

$3.5 million wastewater plant mulled

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

City council members Monday discussed at length the necessity for building a new $3.5 million wastewater treatment plant and indicated that they might make preliminary moves to implement the project at their Jan. 9 meeting.

Representatives of the Lubbock engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper (PSC) made a presentation on the project and said work toward applying for a loan through the State Revolving Fund (SRF) should start in February, at the latest.

This date would allow the project to be substantially finished by the time the current State Health Department permit expires in September of 1990.

Engineer John Kelly said the existing plant, encompassing 40 acres south of Snyder off Ave. M, should be abandoned and the new plant constructed just north of it, on 10 acres of land.

Joe W. Smith of First Southwest Co. in Abilene said the State Revolving Fund is currently offering loans for such projects at 4 percent and that the rate next year might be 5.25 to 5.5 percent.

An application must be submitted early next year for the project to be started by next fall, Smith said.

Kelly said estimates on the cost of a solids contact clarifier to expand the capability of the city's water treatment plant have increased over the past number of months from $601,000 to $650,000, and Williamson indicated that an SRF loan might also be sought to accomplish that project simultaneously with the wastewater plant.

Assuming that Snyder's Texas Department of Corrections unit is doubled in size after it is completed and the city has annual growth of .7 percent, Kelly and PSC engineer Terry Bilderback said, Snyder's population would increase to 18,249 by 2010 and the wastewater plant's average daily flow would go up from its current 1.27 million gallons per day to 1.89.

Other business in the three-hour meeting included a presentation by local pharmacist Robert Patterson on the prescription drug plan offered to city School reports...

76 percent pass exit skills exam, 56 juniors do not

While Snyder High School juniors overall scored slightly above the state average, the performance on this year's TEAMS exit level test has prompted school administrators to implement steps to assist the 56 students who failed one or both levels of the state-mandated "basic skills" exam.

These 56 represent 24 percent of SHS juniors taking the TEAMS test this past Oct. 2-6.

Conversely, 76 percent of the 192 students passed both the mathematics and the language arts sections. In order to receive a high school diploma in Texas, both sections of the test must be passed before the end of the student's senior year.

Statewide, the passing average for juniors was 75 percent.

Students have two opportunities to take the test during their junior year and are given two more chances if needed during their senior year.

The remedial steps for the 56 who failed one or both portions have now been implemented in preparation for the test's second administration this spring.

Of particular concern locally, Snyder school board members were told Monday, is the local student's test scores for the math portion of TEAMS.

Of the 56 affected students, 42 of these failed to pass the math test. The passing rate for SHS juniors on the math portion was 78 percent or 149 students.

In comparison, 92 percent of local juniors passed the language arts section. For this portion, 176 passed and 16 failed.

In all, 146 SHS juniors passed both sections (76 percent). 34 failed one test only (18 percent) and 12 failed both tests (6 percent).

To assist local students, administrators say, additional tutoring classes have been started from 8 until 8:25 a.m. prior to the start of school, and the student's teachers have been advised of the need for additional classroom work in the affected subject areas.

In addition, the district's at-risk coordinator has been directed to profile the student's past scholastic history with the local system to determine where the gaps in learning occurred.

Rollover injures three men

Three Colorado City men were seriously injured in a one vehicle accident at 2:20 p.m. Monday 16.2 miles northeast of Snyder on the Clearmont Hwy.

The Department of Public Safety said a 1969 Ford pickup truck driven by 18-year-old Ricardo R. "Ricky" Arispe was northbound when it went out of control on a curve and turned over once, coming to rest on its wheels.

Arispe, his 25-year-old brother Ruben and 24-year-old Chris Vandershice, all employees of Patterson Drilling, were all thrown out of the pickup as it rolled, a DPS trooper said. Vandershice was said thrown some 35 feet.

The Arispes were taken to St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock at 7 p.m. Monday.

Ricky Arispe suffered a fractured pelvis and was listed in serious condition Tuesday morning at the Lubbock hospital. Ruben Arispe was expected to be moved out of the intensive care unit at St. Mary's Tuesday.

Vandershice was listed in guarded condition at Cogdell Tuesday with a head injury.

The trooper said none of the three were wearing seatbelts when the accident happened.

Report of burglary prompts indictment

A 25-year-old suspect was indicted Monday for burglary of a habitation, one of seven suspects true billed by the December session of the grand jury.

Now ordered to stand trial for burglary is Antonio P. Silva, of 600 College Ave. He is charged in connection with a residential break-in reported Nov. 26 by Juan Estrada.

Also Monday, four individuals were indicted for five check-related offenses.

Gary Mark Rhodes, 31, who had not been arrested at mid-morning Tuesday but whose last known address was in Abilene, had two indictments brought against him.

These were for two checks he allegedly wrote against the account of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Rhodes on Nov. 18. The checks were for $125 and $80. For each offense, a $3,000 bond has been set.

Two suspects were indicted also for similar offenses, checks written against the account of an individual, listed as Kevin Boyd, and made out to a second individual, listed as Bryant Steward. The checks were both written on Nov. 8 and were both in the amount of $25.

Indicted for forgery by making in connection with these checks were Perry Greathouse, 18, of 2607 Ave. I, and Brian Keith Hellums, 18, who listed an O'Neil St. local address. Both had bonds set at $3,000.

Also indicted for forgery by passing was Mary Elaine See INDICTS, page 9

Hospital honors employees

Cogdell Memorial Hospital employees gathered Monday night at the coliseum for the annual holiday awards banquet.

One five-year pin, two 10-year pins and one 15-year pin were presented.

Juanita Chandez, who has been employed in the housekeeping department since 1973, received the 15-year pin.

Ten-year pins went to Helen Crouse and Ozane Pylant. Gayle Bureson, L.V.N., received the five-year pin. Crouse has been employed full time since 1977 and currently serves as the business systems account manager.

Pylant, the patients accounts manager, has been employed continuously since 1978. Previous employment from time to time began in 1957.

Tom Hochwalt, hospital administrator, served as master of ceremonies. He also presented the service pins.

Dan Cotton, hospital board member, gave the invocation, and Linda Shatney, R.N., gave the benediction by singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Entertainment was provided by the Western Texas College flute ensemble under the direction of Brent Hardegree and also featuring Andrea Garner and Triesta Lilly.

The meal, featuring turkey, ham and all the trimmings, was catered by Reta's Cake Shop and Texas Bar-B-Que.

The SDN Column

The teller on Deep Creek says, "People with six children are more contented than people with $6 million. People with millions always want more."

Just short of Santa Claus' coming, an important event will occur this month—the 75th anniversary of the crossword puzzle.

For sheer dedication and determination, a crossword puzzle buff can stand toe-to-toe with any zealous sports fan. These are the folks who are adamant when their crossword puzzle is left out of the daily newspaper. These are the folks who believe 17-across and 34-down should be added as an Olympic event.

The first crossword puzzle was published in December of 1913 by the editor of the New York World as a Christmas present to readers.

It didn't take long for the puzzle of blank and shaded squares to attract a loyal and even avid following. History has it that the crossword rage of the 1920s rivaled any fad that has come along since.

At the height of its popularity, the Legal Aid organization in Cleveland received an average of 10 letters a day from spouses being neglected by crossword puzzle-obsessed mates. A judge in Chicago ordered one husband to limit himself to three puzzles a day when the wife sued for divorce on the grounds of being a "crossword widow."

As the demand for fresh puzzles grew, many newspapers commissioned constructors and appointed editors to help keep pace. Since then, the quality, variety and creativity of crosswords have advanced even though the basic ingredients remain the same.

One rarely hears of a crossword puzzle being blamed for matrimonial woes, but experts in the field say that crossword puzzles are a daily must for approximately 50 million.

Some buffs claim it's peaceful and relaxing, while others say they actually feel an increase in the adrenaline as they approach the last square. Some say puzzle solving is a creative experience, and others find order in a world of chaos.

Increased vocabulary is said to be a major benefit, but frustration sets in for others. Nevertheless, happy 75th to crossword fans.

Q. — Are the new FM radio stations (classical, jazz, rock) to be offered with the cable TV package on the air yet?

A. — A spokesman with Snyder Cablevision said equipment has not yet arrived to implement these new stations. A list of local and surrounding city's FM and AM stations are being broadcast, however.

Rocky Flats plant may reopen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plutonium processing may be restarted by late January at the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant in Colorado, where production was halted in October following a safety violation, a federal energy official said.

Rockwell International Corp., operator of the plant 16 miles northwest of Denver, has been cleaning up radioactivity at the plant and devising a startup plan, Rich Marquez, an Energy Department spokesman in Albuquerque, N.M., said Monday.

Federal officials hope Rockwell will complete its plan by mid-January, Marquez said. The Energy Department then would review the plan, suggest modifications and inspect the plant, Marquez said, adding that the plutonium processing could resume by the end of January.

The DOE shut down the Rocky Flats plutonium processing building on Oct. 8.

"It's critical to reopen the facility, but it's equally critical that it be done right," Marquez said, adding that the Energy Department has not set a specific schedule for reopening.

The plant was shut down following a Sept. 29 incident in which an Energy Department inspector and two Rockwell employees entered a room where workers were cleaning up radioactive contamination, officials said.

The workers in the room were wearing protective clothing and masks, but officials said the inspector and two Rockwell employees were not because a warning sign was blocked from view. Two of them tested positive for contamination, but the situation was not viewed as life-threatening, federal officials said at the time.

Marquez said Rockwell has been cleaning up the facility, measuring the level of radiation in the building, and working on any needed procedural modifications as part of its reopening plan.

In the past few months, nuclear weapons production has ground to a virtual halt following shutdown of the Rocky Flats plutonium facility, the closure of three reactors at the Savannah River complex near Aiken, S.C., and a strike that has shut down the Feed Materials Production Center in Fernald, Ohio, since Oct. 17.

Mofford signs proclamations

PHOENIX (AP) — English is now the state's official language, but lawyers are still trying to figure out what the new designation will require.

The measure, approved by voters last month, was signed into law on Monday by Democratic Gov. Rose Mofford.

Also signed into law were measures to remove outdated language from the state constitution that allows only males to hold office, increase the number of votes a candidate must get in order to qualify for state office and expand the authority of a state commission that disciplines judges.

All four measures took effect immediately.

Mrs. Mofford had said last week that she would sign the measures as required by law even though she found the official English measure offensive.

At the time, she suggested that state employees should ignore the measure until it could be tested in the courts.

"We are not going to be turning a deaf ear to people regardless of what language they speak," she said, acknowledging that her position might technically violate the law.

Quiz Sets Readers Straight On Facts of Homosexuality

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Several years ago, you ran a "true or false" quiz titled "How Much Do You Know About Homosexuality?" I found it most illuminating and respectfully request that you run it again.

STILL LEARNING
IN SCOTTSDALE, ARIZ.

DEAR STILL LEARNING: Aren't we all? Here it is:

How much do you know about homosexuality? Mark the following statements true or false:

1. Homosexuals commit more crimes than straight people. (True or False?)

2. Everyone is born straight, but some become gay because they have been seduced by a gay person early in life. (True or False?)

3. You can always tell homosexuals and lesbians by the way they act, dress and talk. (True or False?)

4. With the proper therapy and motivation, a gay person can become straight. (True or False?)

5. Boys raised by domineering mothers and weak (or absent) fathers usually turn into homosexuals. (True or False?)

6. Gay people can never become mothers or fathers. (True or False?)

7. Homosexuals are more inclined to molest children sexually than heterosexuals. (True or False?)

8. If a person has one or two sexual experiences with someone of the same sex, he is gay. (True or False?)

9. The American Psychiatric Association stated that homosexuals are "sick." (True or False?)

10. Homosexuals can be legally married to each other under the law in the United States. (True or False?)

11. Most homosexuals try to convert young people into becoming gay also. (True or False?)

12. Children raised by gay parents (or gay people) usually become homosexuals themselves. (True or False?)

How did you score? If you marked all 12 statements "False," you are very well-informed. If you marked nine statements "False," you are fairly well-informed.

If you marked four or more statements "True," you have a great deal to learn about homosexuality, because ALL of the above statements are false!

DEAR ABBY: My 21-year-old daughter is getting married next month, and I am expected to pay for the bulk of the wedding cost. Her mother and I have been separated and divorced for more than four years. I asked for the divorce, but there were no other parties involved.

Six months after we separated, I met the lady I am now engaged to marry. (She is a very fine person.)

My ex-wife has "put her foot down" and says my fiancée cannot attend the wedding. My daughter gets along very well with my fiancée, but her mother seems to be running the show.

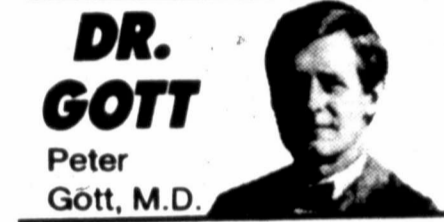

I want to be able to share this important event with the woman I love, and not have my ex-wife acting as though we were still a couple.

My fiancée is very understanding, but if I give in to my ex-wife, my fiancée will think I am a wimp. What words of wisdom can you offer?

CONCERNED IN CHARLOTTE

DEAR CONCERNED: Since your fiancée had nothing to do with the breakup of your marriage, your ex-wife has no right to bar her from the wedding. Furthermore, money talks — so inform your ex-wife that unless you can bring your fiancée, you will feel justified in withdrawing your financial support.

"How to Be Popular" is for everyone who feels left out and wants an improved social life. It's an excellent guide to becoming a better conversationalist and a more attractive person. By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I had a physical exam, the first in several years. The doctor drew blood, took my blood pressure and sent me for a mammogram. That's it. No poking or prodding, no "how do you feel?" no pelvic exam, no weighing me. Is this normal practice these days?

DEAR READER: I hope not. Most prudent doctors would talk to the patient and obtain a medical history, a sequence of questions that enable the physician to learn all he can about her past health. Then the doctor would examine the patient by looking at the throat, feeling for enlarged lymph glands, listening to the chest and heart, palpating for breast masses, checking the abdomen, and, perhaps, performing a gynecological exam and rectal examination, and so forth. Finally, the doctor would order appropriate further testing that might include a mammogram.

The sequence of events you describe is unusual and suggests to me that the doctor took a few too many short cuts. Find a physician who will be more thorough.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Choosing a Physician." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our son, 12½, has to have aortic valve replacement surgery. He likes the idea of having a pig's valve. Can you tell him what other choices are available, and the pros and cons of each?

DEAR READER: Aortic valves can be either porcine or made from synthetic material. The choice of which valve-type is appropriate for your son is a decision best made with the cardiac surgeon.

At least 40 models of substitute valves have been used in the United States. In general, the major drawback to synthetic valves is the tendency for blood to clot on them. When part of the clot breaks off, pieces embolize (travel in the blood stream) and lodge in other tissues, particularly in the brain. However, these valves have an almost indefinite life span.

Porcine valves have less tendency to blood-clotting, but they may tend to deteriorate over time, necessitating re-operation. Studies have failed to demonstrate unequivocal superiority of one type of valve over the other.

However, for unknown reasons, children with porcine valves are more likely than adults to develop calcification and narrowing of the valves as they age.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is Endep a psychotropic drug? What's the normal dose?

DEAR READER: To the extent that it affects the brain and alters feelings, Endep (amitriptyline) is a psychotropic drug. It is an antidepressant whose mechanism of action is unknown. The usual dose is 25 milligrams three times a day.

Your Birthday

Dec. 7, 1988

In the year ahead you are likely to become more involved in activities that are imbued with strong elements of glamour and grandeur. You'll fit into these new developments with surprising ease.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You could be disappointed today if you think things are going to come to you without putting forth the necessary effort. Strive to be productive and don't leave anything up to chance. Sagittarius, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you feel inclined to take risks today, gamble on yourself and your abilities and not on others. Where you lack personal control, matters could go awry.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You might find yourself in a business situation today where you'll feel a little embarrassment of the facts won't hurt. You're wrong — it will.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In an important discussion today where critical information will be disclosed, you'll regret talking more than listening. Be attentive and don't let the key points get by you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions are a trifle tricky today where your financial interests are concerned. Try not to get involved in situations where you have to overextend yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There's a possibility that you might ignore your letter judgment today and do something that does not serve your best interests just because you'll resent being told what to do by another.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might not devote proper time and effort to critical tasks confronting you today. This could create problems for you down the line when your work starts to pile up.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Opportunities could slip past you today, because you might treat propitious developments indifferently. Upon review, you'll regret it if you didn't capitalize on your breaks.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In career situations today, be more concerned about doing the job properly than about making a favorable impression on associates. You'll only get the applause you seek if you perform well.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even if you have to deal with someone today who always lays it on rather heavy, don't follow suit and start exaggerating. In the final analysis, modesty will make you look superior.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It may be wise to let your mate call the financial shots today, because you might not be at your best in this department. Swallow your pride and step to the rear.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) For expeditious reasons, someone might make you a big promise today that you'll take to heart. Unfortunately, the individual involved may be insincere.

When that is the case, South can play A-K and ruff a diamond. That leaves West incapable of using his small trump for any useful purpose. Note that declarer might be set two tricks if West is able to ruff the third club. (He would then cash the ace of spades and exit with a heart, leaving South with a later diamond loser.) But the game bonus justifies the play.

Your family will love these citrus-glazed pork chops because they taste terrific. You can feel good about serving these chops because they're a healthful choice. Trimming off fat and broiling the meat keep calories, fat and cholesterol in check.

ORANGE-GLAZED PORK CHOPS

- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
- 1/2 teaspoon grated gingerroot
- 1/8 teaspoon ground red pepper
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 4 pork loin chops, cut 3/4 inch thick (about 1 1/2 pounds total)

For glaze, in a small saucepan stir together sugar, cornstarch, orange peel, gingerroot and red pepper. Stir in orange juice and soy sauce. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir 2 minutes more.

Trim any separable fat from the chops. Place chops on the unheated rack of a broiler pan. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat for 20 to 25 minutes or until pork is no longer pink, turning once. Brush chops with glaze frequently during broiling. Pass remaining glaze. Makes 4 servings.

Historical Commission is DAR special feature

Daughters of the American Revolution met at Martha Ann Woman's Club for the November luncheon meeting and special feature with 21 members present.

Billy Bob McMullan was welcomed by hostesses Tizzy Hall and Louise Thompson. In charge of the Dermott School restoration project, McMullan stated the county provides $1,000 each year for historical projects. Other needed funds must be donated from other sources.

McMullan gave a review of the Scurry County Historical Commission. Formed in 1963 with Hugh Taylor Sr. as the first chairman, the commission was part of a statewide program to mark, restore and preserve historical sites and buildings in Texas. Hugh Boren Jr. is the only charter member of the commission. June McGlaun has served as an active member for 21 years.

The group has won the Distinguished Service Award for state restoration and preservation every year except 1987. Some outstanding projects have included a fourth grade social studies curriculum about Scurry County written in 1969 by Dorothy Miller and McGlaun. In 1970 the award was given for the Scurry County Museum and in 1982-83 for restoration of the Cornelius-Dodson House.

Publications winning the award include a Historical Marker Book published in 1969 which is used in classroom curriculums and distributed free of charge. A county history, "From Buffalo to Oil" by Hooper Shelton, won the award in 1973. "Footprints Across Scurry County" printed in 1979 and the recipe book, "From Cookie to Chef" also won awards.

The commission has established over 50 historical markers in Scurry County including nine townsites, eight medallion homes, and five churches. A bank, railroads, historical trails crossing the square, and the white buffalo slaughter site are included.

McMullan told members about the trip back to Snyder with the white buffalo statue in a horse trailer. Boren and S.D. Hayes went to California to pick up the statue and reported a lot of stares on their way home. The white buffalo was purchased with the help of donations by local elementary school children.

In 1979, First Federal Savings and Loan purchased the old Dodson place and found it could not be torn down and was unsuitable for office space. The home was offered to the commission and the commissioners court offered the coliseum grounds for its new site. Because the commission cannot own property, a non-profit organization, Historic Scurry County, Inc., was formed to restore, own and maintain the Cornelius-Dodson House. It was moved in 1981 and restoration was begun.

McMullan explained the structure of the incorporated group and said volunteers called docents care for the Dodson House, conduct tours dressed in period costumes, and serve fundraising luncheons. The House is also available for various community activities by appointment.

McMullan encouraged members to help in the Dermott School restoration project. When it is completed, it will also be available for use to local organizations and community functions.

The next meeting of DAR will be Jan. 10.

Amitie members see Christmas decorating

Amitie Study Club members met at Classic Interiors for their November meeting.

Jeana Duke and Lyn Lancaster discussed various styles of Christmas tree decors which are popular this year including Victorian, country, and glitzy.

They also discussed ways to tie tree and hearth decorations together to add color to the home. Members were given time to browse through the many interesting gifts and decorations offered in the store.

President Lavada Cates presided during the business session. The Noah Project and Oil Patch Foster Children's Association will be the club's Christmas projects this season.

The next meeting of the club will be Dec. 15 in the home of Pete Haley for a Christmas Party. Members will exchange holiday ornaments.

Horned Frogs maul Montana State; Red Raiders defeat San Diego State

by The Associated Press
Texas Christian coach Moe Iba says it was obvious that the Horned Frogs were not ready to play at the start of their non-conference game with Montana State.

But the Frogs bounced back, thanks to some hot shooting in the second half, to take a 75-57 comeback victory over Montana State Monday night.

In other Southwest Conference action, Texas Tech defeated San Diego State, 58-43, Houston beat Northwestern Louisiana and Baylor fell to Iowa State, 83-73.

"From the outset it was obvious that we were not ready to play," Iba said. "Fortunately, we finally came to life about eight or nine minutes into it."

Montana State grabbed an 11-0 lead at the start of the game and held a 31-15 lead later in the first half before Danny Hughes and teammate John Lewis got the Horned Frogs going in the second half.

Hughes and Lewis scored 23 points in the second half enroute for the Southwest Conference team as the Frogs, who trailed, 47-40 with 13 minutes left, outscored Montana State 20-6 to take a 60-53 lead.

Hughes finished with 19 points and Lewis scored 11.

The Frogs, who missed their first seven field goal attempts of the game, finished the night shooting 50 percent because of hot shooting in the second half.

Elway fired at Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) - He was praised for his recruiting, but the team's inability to score when it got close to the goal line was Stanford University Coach Jack Elway's downfall.

Saying it was time for "new direction," Elway, whose Cardinal had lost four out of the last five seasons, was fired Monday afternoon.

The not-so-surprising announcement by Stanford Director of Athletics Andy Geiger came just two weeks after the Cardinal wrapped up a 3-6-2 season.

"This extremely difficult decision came after a very careful evaluation and review of every aspect of our football program," said Geiger in a prepared statement.

While at Stanford, Elway compiled a 25-29-2 record. The Cardinal finished this season a disappointing 1-5-2 in the Pacific 10 Conference.

Elway's son, John, Denver Broncos, told KMGH television station in Denver that he hadn't had a chance yet to speak with his father and didn't want to make any comment until he had done that.

Stanford said a search for Elway's successor would begin immediately.

when they hit 15 of 23 field goal attempts.

Mike Fellows scored 19 for Montana State.

It was the third straight victory for TCU, 4-2, while Montana State slipped to 3-2.

Texas Tech coach Gerald Myers said he was pleased with the defense the Red Raiders played against San Diego State in a 58-43 victory over the Aztecs.

"When we weren't scoring, we dug in on defense and made things happen for ourselves," Myers said. "That's my kind of game. I like that defense."

Sean Gay scored 18 points and pulled down eight rebounds to lead Tech to their first victory over the season over previously unbeaten San Diego State.

Tech led by only 14-12 after six minutes, but the Red Raiders scored 12 of the next 16 points for a 26-16 halftime lead, with Todd Duncan and Steve Miles scoring four points each.

J.D. Sanders' lay-up with 3 seconds left in the first half gave Tech its 10-point lead at intermission.

Michael Best led San Diego State's Aztecs with 7 points.

Texas Tech limited San Diego to 35.2 percent field goal accuracy, as the Raider defense controlled the tempo from the outset.

In nine-player deal with Cubs...

Rangers trade for Palmeiro

ATLANTA (AP) - The Texas Rangers needed a hitter and liked Rafael Palmeiro. The Chicago Cubs wanted bullpen help and went after Mitch Williams.

And, after adding some left-handed pitchers, the teams Monday put together a nine-player trade that was baseball's biggest deal since 1980.

Palmeiro, the second-leading batter in the National League last season, joined pitchers Jamie Moyer and Drew Hall in going to Texas.

Williams, among the least-hit relievers in the American League, went with pitchers Paul Kilgus and Steve Wilson, infielder Curtis Wilkerson and two minor leaguers to be named later to Chicago.

It was the biggest trade since the 1980 winter meetings when

Texas and Seattle exchanged 11 players, among them Richie Zisk and Willie Horton. Four days before that, St. Louis and San Diego made an 11-player trade that included Rollie Fingers and Terry Kennedy.

"We were looking for an offen-

Irate minority owner wants to gain control, turn Cowboys around

DALLAS (AP) - A minority owner of the Dallas Cowboys, on record as unhappy with head coach Tom Landry, told a television station he will try within the next week to buy out majority owner H.R. "Bum" Bright.

Monday night, in one of a series of exclusive interviews presented this week on Dallas television station KDFW-TV, Houston entrepreneur Ed Smith said he will bid $157.5 million for the Cowboys in a leveraged buyout move.

Smith, 70, now owns 27 percent of the franchise.

KDFW-TV showed a tape Sunday night in which Smith expressed extreme displeasure in the team, which has lost 10 straight games to fall to 2-12. He said Landry has to take the blame. The team had enough talent at the start of the year to have won more games, Smith said.

"I believe I can turn the Cowboys around and make them America's team again," Smith said. "I think within two to three years, the Cowboys can have the best franchise in their history."

Smith said he will pledge $140 million in cash for both the Cowboys and the lease at Texas Stadium, $10 million to cover the debts on the Valley Ranch facility, $3.5 million to pay off a short-term note that comes due this month and $4 million for deferred salaries.

Smith said he and several other investors are working on the leveraged buyout offer through a Phoenix financial institution.

KDFW reported Monday that Smith will make the official bid late this week or early next week. Smith, who has a reported personal net worth of $90 million, is the owner of a Houston barge company and has ties to Commonwealth Bank of Houston, the station reported.

"We don't have any leadership. We haven't had any leadership in three, four, five years," Smith said. "I think you have to blame the coaching staff. Maybe you blame the Oilers, maybe you blame Tex Schramm (club president). But primarily you have to blame the day-to-day approach to winning ball games."

Girls to welcome Tahoka

Coach Ken Housden's Lady Tigers, fresh off back-to-back victories, will entertain Tahoka at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school gym.

A junior varsity contest is set for 6 p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The Lady Tigers, who won consolation in the Coahoma Tournament last weekend, are 3-5 following wins over Colorado City and Forsan.

Tigers try Mineral Wells

CLYDE - Snyder's Tigers meet Mineral Wells here tonight in a non-district Class 4A basketball game.

The game is the second "neutral-site" contest for the Tigers, who earlier this season played Brownwood in Abilene.

Snyder, five games deep into what could be a 16-game road trip depending on tournament play, is 4-4 on the season. The Tigers last played at home on Nov. 22 and do not have another home contest until the fourth District 4-4A game when they entertain San Angelo Lake View on Jan. 10.

Tonight's action opens with a junior varsity contest at 6 p.m. Varsity squads take the floor at 7:30 p.m.

Dusters face Cisco at 7; Odessa waiting in wings

Coach Kelly Chadwick, whose Lady Dusters have a key conference game with Odessa College here Thursday, hopes his team doesn't overlook Cisco tonight.

Tipoff is 7 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

The Dusters are 11-4 for the season and 1-0 in conference action. Tonight's ballgame is a non-conference outing.

Western is 1-0 against the Lady Wranglers of Cisco this season, having beaten them 74-67 in Cisco on Nov. 23. But Chadwick said the Dusters have not been concentrating on tonight's game with Cisco, opting instead to focus on Thursday's upcoming conference action with arch-rival Odessa.

"We have been preparing for Odessa all week. It's not a situation where I'm real, real happy to have a game tonight. I would have been better to have played it Monday night but scheduling didn't work that way," noted Chadwick. "So I'm hoping we will go out and play well tonight. It will be a good game for us in preparation for Odessa. The defense will probably be the same. Cisco has a better team than their record indicates. We need to have this game, I just wish it had been last night."

Cisco is 3-8 on the season.

Ellard leads Rams past Chicago, 23-3

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - Henry Ellard was beaming.

Not only had the Los Angeles Rams ended a four-game losing streak and kept their playoff hopes alive. Ellard had - for a change - some time in the national spotlight.

And the Rams' wide receiver made the most of his chance Monday night, with six receptions for 132 yards in a 23-3 victory over the Chicago Bears.

Ellard's effort, which included a 31-yard touchdown to give the Rams some breathing room in the third quarter, catapulted him to the top of the NFL's receiving list this season. He has 1,248 yards on 74 catches.

"If he's not one of the top three or four guys in the league, I don't know who is," Rams quarterback Jim Everett said of the sure-handed receiver.

The victory gave the Rams, who went zero-for-November after a 7-2 start, an 8-6 record and keeps them in contention for a playoff berth.

The Bears, who already have clinched at least a wild-card playoff spot, are now 11-3.

The Rams, who outgained Chicago Bears 364 yards to 213 and never let the Bears get into anything resembling rhythm on offense, might owe some credit to the Green Bay Packers.

The Rams lost two key players, quarterback Mike Tomczak and defensive end Richard Dent, to injury in their 16-0 victory over the Packers last week.

Jim Harbaugh, a second-year pro out of Michigan who was making his first pro start, completed just 11 of 30 passes for 108 yards and two interceptions.

'Other woman' testifies at Railey hearing

DALLAS (AP) — The "other woman" in the Walker Railey saga says she and the former Dallas minister were "serious" and "longterm" lovers, but insists the romance did not figure in the savage 1987 attack on Railey's wife.

Lucy Papillon, 46, a Dallas psychologist, testified Monday she and Railey discussed marriage and that he mentioned divorce, but she maintained the scenario did not include the attempted murder of Peggy Railey.

State District Judge John Whittington ended the unusual civil proceedings Monday evening by awarding Mrs. Railey's family $16 million in actual and punitive damages from Railey.

It was a hollow and mostly symbolic victory, since Railey claims he's broke and maybe even jobless.

Railey, 41, the key figure in a drama featured this year on ABC's 20-20 program, did not attend the trial nor did he dispute the charges contained in the lawsuit.

At the same time, the nationally known minister has denied the near-fatal choking of his wife and has never been charged in the case.

He claims he returned to the couple's custom-built Lake Highlands home shortly after midnight April 21, 1987, and found his wife near death on the garage floor.

Police and prosecutors have proof that Railey, then the senior pastor of the mainstream First United Methodist Church, lied about his activities that night but admit there is no evidence to link him to the attack.

He reportedly is living in San Francisco and the current status of his affair with Ms. Papillon is unknown despite rumors that the romance has cooled in recent months.

Ms. Papillon, the daughter of a former Methodist bishop, and once a member of Railey's flock, was not required Monday to testify about the relationship beyond April 1988.

But she confirmed the thrust of reports leaked last year from a grand jury appearance in which she was tied romantically to Railey long before and after the attack on Mrs. Railey.

Responding to questions from plaintiff attorney Bill Arnold, the striking blonde witness said their affair began in June 1986 and that it accelerated in the months leading up to the springtime 1987 assault.

Arnold quoted liberally from a sworn deposition he took from Ms. Papillon last May but the witness replied mostly with a simple "yes" or "no."

She said she frequently accompanied Railey on his travels, and once joined him for a rendezvous in London.

In the days immediately prior to the attack on Peggy Railey, she said, she visited Railey at the North Dallas Doubletree Inn three or four times. But she denied that the intensified affair led up to an attempt to dispose of Railey's wife.

She indicated Railey's relationship with his wife was functional at best and said rather obliquely, that until their extramarital affair, "He did not know what he did not have."

Arnold sought to show that a divorce would have jeopardized if not ended Railey's chances of becoming a bishop, the pinnacle of leadership in the Methodist hierarchy.

Mrs. Papillon said she could not respond to that.

Concealed quake faults pose extensive hazard

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two concealed but active faults cut giant swaths through the area and could cause a major earthquake in the nation's second-largest city, says a scientist, who recommends that building codes be re-evaluated.

The Elysian Park Fault, unknown until it caused the deadly Oct. 1, 1987, Whittier Narrows earthquake, is about 10 miles wide and 60 miles long.

It runs from Santa Monica Bay east through Beverly Hills, downtown Los Angeles and Monterey Park, then southeast to suburban Whittier, Fullerton, Yorba Linda and Corona, said geophysicist Egil Hauksson.

While mapping the extent of that fault, University of Southern California scientists also discovered the 40-by-10-mile Torrance-Wilmington fault stretching from Santa Monica Bay southeast through oil fields in Torrance and Los Angeles' Wilington district, the Palos Verdes Peninsula, Long Beach and offshore from Newport Beach.

Hauksson's study of the faults, known as thrust faults hidden by giant folds in Earth's crust, was scheduled to be presented today at the American Geophysical Union's fall meeting in San Francisco.

"There's growing evidence that there's a fairly extensive system of those types of faults in the Los Angeles Basin," said Tom Heaton, scientist in charge of the Pasadena office of the U.S. Geological Survey, which financed Hauksson's study.

Thrust faults have caused "damaging and sometimes very large earthquakes in other parts of the world," Heaton said.

Hauksson said his study suggests the five segments of the Elysian Park Fault break in separate earthquakes.

City council meets Monday

employees in the new health insurance program.

Patterson said his appearance with three other pharmacists was "not adversarial" to the council and was not to criticize the plan because it would reduce revenues of local pharmacies.

He did offer criticism, however, of a mail-order prescription aspect of the plan which offers prescription drugs at a reduced rate from a national pharmaceutical company.

He said this proposal is not desirable because, in part, it eliminates the sometimes needed contact with a pharmacist.

Insurance Joe Williamson and Jene Steakley, who represent the insurance firm which serves the city, agreed with Patterson that another option could be employed to allow city employees to make more use of local pharmacists.

Mayor Williamson said the council will take the pharmacists' criticisms under advisement.

The council heard a report from Municipal Judge Tommie Mills on the operations and initiatives of his court and voted to extend his contract for another two years after Jan. 1.

Mills said his once or twice-monthly night court sessions have been successful in making it more convenient for misdemeanor defendants to appear, and he said he plans to institute a "teen court" next year, with local teenagers setting punishment for defendants under age 17.

Mills said his program of allowing youthful offenders to work off their fines at $6 per hour for working at the police station and city hall has been very successful, with only three of the approximately 100 who have taken part in it having failed to discharge their fines.

The judge said he plans to begin having them work at the Senior Citizens Center.

Councilman Jack Greene Jr. said Mills deserves a raise from the $900 per month that he is currently being paid, and the mayor said a raise could be discussed at a subsequent meeting.

Mills has been municipal judge for the past 3 1/2 years. He holds court from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 or 10 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Rules, regulations and procedures for the operations of the city water department were formally adopted by the council at the request of customer services director Carolyn House, who said the rules, although already in use, needed such formal approval.

A loading zone designation at 2417 College Ave. was removed by the council at the request of merchants in the vicinity who said the designation was no longer needed because the business for which it was enacted is no longer open.

An ordinance adopting a water conservation and drought contingency plan for the city was passed on second reading, and a bid of $2,474 was accepted from Empire Iron & Metal of Dallas for the purchase of 467 used water meters.

An executive session was conducted after the public meeting ended at 9:20 p.m. to discuss pending litigation, after which no action was taken.

The 6:30 p.m. meeting was attended by council members John Johnson, Paul Zeck, Ernest Tippens and Greene. Joe Coronado and Ralph Williamson were absent.

Lawmakers face budget shortfall

AUSTIN (AP) — Despite State Comptroller Bob Bullock's upbeat economic forecast, state lawmakers will face a $1 billion revenue shortfall to maintain the current level of state services, according to budget leaders.

And that $1 billion shortfall could easily balloon to $2 billion, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said Monday.

"Actually, I think a more realistic figure would be $2 billion when you take into account public school financing," he said.

A state district court judge ruled Texas' school finance system is unconstitutional because it discriminates against students in poor school districts, which are unable to raise as much money to educate students as wealthier districts.

Drivers, passengers all treated-released

Three Snyder women were injured, although none seriously, in a two-car collision at 8:50 p.m. Monday at 25th St. and College Ave.

Police said a 1976 Buick two-door driven by Paula R. Jones of Western Texas College Box 92 was in collision with a 1983 Mercury two-door driven by Sandi L. Pavlik of 3711 Noble Dr., after which the two drivers and a passenger in the Jones car, Elizabeth Lopez, were taken by private vehicle to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where they were all treated and released.

The Jones car had to be towed from the scene.

Appetites among babies vary with their energy needs, so there is no specific amount of how much your baby should eat. Infant feeding specialists at Beech-Nut Nutrition Corp. confirm that every healthy baby will take as much as he or she needs for their normal growth. Don't withhold food, they say, or force food on an infant.

Watch requested at postal lobby

A Postal Service official Monday morning asked police to watch the lobby of the downtown post office at night because juveniles have been riding skateboards in the lobby and leaving black marks on the floor.

The sheriff's office is investigating the theft of a cotton module tarp from C.L. West east of Dunn.

West told officers Monday morning that the 30-foot tarp, with "West" on it, had been stolen from one of his modules.

A city detective reported late Monday afternoon that a Friday criminal mischief incident involving a vehicle owned by Jack Morton of 2110 40th St. had been cleared.

He said an 18-year-old male had been identified as the individual who damaged the vehicle by striking it with his fists. The suspect has agreed to restitution for the damage.

Jury indicts seven suspects

Buchanan, 36, of 900 North Ave. R. She is accused of writing a $16.33 check to McD's service station and convenience store on Sept. 21, using checks belonging to an individual listed as Frances Tatom. Her bond was set at $3,000.

The grand jury also handed down two indictments for driving while intoxicated, subsequent offenses.

Facing these charges are Jack Arnold Duke, 48, of 2606 Ave. I, arrested Nov. 11; and Edward Carl Phillips Jr., 29, of 213 34th St., arrested Dec. 3. Both had bonds set at $2,000.

CARLYLE'S CHRISTMAS by Larry Wright

Research scientist hopeful

AUSTIN (AP) — AIDS "is less of a problem" than cancer, and eventually will be defeated, says a scientist prominent in the fight against the fatal viral disease.

Dr. Mathilde Krim of New York said the world is relying on the United States to find an answer for AIDS.

"I'm looking at us, too. I don't see who else will, unless by a fluke of chance some major discovery happens somewhere else," she told a news conference Monday before her speech at St. Edward's University.

Ms. Krim, associate research scientist at St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center and College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, New York, said "the vastness of the problem, the scientific problem ... can be addressed only in this country."

She described cancer as "a combination of a hundred different diseases with multiple complicated challenges."
