

Waller-Counts...

Ballot expected to contain both party nominees

An official with the Secretary of State's office has apparently ruled that the name of Democratic candidate David Counts may appear on the November ballot for the 78th District house of representatives seat.

Published reports say Randall Erben, assistant secretary of state, has indicated Counts, a Knox City insurance man, will be certified as a candidate before the Friday deadline.

Erben could not be reached Thursday morning and Republican candidate Rod Waler, who had officially protested the decision, said he has date received no official word.

If indeed Counts is certified, Waller said he is undecided if he will appeal the decision further through the courts.

Republicans and Democrats disagreed as to Counts' eligibility, specifically to the manner in which former State Rep. Steve Carriker withdrew his candidacy in order to run for the 30th District state senatorial seat.

Democrats claimed Carriker became "ineligible" as a candidate and Republicans said he had simply "withdrawn," a legal distinction which is used to determine if he could be replaced on the ballot.

Flames destroy Yellowstone buildings

Two persons said missing in Montana fires

By The Associated Press

Two Montana men who refused to evacuate before flames engulfed their home were missing today, and a "firestorm" gutted 17 buildings near Old Faithful geyser in Yellowstone National Park, authorities said.

Wildfires also forced the evacuations of 50 homes in the Shoshone National Forest in Wyoming east of Yellowstone and two dozen homes and a Boy Scout camp near Boulder and Golden, Colo. Fire crews continued to protect two Montana towns near Yellowstone from a huge fire, and battled blazes in Idaho, California, Oregon, Washington and Utah.

In northwest Montana along the North Fork of the Flathead River, one man and possibly his brother may have been caught in the onrushing flames after refusing an evacuation order, said

Pam Virdell, a Flathead National Forest spokeswoman.

A man shouted for firefighters to help get his brother out of a cabin, which then erupted in flames, said Dan Black, editor of the Kalispell Inter Lake newspaper, who was at the scene. The man then ran into the forest toward another dwelling moments before fire broke out there, Black said.

Forest officials could not confirm whether anybody perished because "things were happening so fast," Virdell said.

The northwest Montana blaze, discovered Tuesday, expanded to an estimated 7,500 acres by early today and moved into Glacier National Park, where it burned a ranger station complex and numerous cabins.

Four hikers near the park's Lower Quartz Lake were rescued by helicopter Wednesday afternoon after flames cut off their escape route and they drove their vehicle into the lake to save it.

More than 100 people who live in the area were evacuated, and two park campgrounds were evacuated.

The fire is one of 13 major blazes covering more than 1 million acres in and around the 2.2 million-acre park.

Auto dealership Elmore Chrysler officially opened

Snyder has gained a new Chrysler dealership with the official opening Thursday of Elmore Chrysler-Dodge.

The business is located at the former site of Snyder Motors on East Highway.

The owner is J.B. Elmore, who also owns and operates a dealership in Big Spring. Elmore counts 34 years in the automobile selling industry and currently oversees a second operation in Atlanta as well.

The local operation will be headed by Jim Taylor, who will be general manager for Elmore Chrysler-Dodge here. Taylor has 19 years selling experience and has been with Elmore for nine years, most recently at the Big Spring operation. He will be moving to Snyder.

As of Wednesday, a full line of 1989 vehicles had already been moved on site and Elmore said 150 vehicles would be in place later this fall.

Once the dealership is at full strength, and he noted all hiring would be done locally, he said a fulltime staff of 16 is expected.

This will include five salesmen, six in the service department, two in auto parts and three in the business office.

Hours of operation for Elmore Chrysler will include staying open until 9 o'clock nightly including Saturday. The service department will be open until 6 p.m. Saturday.

The financial manager for the dealership is Steve Pilbeam. Sale staffers already hired include longtime resident Keith Pitner. Others are David Dunk, Ricky Torres and Wendell Harris.

Janice Coates has been hired to oversee the business office. Heading up the parts department will be Jerry Buckalew. Other staffers in parts or maintenance include James Courtney, Robert Hinkle, Cody Pruitt, Glen Holley, Tommy Delmas, Frank Garcia, Waldo Perez Jr. and Johnnie Evans.

"The secret to a good dealership is total dedication to giving a good deal, customer satisfaction and service after the sale," Elmore said Wednesday.

He said he opened his Big Spring operation on Jan. 1 of this year and since that time has sold more than 800 units.

The offering locally will range

Class signup ends Friday

Friday is the last day to signup for classes for the fall semester at Western Texas College.

The fall term began Aug. 31 and, as of last Friday, enrollment stood at 925. The student count is expected to surpass 1,000 before registration ends.

Regular September meeting...

Snyder school board members Thursday will consider changing the employment status for six new elementary instructors here from "substitute teacher" contracts to fulltime—a change prompted by student enrollment figures counted the first day after Labor Day.

The staffers were employed in August with the stipulation that their permanent status was contingent on student numbers.

With Snyder's enrollment now figured at more than 3,500, Superintendent Dalton Mosy said all six will be needed. The student total counted Tuesday was 3,514.

His recommendation for fulltime employment status will be part of the regular September meeting of the board set to begin at 7 p.m.

Two staff reassignments will be considered also...

Two staff reassignments will be considered also, moving a fifth grade teacher at Northeast to a kindergarten post at North and a third grade teacher at Northeast to the fifth grade spot on that campus.

Other agenda items include:

- Seeking an extension for the submission of the asbestos management plan for the district.

Considering the renewal of a contract for occupational education classes...

—Considering the renewal of a contract for occupational education classes offered junior high and high school students through Western Texas College.

—Approval of a new joint safekeeping signature card for district financial transactions. Signatures on the card will include business manager Lee McNair and school board president Billy Bob McMullan.

Building total mainly mobile home permits

Carport and storage additions as well as eight mobile home move-ins essentially comprised Snyder's building permit month during August.

The estimated value for the 12 projects issued permits was $100,950. As a category, the mobile home permits comprised $70,100 of this.

The relatively quiet building activity for August brought the year-to-date figure to an excess of $2.5 million. This is still running ahead of last year primarily thanks to two major projects, the construction of Olney Savings and the permit issued this summer to Wal-Mart.

The exact figure for the year is $2,532,271 as compared to $1,667,700 last year. Only one month remains in the city's fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30, and this year's total is expected to stay ahead of 1986-87's.

During August, mobile home permits were issued to Norman Butcher, 2912 Ave. N.; Walter Guynes, 2008 West Drive; Dave Brown, 2400 27th St.; Fran Coates, 2012 Ave. O; Jack Bryant, 506 17th St.; and Carlee Bradshaw, 2703 Ave. Y.

Other projects were for carport additions. Those issued permits were Linda Gutierrez, 508 N. Ave. T; Debea Medrano, 2301 Peyton; and Antonio Peralez, 2807 Ave. E.

Other permits were for an addition at 511 N. Ave. R, issued to Corienne Mahurin, a storage

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Many folks miss their calling because they can't hear it over their complaining."

School has been underway just a week, and already teachers have collected some gems from the works of their writing pupils. Here are some samples:

- To keep milk from turning sour, you should keep it in the cow.
- An illiterate child is one whose parents are not married.
- Rhubarb is a kind of celery gone bloodshot.
- An active verb shows action and a passive verb shows passion.
- Socrates died of an overdose of wedlock.
- A mountain range is a cooking stove at high altitudes.
- A yokel is the way people talk to others in the Alps.

And you thought those teachers had an easy job.

From time to time we are reminded to count blessings, and a job is one of those items that has to be included on the list of positive things. In today's economic climate, a regular paycheck is a blessing—regardless of the amount.

Tom Holcomb, minister of the East Side Church of Christ, recently had an item about blessings in his bulletin that seems appropriate.

Holcomb told about an elderly farmer who listed his property for sale with a real estate agent. When the realtor wrote up the advertisement, he read it back to the farmer for his approval.

The farmer was quiet and thoughtful. After a moment, the farmer said, "I don't believe I want to sell. That's the kind of place I've been looking for all my life. I didn't know I had it until you described it to me."

Boys in the coffee shop say Dukakis is already feeling confident. He's ordered the phone book for the chair he'll sit on in the Oval Office.

Ira boosters

The Ira Booster Club will meet Thursday immediately after the junior varsity football game. The meeting will be in the high school cafeteria and is expected to begin between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

At Hermleigh

The Hermleigh Parent Booster Club is sponsoring a back-to-school fellowship Thursday from 7 until 9 p.m. at Hermleigh High School.

All are invited and homemade ice cream will be served.

'Pork' voting

Local pork producers have until 5 p.m. Thursday to cast ballots at the county extension agent's office to decide the fate of the so-called pork checkoff program.

The program, which is funded by 25 cents per $100 of all pork products, must receive a majority vote to be continued nationwide.

These funds are used for pork promotion and, to a lesser degree, administration of the program.

Cogdell meet

The Cogdell Memorial Hospital board of managers will meet at noon Friday to consider the facility's August accounts payable as well as two agenda items related to the medical staff.

Administrator Tom Hochwalt is scheduled to update the board of efforts to recruit an internal medical specialist for Cogdell.

In addition, the board will consider approval of an emergency room physician, part of the group of doctors who contract for this service.

Border crisis...

Solons disagree over solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ron Coleman says a Southwest Border Regional Commission will give the nation's most economically depressed area the clout it needs in Congress to fight for its share of the federal dollar and end a "legacy of long-term neglect."

But another Texas congressman who also represents a stretch of U.S.-Mexico border is questioning the need for another commission to address the region's complex and myriad problems.

"We've had about five commissions and task forces ... the Southwest Border Regional Commission, ambassador this, ambassador that ... and the first thing they do is send an anthropologist to measure our heads. Sometimes it gets frustrating," Rep. Kika de la Garza testified Wednesday.

"We've got a peculiar situation on the border because of an accident of geography and history as it relates to economics," de la

Garza told a House panel considering Coleman's bill to establish a commission patterned after the Appalachian Regional Commission of the 1960s.

Coleman's proposed commission would include state and federal officials representing Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, who would review and approve applications to fund housing, health, water resources, vocational and technical education, and sewage treatment.

"I'm certainly not claiming all the answers are here, but it is still a legitimate response for the federal government to get involved," said Coleman, an El Paso Democrat.

De la Garza argued the border's complex problems will persist as long as the United States is a magnet to Mexico's poor in search of a better life, and until the states fail to get tough on the developers of unincorporated communities called colonias who do not put in roads, running water or sewerage connections.

"Until the states provide the infrastructure for controlling the situation ... we could dump all the money in the world and the situation would not be corrected," said de la Garza, who like Coleman represents a district dotted with colonias.

De la Garza said Mexico's cooperation would be vital to the plan's success, such as stopping the dumping of raw sewage into the Rio Grande and the creation of jobs in the country's interior that would stem migration to the United States.

And federal programs can and do put money into the region, de la Garza, a Mission Democrat and chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, told the House Banking Committee's subcommittee on housing and community development.

But Coleman argued Mexico's problems were no reason not to try to improve conditions in colonias and to help the region's economic development, and questioned whether current programs were adequate.

Wrong con man caught

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A woman has told the FBI that a man in custody in New Orleans is not the smooth-talking con man she married, left and wrote to Ann Landers about, signing her letter "Slow Learner in El Paso."

But at least three other women have told FBI agents that the man in New Orleans seems to be the impostor who impersonated a military officer or doctor, swept them off their feet, married them and then took their money and ran up credit card charges before abandoning them.

In a letter to Ann Landers published Aug. 30, Slow Learner wrote that she married a tall, handsome, persuasive military officer. She said she annulled the marriage when she discovered the man had other wives and probably was after her possessions. She said she was writing to warn other would-be victims.

"I tried to craft ... something that was do-able in the United States," Coleman said, adding said. "I wanted to do the things we could affect. ... I want to use current programs in existence, but I want to know why they haven't helped, why they haven't worked. What's holding them back? We've got a good deal to address here."

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, a San Antonio Democrat and chairman of the subcommittee, said the border is in "acute distress" and called it the Appalachia of the Southwest because of its poverty, an average unemployment rate of 18 percent, "and the lack of basic facilities we take for granted in a civilized society at this point in the 20th century."

"It is a shameful and distressing situation," he said.

Your Birthday

Sept. 9, 1988

Instead of establishing a lot of goals, go for an objective in the year ahead that is truly meaningful. You'll be luckier than usual where something big is at stake.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) When making claims today, be sure you have the facts to back up your position. If your opinions are without foundation, your image could suffer. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is not a good day to let hunches take precedence over your logic. If it doesn't compute mentally, chances are it will fall flat.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Usually you have a shrewd eye where bargains are concerned, but today you might be taken in by the packaging and overlook the substance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Companions might be inclined to tell you what you'd like to hear today rather than give you a frank opinion. Keep this in mind if you are in need of advice.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You are a person who is usually endowed with a strong sense of duty and responsibility, but today you might behave indifferently in situations where others are counting on you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Speculative ventures could prove rather tempting today. However, if you take a long shot, you might discover why the odds are so seductive.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Trade on your past experiences so that you do not replicate an error in judgment you made recently. The situation you may have to deal with today could be similar.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be wary of making lavish promises to others today in order to get them to do your bidding. Keep in mind if they produce, you'll have to pay.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might not make the most of your opportunities today, especially if they happen to be of a financial nature. Don't let indifference put you in the loss column.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Important matters pertaining to your family should be guided by your own hand today. If left to others, the results might not be what you expect or desire.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Strive to be reasonable in your interactions with others today. Don't demand things from them which you know they are unable to deliver.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be optimistic regarding financial matters today. However, don't let your expectations get out of control to the point to where you think you'll get more than conditions warrant.

The Living Will Is a Healthy Investment in Peace of Mind

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Please send me any information you have on how to obtain a Living Will.

My elderly grandmother died recently, and it was a terrible ordeal for her and the family. She had been hooked up to a respirator after we were told there was no hope for her recovery. Her physician told us that he had to put her on the machine because she had not signed a Living Will.

We knew that Mother did not want to be kept alive that way, because our father had also been hooked up to a respirator after he had been pronounced brain-dead.

Please help me. The people I have talked to here told me they have heard of the Living Will, but nobody knows how to obtain one. Thank you.

MRS. MALONE KIMBRELL, TRUSSVILLE, ALA.

tion. There is no charge for the Living Will, but a donation to cover the cost of the document and the mailing is appreciated.

I sent $10 for three documents to give to my physician, my lawyer and a family member. It was the best investment in peace of mind I've ever made.

The Living Will is honored in the United States, and at this time, Canadians are considering its approval. I sincerely hope they succeed.

DEAR MRS. KIMBRELL: The Living Will is a document stating: "To my family physician and hospital caretakers: Should the time come when it is medically confirmed that there is no reasonable hope for my recovery, I direct that I be allowed to die naturally, receiving only the administration of comfort care. I do not wish to have my life prolonged by artificial means. Should I become unable to participate in decisions regarding my medical treatment, it is my intention that my wishes be honored by my family and physician."

Copies of this document should be given to your physician, clergyman and lawyer, and to as many close family members and friends as you wish.

To obtain a Living Will, write to: The Society for the Right to Die, 250 W. 57th St., Suite 323, New York, N.Y. 10107.

The Society for the Right to Die is a non-profit organization.

DEAR ABBY: I know that you have done a lot of public speaking, so you should know the answer to this one. Why would an experienced public speaker stand before an audience and go on and on and on — exceeding his allotted time — knowing full well that he is speaking longer than he should?

Can't he see that the people in his audience are squirming, looking at their watches, and that some have even walked out? I do not comprehend the audacity of such a speaker. What in the world can he be thinking of to abuse his audience in this crass manner?

INCREDULOUS VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: There is no excuse for talking longer than one's allotted time. To do so is the epitome of arrogance, insensitivity and stupidity. What are such speakers thinking of? They probably think that their message is sufficiently important to justify the imposition. They are dead wrong, of course.

Abby's favorite recipes are going like hotcakes! Send your name and address, plus check or money order for $3.50 ($4 in Canada) to: Abby's Cookbook, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Mauro says... Legislation could create jobs for people in Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro says he's confident Congress will pass a clean air bill this year that boosts markets for natural gas and creates thousands of jobs in the Lone Star State.

Mauro and a delegation of nine Texas natural gas producers met Wednesday with key players in the effort to craft clean air legislation.

After the round of talks on Capitol Hill, Mauro told a news conference that he believes the measure has a good chance of passage before Congress adjourns for the year.

He predicts the legislation could create as many as 50,000 jobs in Texas in "the short term" through the increased use of clean-burning natural gas in coal-fired power plants nationwide.

"There have been a lot of influences none of us would have predicted," Mauro said. "It is now a bipartisan issue and bipartisan issues tend to pass. American people don't want to breathe air they can see, smell and taste."

Lubbock natural gas man Rex Fuller said Texas needs new markets for natural gas to help the state's economic recovery.

"We have got to market our product aggressively," Fuller said. "This legislation gives us the opportunity to market our product."

Mauro said he sees a growing role for natural gas through legislation designed to reduce acid rain by subjecting coal-fired plants to fines and sanctions if emissions exceed certain levels.

Coal plants can reduce those emissions by either installing costly scrubbers or switching to a less expensive process known as co-firing, in which a percentage of the coal normally burned is replaced by natural gas, Mauro said.

Apartments violating gas rules

AUSTIN (AP) — Violations of safety regulations in apartment complexes that use natural gas are "very common," according to the director of pipeline safety for the Texas Railroad Commission.

"There are an extremely large number of apartment complexes — the vast majority — not in compliance with safety regulations," Milton Fegenbush of the commission told the Austin American-Statesman. "I'd say 75 (percent) to 80 percent violate the law."

The Railroad Commission evaluates and inspects gas metering systems at apartment complexes, mobile home parks and housing projects, said Fegenbush.

State inspectors found "numerous" violations of natural gas safety regulations during their last inspection at a Southeast Austin apartment complex that was heavily damaged by a gas explosion over the weekend, authorities told the newspaper Tuesday.

Cue-bidding into trouble

No doubt many of you fell asleep while trying to follow the bidding of today's deal. The auction, which appears in "Murder at the Bridge Table," represents author Matt Granovetter's tongue-in-cheek lampooning of super-scientific bidding methods that call for indiscriminate cue-bidding of first- or second-round controls once a suit fit and a game force have been established. He believes, as I do, that first-round controls come first, and that first-round controls in secondary suits should be bid before a void suit or singleton ace is mentioned. Best bidding on today's deal would spotlight the diamond suit, and eventually North would realize that there was a strong possibility of a diamond loser and would stay out of seven. Of course South made his grand slam, but not without travail.

He won the opening trump lead and immediately rattled off six rounds of spades, discarding a diamond and a club from dummy. As you can see, West had five discards to make and could throw four clubs, but what then? In fact he threw a heart. Declarer now cashed the heart king, played a heart to dummy's jack and cashed the heart ace. The last heart, now a winner, was played and West was between a rock and a hard place one more time. He pitched a diamond (it just wasn't in his nature to throw the club ace away), and the king and ace of diamonds made declarer's last little diamond the 13th trick. Now that's Murder at the Bridge Table.

HOW TO KEEP THE CHILDREN YOU LOVE OFF DRUGS. By Ken Barun.

This is the first comprehensive prevention, intervention, and is necessary, treatment guide for parents with children about to enter or already in the midst of their drug-susceptible years, ages 8 to 20. This hands-on, activist-oriented book speaks to parents in no-nonsense language, and provides solutions to a problem many may think irreversible.

It's a complicated world our children are growing up in, a world in which drugs are a part. Ken Barun addresses the concerns and fears of parents with hard facts, tough language, and practical information. This indispensable and unique guide will teach you how to keep the children you love off drugs.

How wet is wet?

WATERLOO, Ontario (AP) — Beverages are a good source of water, but milk, which is 87 percent water, isn't quite as "wet" as tomato juice, which is 94 percent water.

"Some so-called 'solid foods' actually contain more water than liquids," says Lou J. Smith of the Canadian Water Quality Association. "Green beans, radishes and celery are 94 percent water," he says. The liquid with the least water, not surprisingly, is oil. It contains zero percent water.

Tigers need more offensive output

Coach David Baugh hopes his Tigers can put the brakes on the Lobos and find some offense themselves as they prepare for Friday's non-district football game in Levelland.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. at Lobo Stadium.

"Levelland runs the option and they've got that fast tailback who ran for so many yards last season," said Baugh, speaking of Jay Fortner, who romped for 191 yards and three touchdowns as the Lobos ran past the Tigers 41-6.

Meanwhile, Snyder managed less than 90 yards offense in a 27-13 loss to Lubbock Coronado last week.

"We're looking for more improvement. We've got to improve offensively," stressed the coach. "Last week we had only two people that graded out on offense where we had nine on defense."

Stopping the option is always a headache and Levelland runs it well.

"The option really stresses your defense. You've got to cover the dive, the quarterback and the pitch on every play," noted Baugh. "If you don't, you'll get burned."

Despite the Fortner's ability, Baugh believes the strength of the team is in its defense.

"Their defense is probably a little better than their offensive right now. They are real aggressive. They come get you most of the time," he said. "Against Lamesa, their defense held twice inside the 10-yard line."

Levelland jumped in front of Lamesa 14-0 in its season opener but sputtered in the second half and had to settle for a 14-14 tie.

Snyder's defense is also ahead of its offense. Though the unit gave up 27 points to Coronado last week, one Mustang touchdown came on a fumble recovery in the end zone and another came after a fumble at the Tiger 7-yard line.

Snyder will go again with senior field leader Tracy Odom, who was directly involved in the Tigers' 13 points against Coronado. He ran one touchdown in from 16 yards out and hit Tommy Lane on a 6-yard pass for the other.

Odom went out of the game during the second quarter last week after suffering a bruised left hand. He came back in on defense, but never returned behind center.

"Tracy had his first full workout Tuesday. I think he'll be okay," said Baugh.

Snyder will be without starting quick guard Kevin Murdock, who injured an elbow in workouts and is expected to miss the next several games. He'll be replaced by Carl McClurg. Benny Miller will also play the position.

Baugh also noted that reserve tailback and defensive back Bert Merritt is suffering from bruised ribs and will see limited action. Shelby Bufkin will come in to relieve Tommy Lane at tailback.

JV hosts Levelland

Snyder junior varsity gridders gear up for action at Travis Field tonight.

The young Tigers, 0-1 for the season after a 22-2 loss to Big Spring last week, entertain Levelland at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Snyder's freshmen, 1-0, play in Post at 5 p.m. today.

Snyder freshmen won their opener against the Steers, 30-12.

Local junior high teams begin their seasons next Thursday, Sept. 15. They will host Breckenridge.

Metcalf will wait to make 88 debut

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Longhorn tailback Eric Metcalf had hoped for a Heisman-type performance for all to see in Texas' football opener against Brigham Young on Thursday night.

But a ruling by the NCAA on Wednesday turned Metcalf from a player into a spectator for the nationally televised game.

Metcalf, a senior who ran for 1,925 all-purpose yards last year, learned Wednesday of his ineligibility, due to a minor rules infraction reported by UT to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"I was shocked because after we had talked to everyone (NCAA people), and while we were waiting for a decision, (I felt) that I had a good chance of being able to play this week," Metcalf said.

"But as soon as they came on the phone and said I wasn't going to be able to play, I was shocked." Metcalf said he accepted money from the UT athletic department to pay for summer school this year, then did not attend either summer session.

Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds said, "It was a minor mistake and the money was paid back to the university out of his own pocket. Still, it is a violation. We turn in all violations to the NCAA and will continue to do so."

Metcalf, in an interview with KVUE-TV in Austin, said on June 1, the UT athletic department gave him a $760 check for one session of summer school. He decided he would not go to the first session, then in mid-July he decided he would not go to the second session.

On July 13, Metcalf was told by the athletic department to pay the money back. He says he finished paying the money back Sept. 1.

Cup challengers mad over Connor's tactics

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Dennis Conner's country-mile victory in the first America's Cup race reduced the New Zealand challenger yacht to a ship of "fools," the angry Kiwi tactician says.

"We go out on the track and we're treated like fools, because we go out there and we sail around the track as fast as we could in our boat and we have a boat ahead of us making a mockery of the race," says Peter Lester, New Zealand's tactician and alternate helmsman.

"I must say I have lost a lot of respect for the Stars & Stripes organization," Lester said at an acrimonious Wednesday night news conference, shortly after Conner's dual-hulled catamaran breezed to an 18-minute, 15-second victory over the Kiwis' monohull challenger in the opening of a best-of-three series. The next race is scheduled for Friday.

LA 4, Astros 1

LOS ANGELES (AP) - John Shelby hit a three-run homer with two outs in the eighth inning to snap a tie and Tim Leary allowed four hits in eight-plus innings as the Dodgers beat visiting Houston 4-1 Wednesday night to take a six-game lead over the Astros in the National League West.

Steve Sax opened the eighth with a single and took second on a sacrifice by Alfredo Griffin. After Kirk Gibson drew an intentional walk from Mike Scott, 13-6, the runners executed a double steal. One out later, Shelby hit his seventh home run.

7-1A opens season with show of force

District 7-1A showed some power last weekend as Ira, Highland, Trent, Loraine and Blackwell all won their season football openers.

Hermleigh was the only 7-1A team to fall. The Cardinals, after a 26-2 loss to Sands, will try to get their offense going this Friday when they entertain Southland at 7:30 p.m.

Southland was one of 7-1A's victims last weekend. The Eagles lost to a tough Ira Bulldog squad, 51-8.

The lopsided score was just one of several involving teams from the district. In others, Loraine wrecked Lueders-Avoca 50-0, Blackwell popped Novice even worse, 51-0, and district favorite Trent smacked Rule 37-6. In a closer finish, Highland eased past Paint Rock 34-31.

While Hermleigh gets Southland this Friday, Blackwell will try Paint Rock. Ira hosts Wilson, a 37-33 winner over Klondike, while Highland is at Rochester, a 50-37 victor over Paint Creek. Loraine is at Dawson, a 16-6 loser to Smyer, and Trent will entertain highly-touted Jayton. Jayton nipped Bovina 22-18 in its season opener.

7-1A glance

Friday's Results: Ira 51, Southland 8; Sands 26, Hermleigh 2; Loraine 50, Lueders-Avoca 0; Highland 34, Paint Rock 31; Blackwell 51, Novice 0; Trent 37, Rule 6.
Sept. 9 Games: Wilson at Ira, Southland at Hermleigh, Highland at Rochester, Jayton at Trent, Paint Rock at Blackwell, Loraine at Dawson.

Robin Roberts won 19 games for the Phillies in 1956 but gave up a record 46 home runs.

In other action Friday, Borden County continues through a tough pre-district schedule. The Coyotes play in Wellman, a 13-7 victor over Cotton Center. Wellman is ranked 9th in state six-man ball. Borden dropped its opener to 10th-rated New Home 40-22.

All of Friday's six-man games have 7:30 p.m. starts.

U.S. Open roundup...

Navratilova defeated

NEW YORK (AP) - For the first time in eight years, Martina Navratilova didn't hook the big one.

"If this year was a fish," Navratilova said, "I would throw it back in."

Navratilova failed to win a Grand Slam event for the first time since 1980 and the final flop in a disappointing year came Wednesday when Zina Garrison beat her for the first time in 22 tries.

Garrison's gutty 6-4, 6-7 (3-7), 7-5 quarterfinal victory sent the No. 2 seed to the sidelines of the U.S. Open, which she won the last two years and made the finals in the last five.

"She played the best match of her life and I didn't play well," Navratilova said. "That's what it was going to take for her to beat me. If you play someone that many times, they are bound to be on their game when I am not."

Garrison faces No. 5 Gabriela

Sabatini of Argentina on Friday. Sabatini struggled early, then put away No. 16 Larisa Savchenko of the Soviet Union 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Navratilova's loss seemed to open the way for Graf to finish off her Grand Slam without much trouble. The top seed from West Germany is within two match victories of the first Grand Slam since 1970.

Graf routed No. 14 Katerina Maleeva of Bulgaria 6-3, 6-0. She'll play No. 3 Evert, who beat Katerina's sister, sixth-seeded Manuela Maleeva, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Among the men, No. 2 Mats Wilander beat Emilio Sanchez of Spain 3-6, 7-6 (8-6), 6-0, 6-4, and will play Darren Cahill of Australia in the semis on Saturday. Cahill knocked out Aaron Krickstein 6-2, 5-7, 7-6 (7-2), 5-7, 6-3.

The other quarterfinals were played today, with No. 1 Ivan Lendl, seeking an unprecedented fourth consecutive Open crown, facing American Derrick Rostagno, and No. 4 Andre Agassi against No. 6 Jimmy Connors at night.

It was estimated that Japan spent $560 million in staging the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

NFL suspends White

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - Charles White of the Los Angeles Rams, the NFL's leading rusher in 1987, was suspended by the NFL for violating provisions of its substance abuse policy, and Coach John Robinson said, "The substance was alcohol."

Because of his previous problems with cocaine, White was subject to suspension for using alcohol under the league's substance abuse policy.

Dent, Thomas join list

CHICAGO (AP) - Richard Dent, one of the NFL's top defensive players, and Calvin Thomas, a reserve running back, have been suspended 30 days for violating the NFL's policy on drugs, the Chicago Bears announced.

In a statement, the Bears said Dent and Thomas will remain out of the Bears' training facility until Oct. 7.

Dent's agent, Steve Zucker, said Dent had refused to take a drug test because "he did not feel the league had the right to give him a test."

Papers signed on Penrod deal

DALLAS (AP) — An agreement worth nearly $780 million in the two-year legal battle over Penrod Drilling Co. between the Hunt brothers and creditor banks has moved the wealthy Dallas brothers a step closer to emerging from bankruptcy, a company spokesman says.

The agreement, signed Wednesday, calls for the Hunts, Nelson Bunker, William Herbert and Lamar, to convey numerous tracts of real estate to the banks in consideration for forgiveness of $200 million in existing debt.

In addition, a newly restructured loan to Penrod in the amount of $525 million will be secured by notes and Penrod assets, and the restructured company will make a cash payment of $53.8 million.

"The agreement ends months of sometimes-heated negotiations over the future of Penrod," according to a statement by Hunt Energy.

The trust estates of the Hunt brothers filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in August, 1986, for the trust partnership that owns Penrod Drilling. Penrod, one of the world's largest offshore drilling companies, was not under bankruptcy court protection.

Penrod and the Hunts' Placid Oil Co., a sister company to Penrod, sued 23 of their lenders for fraud and misrepresentation in 1986 after defaulting on about $1.5 billion in bank loans.

End fight to repeal Homestead Act

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Bankers Association has decided to give up an attempt to repeal a constitutional provision that makes Texas the only state severely limiting the use of second mortgages.

Bob Harris, executive director of the association, said Wednesday that the group still favors repeal of the Homestead Act, but "I think it's safe to say that we sense that the bill probably doesn't have a great chance of success in the 1989 (legislative) session."

Consumer advocates and legislators see the move by one of Texas' most powerful lobbying groups as a sign that the political climate for repeal has soured, particularly in recent months as the state reeled from numerous financial failures and public disclosures about the lending practices of some banks during the oil boom.

Repeal of the act until recently was expected to be a major issue and a key battleground in the upcoming legislative session.

Former chairman gets six months

DALLAS (AP) — Former Texas Parks and Wildlife Chairman Edwin L. Cox Jr. has been sentenced for bank fraud to six months in federal prison and 1,000 hours of community service and must pay a $250,000 fine.

During the sentencing hearing Wednesday, the former bank director said: "I don't make any excuses for what I did. I know that what I did was wrong. I'm ashamed of violating the principles of integrity, which I have always held dear. I can promise you that no one will ever be ashamed of my actions again."

"It seems to me, Mr. Cox, that you deserve much credit for your fortitude... and for publicly acknowledging your wrongdoing," said U.S. District Judge A. Joe Fish, who sentenced Cox.

Cox must also serve four and half years probation after the prison term and submit a financial statement to a probation officer each year, court officials said.

In June, Cox pleaded guilty to a federal bank fraud charge in connection with $80 million in loans he received from his bank several years ago.

Pilot cites failure of engine

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Friends of Capt. Larry Davis, the pilot of Delta Flight 1141 that crashed, said Davis told them the plane suffered an engine failure, a newspaper reported in a copyright story.

The federal investigation into the cause of the crash has focused on the engines and the position of the wing flaps at takeoff.

The wing flaps were found by investigators in the wrong position for takeoff, but they are uncertain whether the flaps were changed during takeoff.

A recording of cockpit conversation shows that crew members mentioned engine failure.

M.J. Hamilton said that when he visited Davis at Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas on Saturday night, the pilot said he remembered the crew ran through the checklist and that the wing flaps were properly set, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported.

Hamilton quoted the pilot as saying: "I had an engine failure. I put the throttle forward and it wouldn't fly."

Davis is recuperating from back and head injuries he suffered in the Aug. 31 crash at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport. Thirteen of the 108 people aboard died in the crash.

Hamilton and Davis are members of Aldersgate Church, a non-denominational congregation in Greenville, a town about 40 miles northeast of Dallas.

Two other friends of Davis, Brenda Speight and Raiford Stainback, said Davis told them the same things during separate bedside visits Saturday.

Investigators have yet to interview Davis.

Speight, also an Aldersgate member, said Davis described how "it seemed like it would never stop" once the jet's tail first crashed down.

Stainback, who serves with Davis on the Greenville Christian School board, said Davis told him more than once "the plane just wouldn't fly" and that the flaps were properly set.

Hamilton, who has known Davis and his children for five years, said Davis, 48, was quite coherent and apparently had read newspaper stories and seen television accounts of the crash investigation.

"He was talking about what they said about the flaps being up. He just said it was hard to believe," Hamilton said.

"He took that hard. He said they went through the checklist and the flaps were on the checklist '15-15,'" the proper setting for the flaps on takeoff.

"He said he had engine failure on one engine and he put the throttle forward," Hamilton said. "It just would not fly. It was mushy."

Hamilton said he and his wife, Nancy Kate, were among about half a dozen couples who dropped by the pilot's hospital room Saturday night.

The pilot "looked pretty good" but began to tire by the end of the conversation, which lasted about five minutes, Hamilton said.

"He's been grieving about the deaths of the passengers. Knowing the Christian fellow that he is, he is going to grieve, thinking about what happened," Hamilton said.

Stainback, 52, said that Davis brought up the subject of the crash when Stainback visited him Saturday. "He said, 'Raiford, it just wouldn't fly.' He said it about three times. The plane just wouldn't fly," Stainback said.

Davis also told him the flaps were set for takeoff, Stainback said.

He then asked if there had been a hydraulic problem, and Davis replied that none had showed up.

Stainback said that during his five-minute conversation, Davis told him he had instructed his family to wake him up whenever the television news came on because he wanted to hear what was being said about the crash.

The Rev. Ralph Anderson, pastor of Aldersgate Church, said that Davis initially had trouble remembering anything about the takeoff attempt but that he has been recovering his memory.

"He has told me some things," Anderson said. "Those are the kinds of things Delta doesn't want out."

"Those kinds of details about the flight are to be kept between them and the investigators," Anderson said Davis' family told him.

Davis underwent surgery Tuesday to repair compound fractures in his cheekbone, said Delta spokeswoman Jackie Pate.

She said that the surgery required his jaw to be wired shut temporarily but that he can still talk. Doctors also fitted Davis with a back brace that they hope will mend a broken vertebra so that he won't require back surgery.

Anderson, who has been talking with the family almost daily, said Davis is not able to stand and has been taking medicine to relieve pain, but the family is hopeful and doing well.

"It was certainly hard at first," Anderson said. "There has been a lot of support... Some of the passengers from the flight went over to see him. That's helped him. That's encouraged him. He felt very responsible for those who died."

Delta spokeswoman Pate said Davis has received condolence calls from top Delta officials but that they will wait to talk to Davis about the crash after he is interviewed by investigators for the National Transportation Safety Board.

Safety board officials have talked to the other two flight crew members. Flight engineer Steve Judd told investigators he remembered the flaps being set properly and hearing a conversation in the cockpit about engine failure. First officer Wilson Kirkland told investigators he didn't remember anything from the time the plane pushed back from the gate.

Woman's car seized because friend bought pipes in Mexico

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston-area woman thinks the U.S. Custom Service carried the "Zero Tolerance" program a bit too far when they seized her automobile at the border because a friend had purchased two 50-cent pipes on a shopping trip into Mexico.

"It's appalling," Teresa Miller, 27, a clerical worker at a suburban Pasadena law office, said Wednesday. "I'm an American citizen, and I should have rights. First off, they (the pipes) were not even mine."

Miller's 1985 Nissan Sentra was seized Sunday afternoon at the U.S. port of entry at Progreso after Miller and her friend, Valerie Cantrell, returned from Nuevo Progreso, Mexico.

Progreso is between Brownsville and McAllen.

Ms. Cantrell, 23, who also does clerical work at the law office, said the onyx pipes were among "several knickknacks" that she purchased during the one-day trip to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Ms. Cantrell emphasized that neither she nor Ms. Miller use drugs and she planned to give the pipes to a girlfriend, who collects pipes "along with her egg collection and a lot of other junk."

A U.S. Customs Service spokesman in Houston confirmed that no drugs were found on the women or in the car, but said the car was seized because of the discovery of paraphernalia.

The seizure stems from the administration's Zero Tolerance policy that is designed to curtail the demand for drugs, spokesman Charles Conroy said.

Conroy said the seizure was based on federal laws that prohibit the importation of paraphernalia and aiding unlawful importation.

"I told them they couldn't do it (seize the car)," Miller told the Houston Chronicle. "I said, 'I have my legal rights.' They (a Customs officer) told me, no, I didn't, I had no rights at that time."

One officer asked the women if they had any onyx products before officers saw the pipes, Ms. Cantrell said. She said she offered to give the pipes to them.

"The whole point is that we did not have any drugs," Ms. Cantrell said. "We had no pot or nothing. I do not smoke and neither does my friend, so they had no reason."

Border Patrol testing vehicle for use in war on smugglers

PORT ISABEL, Texas (AP) — When drug smugglers take to back roads to cross into the country from Mexico in the future, U.S. Border Patrol officials hope the rough terrain won't stop them from following.

Border Patrol agents are testing a rugged military vehicle, nicknamed "The Hummer," for possible use in the battle against smugglers, officials said Wednesday.

"We're going to have something we can use to combat the drug smugglers and the alien smugglers," said Larry Jackson, assistant chief for the Border Patrol's McAllen Sector. "If they go into rough terrain, we'll be able to follow them there."

He said the "High-Mobility Multi-Purpose Wheeled Vehicle" could be what agents need as they expand their surveillance of the Gulf Coast from the Rio Grande to Corpus Christi.

Border Patrol agents know of frequent alien and drug smuggling along the coast, particularly in the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, but have not had the equipment or personnel to fight the illegal activity along the coastal barrier islands, he said.

"If it proves effective, it could be considered another weapon in the war on drugs here in the Valley," Jackson said.

Jackson said the Border Patrol has purchased four of the vehicles from the U.S. Army, and has been testing it on different types of terrain.

The 5,600-pound Hummer produced by AM General and costing $33,000 features a low center of gravity, making it less likely to overturn than some other all-terrain vehicles.

It also has four-wheel suspension and is 7-feet, 1-inch wide.

The Hummer enables the driver to raise or lower tire inflation pressure at the flip of a switch.

Of particular value to the Border Patrol is the Hummer's ability to travel over extremely

Pilot in fatal airplane crash might have been drinking

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Passengers and possibly the pilot of a small plane that crashed east of El Paso last weekend might have been drinking, an investigator said.

The pilot, his three brothers and an 8-year-old boy died in the crash Saturday near West Texas Regional Airport, where the plane had taken off.

Open beer cans were found among the Cessna 170A's wreckage, and people questioned during the investigation said the rugged terrain at a high speed, while providing a smooth ride, Jackson said.

The Border Patrol also will open a new station at Port Isabel within the next three months, said Ernie Castillo, patrol agent in charge of the new station that eventually will have 20 agents.

Castillo said it will complement the Border Patrol station that recently opened at Corpus Christi.

"We're also going to get boats and work closely with the Coast Guard to make our presence felt," he added.

Weight training and headaches

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm male, 24, and very active playing golf and racquetball, plus lifting weights. About four months ago I started experiencing pressure sensations in the back of my head. These progressed to severe headaches. I stopped sports and went to a neurologist, who said I had no problems he could find. I then began the weights again and the problem came back.

Neither an orthopedist nor another neurologist could establish a cause. I believe I have damaged muscles in my neck. How do I find out if I am right?

DEAR READER: You are probably experiencing acute and chronic neck-muscle strain as a result of your weight training. This is a common consequence of working with heavy weights. If you choose to continue weightlifting, I suggest that you train with lighter weights, using repetitions, rather than mass, to get your exercise. Another option: Check with a sports-medicine clinic to obtain advice from doctors specializing in problems related to athletic endeavors.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 55 and had a complete hysterectomy. Before surgery, my husband was big on sex. Now he tells me there's no feeling and he loses his erection. He blames it on my surgery and wants me to talk to my doctor. What do you think?

DEAR READER: I think you both should talk to your doctor. As a general rule, hysterectomy does not physically affect a partner's sexual satisfaction. Often, as a woman ages — especially if she has had children — the vagina becomes lax and inelastic. This can produce less friction and, hence, less enjoyment for the male. Your gynecologist should be able to help you with this problem. If present, it can be corrected by a simple operation called vaginoplasty.

Remember that you have many ways available to stimulate your husband. Men sometimes experience impotence with partners who are too "familiar"; sex may become unexciting and predictable. With your doctor's help, you and your husband may be able to put a little "spice" back into your love life. This could reawaken his sexual desire and improve his performance. Other resources include sexual counseling and the many books, written on the subject.

To help you with your research, I'm sending you a copy of my new Health Report, "Where to Find Sex Information." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: In a recent column, you had an inquiry regarding a support group for adrenoleukodystrophy. The United Leukodystrophy Foundation provides such services (2304 Highland Dr., Sycamore, IL 60178). Please inform your readers.

DEAR READER: Thank you for writing. I appreciate receiving the name of this foundation.

Dukakis campaign names co-chairmen for state

AUSTIN (AP) — The presidential race shouldn't be a flag-waving contest about patriotism, new state co-chairs of the Dukakis presidential campaign said.

"This campaign must not turn on photo opportunities and non-issues about who can wave more red, white and blue flags and drop more balloons than anybody else," said former U.S. Rep. Barbara Jordan, one of 12 co-chairs announced at a Wednesday news conference. "This campaign cannot turn on who is the biggest or highest or strongest patriot."

Democrats have criticized Republicans for making an issue of patriotism, after Dukakis as Massachusetts governor vetoed a bill on constitutional grounds that would have required the Pledge of Allegiance in schools.

Lyndon Olson Jr., former chairman of the State Board of Insurance, described himself as a "moderate-conservative" Democrat. He said the patriotism of Michael Dukakis and his running mate, U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, "should not be questioned."

"Their life-long public service and dedication to the public good should be evidence enough of their patriotism," Olson said. "The flag waves just as grand for Democrats as it does for Republicans."

Neighbors are having nightmares

AUSTIN (AP) — Young neighbors of slain Trisha Ann Worley are hurting more than Austin school officials thought they would, officials say.

Officials say the 7-year-old girl's neighbors have become indirect victims of the crime and are experiencing nightmares, anxiety and anguish.

"The kids are hurting," Mathews principal Elma Berones said. "They're in pain. Some are confused. Some are afraid. Some feel like their sense of trust and their sense of community have been destroyed. I think the ramifications are greater than what we expected."

A team of psychologists and social workers were at Mathews Elementary School when school started last week and remained on call to counsel the 26 students who live in the apartment complex where Trisha lived.

The use of counselors was orchestrated by the Office of Student Support Services, a new crisis-response team of the Austin Independent School District.

Trisha disappeared Aug. 25 from the parking lot of the Heathercrest apartments. Her body was found three days later in Town Lake.

Thomas Luther Gilliam, a resident of the complex who frequently played with children there, was charged with murder. Trisha was strangled and her body was sexually assaulted.

The girl, who went to Dawson Elementary School last year and who was to attend Mathews this year, was buried last Wednesday, the day before she was to enter the second grade.

Dr. Betty Phillips, director of the Office of Student Support Services, said the 26 children from the complex who go to school at Mathews are "upset about the death of their friend, upset about the sex abuse and upset that a neighbor and a trusted person is the one accused of the crime."
