

Kick-off events for fall to welcome back students

Events are planned in the weeks ahead to welcome back returning sophomores as well as to introduce new freshmen to the WTC campus.

The year's first dance, the traditional "Howdy Dance" sponsored by the Student Senate, is slated Thursday in the Student Center from 8:30 until midnight. Music will be provided by Z-93.

During September, Student Senate activities shift to establish student leaders for the coming year.

During this month, students will be encouraged to petition to run for the senate, joining the four-member slate of officers elected this past spring.

Some 25 senators serve the student body on various committees during the year.

Petitions to run for the senate can be picked up during registration. The last day to turn these in will be Sept. 9 and elections will be held Sept. 14.

Senate officers for 1993-94 are Debra Burke, president; Neally Hernandez, vice president; Stephanie Matlock, secretary; and Shawna Davidson, treasurer.

In addition, activities leading to the selection of new cheerleaders are planned during early September.

Persons interested need to pick up a packet of information from sponsor Mickey Baird in the Student Activities office. Interviews will be held in addition to tryouts. The new squad will be announced Sept. 14.

Mrs. Baird serves as sponsor for both the Student Senate and the cheerleaders.

The Student Activities office located in the Student Center publishes a weekly calendar of events each Monday and students are encouraged to consult it for future activities.

In addition, the campus newspaper, The Western Texan, is published six times during the fall term with news about upcoming campus events.

It is published by the WTC Mass Communications Department and newspapers are distributed free approximately every other Monday. Publication dates are Sept. 13, Sept. 27, Oct. 11, Oct. 25, Nov. 8 and Nov. 22.

Registration set to begin here Monday

2-day signup schedule slated in Student Center

Registration for the 1993 fall term is Monday and Tuesday with classes slated to begin Wednesday.

For freshmen, the dormitories open this Sunday at 2 p.m. and sophomore residents are expected beginning at 10 a.m. Monday.

The first dormitory meal of the year, a Continental breakfast, will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 8 a.m. Monday.

Regarding registration, sophomores will register Monday afternoon and freshmen Tuesday morning in the Student Center. A special evening class registration is due Monday from 6:30 until 8 p.m. also.

Monday at 8:30 a.m., placement testing will be underway in the college counseling offices. This is required for those students who do not have current ACT or SAT test scores available.

For both sophomores and freshmen, the registration schedule is slated based upon the first letter of the student's last name.

Sophomores will register from 1 until 4 p.m. Monday. The registration schedule is:

- 1-2 p.m., surnames A-F.
- 2-3 p.m., surnames G-O.
- 3-4 p.m., surnames P-Z.

Freshmen will register from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. The registration schedule is:

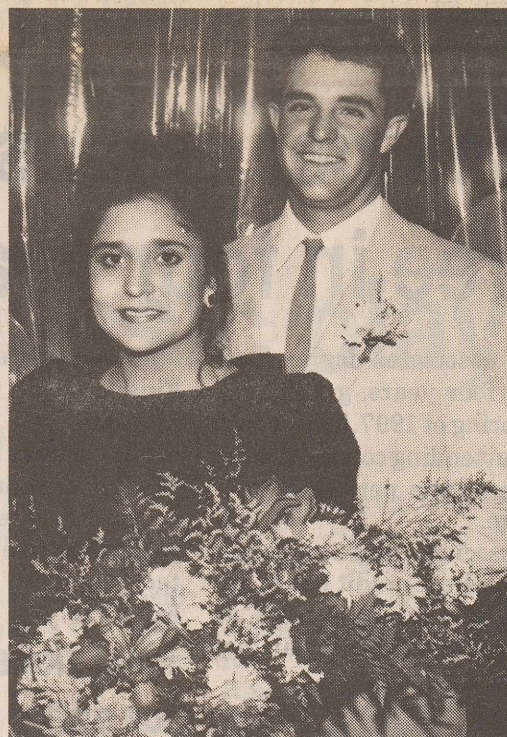

- 8:30-9:30 a.m., surnames A-F.
- 9:30-10:30 a.m., surnames G-O.
- 10:30-11:30 a.m., surnames P-Z.

Persons enrolling in classes should note two important dates. The last day to enroll or to change a class schedule is Friday, Sept. 3 and the last day to drop a class is Nov. 12, also a Friday.

Holidays scheduled during the fall term include a Labor Day holiday Monday, Sept. 6.

The traditional Thanksgiving break will begin at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 24.

The semester consists of 16 weeks of classroom lectures. Finals will be Dec. 6-8 and the fall term for faculty and staff officially ends Dec. 10.

Registrar, two instructors join WTC staff

WTC gains a new registrar this fall term as well as two new faculty instructors.

New Registrar Linda Wright replaces retiring Dan Dever, who held the position the past 20 years. In addition, new faculty members are Jana Martin in the English Department and Craig Keith Harrelson in criminal justice training.

Mrs. Wright is actually returning to WTC, having served as an instructor in office careers from 1979-84.

Since that time, she has taught computer courses at the college on a part-time basis and has taught computer literacy at Snyder Junior High since 1989.

She earned her bachelor of science degree with a major in business administration from Sul Ross State University and has completed graduate work at West Texas State University and Texas Tech University.

Her husband, Tommy, is employed at the Texaco Gas Plant here. They have two daughters, the oldest, Jaycie, enrolled as a freshman at Texas A&M. Their youngest, Kate, is a fourth grader at East Elementary.

Jana Wesson Martin joins the WTC

English faculty and will teach both college-level English and preparatory English classes.

Since 1987, she has worked in a part-time capacity, teaching at extension centers and serving as a lab instructor and tutor on campus.

She is a 1978 graduate of Snyder High School and earned her bachelor of arts degree from Abilene Christian University in 1981. She expects to complete her masters degree at ACU this month.

In addition, she has served as a private tutor for high school students in Spanish and English and worked as a substitute teacher at both Snyder High School and WTC.

She and her husband, Rick, have two sons. She is the daughter of James and Janet Wesson of Snyder.

Craig Keith Harrelson will join the criminal justice training staff and will be assigned at the French Robertson Unit in Jones County.

New degree proposed in management

Local college instructor implements new concept

WTC is expected to soon gain a new associates degree option which combines the instructional benefits of both the college's criminal justice curriculum and its management training program.

Specifically, the program would allow interested persons the option to obtain a management degree with a special emphasis in criminal justice.

Such an educational plan should be of special interest to correctional officers at the three area prisons served by WTC, notes campus instructor Jack Price, who oversees the college's management studies program and is the instigator of the new plan.

"Essentially, good management is learning human relationship skills," Price noted, "and that's what we're trying to do. Offer something with human relationship skills plus the basically technical knowledge found in criminal justice."

The new plan was submitted to the Texas Coordinating Board for Higher Education this past week and college officials are hopeful for quick approval.

In fact, several students enrolled in either criminal justice or management classes at WTC have completed a significant number of credit hours which will apply to the new program option.

"The particular benefit to someone already employed as a correctional officer is that their promotion system takes into account such factors as advanced college work and degrees," noted Price.

"I think the bottom line is such a degree will make them able to apply for promotion and get it at an accelerated rate."

The emphasis on management skills in addition to criminal justice training is part of what Price perceives as a new philosophy of correctional officer training. "I think they (prison officials) are looking for a new breed. Ones with management skills over the old concept of only a 'jailer.'"

More exemptions granted...

TASP changes are good-bad news

New state-mandated TASP test requirements are in effect this fall—changes which equal both a "good news-bad news" situation for entering freshmen at WTC.

The "good news" is that some freshman, based upon their scores on the standardized college entrance exams such as the ACT or SAT, may be exempt from taking the TASP.

For those still required to take and pass the exam, however, the "bad news" is they now have a briefer time period in which to take it. The TASP test is used to measure the student's reading, writing, and arithmetic skills.

In the past, a student could wait to take the TASP test and still complete 15 college credit hours.

This rule has now changed and students must now take the test before completing nine hours of college level classes, excluding developmental classes.

The new requirements were passed by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

Regarding the new exemptions, students will not be required to take the TASP test if:

—On the ACT, they score a composite score of 29 or higher with individual math and English scores of no less than 27. Scores can be no less than five years old.

—On the SAT, they score a composite of 1200 or higher with verbal and math scores of no less than 550. Scores can be no less than five years old.

—On the TAAS, score a scaled score of 1800 or higher on all three relevant tests (reading, writing, math). TAAS scores can be no more than three years old.

Other exemptions for the TASP test are:

—If the student received credit for at least three semester hours of college-level work prior to fall 1989.

—If the student is entering or is currently in a certificate program that contains fewer than nine semester credit hours.

—If the student is deaf or blind and entered college prior to Sept. 1, 1991.

Students who are required to take the TASP test are:

—Those entering or enrolling in a Texas public institution of higher education as a full-time or part-time student in an associate or baccalaureate degree program.

—Full-time or part-time teacher education students in either a public or a private institution in Texas.

—Those entering a certificate program that contains nine or more semester credit hours or general education courses.

—Transfer students from outside Texas or from a private Texas college or university.

—Those seeking admission to a Texas upper-level institution or program that requires the TASP test as a condition of admission. If any of these applies, then the TASP must be taken.

New secretary is added in Continuing Education

A new secretary has been added in WTC's Continuing Education Division this fall term, Sara Fritz.

A 1978 graduate of Andrews High School, she attended classes at Texas Tech University from 1978 through 1981, seeking a degree in business management. She continues to work toward this degree through correspondence work.

In addition, she has completed a Principles of Banking course offered through the American Institute of Banking based in Midland.

Her other work experience includes positions with the Texas Production Credit Association, Hendrick Home for Children in Abilene and First National Bank of Midland.

Her husband, Rickey, is manager for the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. The couple has two children, Paula, age 7, and Clay, age 4.

Phone system newly installed in dormitories

Dormitory students this year will have easier access to local as well as long distance telephone service thanks to a new system installed in the dorms this summer.

All WTC dorm rooms now have telephone wall outlets provided and students bringing their own telephones will have instant service.

In the past, a dorm resident was required to have his or her own telephone service installed on an individual basis through the telephone company.

Under the new system, long distance calls can be made from WTC dorm rooms provided the student has their own long distance credit card.

To assist students in this, a representative of StarTel, a long distance service company based in Abilene, will be on campus during the first few days of the semester.

"Parents should be pleased with the new setup because now they can make long distance calls to the dormitory starting the first day of school," noted Dean of Instruction Duane Hood.

Each dorm room will have its own three-digit extension number. To call a dormitory extension, a parent would dial the main campus number, (915) 573-8511. They would then ask for the individual extension number.

To make off-campus calls, students will be required to first dial "9" to gain an outside line. Any local calls can then be made by dialing the number and long distance service can be accessed by dialing in the credit card numbers.

Just two classes per semester will equal degree in four years

Individuals required to work full-time during the day sometimes feel a college degree is out of their reach.

Not so, say officials at Western Texas College.

By enrolling this fall, persons attending college classes on a "part-time" basis at night could

New staff profiled

He has served the past five years as a sergeant-supervisor with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice-Institutional Division at Fort Stockton.

He is a 1982 graduate of Trinity High School and has attended Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

He is a licensed Emergency Medical Technician and instructed EMT courses at Sam Houston State. Because of his job assignment, Harrelson will reside in Sweetwater.

earn an associates degree from WTC in four years, graduating in the spring of 1997. This would involve attending college classes just two nights per week, officials note.

An associates degree involves some 62 college credit hours, including such basic courses as English, math, science, history and government.

For two classes per semester, the average cost would be $229 for an in-district student. This includes estimates for books, tuition and most fees.

The college has prepared a proposed evening class schedule for persons interested in this approach to a college degree and it is available through the dean of instruction's office.

In addition, those who think the cost of college might be beyond them should inquire about Pell Grants.

These are available based on annual income levels and information is offered through WTC's Financial Aid Office, 573-8511, ext. 309.

For career counseling, the WTC counseling office may be contacted at ext. 131; and for general degree information, contact the dean of instruction at ext. 202.

Meal ticket offered for entire fall term

American Food Service, which provides meals through the WTC cafeteria, offers a meal ticket to campus apartment residents which guarantees the purchaser five meals per week for each of the 16 weeks of the fall term.

Cost of the ticket is $200 and college officials note a second option at a "slightly higher price" is offered also to commuters to WTC or other students who are on campus every weekday who might wish to take advantage of the offer.

Degree plan combines criminal justice, management

He added, "I think the wardens and other administrative officials at our local prisons are perfect examples of this."

The plan involves a 67-hour class requirement to obtain the associate of applied science degree. Of this total, students would complete 27 hours (nine classes) of basic college-level work. This would include two English classes and one class each in government, math, speech, word processing or computer science, sociology and psychology.

Added to this is 18 hours of management instruction, three basic classes and nine hours of "internship" training involving actual on-the-job employment.

Using the example of a prison guard, the normal day-to-day responsibilities—backed by a training plan and normal evaluations—would likely fulfill this requirement, Price noted.

Rounding out the degree plan would be 21 hours of criminal justice classes offered through WTC's existing program.

Price said prison officials at the local Daniel Unit have been very supportive of the new educational plan.

"I think it's fair to say that Abilene (the Robertson Unit) and Colorado City (the Wallace Unit) want it too," he added.

Secretarial staffer added for Special Needs office

The Special Needs Coordinator's office at WTC has gained a secretary this fall term. Newly employed is Mary Dee Price.

She is a native of Beaumont and has worked in a variety of secretarial positions. These include work as both a legal secretary and a corporate secretary.

Since moving to Snyder with her family, she was employed also as a secretary at the medical clinic at the Price Daniel Unit.

She attended Lamar University in Beaumont.

Mrs. Price and her husband, Jack, have two daughters, both now attending Texas Tech University. Jill is a sophomore and Deidre is a senior at Tech.

Her husband is an assistant professor for both management and history-government at WTC.

Admission policy noted

All high school graduates may be admitted to Western Texas College, but college officials remind that certain requirements must be met before students may register for classes.

Students must provide an official transcript or GED to WTC; submit their scores from the ACT or SAT admission exam or take the college's placement test; and complete the application for admission.

WTC offers also an early admission program for high school seniors.

Those who have completed their junior year may enroll in classes to earn college credit.

Application forms for both regular and early admission are available in the Student Services office located in the front of the Learning Resource Center.

Transfer students from another college must make application and present a transcript of their entire college record before they may register.

Financial aid available here

A wide variety of financial aid is available to WTC students and those interested are urged to contact personnel with the financial aid office located in the south wing of the Learning Resource Center.

Dennis Carlton, financial aide officer, stresses that early application is the most important aspect of receiving aid.

Students who qualify for aid have this amount credited first against tuition and fees during registration. In order, funds are then applied against payment of campus housing and credit at the WTC bookstore for textbooks.

According to Carlton, students needing help in paying for the cost of an education should begin by picking up a 1991-92 Family Financial Statement (FFS) Packet from the financial aid office in the Learning Resource Center.

The form enables the student to apply for money from the federal government, state agencies, colleges and other programs.

Western Texas College scholarships are awarded in most departments on campus. A brochure listing the various grants and scholarships available at WTC can be found along with the FFS in Carlton's office.

College dorm will house 192

The WTC dormitory is comprised of four wings—two to house men students and two to house women—and has a total capacity for 192 residents.

Each floor accommodates 16 students and there is a large common area between the four wings to serve as a meeting place for occupants and their guests.

These furnished living areas include a color television and a telephone for local calls.

Laundry facilities are offered plus vending machines and pay telephones.

The dorm includes an "honors floor" for students with higher GPAs.

Residents are required to purchase meal tickets which entitle them to eat the 15 meals prepared each week in the college cafeteria located in the Student Activities Building.

The cost for room and board is $1,020 if it is paid at the start of each semester. A pay-out plan is available also. These plans consist of an initial payment of $545 at registration and two installment payments of $237.50 due Oct. 1 and Nov. 1.

A $50 deposit must be sent to the WTC Housing Department before a student can be considered for dorm residency.

Televisions, stereos and small refrigerators are allowed in the resident's rooms. There is a $25 charge for cable per semester for a television and a $25 charge per semester for electricity if small refrigerators are used.

Microwaves are not allowed in the student rooms, but there is one available in the main lobby area.

A completed housing file is required before a student can move in. These forms consist of the $50 dorm deposit plus completion of a dorm contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

Apartments are option also

For students who meet specific criteria, WTC offers on-campus apartments rather than the traditional dormitory housing.

The apartments are available to all students, but preference is given to those enrolled in quarterly rather than per-semester programs; to foreign students; and to students living out-of-state or in-state students living a far distance from home.

Meal tickets are available but not required for apartment residents. Each apartment is fully furnished except for a television. Students provide linens and other personal items.

To rent an apartment, a deposit of $110 is required. The cost of the apartments is $525 per semester, which must be paid in full at registration.

An apartment file must be completed before the student may move in. This includes the deposit amount and filling out an apartment contract, medical form, proof of insurance coverage and immunization records.

LRC's facilities are varied

WTC's Learning Resource Center houses thousands of books, a computer lab and a reading center which is used for developmental reading students.

Also, the LRC houses a reference room complete with encyclopedias, research material, daily and weekly newspapers and periodicals.

The LRC contains also a microfilm area with magazine articles from past years stored and available. A copy machine is available to students and the library staff will make copies using the facility's microfilm copier. For both, the charge is 10 cents a copy.

The LRC also features an audio-visual department which will make copies of non-copyrighted cassette tapes for students at no cost. The students must provide a blank tape.

Cassette tape recorders are available from the circulation desk also with a three-day limit for use.

The LRC's operational schedule is: Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 until 5 p.m.

Graduation tops year; 145 earn degrees

A traditional Western Texas College graduation ceremony symbolically ended the 1992-93 year April 30.

Although the ceremony was held, graduating sophomores had to remain on campus for three more days to complete their final exams.

For the second time in the school's history, the graduation was held the weekend prior to finals.

This was done to allow graduates to leave campus as soon as their tests were completed.

The April 30 event, held in the central courtyard, honored some 66 students earning Associate in Arts degrees; 31 students earning Associate in Applied Science degrees; 24 students earning Certificates in Technology; and 24 students who had earned Certificates in Cosmetology during the previous school year.

Four WTC graduates representing the various areas of instruction on campus offered brief remarks.

Speakers were Lisa Kay Smith of Snyder, Wes Hardin of

At chamber banquet...

'Radio Days' is faculty project

The WTC Faculty Association undertook a massive project during the spring of 1993 as it assumed responsibility for the 1993 members Mike Harrison, Ron Jones, Bob Doty and Cathy Reed to the song "Along Came Jones." Harrison also offered his solo interpretation of "Guitarzan."

Also featured was a preview of the WTC production of "Measure For Measure" and performances by members of both the WTC Community Chorale and the WTC Hand Bell Choir.

The chorale was directed by Jon Snyder Chamber of Commerce Banquet—offering up an original production entitled "WTC Radio Days."

The evening's entertainment followed the format of a live radio production. Featured was an original radio play written by faculty member Donny Brown, called "a vision of WTC's future strictly played for laughs."

Cast for the play included WTC President Harry Krenek and executive secretary Mavis Brumbelow plus faculty members Robert Adams, Tammy Wesson, Dick Lancaster, Bill McGlothing, Jack Price, Mike Harrison, Michael Endy and Brown, who served as emcee at the event.

A mix of entertainment was offered throughout the evening which featured the talents of WTC faculty members.

These included country western fiddler J.D. Barham and classical guitarist Jon Palomaki plus poetry readings from both Bill McGlothing and "cowboy poet" Robert Adams.

Community singer Melanie Smith joined with Palomaki for an operatic duo, accompanied by pianist Cherri Stewart.

Other "performances" included a skit featuring faculty

The WTC Drama Department offered three classic plays during the 1992-93 school year, offerings by such well-known dramatists as Samuel Beckett, George Bernard Shaw and, in the season finale, Shakespeare.

All three productions were under the direction of new drama instructor Michael Endy, who doubled as an onstage actor in two of the productions.

The department's first show of the year was "Waiting for Godot," written by Beckett in 1948. The play was also the department's entry in the American College Theater Festival held each fall.

Cast members were Greg Combs of Muleshoe, Heith Hodges of Snyder, Virgil Snell of Muleshoe, Wade Freeman of

The second play of the fall term was Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

"Arms and the Man" cast members included Krisiti Mize, Gina Daniel of Loraine, Greg Combs, Beau Norris of Jayton, Wade Freeman, Kim Duncan of Snyder, Virgil Snell and Heith Hodges.

In the spring, the department offered Shakespeare's comedy "Measure for Measure" with a large cast.

Director Endy doubled as an actor in the show, playing Vincentio, the Duke.

Other cast members were Heith Hodges, Rick Freeman of Snyder, Greg Combs, Virgil Snell, Daniel Hernandez of Snyder, Allison Garcia of Wharton, Randy Hamon of Ozona, Jeff Black, Kristi Mize, Rita Moreno of Eola, Tonya Hernandez of Snyder, Christine Hewitt of Snyder and Debra Burke of Ira.

Costumes were made by Heith Hodges and Kristi Mize, and lighting done by Jeff Black.

Year sees two new choirs performing

Two newly formed choirs at WTC offered three public performances during the school year, the first Nov. 24 as part of the annual Christmas tree lighting ceremony on campus.

In performance were the Community Chorale, directed by WTC music instructor Jon Palomaki, and the WTC Hand Bell Choir, directed by Gerald Garner, music minister of Colonial Hill Baptist Church.

In addition, the groups were featured at the April 6 performance of "WTC Radio Days," and in their own Spring Concert on campus April 20.

The hand bell choir meets on Monday evenings and the community chorale meets on Tuesday evenings.

Each class equals one hour of college credit.

W. W. II remembrance continues on campus

Four veterans who fought with the ground forces during World War II spoke on campus last Nov. 10 to share their memories of the war, marking the third such event sponsored by the World War II Remembrance Committee at WTC.

The panel consisted of Rex Nall, a tank driver in Europe; Robert Swint, a foot soldier in Europe; Alonzo (Lonnie) Johnson, a foot soldier in the South Pacific; and Bill Hibbs, a foot soldier in the South Pacific.

Some 90 individuals, including many other veterans, attended the remembrance.

Rex Nall, who was part of a tank crew, said he was drafted at the age of 19. He remembered one "lucky" break during the war, having his tank break down. While it was being repaired, a major battle was fought and he recalled seeing the many dead the next day.

"That's when I first realized what the war was about," he said.

Robert Swint was in Scurry County's Company G. He recalled the Battle of Cassino, a German monastery that U.S. forces surrounded but never captured. "In the end, I think we just went around it," he said.

Lonnie Johnson was also in the Scurry County National Guard. While stationed in the South Pacific, he noted the G.I.s

only source of news was the famous Tokyo Rose. When they listened to her, he said, "We just reversed everything she said and knew it was right."

Bill Hibbs noted he trained for several jobs before finally seeing action as a rifleman. He commented that he got through the war by maintaining two things, a faith in God and a sense of humor.

Dr. Ed Barkowsky, WTC instructor and chairman of the committee which organized the event, served as moderator.

Lonnie Johnson and Bill Hibbs recall World War II

The W.W. II committee is planning similar events on campus through 1995.

The committee has sponsored two previous celebrations: a remembrance of Pearl Harbor and its veterans on Dec. 7, 1991; and a presentation honoring the U.S.

Army Air Corp on April 9, 1992.

Husband-wife garner PTK recognition, positions

Duane Hood to lead PTK advisor group

Dr. Duane Hood, dean of student services, assumed the presidency of Phi Theta Kappa's International Association of Chapter Advisors at the national PTK convention in Dallas last April. The honor will conclude a three-year term which began in 1991 when Hood was first chosen in Chicago. During his first year in office, he served as secretary for the advisor's group. During the 1992-93 school year, he held the office of vice-president. He said one of his goals while president will be to enhance the link between Phi Theta Kappa, the Texas junior college honor society, with Phi Beta Kappa, the honor society for four-year universities. As president, Hood will also aid in advising the PTK board of directors regarding policy decisions. When he completes his three-year term, he will begin serving on the PTK executive board.

Hood said he is honored to have been selected by fellow advisors to represent their views and looks forward to the service.

Mary Hood heads PTK region office

Dr. Mary Hood, WTC counselor and longtime PTK sponsor, was named the new regional coordinator for the Texas-New Mexico (TX/NM) region of Phi Theta Kappa last spring. Mrs. Hood replaces Cliff Wood, who retired as PTK Regional Coordinator after 22 years of service. She was nominated by advisors and community college presidents and selected by Rod Risley, executive director of PTK. With the new office, Mrs. Hood will be in charge of planning the TX/NM Honors Institute, TX/NM Leadership Conference and the Regional Convention. She will also be involved with the international office, serving as a coordinator for the two offices. Mrs. Hood has served as the Regional Comptroller and held offices in both the Texas Regional and National Advisor Association. She has also attended and will continue to attend Leadership Development training programs for PTK. Mrs. Hood has been PTK advisor for 20 of her 22 years at WTC.

Lancaster presides at annual TJCTA convention

A contingent of some 30 WTC faculty and administrators attended the 1993 Texas Junior College Teacher's Association (TJCTA) convention held Feb. 18-20 at Austin's Palmer Auditorium. English instructor Marilyn Lancaster presided at that event in her capacity as TJCTA president. The convention drew 3,703 members, guests, program participants and exhibitor representatives. It marked the sixth straight year that convention attendance exceeded the 3,000 mark. For the year, TJCTA membership topped 6,300 educators from every community, junior and technical college in the state. Classes at WTC were dismissed Friday, Feb. 19, to allow faculty members to attend the convention. Four teachers from WTC were involved with TJCTA committees at the event. Rockford Burriss aided with the election activities and Joann Snider helped conduct registration. In addition, Dick Lancaster held meetings as head of the publication committee. Also, Ed Barkowsky met with fellow members of the professional develop-

Schools like San Antonio College and McLennan Community College registered numbers of 205 and 173 respectively. Members also elected officers with Scott Nelson of Kingwood College named president-elect. Brian K. Dille of Odessa College had won this position the previous year and he assumed the presidency following the convention, replacing Mrs. Lancaster. She will continue to serve this coming year as the immediate past president. Other officers named were Patricia Green Smith of Temple Junior College, elected vice president; Glenda H. Easter of the Bill J. Priest Institute, named secretary; and Anna R. Holston, Central Texas College, newly elected treasurer.

Cotton seed study earns PhD for ag science instructor here

David Kattes, agricultural science and golf landscape technology instructor, received his Ph.D. from Texas Tech University last school year. In 1974 and 1976, Kattes attended Texas A&M and received his bachelor's and master's degree in entomology, the study of insects. In 1980, Kattes began taking night courses at Tech and, in 1985, decided to finish his Ph.D. In order to receive the degree, Kattes completed 60 hours over his bachelor's degree in the field of agronomy, crop sciences. Upon completing the classes, Kattes took a preliminary qualifying exam in order to be submitted as a candidate for receiving a Ph.D. Once admitted, he began writing his dissertation. Kattes worked with five professors during his study, to include a mathematician, a statistician, a plant breeder, a weed scientist and a seed physiologist. His topic involved the study of the quality of cottonseed for planting purposes. Basically, he attempted to determine if there were advantages to planting cotton seed with the lint removed through the delinting process. The dissertation, entitled "Comparison of Two Cottonseed Delinting Methods with Respect to Planting Seed Quality," reveals the problem of planting the lint-covered cottonseeds and studies the advantages of planting those without the lint. As part of the research for his dissertation, Kattes planted and grew his own cotton crop. He found that delinting the seeds did not cause reduction in the quality of the cotton nor in the yield of the crop. Preparing the final copy for his dissertation took three years to complete. Kattes said, "I enjoy teaching and farming and going to school. The first chance I get, I want to go back."

Study of 'religious right' causes is focus of doctoral dissertation

WTC instructor Jim Durham has spent the past 2 1/2 years researching religious rights and how these fit into the Texas public school system. This work culminated last December as he was awarded his doctorate from Texas Tech University. The title of his doctoral thesis was "Religious Right Involvement in Texas Public Education." He has been an instructor here the past five years. In his thesis, he addressed the years 1963-1989. His thesis dealt with prayer in school, the controversy of evolution versus creation and how some people perceive areas of public school instruction as in direct opposition to traditional American values. His topic for his doctoral thesis evolved from the research work first done to complete his masters degree. That original paper was entitled "Identification over Bible Belt." The final document for his thesis involves six basic chapters and is 190 pages in length. "The thesis is my beliefs about socio-economics, racial issues and psychological issues," said Durham. The first part of the thesis profiles individual's basic belief regarding so-called "religious rights." Once these topics were identified, the issue of prayer in Texas Public Schools was studied. Durham noted groups organized to remove prayer from Texas schools in 1962-63. Another religious issue involved the effort to have the Biblical version of evolution taught as opposed to the scientific version. In the chapter related to traditional American values, he writes of people's concerns about sex education in the public schools. He chronicles efforts also by groups attempting to remove items they deemed "pornographic" from public school textbooks. Similar efforts to remove items "not truly American" are addressed, such as the study of Communism. Work for his thesis was directed by Allan Barr, a professor at Texas Tech University, and a committee of five from the history department at Texas Tech. Some of his research came from interviews with members of the Textbook Advisory Committee, the group in Austin which oversees textbook adoption in Texas public schools. He also completed a number of personal interviews and researched articles in major Texas newspapers. Dr. Durham received his masters and his undergraduate degree from Arkansas State University in Jonesboro, Ark.

Speech instructor heads West Texas speech group

Jan McCathern, speech director for WTC, is serving as the 1993 president for the West Texas Speech Communications Association. She has earned this position after serving in several posts with the association in the past, to include scholarship chairman and "time and place" chairman.

As president, Mrs. McCathern conducted a high school speech clinic for the Panhandle region Jan. 20. At this clinic, she gave seminars on extemporaneous speaking and interpretive reading. Also, on cross examination (CX) debate, and Lincoln-Douglas (L-D) debate.

Dusters end year at 15-15

The WTC Lady Duster posted a 15-15 season with a 1-9 conference record in 1992-1993, the first under new head coach Ron Jones.

Jones said his first year of college coaching proved to be a productive one, despite the loss of several players during the break between semesters.

"We had a team capable of going (to the playoffs) but because of the change at semester, this shook (our) confidence for a while."

Jones said he was proud of his team "hanging in there and continuing to work to win the last two of the three games."

Howard College (28-0) was the outright winner of Region 5 of the Western Junior College Athletic Conference. They were joined at the regional tournament by Odessa (23-5) and South Plains College (19-8).

Frank Phillips ended with a 12-13 season record and a 3-6 conference record for fourth place in the conference. In fifth place was New Mexico Junior College with a 3-7 conference record and a 17-12 season record.

Lady Dusters earn honorable mention

Two Lady Dusters were chosen as honorable mention players for the Western Junior College Athletic Conference in the spring.

Sophomore Allison Garcia and freshman Ayesha Howard each received these honors.

Most valuable player for the year was Tisa Morris of Odessa College and Coach of the Year was Royce Chadwick of Howard College.

Players chosen for the All Conference team were: Lekisha Wiley, Yumecca White, Regina Huff and Angel Spinks from Howard College; Lakeita Richardson from Odessa College; Saresa Butler and Janele Stockett from South Plains; Kevia Ford and Cami Williams from New Mexico Junior College; and Oberon Pitterson from Frank Phillips College.

Other players who received honorable mention were: Genia Warren and Debra Harris of Odessa College; Nichole Maxfield and Boky Vidic of South Plains College; and Jennifer Gordon of Frank Phillips College.

Year-ending All Sports Banquet singles out four Duster players

Four Lady Dusters received recognition at the annual WTC sports banquet March 26. Coach Ron Jones singled out the players for their accomplishments and contributions to the team.

The top offensive player award was given to sophomore Allison Garcia. Garcia, a 5'10" guard from Wharton, averaged 12.6 points per game.

Karyn Gabriel, a freshman from Houston Clear Lake, received the top defensive player. This award is given to the top defensive player for the Lady Dusters for the 1992-93 season.

An award for the top rebounder was given to 6'0" post player, Paulita Murrell. Murrell averaged 8.4 rebounds a game and was eighth in conference. Murrell was a freshman from Midwest City, Okla.

The "V.I.P." (very important person) or the Lady Duster award was given to the Lady Duster who best exemplifies the character desired for a team player. The honor went to Mary Ann Isom.

Isom was the Western Junior College Athletic Conference free throw champion with 80.9 percent. She was also one of the top three-point shooters of the conference. Isom was a sophomore from Midland.

Jones noted she not only led on the court, but also in the classrooms, maintaining a high grade point average at WTC.

The rest of the members of the Lady Dusters were also recognized for their efforts during the season by Jones.

Bob Doty, the rodeo coach, introduced the members of the rodeo team, while Coach Milton Ham also introduced the members of the golf team. No individual awards were given for these two teams since they had not finished their season.

Rodeo queen title bestowed at WTC Rodeo

Stacy Bratton of Voca was crowned the 1993 WTC Rodeo Queen at the opening performance of the annual WTC Rodeo April 15. The contest, which had two candidates this year, was sponsored by the Rodeo Club and the Student Activities office.

Stacy is the daughter of Jerry and Linda Bratton. She is a radiology major and a member of the rodeo club. In high school, she received the Lone Star Farmer award. Her hobbies include working and rodeoing.

Selection of the queen is based on ticket sales, academic standing, poise and grooming and personality.

Golfers 6th in Region V tournament

The WTC Golf Team finished sixth at the season-ending Region V Golf Tournament April 27, ending any possibilities that they might again qualify for national competition.

WTC finished 11th at the national tournament last year.

Two teams advanced from this year's event to nationals, Midland College—last year's defending Western Junior College Athletic Conference (WJAC) champs—and Weatherford College. The event was played at Weatherford at the Sugar Tree Country Club.

Midland's 54-hole team score was 887 and Weatherford finished with 911. In sixth place, WTC came in at 936. Other WJAC teams finishing in front of WTC at the regional tourney were Odessa College with 918—a tie with McLennan Community College for third—and New Mexico Junior College, finishing fifth with 934.

At season's end, Midland College was again declared the WJAC title winner with a combined score for all conference tournaments of 3,793.

WTC finished fourth in the conference with a 3,996 total.

Other finishers were Odessa College in second, 3,912; New Mexico JC in third, 3,958; and New Mexico Military Institute in fifth, 4,136.

At the Region V tournament, WTC sophomore Mike Torres had the best individual score from WTC's five-man team. He finished with 18-hole rounds of 78, 77 and 79 for a total of 234.

Intercollegiate Rodeo Association's Southwest Region.

At nationals, held annually in Bozeman, Mont., two from WTC's seven-man team made it to the third round—or short-go—performance finale.

Placing the highest in the individual standings was Fletcher Tigner, who finished third in the national bullriding competition.

Tigner, who will be a returning WTC rodeo rider this year, also qualified for the short-go in the saddle bronc event, but was bucked off in the finals.

He was joined in the short-go by Benji Fontenot, who finished eighth overall in the bull riding. He had been in fourth place in this event after the first round of three.

While happy that his team qualified for their 12th appearance at the national NIRA Finals, Rodeo Coach Bob Doty expressed some disappointment that the men did not finish better than 11th place.

"We had some bad luck and some bad draws," he noted. "We either picked mounts we couldn't ride or some we could ride but they wouldn't win us any points."

Other members of the seven-man team at nationals included Eric Mouton, whose first ride in the bareback event was disqualified on a technicality. Mouton then went on to win the second round, but failed to make the short-go because of the earlier disqualification.

At the end of the regular rodeo season, Mouton was the first place winner of the bareback event for the NIRA Southwest Region.

Also competing at Bozeman was Travis Whiteside, who finished second in the bareback competition at the end of the regular rodeo season. Whiteside will also return for another stint on the WTC team this coming year.

Thad Little ended the regular season with a third place finish in saddle bronc riding. He competed at nationals in steer wrestling also and will return to the WTC team this coming year.

Also competing at Bozeman was Trey Griffin, who finished third in the bull riding during the regular season. He competed in the saddle bronc riding at nationals also and is expected to return for one more year at WTC this fall.
