

Gov. Bill Clements sets campaign stop locally Wednesday

Texas Gov. Bill Clements is expected to visit Snyder Wednesday as part of a "Victory '88" campaign swing on behalf of Republican candidates.

Exact details of the governor's visit were still being worked out Monday morning, but a spokesman from "Victory '88" in Austin, Tim Thompson, said that Clements plans to visit Snyder as part of a two-day campaign swing.

He is expected to be here during the early afternoon. "Final plans are being approved at the governor's office this morning," he said.

In addition Wednesday, the wife of U.S. senate candidate Beau Boulter (R-Amarillo) is to be in Snyder. Rosemary Boulter is scheduled to be at the Republican Headquarters here from 2:30 until 4 p.m.

The local GOP headquarters is located on the east side of the downtown square.

Governor Clements is expected to be visiting area cities on both Tuesday and Wednesday.

'Non-stop campaigning' due to start

By The Associated Press
George Bush was hoping to distract Michael Dukakis in New England while the Massachusetts governor went after California's bounty of 47 electoral votes and his supporters claimed GOP campaign tactics were tinged with racism.

The vice president began 15 days of nonstop campaigning today with a trip to Waterbury, Conn., Portland, Maine, and Burlington, Vt. Although the states are relatively poor in electoral votes, Bush campaign officials say he leads in all three states and his presence in the Northeast will force Dukakis to devote time and resources in an area that should otherwise belong to him.

"We're taking his base away from him," said Bush spokesman Mark Goodin.

Dukakis was spending the entire day in California, including stops in Los Angeles and San Francisco, in pursuit of that crucial state's 47 electoral votes.

Republican vice presidential candidate Dan Quayle was going to be accompanied by his mother, Corrine Quayle, during his first stop in Missouri. He was going on to Kentucky.

Democratic vice presidential candidate Lloyd Bentsen was campaigning in Michigan, Missouri and Arkansas.

Dukakis, stopping Sunday night in Eau Claire, Wis., attacked the Republican ticket for what he called a "steady stream of distortion and misrepresentation."

Although Dukakis didn't mention it, campaign vice-chairman John Sasso said the candidate agreed with assertions by Bentsen and black leader Jesse Jackson that there were racist overtones to some Bush tactics.

Bentsen told a television interviewer he thought the Bush campaign was making a racist appeal by focusing on Willie Horton Jr., a black convicted murderer who escaped in 1986 from a Massachusetts prison furlough.

In 1987, Horton stabbed a white Maryland man and raped the man's fiancée Horton is currently imprisoned in Maryland.

Aviation displays planned

Event to honor airport project

A full-scale aviation display, complete with a fly-over by a B-1B Bomber from Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, is being planned for 2 p.m. Wednesday at Winston Field to observe the recent completion of the $1.8-million airport renovation project.

The project was primarily financed through Federal Aviation Administration grants.

In the 10 a.m. county commissioners court meeting Monday, County Judge Bobby Goodwin announced tentative approval from the Air Force, through the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, for a B-1B to fly over during the ceremonies.

A C-130 transport plane will be on display at the airport to demonstrate the facility's improved ability to accommodate large airplanes, along with a World War II vintage Corsair and B-25 bomber from Breckenridge Goodwin said.

Officials from the Federal Aviation Administration in Dallas, the San Antonio engineering company that directed the project, the Chamber of Commerce Gold Coats and possibly a marching band will also take part.

Taking 'the test' is new ISD priority

Honors courses, writing skills are emphasized

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

Taking tests to learn to take "the test" is a formula which will soon become familiar to Snyder public school students.

This will be in response to a new direction for Texas schools, standardized tests which compare the performance of local students with their peers statewide.

Currently in place is the TEAMS exit-level test, an exam of basic learning skills which must be passed to receive a diploma. Beginning in March, college-bound seniors will have their first look at the TASP exam, a new state mandate designed to determine if the student has sufficient skills in reading, writing and math to perform at the undergraduate level.

"I think it's going to be a lot tougher," said Superintendent Dalton Moseley about the academic requirements ahead for all Snyder students.

For these students to successfully compete, he noted, the burden of preparing them is equally as tough on local school districts.

Toward this goal, school officials say they believe Snyder has "gotten the jump" on what will prove to be the future in Texas education.

The TASP test, an acronym for Texas Academic Skills Program, will be administered for the first time March 4. Following that date, it will be given five times yearly at about 100 test centers throughout Texas.

Beginning next fall, the TASP test must be passed before Texas college students can accumulate beyond 60 semester credit hours, the level where they would normally move from sophomore to junior-level status.

The test—which will require up to five hours to complete will have three sections, reading, mathematics and writing. Each of these will have from 40 to 50 multiple choice questions.

In addition, the writing section will require a 300-600 word essay.

In response to the stiffer college entrance requirements, Snyder ISD last year implemented a restructured honors class program and a grading system which does not penalize students for taking these harder courses.

Jail will require new fans, alarms

Scurry County commissioners heard Sheriff Keith Collier report Monday that fire alarms and smoke removal fans will have to be changed in the county jail to satisfy the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

Collier said the jail received its most recent certification with the understanding that the fire alarms, which frequently go off accidentally, and air replacement system are sub-standard and will be replaced.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin said Collier was inadvertently left off the Monday agenda and will re-appear next week to discuss advertising for bids.

The sheriff said both projects will probably cost more than $5,000 each.

In other business, the commissioners discussed appointing a replacement for recently resigned airport board chairman Lynn McLarty and tabled the matter for another week to consider possible appointees.

TEAMS due here Tuesday

Beginning at 8 a.m. Tuesday, The exit level Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test will be administered to all Snyder High School juniors and those seniors who have not passed one or more sections of the test.

The test will be given in the Scurry County Coliseum.

On Tuesday, the mathematics portion of the exam will be given. The English Language Arts test will follow on Wednesday.

Texas state law mandates that Texas students must pass both in order to graduate.

Four runs Sunday include grass fire

Firemen took four hours to extinguish a large grass fire six miles south of Ira Sunday afternoon, one of four fire runs made by the department that day.

The fire, on Deminex U.S. Oil Co. property, burned an area estimated at three-quarters of a mile square, started because of a short in an electrical line at a pumpjack, a department spokesman said.

Three firetrucks and a Pet 3 roadgrader were used in the 1.16 p.m. call, which occupied firefighters until 5:15 p.m.

A 1977 Ford motor home owned by James Junek of Odessa caught fire in the engine compartment on the south side of Lake J.B. Thomas and was destroyed in a call that also came in at 1:14 p.m. Sunday, keeping firemen at the scene until 4:45 p.m.

A 12:43 a.m. Sunday fire at Hinshaw's House of Flowers at 2408 College Ave. was still being investigated Monday, the MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Typhoon Ruby roared across the Philippines today with heavy rain and winds topping 100 mph, causing mud slides and tidal surges that left thousands homeless. Officials said at least 13 people died.

100 mph wind

The military reported another 30 people were missing and feared dead in a storm-related bus accident and that an inter-island vessel with 481 passengers and crew was missing in stormy seas.

Visit begins

MOSCOW (AP) — Chancellor Helmut Kohl today began a four-day visit that is to include talks with Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, the official Soviet news agency Tass said. Economic ties were expected to top the agenda.

Other items to be discussed included European disarmament, East-West relations, ties between West Germany and Moscow-allied East Germany, and the treatment of some 2 million Soviets of German ethnic origin.

Raid staged

TYRE, Lebanon (AP) — Two Israeli warplanes blasted a military base of a Syrian-backed militia in southeast Lebanon with four rockets today, police said. Israel's military command said the base was destroyed.

There were no immediate word on casualties among militiamen at the Syrian Social Nationalist Party base in Beit Lehia, nine miles north of Israel's self-designated security zone in south Lebanon.

Dear Abby

Sweet Sound of 'Honey' Is Out of Tune for Some Ears

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 80, and am just as upset at being called "Honey" as that woman who signed herself "Nobody's Honey in Elkhart, Ind." When salespeople call me "Dear," I consider it a slam!

I am a "miler" in the Senior Olympics and walk three and four miles most days, so I neither act nor look decrepit, and I resent people who look down on me with their "Dears" and "Honeys." It's so patronizing.

I know this is worded badly, but this is a sore spot with me and I am so mad right now I can't see straight. I read you daily in The Kansas City Star, and you may use my name.

to grow up, and when an adult — especially one who many teen-agers look up to — calls a teen-ager a pet name, like "Honey" or "Sweetie," it really seems to reduce the teen-ager's age. Abby, in the future, please don't talk down to teen-agers by calling them "Honey." Treat them like adults.

If you use this, you may use my name, town and state.

LAURA ESHLEMAN, SPRINGS LAKE, MICH.

DEAR ABBY: I can't imagine why a teen-aged girl would feel put down or insulted if someone called her "Honey." I'm a teen-ager, and some of the names I've been called by my mother you couldn't even put in the paper. I never deserved those names, Abby, but they hurt me just the same.

I will never forget how wonderful I felt when my third-grade teacher called me "Honey" in a private conversation we had after school. This same teacher gave me a pair of new shoes because she knew I needed them. I will never forget her.

I would never take offense at anybody who called me "Honey" or "Dear" or any other name that shows affection. I would take it as a compliment. Nobody would use those words with somebody they didn't really like.

CALL ME HONEY ANYTIME

DEAR ABBY: I can't speak for all the teen-agers in the world, but I can speak for myself. When adults call me "Honey" or "Dear," I feel they are trying to put me in my place — like they are talking to some little kid. But I don't mind being called "Honey" or any other pet name when the person is my age.

I'M NOT EVERYBODY'S HONEY

School marks birthday

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — R.L. Paschal High School — a school whose graduates have walked on the moon, written best-sellers, quarterbacked National Football League championship teams and founded multi-million dollar companies — has hit the century mark.

Fort Worth's oldest school, located just south of city's downtown, actually is 106 years old this Friday. But hundreds of former Panthers don't care about the numbers — they'll celebrate any time.

"It was just a project to promote school pride," said Jan Hull, a 1962 grad and chairman of Century Celebration. "We feel like there are so many great things going on academically at the school that people don't get to read about. By getting the community involved in their school again through something like this, people find out about Paschal today."

Since June, Ms. Hull and event co-chairmen Jane Gudgen and Suzanne Tucker, 1960 and 1963 graduates, respectively, have been planning an alumni reunion expected to attract Panthers from 37 graduating classes.

Among the more famous grads have been Apollo 12 astronaut Alan Bean, who was the fourth man on the moon and a 1950 grad; the late Fort Worth multi-millionaire Charles Tandy, a business tycoon from the class of 1935; and former Cleveland Browns quarterback Frank Ryan, a 1954 Panther grad, who led his team to the NFL championship in 1964.

Still others were the late Price Daniels, former Texas governor and 1927 Paschal alum; former San Antonio Mayor Lila Cockrell, the first woman to head a major U.S. city and a 1938 grad; and 1948 grad Dan Jenkins, who authored "Semi-Tough" and "Baja Oklahoma," both of which featured Paschal High and its neighboring college, Texas Christian University.

"Dan Jenkins is already here," Ms. Gudgen said. "He is very supportive. Dan Jenkins said Paschal is one of the nation's most-famous high schools."

But in recent years, the school also has been infamous. In 1985, when the school turned 100, newspapers and magazines nationwide reported on Paschal's affluent white gang, who called themselves "The Legion of Doom."

Police reported 10 students and former students — some on the honor roll and football team — were under investigation for at least 30 incidents of violence, including damage to students' cars with a pipe bomb explosion and shotgun blasts.

But Ms. Hull said the school has a new image — one for academic achievement and "multicultural understanding."

Americans don't know much about science, survey shows

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 500 years after Copernicus postulated that Earth revolves around the sun, millions of Americans think otherwise, suggests a poll that found vast numbers of the nation's adults "scientifically illiterate."

Many Americans also mistakenly believe that laser beams are focused sound waves and that atoms are smaller than electrons, said Jon Miller, director of the Public Opinion Laboratory at Northern Illinois University, who conducted a nationwide survey for the National Science Foundation.

In a July telephone survey, 2,041 adults 18 or older were asked about 75 questions on basic science, Miller said. The survey had a margin of error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

Asked whether the Earth goes around the sun or the sun around the Earth, 21 percent replied incorrectly. Seven percent said they didn't know.

In the early 16th century, the Polish astronomer Nicholas Copernicus laid the foundation for modern astronomy with his heliocentric theory of planetary motion in which the planets revolved around a motionless sun.

Forty-five percent correctly said it takes a year for the Earth to orbit the sun, but 17 percent said one day, 2 percent said one month and 9 percent didn't know.

"The results show that on very basic ideas, vast numbers of Americans are scientifically illiterate," Miller said Sunday. "It's a fairly dire situation."

The results of the survey haven't been fully tabulated yet, but it appears that 93 percent to 95 percent would have to be considered scientifically illiterate, lacking fundamental knowledge of scientific vocabulary, methodology and an understanding of science's impact on the world, said Miller. The group's 1985 survey found a 95 percent illiteracy rate.

Baylor is to be likely meeting topic

WACO, Texas (AP) — When the Baptist General Convention of Texas convenes in Austin Tuesday, it could open a fiery public confrontation between the fundamentalist and liberal elements within the church. And at the center of that fight will be Baylor University.

Baylor University President Herbert H. Reynolds last week took on fundamentalists who recently published a tract critical of what it called the school's growing liberalism and movement away from its original focus of training ministers.

United For A Better Baylor distributed the tract, "The Founder's Review," at a school trustees meeting in San Antonio two weeks ago.

But Reynolds says the group is "acting like a bunch of jackals."

"We haven't strayed from the vision of our founders," Reynolds said Friday. He said Baylor's charter calls for "the encouragement, support, maintenance, and promotion of education in all branches."

Fundamentalists, who control the national Southern Baptist Convention, would like to control Baylor and the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Reynolds said.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The needs of someone you like may tug at your heartstrings today. Sacrifice if necessary, but don't extend yourself beyond your means or ability.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you look for the flaws in friends today, you'll find them, but you must also be aware that they will start putting you under closer scrutiny.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) In competitive developments today where your career is concerned, don't get in a situation where you are overmatched. Before attacking, be certain you have adequate back-up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Making a point today is not as important as jeopardizing a valued relationship. Don't compromise your standards, just be sure they are valid.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you're shopping today, consider quality above price. The beauty and aesthetics of your selection should take precedence over its cost.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Do not expect too much from your relationships with others today. If you desire behavior they are not capable of showing, you'll be sadly disappointed.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You could be involved with someone today who has displeased you in the past. A failure to let bygones be bygones won't help matters and might reopen an old wound.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In order to appease your mate today, you might have to socialize with a person you'd rather ignore. For the sake of harmony, bite the bullet and strive to be friendly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best not to broadcast your career goals at this time, because someone who is jealous of you might try to hamper your progress.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your preconceived notions as to how things will work today could be a trifle too negative. Think positive and don't let your imagination work against you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Keep your material desires in check today. Instead of focusing on personal interests, look for ways to generate good will and respect from your associates.

Confusion cause of nine errors

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Workers for Delta Air Lines and Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport have painted black and yellow lines and installed strobe lights to separate two taxiways pilots say are so confusing that they have caused nine near collisions of Delta jets in the past year.

"We have two taxiways out there — an inner taxiway and an outer taxiway — and then the runway," said the airport's tower manager Norm Scroggins. "Because there is no grass between the ramp and the inner taxiway, we had several pilots who believed the runway was the outer taxiway."

Federal records show pilot confusion over where the aircraft parking ramp outside Delta's terminal ended and the taxiway began sparked the nine near-collisions in the area — including one on Aug. 31, the same day another Delta plane crashed on take-off.

But in recent weeks, workers have painted thick black stripes outlined with yellow paint to mark the inner taxiway and have identified the taxiway with 10-foot letters and solar-powered strobe lights.

Officials said procedures for directing Delta flights to the runways also have changed, so planes avoid Taxiway 29, which leads directly from the ramp area to Runway 17L, the first of two parallel runways on the airport's east side.

Delta spokeswoman Jackie Pate told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram the airline has hand-delivered notices to all of its pilots alerting them about the taxiway.

The first problem occurred in October 1987 after the airport covered the grass islands between the parking apron and inner taxiway with concrete.

"A lot of pilots use the grass to guide them," said Richard Pettit, the airport's senior director of planning and engineering. "Problem was, there were a bunch more who cut the corners short and their landing gear went into the grass."

Transit board trims proposed DART spending

DALLAS (AP) — Facing pressure to hold down spending, the Dallas Area Rapid Transit board has tentatively approved a 1989 operating budget that is about $4 million less than proposed by the agency's executive director.

The $111.3 million budget, which received tentative approval Saturday, is expected to get final consideration Tuesday night.

The proposed budget reduces spending by $600,000 and is about one-half percent less than the agency spent this year.

No fare increases are included in the proposal, although it assumes that regular bus service, primarily in the suburbs, will be cut 12 percent in January.

The proposed reductions will save about $4 million, but DART will spend about $2 million on a new van service in suburban communities.

Salary increases for most of DART's 1,800 employees will be held to 2.5 percent, and spending will be scaled back for transit police, advertising, an employee drug testing program, handicapped services, and suburban van purchases.

In light of the June 25 defeat of a $1 billion rail bond referendum, the DART board has looked closely at this year's budget. The vote was viewed as a rejection of DART's spending habits, considered by many to be wasteful.

"The board worked hard to deliberately cut the budget," DART board chairman David McCall said.

The decision to hold down raises was "part of the fallout of the referendum," he said. That decision has angered the bus drivers union, which represents 1,200 DART drivers and mechanics.

DART executive director Charles Anderson, in his budget proposal, sought raises averaging 5 percent for most employees. "Our people will not be satisfied with 2.5 percent," said B.J. Simmons, president of the local chapter of the Amalgamated Transit Union.

State law prohibits strikes by public employees, so the union will seek the intervention of a federal mediator in salary negotiations with DART, Simmons said.

PUC member profiled

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — The Public Utility Commission's newest member is a director of a conservative legal foundation that has long battled environmental and consumer forces, members of those groups said.

Recently appointed as a PUC commissioner, William B. Cassin is director of the Landmark Legal Foundation of Kansas City, Mo., a conservative group formed in the 1970s.

The foundation has a history of lawsuits against regulatory agencies and battles with organizations such as the Sierra Club, Ralph Nader's public interest groups and the American Civil Liberties Union.

The tax-exempt, non-profit foundation is described as a free-market advocate that fights excessive government regulation that costs businesses and, ultimately, the consumer.

State Fair declared success in spite of fatal shooting

DALLAS (AP) — Even though a shootout left one man dead and three wounded at the Texas State Fair, officials declared the 1988 fair a success and said overall crime was down.

Fair communication director Nancy Wiley said 2.9 million people visited this year's fair, which ended Sunday night. Attendance was up from 2.76 million in 1987, she said.

Dallas police Deputy Chief R.L. Schifelbein, who oversees fair security, said preliminary figures Sunday night indicated 112 criminal offenses were committed this year at the fair. He estimated eight to 12 more offenses would be added to that total after a final report came in Monday.

That compares to 146 criminal offenses last year, he said. "Despite that isolated incident Friday, the officers on the detail this year worked extremely hard to make this a safe fair," Schifelbein said.

He attributed the success partly to five police stands built five feet off the ground along the midway, giving officers a better view of what was taking place.

Schifelbein said he will discuss with fair officials the possibility of installing metal detectors at entrances next year. "That might cut down on the number of weapons that are brought in," he said.

Schifelbein said he also has talked with fair organizers about spreading "school days," when large numbers of high school and junior high school students attend the fair with free passes, over several days.

The Friday night shooting occurred on one of the school days. Eighteen-year-old Bobby Joe Nabors Jr. died of multiple gunshot wounds after he shot two other men and then an off-duty police officer fired twice at him, police said.

Shooting victims Joey Henry, 23, and Richard Vasquez, 35, both of the Dallas, were in serious condition Sunday at Parkland

Memorial Hospital, officials said.

Sgt. Manuel Vasquez, who is not related to Richard Vasquez, was on-duty at the park and tried to wrest a pistol away from Nabors. Vasquez was shot in the left hand and lost part of a finger, police said.

Ms. Wiley said she does not believe the shooting will dampen the image of the Texas State Fair.

"There have been incidents in the past, and it's something that with the numbers of people (at the fair) is going to happen every once in a while," she said. "This is the exception rather than the rule to the fair-going experience."

Also at the Texas State Fair, at least four people were injured Saturday on a Ferris wheel when it malfunctioned, The Dallas Morning News reported.

The four Dallas residents were treated and released from Baylor University Medical Center after the ride jolted back and forth several times and swayed uncontrollably, the newspaper said.

Ms. Wiley said a highlight of the 1988 fair was a laser show at the Cotton Bowl seen by an estimated 350,000 people.

This year's 17-day fair will be expanded to 24 days in 1989 so that the attendance can be spread out over another weekend, Ms. Wiley said.

The ultimate sacrifice

By James Jacoby

Fred Hamilton is that rare expert who knows when an unusual play is needed. Sitting East and defending three diamonds doubled, he made a highly dramatic but effective play when he eventually got on lead.

The auction was normal. North sensed that the opponents were about to stop at a heart partial, so he stuck in a two-no-trump bid to ask his partner to bid a minor suit at the three-level. This works fine if partner has four cards in one of the minors and a few high cards. Otherwise it may be lights out for North-South. When South settled in three diamonds, Hamilton, sitting East, was happy to double.

West led the spade king and received a discouraging seven from East. So West led a low club, covered by the jack and queen. Declarer won his ace and played back a spade. West took the ace and now led a heart. Declarer won dummy's ace, ruffed a club and shed dummy's small heart on the jack of spades. Fred Hamilton ruffed and found the one card in his hand that could set the contract. He played the king of diamonds right into the A-Q in dummy. Declarer ruffed another club and ruffed a heart in dummy. But now Fred threw away his last heart as South ruffed still another club. Fred was left with 9-8-6 of trumps and dummy with Q-7, but declarer could not score a trick with the diamond seven. Had Fred played a low diamond back rather than the king, South would have won in hand and would have been able to ruff hearts in dummy before East could discard a heart, eventually making the doubled contract.

N. Texas hospitals cited in Medicare inspections

DALLAS (AP) — A dozen North Texas hospitals failed to meet federal standards in Medicare inspections over the last 2½ years with violations ranging from unsanitary food handling to poor record keeping, records show.

Despite the Medicare inspectors' findings, the medical community's self-policing arms — the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations and the American Osteopathic Association — never wavered publicly in granting their seal of approval.

Nearly a third of the hospitals cited for Medicare deficiencies since January 1986 have been in Texas. Federal officials say that may be because more people are aware of the complaint process that triggers Medicare inspections.

All 12 North Texas hospitals have corrected the problems cited by inspectors, records show. But one hospital narrowly missed being ruled ineligible for federal Medicare payments.

In doing so, John Peter-Smith Hospital in Fort Worth became the only one of the 12 to attract public attention to its problems.

It was the federal government, however, not the accrediting organizations, that drew the 414-bed hospital into the limelight. The Tarrant County public hospital was nearly cut off by Medicare in February 1987 before administrators hired nurses to fill shortages and spent $1 million to improve record keeping.

At other hospitals with at least one deficiency between January 1986 and June of this year, records obtained by The Dallas Morning News under the Freedom of Information Act show:

— At HCA South Arlington Medical Center, licensed for 285 beds, syringes of injectable drugs and other medications were accessible to any patient or visitor in the birthing rooms during an inspection in July 1987. At the same hospital, nurses put dirty food trays into meal carts before all clean trays were delivered to patients, a violation of hospital policy that attempts to control the spread of infections.

— At 156-bed Mesquite Physicians Hospital, a liquid controlled substance was found on top of an unattended medication cart in a public hallway.

— At 148-bed Lewisville Memorial Hospital, bought by Hospital Corp. of America since its inspection in March 1987, nurses administered drugs without a doctor's order.

Last-second shot lifts WTC past Hill in season opener

DALLAS -- What a way to win a season opener.

Western Texas College, playing in Reunion Arena, home court of the NBA's Dallas Mavericks, got a last-second shot from 6-7 sophomore Vladimir McCrary to defeat Hill County, 80-78 here Saturday.

Western trailed by 5 points with less than 30 seconds to play before pulling out the victory.

"Anytime you can win it's great. We asked the guys to go out and do whatever it took to win and they did," said WTC coach Tony Mauldin.

Western closed the gap when Bobby Spear made a driving layup. Hill County then missed a free throw. Western came away with the rebound and Bernard Williams nailed an NBA-length 3-point basket with about 10 seconds left to tie the game, 78-78.

Williams, a sophomore from Andrews, then drew a charging call to give Western Texas the ball with two seconds to play. Tony Joyce threw the ball the length of the court to McCrary, who put the winning shot up just before the buzzer sounded.

Williams led all scorers with 22 points. Spear, one of only three returning players for Western, scored 20. McCrary, from San Antonio, landed in double-doubles with 15 points and 10 rebounds, he also added three blocked shots. Keith Hawkins pitched in 9 points.

Vernon Jenkins scored 21 for Hill County. Calvin Smith notched 20 and Kevin Wilbert added 17.

Western hit a hot 10-of-12 from the free throw line - a key to the victory since Hill County had a lopsided edge with 32 attempts. Hill managed to hit only 16, though.

"We started off really slow. We were fumbling the basketball and making bad passes, missing layups," said Coach Mauldin, whose Westerners fell behind by 16 points in the first half. "We finally got going and pulled within two at halftime."

Western led by as many as nine points in the second half but "We made some poor decisions and some poor shots and lost the lead," added the coach.

Mauldin said Western's fans were a big help in the win. "We had great fan support and the guys commented they really appreciated it," noted the coach. "We had quite a few family members from the surrounding area and we had a good group from Snyder. They were a real vocal group."

Idle for a week now, Western will work on improving its game until Tuesday, Nov. 1, when they entertain Southwest Christian at 7:30 p.m.

Article helps Magee win Pensacola Open

GULF BREEZE, Fla. (AP) - Andrew Magee credits Tom Byrum, who he overtook on the final round, with indirectly offering advice that helped him win his first golf tournament on the PGA Tour.

Magee won the $400,000 Pensacola Open with a final round 6-under-par 66 Sunday to edge Byrum, who had a four-stroke lead after 54 holes, Ken Green and Bruce Litzke by a single stroke.

He said he read a newspaper interview that Byrum gave after posting a tournament- and career-best round of 8-under-par 64 Friday on the 7,033-yard, par-72 course at Tiger Point Golf and Country Club.

"I putted terrible" on the first two rounds, Magee said. "I read in his article that he putted really good on Friday, because he squared his stance up and he did this and did that. So I went and squared my stance up Saturday and Sunday and I putted super. So I owe a little bit to reading that article." Magee, 26, said the $72,000 first prize couldn't have come at a better time because his wife, Susan, is expecting a baby in about four weeks.

Magee, who entered the tournament in 64th place on the money list, saw his earnings for the year climb to $240,354 and his lifetime winnings to $480,023.

A four-year pro, Magee finished with a 17-under-par 271.

Magee had finished the third round tied for second with Green, Lietzke and Ray Stewart at 19-under-par 205, four strokes behind Byrum.

Byrum shot 1-under-par 71 Sunday on three birdies and two bogies after carding a tournament-low 64 in the second round to go with a 72 in the first round and 65 in the third.

Green, playing one two some ahead of Magee, had a chance to set up a playoff going into the final hole, but he three-putted the par-4, 443-yard 18th for a bogey and finished with a 5-under-par 67 for the round.

Lady Tigers remain in hunt with victory over Monahans

MONAHANS -- Snyder's Lady Tigers defeated Monahans here Saturday 15-7, 15-13 to stay in the hunt for a post season volleyball playoff berth.

The win put Snyder at 7-5 in District 4-4A competition, tied with Andrews and a game in back of Sweetwater and Fort Stockton with two matches left to play in the regular season.

The Lady Tigers, 17-11 overall, will entertain Big Spring at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Andrews at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Freshmen matches begin action both days at 5 p.m. and JV teams will play at 6:30 p.m.

Scoring on serves for Snyder were Angie Brewster and Holly Fuller 8, Melody Pickering 6, Teena Braziel 5 and Cindy Srna 3.

"We played with intensity. We gave them a lot of offense and we blocked them and worked together on defense real well," said Coach Patty Grimmitt. "The second game we were down 13-7 and got our concentration back and did what we had to do to pull it out and win."

Snyder JV also won over the Loboettes, 15-5, 15-11. Scoring on serves were Monica Garcia 9, Angie Burleson and Robbie Braziel 5, Camille Thompson 4, Veronica Rivas 3, Leticia Escareno 2 and Freda Clay 1.

"We played really good. We had control during the game. Monahans gave us a lot of free balls to work with and we took advantage of them," said Coach Laurie Welch. "Everybody played a did a good job."

Under par effort leaves WTC third

ROSWELL, N.M. -- Coach Dave Foster must be shaking his head this morning and wondering what it takes to win a conference golf tournament.

His Westerners shot 1-under-par here Saturday to place third in the second WJCAC tournament of the season.

"The effort this week was a lot better than in the past. We actually played as a team for the whole tournament instead of just the first 18 holes," said Foster. "You can't be too disappointed when your team shoots under par. When the last place team shoots even par that's pretty strong."

New Mexico Junior College won the 27-hole event with a 13-under 419. Second was Odessa with a 425, followed by Western Texas and Midland with 431s, and New Mexico Military Institute with an even-par 432.

Western was led by Andrews sophomore Mark Burgen, who shot a 2-under 105 to place third in the medalist race. Lance Jones shot 106 and Darrell Cofer 110. Others playing for WTC were Jeff Beal, 114; Jeff Baker, 116; and Gary Schoen, 117. Freshman Wade Hatter, playing as an individual, shot 120.

"It was an especially good effort from Mark, Lance and Darrell," said Foster, who added. "We want to try to keep the momentum going."

Western enters the 36-hole, 18-team Texarkana Invitational on Thursday, Oct. 27.

After falling behind 20-0...

Eagles rally, beat Cowboys

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - If the Philadelphia Eagles could eliminate the first period of their games, they might be leading the NFC East.

The Eagles have been outscored 63-0 in the first periods of the last six games. For the season, the score stands at 63-35, with 21 of the 35 against Tampa in the opener.

The Eagles, 4-4, did it again Sunday. They fell behind the Dallas Cowboys 17-0 in the first 15 minutes and 20-0 at halftime. But as in three other games, they rallied to win, with Randall Cunningham throwing a 2-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Toney with four seconds left for a 24-23 victory.

Cunningham completed 26 of 56 for 298 yards and two touchdowns.

The loss was the fourth straight for the Cowboys and dropped their record to 2-6, their worst start since 1963.

"It's a situation that we've got to change," Cunningham said, referring to the Eagles first-quarter woes.

"But I knew that in the second half something would click," he said. "Maybe in the past we would lose these games, but these guys have confidence now."

Trailing 23-17, Philadelphia got the ball with 2:11 left, and Cunningham took them 85 yards on 16 plays.

The key plays were a fourth-and-8 10-yard completion to Jimmie Giles for a first down at the Eagles' 27, a third-and-10 pass interference penalty against Dallas' Michael Downs at the Cowboys' 20, and a fourth-and-5 13-yard completion to Gregg Garity at the Dallas 2.

The game was a grudge match. Last year, each team accused the other of running up the score in the two games they split.

Sunday, there were two fights and three personal foul penalties. The Cowboys were assessed 16 penalties for 138 yards, the Eagles seven for 32.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry blamed the penalties for the Cowboys' defeat.

"We had a good chance to win this game," he said. "We played well in the first half. Penalties broke up our continuity and killed us."

Landry added, "They made a good drive (at the end). We just couldn't stop them. That's the fourth time we lost in that situation this year."

The Cowboys might have lost the game in the first quarter by wasting all three of their time outs.

At the end of the half, the Cowboys drove to the Eagles' 13 for a first down with five seconds left. But with no timeouts left, Steve Pelluer tried to stop the clock by throwing an incomplete pass.

"We had trouble lining up with our different formations," Landry said. "I guess our guys got mixed up."

Pelluer ended the game completing 32 of 46 for 342 yards and one touchdown.

The Eagles started their comeback when Cunningham capped an eight-play, 83-yard drive with an 11-yard scoring pass to Keith Byars to cut the deficit to 20-7 with 2:07 left in the half.

They made it 20-10 with 9:13 left in the third, on Luis Zendejas' 39-yard field goal.

Dallas then recovered a fumble at the Eagles' 33 and went in to get a 30-yard field goal by Roger Ruzek for a 23-10 lead with 11:14 left in the quarter.

McLanahan stars for WTC at latest SW Region rodeo

LUBBOCK -- Denny McLanahan added 70 points to his bareback total for the season after placing second in the average at the Texas Tech University Rodeo here Saturday evening.

The Western Texas College cowboy, from Canadian, won the short-go with an 81 and scored a 65 in the finals for a total 146. Tarleton State University's Casey Strange won the event with a 147.

McLanahan also added 20 points in the bull riding to earn Western's only points at the three-day, Southwest Region, event. Western Texas finished seventh in the men's division and sixth in the women's division.

Vernon Regional JC won the men's division with 210 points. Tarleton had 190 for second, followed by Eastern New Mexico with 165, Sul Ross State with 140, Odessa with 120, Howard with 100 and Western with 90. Ten colleges scored points.

Tarleton won a hotly-contested women's division with 100 points. Howard scored 95, Texas Tech 92, and Vernon 85.

Western polled 30 points.

McLanahan earned 20 points in the bull riding when he tied with schoolmate Buddy Reed for third place in the first-go with a 72 score. Both took no-scores in the finals but shared fourth place in the average when only Pat Yancy of Tarleton, Kevin Reed of Howard and Shawn Allen of NMMI pointed. Yancy won the average with a 144.

Only two other WTC designated team members reached the finals. Kenny Taton took a no-score in the short-go of the saddle bronc after a first-go score of 65 and Russell Merchant no-timed in the finals of the steer wrestling after clocking a 7.7.

Other WTC students reached the finals but had limited success Saturday evening. They included Terry Graff, Jimmie Uptergrove and Tyler Thames in the calf roping. Uptergrove took fourth place in the short-go with an 11.7 and in the average with a 22.2 on two head. Graff no-timed and Thames' 24.2 finished out of the top four. Uptergrove also reached the finals of the team roping with Troy Johnson of FPC, but their 31.0 on two head did not place.

Graff also competed in the finals of the steer wrestling but finished fifth in the average.

In women's action, Melanie Graf placed second in the first-go of the goat tying with an 8.9. Her 11.4 in the finals was too long, however. Teammate Tana Mahoney reached the finals with a 9.4 and clocked a fourth-place 10.3 there. Her 19.7 total was fifth overall.

B-1 Bomber has more problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force's B-1 bombers are grounded with maintenance problems far more than the aging planes they are supposed to replace, says a congressional study.

The General Accounting Office study said the time that B-1s weren't available at Dyess Air Force Base in Texas due to maintenance problems ranged from 47 percent to 66 percent.

For systems that have been flying longer, such as the FB-111 and the B-52, the Air Force expects that the total of "not mission capable" rates won't exceed 25 percent of the available hours.

The Air Force responded to the figures by saying it won't have enough experience with the B-1 until 1994 to consider the plane "mature," as the FB-111 and B-52 are now considered.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, disagreed. "When the GAO suggested standards by which to judge the reasonableness of breakdowns, they were told the plane isn't mature yet. But its maturity is being pushed back further by breakdowns," he said.

The GAO study, released Sunday, concludes that "the B-1B has not been mission capable because of maintenance a significant percentage of the time."

In Air Force parlance, "mission capable" means the ability to carry out an assigned job. In the case of the B-1 — which includes the first four prototype B-1As, which are no longer flying, and the next generation of 100 B-1Bs — that would mean a nuclear strike on the Soviet Union.

"The Air Force says the B-1B has been ready to go to war for two years, but when it comes to pinning the service down on some of the plane's problems, the answer is the plane is still just a kid," said Aspin, one of the plane's chief critics.

In response, Capt. Jay DeFrank, a spokesman for the Air Force, said, "This weapon system is not fully mature so it is not valid to compare it to those that are." He added that "all but a few of the B-1Bs could be launched if a wartime crisis were to occur."

DeFrank also said the service wanted to fly the plane more.

Airlift of whales weighed; Soviets dispatch icebreaker

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — Two Soviet icebreakers churned toward Barrow to offer help for two trapped whales as rescuers tried to lure the mammals to freedom, but biologists said they may have to airlift the animals to open water.

"We're having a net built right now" to carry them, David Withrow of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Marine Mammal Laboratory in Seattle said Sunday.

He emphasized that an airlift was the least preferred alternative, to be used only if rescuers fail to coax the California gray whales to open water though a series of freshly cut air holes in the ice.

A third whale, the smallest and the youngest of the mammals trapped in moving ice more than two weeks ago before they could migrate south, disappeared Friday and was presumed dead.

A pontoon-mounted ice auger known as an Archimedes screw tractor was delivered during the weekend by a huge Air Force C-5A cargo plane and was reassembled Sunday.

The device was to begin work today on the outside edge of an ice pressure ridge that stands between the whales and freedom.

"That's the next big project for us," said NOAA biologist Ron Morris, coordinator of the rescue.

NOAA asked the Soviet Union for help, and America's Arctic neighbor ordered the icebreakers Admiral Makarov and Vladimir Arseniev to Barrow, said NOAA Rear Adm. Sigmund R. Petersen, director of the Pacific Marine Center in Seattle.

It was unclear what good the icebreakers could do in the shallow water near the whales. The ships need 39 feet of water to operate, according to the Soviet news agency Tass, and the whales were trapped in water 12 to 25 feet deep.

Even if the icebreakers cannot reach the whales, the ships could help clear a path to open water about 200 miles away, Petersen said.

As high-tech heavy equipment poured into this whaling village during the weekend, Eskimos used chain saws and muscle to make the most progress toward freeing the animals.

"We're marching out to the lead with Inupiat (Eskimo) power," said Morris. "The whales are responding to the holes."

The breathing holes extend more than 1 1/2 miles from where the whales were first trapped.

The Eskimos connected several holes, converting them into a narrow pool 250 feet long to give the whales more room to rest. They made a similar slot in the ice over a shoal about 5 feet deep.

Specifications concerning this bid construction and the equipping of the greenhouse may be secured by calling or writing Sandra Fulford, Snyder Independent School District Administration Building, 2901 37th Street, Snyder, TX 79549 (915/573-5401). The contractor is subject to complying with federal regulations and the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act. Wages and hourly rates for Scurry County are available in the district's business office. Bids will be due in the Administration Building District on or by 12 noon, Monday, October 31, 1988. The Snyder Independent School District reserves the right to waive any or all formalities, and to reject any or all bids.

Bush still ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — In baseball, "It's not over till it's over," and in basketball someone once appropriated an operative metaphor, "It ain't over till the fat lady sings." But in presidential politics perhaps it is best put by Tom Cole of the Oklahoma Republican Party: "I don't think anyone who is outregistered 2-1 can take anything for granted."

And so it stands, two weeks before Election Day. George Bush is ahead, but uneasy lies the crown.

Michael Dukakis picked up an underdog's second wind last week, answering weeks of spectacular Bush advertising with some creative counterattacks of his own, and stumping the industrial Midwest with a fervent critique of Republican economics.

Airport project due display here

Workmen leveled and lengthened the main runway to 5,600 feet, resurfaced the taxiways and hangar areas, repaved the east-west runway and generally accomplished a total refurbishment of the county-owned airport.

The project received a major boost early this year when the FAA approved a second grant, for $750,000, to include the taxiways and east-west runway in the work.

Fires keep units busy spokesman said. The fire started outside on the south side of the greenhouse and burned some woodwork and fiberglass during the hour-long emergency.

In addition, there was a 12:40 p.m. Sunday call from Jonisue Stiff, 20 miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont Hwy., to check an apparent electrical short, which took about an hour.

Obituaries

Joyce Wellborn

Services for Joyce Marie Wellborn, 52, of 2308 41st St. will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at First Baptist Church auditorium with the Rev. Bear Williams officiating, assisted by the Rev. Danny Williams. Burial will follow at Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

She died at 7:50 a.m. Monday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. She was born Nov. 19, 1935 in Snyder. She had been an x-ray technician in Sweetwater for 12 years and at Cogdell Memorial Hospital for nine years. She was a Baptist.

She is survived by a daughter Mrs. Randy (Terrye) Williams of Odessa; two grandchildren; four sisters, Estelle Pierce, Frances Allen, Charlene Jarrett and Doris Alexander, all of Snyder; and one brother, Charles Wellborn Jr. of Snyder.

Testing to be school priority

The grading plan allows students to make a "C" in an honors course and still gain a comparable number of points toward their grade point average as an "A" in a regular class.

This insures that the harder study program will not adversely affect class ranking, a factor which is becoming more important for admission to college.

Honors courses implemented at the high school include Physics, Chemistry II, Biology II, English III and IV, Calculus and Pre-Calculus.

The junior high has also implemented honors courses in English and math to include Algebra I, which is normally first offered to high school freshmen.

And at all levels, beginning at the elementary grades, teachers are being told to encourage essay writing and to give tests which cover an entire six-week period.

These measures are viewed as a way to teach students to prepare for "the big tests" which they must take as their public school education draws to a close.

In particular, greater emphasis is being placed on writing skills. For six-weeks and semester tests, the direction is that one-half of these tests be comprised of written essays.

"We've gotten to far away from writing," Moseley said, "but this is where students develop the ability to express ideas. Now, there will be more writing at all grades."

As part of this emphasis statewide, he noted that in 1990 the exit-level TEAMS exam will add an essay test.

Locally, the grade on the six-weeks test is being emphasized. Teachers are being told that its score should count as one-fourth of the student's entire grade for that period.

"We also want that six-weeks test to cover the entire six weeks," Moseley noted.

Also new this year, each classroom period has been extended to 50 minutes at the junior high and to 60 minutes at the high school.

More emphasis on individual departments at both secondary levels was incorporated last year including an effort to coordinate the teaching curriculum for such areas as math, history and science.

In another attempt to aid the student planning to attend college, Snyder High School officials have implemented "C-Studies."

This class, offered from 7 until 9 p.m. each Tuesday, instructs students on how to take the two college entrance exams, the ACT and the SAT.

To identify what other schools are doing to improve their academics, department heads at both junior high and high school will be visiting larger schools this year to "search for new ideas."

"We're coming to a time when there will be higher expectations at all grades for all children," commented Moseley.

John Smith was elected president of the Jamestown colony council in Virginia in 1608.

Weekend has several arrests

Three Lubbock men were arrested on charges related to drinking, drugs and an illegal weapon at 8:03 a.m. Saturday in the 2200 Block of College Ave.

The 24-year-old driver was taken into custody for DWI while a 22-year-old passenger was arrested for misdemeanor possession of marijuana and a 19-year-old man was arrested for unlawfully carrying a weapon, a butterfly knife, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Following a 4:09 p.m. Sunday report of a man and a woman fighting in the front yard of a residence in the 1000 Block of 27th St., a 37-year-old man was arrested there on a charge of public intoxication.

A 9-year-old boy was arrested for shoplifting at 6:47 p.m. Sunday at a College Ave. supermarket and a 15-year-old boy for stealing a bicycle at 10:56 p.m. Sunday in the 500 Block of 28th St.

Sheryl Orona of 220 34th St. had told police at 9:19 p.m. that her husband had seen a youngster riding the blue 26-inch girl's 10-speed bicycle and was following him in the area of 30th St. and Ave. E. The bike, reported missing Oct. 16, had been repainted black.

A 20-year-old man was arrested for DWI at 2:34 a.m. Sunday in the 1900 Block of 24th St., and three men were taken into custody, a 43-year-old for DWI and a 29-year-old and 50-year-old for public intoxication, at 2:37 a.m. Sunday in the 2100 Block of Ave. Z.

A 29-year-old man was arrested for PI at 4:57 a.m. Sunday in the 300 Block of 28th St. and a 28-year-old man on the same charge at 6:12 a.m. Sunday in the 500 Block of 29th St.

U. S. negotiates 'tricky course' in Lebanon today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration, smarting from its long and tragic involvement in Lebanon, is treading softly through the maze of Lebanese politics with a nervous eye on the country's creeping partition.

U.S. diplomacy is essentially in a holding pattern designed to prevent Lebanon's disintegration, at least until the next U.S. administration takes over and decides whether to continue American involvement or to pull out.

"We want to do nothing that will judge that country into partition," said Richard Murphy, the assistant secretary of state who has dealt with Lebanon in recent years.

AP analysis

Murphy's latest gambit was a shuttle to Lebanon in September to try to work out a list of presidential candidates acceptable to the Christians who have traditionally run the country, the Moslems who constitute its majority and to Syria, which controls large parts of Lebanon.

"Murphy couldn't get Syria to budge" from its support of Mikhail Daher, whom the main Christian group rejected, said an official who accompanied Murphy to Damascus. He spoke on condition he not be named.

U.S. officials now concede their initial support of Daher was wrong because it antagonized Lebanon's Christians and in effect prevented elections from being held.

Instead, tiny Lebanon has two governments, one led by Maronite Christian Gen. Michel Aoun and the other by Moslem acting prime minister Salim Hoss.

Aoun's appointment on Sept. 22, in the last minutes of the presidency of Amin Gemayel, deepened a political schism that threatens to formalize the unofficial Christian-Moslem partition created by Lebanon's 1975 civil war.

Because of the fragmentation, U.S. officials are now dealing with all sides. "There isn't a leader in Lebanon we're not dealing with," Murphy said in congressional testimony.

But that course is also fraught with problems. Both Christians and Moslems last week accused U.S. ambassador John McCarthy of interfering in Lebanon's affairs, although both sides had earlier urged U.S. involvement to help resolve the crisis.

The Reagan administration first became enmeshed in Lebanon in 1982, when the United States sent in the Marines to oversee the pullout of Palestinian guerrillas and invading Israeli troops from Beirut. A suicide car bomber put an end to the Marine presence later that year, killing 241 Americans.

But Secretary of State George Shultz was determined. He orchestered negotiations between Israel and Lebanon for a peace agreement in 1983, only to have the rug pulled from under him by Gemayel's abdication of the agreement soon after it was signed.

"Shultz was disgusted and for a long time he refused to touch Lebanon," said Yahya Sadowski, an authority on Lebanon at the Brookings Institution, an independent think tank.

The hands-off policy remained in place until late last year, when Murphy sought permission to try again. This time, the United States wanted to serve as postman between Syrian President Hafez Assad and Gemayel, who weren't talking to each other.

The object of the exchange was to agree on constitutional reforms in Lebanon that would grant the Moslem majority more power and would facilitate the September elections. But that effort also failed, with the sides failing to agree on a power-sharing formula.

With the failure of efforts to find a consensus candidate in September, "they really lost what enthusiasm they had left," said Sadowski.

Why not give up? "We're doing a lot less than we used to," concedes a State Department official who makes daily policy on Lebanon. The United States is no longer trying to build up the Lebanese army, its aid programs are down to less than $1 million and it has washed its hands of attempts to negotiate constitutional reform between the parties, he said.

Could this drug cause a stroke?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My mother was 90 when she had cancer surgery. She was given Haldol nightly for 18 days. Could this have had anything to do with her grand mal seizure and stroke?

DEAR READER: Probably not. Haldol is a tranquilizer used for the management of psychotic disorders: behavioral problems characterized by confusion, belligerency, over-activity and poor reality-testing. Stroke has not been reported with use of the drug. Seizures are an extremely unusual side effect.

Elderly post-operative patients often exhibit temporary mental deterioration that can be helped by Haldol. Also, older patients are statistically more prone to strokes. While the Haldol could conceivably have contributed to your mother's problem, I believe that the condition is unlikely.

For more information, I am sending you my Health Report "Epilepsy: The Falling Sickness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Your recent column about jock itch brought back memories. My husband switched from nylon to cotton briefs, "huggies" to "swing-frees," one soap to another and still no relief. Then we started running all his underwear through the rinse cycle twice, and that solved the problem.

DEAR READER: Good thought. I conclude that his dermatitis was probably due to soap or detergent residues in the garments. Thanks for writing.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am in my late 20s and taking Lasix for fluid retention/circulation problems. Sometimes I will gain 6 pounds in fluid overnight. It's most noticeable in the morning and after exercise. This has been going on for seven years. What is the problem?

DEAR READER: Fluid retention has many causes: heart and kidney diseases, hormone imbalance, excessive salt intake, certain medicines (such as birth-control pills) and chronic obesity, to name a few.

I don't know why your problem is worse after exercise. Also, I'm not sure why a woman in her 20s would have "circulatory problems." Clearly you need a medical examination to determine the cause of your symptoms and make sure that you don't have an undiagnosed underlying disease. I think that you should see your family doctor to get to the root of the problem.

Jackson donation token of thanks

DETROIT (AP) — Pop star Michael Jackson says his $125,000 donation to the Motown Museum is a token of thanks to the man who gave him his start — Berry Gordy Jr.

Jackson also donated three items from his personal collection to the museum — a trademark glove, a hat and a uniform he wore when he was 13 and performing with the Jackson Five, said museum spokesman Lee Solters.

"I'm very happy and proud to be back to the soil from which I came," Jackson said Sunday. "Berry Gordy is the man that made it all possible for me. I want to say thank you, Berry, and I love you."

Gordy, who founded Motown Records in 1959, called Jackson one of the museum's greatest supporters.

"The public will believe anything, so long as it is not founded on truth," according to Dame Edith Sitwell, the English poet.

Town engaged in drug war

MIDLOTHIAN, Texas (AP) — A year after an undercover narcotics officer was slain, Midlothian residents are working to overcome the problem that brought him to town: teen-age drug use.

Rookie officer George Raffield Jr., 21, was shot to death by two Midlothian High School students after they learned he was investigating their drug connections.

The murder shocked the small town just 25 miles south of Dallas. It was only the third homicide in five years and most residents had no idea the town had a drug problem.

"It's one thing to hear that it (the drug problem) is everywhere, but it's another thing to know it is here," said Midlothian parent Richard Norman.

But Raffield's death left an indelible impression on the town of 5,085.

"I think the primary thing it has done is given our city a conscious awareness that no one is immune to that sort of thing. Where in the past, like anybody, we may have had an it-can't-happen-to-me attitude," Mayor Maurice Osborn told The Dallas Morning News.

Raffield was shot to death in a deserted field near Farm Road 875 on Oct. 23, 1987. His "buddies" while he worked undercover to crack a drug problem at Midlothian High School are imprisoned for the killing.

Greg Knighten, 17, was convicted in June of shooting Raffield twice in the back of the head. He and Richard Goglein, 18, who turned state's evidence against Knighten, are serving 45-year prison sentences for his death. Admitted co-conspirators Jonathon Jobe, 17, and Cynthia Fedrick, 23, are serving shorter terms.

But in the past year, the incident has prompted community volunteers and school and city officials to establish or accelerate anti-drug programs that reach into the high school, middle and elementary schools, the community and the homes.

Already, efforts across the community have included:

—A Student Assistance Program, staffed by Midlothian High School teachers who try to identify and get counseling or other relief for troubled teens.

—An on-site professional counselor from a private Arlington drug-treatment hospital that provides free services for high school students, at the request of school officials.

—The George Raffield Jr. Memorial Scholarship for a senior who has participated successfully in the two-year-old Just Say No group.

—Alternative activities sponsored by REACH Midlothian, a group of 40 volunteers working on anti-drug projects, including the chemical-free dances for high school students after every home football game and the recent "lock-around-the-clock" slumber party for middle school students.

—Plans for a local Tough Love chapter that will give families involved in drug rehabilitation a support network closer to home.

In September, the City Council unanimously approved $13,000 to fund REACH Midlothian, which was formed last spring.

George Burns book due out soon

NEW YORK (AP) — George Burns, who for years urged his wife and partner in comedy Gracie Allen to "Say goodnight, Gracie," still has something to say to her 24 years after her death.

At 92, he has collaborated with ghostwriter David Fisher on the book, "Gracie: A Love Story," due out next week.

"I have to be honest. I was a lousy lover," Burns writes. "But Gracie married me for laughs, not for sex. Of course, she got both of them — when we had sex, she laughed."

In 1964, when the heart disease that had plagued her for years finally took Gracie's life, Burns was inconsolable. For a time, Burns says, "things were very, very bad for me. My life was Gracie."

Things eventually turned around, but he still visits her grave monthly in Glendale, Calif., bringing flowers and conversation.

"I talk to her," Burns says in this week's issue of People magazine. "I tell her what I'm doing."

Robbins injured in bathroom fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Novelist Harold Robbins, whose pulp pot-boilers have sold more than 500 million copies, was living like one of his own high-rolling protagonists when a bathroom accident left him unable to walk.

Now, 3½ years and more than $1 million in medical bills later, Robbins is doing daily battle with his disability. He also has finished his 19th novel, a loosely autobiographical work called, "The Storyteller," according to this week's People magazine.

Stepping out of the shower, he tripped on a 4-inch-high splash panel and struck his head on a marble counter, sliding across the floor and striking the toilet bowl with such force that he knocked it off its pipes. Doctors told him that his left hip had been shattered and his right fractured.

Robbins is undergoing therapy and has had an electrical device implanted in his spine that helps him fight off the worst of the pain, the magazine says. He has graduated from a wheelchair to a walker to lightweight crutches.

Tom's Marine has variety of heaters

Cool mornings and evenings are here and winter is just around the corner. Now is the time to start thinking about your heating and Tom's Marine now carries two types of heaters, the Kero-Sun and the new Heat Machine.

Efficiency is the key word in describing a Kero-Sun heater. These portable heaters give out instant heat for only pennies an hour. And since the Kero-Sun uses only clean-burning kerosene fuel, you get over 30 hours of warmth on less than two gallons of fuel. That means more pennies in your pocket.

Tom's Marine is the exclusive carrier of Kero-Sun heaters in Snyder, and Tom offers many different models to choose from and can help you find one to suit your needs.

All Kero-Sun heater models have been tested for combustible by-products. They can be operated continuously with complete safety. They burn with no soot or smoke and for complete peace of mind, every model is equipped with a unique shut-off device which instantly puts out the flame in the event of a tip-over.

Another feature of the heater is the push button lighting system. Press a button and battery powered electric igniter automatically starts glowing right above the heater's wick. Each heater comes complete with batteries and a fuel syphon pump for easy filling.

If electric heat is what you prefer, Tom's Marine now carries the all new Heat Machine. This compact six inch square device provides 5200 BTU's of in-

Kidnapped boy found dead in woods

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A 5-year-old boy abducted from an apartment complex apparently died of a blow to the head and was found in a nearby wooded area, authorities said.

Fort Worth police said the body of Michael Toston was found Sunday near The Brookhollow apartments, where the child was last seen alive Saturday.

A child found the body while playing in a field near the apartment complex, police said. The boy reportedly was abducted while playing with friends.

Fort Worth Police Sgt. Paul Kratz said the case has been classified as a homicide. The police investigation is being hampered because most of the witnesses to the boy's disappearance are children, he said.

Using helicopters and dogs, police searched for the child from Saturday afternoon until early Sunday morning.

and actually cleans the air that it circulates. With no burning fuel there are no noxious fumes and no smoke residue to contend with.

Let Tom Machen and David Cunningham of Tom's Marine set you up for the chilly autumn and cold winter ahead with a Kero-Sun heater or a Heat Machine. Tom's Marine is located at 315 East Highway.
