (AP) — The display advertisement was the businessman's way of saying thanks to the bank president who lost her job.

"We, the working people, appreciate all this dedicated lady has done so long, for so many. How unique this remarkable woman is."

The Seagoville State Bank's president until July was Polly Lewis, whose career there had spanned 34 years including the bank's ownership by the late M.D. "Pappy" Reeves, said Ray Compton, a Dallas businessman who placed the ad in The Dallas Morning News.

"Reeves, who had been a banker for years and years and years, bred into Polly that the customers — the people — built the bank," Compton said.

Now, her former customers say she's been forced out by the bank's board of directors. Depositors and friends put up money for the advertisement to protest her termination.

"Pappy taught her to work with depositors when they are having problems, and that is country banking at its best. That was the way it was. This modern banking, where they just foreclose on folks — she could not deal with that," said Compton, who said more than 100 friends and customers helped him place the ad.

Mrs. Lewis' departure has pitted loyal bank depositors against directors of the institution where she was hired in 1954. Depositors on Tuesday said the 61-year-old woman helped them get their start in business.

A bank official, however, said that Mrs. Lewis left after she refused to accept reassignment in a management shakeup in the bank once owned by the late M.D. "Pappy" Reeves.

"There was a board of directors meeting July 21 and there had been several meetings prior to that," said the new bank president, J.T. McDonald. "The board of directors took action to evaluate and realign senior management of the bank."

"As part of the realignment, there were changes in positions. Mrs. Lewis chose not to accept the management position in the realignment — that of senior lending officer and banking executive vice president."

Mrs. Lewis, who had been Seagoville State Bank president for the last two years, declined to comment on the bank's action, referring questions to her attorney.

Reagan's choice questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hispanic Americans say they're pleased that President Reagan has finally named one of their own to his Cabinet, but many see it as a last-minute, election-year ploy.

"I'm sorry that it took so long. It's obviously a political move to ingratiate," said Jose de Lara, president of the League of United Latin American Citizens.

All it takes is luck and skill

What reason could you ever have for accepting a game invitation from a responder when you opened the bidding with a balanced 12-point hand? Holding prime cards for your opening bid — aces and kings — would be one reason. Having good support for responder's known six-card suit would be another reason. Since North had both, he bid four spades. South still had to catch a little luck and use a little skill to bring in 10 tricks.

Faced with five possible losers after the opening lead of the jack of diamonds, declarer had to assume that at least the spade finesse would work if he was to have any chance for his contract. He also saw that the spade finesse combined with a 2-2 trump split would give him a sure thing. He won the king of diamonds and led the spade queen. East covered with the king and South won the ace. Now he played to dummy's club ace, ruffed a club and played a low spade to dummy's nine. When both defenders followed, he ruffed dummy's last club and played ace and a diamond. West was allowed to win the diamond 10 and perforce had to play the heart suit. West made his best play, the heart queen, hoping against hope that East held A-J-10, but declarer covered with the king and eventually scored a heart trick to make the contract. Notice that if declarer tries to attack the heart suit before stripping the hand of clubs and diamonds, he will possibly lose three heart tricks and be set.

But, he added, "whether it's political or not political, we don't care. It's a giant step for Hispanic Americans."

Calling it "a proud day for all Americans," Reagan announced on Tuesday his selection of Lauro Cavazos, president of Texas Tech University, to succeed William Bennett as secretary of education.

Reagan took the action about a month after Vice President George Bush pledged to de Lara's group that he would put a Hispanic on his Cabinet if elected president.

Asked whether that played a role in his decision, Reagan said, "No, I'm just still working at the job here."

Of Cavazos, he said: "I selected him because he seemed to be the best-fitted man."

Henry Santiestevan, a consultant to a Washington-based educational research organization, the Hispanic Policy Development Project, said, "I think it's high time and I'm sorry that it's so late that it now has the aspect of a strictly political move to affect the campaign."

Alicia Sandoval, spokeswoman for the National Education Association, called the nomination "just a ploy to help get Bush elected, and carry Texas. A classic case of tokenism."

"We are glad that the Reagan administration has finally appointed a Hispanic to the Cabinet, especially in the education field," Ms. Sandoval said. "However, we feel this particular announcement is politically motivated. Cavazos is like a substitute teacher. He won't have the clout to change anything in the little time he has."

Bush's pledge in July was a measure of the political importance of Hispanics, particularly in key battleground states such as Texas, California and Florida which have large Spanish-speaking populations.

Since 1980, the number of Hispanics in the United States has increased 30 percent, to 19 million, accounting for about 7.9 percent of the nation's population.

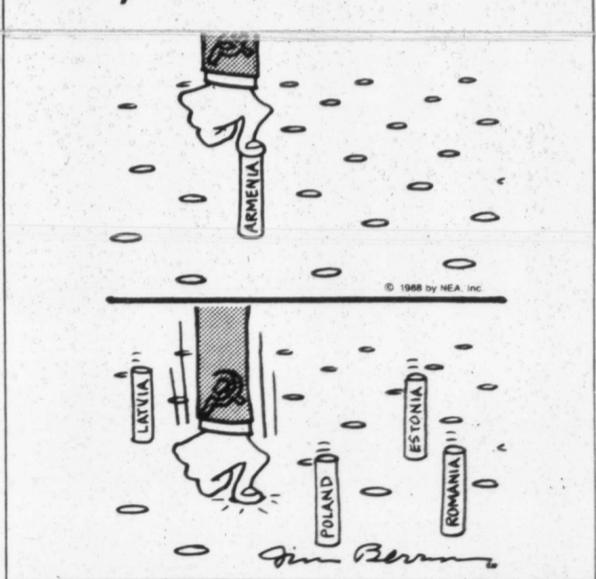

Cavazos, 61, appeared with Reagan in the White House briefing room and said, "This administration has clearly demonstrated that education is one of its highest priorities, and the initiatives that you have begun in this vital area will be of tremendous benefit to this nation and to this nation's future."

Cavazos, who has been president of Texas Tech in Lubbock since 1980, had announced in May that he planned to resign next July. He said he planned to take a leave and then return to teach anatomy in the medical school, where he is a tenured professor.

Astros 'Puhl' past Giants in 3-2 win

HOUSTON (AP) - After such a long wait, Terry Puhl feels like he's a member of the Houston Astros once again.

Once tabbed for greatness, Puhl suffered through numerous injuries and bench time until the past six weeks when he's emerged as a contributor to the Astros title aspirations.

Puhl got three hits, scored two runs, including the winning run, and boosted his average to .360 Tuesday night, helping the Astros beat San Francisco 3-2.

The victory pulled the Astros within one-half game of first place Los Angeles in the National League's Western Division.

"Any player wants to be a functioning part of the club," Puhl said. "You've got to make the most of your opportunities. I've been around long enough to know that."

Because of his performance this season, Puhl has forced Manager Hal Lanier into a four-man outfield rotation.

"We beat a team that's right behind us in the race, so that's more important than any individual considerations," Puhl said.

With the score tied at 2-2, Puhl singled in the eighth inning, stole second base and went to third on the same play on catcher Bob Brenly's throwing error.

He scored the winning run on Glenn Davis' single to centerfield.

Davis missed six games during the Astros' most recent road trip because of a knee injury.

He was on a hot streak prior to the injury and he returned to the lineup without missing a beat.

"I don't have any secrets, I'm going to sit here and tell you I'm doing something to stay sharp," Davis said. "I'm just trying to relax and pick out more pitches."

Davis pinchhit once during his injury and he still doesn't feel recovered.

"When I pinchhit, I felt like I'd never picked up a bat in my life," Davis said. "I still don't feel comfortable but things are happening."

Davis drove home Bill Doran with a third inning single for the Astros' first run.

Puhl doubled and scored on Kevin Bass' single in the sixth to set up his game-winner in the eighth.

Will Clark's third inning single scored one run for the Giants off starter Joaquin Andujar and Jose Uribe's seventh inning single gave the Giants their other run.

"That's the way they play, great speed and run all the time," Giants Manager Roger Craig said. "To beat them you've got to get a big lead early and hold it."

Juan Agosto got his eighth straight victory without a loss in relief for the Astros and Kelly Downs, 11-9, was the loser.

"It's a tough loss for Kelly because both team battled like hell," Craig said. "We both got clutch hits but they got more."

Puhl stole second in the eighth inning and went on to third on Brenly's throwing error to second base.

"I shouldn't have thrown the ball," Brenly said. "The pitch was in the dirt, but I picked it up clean. But when I reached down in the glove I got a hand full of dirt. I should have known then not to throw."

Rangers 6, Detroit 2

Bobby Witt is paying more attention to the hitters. The hitters wish he would leave them alone.

Witt pitched his sixth straight complete game since being recalled from the minor leagues as the Texas Rangers beat the Detroit Tigers 6-2 Tuesday night. He held the first-place Tigers to just three hits.

"He's worrying about the hitter, not the baserunners," Texas manager Bobby Valentine said. "That's one of the things we've been preaching to him about."

Witt, 4-7, began the season with the Rangers, but quickly pitched his way to Oklahoma City. In his first six starts, Witt was 0-5 with a 7.68 earned run average.

"I went to Oklahoma City with the right attitude," said Witt, who was optioned May 10. "A lot of people, when they get sent down they dog it. But I wanted to get back as soon as possible and I knew I had to put in the work to get that done."

In other American League games, Boston and Milwaukee split a doubleheader, with the Brewers winning the first game 3-2 and the Red Sox taking the nightcap 5-1. Elsewhere, it was Toronto 6, New York 3; Minnesota 4, Cleveland 3; Kansas City 5, Baltimore 4; Seattle 4, California 1, and Oakland 8, Chicago 1.

After Pat Sheridan's RBI double in the first, Witt set down the next 13 batters. He walked four and struck out four and is 4-2 with a 2.08 ERA since being recalled.

Bass Club meets Tuesday at 7:30

Snyder Bass Club will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Snyder National Bank building.

Members may register for the August Tournament, which begins Saturday at Oak Creek Lake.

The tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday, headquartered at the Sportsman's ramp near the dam. Tournament hours will be 6 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and 6 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. Entry fee is $10 for one day or $15 for both days. All fees must be paid prior to fishing.

Bobby Hoover won the July "Roadrunner Tournament" with a stringer weighing in at 12-pounds, 15.5 ounces. Top Twenty leader Tommy Hood placed second with a stringer of 12-6, followed by James Hoover with 9-4, Wendell Pinkerton with 6-14, Johnny Spruell with 6-10 and Buck Rambin with 3-12. Hood had the Big Bass, 6-12, caught at Lake Thomas.

Tigers note depth in backs

Lack of depth along the line is a concern for Coach David Baugh's Snyder High School Tigers, but he sees some positives too as the squad continues to stage two-a-day workouts.

"The main area we seem to be strong in is our offensive backs. That's where we have the most depth. We've got some quickness in our defensive secondary, too," noted the first-year Tiger coach.

"Where we aren't deep is in the line. We just don't have many big guys in the program right now," he noted.

The team enters its third day of workouts today and will don pads Friday. The "Watermelon Bowl", a series of intrasquad scrimmages, will be held Saturday at the workout field and the public is invited. Action begins at 8:30 a.m. with a freshman-junior varsity scrimmage. A varsity-junior varsity scrimmage will follow. Freshmen get their first chance at outside competition on Aug. 18 when they entertain Lamesa in scrimmage action. The varsity and junior varsity teams will scrimmage at Lamesa on Aug. 19.

"The main positive I see right now is the kids are really trying to do what we want and are working hard to learn what we're trying to teach them," said Baugh. "They may mess up at times but they're doing it at full speed. They're working hard, trying to learn and we can't ask anymore than that."

Workouts are held at 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. daily. There is also a 3 p.m. workout for backs and receivers.

Reagan to sign $3.9 billion proposal for drought relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan plans to sign a $3.9 billion aid package for drought-stricken farmers that cleared Congress with overwhelming support in both the House and Senate.

"We have kept the faith," House Agriculture Committee Chairman E. "Kika" de la Garza, D-Texas, said Tuesday as the House approved the bill on a 383-18 vote. "Our promise has been kept."

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan plans to sign the bill, which whisked through Congress in a matter of weeks. It emerged from a House-Senate conference committee last week and won Senate approval Monday.

The measure provides relief for farmers suffering crop losses of more than 35 percent of expected harvest due to drought or a variety of other causes, including hail, insect damage or even excessive moisture.

For damage exceeding the 35 percent eligibility level, the Agriculture Department would provide payments equal to 65 percent of lost income.

Also in the bill are larger payments for farmers with extraordinary losses. They would be eligible for payments equal to 90 percent of income lost as a result of crop losses exceeding 75 percent of expected yield.

The money for these payments is expected to come from savings that the government will realize as a result of the drought itself.

Income support payments, known to farmers as deficiency payments, are based in part on how much the individual farmers produce. Destruction of crops by the drought has thus lowered the amount that the government-owned Commodity Credit Corp. must spend on these payments.

Some urban lawmakers in recent years have been highly critical of the amount the government spends on farm subsidies, but the drought bill largely escaped such criticism.

The House had been viewed as the toughest test. Unlike the Senate, it has members who represent no agricultural interests of any kind and some relish playing the role of fiscal watchdog when farm bills are on the floor.

Rep. Bob Walker, R-Pa., did complain about a $5.5 billion authorization contained in the bill to control water temperatures in the Sacramento River near California's Shasta Dam as a way to enhance salmon spawning.

"So the bill is going to take care of yuppies, too, and make sure their salmon moussé supply is not interfered with?" Walker said. He grumbled that the public "is sick and tired of Congress using every sort of emergency to pork barrel."

But there was virtually no political opposition to the general idea of drought relief.

"This bill is the product of a tremendous concerted effort to produce relief for drought-stricken farmers," said Rep. Edward R. Madigan, R-Ill., the top Republican on the House Agriculture Committee.

Under the bill, farmers would not have to repay deficiency payments they have received in advance if production losses resulting from drought damage has now lowered their payment amount. But they would not be allowed to retain deficiency payments for lost crops and still receive disaster aid payments for the same lost crops.

To be eligible for disaster payments, farmers would have to purchase federal crop insurance for 1989.

The bill would furnish aid to livestock producers who ordinarily grow their own feed but now must buy it instead because of the drought.

Contra aid plan nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican senators accused each other of seeking political advantage but appeared close to a grudging agreement on new U.S. aid to Nicaragua's Contra rebels.

After days of inconclusive negotiations, some Republican senators said many of their number appeared ready to accept a Democratic-drafted compromise Contra aid plan which holds out the possibility of releasing stockpiled arms to the rebels opposing Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government.

If agreement is reached, it will be because a majority of Republicans realized that the alternative may be no aid at all, these senators said.

"I go home with high hopes," said Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., at the end of another long day of repeated conferences on and off the Senate floor.

But he added: "Time is running out. The sands in the hour glass are falling, one by one."

Byrd made clear that if there is to be a unified Senate position on Contra aid, including the possibility of renewing some military assistance, the concessions will have to be made by the GOP.

in the 16-19 division with a 68. Likewise, Comanche's Dusty Posey was the only rider in the 13-15 division. He scored a 65.

Rusty Ramsey of Merkel tallied a score of 68 to lead the 12-under steer riding while John Singleton of Seagraves leads the bareback event with a 53.

It was a good morning for Abilene's Lari Dee Guy, who clocked a 7.07 in the girl's 16-19 ribbon roping and a 9.36 in the goat tying. Guy is the all-around leader in her division.

Girl's pole bending World Champions were determined in Tuesday evening slack. Age 13-15 all-around leader Ashley Looney of Del Rio, clocked a 20.41 in the second-go to secure a world title. She tallied $1,232.39 in earnings over the season.

Kim Rankin, Von Ormy, won the 16-19 pole bending world crown with $1,205.00 in earnings, narrowly defeating Amarillo's Jane Temple, who had $1,198.41 for the year.

Sweetwater's Shasta Brooks became the 12-under champ with $583.96. Her effort included a quick 19.96 in Tuesday night's slack.

Police work drapery theft

Two men who were believed to be from Abilene reportedly stole three sets of drapes worth a total of more than $200 Monday afternoon from Kmart in the 3500 Block of College Ave.

The men were said to have tried a similar theft later in the afternoon at a Kmart in Abilene, where, confronted by a security guard, they "threatened the security guard and left."

A store supervisor reported at 2:37 p.m. that the two white men had come into the store here and had gotten away with three Sunrize drapes valued at $68.97 each.

One was described at 5 feet 11 and 160 pounds, in his late 20s to early 30s and wearing a western shirt, while the other was described only as clean-cut and wearing stone-washed jeans.

Police were circulating the name of an Abilene man as a possible suspect.

The two reportedly escaped in a gray car with a frayed vinyl top.

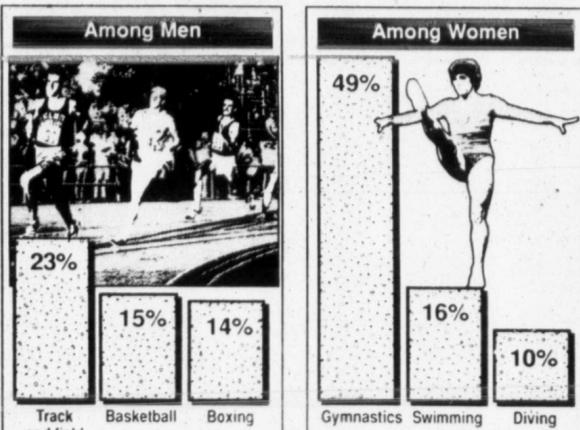

In another theft case, Jerry Collier of Marble Falls told police at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday that six bridles had been stolen from a horse trailer in the Scurey County Coliseum parking lot.

Oil service firm set to reorganize

DALLAS (AP) — A reached for comment by The Associated Press.

Western's proposal must be approved by investors and the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Fort Worth. It calls on the company to eliminate its current 46.7 million shares of common stock. Western would then issue 12.5 million shares of new stock with an estimated value of $150 million.

As an incentive, management would receive 3 percent of the company's stock. Erikson has an option to purchase 2 percent at $3 a share.

The $545 million in senior unsecured debt would be reduced to $175 million. As compensation, the unsecured creditors would receive 72.25 percent of Western Co. stock, $30 million cash, and a 200-acre swatch of land north of Fort Worth worth valued from between $10 million and $20 million.

Erikson pointed out that debt holders will benefit by owning equity in a viable company with low debt payments if they will surrender their securities.

Smathers said management vetoed a proposal that would give shareholders about 10 percent of Western's equity because it "was unwilling to part with a portion of the benefits that may be available if Western recovers."

The plan submitted Monday comes at a time the Securities and Exchange Commission has inquired about the sale of Western stock by the company's founder, H.E. "Eddie" Chiles. The sales took place in the months prior to the firm's filing for Chapter 11 bankruptcy on Feb. 2.

Smathers said his group is cooperating with a request by the SEC for information on stock sales. He would not elaborate further. SEC officials in Fort Worth, where the request came from, declined comment to The Associated Press.

On Feb. 28, Chiles informed federal regulators he would step down as chairman. Over several months last year he sold more than 2 million shares of the company he founded when he was a wildcat oil man in 1939. He still owns outstanding 294,400 shares of Western, according to The Insiders, a Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., newsletter that tracks insider trading.

Chiles, 77, the majority owner of the Texas Rangers baseball team, could not be interviewed for this article.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Concerned about possible false statements on records on mentally retarded people, the state wants to use a confidential questionnaire to interview workers at Austin, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Denton state schools.

The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation plan is part of a proposal sent Tuesday to U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders to indicate that a requested court investigation of alleged fake record keeping is not needed.

The state proposed conducting its own investigation with supervision from Sanders' court monitor, sociologist Linda O'Neal of Florida.

Tech prepares to begin search

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — and some staff members last week he was being considered, Mayes said Tuesday night that no meetings have been scheduled to discuss an interim.

According to Mayes, Cavazos' nomination will not be submitted to the U.S. Senate until after Labor Day. He said regents will not meet until they know if and when Cavazos is to assume his new duties.

Outgoing Education Secretary William Bennett leaves in late September.

Cavazos was to leave Tech at the end of July 1989, take a developmental leave and return to teach anatomy.

Cavazos announced his resignation on May 11, two days after Bennett stepped down. Payne discounted the idea that Cavazos might have been positioning himself for the job, for which he also was considered in 1980.

Mayes emphasized that Cavazos' resignation was in no way related to Tuesday's events. "This was unforeseen," Mayes stressed.

Payne said Cavazos' selection did not surprise him. "It crossed my mind in May when Bennett resigned" that Cavazos might become a candidate, Payne said.

Selection has formed a presidential selection committee that met for the first time Friday. Search consultant Bill Funk of Dallas predicted that a replacement could be found by January.

No formal applications had been received as of late last week, but Cavazos' hastened departure could speed up the process considerably.

Test results show no danger

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I was subjected to a urinalysis and tested negative for everything but methanol, with a level of 0.02. I've worked around solvents, but not for 18 months. I did recently paint some woodwork with enamel paint. What could produce this reading?

DEAR READER: Methanol (methyl or wood alcohol) is a toxic substance that can enter the body through the mouth or lungs. Methanol is a common industrial solvent that can cause illness. However, the upper limit of urinary methanol is 5 milligrams per deciliter. Since your level is well below that limit, I believe that you should have no worries about safety.

Unless you were using enamel containing methanol and working in a close space, I doubt that the paint is the cause of the small amount of methyl alcohol in your system. This is more likely to have come from other vapors that you may have breathed inadvertently.

DEAR DR. GOTT: The word "paranoia" is being tossed around too much, I believe. Two parishioners referred to our minister as "paranoid." Well, if he is, he should leave his job and seek professional help, but if he's not, it's slanderous to use the word. Would you agree?

DEAR READER: Medically, paranoia refers to a mental disorder characterized by a complex system of delusional thinking in which the patient is convinced that he or she is being persecuted.

Like many medical terms — such as "demented" and "retarded" — paranoia has entered our speech as a pop idiom, and it's often used in a pejorative, medically incorrect way. Perfectly normal people who — for one reason or another — feel defensive are often labeled "paranoid" although they are emotionally healthy.

The term is bandied about too much, but it's rarely meant to be seriously damaging. It's generally understood to be a slang description of someone who blames others for getting in his way.

However, persons who use "paranoid" as part of their everyday speech might remember that the term can be hurtful. All of us may act a little crazy and seem somewhat paranoid at times. However, true paranoia is sad, destructive and requires professional help as you suggested.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Mental and Emotional Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

AG's office ends investigation

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Attorney General's office has halted a plan to seize the cruise ship Galaxy and attempt to obtain refunds for hundreds of passengers who said their dream vacations turned into "nightmares."

Earlier this year, hundreds of passengers complained that they paid more than $2 million for a Central American cruise and found mutiny and miserable conditions aboard the cruise ship.

The passengers were forced to leave the Galaxy in midcruise.

Family seeking daughter because of transplant need

AUSTIN (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Kenny Hammonds, suffering from a rare blood disease and needing a bone marrow transplant, hopes his family can find an older sister who they last saw nearly 11 months ago.

"Please come home," Kenny said of his 20-year-old sister, Sandra Lynn Hammonds.

Kenny has aplastic anemia, which his doctor described as a "one-in-a-million" illness in which the bone marrow virtually shuts down and stops producing blood cells. Kenny feels fine and appears healthy, but Dr. Lawrence Tokaz said he has moderately low blood counts that will keep getting lower unless something is done.

"He's a good kid, champion soccer player," Kenny's father, Earl Hammonds, said Monday. "He's played all-star soccer. The kid makes good grades. He's on the honor society. He's the kid everybody wants. He's the kid, if you wanted a kid, you'd say, 'Hey, this one here will be fine, I think I'll take that one.' He's one of those type kids, respectful to his mother and father. And he studies. He's a good boy. Kenny is a good boy."

Tokaz said the best chance for recovery is a transplant of bone marrow from one of Kenny's two sisters, which should restore Kenny's ability to reproduce blood cells.

His other sister, Eloise, 28, of Mobile, Ala., has returned to Austin for a possible transplant but the family also wants to find Sandra soon in case no one else would be a suitable donor.

Eloise and her parents planned to be tested this week to see if one of them qualifies, but the results of those tests will not be known for several days.

"What if nothing happens by then?" Hammonds asked. "We'll have used up all this time, and all of a sudden you've hit a zero. Then what?"

But Sandra faces fraudulent check charges here in Travis County, said her father, a corrections officer for the sheriff's office, and the family has lost touch with her.
