Friday at fair features Mule Show

Friday will mark the second day of the 23rd annual Scurry County Fair, and the featured attraction Friday night will be the return of the Mule Show in the ag annex.

The show will include a halter and western pleasure competition as well as a barrel, flag and "bloomer" race. Also planned is a "parade of jacks" which will see the animals compete based on conformation and breeding characteristics.

Friday will also see the opening of the display for the St. Mary of the Plains "Flight for Life" helicopter (see related story).

It will be at the fair grounds from noon until 5 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday. The flight crew will make presentations every half hour.

Another new attraction offered Friday will be the Texas Heritage Players gunfighters, who will perform an authentic wild west shootout in the coliseum breezeway area at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Also Friday, there will be a fashion show of fair entries at 5 p.m. at the coliseum stage area.

Friday night will feature the Critter Parade with county youngsters encouraged to enter their pet. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the ag annex.

Other attractions for the youngsters will be the Kiddie Barnyard, the "Kid Wash" and the children's treasure hunt.

Also appearing at the fair both Friday and Saturday will be Flower the Clown, who will entertain with three shows daily. On Friday, these will be at 10 a.m. and at 1 and 7 p.m.

Parade will begin homecoming slate

The Snyder downtown square was decorated with black and gold banners Thursday morning in anticipation of the homecoming parade and pep rally set to begin at 6 this evening.

Float entries, antique cars and kids on decorated bikes are expected.

The culmination of the parade will be a pep rally at the downtown square, with the SHS cheerleaders and the Black and Gold Marching Band providing the spirit.

These events will be followed at 9 p.m. Thursday with a bonfire at the Farmers Co-Op Gin on the Roby Highway.

The parade will form up in the Kmart parking lot, then head down College Ave. to the downtown square. Last minute entries are invited.

Snyder elementary youngsters have been encouraged to decorate their bikes and ride in the parade. The top 5 best decorated bikes will receive gift certificates from McDonald's.

For float entries, prize money is offered to include $100 for first place, $75 for second and $50 for third.

Floats are expected to be entered by the SHS choir, student council, FFA, All Sports Booster Club and volleyball team. The SHS golf team will also be riding golf carts in the parade.

Six SHS coeds are nominated for this year's homecoming queen, and each candidate will also be featured in the parade. Queen candidates include Rhonda Echols, Michele Anderson, Christy Quintela, Jacy LaRoux, Amber Adams and Christy Holmes.

service in the nation.

There are five crews, each consisting of a pilot, registered nurse and paramedic, with three working eight-hour shifts daily and two on stand-by. They work out of Lubbock International Airport so that the helicopter may be kept full of fuel and its take-offs protected.

Since the service began, Griffin said, more than 600 patients have been transported.

In major cities around the country, he said, an air medical evacuation service is needed to circumvent crowded streets, with most flights going about 15 miles, but in West Texas, of

HHS slates homecoming

Homecoming activities for the Hermleigh Cardinals will kick off this Thursday night with a bonfire after the junior high school game.

A football hero and sweetheart will be crowned during halftime of the homecoming tilt Friday between the Cardinals and Paint Rock. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

A dance will follow the game. Admission is $2 per person.

Hero nominees include Bobby Brown, Daniel Ramey and Joe Mireles, all seniors, and Andrew Sanchez, sophomore.

Sweetheart nominees include seniors Beverly Sandetur and LaRae Farr, Crystal Church, junior, and Rebecca Ramey, freshman.

'Air-vac' helicopter is new fair display

The St. Mary of the Plains "Flight for Life" helicopter, on display Friday and Saturday at the Scurry County Fair, is believed to have the longest average flights of any such "air-vac" helicopter in the United States.

The French-made Aero Spatiale Dauphine II twin-engine jet turbine craft averages going 75 miles one way to pick up patients, running 185 mph and making the 78-mile trip from Snyder to Lubbock in 22 to 26 minutes, depending on the wind.

It will be at the fair grounds from noon to 5 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, with a crew making presentations every half hour.

Dan Griffin, vice president for business development at St. Mary in Lubbock, said its longest trips since the service was inaugurated in January 1987 have been to Carlsbad and Ruidoso, N.M., Hugo, Okla., Abilene and Amarillo.

Rotan, Guthrie and Haskell are on the outer edge of the territory commonly covered by the service, and Snyder "is the second or third" most-traveled route, behind No. 1 Hobbs, N.M., Griffin said.

He said the St. Mary's service has the longest average flights "that we know of" of any such

BCD seeks expanded membership in AJRA

The Board of County Development Wednesday met with representatives of the city and county governments and the Chamber of Commerce Economic Development Committee to discuss expanding the chamber's AJRA Committee.

BCD Chairman Jack Denman said AJRA Committee Chairman Ralph Miller is seeking an expansion of his group so that more of a cross-section of the community will be represented.

"Ralph says that as long as we want the rodeo, we'll keep it, but if we want it, we have to work for it," Denman said.

The chairman explained that the AJRA Committee has enough help to stage the rodeo but that more help is needed in auxiliary areas, especially in view of the continuing expansion of the mid-August event and its nationwide television coverage.

County Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr., Mayor Troy Williamson and Economic Development Committee Chairman Roy McQueen all indicated a willingness to appoint members from the commissioners court, city council and economic development committee to serve on the AJRA Committee.

Denman reported in the noon meeting at Snyder Country Club on his recent participation in the Texas Industrial Development Conference in College Station, saying there is an apparent good chance for the statewide meeting

The feller on Deep Creek says, "There's still hope—there really is if you can look in a mirror and grin at what you see."

Putting on a big event like the Scurry County Fair takes an immense amount of community cooperation—even between Democrats and Republicans.

Being an election year, both organizations have booths. The booth operated by the Scurry County Republican Party is taking advantage of a recent national Democratic flap over the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mary Dulaney, long active in Republican circles, contacted the Snyder schools about borrowing a large display of the Pledge to be used in the booth.

The school had such an item and it was being used on a bulletin board in one of the classrooms. A further check, however, revealed it would be just fine for it to be used in the booth this week, and Mary was invited to come by and pick it up.

The teacher in whose room the Pledge was on display was Betsy Griffin, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and long-time supporter of Texas Lloyd Bentsen.

As Betsy took down the display and handed it to Mrs. Dulaney, the teacher foiled her hands and looked upward and she was heard to mutter, "Forgive me, Lloyd Bentsen."

Now that is cooperation!

We took a cue from a friend on how to handle those political pollsters who call during the evening and interrupt the snooze in the easy chair.

"Do you mind telling us who you intended to vote for?"

"Don't know."

"Well, do you know who the candidates are?"

"Sure do."

"Do you know about their differences?"

"Absolutely."

"Well then, how can you still be undecided?"

"That's easy," we explained. "We always wait to see which candidate puts his ad in the newspaper."

Ask Us

Q. — Was Snyder ISD in any way affected by the bankrupt status of the Educators Health Group Trust?

A. — No, although the district was affiliated with this group for employee health insurance two years ago. Business office personnel say no outstanding claims are pending from that period. Snyder has since gone to a partially self-insured health insurance plan.

In Brief

Jail crowding

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis County Sheriff Doyne Bailey says crowded conditions in the county's jails are due in large measure to a full-to-capacity state prison system.

Bailey, a Democrat, testified at a federal court hearing that the county's efforts for jail reform are being offset by a backlog of felons awaiting transfer to the overcrowded state prison system.

Delta crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigators of last month's Delta Air Lines crash in Texas are trying to determine whether several "click" sounds on the jet's cockpit voice recorder are indications the flight crew set the flaps before takeoff.

The Boeing 727 crashed seconds after taking off from the Dallas-Fort Worth airport Aug. 31. Fourteen of the 108 people aboard died as a result of the crash. The investigation has focused on whether a false flap setting may have kept the plane from gaining altitude.

More violence

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — More soldiers turned on their commanders and civilian mobs slaughtered the henchmen of three decades of Haitian dictators in the spreading chaos of a popular soldiers' revolt.

In an isolated case of loyalty to a commander, troops in the northern port city of St. Marc killed a 12-year-old boy Wednesday when they fired into a mob about to attack the home of a sergeant with a reputation for brutality, witnesses said.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: You agreed with a reader who said that a call-waiting signal was a "rude interruption." Picture this: A lonely wife, passing time on the phone with her mother, sister or friend, when her serviceman (or traveling) husband calls home. If he's in the service, he has probably stood in line for two hours to get his turn at the phone. But wait! Abby says it's "rude" to have her call interrupted — so let him get a busy signal.

How about the parents of a runaway finding comfort in a phone call from a dear friend; the child, in a moment of loneliness, decides to call home. The line is busy! The child has a change of heart and decides not to call after all.

In today's busy, hectic world, with so many two-job households, our time at home is limited, and we should all have the option of knowing who wants or needs to talk to us.

Call waiting allows us to know that someone is trying to reach us. If you happen to be on a call that is of vital importance and do not wish to be notified if someone else is trying to reach you, call waiting can be turned off during your conversation.

Please rethink your opinion, Abby.

PENNY RITTER, OLYMPIA, WASH.

DEAR PENNY: I plead ignorance. I was not aware that the call-waiting signal could be temporarily deactivated by the one who has the service. Thank you. Your letter was one of several hundred to promptly get that message to me.

DEAR ABBY: I am seven and a half months pregnant with my first child, and I cannot help thinking about the many horror stories I have been told since I became pregnant. Abby, even though I have withstood a tremendous amount of physical trauma and have been in and out of the hospital a good deal of my life, childbirth is still a bit unnerving. Just yesterday, a young woman in a store began to chat with me, and went on to tell me of the "horrible experience" she had with her first.

I realize that when a pregnant woman enters a room, all mothers must feel some sort of bond with her and feel it's necessary to "share" — with only good intentions, of course. But I wish these women would think about what they are saying, and the effect it could have on someone who has never before gone through this experience. Let her doctor tell her the risks and complications that could arise. Just share with her the happiness and joy she is trying to feel. And if you must share something, please let it be courage, strength and hope.

Thank you, Abby, for letting me say this. I just had to tell somebody!

EXPECTING IN SILVERDALE, WASH.

DEAR EXPECTING: Glad to lend an ear. That's what I'm here for. Congratulations, and all good wishes for a healthy baby.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating an older man for almost two years now. (He's 30 years older than me and has been divorced for three years.) He has a daughter who still thinks her parents will get back together again. (Not a chance.) He hasn't told her that he is dating me. He says he doesn't want to "hurt" her. Sometimes I wonder if he is ashamed of me.

We are very much in love, but have no definite plans to marry. I feel insecure about our future. What should I do?

INSECURE

DEAR INSECURE: You are insecure with good reason. Don't build your future around this man. Before you invest any more time in this relationship, ask him what his intentions are and give him a deadline.

Four men finally get out of hurricane-ravaged Cancun

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Four Woodville men never before had stolen anything, but they didn't think twice about breaking into a restaurant after Hurricane Gilbert battered the resort town of Cancun, Mexico.

This was not the vacation they hoped for — no food or water for two days and no idea how much longer that situation would last.

They knew military police were patrolling the town with semi-automatic rifles and had been ordered to shoot looters, but those warnings weren't as loud as their stomachs growling, the men said this week after returning home.

"It was just the thought of having food," Troy Dinger, 23, said of the ham, cheese and fruit they took. "We didn't know how much longer we'd have to go without it."

The food and water shortage was bad, but the lack of information was the most frustrating part of their ordeal, said his brother Todd, 26.

"Before the hurricane got there, they were saying it's just a little storm that would blow over," he said.

Their seven-day vacation turned into a nightmare. Todd and friend Carl Pope, 26, watched satellite dishes, trees, shingles and tin scraps fly through the air from the door of their hotel. Troy Dinger and Derrick Rains, 26, slept through the worst of it.

The water-filled bathtub was the only drinking water they had for the next two days.

After they were ordered out of the hotel, "We were no longer tourists. We were refugees. No one would tell us anything," Todd said.

A cab driver charged $15 to take them to another hotel one-eighth of a mile away, Rains said, and the hotel manager told them to take only a toothbrush.

"He said we would be allowed to come back the next day," Rains said. When they finally returned, their suitcases had been rifled for valuables. A camera, shoes and watch were missing. Hotel officials dismissed the problem, saying the hurricane could have blown them from the room anyway.

"A hurricane didn't unzip our suitcases, and that's how we found them," Todd said.

Once they got to the airport, they were relieved they hadn't arrived earlier. With 5,000 people crammed into the tiny terminal, it was like a sauna and smelled bad. Some people were so sick they vomited quietly in corners or out in the open. Babies cried as constantly as the drone of flies inside and people who spent the night there gave reports of cockroaches the size of a toddler's foot. It took two days for some to get out.

"We would have gone anywhere just to get out," Rains said.

Problems with pests dog park workers

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — Prairie dogs are popping up all over a city park and scaring residents who fear bites and disease from the rodents.

Prairie dog burrows have destroyed several of Sherwood Park's soccer fields since last summer, and the damage continues to escalate, said Parks and Recreation Superintendent Richard Galle.

"They are popping up into our ball fields," said Galle. "When they do that, we try to run them off."

The problem began in 1959 when a now-forgotten Rotary Club member persuaded parks officials to cultivate a prairie dog village at the park in north Odessa. Now, park visitors are stumbling into burrows dug by about 400 of the rodents.

"I think that at one time, people thought they were cute and so they brought them in," Parks Director Joe Carithers told the Odessa American on Tuesday. "But it was a mistake from the very beginning. Now, it's a real liability issue."

A dog-catcher has failed in several attempts to flush out the prairie dogs by filling their burrows with water. The elusive rodents have survived the floods.

Carithers said he was preparing a report for City Manager Bill Brown that outlines the problem and describes alternatives.

The Texas Department of Health has recommended a reduction program for the prairie dogs, said Guy Moore, a control specialist in the agency's El Paso office.

Prairie dogs can be killed by applying a fumigant called phostoxin and sealing off the burrows, where the chemical turns into gas and kills the animals, explained John Dorsett, district supervisor of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Animal Damage Control division.

But Don Hallmark, president of the Odessa chapter of the West Texas Humane Society, said his organization opposes the chemical warfare.

"What we've tried to tell (the city) is the only logical thing to do is trap the animals and do something with them," he said.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
GENERAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 8, 1988

PROPOSITION NO. 1
ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that when the federal government reimburses the state for expenditures of state funds dedicated to acquiring rights-of-way and for constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways, such federal funds must also be used for those purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

PROPOSITION NO. 2
ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury. The fund would consist of one half of the unencumbered balance of general revenues at the end of a biennium and three fourths of the difference between the net oil and gas production taxes received in a fiscal year and the net oil and gas production taxes received in the 1987 fiscal year. During any fiscal biennium, the amount in the economic stabilization fund could not exceed 10% of the total deposited in general revenue in the preceding biennium.

The state comptroller and the state treasurer could decide to transfer monies from the fund into the general revenue fund to alleviate a temporary cash shortage in general revenue. The legislature could make appropriations from the fund on approval by a three fifths vote of each house to make up the difference between anticipated general revenue and appropriations. On approval of two thirds of the members of each house of the legislature, the legislature could appropriate monies from the fund for any purpose.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen shortfalls in revenue."

PROPOSITION NO. 3
ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that establishes the Texas growth fund. All investments of the Texas growth fund must be directly related to furthering economic growth and employment opportunities in Texas. At least 50 percent of the fund must be invested in equity and/or debt security for the initial construction, expansion, or modernization of business or industrial facilities in Texas. Not more than ten percent of the fund may be invested in venture capital investments. Of the funds available for venture capital investments, not more than 25 percent may be invested unilaterally, and the remaining investments must be matched at least equally by funds from other sources. The trustees may set the investment policy of the fund, enter into investment contracts, and take any action necessary for the creation, administration, and protection of the fund. The amendment authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Texas System and the State Board of Education, in managing the permanent university fund and the permanent school fund, to acquire, exchange, sell, supervise, manage, or retain any kind of investment, including investments in the Texas growth fund. The fund will be phased out after the tenth anniversary of its creation, but the Legislature may create a second growth fund by a two thirds vote of each house.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."

Beta Sigma Phi views fabric art

Beta Sigma Phi members opened the club year with a meeting at the home of Loretta Dodson.

Bette League presented the program, "Wearable Art," showing her extensive designs in fabric painting. She told about the history of fabric painting and various techniques used by famous teachers in the art.

League showed T-shirts, dresses, purses, and lingerie done in themes such as farm life, southwestern, whimsical animals, and jungle scenes. Snyder Tigers were also included in the designs.

League, a realtor with Elizabeth Potts Realty, began painting as a hobby, but now participates in commercial arts and crafts shows. She uses acrylic paints on fabrics in cotton blends.

President Dena Ellis conducted the business session. Jacalyn Lowrance read the minutes and Jeanne Johnson gave the treasurer's report. Ellis announced that the chapter had earned a three-star rating from the international organization based on last year's work program and that chapter members would again participate in the Exemplar scholarship fund.

Others giving reports were Jackie Buckland, yearbook; Carolyn House, program; Anne Foster, social; and Mona Bryan, service. Lowrance, chairman of the ways and means committee, presented the calendar of coming events. Ellis led the closing ritual.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Dodson and Vicky Bell. The hostess gift, a League shirt, was presented to Lisa Rollins.

An outdoor hamburger cookout was held Aug. 27 in the home of Jackie and Buck Buckland. The social committee, Wanda Early, Anne Foster, Lisa Rollins, Loretta Dodson, Mickey Baird, and Barbara Bills hosted the event with members' husbands invited as guests.

Wingwalking woman strolls on the windy side of life

GRANTS PASS, Ore. (AP) — Lori Ross doesn't fear heights. She respects heights.

That's a useful quality in her profession: walking on the top wing of a biplane, hundreds of feet above the ground. No parachute, no straps (at least when the plane is upright) and no gimmicks allowed.

A parachute wouldn't do any good at only 300 feet, and although people can't believe she is not mechanically affixed to the plane, the only thing keeping her on the wing is her grip on a few wires.

There's a post on the top wing, but the only time Ross has to strap herself to it is when the plane performs acrobatics. And this is only because she might black out under pressures reaching five G's and speeds that reach 200 miles an hour.

A stunt woman, Ross was one of the attractions at this year's National Airshow at Medford, Ore.

The job has its benefits, says

Ross, like the view. Her favorite show place is the Arizona desert with the wide-open vistas of colorful desert.

"It's not terrifying to me," said Ross about her job. "It's so unique, there's nothing but you and the earth."

The hard part is dealing with the wind, which "can tear your arm off," and which dries her out so much she suffers from dehydration upon landing.

"The wind beats you up, up there," Ross said matter-of-factly.

Turbulence makes for some heart-in-throat moments, but Ross can't recall one when she was in real trouble.

The trickiest part of her act involved climbing from the lower wing of the biplane to the top wing, a process that places her between the pilot and the propeller.

One reason she's good at what she does is her height. Standing barely 5-feet tall, her shortness cuts down the air drag.

3-3 or whenever the king of hearts falls doubleton. In addition, if West shows out on the first ruff of hearts, you can take a ruffing finesse against the known protected king in the East hand. Those chances all add up to more than 50 percent — superior to the play actually taken.

A good-night's sleep

ATLANTA (AP) — Most people have trouble sleeping at one time or another, but people with arthritis are especially prone to sleeping problems, says the Arthritis Foundation.

The chronic pain, stiffness, anxiety and depression that many people with arthritis experience can make it difficult to sleep at night. But there are steps people can take to help themselves relax and get a good night's rest.

These steps include engaging in some type of regular exercise; avoiding large meals, alcohol and caffeine in the evening, taking arthritis medication at bedtime, and practicing relaxation techniques.

The foundation also says people should get to know their bodies' natural sleep rhythms and realize they need less sleep as they age.

Dallas defense shows signs of returning to 'Doomsday'

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Lost in the furor over "phantom" safeties and quarterback Steve Pelluer goofs, is the play of Dallas' defense which has closely resembled the 'Cowboys' old "Doomsday" outfit of the 1970s.

Dallas is seventh in the NFC in total defense and tied for sixth in points allowed.

"I'm delighted with the way we are playing defense," said Dallas coach Tom Landry. "We still lack scoring punch on offense but our defense is hustling and doing the job."

With injuries at linebacker, the Cowboys picked Garry Cobb off the waiver wire when the Philadelphia Eagles released him and he has begun establishing himself as one of the team leaders.

"Cobb is playing very well," Landry said. "He was at the experience level we wanted. He has already made some big plays.

"I'm delighted by his progress." Ironically, Cobb was with the Cowboys in training camp nine years ago but was cut and picked up by the Eagles.

"Cobb just knows how to play the game," Landry said. "He is picking up the defense very fast."

Cobb beat out Garth Jax for the right outside linebacker's job.

"You just can't beat experience and Cobb has it," Landry said. "He's been a real find for us."

Cobb said "It's been fun watching this defense come together. It should keep getting better and better."

An increase in pressure from the defensive front has given the Cowboys nine quarterback sacks for 66 yards in losses.

"We have one of the best teams we've ever had just for the pure fact of playing hard," Landry said.

Landry has moved Randy

White to defensive end on some pass rush situations.

"Randy is starting to become more active," Landry said. "He had a good game against the Giants."

On pass defense, Robert Williams has sparkled as a cornerback replacement for Ron Francis, who came back this week after sitting out almost two months with a separated shoulder.

"I've been well pleased with Williams," Landry said. "He has great closing speed on long routes. He isn't beaten very often."

Before the season started, it was theorized the Dallas offense would have to carry the defense until it overcame injuries at linebacker and to Francis.

"Right now, our defense is carrying our offense," Landry said. "The defense is moving forward but the offense lacks scoring punch."

For Friday's game with Littlefield...

Fightin' Tigers working on offense

Snyder's Fightin' Tigers have spent some long hours the past week and a half, tuning the offensive game in hopes that it will pay off when they host Littlefield for homecoming Friday night.

Kickoff is 8 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

"We've been concentrating a lot on offense, trying to improve," said Coach David Baugh, whose Tigers were idle last weekend. "We haven't been having a lot of contact. We're trying to get people well."

Thirty-three Tigers worked out Tuesday - the most since the first day of two-a-day workouts.

"The open date came at a good time for us. We were able to get over some nagging injuries," noted the coach.

Snyder will go into Friday's ballgame with a re-adjusted front line, though the faces will be familiar.

In an effort to boost the offensive front, Baugh has moved 6-3, 235-pound senior Tim Beauchamp from guard to center, Robert Talamantez to strong guard and Jody Iglehart from center to quick tackle.

Beauchamp was a second-team all-district choice at center last season, but was moved to guard this year. With the adjustments, Baugh hopes to find more production from an offense that has averaged only 80 yards a game.

Chris Casas will back up Beauchamp. Carl McClurg, Bill Hodges and Benny Miller see a lot of playing time at guard, noted the coach.

"Several of these guys start on defense, so our substitutes will see a lot of playing time," Baugh added.

Baugh noted that Hodges, who had arthroscopic knee surgery during two-a-days, should be stronger this week. Hodges saw limited action in the Sept. 9 game with Levelland.

"He's working more and more, gradually coming back and getting in better shape," said Baugh of the 6-1, 240-pound junior. "Potentially he can be one of our better linemen, particularly on offense when he learns the plays better. He did a good job against Levelland."

Still out are Billy Nix (foot), Kevin Murdock (elbow) and Michael Riggins (shoulder). Riggins has returned to workouts but will not play Friday. The senior tailback-defensive back should be ready for action when the Tigers open District 4-4A play Sept. 30 against San Angelo Lake View.

Other players who were suffering less disabling injuries, including Tommy Lane and Toby Goodwin, will play Friday night.

"I think we've bounced back some from last week," said Baugh of Snyder's 32-0 loss to Levelland. "We've had good workouts. I know the kids are wanting to play well for homecoming."

Snyder goes into the game at 0-2. Littlefield is 2-1 after a season-opening loss to Guymon, Okla. The Wildcats have since defeated Abernathy 21-0 and Post 33-0.

Ira to challenge Jaybirds Friday

Ira's Bulldogs, who fought off a scrappy young Guthrie team last week, will get even a tougher test Friday night.

The Bulldogs, 2-1, take on the ninth-ranked Jayton Jaybirds in Jayton at 7:30 p.m.

Jayton is also 2-1 after suffering a loss to Trent two weeks ago.

Trent's win over the Jaybirds influenced the pollsters enough to move the Gorillas up to fourth in the state six-man football poll. The Gorillas' bus to Panther Creek for action this Friday night. In other games, Hermleigh hosts Paint Creek, Highland entertains Sands, Loraine welcomes Smyer and Blackwell is at Grady.

All of the games are set for 7:30 p.m. kickoffs.

Blackwell was knocked from the undefeated ranks last Saturday by Sands, 22-7, leaving Trent and Loraine as the only 7-1A teams without a blemish. The district is still a healthy 11-6 against outside competition, however.

Knepper shines, but too late

by The Associated Press
Bob Knepper pitched the best game of his career, but it came too late to help the Houston Astros.

Knepper threw the first one-hitter of his major-league career Wednesday night and Houston beat the Atlanta Braves 1-0. Dale Murphy got the only hit, an infield single to third in the second inning that didn't draw a throw.

"I had a good sinker and a good fastball, and I kept the ball down," Knepper said. "I don't know if this is the best stuff I've ever had. Sometimes I've had good stuff and it seems like I got bombed. But I had good location and they hit the pitches for ground balls when I needed it."

Houston had lost six straight games to fall out of the National League West race. The Astros, tied with San Francisco for third place, trail first-place Los Angeles by 10 1/2 games and are 1 1/2 games behind Cincinnati.

In other games, New York beat Philadelphia 4-3, Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 5-0, San Diego beat Los Angeles 9-3 in the first game of a doubleheader and lost the second game 6-5 in 10 innings, Montreal beat Chicago 8-5 and Cincinnati beat San Francisco 5-1.

Possible AIDS treatment discovered

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

Are drugs causing excess sweating?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I was on Dyzide. Recently my doctor put me on Tenormin and Zantac. Something is giving me the sweats. Sometimes sweat runs off the end of my hair. My doctor has no answer.

DEAR READER: Neither Tenormin nor Zantac are blocking drugs for heart disease and hypertension, nor Zantac, an inhibitor of gastric acid production, has been reported to cause excessive sweating. However, you may be experiencing an idiosyncratic reaction to one or the other medicine.

If your sweating began at the time you changed therapy, your doctor should assume that the medicine caused the symptom, even though this possibility is remote. Ask him or her about changing your treatment. For example, a calcium-channel blocker could be a good substitute for Tenormin; another anti-acid might be more tolerable than Zantac. I think that your doctor ought to experiment so that you will be more comfortable. I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicine." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter, 25, has small hard lumps above her right eye. They are movable, change position and shape. Should she worry?

DEAR READER: Lumps in the eyelid can be caused by cysts, styes, tumors or chalazions. A chalazion is an enlargement of one of the glands in eyelid skin. At onset, it is usually painful and resembles a sty. However, the infection ordinarily subsides, leaving a movable, slow-growing lump on the lid. This can easily be removed by an ophthalmologist. Because the basis of your daughter's eyelid problem is unclear, I think that she should see a doctor for diagnosis. She needn't worry, but medical attention is appropriate.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What happens when a person is strangled or hung?

DEAR READER: In theory, strangulation and hanging are two distinct entities. Strangulation is suffocation caused by pressure on the windpipe that prevents a person from breathing. At the risk of making a macabre distinction, I have read that hanging — when performed properly — instantaneously breaks the neck. Therefore, asphyxiation is not the cause of death. A hangman's knot is specifically designed to exert sudden maximal pressure on the neck bones, thereby causing instant subluxation (dislocation) of the cervical vertebrae. Some experts believe that hanging is a less agonizing way of dying than is strangulation because it is so quick.

NEW YORK (AP) — A modified version of a natural poison kills AIDS-infected cells in the test tube while ignoring normal cells, offering a possible strategy to help treat AIDS, scientists reported today.

The specialized toxin may be able to kill infected cells in people before the cells produce more viruses, said researcher Bernard Moss of the National Institutes of Health.

Moss, Ira Pastan and five other NIH scientists describe experimental results in today's issue of the British journal Nature.

In a second development, scientists at NIH and in Italy say they have produced stable AIDS virus infections in rabbits, a step that may help animal testing of AIDS vaccines and drugs. Until now, such infections have been shown only in chimpanzees, which are costly and in limited supply.

The poison research involved Pseudomonas exotoxin A, which is produced by bacteria called Pseudomonas aeruginosa. It is so strong that a dose about the size of a salt grain can kill a human.

"We're encouraged both by the low amount of drug which is effective" and its ability to ignore uninfected cells in test-tube experiments, said Moss.

To make the poison seek out AIDS-infected cells, researchers essentially replaced the part of the poison molecule that normally guides the toxin to its target. In its place they put part of a protein called CD4, which latches on to a protein found on the surface of AIDS-infected cells.

The redesigned poison was produced by combining genes for the poison and the CD4, and placing them into bacteria called E. coli.

The bacteria, commonly used as a vehicle for gene splicing, then churned out the hybrid poison.

In test-tube experiments with white blood cells, the redesigned poison killed infected cells while leaving uninfected ones unharmed.

Moss said scientists still have to determine whether the poison would reach all infected cells in the body, and whether it would overlook infected cells in which the virus was lying dormant rather than reproducing.

While the toxin would not kill the virus that causes acquired immune deficiency syndrome, previous research suggests it might prevent the virus from infecting new cells, Moss said.

Medical School called the poison research a scientific advance but said any medical usefulness will take a long time to demonstrate.

"There is a long jump from the test tube to the patient," he said.

Also in today's issue of Nature, Italian scientists report AIDS infections lasting a year in six rabbits. And in an interview this week, Thomas Kindt of NIH said about 20 rabbits in his laboratory have remained infected for up to about 10 months.

Oliviero Varnier of the Institute of Microbiology in Genoa, Italy, said in a telephone interview that four rabbits have now stayed infected for 18 months. The other two died a month ago of unknown causes, he said.

Duke University researcher Dani Bolognesi said rabbit infection and drug testing if they can be produced routinely, and if they are found to mimic natural virus infection closely enough.

American makes belly landing at DFW

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — National Transportation Safety Board investigators and American Airlines officials today were studying a damaged Boeing 727 airliner that slid for nearly one mile on one wheel and its belly after a landing gear failed.

The emergency landing came on Runway 18-L at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, the same runway where another Boeing 727 crashed three weeks ago. The crash of Delta Airlines Flight 1141 on Aug. 31 resulted in 14 deaths.

One person was injured in Wednesday's emergency landing, an unidentified passenger injured an ankle when those inside evacuated American's Flight 135 on an emergency slide, said American spokesman John Hotard.

The plane, carrying 81 passengers and seven crew members, was due at 9 p.m. CDT from Oklahoma City on a non-stop flight when the pilot could not get one of two main landing gears in the rear of the plane to descend, Hotard said.

The pilot had called the DFW tower and put them on alert, saying he might have a problem, said Angel Biasatti, a spokeswoman for the DFW Department of Public Safety. The crew then looked down into a well of the plane and saw that one landing gear was not down and called the tower again to send emergency vehicles to the runway apron.

"He (the pilot) decided to retract the one main landing gear that had extended before and just come in to DFW with the nose landing gear extended," said

American spokesman Jim Brown.

The pilot circled the airport to expend fuel, then brought the 727 in about 9:40 p.m. CDT.

"The aircraft belly-landed and the foam was immediately applied," Biasetti said.

The plane slid along the runway, heavily scraping its underside, but did not break up or catch fire.

Runway 18-L sustained no serious damage and airport workers cleared it of debris left by the belly landing, Biasetti said.

County attorney planning to seek ouster of Wade

ORANGE, Texas (AP) — There was a buzz at the Orange County courthouse after county employees learned former Sheriff James Wade had been convicted of nine federal charges including conspiracy to manufacture and sell drugs, but official reaction was scant.

"We are pleased that the incident is over and the department can now continue with normal routine business," said a prepared statement by Wade's replacement, Sheriff Newton Johnson Jr.

Wade was convicted Wednesday by a jury in Sherman and is being held by U.S. Marshals until a pre-sentencing report can be completed. U.S. District Judge Howell Cobb moved the trial to Sherman after ruling that it was impossible for Wade to be tried fairly in Beaumont.

Orange County Attorney Steve Howard also issued a short statement, saying his office will request Wade be removed permanently from office, citing state law that provides for such action when a county officer is convicted of any felony.

Howard said Wade, who was temporarily removed on charges of official misconduct, cannot finally be removed until he is sentenced. Then should Wade appeal, the court would decide whether he could hold office pending the case's outcome.

One unidentified county employee told the Beaumont Enterprise that she felt Wade's conviction tainted anti-drug efforts with Orange County children.

But she expressed relief the trial was finally over, saying, "In January, we can go in with a new sheriff and go forward."

Hardin County Sheriff H.R. "Mike" Holzapfel, who first uncovered evidence that led to the FBI investigation of Wade, said Wade's case was a good example of local and federal lawmen working diligently to determine if another cop had gone bad.

"Some people say this puts all sheriffs in a bad light, but if people will go back and look at how this case started, it should send a message to the people that we (law officers) clean up our own business, too," Holzapfel told the Beaumont newspaper.

Wade faces penalties of up to 115 years in prison and fines of more than $4 million.

Prosecutors claimed Wade recruited drug dealers, who then manufactured speed and distributed marijuana using materials stolen from the sheriff department's evidence lockers.

Lawyer believes Hunts' hold winning hand

DALLAS (AP) — An attorney representing the Hunt brothers said he believes they stand a good chance of winning a new trial or having damages reduced in their legal battle with the Peruvian government's mining company.

Two of the multimillionaire brothers, Nelson Bunker and William Herbert Hunt, filed bankruptcy in Dallas on Wednesday, looking to avoid a required $225 million bond to appeal a federal court loss to Peru's Minpeco SA.

A U.S. District Court judge in New York has allowed a temporary stay against the bond.

"Given that Bunker Hunt was at one time one of the wealthiest men in the world, it's absurd to imagine they've come to this point," Thomas Gorman, trial attorney for Minpeco, told The Dallas Morning News upon hearing of the bankruptcy filings.

A federal jury decided Aug. 20 in New York that the two Hunts and brother Lamar Hunt must pay more than $130 million in damages for conspiring in the late 1970s to corner the world's silver market, and ruining the investments of Minpeco, the Peruvian government's mineral marketing company.

The Hunts maintain that Peru, as the second-largest producer of silver in the world, could only have profited as the silver price rose.

Bob Wolin, who represented the Hunts against Minpeco, said the case may not even need to reach the appeal stage.

"It's premature to discuss that," he said. "We have post-trial motions to consider first."

The Dallas attorney said he has "six or seven separate motions" that could either reduce damages substantially, bring about a judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or force a new trial.

"It's very winnable," Wolin said. "Most appeals start out at best as a 50-50 shot. But a number of our post-trial motions are very strong."

Wolin would not specify what the motions might contain, but said there are "damage questions and evidentiary questions."

According to the Morning News, the personal bankruptcy petitions filed Wednesday listed the assets of the two Hunts as "unknown."

Both the brothers listed the IRS and Minpeco as unsecured creditors with a minuscule $1 disputed claim. They also listed Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. as an unsecured creditor owed $36 million. The New York bank filed suit Friday in Dallas attempting to collect on the four-year-old note.

A spokesman for the Hunts, Tom Whitaker, executive vice president for the Hunt Energy Corp., said the Hunts "elected to seek Chapter 11 protection of the United States Bankruptcy Court in order to insure their ability to continue their businesses while at the same time appealing the silver case."

But brief summaries of their assets detailed 13,649 Byzantine coins and 44 pieces of a Roman and Greek bronze collection for Herbert, while Bunker's petition noted ancient coins and "various art objects and bronze statues."

Bunker also listed oil and gas properties in 40 counties nationally, three gas plants, 14 ranches, 1,390 acres of raw land, a condo in Kauai, Hawaii, five cars and a host of other assets, the Morning News reported.

Herbert listed half-interest in a ski lodge in Vail, Colo., between one-third and one-fourteenth interest in 3,442 acres in Louisiana, a 3-year-old Cadillac and a 15-year-old Mercedes Benz, the newspaper said.

Wednesday's filing was the latest chapter in the Hunts' struggle to hang onto what is left of one of the world's wealthiest legacies.

The Texas brothers inherited a fortune from their late father, Texas oilman H.L. Hunt.

Judge, prosecutor at odds over dismissal

Fred Rodriguez said Wednesday. The family's attorney, Jackson Speed joined Rodriguez at the news conference and blasted the judge.

"She dismissed the case and ignored the cry of these children," Speed said at a joint news conference with Rodriguez Wednesday. "Once again, they have been victimized, not by the priest, but by the judge."

The plea bargain called for the priest to receive 10 years probation, to undergo psychiatric counseling, to never serve as a parish priest and to stay away from children.

The judge defended her ruling, saying Rodriguez and his staff failed because she told them several months ago that the case would probably need to go to trial.

"The public doesn't like plea bargains and I don't like child molesters," Ms. Reed said. "I think what I did is a benefit to the community because I think I've set the standard down here and I think I've told the DA something and I think I've told everybody else something."

"I feel very sorry for the children in this case, either way they go, but I'll tell you what, you are not going to come sneaking deals or trying to pressure me into deals that are inappropriate and particularly when you have the resources the district attorney has to handle this kind of situation," she said.

Speed said he pressured the church into a settlement last week.

"I had to settle the case before they ever found out that my witnesses were falling apart," Speed said.

On Tuesday, at the time prosecutors were dismissing the criminal charges, State District Judge Carolyn Spears formally sealed from public view the civil judgment and the amount of money the church will pay the family of the children.

The civil settlement approved Friday came one day after Speed filed new pleadings asking for $6 million.

The boys' family had said earlier this year that they had gone to Catholic officials in August 1987 to report the fondling cases and were told not to go to the media or authorities because the case was being taken care of by the church.

The priest was sent to a counseling facility in New Mexico and church officials did not tell authorities about the allegations until November 1987, investigators charge.

Bob Wachsmuth, an attorney for the church, did not return telephone calls to The Associated Press Wednesday.

Scattered violence threatens fragile peace in Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Calm prevailed today in a tense, impoverished neighborhood where rioting by hundreds of blacks was triggered by an interracial, drug-related killing.

Neighborhood school officials said today that classes would be open, although absences would be excused if parents wished to keep their children home.

The almost exclusively black area known as Cedar Grove became the province of rioters and looters for about five hours Tuesday night and early Wednesday after a black man was killed by a white woman shopping for cocaine, according to police and witnesses. At least one witness said the victim was a bystander.

Less intense violence surfaced again Wednesday night in the state's second-largest city, despite pleas for calm by black ministers and politicians. Police detoured traffic when cars passing by the neighborhood were pelted with rocks, bricks and bottles. Then they sealed off a 12-block area when gunshots were heard.

At least one fire was set in the area, but a crowd of about 200 youths began to disperse by midnight.

"It's mostly a very calm situation," Mayor John Hussey told reporters when police began to withdraw around midnight, leaving heavy patrols to investigate scattered reports of gunfire. "Most of the area I saw was still secure."

The riot was centered near a park where police said dealers provided "curb-service crack."

Ten years ago, the neighborhood was a mixed-race working-class area, but it has become increasingly poor, violent and dangerous, authorities said.

Wright defends himself today

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Jim Wright defended himself today against charges that he improperly disclosed a covert CIA operation in Nicaragua and Republican leaders formally asked for an investigation of his actions.

"I haven't revealed anything that was committed to me as secret or classified," Wright told a reporter. "I am not a member of the (House) intelligence committee. I have not been present at the secret, classified briefings. I have simply said what is generally known and what is true."

Wright on Tuesday said he had received "clear testimony" from the CIA that the agency had fomented opposition demonstrations in Nicaragua to provoke the leftist Sandinista government and sabotage peace talks. He told a reporter later that CIA officials had made the admission under congressional questioning.

Asked today if he had been revealing any confidences, Wright said, "Of course I'm not. And furthermore, don't you think that the Congress of the United States has a right to say what is and is not the policy of the government of the United States? Is the Congress to be just shunted aside and the wishes of a majority in the Congress to be ignored, and the government to be allowed to go on in a secret way and do those things that it professes it is not doing? Well of course not."

Meanwhile, House Minority Leader Bob Michel, R-Ill., and Rep. Dick Cheney, R-Wyo., chairman of the House Republican Conference, asked for an investigation of Wright's actions in letters late Wednesday to the House ethics and intelligence committees.

"Because of the possibility such a disclosure (of classified information) may have occurred, we are writing to ask your committee to promptly and thoroughly investigate the circumstances surrounding these events and to recommend appropriate action to the House of Representatives," Michel and Cheney said in a letter to ethics committee chairman Julian Dixon, D-Calif.

Doctor recruitment firm to offer profile

A presentation related to the recruitment of an internal medicine physician for Cogdell Memorial Hospital is scheduled Thursday as part of the regular September meeting for board members.

Scheduled to meet with the board is a representative of the physician recruitment firm Jackson and Coker of Dallas.

The board has agreed to hear such presentations regarding the ongoing search for a new internist at Cogdell. No commitment regarding the actual use of such a firm has been made, however.

As one of its goals for 1989, the hospital hopes to recruit an internist since this medical specialty, which in large part deals with elderly patients, is expected to increase patient admissions at Cogdell.

The September meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner. The regular board session should begin around 7 p.m.

Other agenda items will include a discussion of directors and officer's liability insurance coverage and capital equipment requests to include an operating room light source and an operating room tourniquet. Officials are to discuss also seal coating and striping the hospital parking lot.

An executive session is slated for the end of the board meeting to discuss possible litigation.

course, the obstacle is distance.

"West Texas is ideally suited for it, with the large geographical area and distance between towns," Griffis said.

He said the air-vac revolution came about primarily because of the Vietnam war, in which the technology and methodology were fully developed after helicopters were first used to evacuate war casualties to MASH units in Korea in the early 1950s.

The first such non-wartime service was begun at Denver, Colo., in 1970.

CB equipment stolen at store

Police are investigating the theft of three Citizens Band radios and a telephone answering machine from Scurry CB Sales at 304 East Hwy.

Wayne Denson told officers at 5:48 p.m. Wednesday that the merchandise had been taken from a display case inside the store.

A city detective said it had not been determined when or how the merchandise was stolen.

Protestors reported to attack office in Armenian enclave

MOSCOW (AP) — Radio Moscow said today that protesters attacked a prosecutor's office in widespread ethnic unrest plaguing an Armenian enclave of the southern Soviet Union that officials have sealed off and put under curfew.

The radio also said a strike in the territory had closed schools, transportation and many state-run enterprises. Public gatherings were banned.

In Yerevan, the capital of the neighboring republic of Armenia, soldiers today blocked streets around government and Communist Party buildings and protesters rallied again to demand annexation of the enclave, an editor of the local Tass affiliate said in a telephone interview.

The disputed enclave, Nagorno-Karabakh, is a predominantly Armenian region of mainly Moslem Azerbaijan. Armenians, who are mostly Christian, began pressing in February for its transfer to Armenia.

Cavazos will fight to lower dropout rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Education Secretary Lauro Cavazos may have only four months on the job, but he says he'll use the time to fight the dropout rate and advocate education for all.

The first Hispanic member of a president's Cabinet, Cavazos said he is concerned about keeping all students in school, and points to a Hispanic dropout rate of about 30 percent.

"We can't afford to lose that many people," Cavazos told a news conference Wednesday, his first day on the job, as he answered questions in Spanish.

Cavazos said his mission would be to "get out there ... and really have people understand the seriousness of the issue. We've got to start now. We can't delay. We've waited too long."

To get his message across, Cavazos said he would meet with local officials, professional education societies, and members of Congress.

"The next few months will give us the forum to talk about the issues that are vital to America," he said. "How do we position this country, this nation, to really be competitive at the turn of the century ... and I don't just mean economically."

"Rather, let us look to make sure every person in America today is educated to his or her full potential. My interest is to awaken America to recall that our strength really has come because we had an educated electorate," Cavazos said.

Cavazos was confirmed by the Senate and sworn in Tuesday by Vice President Bush. On Wednesday, Cavazos said he had "struck absolutely no deal" with the Republican presidential nominee to remain in office if Bush wins the November election.

"We never even discussed the possibility of my staying beyond the January date," said Cavazos, who is taking a leave of absence from his job as president of Texas Tech University and its medical school.

But some Republicans have said they wouldn't mind seeing Cavazos in the next administration, and Sen. Orrin Hatch of Utah told fellow Republicans last week that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., leaned over to him at the end of Cavazos' confirmation hearing and said that if Michael Dukakis is elected "I'm going to talk him into keeping him on as secretary of education."

Kennedy told the Senate on Wednesday that Cavazos "has the perspective to be a superb secretary of education."

Relatives sue in February air crash

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — The pilot of a plane that crashed in a February snow storm was negligent, according to a lawsuit against the dead pilot's estate filed by relatives of the two passengers.

Pilot Donald McCoy, 57; his secretary, Rosa Linda Puentes, 31; and her son, Jesus Aaron Puentes, 11, were killed Feb. 19 when the plane plunged onto the Interstate 10 access road two miles east of downtown El Paso during morning rush hour.

The crash happened shortly after the plane took off from El Paso International Airport in light snow.

The suit, filed in County Court-at-Law by Ms. Puentes' sister and brother and Jesus' father, seeks unspecified damages from McCoy's estate and the Houston-based company that owned the twin-engine aircraft.

McCoy was "careless, reckless grossly negligent" in operating the Aero Commander 680, according to the suit.

It alleges that McCoy was negligent in taking off in weather requiring instrument flying. He was not instrument-rated or certified to fly a twin-engine airplane. It alleges McCoy failed to remove the landing gear locking pin.
