Culver Named Scholar Athlete of the Year

Trey Culver was named Male Field Scholar Athlete of the Year as announced by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) this afternoon. This marks the first time in Texas Tech Track & Field history that a student-athlete has earned the honor.

The junior high jumper concluded the year with a 3.387 GPA, an Indoor NCAA Championships high jump title, a Big 12 Outdoor Championship crown and an Outdoor NCAA Championships silver medal. "It is a huge honor and a blessing," said Culver. "It's a reflection of all the hard work that I put in both on and off the track, and I couldn't be happier or more appreciative." This is the second time Culver has made Texas Tech history this year, the first being his back-to-back indoor national titles. The two titles also marked this first time in NCAA history that a student-athlete has swept consecutive indoor high jump titles "Trey Culver exemplifies what a true student-athlete should be, Head Coach Wes Kittley said. "To be that good athletically and then on top of that a great student, it really shows you what a great individual Trey

On the women's side: Zuliat Alli, Jocelyn Caro, Crystal Onwukaife and Reece Timmons all earned individual All-Academic titles.

Seniors Caro and Timmons both had outstanding finishes to their last season with the Red Raiders, both hitting career highs to conclude the year.

New Business In District 2, SUP-LBK, In Dunbar Historical Lake Area

Lubbock City Councilwoman Shelia Patterson-Harris With Brent & Velvet Hodges, Owners

There is a new concept for the City of Lubbock: bringing water activities to the many lakes within our city limits and getting people outdoors. And a new business in town is the first one to dive into making that happen. That's why Velvet and Brent Hodges want to bring something unique to the community. "SUP stands for stand up paddle board. And obviously LBK is Lubbock," Velvet Hodges said. Right now SUP LBK is a mobile business, but its' main focus is Dunbar Historical Lake on Canyon Lake Drive in east Lubbock. The Hodges say Dunbar Historical Lake is the last lake of a group of six lakes that have a natural filtration system.

Additionally, Texas Tech had two males and four females named All-Academic Individuals topped with the women's team earning All-Academic honamples of what it is like to be a Red Raider."

Alli and Onwukaife had great freshman seasons. Onwukaife represented Texas Tech at the NCAA West Regional in the shot put, while Alli went on to qualify for the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the long jump.

Adding to the count on the men's side is Chancellor Stephenson and Dorian Williams. Both Stephenson and Williams finished their first season at Tech with All-Big 12 Honors.

"I couldn't be more pleased with how our four newcomers (Chance, Dorian, Crystal, Zuliat) came in and bought into the culture of our program. They had great starts here at Tech."

To qualify for USTFCCCA All-Academic honors, the student-athlete must have compiled a cumulative GPA of 3.25 and have met at least one of the following athletic standards:

HEMP-CANNABIS-MARIJUANA

I have a bad habit of subscribing to magazines in which it sometimes takes me a couple of years to get around to reading. I stash them in my 'Reading Room' and just a few days ago, I picked up an April, 2015 Good Housekeeping magazine and began reading a true story about the daughter of Liz Gorman, Maddie, age 8.

Maddie has Lennox-Gastaut syndrome (LGS), a severe form of epilepsy which is very rare. The family had tried everything medically available to them to stop or reduce the number of seizures that their daughter had. They were looking for a miracle. This child usually had about 100 seizures per day. With a' leap of faith,' Mrs. Gorman moved with her daughter from North Carolina to Colorado to get access to a new controversial treatment with stunning results which she had heard about. Her husband had to stay on his job to support her effort.

This new miracle drug is medical marijuana, a pungent green cannabis oil called Charlotte's Web. The name came from the first American child to be treated with the oil, Charlotte Figi, then age 8. At that time, the oil was only available in Colorado and California. The nation's first observational clinical trial on the oil was at the University of Colorado School of Medicine under the leadership of Dr. Edward Maa, M.D. They felt at that time that it appeared to be safe but they needed more data. Today in 2017, The Cook Children's Hospital in Fort Worth, Texas is doing clinical research with five children and has room for five more. One child travels from Lubbock, Texas to Fort Worth for the treatment. There are a total of 210 patients worldwide in the clinical trials. It is reported that it does work. These trials are being done basically with children with multiple daily seizures. (Cannabis Oil Trial Ongoing at Cook Children's Hospital, KHOU, July 2, 2017) There is a notation that this is pharmaceutical drug, not the hemp oils which can be purchased on the internet.

I had heard about medical mar ijuana's use for glaucoma years ago, but more and more information is popping up now about its use for a plethora of ailments including cancer. It seems that this outflow may be a result of several states legalizing the use of marijuana. It would seem that if this plant does have the power of healing that there should be more clinical trials for some of these other ailments and make it available through physicians and pharmacists at a reasonable price for all who need it. I have always heard of the awful things about hemp as the source of the' hemp head ' or 'pot smoker' and never anything good about the plant or its users. If it has the power to cure as these clinical trials are professing, we need to get 'in cinque' and embrace that aspect of the plant.

Beyond the Rhetoric by Harry C. Alford Black Diaspora: When Democracies

Morph into Tyranny

History shows that we, the children of Africa, have not had happiness or peace for most of our existence on this earth. There has been no other holocaust that has spanned over centuries like ours. In fact, collectively we endure many holocausts depending on which geography we are talking about. During the transition of the massive African slave trade to the western hemisphere there was a holocaust that lasted over 500 European explorers years. landed in North America, South America and Caribbean by the year 1500. Outright slavery started by 1525 with the first slave ship operated by Portugal and blessed by the Pope. We were injected into new areas that would be virtual prisons forcing suppression or merging of our cultures and biological integrities

From that first launch began a trail of blood/rape and macabre to last until the beginning of the 20th century. Hundreds of millions of children from Africa were sacrificed for the love of exploration/domination and cold-blooded currency. This was hell on earth and reparations will never be settled. Children of Africa remain on the lowest rung of the economic ladder regardless of where they live. Minnesota to Buenos Aires to Bahia to Berlin and everywhere else we, children of Africa will collectively be located on the lowest rung of the national economic ladder regardless of the venue

Is this status destined to us forever? I don't believe God intends this for us. But, first, we must realize that God will bless the children who have their own. Europe categorized us in a sysSouthwest Digest, Thursday, August 17, 2017, Page 3

Mark 9;35 - Jesus said, To SHOULD MY LOG BE the twelve, if any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

*** THAT'S WHAT JESUS WOULD DO!!!***

I visited a CHURCH that had the face of a BLACK MAN ON THEIR SUNDAY SCHOOL BOOK. I WONDERED IF THIS WAS WHAT THEY WERE ALL ABOUT; DID THEY KNOW; GOD IS NOT CONCERN ABOUT THE COLOR OF HIS CHIL-DREN. EVEN THE JEWS, ARE YET THINKING; THEY'RE GOD'S ONLY PEOPLE!!!

Acts 10:28 -- You know how that it is unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto of another nation, but God has showed me that I should not call any man common of unclean.

Six people were trapped in a mountain cabin; IN A HARD WINTER'S COLD. Each had a LOG OF WOOD FOR THE FIRE. THIS IS HOW THE STORY GOES!!!

Their fire was DYING OUT; FOR THE NEED OF ONE'S PRECIOUS WOOD. Each had what it took: TO KEEP IT ALIVE; ONLY IF HE OR SHE WOULD!!!

*** WHAT WOULD JESUS DO???***

There was a PREACHER MAN sitting there holding onto his LOG OF BIRCH, SAYING WITHIN HIMSELF; WHY

USED; THEY'RE NOT MEMBERS OF MY CHURCH!!!

Matthew 5;16 - Jesus said, Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

And there was a WHITE WOMAN SITTING THERE; HOLDING HER LOG BACK, BECAUSE ONE OF THE FACES AROUND THE FIRE, IT WAS BLACK!!! *** W-W-J-D???***

I John 4:20 -- If any man say, I love god, and hate his brother, he is a liar. For he that love not his brother whom he has not seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen?

Then there was this POOR MAN SITTING THERE, owning nothing in the WORLD, BUT THIS STICK; SAYING, WITHIN HIMSELF, WHY SHOULD I WARN THE MIGHTY RICH???

*** W-W-J-D??? ***

I John 2;15 - Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

There was THIS RICH MAN SITTING THERE; HIS LOG LIKE HIS MONEY; HE DID ADORE, SAYING, TO HIMSELF; WHY SHOULD MY LOG BE USED; TO WARN THE GOOD FOR NOTHING POOR???

I Timothy 6;10 - For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

AND THERE WAS THIS BLACK MAN SITTING THERE; HIS JAWS PUMP-ING VERY TIGHT; SAYING WITHIN HIMSELF; NOW IS MY TIME TO GET EVEN WITH THE WHITES!!!

*** W-W-Y-D???^^^ Luke 6;27 - Jesus said, I say unto you which hear; Love your enemies; do good to them which hate you. Bless them that curse you, and pray for them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you. Then there was this SPAN-ISH MAN SITTING THERE. THIS IS HOW HE PLAYED THE GAME; SAYING THESE ARE NOT MY PEO-PLE, OUR LANGUAGE IS NOT THE SAME!!! *** W-W-J-D??? ***

AND WHEN THE MORNING CAME THERE-WAS PROOF OF HUMAN-ITY SINS; FOR THEY DID NOT DIE FROM THE OUT-SIDE COLD, BUT FROM THE COLD HEARTS WITHIN!!!

Revelation 2;4-5 -- Jesus said, Nevertheless I have some what against you, because you have left your first love. Remember, therefore; from where you have fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or I will come unto you quickly, and will remove your candlestick out of his place, except you REPENT!!

The United Family® to Host School Supply Drive for Lubbock Schools Aug. 9 - Aug. 20

The United Family® is again partnering with Lubbock-area school districts to host a school supply drive for local students in need. From Aug. 9 through Aug. 20, guests are encouraged to purchase school supplies and drop them into barrels located near the entrance of any United Supermarkets, Market Street or Amigos location in Lubbock and Slaton. Guests are also encouraged to make a cash donation during checkout in an effort to ensure local students have the supplies they need to focus on their education.

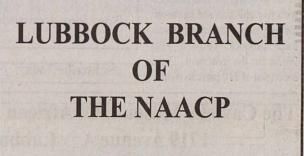

"New school supplies often contribute to the excitement of the start of a school year. However, many families in our community are not able to share in the excitement of purchasing new items to prepare for success in the classroom," said Mary Myers, senior communications and community relations manager for The United Family®. "The donations we receive will help ensure each child is offered equal opportunity for success in the classroom this school year."

School districts benefiting from the drive include Cooper, Frenship, Lubbock, Roosevelt and Slaton. Each school receiving donations will directly donate them to families and children in need.

The kickoff event is Wednesday, Aug. 9 . and was held at United Supermarkets #555, 12815 Indiana Ave.

"We appreciate the support of The United Family as our community assists area school districts in providing school supplies for students who might not otherwise have what they need this fall," said Dr. Berhl Robertson, Jr., Lubbock ISD superintendent. "The donated supplies will be a crucial piece of preparing students to learn and succeed in school this year, and The United Family stores in our area make this community partnership possible."

Simone Askew Becomes First Black Woman to Lead West Point's Cadets

Simone Askew, drawn to a career in the military at an early age, is now making history in the field as the first African American woman to lead the U.S. Military Academy at West Point's Corps of Cadets - the highest position in the cadet chain of command.

Askew, 20, will assume her duties as first captain for the 2017-18 academic year on August 14 at the prestigious, predominantly male public institution founded in 1802. She currently leads 1,502 cadets as the Regimental Commander of Cadet Basic Training II.

As first captain, Askew will be responsible for the overall performance of approximately 4,400 Corps of Cadets. Her duties will also include implementing a class agenda and acting as a liaison between the Corps and the administration.

PRAYER FOR OUR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Father of all mercies We ask that you would bless the youngest and littlest of learners, the most helpless and powerless of persons, with Your infinite and loving mercy, granting them the strength to learn, concentrate, and act in love towards their teachers and fellow students.

We also ask that You would watch over them, at home and at school and give them proper direction so that they may learn of Your wonderful virtues. We ask this in the name of Your Son, Jesus Christ. Amen! David Bennett

U.S. Military Academy Class of 2018 Cadet Simone Askew was selected First Captain of the Corps of Cadets, the highest position in the cadet chain of command. / 2nd Lt. Austin LaChance.

"Simone truly exemplifies our values of duty, honor, country," Brig. Gen. Steven W. Gilland, commandant of cadets, said in a statement.

"Her selection is a direct result of her hard work, dedication and commitment to the Corps over the last three years. I know Simone and the rest of our incredibly talented leaders within the Class of 2018 will provide exceptional leadership to the Corps of Cadets in the upcoming academic year."

A native of Fairfax, Va., Askew is an international history major and a member of the Army West Point Crew team. She is also developing leaders as the Cadet-in-Charge of the Elevation Initiative.

Not only did Askew hold the highest female Recondo score during Combat Field Training II for the class of 2018, she is a graduate of Air Assault School, an EXCEL Scholar, a member of the Phi Alpha Theta Honorary National History Society and a recipient of the Black Engineer of the Year Award for Military Leadership.Askew also made history at Fairfax High School as the founder of the Black Student Union. In addition, she was the president of her class as well as captain of the volleyball team. Askew's mother, Pam, told NBC Washington that as a third grader, her daughter expressed interest in pursuing a military career while watching midshipman march into a Navy football game.

"She saw them all in formation and rose up and asked me, 'What does it take to lead that?"" her mother said.

She added that her daughter "takes a lot of pride in West Point and she has always been a leader."

Askew received appointments to both the Naval Academy and West Point but had an affinity for the Army.

Pat Locke was one of West Point's first females. Locke graduated in 1980 and had a career as an air defense artillery officer for 21 years. She currently is Askew's mentor.

Her mentee becoming the first Black woman to assume duties as first captain is highly significant for Locke.

"It's unbelievable for me that this has happened in my lifetime," she told NBC Washington. "I didn't think I was going to see it."

The U.S. Military Academy at West Point has a total undergraduate enrollment of 4,348, of which 81 percent are male students and 19 percent are female students, according to U.S. News & World Reports.

West Point literature states that 1,193 cadets were admitted into the class of 2016, of which 1,002 were men and 191 were women.

Last year, a photo of 16 Black women in the class of 2016 with raised fists circulated social media. The academy began receiving complaints that the photo violated a code of conduct regulations, "a list of political do's and don'ts for service members and cautions against 'partisan political activity' when in uniform."

According to the New York Times, "The 16 cadets in the photo represented all but one of the Black women in a graduating class of about 1,000, a meager 1.7 percent."

The photo was not political, but rather was intended to demonstrate unity and pride. The young women took several spur-of-the-moment shots recreating "old corps" photos in a nod to the school's 19th century predecessors.

School officials conducted an inquiry and found the women did not violate regulations and no punitive action was taken. Lt. Gen. Robert L. Caslen Jr., the academy superintendent, said raised or "clenched" fists have been used by other cadets and even himself.

"Groups at West Point have used the clenched-fists in the past year to represent support for a team, or pride in serving the Army and Nation," Caslen wrote.

Askew breaking ground in her position is of significance to current Black female cadets and those to come.

"It's a great step, not only for women, but for African American women," Askew's younger sister, Nina, said.

Almighty God, you have so linked our lives one with another that all we do affects, for good or ill, all other lives. So guide us in the work we do, that we may do it not for self alone, but for the common good, and, as we seek a proper return for our own abor, make us mindful of the rightful aspirations of other workers, and arouse our concern for those who are out of work; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Where do you really live when it comes to everyday life? Everyday life gives us different opportunity, and throws everything at us daily. Things come over the phone

Sooner or later, someone is gonna find out where you really live.

Family of 8-year-old Ohio boy who killed himself sues school system over his death

Family members of an 8year-old Ohio boy who killed himself in January filed a federal lawsuit against the child's school system and some of its administrators on Monday, accusing it of withholding critical details from the family about a bullying episode that they say led to his death.

Lawyers for the family of Gabriel Taye, who hanged himself with a necktie in his home on Jan. 26, said officials at the Carson Elementary School in Cincinnati "recklessly and deliberately withheld vital information" about a school bathroom attack that occurred two days before he killed himself.

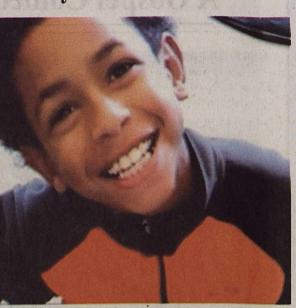

The assault left Taye, a thirdgrader, unconscious for more than seven minutes, according to the family members, who have accused the school of covering up the episode.

School officials "deliberately withheld vital information from his mother, including that he had been assaulted, lost consciousness for a considerable period of time and was at risk of a serious head injury. Defendants informed his mother only that Gabe had fainted in the boys' restroom and had recovered completely," according to the lawsuit.

That concealment "prevented his mother from seeking appropriate treatment. Had she known of the extreme violence at Carson, she never would have continued to send him to school there," the suit alleges.

In May, Cincinnati Public Schools released surveillance video recorded Jan. 24 outside a boys' bathroom at Carson, which the family's attorney, Jennifer Branch, says shows other students attacking Taye.

Mary Ronan, who earlier this month retired as Cincinnati Public Schools superintendent, said in May that the video shows only that Taye fainted and it the lawsuit on Monday, calling doesn't demonstrate any connection to his death, according to WCPO, ABC's Cincinnati affiliate. She also denied the accusation that he was attacked, WCPO reported.

The family's 41-page civil rights and wrongful death lawsuit names as defendants the Cincinnati Board of Education, Ronan, Carson School Principal Ruthenia Jackson and its Assistant Principal Jeffrey McKenzie. According to WCPO, McKenzie has resigned from his post, and Jackson was assigned to another school in the fall. Cincinnati Public Schools released a statement in response to the death "tragic." It added, "Now that litigation has been initiated, we offer no further comments regarding this matter at this time." "As we have stated previously pertaining to Gabriel's passing, our hearts are broken by the loss of this child, and our thoughts are with his parents and extended family. He was an outstanding young man, and this is a great loss for his family and our school community," the school said Monday.

Prosecutors investigated Taye's death and closed the case without charges. The coroner ruled his death a suicide.

The 2015 Inc. 5000

Inc. Magazine ranks the Reagor-Dykes Auto Group 1,426 among top 5000 fastest growing privately held companies in America. The RDAG also ranks No. 1 among auto retailers with 291% growth from 2011 to 2014.

"I am really excited about this recognition from Inc. Magazine. The day we opened in 2003 we wanted to be the best place to do business and the best place to work in the car business. Our goal today is the same but we have more people on the team now than we did in 2003. I feel if we treat people better than everyone else growth is inevitable. This recognition is affirmation that we have no limits if we continue doing things the right way and working hard every day! " -- Bart Reagon
