Legal fee dispute for TDC lawsuits won't be pursued

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor
Scurry County entities named as defendants in five lawsuits filed in an attempt to block construction of the Texas Department of Corrections prison unit here have opted to no longer pursue a lingering legal question related to court costs.
A letter submitted to the 132nd

District Court clerk's office asks that money deposited with the court last spring by plaintiffs in the lawsuits—$5,385 to cover the costs of taking depositions for witness testimony—now be distributed among the defendants.
Plaintiffs in the cases, which were first filed almost exactly one year ago on Dec. 9, were Jeanne Bullard, Gloria Griffin, Jonisue Stiff, Ava Lapour, Joe Lapour and Louise Thompson.

The list of defendants includes TDC and the State of Texas, Scurry County, the Scurry County Industrial Foundation, the City of Snyder and Joe Fowler as the head of the local industrial foundation.

Yuletide sing

The annual Christmas concert from the Snyder High School Choir will begin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Worsham Auditorium.
Director Bill Lyon promises a 45-minute performance featuring both traditional and modern Christmas songs.
The ninth grade choir and the Acapella Choir will perform. Both will combine for the concluding songs.

For food bank

The food bank sponsored by the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance will be open for qualified participants during the remainder of December on Dec. 13 and Dec. 27.
During the first week of the month, the food bank served 78 families involving 320 persons.
Donations to the food bank may be made by check or money order to P.O. Box 1, Snyder, Tx., 79549, or through donations at local churches.

Cogdell meet

The noon bill paying session for Cogdell Memorial Hospital board members is due Friday.
The accounts payable for November is the only action item listed for the meeting.

Snowfall expected for area

From Local, Wire Reports
Moisture which had fallen here during the early morning was beginning to turn to ice Thursday as the Snyder area looked forward Thursday night to an 80 percent chance of snow.

By mid-morning, the season's first winter storm blanketed the Texas High Plains with snow, dumping about two inches of snow from Lubbock to Amarillo.

A snow advisory was in effect through Thursday night for the Panhandle, South Plains, the higher elevations of extreme West Texas and the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

Up to 1 inch was expected to accumulate in the Snyder area Thursday with a 50 percent chance for additional snow flurries predicted for Friday.

The cold front which moved into this area early Thursday morning prompted a later schedule for some rural Snyder bus routes, but school was held as scheduled.

At mid-morning, school officials were not ruling out that school might be dismissed early, however. Accidents on Scurry County highways were also starting to be reported around 10 a.m. due to icy conditions.

Snow was expected to continue falling throughout the morning from the New Mexico border across to Childress, said Gary Hartley of the National Weather Service.

"There's another big pocket of snow headed for Amarillo," he said.

Schools and airports remained open, and the storm was not causing significant traffic problems, said the Department of Public Safety.

"Right now there are no big problems, but it'll get worse if the storm stays in there like they say it's going to," said DPS dispatcher Duane Collins.

A cold front extended southwestward from Southeast Texas to the middle Rio Grande plains.

In addition to the snow in the High Plains, most of the state had some form of precipitation Thursday. Scattered showers and a few thunderstorms with widespread areas of rain were reported behind the cold front. Ahead of the front scattered thunderstorms and showers were reported, including some with very heavy rain.

Forecasts called for a winter storm watch Thursday night for extreme West Texas, the higher elevations of Southwest Texas and the Permian Basin.

Ira FFA members garner state honor

The Ira Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapter won two first place team victories and the coveted sweepstakes award at the state FFA Leadership Contest held at Sam Houston State University.

In the Greenhand Division, Ira's junior chapter conducting team placed first, winning by three points. Team members include Michael Latham, Kory

Clark, Travis Goswick, Joe Luna, Roger Lindsey, Brett Long, Chris Haynes and Jody Elam.

In the Chapter Farmer Division, Ira's senior farm skill demonstration team also captured first place, winning by 10 points. Members of that team are David Holmes, Alan Martinez and Gary Gunset.

Ira then went on to win the sweepstakes award by one point

Grandfalls Royalty came in second in overall points.

Some 63 schools entered 80 teams during the Dec. 3 competition. Class competing included 1A through 5A schools.

Richard Long, adviser, called the sweepstakes victory the "superbowl" of FFA competition. This was the first time Ira has won state.

Long said he was gratified not only by winning state but also by the some 70 people in the community who turned out to welcome them home.

To qualify for the state competition, Ira had to win at the area level contest. Texas is divided into 10 FFA areas and each area qualified eight teams for the state competition.

Ira competes in Area II which is comprised of seven districts.

Calendar, bid item on trustees' agenda

Agenda items before the Snyder school board Thursday include approval of a school calendar for 1989-90 and consideration of bids to construct a greenhouse for the Humble-Smith school campus.

Trustees will meet at 6 p.m. for a one-hour executive session prior to the 7 p.m. meeting. The executive session will be to continue the board's annual evaluation of the superintendent and to consider one personnel item.

The agenda item related to the school calendar will see trustees decide between two proposed schedules which have already been considered and voted on by school staff members.

The major difference between the two proposals involves the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, with one expanding the Thanksgiving break to include the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

To offset this extra day, the Christmas break would begin one day later, on Dec. 21 rather than Dec. 20.

Of the staffers voting, 169 of 222 endorsed this schedule.

Also asked was the staff's preference for bad weather makeup days, and 178 voted for April 21 and May 12 both Saturdays—as opposed to March 19-20, the Monday and Tuesday of what would be spring break.

Regarding the greenhouse project, the board is scheduled to consider bids for the work, but were informed at a workshop Monday that two bids submitted are both some $2,500 over the $12,500 in grant monies received by the district and targeted for the work.

The board was to consider a district policy recommendation. See AGENDA, page 11.

City building still off to slow startup

Snyder's new building year, with two months now complete, is already well behind the previous 12-month cycle, when permits of more than $522,000 had been issued.

The total this year is $160,589 and, for the month of November, was $69,025 with only five projects applied for.

The current report includes two mobile home move-ins, one said for rental purposes. It was issued to William Thompson at 2308 Ave. D. A second mobile home permit was issued to Robert Garrett at 2404 Merrill.

A remodeling project at 2405 37th St. was permitted also, applied for by Lora Crabtree with Ralph Whitehead to serve as contractor.

In addition, Ava Lapour is to enclose a patio at 4202 Ave. U with John Bailey serving as contractor.

A fifth permit was for the construction of a storage building at 3801 Galveston and was issued to Dennis Westmoreland.

For October and November of the new fiscal year, the city has issued 10 permits for mobile homes, three for alterations to dwellings, three for signs and five for projects related to carport and accessories.

No permits have been issued to See PERMITS, page 11.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Virtues are learned at mother's knee, vices are learned at other joints."

"Tails" have been the latest fads in boys' hairstyles. A Snyder principal provided us with a couple of good "excuses" offered when challenging.

"My son is wearing a 'tail' because the barber says that is the only way he can really cut it."

Another student was a little more inventive. "Gee, I'm not wearing a tail, it just naturally grows that way."

Hair was only a minor discipline problem in our high school days. Burr haircuts and flat-tops were common despite a few that followed a "ducktail" trend created by Elvis Presley.

We remember the senior members of the track team being suspended one day for arriving at school with a "mohawk." The administration said any hair style or dress that caused "undue attention" was prohibited.

"Undue attention and in good taste so as to not distract from the instructional process" has been the norm for most dress codes. In the 1970s, long hair was taboo and principals were making sure it did not extend past some specified location such as the bottom of the earlobe.

In the mid 1970s we were covering a school board in another city. Tired of fighting dress code enforcement, a movement was on to relax standards. Discussions came just prior to the start of school, and school board members were flooded with calls from anxious parents.

Most of the conversations went like this, "Don't you dare change the rules, he hasn't had a haircut all summer and you're the only one who can make him."

Incidentally, the dress code didn't change.

When principals get problems sent to them, most understand because most began their careers as classroom teachers.

Junior High Principal Charles Anderson remembers his sixth grade class. A student walked up, handed him an object and said, "I think this is a dynamite cap."

The cap turned out to be harmless, but Anderson said he was quick to learn to refer this kind of thing to the principal.

Bonks, plonkers, archers & yahs enter the language

LONDON (AP) — Previous euphemisms for lying are now, to use one outdated word, inoperative. In the latest British lingo, to withhold the truth is to be "economical."

"Economical" has been enshrined in the Longman Register of New Words, among 1,200 words and phrases including "plonker," "loadsamoney," "bonk journalism" and "yah."

All, according to Longman's editor, John Ayto, have insinuated themselves into the language of Chaucer, Shakespeare and Dickens since 1986.

"Economical" owes its new meaning to court cases involving "Spycatcher," the expose by former intelligence official Peter Wright that the government attempted to suppress.

In a court case in Australia over "Spycatcher," former British civil service head Sir Robert Armstrong admitted he had previously been "economical with the truth."

"Economical" thus has come to be euphemism for "deliberately withholding something from public knowledge," the Register said.

"Sexy" has been tamed, now meaning attractive, enjoyable or trendy, the Register said, but the language has found new ways to talk about the birds and the bees.

The press' infatuation with sex has produced the term "bonk journalism," defined in the Register as "journalism concerned with obtaining and printing accounts of the supposed sexual activities of well-known people."

"Plonker," the insult which Del Boy constantly hurls at his younger brother in the British Broadcasting Corp. TV sitcom "Only Fools and Horses," has established itself as a synonym for a dim-witted and ineffectual person.

chronicled a growing tendency, blamed on the former 13 colonies, to use nouns as verbs: "to nuke," a usage which was denounced as an "alarmingly cozy" euphemism for starting World War III; "to stiff," or fail in a commercial venture, and "to gender," or stereotypically associate something with men or women.

Several new words and phrases — the derogatory "dependency culture" and "learned helplessness" along with the approving "can do" — are owed to Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

She also is credited with reviving a term from her native Lincolnshire: "frit," meaning someone who is frightened.

One of her wealthy supporters in the financial world is now said to be "well-wedged," a real "loadsamoney."

More than two-thirds of all the one-horned rhinoceroses in the world live in Kaziranga National Park in northeast India.

DR. GOTT
Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have frequent nosebleeds. Could this be related to my high platelet count for which I take Myleran?

DEAR READER: Your frequent nosebleeds could be due either to your illness or to the medicine.

Excessive platelets, the tiny blood cells that form clots, are often the hallmark of an underlying blood disorder characterized by disturbances in clotting. For example, acute infections, cancer — such as Hodgkin's disease and leukemia — and iron deficiency can cause an increase in platelets.

Myleran (bismulfan) is a potent drug used in the treatment of certain blood diseases, such as leukemia. It depresses the formation of blood cells in the bone marrow, including platelets. However, during treatment, the platelet count may temporarily rise.

Ask your doctor to identify whether your medicine or your condition is causing your nosebleeds and whether this is something about which you should be concerned.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I work for a road crew and in the course of my 25-year work-life, have been exposed to DDT, Q.4.D, Q.4.T, Dieldrin, Malthion and Capotan. I'm now having convulsions but tests are negative. Is it possible that chemical contamination could be the reason for my seizures?

DEAR READER: Yes, chronic exposure to the materials you mention could cause nervous system problems, including convulsions.

Of course, seizures can result from other causes, too. In my opinion, your doctor should order a blood test called a toxicology screen to measure the presence of dangerous chemicals in your system.

Also, your doctor will want to report your environmental exposure to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration so that other workers can be protected from the toxic compounds in your workplace.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Epilepsy: The Falling Sickness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My tongue turns black. Is this a recurrence of the leukoplakia I had 40 years ago?

DEAR READER: No. Black tongue (parasitic glossitis) is usually due to a harmless fungus infection. It is a common consequence of antibiotic therapy (which destroys the anti-yeast bacteria in the mouth) and can easily be treated with a variety of mouth washes. Ask your doctor to suggest an appropriate brand.

Dear Abby

Rekindled Friendship Sparks Unwelcome Fire in Husband

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to "Bob" for eight years. We have had our ups and downs like most married couples, but generally speaking we have a strong marriage with very good communication.

Last summer I got reacquainted with a longtime girlfriend of mine — I'll call her Shirley. She had recently divorced and was depressed. We started inviting her to our place for weekends. She snapped out of her depression and we enjoyed her company. Now the problem: Bob recently confessed to me that he has fallen deeply in love with Shirley. Shirley told me she feels terrible about it and she does not return his feelings.

Bob wants to continue inviting Shirley to our place. At first I thought I could do it, but the truth is it hurts too much. Bob says he still loves me, but if I deny him the opportunity to see Shirley, he will be miserable. So what do I do? Invite her and tolerate the pain? Or stop inviting her and have to deal with a miserable husband? Or should I tell him to leave me and the kids until he's over her?

UPSET AND CONFUSED

DEAR ABBY: Don't invite Shirley anymore. But do invite your husband to join you in a visit to a marriage counselor. He is behaving like a lovesick high school boy. You are not his mother, you are his wife, and if you want your marriage to survive, you will insist that he go for counseling. If you tell him to "leave until he is over Shirley," your marriage may be over first.

eating or they risk going into a diabetic coma. What a bonanza for the cake and doughnut market!

I asked her doctor about this, and he wagged his finger in my face and said sternly: "You had better not interfere with your wife's diet. She knows what she has to do!"

It's always puzzled me that certain individuals are able to rationalize carrying a dangerous load of weight, but this diabetic thing is a real "doozie."

HEAVY PROBLEM IN SANTA ANA

DEAR HEAVY: Either your wife's physician didn't hear you or he didn't understand you when you told him that your wife was of the opinion that she could eat whatever she felt like eating to prevent going into a diabetic coma.

According to the American Diabetic Association, if a diabetic allows his blood sugar to fall below a certain level, he should eat something (preferably something high in carbohydrates) to prevent having a low blood sugar reaction — but that is a far cry from eating "whatever they want" and it does not give diabetics permission to stuff themselves with sweets. Should a low blood sugar reaction occur, a diabetic will need a small amount of concentrated sugar — a 4- to 6-ounce glass of orange juice will do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Of all the empty phrases uttered, my vote for the emptiest is, "If there is anything I can do for you, please let me know."

DEAR ABBY: My wife, age 70 and 65 pounds overweight, has just been diagnosed as a borderline diabetic, and she is delighted! It seems that she either read somewhere or overheard that diabetics have to eat whatever they feel like

Astro-Graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Dec. 9, 1988

In the year ahead you are likely to be more ingenious and resourceful in devising ways to improve your lot in life. You could be especially fortunate where your material interests are concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't let any grass grow under your feet now when promoting your self-interests. This is definitely the time for action. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you feel an overwhelming urge to play a hunch today, it could prove advantageous to you to yield to your inclinations and give it a go. Just be sure it isn't wishful thinking.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't be hesitant today to tackle a situation you haven't attempted before. Your competency in this new area might even surprise you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Conditions continue to favor you in circumstances where you are competing against others. The edge isn't gigantic, but it's enough to win.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is a good day to talk to your superiors about your new ideas. Deal with people directly at the top, because if you go through subordinates, they are apt to alter your suggestions.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You have the ability today to improve upon the conceptions of others. Even though their thoughts may be good ones, you'll be able to figure out ways to make them even better.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your judgment should be quite good today and you'll be a quick thinker. Have faith in your evaluations, even if you have to make some decisions under pressure.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't let yourself get locked into unproductive career routines merely because they are comfortable. Be a shade more experimental.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something surprising could develop for you today that you should find rather pleasing. It is likely to occur through one of your social involvements.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) With a little applied ingenuity at this time you should be able to devise ways to get certain things you've been wanting for your family, which thus far have eluded you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your mind is very alert today and you should be able to pick up valuable information from conversations that is likely to go right over the heads of the other listeners.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) An unusual financial opportunity could be within your reach today, but it might be difficult to recognize because it may come through a unique and unexpected source.

Witnesses tell colorful stories

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's suspected that defendants may fib during trial, but lawyers also may shade the truth, but it's the witness who arrives late that has the most colorful story, said the state Supreme Court's top jurist.

Chief Justice Robert N.C. Nix Jr. described some of his favorites in an article published Wednesday in the Philadelphia Daily News.

A Delaware man who showed up two hours late for trial told Nix, "I asked two people how to get to the courthouse, and they both said they didn't think one had been built yet."

Another late witness admitted he "was hooked on the lottery, and I got stuck in a long line waiting for my ticket this morning."

showing spade support. Here three no-trump will make easily, and four spades is in danger. But on many hands South would have weaker diamonds than A-Q, and then four spades is likely to be a far superior contract. West led the top of his 10-doubleton heart, anticipating getting the lead with the spade king and hoping for a ruff. When declarer puts up dummy's heart jack, the spotlight is on East, who now will determine the fate of the contract at the first trick. There is a very sound reason for East to let dummy's jack win the trick, although of course he signals encouragement with the eight-spot. If West is leading a singleton heart, declarer has four cards in hearts. With that holding, he surely would have bid two hearts after the two-club bid by North. After East ducks the heart, West wins a trick with the king of spades and leads a second heart to get a ruff. The deal is not over even then. If West carelessly leads a diamond away from the king, four spades will still make. But West has an easy safe play of a club and can wait to take the setting trick with the king of diamonds.

Installation of new officers was the November meeting topic of the Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women's Association.

Vice-president Pauline Withers presided at the meeting and served as installing officer. Incoming leaders are Pam Dortch, president; Stella Bailey, vice-president; Mae Cole, secretary; and Brenda Clark, treasurer.

Brenda Clark offered the invocation and led the Pledge of Allegiance.

A Thanksgiving dinner was served by The Texan Restaurant with Penny Cochran and Pam Dortch as hostesses.

Guests present for the occasion were Mary Kiker, Nicole Overman, Ernie Hinojos, and Pat Faver from the Scurry Charter Chapter of ABWA.

Dorothy Dortch gave the visitors a review of program topics, local and national scholarship projects, fund raisers, and special events through the year.

Mae Cole gave the financial report from the auditing committee stating the books were in order for new officers and minutes were corrected.

Members voted to make a donation to the Noah Project.

Juanita Land received the hostess gift.

The Dec. 15 meeting will be at The Texan and feature a White Elephant gift exchange.

Withers ended the meeting with the benediction.

Food Bank is B&PW Club's special feature

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club met at Martha Ann Woman's Club for their November dinner meeting with hostess Lee Weaver welcoming 10 members.

Following a traditional Thanksgiving meal, Eula Williams explained the outreach efforts of the Food Bank. Held in

Stargazers plan party

Stargazers Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Mildred Rogers for its November meeting.

Pauline Withers, secretary-treasurer, presided during the business session.

Members planned their Christmas party for Dec. 10 with a noon meal at The Shack. Gifts will be exchanged and each member is asked to donate an item for the Noah Project.

Rogers gave a report on the 4-H Food Show held Nov. 12. Withers also helped at the show.

Officers chosen for 1989 are Joy Early, president; Daisy Lewis, vice-president; Rogers, council delegate and membership; and Withers, secretary-treasurer.

Rogers received the hostess gift.

The next regular meeting of the club will be 7 p.m. Jan. 16 at 3717 Ave. T. All interested homemakers are invited to attend.

the basement of First Baptist Church, the Food Bank distributes food to the needy every Tuesday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Area churches and individuals contribute money and canned goods while various staples are purchased at wholesale houses in Lubbock. Williams urged involvement in the project since food is distributed as it is available.

For more information about the project, making contributions, or offering volunteer time during the distribution, call Bill Schiebel at 573-8626.

President Frances Brown presided during the business session. Williams read the minutes and Weaver gave the treasurer's report.

Members agreed to continue donating gifts to Big Spring State Hospital.

The group will meet Dec. 15 for a Christmas dinner and gift exchange with Ethel Mae Sturdivant and Faye McCollum as hostesses.

CARAMEL RIBBON BARS

One 2-layer-size package yellow cake mix

1/2 cup chopped walnuts

One 5-ounce can evaporated milk (2-3rds cup)

1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted

1/2 cup semisweet chocolate pieces (optional)

1/2 cup caramel topping

In a mixing bowl combine dry cake mix and walnuts. Stir in evaporated milk and melted margarine. Spread about half of the cake mixture in a greased 13-by-9-by-2-inch baking pan. Bake in a 350-degree F oven for 10 minutes. Remove from oven. If desired, sprinkle chocolate pieces over hot crust. Drizzle with caramel topping. Drop remaining cake mixture by teaspoons over all. Bake 20 to 25 minutes more. Cool on wire rack. While still warm, loosen sides and cut into bars. Makes 36 bars.

Gorbachev gives message world wants to hear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev arrived at the United Nations this week with precisely the message people across the globe most wanted to hear from a man with his finger on the button: It's time to stop using military might to bring a face of Kremlin leadership that stood in stark contrast to the shoe-waving visit of the last Soviet leader to visit the United Nations.

Addressing diplomats who know well that he is wrestling with difficult choices between guns and butter, Gorbachev on Wednesday delivered a poignant call for peaceful coexistence punctuated with a theatrical announcement of Red Army troop reductions.

"Our people want to live in peace with the American people," he said at one point. Later, sightseeing in Manhattan, he remarked, "We're very pleased by the fact that thousands of New Yorkers have come out to see us. We saw their faces, we saw their eyes, their friendliness."

All in all, quite different from the 1960 visit of Nikita Khrushchev.

It was Khrushchev who took off his shoe, waved it around and then pounded it on his desk in anger. He was unhappy when a speaker had referred to Eastern Europe as nations which "have been swallowed up, more or less, by the Soviet Union."

Gorbachev was polished and polite, making friends from his arrival on — but never so many as with his declaration on unilateral troop reductions. Even his sudden departure demonstrated a fresh character of Soviet leadership: Gorbachev was returning home to cope with a devastating earthquake that killed thousands in the Soviet Caucasus region.

"Despite the fact that all emergency measures are being taken ... Mr. Gorbachev believes when the people are suffering he has to be there, he has to lead the efforts," the Soviet foreign minister said late last night.

Gorbachev left behind him a troop-reduction timetable that many experts had expected last spring as a welcome-to-Moscow gesture toward President Reagan. The American view, clearly, was better late than never, and officials applauded Gorbachev's call at the United Nations for less reliance on military force.

The commander of armaments as ferocious as any in history told the United Nations that the days were over when military force

"can or must be an instrument of foreign policy." It may well come as a surprise

Braniff hopes to get airbus

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Braniff Airlines has disclosed that it is negotiating to acquire as many as 50 new high-tech planes in a deal that analysts said could vault the airline and Kansas City International Airport into aviation's big leagues.

Donald F. McGuire, chief spokesman for Braniff at its headquarters in Dallas, said Wednesday that his airline hoped to buy or lease up to $1.75 billion worth of planes built by Airbus Industrie, a government-backed consortium of European aviation manufacturers.

McGuire said that Braniff wanted Airbus A-320s, worth $35 million each, that actually are scheduled to be delivered starting next year to Pan American World Airways.

Pamela Hanlon, a spokesman for Pan Am at its headquarters in New York, said the troubled airline might peddle its A-320s. But she wouldn't confirm that a sale to Braniff was in the works.

Kansas City aviation officials said acquisition of the jets could spur several developments at KCI, including:

An expansion of Terminal A, where Braniff hopes to have its gates early next year. The terminal now has 20 gates. Plans prepared several months ago by the city would double its capacity to 40 gates by adding a concourse.

Rockers pay tribute to Roy Orbison

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Three decades of rock 'n' rollers and country stars paid tribute to Roy Orbison, remembering the black-clad balladeer as an angel-voiced original who pioneered the early days of rock.

"Roy didn't copy anybody, but it cannot be said that a lot of people didn't borrow from Orbison. And they'll tell you that — from the Beatles to Bruce Springsteen," veteran recording artist Carl Perkins said Wednesday.

"He was and always will be one of the greats of rock 'n' roll," said former Beatle Paul McCartney.

Orbison, who rose to fame with early 1960s hits like "Oh, Pretty Woman," "Only the Lonely" and "Cryin'" and recently returned to the charts with a group of rock legends, died of a heart attack shortly before midnight Tuesday in a hospital in nearby Hendersonville. He was 52.

He had been visiting his mother, Nadine, earlier in the day.

"It hurts too much today to say a lot about Roy Orbison," said Johnny Cash, who lived next door to Orbison for more than 20 years in Hendersonville.

"For 30 years, we were heart to heart, sharing the good times and the bad. I have lost one in my most inner circle of friends. He more than deserves all the praise and plaudits that he has received lately," Cash said.

Orbison had 27 straight records on the charts during his heyday in the early 1960s. He recorded for Sam Phillips at Sun Records, the label that launched the careers of Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Cash and Perkins.

His dark attire, ebony pompadour and ever-present sunglasses were a virtual trademark. But fellow artists remembered him for his effortless three-octave voice that crooned ballads of lost love.

"He had to be one of the best, if not the best, singers I've ever worked with," Phillips said.

Lewis called Orbison "a great singer. He worked hard at it ... (it) probably will be a big loss to a lot of fans. I was a fan. I'll miss him."

"He had the voice of an angel," said Billy Joel.

Orbison's recent recordings as one of The Traveling Wilburys — along with ex-Beatle George Harrison, Tom Petty, Bob Dylan and Jeff Lynne — brought him a new generation of fans. The group's "Handle With Care" is No. 45 on the charts, and their swift-selling album "The Traveling Wilburys" is No. 8.

"I've been rediscovered by young kids who had never heard of me before the Wilburys," Orbison said earlier this year in an interview with The Associated Press.

Harrison and Petty said through publicists that they were too stunned by Orbison's death to comment immediately.

"He was as gentle, wise, and mysterious as his voice," said U2's Bono, who recently recorded with Orbison in Memphis.

"Starting over more than once, he was at the time of his death the finest white pop singer on the planet. Writing a song for him was like writing a song for Elvis Presley, the only other comparable vocal talent."

Presley, one year Orbison's senior, introduced him in 1977 as "the greatest singer in the world." Bruce Springsteen saluted him in his song "Thunder Road."

Weather poses threat

Icy roads and the forecast of even more adverse weather threatened to dismantle area basketball schedules this weekend. As of mid-morning, only one tournament involving a local team was known to be affected. The Denver City Tournament, featuring Snyder's varsity boys, has been held up. Officials may attempt to continue the tournament Friday under a revised schedule if weather permits.

In other action, Snyder varsity girls were to tip off against Wylie at 6 p.m. today in the Wylie Tournament.

Locally, Western Texas College is slated to entertain Odessa tonight in a pair of conference ballgames at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum.

D-City tourney held up

DENVER CITY -- Most of the first-day action in the Denver City Tournament was postponed today, due to adverse weather conditions. SHS Athletic Director David Baugh reported this morning.

Snyder varsity boys were to have played Seminole in the opening game of the tournament at 4 p.m.

In other first-round games, Littlefield was to play Lubbock Coronado, Hereford was to face Kermit and host Denver City was to meet Morton. Officials said the Denver City-Morton game is the only contest likely to be played today.

The tournament could resume Friday if weather conditions permit. No revised schedule has been completed as yet.

Ladies enter Wylie event

WYLIE -- Snyder High School's Lady Tigers were to take on Wylie at 6 p.m. today in the Wylie Girl's Basketball Tournament here.

The tournament was to have begun at 9 a.m. with Wylie junior varsity taking on Abilene Cooper. At noon, Ballinger and Haskell were to vie. Today's other game had Hawley and Sweetwater meeting at 3 p.m.

In double-header tonight

Western entertains Odessa

Scurry County Coliseum features shoot-out basketball tonight between Western Texas College and the Wranglers of Odessa.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students for the double-header, which begins with the women's game at 6 p.m. The men vie at 8 p.m.

Tonight's women's contest pits the only two teams that have won the conference title in several years in the WJCAC. Western and Odessa have a fierce rivalry and their games represent some of the nation's best women's juco action.

The men's ballgame will pair an up-and-coming Westerner squad against the team many feel is the nation's best juco squad for 1988-89. Odessa's Wranglers feature Larry Johnson, last season's NJCAA Player of the Year and a juco All-American.

The Lady Dusters go into tonight's contest with a 12-4 season record and are 1-0 in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference. One of those four losses was to Odessa.

Odessa defeated the Dusters

79-76 in the semi-finals of the Howard Hawk Queens Tournament on Nov. 18, after Western had taken a 45-34 halftime advantage.

"The first half against them was maybe the best half we've played all year long," said Coach Kelly Chadwick. "The second half we didn't shoot as well and we got some people in foul trouble."

"I think it will be a traditional Western Texas-Odessa basketball game. It's always a great game. They have a lot of freshmen and they are getting better and better each game," said the coach.

Since the loss to Odessa, WTC's ladies have won five straight ballgames.

Odessa is led by sophomore guard Janice Holliday, who averages 13.6 points, 5.4 steals and 7.8 assists an outing. Angelia Meadough averages 13.6 points and leads the team in steals with a 7.6 per-game average.

Western Texas is led by 5-11 sophomore Nickey Allen, who is averaging 17.9 points. Tami Wilson, a 6-0 freshman from Seagraves, is averaging 12.3.

Johnson, who averages a whopping 32.1 points and 18.5 rebounds, serves as catalyst for the Wrangler men's squad.

"He's like having a coach on the floor," said WTC Coach Tony Mauldin of the sophomore from Dallas. "He's so important, not just because of his playing ability, but because of his leadership."

To have a chance at topping the Wranglers, Western will have to play solid basketball.

"The thing I think you have to do is stay close. Don't turn the ball over. When they steal it they get runs on you. I've seen them play real good teams and run up points pretty quickly on them," cautioned Coach Mauldin. "So I think what we have to do is try to keep from beating ourselves, stay with them and try to beat them at the end."

Odessa is undefeated at 13-0 and is 1-0 in conference play. Western Texas is 9-5 and 0-2.

Bobby Spear averages 19.5 points for the Westerners, who are also getting 16 from Bernard Williams, 16 from Vladimir McCrary and 13 from Ken Critton.

Bears are beaten; Aggies win 'ugly'

by The Associated Press
Texas A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf says it was an "ugly" game, but the Aggies managed to defeat Houston Baptist in a non-conference college basketball game.

Donald Thompson scored 16 points Wednesday night and grabbed nine rebounds to lead the Aggies to a 79-67 victory over the Huskies.

In the other non-conference game involving a Southwest Conference team, Kansas State whipped Baylor, 85-60.

"It was an ugly game. We played about five minutes of good basketball at the beginning of each half," Metcalf said. "Then kind of dragged. We weren't able to press like we wanted and our

"It just wasn't a good effort. We wanted to get our eighth and ninth men some playing time and it doesn't work very well when you substitute just for the sake of substituting."

David Williams scored 15 and Tony Milton added 12 for the Aggies, who improved their record to 5-1. Houston Baptist's Huskies fell to 1-5.

Houston Baptist was led by Carlos Sanders' 22 points. Alvaro Teheran added 13.

The Aggies and Huskies were tied at 5-5 early, but A&M broke away to lead 33-25 at halftime. A&M built its edge to 53-38 advantage midway through the second half.

The Huskies were whistled for 30 fouls and Omar Sierra, Reggie Gibbs and Teheran fouled out. A&M capitalized by hitting 22-35 from the free throw line and Houston Baptist was 14-19.

Steve Henson scored 23 points and teammate Fred McCoy added 22 to lead Kansas State to an 85-60 victory over visiting Baylor. Baylor, 1-5, narrowed the score to 46-40 early in the second half on a basket by Donnell Hayden. But Kansas State, 3-1, outscored the Bears 23-7 during a seven-minute stretch to take a 22-point lead. Billy Ray Smith's free throws with 6:44 left gave the Wildcats a 69-47 advantage.

Hayden scored 20 points for Baylor.

TEA, UIL seek to keep Carter out of playoffs

AUSTIN (AP) - State officials said they planned to file appeals today to try and block Dallas Carter from continuing in the high school football playoffs.

Both the Texas Education Agency and the University Intervention Unit filed appeals Wednesday the appeals would seek to keep Dallas Carter from meeting Odessa Permian in the Class 5A semifinals in Austin, officials said.

Both agencies have protested District Court Judge Paul Davis' ruling in favor of Carter in the case of a student who was declared ineligible to play football because he failed a class.

The student, Gary Edwards, is a running back on the Carter football team.

Davis issued his orders Wednesday and attorneys from the TEA and UIL met to plan their strategy for appeals.

Edwards was declared ineligible to play after state investigators discovered he had failed algebra during a six-week grading period. Later, TEA Commissioner William Kirby, in a hearing, agreed that Edwards failed the class.

Under the state's no-pass, no-play rule, students who fail any course cannot participate in extra-curricular activities for six weeks.

Dallas Carter received a temporary court order that stopped the ineligibility ruling from taking effect. Dallas Carter later successfully argued before Judge Davis that Edwards' failing grade was a miscalculation and the student actually passed.

In light of the legal moves being plotted, it was not immediately known what Carter's chances were of suiting up and playing Saturday.

"It really is unclear what the implication of that will be in the playoffs," if the TEA files an appeal, said agency spokesman Joey Lozano.

Should the TEA file an appeal, the district court's order would automatically be nullified until the appeals court makes a decision.

With the ineligibility ruling taking precedence, the appeals court would also face an expected appeal by the UIL, who would argue the team cannot continue in the playoffs because it will have to forfeit all the games Edwards played after making a failing grade.

"Yes, it's possible," that Carter will not play Saturday, said UIL attorney Lucius Bunton.

Mavs snap home losing skid

DALLAS (AP) - Derek Harper had little choice but to take the shot that made him the hero as the Dallas Mavericks broke a three-game home losing streak.

Harper's three-pointer gave the Mavericks the lead at 98-96 in the closing minutes of their 102-98 NBA victory over the Seattle SuperSonics Wednesday night.

There were only :02 seconds remaining on the shot clock and 1:48 remaining in the game when Harper took the shot that pulled the Mavericks from behind.

"I knew I was running out of time," Harper said. "I heard people yelling from the bench and I just got in position to launch it."

"It's one of those shot where if you make you're really happy. But if you miss it, it could cost you the game," Harper said. "I felt confident when I let it go."

The Mavericks broke a three-game losing streak with the victory that snapped a three-game winning streak by Seattle.

"It feels great to break the losing streak," Dallas coach John MacLeod said. "Now I hope we can get going again."

"Anytime you lose three straight at home, you need a lift," Harper said. "We've lost some games lately just the way we won tonight. We've got confidence in ourselves. We don't care who's scoring the points."

Some of the Mavericks were ready to leave town, saying they felt like it was time to get on the road after a seven-game homestand. They won the first three games and started playing poorly in three straight losses.

"You enjoy it when you're winning but when you're losing it's time to get out of town and regroup," said Dallas center James Donaldson. "At home you tend to worry about putting on a show for the fans and your friends. On the road, you pull together and rely on the 12 players."

Harper hit 11-of-15 from the field and four-of-five from three-point range.

OSU's Sanders tops All-American list

By The Associated Press
Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders of Oklahoma State, Outland Trophy winner Tracy Rucker of Auburn and Butkus Award recipient Derrick Thomas of Alabama were named today to a record-breaking Associated Press All-America college football team for 1988.

Sanders, Oklahoma State's junior tailback, is joined in the backfield by quarterback Steve Walsh of Miami, Fla., and Texas A&M running back Darren Lewis, both of whom shattered records this season.

The wide receivers are two more record-breakers - Jason Phillips of Houston and Hart Lee Dykes, Sanders' Oklahoma State teammate.

Top-ranked Notre Dame placed three players on the All-America team - offensive tackle Andy Heck, defensive end Frank Stams and linebacker Mike Stonebreaker.

Oklahoma State, Nebraska and Arkansas were the only other schools to be represented by more than one player. Nebraska placed center Jake Young and defensive end Broderick Thomas on the squad while Arkansas had placekicker Kendall Trainor and defensive linemen Wayne Martin.

The rest of the offensive unit consists of tight end Wesley Walls of Mississippi, tackle Tony Mandarich of Michigan State and guards Anthony Phillips of Oklahoma and Mike Utley of Washington State.

Rounding out the defense are down linemen Rucker - selected as the nation's best interior lineman by the Football Writers Association of America - and DeLong of Tennessee, defensive backs Louis Oliver of Florida, Markus Paul of Syracuse and Deion Sanders of Florida State and punter Keith English of Colorado. Sanders is the only repeater from the 1987 team.

The return specialist is Texas Tech's 5-foot-3, 130-pound Tyrone Thurman.

Lewis is the only sophomore on the team while Barry Sanders, Walsh, Stonebreaker and Young are juniors.

The All-America team was selected by the AP's sports editor, college football editor and regional sports editors. A player must make his all-conference or all-sectional team to be considered for the All-America first team.

The AP All-America team will be featured on Bob Hope's annual Christmas special entitled "Bob Hope's Jolly Christmas Show With the All-American Champs"

(Monday, Dec. 19, NBC, 8-9 p.m. EST).

Barry Sanders was so good that he gained 75 yards on a day he didn't even play. When Texas Tech reviewed the films of his 257-yard effort in Oklahoma State's 45-42 victory in Tokyo on Sunday, it was decided that two swing passes on which Sanders gained 75 yards actually were backward passes and therefore counted as rushes.

That gave Sanders his fourth 300-yard game of the season and pushed his total to 2,628 yards, easily erasing the mark of 2,342 by Southern Cal's Marcus Allen in 1981. Sanders' numerous records also included a single-season mark of 39 touchdowns.

Walsh completed 233 of 390 passes for 3,115 yards and a school record 29 touchdowns, breaking the mark of 26 by Heisman Trophy winner Vinny Testaverde in 1986. Miami is 21-1 with Walsh as its quarterback.

Lewis finished second nationally in rushing to Sanders. His 1,692 yards was a school record and second best in Southwest Conference history.

Each of the wide receivers scored 15 touchdowns. Phillips caught 108 passes for 1,444 yards and led the nation in receiving for the second year in a row.

After missing three of his first four field goal attempts, Trainor connected on 23 in a row, including a 59-yarder against Miami. English, in his first season as Colorado's punter after sitting on the bench behind All-American Barry Helton, led the nation with a 45.04 average on 51 kicks.

Thurman returned 27 punts for 280 yards and 23 kickoffs for 535 yards. He holds three SWC career punt returns records.

Lombardi finalists get respect

HOUSTON (AP) - Opponents have spent the season trying to avoid the four Lombardi Award finalists, Nebraska linebacker Broderick Thomas says.

"It's rough on the four players that will be there tonight," Thomas said. "Everyone tries to stay away from these four players."

Linebackers Broderick Thomas and Derrick Thomas of Alabama and defensive tackles Mark Messner of Michigan or Tracy Rucker of Auburn will be presented the award tonight.

Rucker already has earned the Outland Trophy as the nation's outstanding lineman and Derrick Thomas earlier won the Dick Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker.

"These four players have to be disciplined because we're going to be double and triple teams and the ball is going to the other side," Broderick Thomas said. "I've been successful at making plays from the backside."

Rucker was a finalist last year when Ohio State linebacker Chris Spielman won the award.

The trophy is named in honor of Vince Lombardi, the former coach of the Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins who died of cancer in 1970.

Broderick Thomas, 6-3, 250, is a finalist in nine categories including 98 tackles, 10 quarterback sacks and 17 tackles for losses.

Rucker, 6-3, 278, finished with 342 career tackles and 20 quarterback sacks for the Tigers, who will play Florida State in the Sugar Bowl.

Messner, 6-3, 244, is Michigan's all-time leader with 69 tackles for losses of 375 yards. He has 36 sacks for 273 yards in losses.

For Cowboys, Redskins...

Rivalry not the same in '88

HERNDON, Va. (AP) - If Mikhail Gorbachev had been in Washington this week, Redskins defensive end Dexter Manley probably wouldn't have told him to get out of town.

Last year, Manley said Gorbachev's presence in the nation's capital was a distraction during Dallas Week. He suggested that the Soviet leader move on, so area football fans could get ready for the semi-annual renewal of the Redskins-Cowboys rivalry.

This season, with both teams slumping, Manley is having a hard time getting excited over this Sunday's game against the Cowboys at RFK Stadium.

"It's not that great a rivalry anymore," Manley said Wednesday. "There are a lot of young players on both teams, and not enough old ones to remind them how intense it used to be."

Manley has long been a central figure in what used to be one of the NFL's biggest confrontations, often saying things that ended up on the Cowboys' bulletin board.

Now, Manley says he almost feels sorry for Dallas coach Tom Landry and the Cowboys, who have lost 10 straight to fall to 2-12.

"I have a lot of sympathy for Tom Landry," Manley said. "He's one of the greatest coaches of all time, and he's done a lot for them."

On the Cowboys, he noted, "I really think they've played well, but their record indicates differently. I don't like Dallas, but I respect them."

Perhaps one reason Manley is having a hard time getting fired up is that Dallas quarterback Danny White is on the injured reserve list and Tony Dorsett was traded to Denver before the season. Manley used to always enjoy taking verbal shots at both before taking swipes at them in games.

"It would make it more interesting if Tony Dorsett was in there," Manley said. "And it just won't seem the same without Danny in there."

Still, Manley figures he'll have little trouble getting inspired once he gets on the RFK Stadium turf this Sunday.

"I can get psyched up just looking at the color of their uniforms," he claimed.

And he couldn't conduct the interview without taking at least a small shot at his long-time foe. Asked to offer some advice to the Cowboy players, he replied, "Get traded."

To beat the Cowboys, the Redskins hope to cash in on the momentum they gained from edging the Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday. But, at the same time, they must put that game behind them.

Wednesday's practice marked the first time the team got together since their emotional 20-19 victory over the Eagles, who held the NFC East lead before the setback.

"Yes, it was an exciting win, but we can't linger on what we did last week," said defensive end Charles Mann.

"That was as big a game as we've won in a long time," said center Jeff Bostic. "It was a big win, and one we needed badly. But now it's time to put that behind us and look ahead to Dallas."

The Redskins' injury report listed seven players, including Bostic (ribs) and wide receiver Gary Clark (ankle). Six of the players were listed as probable, and running back Kelvin Bryant was listed as doubtful.

Quarterback Doug Williams, meanwhile, wasn't on any list, but said he hadn't eaten in two days after suffering a split tongue on a play against the Eagles.

Rangers add strikeout king; Hurst, Padres still hung up

ATLANTA (AP) - The Texas Rangers are leaving baseball's winter meetings on Ryan's Express.

The Rangers, who turned the annual trade mart into a Texas fairground, came away with one of the biggest prizes Wednesday when strikeout king Nolan Ryan agreed to terms.

But Bruce Hurst and the San Diego Padres apparently had problems agreeing on potential contract language, and the former Boston left-hander still has not decided with whom to sign. Negotiations with the Red Sox and California may resume today.

Ryan, a free agent, agreed to a one-year contract plus an option for 1990 that guarantees $2 million. He can potentially earn in excess of $3 million.

Ryan, who got a $200,000 signing bonus, will earn $1.6 million in 1989 and $1.4 million in 1990. If the Rangers do not pick up his option, they have to pay Ryan $200,000.

In bonus money, Ryan will earn $150,000 for winning the Cy Young Award, $50,000 for being named to the All-Star team and $75,000 for being selected the playoff or World Series MVP.

California offered Ryan, 41, a deal worth $3.3 million (for one year with an option) and San Francisco's offer was $3.2 million (also for a year with an option).

Ryan, who has 4,775 lifetime strikeouts, said money wasn't the only factor in his decision.

"I'm a diehard Texan," said Ryan, who lives in Alvin, Texas. "I wanted to stay in Texas."

Ryan, who has pitched a record five no-hitters, played the last nine years in Houston and led the NL in strikeouts the last two years.

Mike Schmidt, destined for the Hall of Fame along with Ryan, officially reached an agreement with Philadelphia.

Schmidt, who underwent surgery in September for a torn right rotator cuff, will be guaranteed $500,000. He gets another $500,000 if he is on the roster May 15, another $500,000 if he's playing on Aug. 15 and can earn $550,000 more in incentives.

Gorbachev planning to fly to disaster area

MOSCOW (AP) — A earthquake that devastated much of Soviet Armenia leveled cities and killed thousands of people, including at least 50 children buried by rubble when their school collapsed, officials said today.

When the magnitude of the destruction became clear, President Mikhail S. Gorbachev cut short a trip that would have taken him on to Cuba and Britain to return home from New York today.

Officials said Gorbachev would travel to Armenia to direct rescue efforts.

The 16,000-resident town of Spitak, near the epicenter of Wednesday morning's tremor, was reported wiped out. The government newspaper Izvestia said just one of the town's eight schools still stood.

The quake struck in mid-morning, when schools were in session and factories operating. The U.S. Geological Survey said it measured 6.9 on the Richter scale.

The government rushed soldiers and civilian volunteers to the disaster area, which encompassed most of northwestern Armenia.

State television showed film of crumbled buildings in Kirovakan, Armenia's third-largest city, and in Spitak. In one shot, a man put his hands over his head in grief as he stood amid a collapsed building.

"Practically all apartment buildings of nine floors or higher are destroyed," the official newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda said. "There is significant damage in five-story apartment buildings. Only individual one-story and two-three story homes of old construction remain whole."

Army Gen. V.M. Arkhipov told the official news agency Tass that soldiers were setting up tent cities today for evacuees.

Komsomolskaya Pravda reported from Leninakan, a city of 250,000 about 30 miles from epicenter, that preliminary reports indicated "tens of thousands of people became victims of the earthquake."

Albert Khachatryan of the Armenian Ministry of Health said in a telephone interview that 2,000 injured people had been brought to the Armenian capital of Yerevan from Leninakan, Kirovakan and Spitak, and more were expected.

Nora Milikyan, an editor of the official Armenian news agency Armenpress, said in a telephone interview from Yerevan that "all the injured are being brought to Yerevan. The hospitals are completely full."

"The worst place was Spitak. The entire town was destroyed — the hospitals and the schools and the factories. All the houses were destroyed. There is nothing left there," she said.

The area's population has risen markedly in recent weeks as setters flee ethnic strife between Armenians and Azerbaijanis, the government newspaper Izvestia said.

There has been a virtual declaration of martial law in the region.

Because of violence between Armenians and Azerbaijanis, about 180,000 refugees reportedly have fled across the border between their two republics the last three weeks.

The official Komsomolskaya Pravda newspaper said today that soldiers working under spotlights pulled the bodies of more than 50 children from a school in Leninakan, which is on the Soviet-Turkish border.

Komsomolskaya Pravda said dozens of surgeons were on their way to the city to help with the injured. The newspaper said its correspondent succeeded in getting to Leninakan six hours after the 10:41 a.m. quake.

Spotlights illuminated the school while soldiers and civilian volunteers dug through the wreckage trying to find survivors.

Several children were found alive, but the newspaper said it was told by two sergeants the bodies of more than 50 children had already been found.

It said firemen had managed to extinguish fires at an oil storage facility, a tourist center, hotel and textile factory.

Crowds without a place to live huddled around bonfires throughout the city to keep warm.

West Texas oil town basis for singer's musical career

WINK, Texas (AP) — To some in Roy Orbison's hometown, the earliest image of the legendary singer and songwriter was one of a skinny 11-year-old who played his guitar outside the local drugstore.

Passers-by would pitch small change to the boy whose haunting voice and prodigious musical skills drew their attention.

This West Texas town of 1,200, where the high school football stadium looms large on the skyline along with oil field pumpjacks and scrub brush, provided the musical grist for the man known for his black garb, dark sunglasses and haunting vocals.

Orbison, who sang such hits as "Pretty Woman" and "Crying," died of a heart attack late Tuesday in Hendersonville, Tenn. He was 52.

In high school, Orbison and some friends formed the Wink Westerners, which played country and Western music at school dances and later had a radio and television show sponsored by a furniture store in nearby Odessa.

"I thought early on that Roy was the one of us that really had the talent," said Charlie Evans, who played the bass fiddle in the band. "The rest of us were just hang-alongs."

"Roy would think and live and breathe music."

The band made its debut at a

Wink High School assembly and went on to play dance halls and bars in surrounding towns such as Iraan, Crane and Jal, N.M.

Evans recalled the group's first trip outside Texas, traveling to Chicago as the campaign band for a Wink resident who was running for a national Lions' Club office.

"That was the first time any of us had been to the big city," he said. "We had never seen a subway."

The group changed its name to the Teen Kings after its five members graduated and played a newer kind of music: rock 'n' roll.

After a trip to Nashville and a national tour, "They came back to Wink and all of them were driving Cadillacs," said John Paul Pitts, a former Wink resident who lived one house away from Orbison.

"I used to come out of my house and see Roy in the back seat of his car, practicing the guitar because his house was so small," said Pitts, who wore Orbison's sport coat for his high school graduation because he didn't own one.

The Orbison family came to the area from Vernon during the oil boom of the 1940s. Orbison's father, Orvie Lee, worked in the Permian Basin oil fields.

Students due results of test

The exit level Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) results will be given out Friday to Snyder High School juniors and those senior students who retook the test in October.

Each student will be given a copy of their individual test score and a letter explaining the test results to be taken home to their parents.

For more information, contact SHS counselors John Short or Janet Wesson at 573-0132 from 8 a.m. until 3:40 p.m.

Students who failed to master one or both portions of the TEAMS test will be retested May 2-3.

Obituaries

L. G. Sherrod

Services for L. G. Sherrod, 62, of 2809 25th Street were set for 2 p.m. Thursday at Union Baptist Church with the Rev. Jim Mosley, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home.

He died at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. He was born Feb. 28, 1926 in Stonewall County, Tex. He had lived in Snyder for 25 years and had been the owner of Sherrod's Garage. He was a member of Union Baptist Church.

He was married to Anna Mae "Bess" Melton on Nov. 26, 1947 in Peacock County, Tex. She survives.

He is survived by one son, Ray Sherrod of Snyder; one grandson; his mother, Myrtle Martell of Fresno, Calif.; and one brother, Jake Sherrod of Fresno, Calif.

Couple face drug charges

A Snyder couple was arrested Wednesday night at 306 28th St., No. 9, for manufacturing a controlled substance.

Police said Jerry Mac Dennis, 30, and Laura Evelyn Nesbit, 20, were taken into custody along with chemicals that were apparently being used to manufacture a form of amphetamines.

The arrests were reported at 9:46 p.m.

Other Wednesday arrests included a 44-year-old man who was jailed on a DWI charge following his 11:25 p.m. arrest in the 4400 Block of College Ave.

Two shoplifters were arrested at Kmart, an 83-year-old woman at 2:45 p.m. and a 31-year-old woman at 6:27 p.m.

Firemen douse burning cotton

Firemen were called to the Hermleigh dump ground Wednesday night to extinguish two burning cotton bales.

The call came in at 6:23 p.m. and firefighters returned to the station at 8 p.m.

A spokesman said the bales belonged to Hermleigh Gin and were taken to the dump ground after they caught fire.

SO investigates break-in at lake

The sheriff's office is investigating a burglary at Lake J.B. Thomas in which a 30-year-old clock was stolen.

Gilbert Richter of 4506 Denison Ave. told officers at 9:50 a.m. Wednesday that his lakeside home had been broken into and the combination doorbell-clock and possibly other items that had not yet been inventoried had been taken.

date for single family residences. The recently completed fiscal year, which ended Sept. 30, included only three new homes built in Snyder.

Appetites among babies vary with their energy needs, so there is no specific amount of how much your baby should eat. Infant feeding specialists at Beech-Nut Nutrition Corp. confirm that every healthy baby will take as much as he or she needs for their normal growth. Don't withhold food, they say, or force food on an infant.

U.S. fighter crashes into German city

REMSCHIED, West Germany (AP) — A U.S. Air Force jet slammed into a residential area of this city in central West Germany today, killing at least three people, injuring dozens and setting houses on fire, officials said.

Rescue officials said the death toll could rise. Authorities were fighting flames as they tried to reach the scene of the crash.

West Germany's ARD television network said several buildings collapsed as the inferno engulfed the area.

Reinhard Fleischmann, a spokesman for Remscheid, said three bodies had been pulled out of the burning rubble.

He said between 40 to 50 people were injured, many of them seriously.

"We haven't even reached the aircraft. It's still wedged into a burning house," Fleischmann said.

An eyewitness, quoted on local radio station WDR said: "A bright orange fireball went up. The aircraft slammed into a house about 50 meters (55 yards) in front of me. Then there were explosions."

The witness, who was not identified by name, said flames engulfed nearby houses and motor vehicles. The witness said he spotted the pilot's parachute hanging from a tree about 30 yards away from the scene.

The crash was likely to increase public opposition to low-level military training flights over West Germany. That opposition grew in August when Italian stunt planes collided and crashed into a crowd of spectators at an air show at the U.S. Air Force Base in Ramstein, killing 70 people.

Since March 31, there have been 12 military air crashes in West Germany.

Hundreds of rescue workers rushed to the scene of panic and chaos in Remscheid, located near Duesseldorf in the densely populated industrial area. Local officials said they believed ammunition on the jet exploded on impact.

The state government of North Rhine-Westphalia said the aircraft was loaded with ammunition, which exploded on impact.

However, spokesman Doug Moore at the U.S. Air OVN, Moore told The Associated Press in a telephone interview. "It was assigned to the 81st Tactical Fighter Wing at the Royal Air Force base in Bentwaters, England."

But Moore said the one-man plane was temporarily assigned to a base in West Germany for training. He said he did not know the fate of the pilot.

Legal fees now disbursed

With the letter, attorneys representing the local defendants indicate they will not attempt to seek what they maintain is the full court costs actually owed by plaintiffs—an estimated $10,665 in deposition expenses.

Since some $1,082 of the money placed on deposit by plaintiffs is to go directly to court reporter John Cline, defendants in the lawsuit estimated plaintiffs still owed a combined total of $5,385.

At this time, however, attorneys in the case say they will not pursue this disputed amount since additional court hearings would likely cost their clients more than the amount still in dispute.

Ernie Armstrong, who represented the City of Snyder during the litigation, filed the court document this week on behalf of the five defendants.

He said Wednesday, "While the defendants believe the plaintiffs owe the remainder of the money, we now feel the cost to the defendants (for further court hearings) would be more than we could realize out of it."

The amount to be distributed includes the $1,082 said owed Cline and an equal $860 each to the five defendants.

While five lawsuits were filed between Dec. 9 and Feb. 22, all were combined into a single action on March 11 by a district judge appointed to hear the case after 132nd District Judge Gene Dulaney voluntarily removed himself.

District Judge Joe Evins of Edinburg made that decision for consolidation and set a March 25 cutoff date for any filings in connection with the lawsuit.

On March 31, the six plaintiffs filed a motion for "non suit" in connection with the lawsuits they had implemented. As part of this motion, they were legally required to pay all court costs associated with the actions.

On April 28, the plaintiffs paid the $5,385 amount to the district court, after which the dispute over the alleged unpaid court costs arose.

With the recent action of defendants, one of the final disputes related to the construction of the 1,000-man prison unit northeast of Snyder seems settled.

A ground breaking ceremony for the prison was held April 18 and the project is now expected to be completed in mid-June.

police spokesman, told the AP that six multifamily homes were in flames and "body pieces are lying around." He said, "There were several ammunition explosions after the crash."

A local radio station said there was fog in the area at the time of the accident, which occurred at approximately 1:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. EST).

Remscheid, with a population of 130,000, 15 miles east of Duesseldorf.

Jane's Defense Weekly has said the NATO air forces, excluding Turkey, lost 97 combat planes in the 12-month period to Oct. 31. The U.S. Air Force lost 40 combat planes, including 20 F-16s, seven F-4s and 5 A-7s, Jane's said.

AT&T, Sprint win multibillion dollar contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — AT&T and Sprint are the winners in a fierce contest to provide telephone and high-tech communications services to the federal government, a prize worth up to $25 billion by the year 2000.

The losers were Martin Marietta Corp. and its bidding partner, MCI.

MCI said it may challenge the decision, which was made Wednesday by the General Services Administration. Martin Marietta asked for a detailed briefing on the decision, which awarded contracts for a new federal telecommunications system called FTS-2000, providing service to government agencies through the 1990s.

GSA awarded the multibillion-dollar contracts three years after outlining its needs for a new government-wide phone service system that will include video, computer and other state-of-the-art communications.

"We are elated," U.S. Sprint Communications Co. President William Esrey said.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. officials expressed equal delight at the decision, which provided contracts that are among the largest ever awarded by the U.S. government aside from military and space program purchases.

GSA estimated the combined value of the contracts at between $3 billion and $10 billion over 10 years — but it could reach a maximum $25 billion. The contracts allow government spending to $15 billion on the AT&T network and $10 billion on Sprint's.

The estimates are based on the government's purchase of long-distance telephone services over a 10-year period. Actual value will depend on how much service the government actually uses.

related to selection to Level II and Level III career ladder status.

At Monday's workshop, however, it was decided to postpone action on this item to allow for another meeting of the district committee formed to make recommendations regarding career ladder selection.

Other agenda items slated for action include approving budget amendments and the annual performance report which includes test grades by campus and expenditures by campus.
