

PTK, student senate honor...

WTC staffer Fleer recognized today for college service

Dr. Gil Fleer was honored for outstanding service to the students of Western Texas College at a reception Tuesday morning in the Student Center. Selection of the recipient of the award is made each year by members of the campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and the Student Senate. The reception also marks Phi Theta Kappa's Founder's Day. Kevin Pruitt, president of the WTC Student Senate, extended the welcome to those attending. Allison Adams, a member of Phi Theta Kappa's executive committee, made the presentation to Fleer. The names of the award winners are engraved on a permanent plaque displayed in the Student Center. The outstanding service award was created in 1983 to recognize a faculty or staff member at the college who has "gone beyond" their normal range of responsibilities to help and encourage students. Dr. Franklin Pruitt was the first to receive the award. Others who have been honored are Mike Otto in 1984; Martha Gist in 1985; Joe Carter in 1986 and, in a dual selection, Dr. Jim Tully and Pam Johnson in 1987. Fleer is a professor of See FLEER, page 9

Ask Us

Q. — Pertaining to rock music, please explain the difference between "rock music" and heavy metal music.

A. — Heavy metal music is generally associated with the more "radical" forms of rock featuring themes of youthful alienation, protest and partying. It features a loud, electronically amplified guitar sound with long guitar solos and a heavy drum beat. Current bands with a heavy metal sound include such groups as AC-DC and Twisted Sister.

In Brief

Court decides

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, at least for now, is keeping out of the continuing national debate over abortion rights. The justices on Monday refused to give husbands legal power to prevent their wives from terminating pregnancies.

Local

Smokeout HQ

The "adoption headquarters" for this year's Great American Smokeout observance is at Li'l Rascals on the south side of the downtown square. County residents are encouraged to "adopt a smoker" this coming Thursday. Kits are provided at the headquarters which are designed to help these individuals give up smoking at least for one day.

Last contest

The two winners of the last SDN Football Contest of the season had only one miss each. Using the tie-breaker method, Israel Hinojos of 1301 Ave. R. won the $12.50 and Randy Riggs of 3605 41st St. won the $5.

Pickup stolen

Police are investigating the reported theft of a pickup truck from West Texas Animal Clinic on the U.S. 84 by-pass east of Snyder. The clinic reported Monday afternoon that the pickup, which is usually parked behind the clinic, had been taken. It was described as a two-tone gray 1982 Dodge half-ton, license number 232 3ML.

Chamber meet

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce will meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday for the board's regular monthly meeting. Also, the November session for the Board of County Development will be at noon Wednesday at the Snyder Country Club.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Monday, 84 degrees; low, 51 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Monday, 65 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1988 to date, 20.51 inches. West Texas: Freeze warning tonight in the Panhandle. A slight chance of a shower or thunderstorm South Plains and Panhandle and areas of blowing dust from the Permian Basin northward as well as far West Texas. Clear and colder tonight with a general freeze expected in the Panhandle.

PLO declares independence, adopts new moderate policy

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The PLO's parliament-in-exile proclaimed an independent Palestinian state early today, approving a new, moderate political program that indirectly recognizes Israel and renounces terrorism. Addressing the body, PLO chairman Yasser Arafat declared that the state, with Jerusalem as its capital, would be run by "a democratic, parliamentary system based on freedom of expression and multiple parties." Palestine National Council delegates in the jam-packed meeting hall at the seaside Palais des Nations broke into applause. The occasion was immediately followed by quiet handshakes, kisses and an occasional tear. Passage of the proclamation, which does not set out any boundaries for the new state, could mark a turning point in the four-decade struggle through repeated Arab-Israeli wars and recurrent guerrilla attacks. Israel gained independence in 1948, when British rule ended. The Palestine Liberation Organization declaration will not necessarily have any immediate effect because the PLO is unable to challenge Israel for actual control, either in the occupied territories or in Israel proper. PLO leaders consider it rather as a historic step toward creation of an independent state in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip, where Palestinians have for 11 months been revolting against Israel's 21-year rule. The Palestinians said the boundaries of their new state should be determined in future negotiations. Not unexpectedly, Israel rejected any change in its attitude toward the PLO even before the new policy was officially approved. "It's not a problem of definition and formulations of various positions," said Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir.

Gorbachev...

Russian sets visit to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev announced today he will visit the United States early next month to address the United Nations. U.S. officials said he will also meet with President Reagan and, possibly, President-elect George Bush. Indeed, Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennady Gerasimov said in Moscow that a meeting with Bush, as well as Reagan, could be "assumed" for "a continuation of the U.S.-Soviet political dialogue that we believe should continue without artificial pause." The announcement was made while Gorbachev attended a session on agricultural problems in the Russian city of Orel, south of Moscow, and was carried by the official Soviet news agency, Tass.

The Soviet Communist Party general secretary also will visit Britain and Cuba, the announcement said. U.S. officials said the visit to New York and a fifth meeting with Reagan would take place around Dec. 7. "Mikhail Gorbachev intends to appear in New York at the session of the General Assembly of the U.N. to set forth the views of the Soviet Union on the most important problems of world development," Tass said. Two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today such a session could give Bush the chance to build on recent positive Soviet moves around the world.

Interviewed today, Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., pointed to "some of the moves taking place in the Soviet Union, and its affect on Europe in particular and the third world in general," and said the New York meeting would give the president-elect "a significant opportunity... to take positive advantage" of such developments. Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., interviewed with Biden on the NBC TV "Today" show, said Bush "has a number of fronts where there are major opportunities. Clearly, the Soviet Union and east-west relations is one, moving on human rights, trade, regional conflict resolution and arms control." The meeting with Reagan around Dec. 7 would give the two sides another chance to narrow the gap on a treaty to reduce long-range nuclear weapons arsenals and to ease tensions caused by Afghan rebel attacks on Soviet troops in Afghanistan and a slowdown in the Red Army's withdrawal from the country.

The treaty is bogged down with several technical problems that may not be easily solved. But on Afghanistan, the Soviets already have pledged to have all their forces out by Feb. 15.

TDC class 2nd round now slated

Dates have been established for the application and selection process for the second correctional officers training class offered through Western Texas College for employment with the Texas Department of Corrections. A class size of around 40 is sought. WTC officials note that the second class will graduate April 20 and its members will be eligible for employment at the 1,000-man unit scheduled to be completed here in mid-June.

Applications for the class will be made available beginning Dec. 1 and will be accepted through Jan. 10. These should be picked up and returned at the office of adult and continuing education.

College officials note the WTC campus will be closed for the Christmas holidays from Dec. 16 until Jan. 2, so those considering enrolling in the class are encouraged to pick up their applications prior to the 16th. They stress also that four documents are required from applicants, a driver's license, social security card, certified birth certificate and a copy of a diploma or transcript documenting the highest level of education completed.

Regarding the birth certificate, they note a "certified" document is one issued by a state, county or municipal authority. Birth certificates issued by a hospital or church are not acceptable.

Other dates associated with the second class will include: —Jan. 12, all applications will be mailed to TDC.

Jan. 31-Feb. 1, the pre-screening of applicants will be completed by the TDC staff here. This includes a weight check, administration of the pre-See GUARD, page 9

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A lot of government programs have three things in common—a beginning, a muddle and no end."

Frances Billingsley continues a long family tradition of community service. After running unopposed in last week's general election, Frances was sworn-in Tuesday as Scurry County Clerk.

Her father, Jimmy Billingsley, served as county clerk from 1941 to 1950. An active member of the Little People of America, Frances is considered a "giant" by those who have worked with her over the years while she was a deputy district clerk.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin administered the oath of office Monday morning. The judge, who stands 6-4, asked Frances to stand and quipped, "This is the long and short of it."

Mary Griffin sent us a timely article about helium-filled metallic balloons given for special occasions. The article noted that few are aware of the potential damage and injury that these balloons can cause.

Such balloons are created by depositing a thin film of vaporized aluminum on mylar. Because of the helium, the balloon will rise for a time after release and then settle back to earth. In either ascent or descent, the balloon may come into contact with two power lines or with one line and a ground wire and cause serious problems.

The aluminum coating acts as an electrical conductor. The result is a large surge of current flowing over lines not designed to handle such loads.

It can cause transformers to explode, high-tension lines to melt and home circuits to overload. Home appliances can be ruined, computers damaged and data lost. Traffic signals may be knocked out and power company employees injured.

One might beware of such festive balloons. There's no use turning a happy occasion into a tragedy.

WTC establishes bid review steps

Western Texas College trustees Monday established a procedure of review for bid item purchases—declining to adopt a requirement that all such requests of $2,000 or greater come before the board for discussion before bid specifications are prepared. Instead, the board instructed the administration to provide general bid information to trustees prior to the monthly meetings on any items projected to cost in excess of $5,000. If individual trustees wish to discuss such purchases further, this will give them sufficient time to notify administrators prior to the board meeting, it was noted. Trustees added that such bid purchases are reviewed by the board during budget planning sessions and that further review would often only be a duplication. Trustees reserved the right to question or to provide direction for such purchases, however, with the stipulation that they be notified of the impending purchase prior to bids actually being sought. The board direction came during the regular November meeting of trustees. At it, the board considered for review an upcoming bid purchase involving a new sprayer for the grounds and golf course operations at WTC. The discussion was the first related to the board proposal to See COLLEGE, page 9

218 drug fugitives rounded up

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Some 218 narcotics fugitives responsible for nearly $6 billion in drug sales were picked up in Southeastern Gulf states during a 10-week federal operation that paid for itself in seized cash and property, officials said.

Included in $1.3 million in seized cash and goods was a $127,000 Ferrari Testarossa authorities seized from accused drug trafficker Nicholas Hunter-Reay. He was serving as a member of a sheriff's advisory council and substance abuse committee when arrested in Miami.

A key to the project's success was a special computer program called "Scorecard," which was capable of storing and sorting through a vast quantity of data from fugitive case files to develop leads for the teams trying to locate the alleged drug figures.

Leads developed through Scorecard were passed along to deputy marshals and local police who checked out the information and made the arrests.

Operation WANT II, a code-name for the U.S. marshals' warrant apprehension narcotics team, was headquartered in El Paso, Texas.

Investigative teams worked in Tampa, Jacksonville and Miami, Mobile, Ala., New Orleans and Galveston, Texas. Fugitives targeted were on the run from two to 13 years and ranged from accused Colombian smugglers to crack street dealers.

The fugitives included 84 alleged drug lab operators, narcotics financiers, major drug suppliers or lead figures in drug organizations, said the marshals service.

"The message is they're not forgotten once they're indicted," said Ralph Carr, a deputy marshal from Jacksonville.

Altogether, 249 were arrested, 218 of them narcotics fugitives. The arrests cleared 402 warrants, representing 10 percent of the outstanding drug fugitive warrants in the country, said Richard Cox, a federal marshal in Tampa.

"This program demonstrates that if the government would commit the resources to the drug-trafficking war, then we could win the war," said Miami U.S. Attorney Dexter Lehtinen. "The problem in the war has not been that the dopers are unapprehensible or that the government cannot find them — the problem is that the public is not yet committed to winning the war on drugs."

Federal marshals, working with local law enforcement teams, made 38 arrests in Miami; 18 in Tampa; 13 in Jacksonville; 24 in New Orleans; 15 in Mobile; and nine in Galveston. Three were arrested by an international team, and 98 other arrests were generated out of El Paso.

The operation cost $1.1 million and was launched Aug. 27 when 105 deputy marshals were assigned full-time to special units.

This marked the second such project. Last year, there were 166 arrests.

Catching drug fugitives is difficult because they have the cash to stay mobile, Cox said.

"Typically, they are a little more sophisticated than other fugitives. They move around, buy airline tickets, change identities," he said.

Daniel Horgan, chief federal marshal in Miami, emphasized that many of those found in the sweep were still in the drug business.

"They weren't out there selling hats and T-shirts on the street. They were out there selling dope," Horgan said.

Francisco Penaranda, arrested Sept. 25, helped distribute huge quantities of cocaine from Colombia throughout the United States and Canada for more than six years, Horgan said. Authorities estimated his ring also helped launder $3 billion in drug profits.

Another fugitive corralled was Nicholas Hunter-Reay, a former partner of convicted Medellin cartel kingpin Carlos Lehder Rivas.

Dear Abby

Memories of Childhood Incest Gnaw at Woman's Conscience

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you because I can't tell this to anyone else.

I am carrying a terrible load of guilt from my past that I can't forgive myself for, and I can't forget. I committed incest with my brother when I was 11 years old and he was only 3. This happened only once, but I can't get it out of my mind. I am 50 years old and he is 42, and I don't know whether he remembers it or not. I am too ashamed even to ask his forgiveness. We do not live close to each other. I live in the Midwest and he lives in California. He is happily married with a nice family.

Without making this a book, I'll try to fill you in on some of the details. Our mother was sick much of the time when we were growing up. She was hospitalized several times for what they called "nervous breakdowns." Our father was a devoted husband and a loving father. Both parents are gone now.

I have been married to a recovering alcoholic for 30 years. He is in A.A. and I am in Al-Anon — that's probably what brought all this to the surface. In trying to work the 12-step program, this guilt keeps coming up, and I don't know what to do with it.

Please help me, Abby. Most of the people who know me think I'm a nice person. Writing this has been one of the hardest things I've ever had to do. If you think printing my letter will help someone else, you may, but please, do not mention where it came from.

A TROUBLED WOMAN

DEAR TROUBLED: You are absolutely no reason to feel any guilt or shame. You did not commit "incest," my dear lady! You were a curious 11-year-old girl who went on a fact-finding expedition and did some preadolescent "exploring." Most children are curious about the opposite sex, and you merely satisfied your natural curiosity.

In all probability, your brother has no memory of this incident. If he has, he has probably dismissed it as a childhood game. Almost all children have played "doctor," or a game of "You show me yours and I'll show you mine." Believe me, it is nothing to worry about, so put it out of your mind and don't give it another thought.

If you aren't able to unload the unearned guilt, please see a professional counselor.

DEAR ABBY: My son was recently married. I am a widow struggling to make ends meet, so I was not able to help finance the wedding.

I just saw the wedding announcement about to be mailed. It says, "The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" (made-up name), but there is no mention of my name as the mother of the groom.

My son asked his mother-in-law why my name was not mentioned. She told him that I had not contributed anything toward the wedding.

Is this proper etiquette?

INVISIBLE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your name should have been mentioned as the mother of the groom. You made a very important contribution to the wedding — the groom, without whom there would not have been a wedding.

Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Canadian winter visitors found slain in mobile home

WESLACO, Texas (AP) — Police enlisted the aid of tracker dogs and the Border Patrol to search for a suspect that neighbors spotted leaving the mobile home of a Canadian "winter Texan" couple found shot to death.

Wilda and Evan Squires of Manitoba, Canada, had arrived in the lower Rio Grande Valley only two weeks ago, said Weslaco Police Chief John Pape.

The shooting took place Sunday night at the Magic Valley Trailer Park in this city about 10 miles from the Mexican border. Justice of the Peace Gilbert Garza pronounced the couple dead at the scene after police were called about 11:30 p.m. Sunday.

Police searched all night and continued searching Monday for the suspect. No arrests had been made by late Monday, said dispatcher Dan Trevino.

The couple's ages and the Canadian city from which they came were not immediately available, the chief said, but added that the two appear to be about 70 years old.

They were shot with what is believed to be a .38-caliber pistol, apparently after surprising a burglar, police said. They were found dressed in their pajamas in a hallway leading from their bedroom to the front of the mobile home, according to police reports.

"They just arrived approximately two weeks ago," Pape said. "Apparently, they came down for the winter again."

Thousands of retirees, primarily from the Midwest and Canada, spend the winter in the subtropical Valley at the southern tip of the state.

This city of about 20,000 normally has one or two murders per year, said Pape, whose first day on the job as Weslaco police chief was Monday.

A young chimpanzee nurses and sleeps with its mother until it is 5 or 6 years old.

Local EMTs featured

Members of the Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women's Association met at The Texan Restaurant for their October dinner meeting and a special program by Perry Westmoreland and Jamie Baldwin with the Snyder Ambulance Service.

Westmoreland, owner of the service, pointed out the four levels of training required which include ECA, ENT, EMT, and paramedic. The men are presently in paramedic training at TSTI in Sweetwater which requires 744 hours, a year's experience and successful completion of state exams.

Currently classed as EMTs, the two men gave the best first aid techniques to use in various injuries. A new water-gel dressing is being used on burns and bad cuts.

For a hip fracture, they stated it is best to stay flat until help comes. For snake bites, use an ice pack and apply pressure on blood flow. They stated there has been a great deal of successful venom research done in Sweetwater.

Symptoms of heartburn and indigestion often accompany heart attacks. The men urged that people not take chances but go for treatment. Contributing causes to heart attack are high blood pressure, stress, blood cholesterol, diabetes, lack of exercise, overeating and smoking.

A new fire extinguisher is available which uses a colorless and odorless gas and is very effective. They stated never use water on a grease fire. The men urged members to take a CPR course stating that even 10 minutes without treatment is often too late to save a life. Advance life support in the field is the next goal of the service.

Pam Dortch, Avon representative, gave the vocational speech. She was associated with her mother in Merkel before coming to Snyder. She has attended several Avon workshops and informed members of the sales structure used with the beauty products company.

Dortch also gave a report on the Discover Lubbock 88 tour attended by three club members.

Penny Cochran, club president, presided at the business session with Vivian Cochran offering the invocation. The audit committee with Dorothy Dortch and Mae Cole and the nominating committee, Pauline Withers, Vivian Cochran, and Juanita Land, were formed.

Visitors to the session were Ruby Deavers, Pat Faver, and Mildred Rogers.

Penny Cochran welcomed and sponsored a new member to the club, Penni Coffee. The next meeting is set at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at The Texan. Anyone interested in the group is invited to attend.

kings, he bid one no-trump. North traded on his six-card club suit, to jump aggressively to game.

Hearts were led, and East won the ace and played another. Declarer now had to bring in the club suit to make his game. How would you accomplish this? Be honest. Wouldn't you lead the jack of clubs for a finesse? If you said yes, you just failed in a contract that you should have made.

This combination of cards lends itself to precise play. Almost surely you will not make three no-trump if East holds the club king. He will win and play back hearts to set you. Nor will you make the contract if West holds K-x-x of clubs, since you will not be able to run the club suit. So it would seem that you need the club finesse-working, plus a reasonable split in the suit. But that does not mean that you must play the club jack right away. Suppose you lead the deuce of clubs. If West plays low, you can put in dummy's 10. If that holds, you can then return to your hand with the spade king to play the jack of clubs. And you will make the hand any time the king of clubs is onside without a bad club split. But playing the lowly club deuce the first time also wins when West has the singleton king. That's the correct play because it costs nothing and may gain a lot.

Holiday bows are featured at club

University Women met for a salad buffet Nov. 1 at Martha Ann Woman's Club with president Brenda Cox presiding.

Kay Hopper, vice-president, introduced Sue Travis of Travis Flowers as the featured guest for the evening. Travis demonstrated ways to tie and create bows and gave ideas for home decor for various seasons and holidays.

Travis showed how to perk up old pot plants with bows and also how to touch up old ribbon bows with a curling iron. Travis passed out materials to members to use in making their own bows.

Martha Millhollon gave a financial report on the ice cream booth at White Buffalo Days. Gayle Wittie gave a report on plans for the Snyder Neighbors Sharing project.

Western clips Cisco, 100-97

Andrews sophomore Bernard Williams nailed down two free throws with seven seconds left, then came up with a crucial steal to help Western Texas' Westerners to a 100-97 win over Cisco here Thursday.

Western led by as many as 18 points, 30-12, early Thursday but the game was a dogfight for the final 16 minutes. "I was telling the guys that the great thing we did was get out on an early start and they had to catch up with us," said Coach Tony Mauldin. "I think we kinda surprised them some. We ran some different things on them and came out with a lot of determination and it surprised them. Finally they adjusted and we had to get down and play good defense."

After trailing by seven at the half, Cisco forged a 60-57 lead on baskets from Eric Brown and Ronald Ateman. Western was able to regain control when Bobby Spear tossed in back-to-back buckets and Cedric Mason came off the bench for another 2-pointer. The six straight points put WTC ahead 63-60 and the Westerners never trailed again. With 1:02 left, WTC's Chawn Cummings was whistled for an intentional foul and Ateman popped in the free throws for a 94-89 game. Cisco algo got possession after the infraction, but the Wranglers also fouled and Jerry Joyce converted for Western. The teams traded free throws before Adrian Hill uncorked a 3-pointer, then went coast-to-coast to put Cisco within two points, 98-96 with 10 seconds left. The Wranglers were unable to steal WTC's inbound pass though, and were forced to foul Williams, who iced his free throws.

Disaster almost befell the home team when Mario Williams stole the ball, lost it out of bounds and in frustration slammed it to the floor. He was slapped with a technical, giving Cisco a free throw and the ball with five seconds left. Hill hit the freebie, but Bernard Williams stole the ball for WTC to prevent a Wrangler 3-point try. Ken Critton, 6-8 freshman from Dallas Roosevelt, led all scorers with 26 points. He also pulled down 12 rebounds. Spear tallied 21, while Vladimir McCrary notched 18, Joyce 12 and Keith Hawkins 8. Cisco, 2-5, got 19 points each from Ateman and Hicks, 16 each from Brown and Mark Chambers, 11 from Hill and 10 from Tyrone Williams. Next action for Western will be Thursday when the Westerners trek to Terrell for a 7:30 p.m. game with Southwestern Christian.

Lady Tigers fall to Cooper in season basketball opener

ABILENE - Abilene Cooper scored 23 second-period points, then held on to defeat Snyder's Lady Tigers in the season opener for both teams here Monday, 59-39.

Cooper led just 12-8 after eight minutes, but took a 35-17 halftime advantage after outscoring the Tigers 23-9 in the second quarter. "We had a chance to tie it up that first quarter although at the end we didn't make a couple of shots we were capable of making. The second quarter they just played exceptionally well," said Coach Ken Housden. Paula Scott led the Cougars with 13 points while Holly McMillon added 11.

For Snyder, Evette Housden pumped in 14, Melody Pickering had 8 and Cindy Srna added 7. "We didn't play well at all, but not to take anything away from them, they have a fine team. I think they are picked to win that (5A) district," said Housden. Snyder was out-rebounded 38 to 20 and shot the ball poorly. "We only hit 15 of 44 from the field for 34 percent and 7 of 19 from the line for 36 percent. That says a lot," panned Housden. Next action for the Lady Tigers will be the Pecos Tournament this Friday and Saturday in Pecos. Due to some late changes in the tournament, the Coach Housden is still awaiting word on when the team will play.

Snyder places three ladies on district volleyball teams

Snyder High School standouts Melody Pickering and Sandra Morin were named to the 1988 All-District 4-4A Volleyball Team, released this week.

Pickering, a 5-9 senior hitter, was a repeat choice to the first team. Morin, a 5-7 senior setter-hitter, was second-team last season.

Snyder senior Rhonda Echols, a 5-8 hitter, was named to the second-team this year.

The trio helped Snyder to an 18-12 season, 8-6 in district play.

District champion Pecos put three girls on the first team, including repeat choice Evonne Acosta, a 5-6 senior. Others chosen from the Eagles were 5-6 sophomore Sophia Terry and 5-6 senior Norma Mata. Sweetwater placed 5-9 junior Pam McNary and 5-8 sophomore Niki Heath on the squad. Selected from Andrews were 5-8 junior Paula Jones and 5-7 junior Christia Rodgers. Also on the first team was Fort Stockton's Terry Webber, a 5-6 senior.

Soviet shuttle has perfect 1st flight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space shuttle Buran orbited the Earth twice today and landed eight miles from its launch pad in Soviet Central Asia, ending with flawless precision its unmanned 3-hour, 25-minute maiden flight.

The Buran, snowstorm in Russian, touched down on a 2.8-mile concrete runway with a puff of dust from its rear wheels and rolled to a halt as three parachutes opened at its rear.

"The U.S.S.R. has successfully tested its first reusable space craft — Buran," official Radio Moscow said, interrupting regular programming two minutes after touchdown.

The flight originally was scheduled for Oct. 29, but the countdown was stopped by computers with only 51 seconds left when an access arm failed to pull far enough away from the rocket. Officials said Monday that they redesigned the joint.

Within 30 minutes of today's landing, Soviet television showed the fully automated approach and landing of the delta-winged U.S. shuttle look-alike in the middle of the barren, brown steppe.

Radio Moscow said the flight, which had been in jeopardy because of cold, rainy weather, went according to schedule, and all on-board tests were completed.

"Buran made little more than two orbits around the Earth. When the testing of all systems was completed, the computer issued landing commands," it said.

The shuttle, attached to its Energia liquid-fuel booster, was launched from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in a flame of yellow, with clouds of white steam lighting up the early morning sky in the Soviet republic of Kazakhstan.

About three-quarters of an hour later, having separated from the booster, Buran's own engines fired twice at an altitude of 99 miles, nudging the craft into its two orbits.

DPS wreck noted

A 1975 Chevrolet four-door driven by James O. Sullenger of San Angelo was in collision with a 1986 Ford two-door driven by Glenn A. Penn of Dallas at 12:14 p.m. Monday at the business exit ramp for U.S. 84 and Hwy. 208.

Penn was arrested at the scene on outstanding Department of Public Safety warrants from Abilene for speeding, failure to display an operator's license and failure to appear in court.

Gate missing from cemetery

Sheriff's officers are investigating the reported theft of an iron gate at Camp Springs Cemetery east of Snyder.

Buddy Burnett of Roby told officers Monday that the gate had apparently been stolen from a gravesite in the central back part of the cemetery.

Prison board revises furlough program

AUSTIN (AP) — With the general election behind, the Texas Board of Corrections retreated from a stricter state prison furlough policy, but board members denied politics influenced their decision.

The nine-member board on Monday adopted a policy that will allow murderers and other violent offenders to be considered for weeklong passes from prison.

On Oct. 27, amid a political uproar, a three-member prison board subcommittee approved an interim ban of furloughs for Texas prison inmates convicted as violent or habitual offenders.

The furlough program became an issue during the recent presidential campaign. President-elect George Bush criticized his Democratic opponent, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, for a prison furlough program in his home state.

But reports showed thousands of Texas inmates had been granted furloughs during Gov. Bill Clements' administration. Clements was state co-chairman of Bush's election effort and was himself a vocal critic of Dukakis.

Clements denied knowledge of the Texas prison furlough system and blamed it on the bureaucracy within the Texas Department of Corrections.

Prison Board Chairman Charles Terrell of Dallas said there was no political pressure to change the furlough program, but conceded that the national campaign brought it to the board's attention.

Terrell said he spoke with the governor about the furlough program, but added, "He (Clements) has not in any sense told us what he wanted us to do. He will be as surprised as you are about what's coming down."

Clements, who appoints the members of the prison board, was in Spain and unavailable for comment, but his press spokesman Jay Rosser said:

"The governor opposes furloughs except in emergency situations and he will review the board's action upon his return."

Clements is scheduled to return to Austin on Nov. 30.

Although the policy approved Monday is less restrictive than the temporary measure, it is tighter than before the interim ban. Terrell said the furlough policy of last month needed to be revised.

There was "a lot of going back and forth on the different effects of what we did, and how we could tighten it without throwing the entire program and the legislative intent aside," said Terrell.

The program will deny furloughs to those convicted of capital murder, sexual offenses, repeat drug offenses, habitual criminals and anyone with outstanding felony charges. Exceptions may be made for medical emergencies or family illness.

Furloughs will be considered for some charged with murder, manslaughter and homicides involving a crime of passion.

The panel also said inmates must be within six months of parole eligibility before being considered for a furlough. In the case of murder offenses, the inmate must already be eligible for parole.

"The furlough policy, correctly administered, is a reasonable risk for rehabilitation and reintegration purposes. The staff has done a very good job. The board is tightening it as far as eligibility," said Terrell.

Terrell said the new rules should reduce the number of furloughs granted by the TDC by about 20 percent. There were 2,300 furloughs granted last year.

Ornaments class starts Wednesday

Students will create one-of-a-kind ceramic Christmas ornaments in a class scheduled by the Scurry County Museum.

Ty Brunson, Western Texas College art instructor, will teach the class from 1:30-3:30 p.m. on Nov. 16 and 30. Students will pay fees of $12 each which will cover the cost of materials used.

Brunson will help students design and decorate their ornaments, which can be as simple or as ornate as the student wishes. Ornaments left in the terra cotta clay would go well with the southwest look popular in holiday decoration this year.

Persons wishing to attend are to call the museum office at 573-6107.

employment test and an interview.

—Feb. 7, TDC will notify WTC which applicants are acceptable for employment pending the completion of a background check and completion of the class.

—Feb. 9: fingerprinting and registration will be completed. At this time, a fee and tuition payment of $200 is due.

—Feb. 11, the first class day.
—April 18, the last day of class.
—April 20, class graduation.

The class involves 120 hours of instruction and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday nights, some Friday nights and some Saturdays.

The current guard class offered through the college has an enrollment of 26. It is scheduled to graduate Dec. 15.

Guest speaker for that ceremony will be Steve Stephens of San Angelo, secretary of the TDC board of directors and owner of the Town and Country Food Store chain.

psychology and sociology and a counselor. He joined the faculty at WTC in 1975 after receiving his doctor of education degree at East Texas State University (ETSU).

A native of Missouri, he earned the bachelor of arts at Central Methodist College in Fayette, Mo., then continued his education at Drew University in Madison, N.J., where he received the bachelor of divinity. He received the master of science degree in guidance and counseling at ETSU.

Fleer's hobbies include baking, a skill he learned while working in a bakery in high school. He has taught popular Continuing Education classes at WTC in the art of baking.

"I believe there is therapy in working with bread," he said in a feature article first printed in the SDN.

"Any hobby can help release tension. Because today's society is even more stressful, the outlet is even more important."

In the same article, he compared this role as counselor to that of a baker. "A baker only facilitates the dough," he said. "Dough has its own will and his (the baker's) only role is to help the dough take shape. As a professional counselor, my job is to simply help shape the person. He is the one growing."

Fleer and his wife, Ruth, have two sons, Philip and Jeff, and a daughter, Susan. Mrs. Fleer is a teacher at Northeast Elementary.

Obituaries

Banie Smith

AMARILLO—Services for Banie Smith of Amarillo, former Snyder resident, are pending in Amarillo. He was the son of Dixie Smith, an early day rancher.

Noah Jackson

SWEETWATER—Services are set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at the McCoy Funeral Home Chapel for Noah Elmer Jackson, 69, who died Saturday in a Bonham hospital. Burial will follow in the Sweetwater Cemetery.

He was the brother of O.E. Jackson of Snyder.

Born in Elmore City, Okla., he had lived in Sweetwater before moving to Spencerville, Okla., 25 years ago. He was a disabled veteran and a member of the Honor Guard.

Survivors include a son, Elmer Lee Jackson of Bakersfield, Calif.; two other brothers, Alton Jackson of London and Buddy Jackson of Sweetwater; and three grandsons.

we've seen — or are likely to see," said Comptroller Bob Bullock of the proposed bill announced Monday by Texas Railroad Commissioner John Sharp.

The measure — which will be introduced in the next state legislative session by Rep. Rick Perry, D-Haskell — would provide tax credits for enhanced oil recovery projects, designed to produce more oil from wells or reservoirs near the end of production under conventional methods.

Representatives of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, East Texas Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association and Amoco Corp. said they support the bill.

College board meets Monday

discuss all upcoming bid purchases prior to the specs being written.

Bill Mitchell, head of the golf course operation, discussed his plans to seek a Hahn brand computerized sprayer which he noted will allow the college to comply with new EPA regulations regarding the documentation of chemical amounts used for course and grounds maintenance.

The board also discussed at length plans at the college farm for the clearing of land and the long range three-year plan at the facility. Ag instructors Bob Doty and Jim Judah met with the board regarding this.

Doty noted that the farm's swine operation is underway with barns built and farrow pens and a finishing floor completed.

During the meeting, trustees accepted also the college's annual outside audit, asking random questions of CPA Larry Anderson of the firm Anderson and West.

As part of this discussion, the trustees indicated they would like an updated report in the weeks ahead on the retirement fund for college personnel. The investments for this fund are administered by a Midland firm selected earlier by the faculty.

Concerning the audit, the board indicated it would schedule a discussion at the December meeting regarding if the college will seek proposals for the audit next year.

The staff was directed also to explore ways to hold down the cost of the audit. A suggestion was to increase the "internal effort" much the same as implemented over the past few years by staffers with the City of Snyder.

Also Monday, the board renamed trustee Bill Wilson and local banker Hubert Cargile as representatives on the WTC Scholarship Foundation, which oversees endowments made toward local scholarship monies.

Trustees attending Monday included Wilson, who presided as president, John Gayle, Bob Hargrove, Howard Sterling, Roy Baze and John Fagin. R.C. Patton was absent.

In other college-related action, the board:

—Approved a one-year bid of $6,310 for publication of the 1989-90 college catalogue. The bid was awarded to Gilliland Printing Company of Arkansas City, Kan.

—Authorized $2,110 in travel expenses for WTC's meat judging team to compete at the National Meat Judging contest in Greely, Colo.

—Ratified a bid of $11,892 to purchase a grinder-mixer to be used at the college farm. The bid, previously approved by individual board members vocally, went to Plains Ford New Holland Inc. of Clovis, N.M.

Two Challenger wives are distressed over new article

HOUSTON (AP) — The wives of Challenger astronauts Mike Smith and Ellison Onizuka said they weren't surprised to read speculation that crew members may have still been alive until the cabin hit the ocean, but that an article detailing the blast was distressing.

"I think I always felt that Mike was alive because his PEAP (personal emergency air pack) was found still attached to his seat ... breathed down three-fourths of the way, which was the same amount of time that it would've taken to impact," Jane Smith said Monday.

"It was in the on position and it is used only on demand, so he had to be breathing in order to receive the air. I have known in my heart always, I felt strongly that he was alive until that time."

At a Monday news conference at a hotel across the street from the Johnson Space Center, Mrs. Smith and Lorna Onizuka discussed an article in Tropic, The Miami Herald's Sunday magazine, that told of the new revelations.

Both women still live in the area. The article brought back painful memories of their loved ones, they said.

"It was very distressing to wake up and see that," Mrs. Smith said of the syndicated article, which appeared Sunday in Houston newspapers.

"There were only a few surprises, some very distasteful revelations I felt were not in good taste, things I would not want my family to read. It's just very difficult to open up these wounds that have never mended for us." Mrs. Onizuka said she hid the article from her children.

"I find it a little distressing to have gotten up Sunday morning and gotten no hints that it was going to be in the paper — to have to hurry and confiscate the paper from my children — and a little mystified as to why the article came out at all — now, forcing us as families to have to revisit the entire incident again," she said.

Tropic quoted anonymous NASA investigators who said the seven Challenger astronauts survived the blast that occurred 73 seconds after liftoff and died only when the cabin, possibly still pressurized, slammed into the Atlantic Ocean at 200 mph.

Tropic editor Tom Schroder said the article, which was submitted to the magazine a couple of months ago, "was a story that should be told."

Schroder said there were a lot of lingering questions about what happened to the astronauts, and the article provided some answers.

"It was the first time this had ever come out, and this is our job (to report the news)," he said.

Mrs. Onizuka said until reading the article she hadn't known that an astronaut's helmet containing part of a head was recovered.

Both women said they believed NASA did a good job in helping their families through the ordeal — providing them with information and sometimes protecting them.

"They supported us at every turn," Mrs. Smith said.

Added Mrs. Onizuka: "I don't know if anything was covered up, I hope not. It was an incident that nobody was prepared for ... or how to handle it when it did happen."

Mrs. Onizuka also said she believes the public doesn't have to know everything about the astronauts' last moments.

"There are some things that I feel are personal," she said, citing autopsy reports, last words or graphic pictures of body parts as things she wouldn't want to be revealed to the public.

"I don't want them remembered in pieces, I don't want to remember them in pieces," she said.

Nelson hosts concert for depositors

WACO, Texas (AP) — An estimated 3,500 Texans turned out for a Willie Nelson concert that the country-and-western singer arranged to help depositors who were cut off from their money when the Leroy Bank failed last year.

Nelson pledged his share of the proceeds from the concert Monday night to the bank's depositors in the form of immediate cash.

The remainder will be used to pay legal costs of the Leroy Bank Depositors Association — which represents about half the bank's small depositors — in their lawsuit against the bank's former owners.

"We've been working hard to keep it (the lawsuit) going," said Wilma Neckar.

Budget chief: anti-tax plan won't work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming chairman of the House Budget Committee says tax increases will be needed next year to make legally required cuts in the federal deficit, despite President-elect George Bush's anti-tax stance.

"Anybody who's dealt with budget issues knows the size of the challenge is too large to exempt any areas," Rep. Leon Panetta, D-Calif., said in an interview. "Once you say this area won't be considered, you paint yourself into a corner."

Panetta said new revenues will have to be part of any package for the required reduction of red ink by tens of billions of dollars, regardless of Bush's oft-repeated campaign pledge "no new taxes."

Under the Gramm-Rudman balanced budget law, the deficit for the 1990 fiscal year — which begins Oct. 1 — is not to exceed $100 billion.

Last week, just two days after Bush was elected, the Reagan administration's Office of Management and Budget raised its 1990 deficit estimate to $132 billion. Panetta said he believes the shortfall will be even higher — closer to $140 billion or $150 billion.

If the deficit target is exceeded, the law requires automatic spending cuts to pare the red ink to $100 billion.

Panetta said Bush's well-known "read my lips" promise to oppose tax increases "create a potential for confrontation" between Democrats and Republicans.

"Republicans will feel a commitment was made that can't be breached in any way, and Democrats will say why should we vote for a tax increase if he has made that commitment," Panetta said.

Panetta, who takes over the budget panel when lawmakers return in January, said he believes Bush's willingness to compromise will be apparent when he submits his first budget to Congress, perhaps in February or March. President Reagan will present his final budget to Congress on Jan. 9, but lame duck presidents' final budgets can be rewritten by their successors.

Enlarged glands may be a problem

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have enlarged glands around my carotid arteries. My old doctor said it was dangerous and had me take medicine. Now he's retired; the new doctor doesn't seem concerned and has stopped my medicine. I have a constant headache and my neck on each side has a very hard place about 1 1/2 inches wide.

DEAR READER: I do not know whether your "enlarged glands" are lymph nodes or the thyroid gland.

If you have swollen lymph nodes, you need a medical examination. Enlarged lymph glands can indicate infection or, in some cases, the presence of tumors.

I suspect that you have a goiter, an enlargement of the thyroid gland. Ordinarily, this is not a serious condition, and can be easily controlled by using thyroid-hormone pills with or without iodine supplements. Thyroid hormone medicine and iodine usually cause shrinkage of the thyroid gland by suppressing its manufacture of thyroid hormones.

You raise another question that has to do with the confusion patients experience when their doctors don't agree. Medical disagreement is a healthy sign of a vigorous profession, in which new and important findings are literally reported weekly.

When doctors disagree, they owe their patients the courtesy of resolving the issue so that patients will not be placed in the middle. Here is an instance where a third opinion would be helpful. Because your new doctor has not taken the time and trouble to enlighten you about your condition, I suggest that you seek another opinion. In this way, your enlarged glands can be explained to you and you can consider what, if any, treatment might be appropriate.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Choosing a Physician." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been storing water in half-gallon clear glass jugs. My neighbor said it will deteriorate and that I should change it every few months. How true is this?

DEAR READER: Stored, unsterilized water can become stale and contaminated with mold. I suggest that you either sterilize the water and the containers (by boiling) or change the water weekly.

Restaurant feeds homeless people

DALLAS (AP) — A five-star restaurant celebrated its second anniversary by whipping up an upscale meal for 100 homeless people at a downtown shelter.

"We wanted to mark our anniversary in a way that really hits home," said Victor Gielisse, co-owner of Actuelle. "It's really scary to think this is happening so close to home. We were there at the shelter last week, and it gives you goose bumps to see the kids, the babies."

The gourmet fare was prepared by the restaurant's staff and served Sunday at the Downtown Dallas Family Shelter. Three waiters came in on their day off. "I didn't even have to ask," Gielisse said.

A typical dinner menu at the shelter consists of chicken-fried steak, mashed potatoes, canned corn and sheet cake.

On Sunday, the fare was more upscale: lima bean and black-eyed pea soup; green salad with basil-vinaigrette dressing; pecan- and bran-crusteds boneless chicken halves; potato pancakes and praline-chocolate bread pudding. The meals would have cost about $45 each at Actuelle.
