Cogdell hospital's operational losses cut by 72 percent

The net loss in operation at Cogdell Memorial Hospital for the period January through August has been reduced by 72 percent, hospital board members were informed Thursday.

The hopeful indication regarding hospital finances was offered by administrator Tom Hochwalt during his monthly financial report to the board. August also marked the third consecutive month of "net income" at Cogdell, he noted. This figure reflects income billed versus expenses billed, and showed a net income of $8,678, he said.

Regarding income, he noted these are figures "billed" and not actually received.

August also provided the facility with its first positive cash flow since February of last year, he added. This reflects actual income received as opposed to expenses incurred.

The financial report includes the hospital's position with depreciation for equipment figured in--the bookkeeping figure included to account for the estimated amount of future income required to replace equipment.

With these figures, the hospital

In Brief

2 convicted

MOSCOW (AP) — Two members of a Siberian family of jazz musicians were convicted today of hijacking a Soviet jetliner, Tass reported.

The official Soviet news agency said Olga Ovechkin, 28, was sentenced to six years in prison and her 17-year-old brother, Igor, to eight years.

Tass did not say whether this was the maximum penalty the two faced but said the 2½-week trial in the Siberian city of Irkutsk had "fully proved the guilt" of the pair.

Train crash

VOIRON, France (AP) — A train traveling at 70 mph slammed into a truck at a rail crossing today, killing an engineer aboard the train and injuring about 50 passengers, one of them seriously, police said.

Several cars of the train traveling between Grenoble and Lyon derailed on impact but did not roll over, officials said.

The high-speed train was slowing as it neared the station in this town in the Isere region, near Grenoble, said Jacques Couvert, regional director of the state train authority.

Durable goods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Orders for "big ticket" durable goods soared 6.0 percent in August on the strength of big jumps in the military and transportation sectors, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said total orders jumped to a seasonally adjusted $123.1 billion last month. The big jump follows a huge 7.4 percent decline in July, the biggest in more than four years, and an 8.7 percent increase in June, which was the largest in 30 months.

Fair's finale due Saturday

The last day of the Scurry County Fair is traditionally the busiest, and Saturday will be no exception for this year's 23rd annual event.

The doors to the Scurry County Coliseum will open at 8 a.m. and close to fair goes at 10 p.m. This will not be the last event, however, as a street dance on the coliseum parking lot is slated from 8 until 11 p.m.

New additions to the fair scheduled Saturday include the first-ever campfire cobbler cooking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest.

For the cobbler cooking event, slated Saturday at 4 p.m., entries must be prepared on site and from scratch using dutch ovens.

The horseshoe pitching contest will follow at 7 p.m. Two-member teams will comprise the entry with the deadline to enter at 6:45 p.m. Friday.

From 8 until 9 a.m. Saturday, entries will be accepted for baked goods.

These will be judged at 10 a.m. and, at the same time, a bread bakeoff contest will be held.

In conjunction with these events, from 3 until 7 p.m. there will be a silent auction of these goods.

Two livestock judging events will be staged Saturday, the junior lamb show at 8 a.m. and the junior steer and heifer show at 10 a.m.

In addition, at 1 p.m., the youth horse show will be held in the ag annex.

Saturday at 9 a.m. will mark the start of the finals for the eighth annual Deep Creek Domino Championship. It will be staged in Room A of the coliseum.

For the youngsters, the pedal tractor pull will begin at 10 a.m. in the ag annex.

Also for the young, the Kid's Wash will be open from 9 a.m. un-

Expense to income estimates for doctor recruitment noted

Employing a physician recruitment firm to secure an internal medicine specialist for Cogdell Memorial might cost the facility some $20,000 to $30,000 initially, but the income return could total as much as $567,000 annually, hospital board members were told Thursday.

These facts were part of a presentation offered by Dane Altman, a Dallas-based representative of the firm Jackson and Coker, which headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

Hospital board members are now exploring the possibility of employing such a firm to recruit an internist. The $567,000 income figure was quoted by Altman as the nationwide average from hospital income based on patient admissions for physicians engaged in internal medicine.

Altman noted that the figure here would likely be lower since Cogdell is a rural hospital. As a specialty, internists deal in large part with elderly patients.

Altman also quoted expense figures associated with employing his firm. He noted a "normal" arrangement would see Cogdell pay a $6,000 "retainer" fee at the start of the physician search.

The hospital would then be billed an hourly fee based upon actual time spent in the search. The average hourly charge would be $100, but he noted this is often spread among several hospitals seeking the same type of medical specialty.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Commercials tout cereals as healthy. If they get any healthier they'll be available by prescription only."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, told about the minister's wife who made mention at a covered dish luncheon about how tired she was of cooking.

She continued that she had even considered making her meals so uninviting that her husband would take her to eat out more often.

The minister overheard the conversation and replied, "If that chicken mess is any indication, I think you've already put the pian into practice."

Instead of the laughter he anticipated, a hush fell over the group.

Then one of the women spoke up, "I'm so sorry you didn't like that chicken. I gave it to your wife for you."

Gene Dow, in the Colorado City Record, says small towns have lots of appeal. He listed some advantages of living in a small town:

—You dial the wrong number and talk 15 minutes anyway.

—You call every dog on the street by name and he wags his tail at you.

—You get married and the local newspaper devotes a quarter page to it.

—You write a check on the wrong bank and they cover it for you.

—You miss a Sunday at church and get six get-well cards.

—The day of your father's funeral, they bring enough food to feed an army.

—The day your kitchen caught fire you received 22 invitations to supper.

—You drive into a ditch out in the country, and word gets back to your family before you do.

—And you know you are in a small town when you don't use your turn signal because everyone knows where you're going.

Dance troupe slated at fair's final night

The featured entertainment Saturday night at the 23rd edition of the Scurry County Fair will be the WT Dance Ensemble, an offshoot of the Amarillo-based Lone Star Ballet.

The dancers will perform at the stage area beginning at 8 p.m.

The group has performed all across Texas and features most of the principal dancers from the Lone Star Ballet and the "TEXAS" musical drama production held in Canyon each year.

Prizes won by the troupe include the American College

Dance Festival.

The WT Dance Ensemble and the Lone Star Ballet have recently been accepted into the Southwestern Regional Ballet Association.

Both are under the general direction of Neil Hess, who heads the dance division of West Texas State University and operates the Hess School of Dance in Amarillo.

Since 1965, Hess has choreographed and directed the musical drama "TEXAS."

Reception slated for Franklin Pruitt

Dr. Franklin Pruitt will be honored at a reception from 1-3 Sunday afternoon in the Christian Student Center at Western Texas College. The public is invited to attend and be present for the presentation of a gift to Pruitt about 1:30 p.m.

Pruitt retired from the WTC faculty at the end of the summer semester after teaching there since 1974. He had taught at Snyder High School for 22 years before beginning his work at WTC. A Franklin Pruitt Scholarship will be announced at the reception and donations for the scholarship will be accepted.

A devastating earthquake estimated at 8.3 on the Richter scale struck San Francisco April 18, 1906. It was followed by raging fires. About 700 persons died.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have a message for Jennifer Morales, the "nature lover" who resented all the "No Trespassing" signs she saw while vacationing in the north woods of Wisconsin. Grow up, Jennie! If you invite strangers on your property to smell the roses, you'd better carry plenty of liability insurance!

I run a deep-sea charter fishing boat service, and three years ago, my mate, a customer and I pulled a drowning man from Fire Island Inlet (the inlet to the Atlantic Ocean). In one practiced move, my mate ran aft, kicking off his boots and throwing the life ring. As luck would have it, the drowning man caught hold of the line and we pulled him into the boat. It took three of us to haul him aboard.

A week later, my insurance company called to inform me that a claim of $150 had been placed against me. It seems that when we pulled the drowning man aboard, he lost his eyeglasses and wallet!

I was notified that because my deductible was higher than the claim, I had seven working days in which to reimburse the company or my insurance would be canceled.

CAPT. JOHN BLITSKY JR., NORTH BABYLON, N.Y.

DEAR CAPTAIN JOHN: Incredible! Truth is, indeed, stranger than fiction.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of an intelligent, attractive, well-educated 32-year-old daughter who is single and has a very successful career. For the first time in her life she is in love. The man is very nice, but, Abby, he is 21 years old.

I have mentioned this to many of my friends, and they give me examples of Joan Collins, Priscilla Presley and Cher! Abby, they are in Hollywood, and my daughter is living in the real world.

I am worried about the pain that might result due to critical remarks made by friends and family members. I love my daughter very much and want to see her happy. She may have moments of happiness when she's secluded with her "young man," but she must work and live with others who may not approve of her choice.

What do you think about this "youthful situation"?

WELL-MEANING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I would trust an intelligent, well-educated, 32-year-old woman who has a successful career to make an intelligent choice for a companion. She may place more importance on "chemistry" than arithmetic, which is her right and her business. She may be sufficiently secure and happy to be totally unaffected by their critical comments. Don't worry, Mother.

DEAR ABBY: I read you faithfully in the Anchorage Times and would like to respond to "Concerned in Cleveland," the married lady who is paranoid about her husband receiving mail from "single chicks" through Operation Dear Abby.

I am a 15-year-old girl living in a remote bush community of Alaska due to my parents' occupations. Here, mail is a once-a-week blessing from heaven! Thanks to you, Abby, I have a new friend with whom I correspond, and I am positive that his wife doesn't mind one bit. And no, I didn't send him a picture of me in a bathing suit. There are still plenty of us moral single girls who are mail-hungry, not male-hungry — and that is the way you can sign me.

MAIL-HUNGRY, NOT MALE-HUNGRY IN ALASKA

The facts about drugs, AIDS, and how to prevent unwanted pregnancy are all in Abby's new, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send your name and address, plus check or money order for $3.50 ($4 in Canada) to: Dear Abby's Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Postage is included.

Workshop set in genealogy

"Family Tree Climbing Can Be Fun," a genealogy workshop, will be hosted by the Scurry County Museum on Oct. 4. Presenting the workshop will be Everton Publishers staff members Lee Everton and Joseph Hall from Nibley, Utah.

Workshop participants are asked to bring completed family group sheets or pedigree charts and the names of ancestors they are researching. They will receive a packet containing materials to enhance the information presented during the classes. They will also receive six issues of the "Genealogical Helper."

the business meeting where it was decided to have a bake sale on Saturday, Oct. 22, to raise money for refreshments. Tanya

Gasaway volunteered to secure a place for the bake sale. All members are to bring baked goods to sell. Some mothers and anyone else who can will also help.

The 4-H program was discussed by Ruby Butts, adult leader, who spoke about the 4-H program. New members are welcome. Meetings will be held regularly in the East cafeteria immediately after school on the first and third Thursdays after Oct. 1.

Argentina seized the disputed Falkland Islands from Britain April 2, 1982, triggering the Falklands War. In the course of the fighting, Britain regained control of the islands.

Registration will be from 8-9 a.m. on Oct. 4 in the museum. The general session will start at 9 and will be followed by classes until noon. Classes will resume at 1:30 p.m. and continue to 4 p.m.

points. West, with honors everywhere, was in the hot seat. He decided on the passive lead of a diamond. It was easy for declarer to play the A-K, and when the queen dropped, the chances for the slam became very good. But the spade king and heart queen are poorly placed. Declarer might smell out the location of the queen of clubs, and might not. It's also unfortunate that running the diamond winners will put just as much pressure on declarer's hand as it will on the opponents' hands.

Anyway South saw all this, so what did he do? After the queen of diamonds dropped, he played the five of hearts from dummy. East followed with the four, and declarer casually put in the seven, which was surely not going to win the trick. But when West won the eight-spot, he had nothing to lead that would not give declarer his 12th trick.

What if East had been smart enough to put up the 10 of hearts on the lead of the five from dummy? Then the actual play would not have worked, but declarer would still have been as well placed as before. He could put in the jack, losing to the queen, and later decide where to look for his 12th trick.

Winning either of two finesses provides good odds for a contract. But sometimes an opportunity comes along to make the chances for a very good contract even better.

North bid to six no-trump after his partner had shown 18-20 high-card

Reagan gives Discovery crew presidential sendoff

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — President Reagan, in a setting that resembled more a Hollywood movie set than the nation's manned spaceflight center, gave the five Discovery astronauts his blessing for their scheduled flight next week and praised NASA workers for pursuing dreams.

"America is going to space again — and we are going there to stay," he said Thursday as a crowd of thousands of Johnson Space Center workers, waving small American flags, cheered.

With huge movie lights illuminating the hangar which houses a full-size mockup of the space shuttle, Reagan said the world would be watching next Thursday when the Discovery crew takes off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on a four-day mission that marks the nation's first manned flight since the Challenger disaster in 1986.

"When we launch the space shuttle Discovery, even more than the thrust of Discovery's great engines, it will be the inspiring courage of our heroes and the hopes and dreams of every American that will lift the shuttle into the heavens," Reagan said. "May the hand of God bring it safely back to Earth."

As he spoke, the shuttle mockup was to his left, a space station model was overhead and a model of the shuttle attached to its booster rocket was to his right. Behind the scene was a giant American flag. The five-man Discovery crew shared the stage with him along with top NASA administrators.

The president's last visit to the space center was much more somber, coming three days after the disastrous explosion of the Challenger space shuttle on Jan. 28, 1986. The seven-member crew of Challenger perished when their spacecraft exploded only 73 seconds after liftoff.

At the time, Reagan mourned the loss of the Challenger crew — "our seven star voyagers" — and pledged America would forge ahead with an effective and safe space program.

Discovery Commander Rick Hauck gave the president a flight jacket with the crew patch and said he would take it into space next week and then return it to the president upon the crew's return.

"We'd love to take you with us on this flight to show you the beautiful sites we can see from orbit and also the wonderful technology we're developing here," Hauck said, presenting the president with the jacket.

"It may not find its way into space but I'll bet you it winds up in a presidential library," Reagan laughed.

Joining Hauck on the crew are co-pilot Richard Covey and mission specialists Mike Lounge, George "Pinky" Nelson and David Hilmer.

Before meeting the astronauts, who are under a modified quarantine before their scheduled launch, Reagan underwent a medical examination in which he was pronounced free of any disease that could be easily transmitted.

Reagan's senior aides and Secret Service detail were required to complete medical data forms before they were cleared to enter the space center with the president although only Reagan was to have direct contact with the astronauts, who gave them a tour of the shuttle trainer.

"It is important to remember that it is not some impersonal technology that puts our astronauts in space," Reagan told the NASA workers. "It's the dedication and expertise of thousands of men and women, people like you, who seek no limits but only possibilities."

"The truth is our space program doesn't invest in machines, it invests in people. And you don't only launch rockets, you launch dreams."

Employees, who were given the afternoon off to attend the president's speech, applauded and cheered enthusiastically.

"I'm pleased he made the effort to come down here," said Preston Page, who works with the crew training simulator. "It does make you feel good."

Five killed, two hurt in shooting rampage

CHICAGO (AP) — An unemployed beautician said to be seething with anger since he served in Vietnam announced "I'm going to kill everybody I see" and went on a rampage, shooting to death two store clerks, a school custodian and a policewoman.

As Clemie Henderson continued to stalk a school for troubled boys, a police officer he had wounded in the leg struggled to his feet and shot the gunman dead Thursday in an exchange of gunfire.

"He's a genuine hero," Chicago Police Superintendent LeRoy Martin said of Officer Greg Jaglowski, a 14-year police veteran.

Henderson, 40, had been charged at least nine times between 1971 and last month for such offenses as battery, marijuana possession and disorderly conduct, Chicago Police Superintendent LeRoy Martin said.

Family members said Henderson had been on medication for a psychiatric illness he developed in Vietnam, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

Edward Wodnicki, the chief of detectives, said police found medication for depression in Henderson's home. Relatives said Henderson had stopped taking the medication and was experiencing difficulties as a result.

"People ... knew about him. He was always in trouble," Wodnicki said.

Armed with a .38-caliber revolver and nearly three dozen rounds of ammunition, Henderson walked into the Comet Auto Parts store Thursday morning and opened fire, Martin said.

Two store employees, John Van Dyke, 41, and Robert Quinn, 26, were killed. Henderson missed a third clerk, who pretended to be hit and fell to the ground.

The Rev. Clement Ferguson, pastor of nearby St. Stephenson's Missionary Baptist Church, said he heard the shots and ran into the store. He said he saw Henderson, whom he knew, leaving.

"I said, 'What are you doing?' He said, 'Reverend, don't nobody say anything. I'm going to kill everybody I see.'"

Henderson fled out a side entrance and shot a city garbage collector, Laplose Chestnut Jr., 34, in the hand as he headed toward the school across the street. Chestnut was in fair condition today at Cook County Hospital, said spokeswoman Wanda Robertson.

Minutes later, Henderson shot and killed Arthur Baker, 33, a custodian at Moses Montefiore Public School, a public school for troubled boys, before the gunman encountered Officer Irma Ruiz, 40, and Jaglowski, 38, at the door. The two officers had been called to the school to deal with an unruly student.

Henderson shot Mrs. Ruiz in the chest and wounded

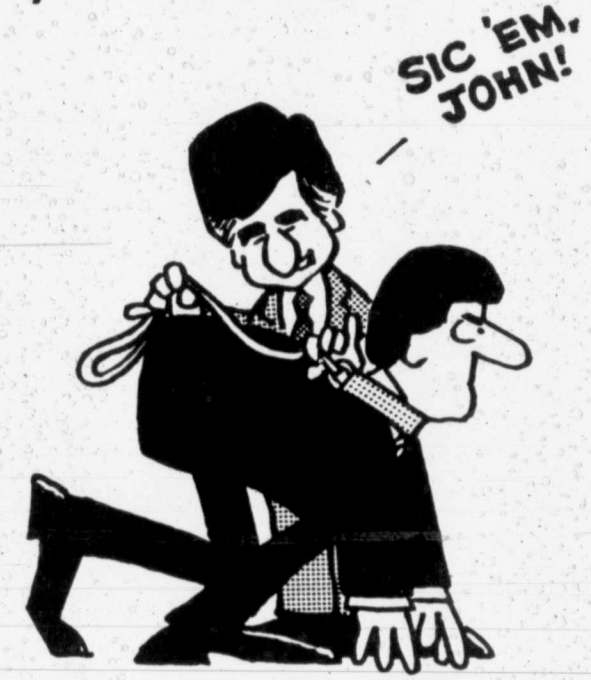

Jaglowski, then went into a room to reload his revolver, police said. But Jaglowski went inside after the gunman, killing Henderson in an exchange of gunfire.

Jaglowski was in fair condition today at Mount Sinai Hospital, a spokesman said. Mrs. Ruiz, a mother of four and a 12-year police veteran, was only the second female police officer killed in the line of duty in Chicago, police said.

Martin said witnesses told him Henderson "never said a word" before opening fire.

Henderson, who served as an Army combat infantryman in Vietnam, lived in the neighborhood and had been unemployed for two years, said David Finke, a friend of Henderson's and chairman of the Midwest Committee for Military Counseling, a Chicago agency.

Bryant testifies on need for disclosure of foreign assets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignorance could be dangerous when it comes to the country's national security and increasing foreign interests, Rep. John Bryant has testified.

The Dallas Democrat told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on trade and international economic policy Thursday that increasing foreign investment in the high-tech, defense and energy industries is not adequately recorded.

"Our current ignorance handicaps our ability to responsibly manage our own economy," Bryant said. "We don't have enough information even to know with confidence all the questions we should be asking."

Norman J. Glickman, a professor at the University of Texas' Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs in Austin, agreed with Bryant that data collection must be beefed up and that not enough information is available about foreigners' activities "to make smart policy decisions."

Glickman said Commerce Department data indicate that foreign ownership of American companies is still relatively small. Only about 3 percent of workers and 8 percent of productive assets are under foreign control and that the influx so far does not pose a danger to economic security.

"But unless we set our economic house in order, we could be in for some serious problems of external control in the future," Glickman said.

Bryant warns the country may be "trading our economic sovereignty for a security blanket of foreign money, not to foster long-term economic growth, but to sustain a high national lifestyle. To finance budget deficits and pay for foreign products, America has been selling off its productive capacity — selling off family jewels to pay for a seven-year night on the town."

The sponsor of the Bryant Amendment to require foreign owners to register their major U.S. assets with the Commerce Department, Bryant calls the rise in foreign ownership the "greatest change now taking place in our economy."

Critics of the measure contend the information is already gathered by more than a dozen agencies and that the reporting requirements are onerous, anti-competitive, and would create a massive bureaucracy.

Tigers host tough Wildcats for homecoming

After taking a 32-0 beating from Levelland two weeks ago, a test of character is on the line tonight for Snyder's Fighting Tigers, who entertain defense-minded Littlefield at Tiger Stadium.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. in the non-district contest, which will also be celebrated as Snyder High School's homecoming.

Tonight's game here is one of only two involving District 4-4A teams. In the other contest, Pecos puts its 2-0 record against Kermit. Sweetwater, Andrews, Fort Stockton, Monahans, San Angelo Lake View and Big Spring are all idle.

Snyder Coach David Baugh said workouts have gone well this week and he expects his Tigers to give the favored Wildcats a battle.

"There will be a lot of exes back to look at the new system and hopefully we'll have the pride to get out there, play hard and do a good job," he said.

While Snyder is 0-2 and looking for its first win of the season, the Wildcats come in at 2-1. The victories include shutouts of both Abernathy (21-0) and Post (33-0).

"Littlefield is as good as any team we've played," stressed Baugh. "They don't make mistakes. They are an established program with great tradition."

"They've probably got the best running back we've faced," noted Baugh of Littlefield tailback Terry Davis. "He probably doesn't have as much speed as Fortner (Levelland tailback Jay Fortner) but he's a tougher runner."

Quarterback Gilbert Gonzales has connected on 17 of 33 passes for 249 yards in Littlefield's last two ballgames.

"They throw the ball 38 percent of the time. Most of the rest of the time they give it to the tailback," noted Baugh. "Their fullback (Monty Lackey) does a good job of blocking for him."

Davis ran for 116 yards against Abernathy.

Despite the running ability of Davis and Gonzales' throwing arm, the Wildcats aren't considered a big play team.

"They like to run the tailback at you out of the 'I' formation and grind it out," said Baugh. "It amounts to whether we are tough enough to stop them."

Defensively, the Wildcats have shut out their opponents in the last two games after a season-opening 19-0 loss to Guymon, Okla.

"They line up in a 5 defense and come get you. They stunk quite a bit and we've been working on our blocking assignments. We've got to be able to adjust offensively to what they are doing," added Baugh.

A week's layoff and the 0-2 start led to some changes in the offensive line. Most notably, Tim Beauchamp, a 6-3, 235-pound senior, has been moved from guard to center in hopes of bolstering the Tiger attack.

Young Tigers rip Rotan JV and record 3rd shutout, 32-0

Snyder freshmen continued what could be a refreshing habit here Thursday - scoring a lot of points and not giving up any.

The young Tigers blanked Rotan junior varsity 32-0 at Tiger Stadium to complete their third straight shutout of the season. The club, which has given up only a dozen points in four games, has not been scored on now in 12 quarters.

Thursday's game was marred when Rotan's Herman Zavala went down with what appeared to be a serious neck injury. Coaches decided to call an end to the contest with 5:45 left in the fourth quarter.

X-rays revealed no breaks and Zavala was reportedly in good condition this morning, suffering from a pinched nerve.

Snyder scored its first touchdown with 7:29 still left in the opening quarter. Daniel Espinosa did the honors, carrying the ball over on a 4-yard run. The PAT failed.

Later in the quarter, Mark King dashed 55 yards on a punt return to score. King also scored on a 2-yard run in the second quarter and a 14-yard burst in the fourth. The fleet running back, who had 134 yards on just nine carries for the game, also scored one two-point conversion.

Espinosa scored Snyder's other TD on a two yard run in the third period.

Snyder's defense held the Yellowhammer JV to 24 yards rushing and none passing. The Hammers had two first downs.

Snyder rolled up 225 yards on

Thank You
The Family of Don Baremore acknowledges with grateful appreciation the kind expressions of sympathy from many friends, neighbors and relatives. From the brief hospital stay, through the very impressive funeral services, the prayers, warm handclaps, calls, cards, letters, visits, foods and flowers were innumerable, and lest we might leave someone out, we hesitate trying to name these wonderful individuals. May we please take this means, though, to reveal our sincere feelings toward Cogdell Memorial Hospital. We found them responsive, efficient and caring. In the emergency room, throughout the halls and offices, and over the entire third floor.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

Helping to cure a urinary infection

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had my bladder removed and now I wear a bag. It seems very sour and I took antibiotics for an infection. My doctor said my urine caused the infection but seems unconcerned and never asked to see it. How should I care for it?

DEAR READER: Urine is normally sterile. Once it has been passed, however, it is easily contaminated by bacteria. Bacterial action on urinary components can lead to a foul odor. I suspect that the germs causing your problem came from the bag, not from the urine itself. The bag should be replaced or sterilized. Return to the urologist for an opinion and specific advice.

In addition, stomal therapists — professionals trained in helping patients with post-operative stomas — could be very useful in giving you guidance about how to take care of your troublesome problem. For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Bladder and Urinary Tract Infections." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband is easily aroused but when he ejaculates he grabs his abdomen. He says he has severe pain in his groin and it causes him to cough. He's had tests, and nothing shows up.

DEAR READER: Your husband's symptoms are, indeed, unusual and I am unable to give you a logical explanation for them. Clearly, his problem involves the reproductive tract.

Ineroretore, he should see a urologist. If such a specialist is at a loss, I suggest that he request a consultation with a urology clinic at a teaching hospital. Surely your husband will want to exhaust every resource to help him find relief.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a terrible body odor. I don't eat onions or garlic. It's not underarm but all over. Would chlorophyll help?

DEAR READER: An unpleasant body odor can have many causes. Certain diseases, such as kidney failure, can produce this symptom. In addition, as we age, the constituents in our sweat change; we tend to become more "aromatic." Also, bacterial action on perspiration will release odors that are socially unacceptable. You need a complete medical examination to make sure that you don't have a disease causing your problem. If you check out OK, you may have to be content with washing frequently with deodorant soap. Chlorophyll is useful only in absorbing the odor of bad breath; it will not affect body odor.

Good roles are hard to find

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Denzel Washington says good roles are hard to find, despite the Oscar nomination he won for his portrayal of martyred South African activist Stephen Biko in "Cry Freedom."

"It's not a coincidence that the last three pictures I've made, I've had to go out of the country to do," he said.
