VOLUME 58

KNOX CITY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1963

NUMBER 33

Uncle Roy Tankersley, we use the word "uncle" not because we are kin to Roy, but because he is a Tankersley and there are more of them around than ants and Roy is "uncle" to so many and he seems a typical "uncle" to us.

Now, that we have the familiarities explained, we can go on with our observations. Roy recently purchased a herd of Angus cows and a bull and from information that has come our way the proud $10,000-plus gentleman can smile!

Just as soon as we can get out there we're gonna ask Uncle Roy to explain this phenomenal trait.

Received a card from Mrs. Lottie Enrow Roberts, and she said:

"Have been a subscriber since 1912. Set hand composition type in 1910 for the paper. There may have been a few lapses . . . But through the period of this time I wouldn't be without the Knox City paper!"

Mrs. O. A. Roberts, Duncan, Oklahoma

Had a friendly discussion with a group of friends the other night concerning the way our laws in this state seem to confuse juries and the vast amount of leeway we have in prison sentences.

Nowadays you hear of few sentences giving the death penalty and although a crime may seem to justify a death sentence few juries nowadays will give it. Not many juries are aware that the longest a person can be in prison is 15 years and that in Texas as if a prisoner gets more than that it is death.

A 99 year or life sentence means that in 15 years the person can get out on parole. For the faint-of-heart who don't believe in capital punishment unless it involves them personally, we are in dire need of a "life sentence" that means "life."

We can find nothing in our favor to argue that it wouldn't be best to give life instead of death in practically all circumstances.

Talked to the man who contracted the peas here and he told us he had brought 50 peapickers from East Texas with him and had planned to hire 50 local people to help gather the crop. He was unhappy last week that he couldn't find 50 residents in this area who wanted to work.

They finally had to send for five machines out of Florida to machine pick the peas.

That came as a surprise to us for we have known all along that one out of every seven of us in Knox County is on relief and as bad as business has been, according to some folks, we were looking forward to joining a few businessmen at the pea patch.

Business and scarcity of work isn't as bad here as one would be led to believe.

Does anyone have any idea what the average rainfall is in Knox City or what year since 1935 was the wettest? Of course, Weatherman and Mrs. Horace Finley know all the answers for Horace supplied us a copy of this and numerous other answers to pertinent rainfall questions that we will endeavor to get in type and in print next week.

The wettest month during this period was May of 1950—when it rained 9.77 and 1950 also recorded the driest October and November when it didn't precipitate one drop!

NUMBER ONE ZIP—Our first occasion to use the newly formulated ZIP Code number for this postoffice department came Friday from O'Brien with a box of envelopes. Number Two was for ZIP Code No. 79529 here in Knox City for four rubber stamps with this number.

Important news like who's visiting who, etc., is at a premium and we would like for you to tell us about who you visit and who's visiting you so we will all know about it.

This year is similar to years gone by in that there is very little "news" during the summer.

NEW HOME — Shown above is the new home of Branham Chevrolet Co. Since the picture was made, the foreground has been cleared, and an asphalt topping has taken the place of the weeds and grass. The new Chevrolet building has all the latest innovations and will house the most "modern and up-to-date equipment." Opening date will be announced next week.

'Just Talk' Says To Send In Personals Pronto Or "Get More Of The Same"

From Column One

As usual, we know a lot of "hot news" but, as usual, we can't print it.

News has been so scarce that Uncle Ben and I are gonna fill the Herald completely full of our sayings if you don't send those personals in, pronto.

With a threat like that, how can you resist?!

Had a whole bunch of newsy items to pass on for your consumption this week, but lost the piece of paper the notes were written on. One item we happen to remember was that we are forever forgetting to "kill" out some classified ads when we are supposed to. Poor Allen Hester ran one of our little jewels recently and after the second week told us to kill it out as he had gotten good response.

Three weeks later he was still getting good results, and threatened to whip me if it ran any more.

The next week his phone was still ringing and we opened the Herald late that night to pull the classified ad and throw it in the melting pot.

We could go on and on with a jillion "satisfied customers" like Allen, but occasionally we run across some who are so satisfied that we nearly get in a fight talking about it, so we have decided not to mention just how efficient our classifieds are.

This week we noticed that we are running a most unusual one, even for the Herald—and that is a burro for sale.

We are paying particular notice of this one—first to see if it sells, and second, that if it does in the next two weeks we don't have a larger classified bill than the darn thing is worth and end up with another editor on the Herald payroll.

As far as we know our school board and equalization board got out of their 10 per cent increase in taxes unscathed.

Was talking to a neighboring board member and they also plan to increase taxes 10 per cent. This will be for this year, and next year it will have to be increased 10 more, he said.

I wouldn't be a bit surprised if this one doesn't amount to the same thing.

We wonder how many people are aware that a school system is accredited by ALL the schools in the system.

We remember several years ago that Munday lost its accreditation but didn't know until recently that most of the trouble was because of the colored school building.

In other words if one school fails to pass state requirements the entire system, whether it be one or one hundred other buildings will also be condemned.

We have long advocated the very best for our children in the way of an education, and just wish that we could see a lot more progress locally. It would cost, but it would well be worth it. Number one would be at least one foreign language. We have, for many, years believed that Spanish should be required along with English, and there should be at least one other elected subject to go along with that.

The language should, by all means be a conversant type, in order that one could actually speak it. We had three years of Spanish and to this day can't understand one word from a Wetback Mexican.

At the time we took it in school we read numerous books and however, in Spanish without any trouble.

Texas doesn't rank even in the first 25 places in the United States in the way of schools, and this is terrible.

Like our contemporaries keep saying everything in Texas is big including our heads, but there isn't much to fill the big gap between the ears.

Speaking for one we don't care what it costs to give our kids the best education obtainable, we not only need it, but it is absolutely mandatory in this jet age, and in another generation a person will have to have three years of college to drive a tractor, if not that he will have to know how to speak Spanish, Russian, or French well enough to have someone else do the work for him!

NOW, get busy and send us some news or we will really get off the rocker next week!

School Board Hires Two Teachers

At the regular meeting of the Knox City School Board the resignations of Mrs. Tommy Frizzell and Mrs. Malcolm Shwadelnak were accepted, according to Supt. E. A. Youngblood.

Two teachers were hired by the board; Mrs. Vera Newton, home economics teacher and Mrs. Kenneth Halbert, elementary teacher.

Youngblood said that Mrs. Newton had taught home economics at Comanche for the past four years, and Mrs. Halbert was an elementary teacher in Crowell for the past five years.

Rural Telephone Installations Nearly Complete

F. A. Robinette, district manager for General Telephone Co., Seymour, informed the Herald Wednesday that the phone company was adding approximately 90 new subscribers to the rural trade area of Knox City.

Robinette said they had contacted everyone in the area for telephone service, and that if anyone had been missed they are asked to contact the business office at Haskell and make application.

Eighty per cent of the installations have been made underground Robinette said, and the rural service should be extremely more efficient.

Also new for the area is that O'Brien will have a straight line service out of Knox City instead of the rural service they used formerly.

The project for this area will be completed in the next two months the manager said.

Silence is golden, it is good. He who refraineth his lips is wise. Solomon said, when circumstances demand there is a time to keep silent and a time to speak. In evil times the prudent will keep silence. (Am. 5: 13).

To hold your peace in the presence of the Lord God, to be silent before Him brings holy quietness to the soul.

We see Jesus in the face of evil accusations, when he was oppressed, afflicted, brought as a lamb to the slaughter, yet He openeth not his mouth. When He knew death would be His lot, "He answered his (Pilate) to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly." As we study the Word of God the holy spirit will give us wisdom, knowledge and grace to speak and keep silence.

Biggest "savings book" in the world

Keeping the Free World free is a mighty expensive proposition.

And our enemies are doing everything they can to make it so. They've said they expect to "bury us" economically.

They see us as soft, self-satisfied, lazy. They don't think we're prepared to make any sacrifices for freedom. But there's a "special book" in the U. S. Treasury Department that says they're as wrong about that as they are about a lot of other things.

It's a symbolic "freedom book" which shows that tens of millions of American families have invested 46 billions of dollars in their country in the form of U. S. Savings Bonds. Dollars the government uses to keep our economy strong. To help keep the Free World free.

This is one way you can meet the challenge to Americans. And there's no need to feel funny about collecting good interest on Savings Bonds. The financial strength of your family is part of the strength of the nation.

So help yourself as you help your country, by regular purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds . . . through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from any bank.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, stolen or destroyed
- You can get your money anytime
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

IT'S THE LAW

IN TEXAS

OVERHANGING BRANCHES

A Joyce Kilmer poem reads, "I think that I shall never see a poem lovely as a tree." However, to the property owner whose home stands beneath the outstretched arm of a neighbors oak, a tree may present far from beautiful image. In a violent windstorm it may split apart with great damage to his home below. Or lightning may partially sever a limb which could some day fall, injuring children playing under the tree.

What recourse does a person have if the owner of the land upon which the tree stands refuses to trim off a protruding or dangerous limb, although requested to do so?

A landowner may, without liability, cut off at his boundary line the branches and limbs of trees growing on neighboring premises. Such overhanging branches are in effect a nuisance which the adjoining landowner may prevent by removing them. However, he is limited strictly to the removal of overhanging branches and if he cuts beyond the boundary line, he is committing a trespass upon his neighbor's property and may be liable for damages.

If you desire to cut off the overhanging branches of a neighbor's tree, you are not required to give notice unless you have in some way encouraged the continuance of the dangerous condition.

What if neither party cuts off the overhanging limbs and one falls injuring a person or damaging property? Who is responsible?

The fact that the adjoining landowner could have cut off that part of the tree protruding over his lot does not make him liable for failing to do so. He has no duty to cut off protruding limbs although he has a right to cut them if he so chooses.

The owner of the land upon which the tree stands, however, does have a duty to remove the branches and limbs when it becomes apparent to him, or he should reasonably know, that they are in a dangerous condition. So where a decayed tree standing near the boundary line falls during a heavy wind, injuring property or persons on adjoining land, the owner of the property on which the tree stands may be liable. A property owner, the court has said, "has no more right to keep on his premises an unsound tree near the house of his neighbor, on which it is liable to fall, than he would have to keep a dilap-

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I got front page news for your paper this week, fact is you might want to get out a extra edition about it. Our community is fixing to get a airport special for helicopters. The details was worked out by the fellers at the country store Saturday night.

You will recollect about the U. S. Department of Agriculture setting up a program here a while back to loan farmers money for branching out from growing so much stuff. It was called the Agriculture Act of 1962, and it was aimed to encourage farmers to take crop land out of production and use it for other things. Well, Secretary Freeman has announced the first 10 loans.

The first one was to a farmer in North Carolina. He had 135 acres and told the Department of Agriculture that if idated and unsafe building in the same position."

The Mayflower Compact

From the dawn of Western thought, men like Socrates have wondered what claims the laws have on us—aside from pure force.

Some thought men had contracted to set up and obey the laws to keep the peace: "You don't hurt me and I don't hurt you." But until 1620 at least, nobody had ever seen men enter such a social contract.

True, Socrates in return for the good Athens had done for him, said that he had entered an implied, unwritten contract to obey her laws, even the unjust judgment against him to take the hemlock and die.

Still, not until the Mayflower band twenty centuries later, over to settle in the new world did we get a social contract actually signed and sealed.

It comes down to us in 198 vital words, the granddaddy of all written constitutions, as well as a document in the history of liberty under the law. Its gist:

"We . . . do these presents solemnly and mutually in the presence of God, and one another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation . . . and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and offices from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof we have subscribed our names at Cap Cod on the 11 of November . . ."

Much took place in the next 168 years. But in 1788 the new states wrote and ratified the world's first and now oldest and most successful constitution.

Why do men obey the laws? It says:

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America."

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

they'd loan him $32,000 he would take 80 acres out of production and build a golf course and take six acres and build a picnic grounds and swimming pool. The officials in Washington figured this would be a sound proposition, so they let him have the money.

Now Ed Doolittle announced Saturday night that he's got 10 acres laying as level as a floor that would be ideal for a airport fed helicopters. The fellers was helping Ed work out the details and Zeke Grubb advised Ed to remind them Agriculture officials that the Defense Department was building more and more helicopters and his airport could come in mighty handy for emergency landings. That way, claimed Zeke, it could be tied in with the national defense program and it was hard to tell how much Ed could borrow, maybe $75,000.

Clem Webster allowed as how he had his doubts about the project, said they wasn't enough helicopters flying around to need this special airport. Zeke claimed this wasn't no argument, said Clem's thinking was in conflict with our national stockpiling procedures, sound physical policy, and preparedness for the future. Furthermore, argued Zeke, a country that's got enough canned hamburger stored away for its Navy to last 59 year and 2 months would be strong in favor of having a few spare airports scattered around for helicopters.

Bug Hookum sided with Zeke, said our GuFvernment always took the long view about providing for the future, sorter like a merchant friend he has got over in town. Bug said his friend didn't drink no whiskey but always kept a bottle on the pantry shelf on account of him never knowing when a snake might crawl in the kitchen and pop him one. Same way with helicopters, argued Bug, the Department of Agriculture never knowed when one might want to set down on Ed's airport. Personal, Mister Editor, I see one drawback. Ed is a Abe Lincoln Republican and the New Frontier is allergic to them fellers.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

Corvair 700 Coupé

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — County tax assessor-collectors are meeting here to try to untangle the poll tax puzzle.

It seems that the Legislature created a snarl which will hit the county tax assessor-collectors about Oct. 1. That's the date when people begin paying poll taxes and getting exemption certificates.

In a special election on Nov. 9, voters will decide whether or not they want to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

If they repeal it, a new law will go into effect, setting up a 25 cent registration fee.

To make matters more complicated, the November 9, vote really would not repeal the poll tax. In theory, it still would be due and payable. But not many are expected to pay the tax if the voting privilege is removed from it.

If the tax assessor-collectors solve their problem this fall, by waiting until after Nov. 9 to fill out and mail poll tax receipts they may face another crisis in the spring. This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice president, U. S. Senators and congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment, it could be carried to law. In that event, a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harassed county tax assessor-collectors for special registration certificates — at no charge — to vote on races involving only federal offices.

POOL HALLS GET NEW STATUS — Townspeople who have had trouble in the past trying to set curfews on pool halls, because the pool parlors were illegal, can look to one bright side of a law that will become effective on August 23.

City governments then will be able to set curfews because on that date the pool halls will become legal operations in Texas.

CITIZENS COMMITTEES come to end — A legislative "rider" in the 1964-65 state budget bill prohibits payment of travel expenses to members of the citizens' advisory committee which meets with the State Board of Education.

This has caused the board to bid goodbye to the system which Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo calls "one of the strengths of this administration."

Rider approved expenses of advisory committees on textbooks and teacher examiners, but cut out all others.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar remarked that the practice of using "grassroots" committees of citizens interested in education "has been the lifeblood of this agency." But he discouraged suggestions that volunteer help be used if committee members were willing to pay their own travel expenses. He said such a practice would go against the Legislature's intent and cause committees to be dominated by special-interest groups.

Riders on appropriations bills are written at the bottom of budgets for individual state agencies. It is not unusual for such riders to go unnoticed, by the lawmakers, especially when voting on bulky budget bills.

ANOTHER JUNIOR College? — Board of Education has authorized a Travis County junior college election.

But it turned down an application for a Scurry-Fisher County junior college. Turndown came after a committee said the oil-rich area could afford a college, but could not dig up enough students to meet the state board requirements.

In its refusal report the committee, headed by former State Senator Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, implied that the board may change its criteria for establishing junior colleges after the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School makes its recommendations in August of 1964.

Currently, the board requires proof that taxpayers in the district can support a public junior college. But it also requires a minimum of 500 students.

REDISTRICTING SUIT SET — Talk of a special legislative session perked up as a federal court in Harris County set a Sept. 23, hearing of a Republican-sponsored congressional redistricting lawsuit.

Texas' 58th Legislature tried to set a formula for congressional redistricting. But a token bill died in the final minutes of the session. Some who opposed it said they would rather let the federal courts settle the matter. Others said they would rather meet in a special session than leave it to federal judges.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene Locke of Austin has asked the court to dismiss the G.O.P. Suit.

VETERANS LAND BRINGS $ 888 — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,223 acres) was "gratifying," since it brought in more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since forfeiture.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick and Hidalgo counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 for an 886-acre unit in Zavala County, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after some spirited bidding.

TIGHT LITTLE ISLAND — State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway Department claims that there is a quarter-mile section on U. S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive thru Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says that Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo treaty of 1848.

Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande's course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the Island is surrounded by American soil.

MIGRANT SCHOOL EXPERIMENT — Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. This is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg school districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school as they attend.

FARM ROAD MILEAGE EXTENDED — State Highway Commission has approved construction of more than 1,000 new miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties at a cost of some $24,000,000.

Completion of the 1963 F-M road program would bring the state's F-M system to more than 37,000 miles. That's just 13,000 miles short of the commission's ultimate goal of 50,000. Most of the farm roads have been built since 1949.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer linked development of the system to burgeoning city growth in the state. "Farms and cities will always be interdependent," he said. "getting goods to market is as fundamental to commerce as is the transaction between merchant and customer."

MORE WORKERS WORKING — Texas Employment Commission reports that 3,567,700 out of the state's estimated 10,817,000 population were employed by someone other than themselves during the month of May.

Number of employed was way up from April's 3,542,200.

So too was the estimated population of the state. Population in April was figured as 10,297,000.

Thirty day gain in population was 20,000 persons. Employment increased by 25,500.

Veterans Questions And Answers

Q—Are the families or close kin of veterans entitled to care and treatment at VA hospitals?

A—Congressional action has established VA hospitals for the care and treatment of service-connected veterans, primarily, and then, under certain conditions, for nonservice-connected veterans. Families or close kin of veterans are not entitled to any of the benefits of VA hospitalization.

Q—I am still on active service and am being transferred to another section of the country. Since I must sell my GI-loan purchased home due to this move, may I have my VA entitlement to a new GI loan restored?

A—Only if VA is relieved of responsibility on your present mortgage. The purchaser of your home may assume the responsibility.

Q—I am a veteran but I have never applied for any benefits under the Veterans Administration. Am I required to keep the VA notified of my change of address?

A—No veteran is required to get in touch with the VA at all. Certain benefits and privileges were established by Congress to help veterans following their return to civil life. You may be eligible for some of these but there is no requirement that you have to apply for or accept them. You might, for your own protection and that of your family, at least inquire into the nature of the rights you still have. But you are not required to do so.

Of course we do job printing. And, what is that? —to us it means practically everything imaginable including, the simplest ruled forms to the most complicated business forms, letterheads, envelopes, all sizes and kinds, business cards, well, just to make a long story short—everything you can dream up or we can dream up for you.

Prices range from give-away to the good gosh Gertie class. In any event we ARE competitive with anyone, anywhere, naturally.

Next time you have a printing job, anything that is legal, let us do it for you. Quality and Price form a happy union at the Herald and remember, anything you can see we can reproduce, in black and white or in living color!

For prompt and personal attention, call 658-2281 anytime.
