We have no idea how well read the dailies are around Knox City, but we can testify that the crossword section or the jumbled word section is well read for each day before lunch the wife keeps the phone busy trying to either help or get help from local citizenry.

Mrs. Gene Clonts gets our unprofessional nod for working the jumbled word puzzles the fastest and easiest. Usually she can look at the word and come up with a fast and accurate answer. Here are three that are used quite often but Mrs. Clonts—the first time she saw them—came up with an answer in less than a minute.

YELDIE — spells eyelid; ATNEUP spells peanut and PECTAU spells teacup!

If you run into any words like we have each week in the Herald you can't decipher, just call on Mrs. Clonts.

Not too long ago we had a piece in the paper about Bob Harrison and right in the middle of the story was this line: etainshrdluemfwypvbgkjxz — "I won't get mad at you if you will pronounce it for me," Bob said after the paper had been on the streets only about ten minutes.

The line is duck soup for a Linotype operator and most printers for it was a "pi" line we set on the Linotype and is the position of the keys if you run your finger straight down the keyboard.

It is just the alphabet, all messed up.

WHO'S POOKIE? — Do any of our readers go by the name of Pookie? We sure hope not, but if one of our readers has a small boy by that name we won't say a word.

Jimmy Hollis found and brought in a package Christmas with that name on it and inside was a toy machine gun someone had lost.

Joe Clonts introduced at least two new sportsmen to a new sport last week.

Joe took Rastus Pack, David Counts and I to a crows roosting spot and I have never seen the like of crows in all my life.

We were forewarned that we needed to take plenty of shells and we believed two and a half boxes should last all the time we had to hunt (hour and a half) but it wasn't so.

The county agent told us not too long ago that crows were becoming a big problem in all sections of the state. We used to hear that two or three crows could eat as much as a horse and there is little doubt that they can, and we have always believed that after eating that much they could turn around twice and eat the horse.

This is one of the best shot-gunning sports we have ever tried and one where permission should be easily obtained from the landowner.

ROLL YOUR OWN — One of these days we will attempt to tally up the number of sports around here who actively participate in rolling or rather loading their own ammunition. We recently succumbed to the sport and like the others, we are well addicted.

We need to all get together and try to figure out some way we can have a shooting range. A high powered rifle range might be expensive but a good pistol and skeet range shouldn't be too expensive to set up.

Anyone got a few acres to spare to an interesting sport?

Hate to mention it, but we have to keep you informed, whether you like it or not—anyway its nearly that time again—

At this writing no one has signed up for the city election. Deadline for filing is Saturday—this Saturday!

Deadline for filing in the school trustee election will be March 6. The two posts up for reelection have been signed by the incumbents.

School Board Talks Over Integration With Negro Citizens Tuesday Night

By JIM HILL

Knox City's school trustees met with school officials and citizens of the McGee Ward school to discuss integration Tuesday night.

Supt. of Schools Erwin A. Youngblood was principal speaker for the school board and addressed a near capacity crowd of approximately 40 colored people at the McGee Ward school.

A group of church and civic leaders met with the board last week to discuss integration and the board had planned to meet with the colored leaders Friday but Youngblood was ill and the meeting was postponed until Tuesday night.

The superintendent began the meeting by explaining that the board had had it under discussion for some time and had finally had a citizens meeting to discuss it further.

"The school board's only objective is to give the children of Knox City Independent School District the best education and facilities possible," Youngblood said, and "we are aware that the facilities here are not very good." He explained that the board had done all it was able to do at the present rate and that per capita wise, the colored school cost was a lot higher than the white school. He listed facts and figures to back his statement.

A question and answer session was called and the first question was asked the board: "If we integrate will my child be able to play on the football team, eat in the same cafeteria, and not have a special drinking fountain?"

"Your child would be treated the same as mine . . . He would have to keep his grades up to certain standards, and carry on in an orderly manner in other ways, just as mine and everyone else's," the board declared.

Another question was asked: "My boy attends Munday High School and if we integrated here would he have to pass other tests before he would be accepted in this school?"

The answer was no, as the Munday school is an accredited institution just as Knox City.

"Would our teachers have opportunity to teach in our school. Answer — Not at the present time. It was explained that the ratio now in existence would not allow it.

The board was also asked if it would be possible for them to do as they had in the past—with the exception that there be some changes for the better in their facilities.

The board's answer was that since there were only 49.7 attending school this year they would lose another teacher next year and that per capita wise it cost $100 more per student than the white school.

During the orderly meeting and direct question and answer session, it was evident there was mixed feelings and this writer asked if the majority of the colored people wanted integration or not.

A spokesman for the group admitted that there were mixed feelings but said integration was coming whether one side liked it or not. "All we have in our school are the three R's and like any parent we want the best for our children that is possible. We would like to see it stay the way it is now if we had the same facilities as the white children," the speaker said.

The majority of those present agreed with the school board and felt that if integration did come to Knox City it could be dealt with fairly and for the best interests of the children.

Choices Listed In '64 Wheat Program

Wheat growers will have a choice of two programs for 1964, according to R. T. Price, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee. The choice will be presented to farmers in a referendum to be held this spring, as directed by law.

In general, the chairman explained, the first program would limit production of wheat to market and export needs. It would provide farmers with price support at an average of $2 per bushel for the bulk of their 1964 wheat marketings. It would offer payments for wheat acreage diverted to conservation use. And it would maintain farmers' income from wheat at the average of recent years. This is the program farmers would choose by voting "yes" in the forthcoming referendum. Approval by at least two-thirds of the farmers voting is required to make the program effective.

The alternative program — which farmers would choose if they voted "no" — would provide no limits on production or marketings, and—only to growers who stayed within their allotments—price support at 50 per cent of parity, about $1.20 per bushel.

It would result in increased wheat production, and a sharp decrease in income for wheat growers. Farmers could be expected to get a market price of only about $1 per bushel, on the average, for their wheat.

Mr. Price said that technical details of the 1964 wheat program now are being developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with representatives of wheat growers and the grain trade. Major preliminary provisions of the 1964 program announced to date include: (1) National marketing quota of about 1.2 billion bushels; and (2) a national acreage allotment, calculated from the marketing quota on the basis of current average yield expectations, of about 49.5 million acres, the same as in 1962. Farm allotments will be about 10 per cent below the 1963 allotment — about the same as in 1962.

Rev. Floyd Bailey Attends Convention In California

Rev. Floyd V. Bailey, pastor of the local Foursquare Church returned this week from the denomination's annual convention conducted at Angelus Temple, Los Angeles, Calif., headquarters church of the movement.

He reports this convention was outstandingly informative and inspirational in all the planned Seminars, panels, and public services.

Rev. Bailey advised that the key speaker at the parley, which highlighted the anniversary of Angelus Temple's 40th year, was the eminent "Patriarch of Pentecost" Rev. Donald Gee, of London, England, who followed the convention with a five-day lecturing in L.I.F.E. Bible College, the denominational headquarters Bible training center.

According to Rev. Bailey, 22 Foursquare ministers received 25 year pins for service. Six young people, three member teams from the Northwest and Eastern Districts took first place in the Crusader youth Bible quiz finals.

The U.F.W. Shepherdess, luncheon was served at the Hollywood Palladium with 1,200 ladies present. These represented many countries of the world.

Five ministers received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Dr. Ralph K. McPherson, and six missionaries were appointed to different fields. Rev. Jack Richey of the Philippines and his mission stations, which consist of 35 chartered churches and 23 meeting places, with a membership of over 18,000 merged with the Foursquare Organization in

Dr. C. L. Kay To Speak In County

People from other communities in the area are invited to attend one of these three meetings.

To carry out one of their goals of public service the Civil Defense and Safety Committee of the Knox County Home Demonstration Council is sponsoring this program. Mrs. O. R. Miller of Gilliland is chairman of the committee.

Dr. Kay is in charge of Public Services at the college, and is a widely acclaimed lecturer for adult and youth groups. He has been awarded the George Washington Medal of Honor for his speech entitled "The Battle Ahead."

Dr. Kay states that the 'cold war' is part of the communistic conspiracy to rule the world and America is the principal target of attack.

1962. Rev. Leland Edwards, assistant director of Foreign Missions, and former long time missionary in Panama, was named chairman for the 1964 crusade which will primarily program missions around the world.

Mrs. J. C. McGee was leader and she presented Mrs. Tom Campbell and Mrs. Victor Thomas in a panel discussion on "What Our Club Could do for Persons Who Are Ill or Shut-ins, Especially Those Who Are in Convalescent Homes."

Mrs. McGee announced that Knox City would soon have a rest home, that the contract had been let and that ground was broken Monday for the project.

The club voted to accept the rest home as a special project and stand ready to help in any way possible. Volunteers were Mmes. J. M. Averitt, L. W. Graham, George Davis, C. C. Hoge, J. T. Gilpin, Guy Robinson and B. B. Campbell Sr., with Mrs. J. C. McGee as chairman.

The club also voted to establish a Garden Club Library with the following as a committee: Mmes. David Eiland, Tom Campbell and H. W. Finley. Members and friends are asked to make donations of Garden Books and a list will be prepared and published soon.

Mrs. Bill Clonts reported that two non-bearing mulberry trees had been planted at the local golf course.

Arrangements using the Japanese theme were made by Mrs. Goodson Sellers and Mrs. B. B. Campbell. Mrs. H. W. Finley made the table centerpiece of vegetables cut to resemble flowers.

Hostesses were Mrs. Finley, Mrs. Albert Fox and Mrs. J. B. Scott.

There were 22 members and one guest, Mrs. Charles Hogsett of Munday, present.

Streams In Desert Places

Ozelle Stephens

"Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your request be made known unto God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your heart and mind through Christ Jesus."

There are times when the difficulties, problems, and distresses of life seem to close the windows of heaven and shut out the love of God from our view. If we are not careful to keep believing that he is still there and ever cares, we let ourselves get hurt. Our minds get full of wounds, conflict, superstition, and we lose peace of mind; we also lose our responsibility of sympathizing understanding for burdened souls. We must keep remembering that the Lord is at hand. It takes all our time making our supplication with thanksgiving unto God who giveth peace which passeth our understanding and keeps our hearts and minds through Jesus Christ.
