Shuttle launch rescheduled for Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The launch of space shuttle Atlantis and five military astronauts on a secret spy satellite mission was postponed today for 24 hours by bad weather.

"The launch of STS-27 has been postponed because of local conditions and unacceptable upper level winds," launch control commentator Hugh Harris reported at 8:55 a.m. EST.

The countdown, blacked out publicly for security reasons, stood at nine minutes when the scrub was called, sources reported. It had been held there for more than an hour while officials waited in vain for a significant break in the cloudy, windy weather, which before dawn had carried intermittent showers.

An hour after the scrub, the clouds had disappeared and the launch pad was bathed in sunshine, but NASA said winds were still too high to have permitted a safe liftoff.

Sources reported the flight had been rescheduled for Friday morning, sometime between 6:32 and 9:32 a.m. EST, the same time it had been set for today. The exact time remained a secret because the mission is classified.

For today's launch, sources had said the actual goal was 7 a.m. but as the bad weather persisted, they said the time was delayed first for an hour, then another hour, before the effort was scrubbed.

The astronauts, who had boarded the spacecraft shortly after 4 a.m. in their bulky escape suits, returned to crew quarters seven miles from the launch pad.

The postponement was nothing new for the crew commander,

Navy Cmdr. Robert L. Gibson. As commander of Columbia on the 24th mission, he had experienced a record seven postponements and had to board the ship six times before finally taking off.

Technicians promptly began emptying the huge external fuel tank of the half-million gallons of liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen that had been pumped aboard overnight. The fuel will be reused for the next attempt at launching.

The forecast for this morning had been ominous for days, and NASA knew it was gambling when it decided to load the fuel tank.

The fickle weather at the Florida launch site has been a persistent problem, forcing numerous delays and postponements of previous shuttle launches. Weather criteria for launch have been tightened since the Challenger explosion of January 1986, but conditions today would not have been acceptable even before Challenger.

Rain on liftoff or landing could damage the ship's thermal protection tiles, and high winds aloft could damage the craft structurally, especially its wings.

Ex-policeman will head felony level of adult probation

Sy Tabor, a Snyder police officer since 1982, will assume the duties of adult probation officer over felony offenders for the 132nd District Court effective Dec. 19.

He was named Wednesday by Larry W. Thompson, current head of the local probation office which oversees both juvenile and adult probationers, and District Judge Gene Dulaney.

Effective Jan. 1, Jenny Peveler will assume overall responsibility for the adult probation aspect of the office and Thompson will head juvenile probation activities.

For adult probationers, Peveler will concentrate on misdemeanor offenders while Tabor will be involved with those serving probationary terms for felony offenses.

Tabor, 26, is currently the officer in charge of Snyder PD's morning shift.

He is a native of Cisco and attended Snyder schools for six years before returning to Cisco in 1979 and graduating from high school there in 1980.

After graduation, he attended Cisco Junior College on football and band scholarships. He returned to Snyder in 1982, joining the police force as a patrolman.

In the summer of 1987, he earned his bachelor's degree in criminology at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin. With his graduation, he earned

Antique cars will aid school's fixup

An antique car show will be combined with a Christmas open house at the Cornelius Dodson House Saturday on the county coliseum grounds to raise money for the old Dermott School building renovation.

Staged by the Scurry County Historical Commission and Historic Scurry County Inc., the event is planned from 2 until 5 p.m. It will feature the cars of the Snyder Wheels antique car club and tours of the art and artifact-laden Dodson House.

Featured in the show will be Ford Model Ts provided by members of the Snyder Wheels.

Kenneth Wood has a 1926 two-door Model T. Moody and Luann Thomason will show their 1915 roadster, and Bobby Grice will display his recently completed 1911-vintage Ford racing car.

Historical Commission member Jean Everett said the car show was added to the traditional Christmas tours of the Dodson House in hopes of adding impetus to the Dermott School fund-raising drive, which has reached about $5,000 of its $16,000 goal.

Anyone who wishes to contribute should send donations to Historic Scurry County Inc. at Snyder Box 519, she said.

State representative due local reception

A public reception for newly elected State Representative David Counts is scheduled next Tuesday from 4 until 6 p.m. at the Western Texas College Student Center.

Counts (D-Knox City) was officially sworn in Tuesday as the representative for the 78th District at ceremonies in the House Chambers of the State Capitol Building in Austin.

This past Nov. 8, he won both a special election to fill the unexpired portion of a 1988 term and a two-year term to begin Jan. 1.

Counts replaces Steve Carriker (D-Roby), the newly named state senator for the 30th Senatorial District.

As representative of the 78th District, Counts serves Scurry, Cottle, Fisher, Garza, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lynn, Nolan, Stonewall and the rural portion of Taylor County.

Ask Us

Q — It has been understood that when the new cable system goes into effect, that Colonial Hill Baptist Church would have a channel reserved for it. Will this still take place?

A — Officials with Snyder Cablevision say Channel 2, the public access channel, will still be offered to Colonial Hill for broadcast of its Sunday services. Also, there are other channels currently in reserve, it was noted, although one is not specifically set aside for the church. A church official noted also that, at this time, the church does not have specific need for its own channel.

S&L crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government should spend $30 billion next year to close the nation's 100 worst savings institutions and stop more than $1 billion a month in losses, a top bank regulator says.

"We need to close the worst first," Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Chairman L. William Seidman said in a speech Wednesday at the National Press Club.

"Once these 100 or so worst institutions are liquidated, the other problem institutions can be dealt with over a somewhat longer period," he said, outlining the conclusions of an FDIC study that will be published within two weeks.

Pact signed

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A newly signed contract could mean some residents of poverty-stricken subdivision south of El Paso could receive clean running water by January, an official said.

The agreement, signed Tuesday by representatives of local and federal agencies, allows Rio Grande irrigation water to be transferred to the Lower Valley Water District Authority for use as drinking water.

John Tower is registered as lobbyist

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Tower, the former senator and leading candidate to be Secretary of Defense in the next administration, is registered as a lobbyist for five large defense companies, according to a Tower associate and congressional records. Tower, former chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is the chief candidate to take over the top Pentagon spot, but President-elect George Bush hasn't yet made a final decision, according to sources speaking Wednesday on condition of anonymity. Some Bush aides oppose Tower because they fear he wouldn't push hard enough to reform the Pentagon's problem-plagued system for buying weapons, the sources said. Bush sidestepped the question Wednesday. Asked by reporters about reports of staff dissension over Tower, Bush said only, "stay tuned," repeating his favorite refrain on administration nominations. He said "all is tranquil" within his staff.

Representatives of Bush and Tower are negotiating over who might be named to high-level Defense Department jobs, the sources said.

Tower, 63, retired from Congress in 1985 after a 24-year career in the Senate, capped by his chairmanship of the Senate Armed Services Committee during President Reagan's first term.

Young Woman Getting Tired Of Old Questions About Age

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 32-year-old unmarried woman who happens to be very pretty and look younger than I am. I have a hard time dealing with people who ask me how old I am. I think that's a very personal question — like asking people how much they weigh, or how much money they make. If I tell them the truth about my age, I get a backhanded compliment, like, "You look young for your age." If I lie, and they find out, I lose my credibility. One woman had the nerve to ask me my age in front of a crowd of people at a wedding. I was so angry, I lied. When people guess my age, nobody gets it right. They think I'm 24 or 25.

I'm starting a new job soon and I'm sure I'll be asked how old I am. How do I handle it? If I don't tell them, they will think I'm younger than I really am. If I tell them the truth, they will want to know why I haven't married at my age, etc. Please tell me how to deal with this. AGE CONSCIOUS far apart in distance, we are extremely close. His birthday would have been this week, and I couldn't decide whether to send her and her husband a nice card, call them, or just not mention it for fear of upsetting them.

My thoughts were: What if they were coping quite well? Wouldn't a card or call from me just stir up more emotion? The boy was like a son to me and they know it. BEREAVING, TOO

DEAR BEREAVING: Since it's been only a few months, even if they're "coping," they are still grieving. A brief note, "Thinking of you with love," would say it all.

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps I can enlighten you as to the reason that 27-year-old man informed his mother that he and his girlfriend of two years were getting married, but he did not want her present at the ceremony. He informed her that they wanted to be alone. The mother signed herself "Crushed."

If "Crushed" has been strongly opposed to couples living together without marriage, the son might have felt that it would be a kindness to his mother simply to pretend that they were getting married to help her accept the young woman with whom he planned to live.

That happened to me, so please don't print my name. LEARNED LATER

Wedding bells? Wedding bills! Who pays for what and everything else you need to know if you're planning a wedding can be found in Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." DEAR AGE CONSCIOUS: The cardinal rule: Never lie. However, you do not have to answer a question simply because it was asked. No need to get defensive, sarcastic or hostile. The most effective dodge is to smile, look the person in the eye, and in a very pleasant tone say, "My goodness, that's a rather personal question that I choose not to answer. I hope you don't mind." Then change the subject.

Since you are asked this question often and it irritates you, I recommend practicing the above response before a mirror — and commit it to memory.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's son committed suicide a few months ago. Although my sister and I live

Witnesses warn of looming deficit woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Economic Commission's recommendations may come to naught, but it has become the best sounding board around for people fed up with the seven-year deadlock over the federal budget deficit.

A variety of officials representing corporate America, labor unions and various special interest groups have paraded before the commission to raise alarms about the deficit and insist that the new administration and Congress do something.

Government officials, past and present, also have lent their voices to the clamor, with many pointing to skittish financial markets as the best reason for quick action next year.

On Wednesday, former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker echoed concerns raised two weeks earlier by his successor at the central bank, Alan Greenspan.

Volcker said a failure to act could trigger a loss of confidence by foreigners in U.S. investments which could topple the country into a severe recession.

"We are, entirely unnecessarily in my view, undercutting the economic foundation of United States world leadership," Volcker said.

Two weeks ago, Greenspan told the commission that the need to deal with the deficit is becoming ever more urgent because the huge tide of red ink has begun to "eat away at the foundations of our economic strength."

Another government official, Charles Bowsher, head of the General Accounting Office, told the advisory panel Wednesday that just holding the growth of spending to the level of inflation, as has been suggested by President-elect George Bush, would not be enough to get the deficit under control.

He said consideration will have to be given to raising taxes, something Bush has vowed he will not do, to go along with further cuts in government spending.

"There are no painless ways to cut spending or increase revenues," Bowsher said. "When the long-term health of our nation's economy is at stake, everything must be negotiable, including defense spending, entitlements and taxes."

Volcker told the panel that he favors boosting the gasoline tax, saying that even if the tax were raised 50 cents per gallon over the next several years, Americans would still be paying far less for fuel than residents of most other countries.

A boost in the gasoline tax was also proposed Wednesday by the Council on Competitiveness, composed of 157 chief executives from business, organized labor and higher education.

The group said a combination of tax increases and spending cuts should be used to slash the deficit by $120 billion by 1993. The deficit in the just-completed fiscal year was $155.1 billion.

The queen of spades lead gives declarer a small margin of safety in the play. Since the contract is for only 12 tricks, he can afford to sacrifice one trick if doing so will increase his chances of making the slam. The key to success is to set up extra winners in the diamond suit and then be able to get to dummy to use them. South should win the king of spades, play one high trump from his hand and then lead a low diamond and duck it in dummy. He can then win whatever the defenders return, play a diamond to dummy's ace and ruff a third diamond high. He can then play two more rounds of trump, ending in dummy. The remaining high diamond honor should pick up the last outstanding diamond, and dummy's long diamond becomes the slam-going trick. This approach in the play wins whenever diamonds are 4-2, although it sacrifices a trick when the diamonds divide 3-3.

Why was the play affected by the opening lead? Had West led a club at trick one, declarer could not have afforded the luxury of giving the opponents a cheap diamond trick. He would then have had no choice except to go after diamonds and hope the suit was splitting evenly.

Breathing room

The play of any contract is influenced by several factors: how many tricks declarer must take, for example, or even whether the final contract is doubled. The right play in today's six-heart contract is determined by the opening lead. Plan your own play after the queen of spades lead, but do not look at the East-West cards.

For substance abuse...

NFL sidelines Duper, Scott

MIAMI (AP) - The Miami Dolphins will be without wide receiver Mark Duper for the remainder of the season because he violated the NFL's substance abuse policy, but offensive guard Roy Foster says the rest of the team is clean.

"(Coach Don) Shula lets us know what's happening as far as the drug situation," Foster said. "I don't believe we associate ourselves with drugs of any sort. He weeds out those kinds of guys."

The NFL on Wednesday suspended Duper and Dallas Cowboys' defensive back Victor Scott for violating the league's substance abuse policy. The suspensions are for 30 days, which means both players will miss the rest of the season.

Neither the league nor the teams would say what drugs were involved.

Duper, 29, became the first Miami player to be penalized for substance abuse since 1983.

"It's one of the toughest things I've had to deal with," Shula said. "I hope everything gets straightened out, and Mark is able to resume his career with the Miami Dolphins next year."

Shula declined to comment on whether Duper's problem was an isolated one for the team.

Scott, 26, also was suspended for 30 days last year for substance abuse. He became the second Cowboy this season to be penalized under the NFL's drug policy; offensive tackle Kevin Gogan was suspended for a month near the end of training camp.

Duper, a seven-year veteran and two-time Pro Bowl performer, has done work with the "Say No To Drugs" program. Several teammates said they were shocked by the suspension.

"Duper's locker is right next to mine, and I just didn't have any idea at all," safety Glenn Blackwood said. "I talk to him every day. There was no indication of pot or anything like that."

Foster said Duper is not the kind of person to use drugs.

"It just doesn't add up," Foster said. "I just don't want to believe that Duper's caught up in anything like that."

Duper was unavailable for comment, and his agent failed to return two phone calls.

Duper had only four pass receptions for 44 yards in the past four games. He caught no passes Sunday against the New York Jets and finished the game on the sidelines because he was bothered by a sore left arch, Shula said.

The coach said he supports the league's drug policy.

"The most important thing the National Football League can do is to prove it's a drug-free game," he said.

The action against Duper and Scott brought to 24 the number of players suspended this season for violating the drug policy.

Oilers hope to set mark for blocked punts this Sunday

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers punt return team has helped Pittsburgh punter Harry Newsome set an NFL record this season and Sunday they'll try to help him expand on it.

Newsome has had an NFL record six punts blocked this season, including two by the Oilers when the teams met earlier this year in Pittsburgh.

The Oilers and Steelers meet again Sunday night in the Astrodome and another blocked punt by the Oilers would give them an NFL record six blocked punts this season.

Newsome wants to keep the Oilers out of the record book.

"You think it is maybe one of the easier things to do, but it hasn't been," Newsome said. "People are starting to wonder and guess what's going on."

The Oilers think they know what's going on and they hope to take advantage of Newsome for the second time this year.

"With our mentality and the way Coach (Jerry) Glanville likes to do things, we're going to make it even tougher on a guy who's susceptible to getting blocked," Oilers linebacker Johnny Meads said.

Newsome leads the league with a 45.8 punting average on 52 punts but his blocked punts have encouraged opponents.

"We're all aware of the pressure (Newsome) is under, so we're going to jump on him early," special teamer Eugene Seale said. "He's susceptible to tightening up under pressure. I think he's a little hesitant in getting the ball off."

Newsome has 11 blocked punts in less than four years in the NFL.

The record of 14 career blocked punts is held by Herman Weaver, who played 11 seasons for Detroit and Seattle.

The Oilers' punt blocking tactics are part of a rejuvenated special teams play.

"They do that very well," Steelers Coach Chuck Noll said. "They have some individuals on that punt return team that have the ability to come in there. They do cause us concerns."

Eugene Seale, who made the team as a special teams performer, has two blocks this season. Eric Fairs, Meads and Cris Dishman each has one block.

"The new rule is definitely in our favor because we're an aggressive team," Meads said.

A rule change this season awards a five-yard penalty for running into a punter. If the Oilers get a team in fourth and long, they'll be out to block the punt.

"Now we look to see if it's fourth and six or more," Glanville said. "The new rule has a lot to do with it. Now you bump a guy, you don't blow your chance of getting the football."

Curry's job confirmed...

Aggies tackle Alabama in 'Rumor Bowl' tonight

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - Bill Curry will be Alabama's head football coach for at least the next three years, the university's interim president said today.

"His contract is not for sale," said Dr. Roger Sayers in a news conference called to wash away rumors that Curry would be fired after the Sun Bowl game Dec. 24 against Army.

"Bill Curry will be our football coach tomorrow, next week, next month, next year and at least the next three years," Rogers said.

Roger said ESPN's report last week that an influential group of alumni had banded together to buy out Curry's contract was incorrect.

"That is absurd," Sayers said. "I hope that any alumni group with $2 million to spend on Alabama will contact me at their earliest convenience because I have in mind several outstanding academic programs."

Sayers said Curry's ethical behavior was a "first priority" of the administration and he said the school also is "pleased with his leadership."

Red Blount, president pro-tem of the board of trustees, said "Let me repeat Billy Curry is our football coach and he will be our football coach for at least three years and I hope longer. His contract is not for sale. In the words of a recent candidate for President: Read my lips."

Blount said, "One of our trustees has been rumored to be a part of buying out coach Curry's contract. This rumor like all the others is completely without foundation."

Alabama is 7-3 and meets Texas A&M tonight in Kyle Field. "The Hurricane Bowl" has degenerated into "The Rumor Bowl" because of speculation about the future of the two head coaches.

The nationally televised (ESPN) 7:38 p.m. game between the Sun Bowl-bound Crimson Tide, 7-3, and the Aggies, 8-4, is a makeup of a game that was to be played on Sept. 17.

Hurricane Gilbert threatened the Texas coast and Curry elected to postpone the game, bringing jibes from the Aggies including coach Jackie Sherrill.

The Hurricane hit Mexico and the Aggies have had some fun with the decision to stay away.

T-shirts, hurricane tracking placemat charts, and even a song have been recorded about the game. The Confederate Air Force is broadcasting daily weather updates. There was a big "hurricane" party Wednesday night.

A&M is calling this a bowl game because NCAA probation sanctions include no post-season play for the Aggies.

Sherrill has been a source of gossip about whether he plans to resign after the game. He said he won't.

Former player George Smith said two weeks ago Sherrill paid him "hush" money to thwart an NCAA investigation then recanted the statement.

TCU Frogs edge Centenary; Houston, Arkansas defeated

by The Associated Press

Texas Christian coach Moe Iba says it wasn't pretty, but the Horned Frogs will take their victory over non-conference foe Centenary.

John Lewis and Danny Hughes scored 16 points each Wednesday night to lead TCU to a 66-60 victory over Centenary.

In other non-conference games involving SWC games, Rice defeated Alcorn State, 107-74, Arkansas-Little Rock defeated Houston, 100-67 and Virginia beat Arkansas, 75-65.

Iba compared the Frogs' efforts against Centenary as "pulling teeth."

"It wasn't very pretty," Iba said. "We struggled all night."

TCU is now 2-2 while Centenary dropped to 1-2.

Kenneth Rourke scored 18 points to lead the Rice Owls to a 107-74 victory over Alcorn State. It was the first time the Owls had scored more than 100 points in a game since the 1981 season.

Andy Gilchrist added 14 points for the Owls and teammates Chip Scott and Greg Priceeach added 12.

Rice and Alcorn State now each have 1-2 records.

Johnnie Bell scored 28 points to lead Arkansas-Little Rock to a 100-67 victory over SWC pre-season favorite Houston.

Trojans Coach Mike Newell said he realized that one game would not make their season, but he said the easy victory shows "we've got something special."

Craig Upchurch scored 22

Play continues Saturday. Highlight games include consolation at 4 p.m., third place at 5:30 p.m. and the championship game at 7 p.m.

WTC battles Clarendon

CLARENDON - Coach Kelly Chadwick's Dusters make their conference debut while Tony Mauldin's Westerners hope to get even up as Western Texas meets Clarendon in a WJCAC double-header here tonight.

The Dusters, 10-4 for the season, open the action at 6 p.m. against Clarendon's Lady Bulldogs.

Western is led by 5-11 sophomore Nickey Allen, who is averaging 17.9 points. Seagraves freshman Tami Wilson averages 12.3 points and Snyder point-guard Stephanie McKnight is putting in 10.8 points.

Mauldin's Westerners, who play at 8 p.m., are off to a solid, 8-3 start this season, but stumbled in their conference opener earlier this week. The Westerners fell 110-100 to Midland and are 0-1 in the WJCAC.

Both Clarendon teams are 0-1 in conference play, after losing games to South Plains earlier in the week.

Western averages four players in double figures. Bobby Spear is scoring 19.5 points a game, Bernard Williams 19 points, Vladimir McCrary 17.4 points, Ken Critton 14.9, Jerry Joyce 7.1 and Keith Hawkins 6.7 points.

Fletcher won't turn down Ranger offer

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Free agent shortstop Scott Fletcher has agreed in principle to a multi-year contract to return to the Texas Rangers, a deal that reportedly would make Fletcher the highest-paid player in franchise history.

Rangers officials announced Wednesday that Fletcher would sign a three-year contract with the club holding an option on the fourth year.

Other terms were not disclosed, but The Dallas Morning News reported it is believed Fletcher got the same deal he had been offered by the Philadelphia Phillies, which calls for an annual salary of $12 million with the Rangers being able to buy out the fourth year for $450,000. The club also reportedly gave in to Fletcher's request for a no-trade clause.

"The Rangers are very pleased to be able to come to terms with Scott Fletcher," said Tom Grieve, Rangers' vice president and general manager.

The 30-year-old Fletcher batted .276 with 47 RBI in 140 games with Texas in 1988, his third season with the club. He was the Rangers' leading hitter for the third straight year, placing third on the club with 515 at-bats, 142 hits and 62 walks.

Fletcher finished second among American League shortstops with a .983 fielding percentage, the highest figure ever for a Texas shortstop.

He was acquired from the Chicago White Sox in November 1985. Fletcher's batting average in three years with Texas is .283, sixth highest in club history.

Authorities arrest another boy in fatal sniper attack

MARFA, Texas (AP) — Mexican police have taken a third teen-ager into custody in connection with a sniper attack on a trio of Rio Grande white-water rafters, authorities say.

The boy was being questioned Wednesday evening and had not been charged, said Hugh Rushton, the U.S. Border Patrol's chief agent in Marfa. Rushton and Presidio County chief deputy Steve Bailey said they didn't know the boy's age, but that he was under 17.

Rushton said the Border Patrol talked with the boy's father Tuesday and persuaded him to have the suspect give himself up. The father is a ranch hand in the United States.

The boy was one of two suspects police on both sides of the border had been looking for since arresting and questioning two other teen-agers Tuesday, Rushton said. Two of the suspects are jailed in Mexico; the other is in the United States.

All three boys in custody are suspected of taking part in a sniper attack on three rafters

Nov. 19, police said. Michael Hefley, 40, of Eastland, died in the attack. His wife, Jamie, and river guide Jim Burr were injured. Police said the teen-agers carried out the attack on a whim.

The three victims were rafting through Colorado Canyon, about 22 miles east of Redford, when assailants on the 300-foot canyon rim on the Mexican side began shooting at them, the survivors said. Burr was shot in the right thigh, and Hefley was shot once in the back as he dragged his wife to safety after she had been shot in her left side and left shoulder.

Police acting on a tip arrested the first two suspects Tuesday and charged them with murder, police said.

Presidio County sheriff's deputies arrested Eduardo Rodriguez Pineda, 17, about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at his home east of the Big Bend village of Redford, Sheriff Rick Thompson said.

The other boy, an unidentified 16-year-old, was arrested Tuesday by Mexican police near the town of El Mulato, about 15 miles south of the canyon where the shooting took place. Rodriguez, a Mexican citizen and a resident alien of the United States, was jailed in lieu of $50,000 bail, police said.

Mexicans go by their paternal names, which are placed before their maternal names. The sheriff's office on Tuesday identified their suspect as Eduardo Pineda Rodriguez, but Rushton said the department had switched the last two names for filing purposes.

The youth arrested Wednesday was delivered by his father to the state police office in Ojinaga, Rushton said.

The two suspects in Mexican custody have implicated Rodriguez, Rushton said.

"The other two say he's the one who did the shooting," he said.

But those statements conflict with the recollections of Mrs. Hefley and Burr, who said two to four people stalked them along the canyon rim and shot at them.

Police on both sides of the border continued searching Wednesday for the fourth suspect.

Parliament adopts Russian reforms

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet today voted overwhelmingly to adopt President Mikhail S. Gorbachev's overhaul of the political structure, but a handful of "no" votes and abstentions testified to a continuing controversy over the reforms.

The vote came after unusually fiery debate in the parliament. Legislators sent an amended version of the restructuring plans back to Kremlin leaders for review before today's vote.

In the Soviet of Nationalities, made up of half of the members of the bicameral Supreme Soviet, the vote was 657 in favor, 3 against and 26 abstentions on amending the constitution to incorporate Gorbachev's proposals.

The Soviet of Unions voted 687 in favor, 2 against with 1 abstention to approve the same measures. A companion package revising the election law was adopted unanimously by both houses.

Critics said Gorbachev's plan centralized too much power in the Kremlin and in his new presidency. In particular, opposition focused on Gorbachev's plan to create a national Congress and similar bodies in each of the nation's 15 republics, which would in turn elect smaller and more active Supreme Soviets, or parliaments.

Until recently, the national legislature merely approved actions already taken by the leadership, without debate or dissent.

This time, the Supreme Soviet heard 37 of its members criticize and propose changes in the plan submitted by Gorbachev.

The 1,500-member body recommended dozens of changes over two days of debate.

Solidarity backers cheer L. Walesa

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Solidarity backers declared Lech Walesa the winner of an unprecedented TV debate in which he dueled with his official counterpart and urged the government to legalize the banned labor movement.

"This is a fantastic day, beautiful, which will be noted in the history of our country as a great victory for Solidarity," said film director Andrzej Wajda after Wednesday night's showdown between the Solidarity chairman and Alfred Miodowicz, head of the government's official trade unions.

"He was perfect, just perfect," a grinning Adam Michnik, a senior Solidarity adviser, said of Walesa.

It was the first time in five years that Walesa had a chance to defend his federation on state-controlled television and his longest appearance ever on Polish TV.

The exchange was broadcast live and uncensored. A clock was even placed in the background of the set to demonstrate that no deletions were made.

In the 43-minute debate, an animated Walesa spoke rapidly, challenging authorities to legalize Solidarity. He urged the official unions to join Solidarity in "creating freedom."

He also said Miodowicz, as a member of the ruling Communist Party Politburo and as leader of the All-Poland Alliance of Trade Unions, should press for the legalization of the outlawed labor movement.

"If you can make a man's decision that there is a place for Solidarity, we will immediately roll up our sleeves and we will begin working hard for Poland, because time is running out," Walesa told the 59-year-old former steelworker.

Solidarity, the East bloc's first independent union federation, was crushed under martial law in 1981 and banned in 1982. Miodowicz's group, known by its Polish initials OPZZ, was created by the government in 1982 to replace it.

The official unions say they have 7 million members, including 4.5 million former Solidarity members.

Solidarity was founded during a turbulent series of strikes in 1980. In its heyday, it said it had 10 million members.

In the debate, Walesa said proposed talks between the opposition and government could begin when officials acknowledge Solidarity's right to exist.

After the broadcast, Walesa told reporters he suffered from a severe case of flu that hampered his performance and made him "too impulsive."

Miodowicz, interviewed as he left the debate set, said only: "I have fulfilled my task. I am pleased that Mr. Walesa accepted my invitation."

The state-run PAP news agency said that although the two debaters disagreed, "the very fact of the meeting is a good prognosis for overcoming barriers in reaching ... dialogue and national agreement."

The debate brought thousands of rapt Poles to television sets. In Warsaw's Central Station, Grzegorz Straszynski missed his train to western Poland to watch. "Walesa made great remarks. I waited seven years to hear them," he said afterward.

Walesa said during the debate that all socialist countries were in difficult straits and blamed their problems on a lack of "pluralism," independent groups and ideas in public life.

In a reference to changes under way in the Soviet Union, he said conditions had never been better for reform but that Poland nevertheless was merely "toddling in place."

A 20-year-old Snyder woman was arrested on a misdemeanor theft charge at 1:01 a.m. Thursday at the police station in connection with the Nov. 23 theft of $648 in stamps from S&H Green Stamps in Highlands Shopping Center.

A city detective said the woman is accused of stealing six rolls of stamps from the store and that three rolls had been recovered.

Bush completes congressional calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect George Bush is wrapping up a series of good-faith gestures toward Congress by meeting with the Senate's new majority leader, George Mitchell of Maine.

The invitation to Mitchell, a liberal Democrat elected to the Senate's top post just two days ago, caps a series of one-on-one meetings between Bush and leading lawmakers from both sides of the aisle over the past two weeks.

Bush also was attending a foreign intelligence advisory board meeting today at the White House and joining President Reagan tonight at a testimonial dinner for one of the men he defeated for the GOP nomination, retiring Rep. Jack Kemp of New York.

Mitchell, asked Wednesday

what advice he would offer Bush, said, "I'm going to listen to him and try to be accommodating to his concerns."

"We look forward to cooperating," said the new Democratic leader. "The campaign is over and we've got serious problems, important issues facing the country."

Bush also met on Wednesday with Jesse Jackson, holding a private lunch with the Democrat he had called a "hustler from Chicago" just a few months ago during the presidential campaign. This time Bush had nothing but praise for the longtime civil rights leader.

On Friday, Bush lays out the welcome mat at his home for Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, the defeated Democratic presidential nominee.

There was no word from Bush or his lieutenants on filling the 10 vacancies left in his Cabinet.

But sources who insisted on anonymity said Samuel K. Skinner, chairman of the Regional Transportation Authority in the Chicago area, has emerged as Bush's likely choice for transportation secretary.

Bush sidestepped questions about whether he will name former Sen. John Tower of Texas as defense secretary. Another Texan, Houston oilman and political fund-raiser Robert Mosbacher, is reported to be in line for commerce secretary.

Bush, asked about reported staff wars over a Tower appointment, claimed that "all is tranquil."

Other sources said Wednesday that Elizabeth Dole, the former Transportation secretary and wife of Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, is a top candidate for ambassador to the United Nations.

During their meeting, Bush and Jackson played down past differences.

Bush told reporters he will be looking to the civil rights leader for suggestions on fighting drugs and on other matters. "He has some very good ideas on a lot of subjects that are of keen interest to our country," Bush said.

Jackson said he was convinced Bush "has an earnest desire to send forth a moral tone" in his presidency. But Jackson also said he was not interested in serving in a Bush administration.

Among the issues Bush and Jackson discussed were drugs, arms control, South Africa, allegations of racism against Bush's Republican presidential campaign, the Reagan administration's threatened foreclosure of thousands of family farms, and the denial of a U.S. visa to Palestine Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat.

Assailant throws acid at attorney

JERUSALEM (AP) — A Holocaust survivor threw acid today in the face of an Israeli defense attorney for Nazi war criminal John Demjanjuk during a funeral for another Demjanjuk lawyer who died in an apparent suicide, officials said.

The attack on attorney Yoram Sheftel injured one of his eyes, police and a hospital spokesman said. A woman standing nearby also was hurt, police said.

Police said they detained the assailant, a 70-year-old survivor of the Nazi Holocaust, immediately after the attack, which occurred at the Sanhedria Cemetery during the funeral for Demjanjuk lawyer Dov Eitan.

Sheftel was rushed to Bikur Holim Hospital, where doctors washed the eye. His eye had "slightly blurred vision and was shut," said hospital spokesman Yehuda Kingslinger.

The attorney was sent for further treatment to a special eye unit at Jerusalem's Hadassah Hospital, Kingslinger and officials at Hadassah said.

Rafi Levy, Jerusalem police spokesman, said the suspect "dumped acid" on Sheftel. He said some of the acid injured a woman nearby. Her condition was not known.

Soviets no longer jam broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 38 years of continuous Soviet jamming of Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, millions of people in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union are now getting "loud and clear" news programming from the West about their own cultures.

Word that the more than 2,000 jamming transmitters in Russia, other Soviet states and Afghanistan had shut down spread through Europe on Wednesday as shortwave radio operators discovered the annoying, raspy hum of Soviet interference was no longer heard over U.S., West German, Israeli or other broadcasts.

Convicted mass killer blames others

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — A man convicted of slaying his former girlfriend and three of her siblings says it was two mysterious, long-haired men who stabbed the four family members to death.

Leo Narvaiz Jr., 20, in his first extensive interview since the April 15 slayings, said from Texas' death row Wednesday, that he was wounded by one of two men who did the killings.

Narvaiz, who arrived last week on death row after being sentenced to death last month, acknowledged being at the mobile home where Shannon Mann, 17, her sisters Jennifer, 19, Martha, 15, and brother Ernest, 11, were stabbed to death.

"I wouldn't be that dumb to kill four people," he said. "All I admitted was I was at the scene of the crime. I didn't have any part of it."

house.

"I thought they were friends," he said. "So I took them to the new home."

He said the two dropped him off to get some cigarettes and his girlfriend, Shannon, let him in.

A few minutes later, the men, whom he described as Hispanics with shoulder-length hair, beards and tattoos, returned.

"It all just started happening," Narvaiz said. "They were going crazy. I tried to defend myself. That's how I got stabbed."

He said as one of the men was stabbing Shannon, he fled outside and into some nearby woods.

"He would have killed me next but my girlfriend got in the way," he said. "She was saying to run and I ran."

"I messed up by not calling the cops. I panicked and I ran. I ran and ran and ran. It was like a nightmare to me.

"I don't like the situation that I'm in— that everyone thinks I'm a killer. I cry myself when they call me on TV a mass killer."

The revelation from Narvaiz is just a twist on several versions of the story he told authorities, said Beth Taylor, an assistant Bexar County district attorney, who handled the case.

"I would have tried this case and said only one person committed this offense if I didn't believe it," Ms. Taylor said. "There couldn't have been more than one person involved. My God, the telephone call says it all."

In a tape-recorded telephone call to a 911 emergency operator, Shannon Mann identified Narvaiz as her attacker.

Narvaiz said when he heard the tape in court, it was unclear to him that she identified him as the assailant.

Prosecutors said Narvaiz committed the killings out of anger over a breakup with Shannon Mann, whom Narvaiz said he had known since he was 14.

A jury took about two hours to find him guilty of the slayings and deliberated more than an hour before deciding he should be executed under a new state law that provides the death penalty for multiple murders.

"Since I was the first to be tried under the new law, they wanted to go all the way with the death penalty," he said of prosecutors. But he said he would not have accepted a plea bargain because that would have implied he committed the killings.

Narvaiz, who wears the designation "DR 923" on his white prison suit, described his new life on death row as lonely, with about three hours of recreation daily during which he plays basketball or sits in the prison yard talking with other prisoners and enjoying the fresh air.

He said he did not know until this week that Ernest Mann Sr., father of the slaying victims, got himself arrested last week to he could get inside the Bexar County Jail and kill him. Narvaiz said he felt secure in prison, but feared for the safety of his parents, brothers and sister.

"I can't do anything but just try to hang on, keep my faith in the Lord and hope something will come," he said. "I expected it to be worse. At least I'm peaceful. I can sit in my room and read my Bible."

Humanitarian convoy temporarily delayed

REYNOSA, Mexico (AP) — Used eyeglasses, 14,000 pairs of them, were temporarily delayed en route to new owners in Guatemala, when a humanitarian convoy that originated in Indiana ran into a bureaucratic snag at the Texas-Mexico border.

The Lions Clubs' "Mission to Guatemala" finally resumed its southbound journey Wednesday afternoon after negotiating a fee with customs officials with the Mexican federal government in the border city of Reynosa.

Members of the service organization said the delay began Tuesday when they refused to pay Mexican officials $6,000 to pass through the country. The Lions agreed Wednesday to pay $800 for a customs guard to accompany the 12 vehicles and their cargo of medical supplies to the Guatemalan border.

The convoy of six ambulances, two fire trucks, a school bus, a car, a van and a pickup truck to be left in the impoverished Central American nation originated in Indianapolis on Saturday. The convoy includes club members from Indiana, California, Sweden and Texas.

Customs officials with the Mexican government said Wednesday there had been a misunderstanding Tuesday between the Lions group and customs employees at the international bridge.

"Some of the customs agents must have been misinformed if they quoted that price ($6,000)," said Jorge Martinez Galvan, assistant Mexican customs chief at Reynosa.

"This fee ($800) for the customs inspector is to ensure that none of the cargo stays in Mexico," Martinez said.

Many of the items would face import taxes if they were introduced into the Mexican market, he said.

Convoy leader James Cameron, 56, of Urbana, Ind., said this is the fourth year the group has carried aid to Guatemala.

Syndicated columnist Bob Greene with the Chicago Tribune said he has written columns about the Lions Clubs' eyeglasses project that resulted in people around the country donating more than 27,000 pairs to the organization.

Pentagon severs computer networks

NEW YORK (AP) — The Pentagon, citing technical difficulties, has cut links for several days between an unclassified military computer network and a nationwide academic and corporate computer network, The New York Times reported Thursday.

Several computer security experts said Wednesday that they had been told by Pentagon officials that the network connection was severed after an unknown intruder illegally gained entry recently to several computers operated by the military and defense contractors, according to the Times.

The computer specialists said they thought the Pentagon broke the connection, which permits military and academic researchers to exchange information, while it tried to eliminate a security flaw in the computers in the military network, the newspaper reported.

The Dutch surrendered New Amsterdam to the British in 1664. The British renamed it New York.

"I know there's a lot of people that think I actually did it, but I'm innocent."

The four Mann children were brutally stabbed. Some of the knife blades were broken and still embedded in the bodies, which were scattered throughout the Manns' mobile home. Authorities have described the scene as the worst in Bexar County history.

Narvaiz, his voice wavering at times, said he was nightmarish about the slayings.

"I pray in the morning and at night when I'm going to bed," he said. "I ask the Lord to give me pleasant dreams so I can forget about this. I can't believe this is happening to me."

Narvaiz said he had been drinking at a friend's house and had downed perhaps three six-packs of beer and had smoked some marijuana when he left about midnight to go shoot pool.

"I was still in my right stage of mind," he said. "I can handle it. I only drink on weekends."

On the way to the pool hall, he said a man he knew as "Joe" and another unidentified man asked if he knew where the Manns recently had moved.

Narvaiz said he had seen the pair before at the Manns' old

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had a large malignant tumor removed from the base of my spine. Now I have a pinched nerve in the scar tissue. My doctor says there's no cure. Is she right?

DEAR READER: She may be right — unless the scar tissue can be decompressed (surgically removed or stretched).

This type of surgical repair is technically difficult because of scarring and the loss of normal landmarks upon which the surgeon depends. However, you certainly are entitled to a second opinion before giving up the possibility that your painful pinched nerve could be relieved.

In addition, acupuncture, TENS (transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation) and other methods of pain control may help you. Ask your doctor about this.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Managing Chronic Pain." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Due to prostate cancer I had my testicles removed.

Now I have hot and cold flashes. My doctor says it will wear off in time. I'm 73. How long is "in time"?

DEAR READER: Cancer of the prostate gland is often stimulated by the presence of male hormones in the body. Therefore, treatment may include removal of the testicles, a natural source of hormone.

When men are deprived of male hormone — either through age or surgery — they usually experience male menopause — a condition of hormone deficiency that resembles menopause in women.

Common symptoms include: hot flashes, depression, emotional irritability and decline of sexual abilities.

Unfortunately, there is no way to predict how long the symptoms will persist — in both men and women. People have difficulty until their bodies adapt and adjust to the deficiency of hormones.

The symptoms of male and female menopause can usually be helped by the administration of hormones in pill, injection or patch forms. In the case of prostatic cancer, male hormone supplements are inappropriate because they could feed the cancer.

Your symptoms will recede "in time," but, like your doctor, I cannot give you a specific time interval.

Collider funding 'tough'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans in Congress will have a tough time convincing their colleagues to spend the billions of dollars needed to build the super collider, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says.

"I'll be working very hard to get it funded," Bentsen said. "It's going to be exceedingly difficult to get."

Even when seven states were candidates for the potentially lucrative physics project, Congress was adamant about financing the super collider, voting earlier this year to give it $100 million — less than one-third of President Reagan's request for $363 million — and decreasing none of the money could be spent on construction.

"It's going to be uphill and tough, and particularly now because it's just one state. We had seven states working on it before," Bentsen, chairman of the influential Senate Finance Committee, told a group of Texas reporters in Washington on Wednesday.

Now that a site in Ellis County has been chosen by the Energy Department for the super collider, at least one member of Congress from a state that lost its bid to host the project is questioning the feasibility of finding enough construction money. It is expected to cost $4.4 billion, and to create thousands of jobs.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., said last week that the superconducting super collider was in trouble and would likely be doomed by budget constraints and opposition from others in the scientific community.

"And quite honestly, the way the program has been set up, the consequences are that there's really very limited support outside of one particular state," said Dingell, chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Committee. "I haven't said it's going to go down the drain, but it's in serious difficulty."

He said it stood a chance of one or two in 10 of ever being built.
